

Chapter 3834

Salary This thing, it will be settled in the city, moreover, even if there is a salary, it can't be... Will this happen?

It's only been a few days since he ascended the throne, and all new starts are only a few days away. Even if you want to get a salary, it won't be your turn now.

Moreover, if they hold positions that should be in the city, even if they want to be released, it should be the financial secretary who should be in the city to wholesale.

"Why are you all staring at each other?" George Han couldn't help but smile strangely when he saw a group of people looking at each other: "I'm not the city lord, and I have no right to interfere in your internal affairs. When I say salary, it is the Mysterious Man Alliance. I sent it to you. By the way, the list of personnel this time does not include my people. It is mainly aimed at the people who should fall and Fuye and those in Devil's Cloud Ghost City, understand?"

"Alright, let's talk about it first. I don't have much money, so don't expect me to give you any money, if you don't have a penny, just simply cultivate and build a foundation for you."

"In addition, I have some medicinal herbs for you, if you are interested, just Come on, those who are not interested will be spared."

After speaking, George Han walked towards the inner hall, leaving only a group of dumbfounded people behind him.

But just a few seconds later, they suddenly woke up from the shock, and the whole person became extremely excited.

Yes, what George Han said was clear enough, and even had a feeling that seemed very low-level, but in fact, in the eyes of everyone, if the wheel was X level, they might be underground, and George Han Thousands in the atmosphere.

"Casting the base and improving the cultivation base, the medicine pill will open the meridians!"

This thing is definitely a super dream in any place. The existence of top benefits, who would not want this?

Even if you lose all your family wealth, I believe that anyone will definitely follow.

"City Lord Fulin, I...I..."

"I also want to..."

"City Lord Fulin arrange for me to go, the big deal, I don't want the salary for half a year in the city."

"Arrange me, I can call for free. One year's work."

"I can do it for a year and a half."

"Two years..."

Bursts of eager and humble requests rang in Fu Lin's ears, making Fu Lin feel like there were countless flies in his head. Around him, there was a constant buzzing.

"Okay, alright, everyone will go back to their posts, and I will arrange the list myself. Besides, didn't you listen to my brother-in-law, I'm only going to part of it now, what do I mean to go to a part, that is, I will go to the rest after a while. When the words fell, Fulin looked at everyone: "You are all managers, you must learn to stabilize your mentality, and set a good example for the people below."

"In short, everyone has a share, don't worry about one by one. After the words fell, Fu Lin also started to leave the scene and walked towards his study.

He has to quickly draw up a list, and then gather the people on the list as quickly as possible, waiting for George Han's next arrangement.

During this time, Fulin arranged for his servants to prepare some cakes and tea for George Han and Amelia Su.

Seeing that when the two couples came back, they were all dressed in dust and dust. They must have gone back to bathe and change clothes first, so cakes and tea should be the most suitable food for the two couples after bathing.

In fact, his arrangement is indeed relatively appropriate.

After George Han and Amelia Su had a different bath together, pastries and tea were indeed the most suitable.

Half an hour later, Fulin gathered the people and horses in the hall, and then ordered the servants to invite George Han into the hall.

Fu Lin did not sit on the seat of the city lord, but moved slightly to the side of the stage, vacating his seat and waiting for George Han to arrive.

"The leader of the alliance is here."

With a respectful shout from outside the hall, George Han walked in slowly with Amelia Su.

The court members in the hall immediately knelt down and shouted in unison: "Participate in the leader, see the wife of the leader."

"All get up." Fu Lin, who had given up the seat of the city lord, gestured for him to sit back as the city lord with a look.

Fulin shook his head, but was reprimanded by George Han with his eyes. Since he is the city owner, he is a city of ten thousand people. How can he easily give up the city owner to someone else?

Fulin nodded and then sat back.

"Everyone is here?" George Han looked at everyone with a smile...

Chapter 3835

“Okay, let’s go when we are all ready, and line up in front of me.”

Quickly moved to the front of George Han, and then arranged in order.

However, it was Fu Lin, who was in the position of the city master, who just didn’t move.

George Han looked back at Fulin, and said, “You arranged a bunch of people, but in the end you left yourself out?”

Fulin quickly stood up respectfully, “Brother-in-law gave me the position of city master, what should I do? Can you leave the position of the city lord for your own selfish desires?”

Amelia Su smiled with satisfaction, at least now it seems that Fulin is not a waste, and can be taken lightly at a critical moment.

“You’re right, but have you ever thought about it, the city lord is the lord of a city, not to mention how invincible the cultivation base must be, but at least you should have some ability, otherwise, what can you do to convince the public? What do you think?”

Fu Lin was a little ashamed and nodded, “What my brother-in-law criticized was that Fu Lin would definitely work harder in the future.”

“If you just rely on hard work in cultivation, then there are already many masters in this world.”

“Come with me, and leave the affairs of the city to others for the time being.”

“By the way, what about Mo Yang?”

“Big Brother Mo is currently training at the school training ground.” Fu Lin said.

“This guy really can’t be idle for a moment.” George Han smiled bitterly, but, fortunately, with him, at least the burden on George Han’s shoulders can be relieved a lot. “Then send someone to inform him, and let him manage the affairs of the city for the time being. You can go with me.”

“A city lord, and I’m your brother-in-law, how can you be so bad? You don’t want to. Face, I still want face.”

Hearing George Han’s words, Fu Lin was very happy, and his heart was even more sweet.

In fact, George Han’s “salary”, why did he not want to Fulin? He is also a human being, and naturally he cannot avoid some worldly things of human beings.

It’s just that he always felt that if George Han could give him such an important position, he had to act, so even if he could arrange himself to be included in the list, he didn’t do it.

Where did he think that George Han would call himself in again.

Fulin has made up his mind secretly, since his brother-in-law takes care of himself like this, he will follow her brother-in-law closely in the future.

“Yes!” Resisting the joy, Fulin responded, and then summoned his attendants. After the order was completed, the fart-topper ran to the team in front of George Han.

“Let’s talk about it first, when I finish receiving my salary, I have to help me with some work.” George Han glanced at everyone and said.

“Don’t worry, it’s not heavy work, you can do it.”

Everyone nodded.

“Okay, let’s go.” When the words fell, George Han directly moved his hand, and the Book of Eight Desolations opened immediately, and a beam of light instantly wrapped the people in the hall. After that, when the light dissipated, everyone completely disappeared in the original land.

When he opened his eyes again, a group of people had already come to the Heavenly Book World.

Hongluan’s group was naturally amazed, but Fulin and the other group suddenly lost their previous excitement, and their expressions were somewhat restrained.

After all, many of them know where this place is, and naturally, they cannot forget the mistakes they once made here.

A few days outside, it has been several months in the Eight Desolate World. During these few months, Ningyue and others have not been idle. Instead, they rebuilt the wooden and bamboo houses that were destroyed in the war.

Today, there is no trace of gunpowder smoke, the grass and trees are like a fairyland on earth, but the low graves next to the distant woods are still telling the suffering here.

And almost as soon as the few people landed, suddenly, several people rushed around, holding long swords, with murderous expressions on their faces, and directly surrounded them...
