

Chapter 3778

Immediately after, George Han smiled: "Do you know why I use silver for the barrier?"

In fact, other darker colors, can completely play the effect of blocking the outside line of sight. But the reason for using silver was actually what George Han had planned for a long time.

The purpose is to use it now.

"It's up to you to help me." George Han said to Amelia Su.

As soon as the words fell, George Han was able to make a move in his hand.

Suddenly, the silver light outside the barrier suddenly flashed.

A group of ant soldiers were stabbed by the silver light on the spot and could hardly open their eyes, and almost at the same time, a light and shadow in the barrier also came out.

When the silver light passed, a group of ant soldiers reacted, and they all looked at the altar vigilantly.

At this time, I saw the barrier above the altar, and the silver light on the surface had completely failed, leaving only a faint white film.

Although it is impossible to see the situation inside clearly

, at least one, two, three, four can be seen in the blur.

Amelia Su made an embarrassed gesture to the outside, and then pointed to George Han lying beside her, as if to tell the ants that Yinguang's energy was unstable because George Han was asleep. The barrier had an accident.

This is also acceptable after thinking about it. When a person falls asleep, the output energy may be interrupted or reduced a lot, so naturally, the barrier will also undergo some changes.

From the complete coverage of the silver light to the fact that the current barrier has blurred a little inside, these are logical.

Thinking of this, the little ant leader waved at everyone, signaling everyone to follow the steps and continue to monitor.

And this time the other end.

In the palace, the red ant queen paced back and forth.

When she came back from the outside, she had been a little restless. Although she had confirmed it on George Han's side, there was still no clue as to who destroyed the statue in the central area.

A large number of troops inspected to find this so-called "murderer."

Intuition and experience told her that this matter was most likely related to George Hanliang and his wife, but she really couldn't find any evidence for a while.

“No, I have to go take a look.” She frowned suddenly.

The next second, she walked out of the palace quickly, turning into a tiny firelight and heading towards the north of the city.

At the end of the north of the city, there is an old, but relatively majestic old house.

It was the ancestral hall of the City of Fire.

The enshrined in the room are naturally all the heroes and ancestors of all kinds in this city of fire for thousands of years.

When the queen ant landed at the entrance of the ancestral hall, she first looked around to confirm that no one was there, and then walked quickly into the ancestral hall.

Inside the ancestral hall, just like human beings, there are all kinds of tablets .

She took a few steps to the center, knelt down slightly, and kowtowed three times at the tablet. After that, she bowed with both hands: “The ancestors of the earth fire are on top, the unfilial descendants suddenly offended today, and I ask the ancestors to forgive me.”

When the words fell, she waved her hand, and most of the various tablet tablets rose with the wind and fell to other places to be put back together, leaving only the tablet tablet on the farthest corner that barely stood there.

She flew up to the altar, grabbed the remaining tablet and twisted it slightly to the left.

Boom! !

With a muffled sound, the place where she was kneeling just now was the movement of the mechanism, revealing a recess of about one square meter.

There is a staircase in the recess, spreading all the way down.

She walked over a few steps, but did not go down, but lay there slightly and carefully observed the traces on the stairs.

The loess and flying sand above cover it, and you can tell at a glance that no one has stepped .

This made her let out a sigh of relief, and it turned out that her worries were really superfluous.

Thinking of this, she got up slightly and flew back to the altar to put the tablet in the right direction.

With another move in the hand, all the tablets flew back to where they should have been.

With a satisfied smile, she fell down from the altar, bowed respectfully to him, got up and walked out of the ancestral hall slowly.

When she came to the door, it was still as if she had just entered before. She first glanced around, and after making sure that there was no one, she flew directly to her palace.

But not long after she flew away, a figure suddenly appeared on the roof of the ancestral hall.

The figure flashed, and when it reappeared, it was already in the ancestral hall at this time.

And there was a smile on his face at this time.

Exactly, George Han!

Chapter 3779

Perhaps, the queen ant would never have thought of breaking her head. In fact, all her actions have already been seen by George Han. .

If there are ghosts in people's hearts, they will definitely feel guilty when they knock on the door in the middle of the night.

If someone has a lot of wealth, if they hear the thief approaching, they will definitely have trouble sleeping and eating. In this case, most people will take a look at their own things for peace of mind.

George Han expects the Queen's psychology to be the same.

Therefore, when the silver light flashed, George Han left a clone in the circle, but the actual body had already rushed out quietly when the silver light exploded.

The barrier uses silver light, which is what George Han deliberately reserved for his escape later.

The barrier is translucent without the silver light, and it is also intentional to allow the outside to see part of the inside, so that they think they still inside.

Because it was too vague, they wouldn't be able to see it too clearly, and with Amelia Su covering him, George Han believed that there would be no doubts on the altar side.

And if they don't have any doubts, everything can go according to what George Han envisioned.

With a slight smile, George Han also sincerely bowed to the gods on the altar, and then said: "Everyone, I have disturbed and offended many people. I hope you forgive me.

" After most of the gods were removed, only one in the corner was left.

The hand moved again, and the god position moved slightly, and the place where he knelt and worshiped was just like before, revealing a recess.

Dazzling around, George Han gritted his teeth slightly, and resolutely followed the stairs all the way down.

The further you go, the darker it becomes, and the surrounding

, it became more and more peaceful, and bursts of cold air came from the inside, making people feel a little creepy.

However, not only did George Han not have the slightest fear, but he was also a little happy.

Because he can clearly distinguish that these cold air are real cold air.

In other words, true cold requires moisture in it.

Water...

How could George Han be unhappy?

Thinking of this, George Han was extremely excited, the sky fire in his hand directly illuminated the lower part, and all the scenes were in sight.

Going down, it was pitch black, but looking at the surrounding walls, it had suddenly changed from the previous complete drought to solidification. If you go further down, you can even see that the surrounding walls are covered with moss.

“Sure enough.”

George Han clenched his fist excitedly, and couldn't wait to accelerate down, all the way to the bottom.

However, when he had just reached the end, George Han was almost unsteady on his feet and fell on the spot.

When I looked down with the skyfire lighting, I saw that there was still the kind of solid soil under my feet, but instead there were bursts of mud accompanied by various weeds.

After letting the Skyfire fly a few meters forward alone, the large picture will shine, even George Hanyi was stunned for a while.

Under the firelight, large swamps can be seen everywhere, where mud and water meet, and water and grass are overgrown

In this continuous barren mountain where nothing is born, or even if they go down for thousands of meters along the entrance, they always see the same dry city of fire. But who could have imagined that there is such a vast swamp under this fire city ?

“It turns out that you are hiding here.” George Han couldn't help but smile.

“By the way, the central area.” George Han suddenly remembered the words of the Silver Armored Dragon.

Just find the heartland and use that key, and you're all set.

Thinking of this, George Han slowly flew into the air, and then took advantage of the sky fire to fly around to explore, trying to find the center of the swamp.

In terms of location, the central area should not be too remote, because Earth Fire City itself is at the very center of this mountain range.

Therefore, the central area should not be too far away.

A few minutes later, George Han fixed his gaze on a recess about fifty meters ahead.

There seems to be something different from ordinary places..
