

Chapter 3740

“Oh, 3000, I haven’t showered yet!”

...

Accompanied by bursts of “playing music” and “singing” in the house When it sounded, the setting sun outside the house didn’t seem so pretty, and the flowers outside the house were no longer bright.

Until dusk ended, until the stream in the garden was quiet, the joy in the house finally stopped.

“Huh!”

Holding Amelia Su, who was clinging to him like an octopus in his arms, George Han was already sweating, but obviously he would never feel any tiredness at this time.

“You are taking advantage, not detoxifying, right?” Amelia Su smiled as she pressed her face to George Han’s chest.

“Who said, this is the best way to detoxify, right?” George Han hugged Amelia Su tightly, quite proud: “Don’t be cheap and good, I, George Han, can guarantee that this is exclusive to you, Amelia Su, and has the best effect. The only cure.

“Bah.” Amelia Su rolled her eyes.

“Would you believe it or not, try your luck to gather energy.” George Han smiled.

Amelia Su ghost elf moved slightly to try, and suddenly the affection changed. Although she just thought George Han was fooling around, but when she really tried it, she suddenly found out.

At this time, not only did she not have any poisonous attacks in her body, but on the contrary, the real energy in her body showed a skyrocketing volume!

“Three thousand, this...” Amelia Su stared at George Han with wide eyes, and was very surprised for a while.

“When we were there, I passed a lot of the real energy in my body to you. At the same time, I also helped you clear the meridians and transferred all the poison in your body to my body.” George Han smiled.

“In other words, the bad things in your body are all with me, and the good things in me are all given to you. Now you are thinking about what you just said, do you feel embarrassed? You are obviously taking advantage of me.

Hearing George Han’s words, Amelia Su was powerless to refute, and held back for a long time: “Smelly shameless, but, my poison entered your body, then you...”

“You forget how much poison I have in my body? That’s all. It’s nothing.” George Han smiled indifferently.

After thinking about it, Amelia Su felt relieved. After all, George Han is a poison king, which is also true, and sighed: "No wonder everyone is looking for a Taoist companion, so..."

George Han smiled and said, "Don't care about others. Why, isn't there a ready-made one? Seeing your little eyes full of expectation, I'll be merciful to satisfy you."

Amelia Su was stunned, what little eyes full of anticipation? But when she suddenly understood, Han George Han had already resorted to a trick.

If it weren't for the dark, or if Mo Yang, the bastard, was coughing out of his Adam's apple, the battle would probably have been as protracted as the afternoon.

When the couple came out of the house one after the other, Mo Yang hurriedly put on the smile of the old servant and the old eunuch: "Hey, hey, disturbing, disturbing, really disturbing, two."

Amelia Su's face* *, but fortunately at this time at night, you can't see it under the night.

George Han rolled his eyes at him: "Can you stop acting like a eunuch? Don't you know you're so cheap?"

"Mr. Han is right, I'm the old eunuch, hehe." It's a big sin, isn't this a bigger sin? However, Mo Yang knew the truth about reaching out and not hitting the smiling face, so naturally he had to make the best use of it at this time.

"Okay, George Han!" Amelia Su tugged at George Han's shirt and reminded in a low voice.

Mo Yang was a very sensible person, and he wouldn't bother him at this time unless he had to.

Mo Yang opened his mouth and said, "That group of people has been kneeling outside for a whole afternoon. I think it's almost time. The so-called extremes must be reversed. If things go on like this, the effect will be greatly reduced."

George Han nodded. Said: "The method of fishing, the bait has to go into the fish's mouth and then the hook will be pulled. If the hook is not in the mouth earlier, it will be pulled out. Of course, at one o'clock in the evening, the bait will be eaten up and the fish will start to spit the hook, which will also be empty."

It's been an afternoon of fishing, and it's time to pull the hook." Thinking of this, Han George Han took Amelia Su's hand and smiled: "Let's go, let's go fishing for big fish."

