

Chapter 3752

George Han frowned and glanced vigilantly, but saw a figure lying slightly in the air not far behind him Above the clouds, looking at the moon overhead.

The land of the demons, the sun, and the moon are peculiar, and it is not good-looking at all. If you want to add an adjective, then I am afraid it is only weird.

It has nothing to do with looking good.

Under the faint moonlight, although she was behind her back, George Han could see that the figure was dressed in white. Although she was lying slightly, it couldn't cover her peerless body and a pair of slender legs that captured the heart.

But these are not the key points. The point is that this figure can at least let George Han's vigilance at least half down.

It was the leader of the master in white, the woman in white.

"Shouldn't your Excellency listen to music at the banquet? Why did you come to this place to admire the moon?" George Han stopped and asked.

"Didn't Young Master Han also come here?" she asked rhetorically.

George Han gave a dumb smile: "Oh, I just came out to get some air."

"Is it true to meet friends?" She laughed.

As soon as these words came out, George Han was suddenly shocked. Could it be that her meeting with the Silver Armor Dragon had already been known to her? Moreover, the most important and annoying point at the moment is that their conversation just now has been completely listened to by him?

"Young Master Han, don't be nervous, Ben... The little girl just saw you and a shadow go to the sky. As for where you went and what you said, the little girl has no idea, and she has no hobby of listening to other people's whispers."

She didn't have any . Looking back, but being able to say this at this time, she obviously guessed what George Han was thinking.

George Han smiled: "It's not nervous, just confused."

"Then Young Master Han doesn't need to be confused." She smiled lightly: "Since Young Master Han came here as a friend, then the little girl came here, too. For the sake of friends."

"Oh?" Hearing this, Han looked around three thousand and four times, but he couldn't see anyone, so he asked, "Your friend hasn't arrived yet?"

"No, he's here."

"Arrived?" George Han frowned, considering his own consciousness and sensing ability, it should be absolutely impossible that he could not find someone approaching.

"Isn't the little girl's friend Han Gongzi?" After she finished speaking, she slowly got up, took off the hat on her head, and turned around slowly.

Without the cover of the hat, the veil on her face was completely removed, and her peerless face was directly presented in front of George Han under the moonlight.

"It's you?" George Han frowned.

She smiled slightly: "Is Young Master Han very surprised?"

Then, she sighed slightly: "I thought I should have guessed one or two long ago."

"It seems that the little girl is too tall. I think you are too idealistic." When George Han heard the words, he couldn't help but smile bitterly: "It's someone Han who really has a narrow-mindedness, as expected."

"To tell the truth, if the girl If I don't show my true body in person, even if Han thinks about it for three days and three nights, he will never think of the mysterious white-clothed masters who came to help me. It's actually you."

"Yes, in the eyes of Mr. Han, first of all One should be looking down on the little girl and others, so naturally at a critical moment, you don't think of us, do you?"

"As for the second point, it's very simple. In the eyes of Mr. Han, we should be enemies, or retreat. Ten thousand steps is definitely not the same kind of people, it is best to not have conflicts, let alone talk about helping."

When the words fell, George Han didn't want to deny that she was indeed saying so.

"It seems that someone Han is a little belly. Here, Mr. Han apologizes first."

Before George Han apologized, she raised her hand and interrupted: "Young Master Han, it doesn't have to be like this, in fact, your guess is correct. ."

George Han suddenly raised his head and looked at her puzzled.

"We are enemies. It can even be said that our hatred should be to meet with soldiers. There is absolutely no possibility of peace. Therefore, Young Master Han doesn't have to feel guilty for his guess."

"Then you want to help me?" After George Han finished his words, he suddenly realized that what he said might be wrong, and smiled helplessly: "Sorry, I should call you the Seventh Princess."

Chapter 3753

Yes, this woman in white is not someone else, but the seventh princess of the Pei family who was going to marry Ghost Zun in Devil Cloud Ghost City that day.

