

Chapter 370

She had just seen Frank's absent-minded look. "You know it!" Steve's tone was cold as he turned around and walked downstairs. "...Ann bit her lip as she followed quickly. Gary narrowed his eyes and smiled strangely as he watched the two leave. Failed to keep Frank, Ann should at least hold on to Steve. Only then could she be able to live wealthy. They kind of grew up together, so he knew Ann's personality. Carlo sighed heavily. He glanced at Gary and asked, "Gary, how has Frank been?" Gary looked at Carlo in surprise. Carlo had actually asked about Frank? Gary curled his lips into a smile and said in an indifferent tone, "Mr. Taylor, Frank is fine." Not only had he stayed healthy and happy, but he had also found Jodie, as well as his three children. Frank was the happiest person in the world now. As he thought about it, Gary found himself a little jealous! Gina's gaze turned cold as she mocked, "I heard that he is dating a married woman recently. Is it true, Gary?" "Well..." Gary stared at Gina with meaningful eyes. Had she done the investigation? Then Gina should soon know that Lucas and Eric were Frank's children. "Mrs. Taylor, are you kidding me? Please be careful about your wording. She is a good girl. People's reputations can be ruined by improper words. "Mrs. Taylor, we don't want to see that happen, right?" Gary smiled mischievously but meantime there was a seriousness in his eyes. Gina sneered. Just as she was about to speak, Gary spoke first, "But how did Mrs. Taylor know things about them?" His words carried the doubt. Carlo frowned. Eliza also glanced at Gary. "Gary, are you implying that Mom has investigated Frank?" As soon as Eliza said that, Gina shot a glare at her. Gary suddenly smiled.

Eliza just said the right words at the right time! . This way, even if Carlo loved Gina, he would still have some doubts in his mind.

One day when Carlo started to investigate Gina, he would know how bad his wife was. Gary glanced at Eliza and smiled. "Eliza, I didn't say that, but what Mrs. Taylor said just now is absolutely impossible." Gina gazed at him coldly. "Gary, you grew up with Frank together since you guys were little." Gary chuckled, "Mrs. Taylor, you are right. Frank and I grew up together, so I know everything about him. "But I've never heard that he is dating a married woman. "I wonder where you get that from?" There was a hidden meaning as well as a stab in Gary's words. Carlo, who was at the side, frowned as he listened to the verbal battle. He looked at Gary and asked, "Gary, rumors go for a reason. Is Frank in love with a married woman?" Hearing Carlo's words, Gary felt quite sorry for Frank. With such a father and stepmother, it was no wonder Frank was so unhappy in the past. He replied to Carlo with a faint smile, "Mr. Taylor, you also said that it might be a rumor. Most of the time, people love made -up stories more than facts."