Walk slowly...

Chapter 3741

. All of them remained in their original positions, kneeling there motionless.

They all know what it means to give up.

means death.

Of course, perseverance does not mean victory, but at least it can not only let them see the hope of life, the most important thing is to become the envy in their eyes just like the disciples of the Mysterious Man Alliance who have played against them before. The quality of individual soldiers is extremely high. High, extremely well-equipped, and outstanding personal ability...

In fact, whether a person joins the army or joins a gang, who wants to survive and have a chance?

Obviously, the opportunity on George Han's side is extremely eager for anyone.

One side is hell, the other side is heaven, multiple-choice questions that fools will do.

But judging from the conversation between George Han and others in the afternoon, the real reason why George Han was unwilling to accept them was actually two words, loyalty.

They are the generals of the defeated army. Naturally, this aspect will be questioned, and this is also the biggest obstacle in front of them.

What they are doing now is to show their determination to follow George Han in this way.

So even if kneeling now feels that both knees are not theirs, no one is willing to give up this method.

Finally, George Han's figure slowly appeared.

And when George Han appeared, the soldiers kneeling on the ground regained their confidence and strengthened their will.

Of course, all the people who were resting also appeared in time, and the female leader in white also accompanied her servants and a group of subordinates, standing silently on the side, waiting for the start of the big show.

The servant beside her smiled: "It's as you said, the show really sang until the night." The female leader was not surprised at all, because obviously this time was the best time.

"Cough!"

Young Master Ruyu also ran out of the hall in a hurry, and then came to George Han's side without stopping, smiled slightly, and said, "Master Han, since you left, these soldiers have been kneeling here and staying motionless. Yes, I also know that the district mayor's kneeling doesn't mean anything, but at least it can also show everyone's belief and determination that they want to join you and accompany you to death."

George Han didn't say anything, looking at Mo who was on the side. Yang, Mo Yang nodded and said, "What Young Master Ruyu said is true." When the words fell, Young Master Ruyu gave a look at the kneeling soldiers, and immediately, the voice below responded. This sounds.

"I sincerely wish to join the command of Lord Han and swear allegiance to the death!"

“We sincerely wish to enter the command of Lord Han and swear allegiance to the death!”

His voice is firm and loud, and the most important thing is the people who made these voices. Always firm will and clear attitude.

That’s why their voices are naturally mighty and deafening!

“It seems that this dog training is still very successful.” The servant smiled.

The woman in white smiled slightly: “The difference between a general and a general is that a general can lead an army to charge into battle, and a handsome can not only do that, but more importantly, he can understand people’s hearts and understand the situation.” The servant nodded: “This method is indeed the best of the best. , not only completed the compilation work, but at the same time, he bought people’s hearts without any effort, and made great tricks.”

“I can see people, how can they be bad? Are you hungry?” The woman in white smiled.

The servant smiled bitterly: “To tell you the truth, I was already hungry, but the servant wanted to get some food for you, but you never allowed it...” The woman in white smiled lightly: “Someone has already prepared food, no I don’t allow you, but if we eat first, what will the banquet be like?”

“You mean, George Han’s banquet?” the servant said.

The woman in white nodded: “How can we help him without a gratitude feast? However, how can a smart person like George Han do a gratitude feast alone?”

“How complicated would that be?” the servant said. .

“Taotie feast, or...” The woman in white smiled mysteriously: “The feast of people’s hearts.”

“The feast of people’s hearts?”

“Don’t worry, as I said, the play is just the beginning.” The woman in white finished speaking, smiling and slowly looking at George Han in front of the palace.

At this time, George Han looked at the soldiers, suddenly smiled slightly, and said slowly: “Since you said so, I agree with you to join, but to show sincerity, the rules of the rivers and lakes, one person will leave a note. Arm, I will agree to this matter.” When the words fell, George Han looked at everyone...