Ming Yu's guess at the beginning was indeed correct. With so many experts, how could they be ordinary people. 33 Novel.net is just that, she is afraid that she can count everything, but she can't count it. The big family she expected is right, but it happens that this big family will be the famous Pei family, the Pei family.

“You hurt the young master of my clan, my father is quite angry, and let me marry Guizun. I also want to unite with the forces of Demon Cloud Ghost City and trap you to death.”

George Han nodded and smiled softly: “But it’s a pity. The thing is, he should never have imagined that even if he drove the dogs like a poor alley, in the end, the poor alley not only did not trap his so-called dog, but the poor alley was stomped on.”

“After all, if he wanted to, he would I won’t come up with such a big deal as marrying a daughter.” The seventh princess smiled lightly and nodded: “Don’t say that my father didn’t think of it, in fact, I didn’t even think of it myself. However, I am satisfied with the result, at least, I don’t have to. Married.”

“But you shouldn’t come to help me just because you are grateful to me, right?” George Han said.

“Why shouldn’t it be?” she asked rhetorically.

George Han smiled lightly: “We met in Devil’s Cloud Ghost City. I also know very well what guards you have around you. I must admit that at that time, there were actually quite a few experts accompanying you.”

“However, there are not too many masters in that team, and there is no problem with protecting you, but if you want to rush into the fallen city and launch an attack, it is obviously insufficient.”

“So, the number of masters has increased significantly this time, which means that they are not the original troops, but have new reinforcements.” George Han said.

The Seventh Princess nodded: “Continue.”

“George Han thinks that if the Seventh Princess came to help me simply because of gratitude, then she must have brought the original troop for reinforcements, not by any means. Calling reinforcements again is so complicated and cumbersome.”

“After all, there is a saying, it’s not necessary.” George Han said.

“It’s not necessary to be a good one.” The seventh princess smiled lightly, very satisfied with George Han’s answer, she nodded: “You are right at all, there are only a few dozen masters in my army. , most of the others are accompanied by maids and domestic servants.”

“And the group of people who follow me to attack the city now, except for a few of the masters in the original team, most of them are assembled by me for the second time.”

“The Pei family has thirty-six Tiangang troops, which are also the most elite special warfare troops of the Pei family. Everyone is formed by very powerful masters, and the number is about a hundred people.”

“This time, I transferred the four closest to me. The troop, plus my own entourage, totals more than 400 people.”

Hearing this, even George Han couldn’t help shaking his head: “This means that the Pei family has masters, at least today. Nine times as much?”

If that’s the case, the Pei family is indeed a huge force that makes the Qilin family have to bow their heads. on a pot.

However, the seventh princess just shook her head lightly: “No, there are still seventy-two evil spirits in the Pei family. Their numbers and abilities are actually similar to those of Tiangang, but their functions are different from those of Tiangang. Most of them are only in charge of the Pei family.”

Han . The corners of the three thousand mouths twitched slightly, which means that there are still more than seven thousand masters...

Come on, there are nearly ten thousand such masters, it is true that even a true god will feel a headache.

It is no wonder that the young master of the Pei family is so arrogant, and it is no wonder that there is only one girl in the Qilin family, but he does not dare to go against it.

It’s no wonder that the Qilin Patriarch will repeatedly remind himself to be very careful...

Damn, he really has to be really careful.

“What? Are you afraid?” the seventh princess asked.

“Don’t say that I have met such a large group of masters. Just hearing it here makes my scalp tingle, so I’m really a little scared.” George Han told the truth: “However, this kind of fear It’s not scary, what’s scary is that you act against your conscience, and others point at your spine and call you a scum.”

“Are you mocking what my young master Pei does is not a human affairs?” The seventh princess was not angry, but covered her mouth to steal laugh.

“God knows.” George Han said.

Neither admitting nor denying it, George Han just pointed to the sky.

The seventh princess smiled and said, “Knowing that I am from the Pei family, you really take care of my face.”

“Okay, since you are so reasonable, let me tell you why I will help you, how?”
