

Chapter 3698

The laughter is very pure, without any sarcasm or other feelings, but it is so obvious at this moment abrupt and strange.

In particular, this voice came from George Han.

Naturally, it is even more harsh in the harshness.

Everyone looked back, and suddenly their eyes were full of puzzlement and confusion, and some even had a little anger.

“What are you laughing at, George Han?” someone asked.

“You’re still laughing when you’re about to die, don’t you think you can’t use your brain?” The torturer scolded even more directly and rudely.

Although the words are not polite at all, the people who protect the killings do not say much. After all, they are trying their best to win George Han here. Dao is singing here.

Is n’t this a pure mess of the mother?

Ming Yu also looked at George Han lightly, wondering what this guy meant.

“What am I laughing at?” George Han stopped laughing, and instead snorted and glanced at the crowd: “I laugh at your self-improvement ability is unmatched.”

“I also laugh at your group’s confidence in coming to their hometown. “

Do you know what I’m laughing at now?” The words ended, and someone suddenly became angry: “George Han, you!”

“Isn’t it?” George Han smiled disdainfully: “A group of people haven’t won yet, just in You talk to me about how to deal with me, are you sick?”

In a word, a large group of angry people just swallowed the words directly in their throats, and they couldn’t get out or swallow them. Many people were annoyed by stamping their feet in place.

Damn, annoying.

Haven’t won yet? How to win?

“You damned George Han

, I respected you as a man just now, so I still respect you. I saw that I was going to torture you to death, so I helped you excuse me, but I didn’t think about it at all. This dog is a dog that can’t be ed at all, and you will still pretend to be B at this time.”

“Yes, now I not only do not stop anyone from torturing you to death, on the contrary, I myself support this with both hands! You’re a bastard who doesn’t know how to live or die, that’s how it should be.”

“, pretending to be weird, you deserved it if you were stabbed with thousands of swords.” The crowd was excited, and a group of people roared and cursed.

Obviously, George Han has stimulated them.

Ming Yu has been staring at George Han all the time, never saying a word. She wants to see George Han’s every movement and every expression clearly, and then she can see from it that George Han’s confidence is true.

is fake.

In fact, it is true.

He is really very confident, but the question also arises, why is he George Han confident?

He is already surrounded by death, and his body is really exhausted. Judging from the current situation, there is only one ending for George Han.

die!

Even if a person is no longer afraid of death, his attitude should only be calm. How can it be self-confidence?

This is really weird.

She shouldn’t think too much, but what’s wrong is that the other party is George Han, so she has to think more.

George Han smiled, glanced at everyone, and said, “You have said enough, it’s up to me to say it.”

“Those who have begged for mercy for me just now, those who went to my Heavenly Book World and didn’t kill anyone, can leave now. I, George Han, are neither good nor bad, and I will never embarrass you.”

As soon as the words came out, a large group of angry people stayed where they were.

After a while, someone laughed angrily, pointed at George Han, and pouted out his ears, “What was he talking about just now?”

“What does he mean, is he going to let us live?”

“Grass, his mother. Are you kidding me?”

Everyone laughed bitterly when they heard this.

“George Han, did your mother break your brain during the fight just now? Are your mother poisonous?”
After the words were finished, everyone laughed.

Have you ever seen your enemy trampled under your feet, and told you very indifferently, does he want to spare your life? If there is, I am afraid that everyone will laugh at this kid's brain.

In fact, so are they.

However, just as they were laughing, George Han over there suddenly stood up with a smile as well...

Chapter 3699

When George Han stood up, the smiles on everyone's faces were like water meeting low temperature, and instantly solidified in face.

I have been observing George Han's Mingyu slightly, but at this time, I couldn't help but suddenly move half a step forward.

This...

what's the situation? !

George Han has collapsed and is completely unable to sit still. Even if there is intermittent rest time between speaking, it is absolutely impossible to recover in such a short period of time.

This is not unbelievable, but shocking.

Even George Han's recovery ability is indeed better than ordinary people, but at most he can only barely stand up, and his body is staggered.

But this is not the case with George Han at the moment. He stood up very fast, and he was like a normal person.

Moreover, if he used all his strength to stand up and pretend to scare people, then the jade sword clenched in his hand showed that he could not be like this at all.

He's more like... normal.

But this is impossible, so many eyes are watching, it takes so long, they are scarred and out of breath when they are completely dominant. He George Han is passive and alone. How could it be possible to stand up now.

This...isn't it possible?

But this guy George Han...

Mingyu is still like this, and the others are obviously more exaggerated.

The group of people was like a ghost, and after the smile on their faces solidified, their bodies subconsciously took a step back.

"Why, can't you smile?" George Han looked at them and smiled slightly.

They were all shocked as if they had seen a ghost, lol

How can you laugh? !

“George Han, you...”

Duan Ran, even if someone was shocked, they stuck in their throats. After that, they were completely silent like everyone else.

Ye Shijun’s angry air was stingy, he couldn’t accept this situation, and he couldn’t see George Han getting any momentum.

Seeing everyone stunned, Ye Shijun gritted his teeth and stood up angrily: “, do you think we’re playing standing games with you? You’re amazing when you stand up?”

“Just standing up will determine our lives?” “I said something ugly, George Han, don’t say that your kid is standing up now, even if your kid can run and jump now, so what?”

“Well?” Yes, as Ye Shijun said, what does it mean that George Han can stand up? It means nothing. Even if he can run and jump further now, so what? Toothless tigers look scary, but are they actually?

It doesn’t pose the slightest threat at all! Thinking of this, a group of people scolded at once. “, this kid is really intimidated by you, yes, what can you do when you stand up, is it possible that you want to kill us just with your little punches?” “It’s all about cultivating Taoism . Man, don’t say that you want to hurt us with your little punching skills, even if you want to get close to us, we are all bullshit.”

“In our eyes, George Han, although you can stand up now is beyond our expectations, but... that’s all.” After the words were finished, everyone laughed again.

Zhu

Yanshuo wanted to laugh at first, but when he looked at Ming Yu and found that Ming Yu’s eyebrows were getting tighter and tighter, he chose to keep his voice and looked at George Han closely at the same time.

It seems that he wants to find some clues from George Han like Ming Yu.

The more you look at it, the tighter Zhu Yanshuo’s brows are like Ming Yu.

Because he gradually discovered...

There seems to be something wrong with George Han at this time.

As for what was wrong, he really couldn’t tell.

However, if I have to say something hard, it is the feeling.

He felt that the current George Han and the George Han just now were completely two people, and even completely different from the previous George Han, more like...

He just came out of the book...

Thinking of this, Zhu Yanshuo's The pupils suddenly enlarged infinitely..
