

The Charismatic Charlie Wade Chapter 3831

In fact, Jiqingtang has not announced the news of co-hosting the auction with Shangri-La.

This is what Charlie meant.

Some time ago, the outside world thought that the Wade family had been eaten up by the Wanlong Palace. Many people deliberately set aside a clear line with the Wade family, so the business of hundreds of Shangri-La hotels around the world has been greatly affected.

Charlie intends to borrow this auction this time to slap those wealthy people in the face so that they must live in Shangri-La before they can participate in the auction.

However, he didn't plan to announce the news immediately, because if the auction venue was announced early, there would be many people who were interested or unpredictable, and stepped on the auction venue in advance.

Maybe someone will look at Huichun Dan and want to do something on the stadium.

Therefore, Charlie intends to put this suspense until the final announcement, so that after arriving in Aurous Hill, the organizer Ji Qingtang will come forward to arrange for them to check in at Shangri-La. At that time, one The night room rate is one million, ten million, or one hundred million, and you can set the price yourself.

Anyway, Shangri-La will be closed for management in advance, and those who do not live in will have no chance to participate in the auction.

Moreover, during this period of time, it was possible to secretly prepare for the transformation of the banquet hall of Shangri-La, as well as security work to ensure that nothing went wrong.

But what Charlie didn't expect was that his intention was noticed by a woman who had never met.

Like Zara banks, Fei Kexin is an elite class carefully cultivated by a big family, but the only difference is that Fei Kexin began to practice when he was a teenager, and Zara banks was being pushed to the banks family by Charlie. Before the high position of the head of the family, he had been a student, and even originally planned to continue his studies in the United States.

Therefore, although the two are not much different in age and growth environment, Fei Kexin is much better than Zara banks in his style and degree of refinement.

When she realized that something was wrong with Shangri-La, she immediately speculated that Shangri-La must have some connection with Jiqingtang.

She is even 70% sure that Shangri-La is the actual venue for the Huichundan auction.

So, she immediately asked skuna to book a room in Shangri-La, and then the group was escorted by the pick-up convoy and went directly to Shangri-La.

At this time in Shangri-La, business is still a bit sluggish.

Although the administration building is completely closed, the occupancy rate of the remaining half of the rooms is only about 30%.

For a hotel with an occupancy rate of over 80% most of the time in previous years, it is almost deserted than it was during the Chinese New Year.

In the hotel lobby, the number of service personnel is even more than the number of guests.

When Fei Kexin stepped into the hotel lobby, she also felt a little surprised, a five-star hotel, the business is dismal like this, it is really a bit unexpected.

Just as she was standing in the middle of the empty lobby, looking around and wondering in her heart, two men quickly passed by her.
