

Chapter 368

Judith had to sigh with emotion. It was fate! The people originally did not have much interaction with each other but formed a happy family in the end. Emily ran over with a smile and said, "Grandpa! It's awesome! After Grandma marries you, I will have a grandpa! But Grandpa, will you pick me up from school with Grandma?" Keven rubbed Emily's head with a smile. "Emily, of course, I will." Judging Keven's voice, people could know that he was very happy at the moment. Sarah looked at them and envied Judith for having such a cozy family. A kind-hearted person would always receive a reward of sincerity. Because of Judith's kindness, she got even more happiness. "Judy, go find your Household Registry," Keven said. Judith looked at him in confusion. "Dad, are you going to register your marriage with Mom?" "Yes. The names of our five family members, including you, your mom, your son and daughter, and me will be in the same Household Registry." Judith was stunned that Keven was so eager to have a family. "Dad, will the Civil Affairs Bureau allow it?" Keven glanced at her with a smile, "Judy, I am Keven Williams! There is nothing that I can't do. You just need to take the household register and follow me!" "But..." Judith glanced at Mila and looked hesitant. "What? Do you want to go back on your word?" Keven was a little anxious. He had known Judith for a few years and he understood her thoroughly. She acknowledged him as her father, not because he was rich, but because of his character, Judith quickly shook her head and smiled. Looking at Keven's anxious expression, she suddenly understood him. Many years ago, she was also eager to have a warm family. "Dad, you haven't proposed to Mom and don't even have a ring. That won't do. You can't just marry Mom like this!" Hearing that, Keven instantly heaved a sigh of relief. "It is easy. The diamond ring was bought many years ago. 'I'll go and get the certificate today. After a while, I'll give your mother a grand wedding. Everything will be perfect.'" Mila was the woman he loved the most, and he would not wrong her. He had conscience, kindness, and sincerity. He wasn't afraid that Mila wouldn't love him. All these years, he had always been honest in front of her. Mila looked at the affection in Keven's eyes and smiled gently. "Keven, the wedding doesn't need to..." "No, Mila. I will give you a wedding that belongs to us." Keven interrupted her. He knew what she was thinking. "Alright, up to you. But as for the wedding, we still have to wait for some time." Mila looked at him sadly. "Mila, I understand." He would help her. Mila smiled faintly. This time, she was relieved. Keven looked at Judith and urged, "Judy, why are you still here? Hurry up and bring the household register over. If we go now, the staff will just be at work." "OK!" Judith smiled and turned to walk upstairs. Mila looked at Sarah and said, "Sarah, stay with Emily and Lucas at home. Don't pack these things. You should rest more. I'll do it when I come back later." "Alright." Sarah nodded with a smile. Lucas walked to Mila and said with a smile, "Grandma, Grandpa, congratulations "Thank you, Lucas. You are so nice!" Keven beamed with joy. He had two grandsons and a granddaughter. His life had become perfect!
