

Chapter 3866

He does not know.

On one side, there is a tiger general like a ferocious tiger. If you get this person, you will have great deeds.

On one side, there is an enemy army like a flood. Once the war begins, life will be devastated.

Life and death, becoming and reconciling.

Even Pei Gu, a super boss who has experienced all kinds of ups and downs, is a little confused at this moment.

“The Pei family, is this a difficult choice? Jiangshan is easy to fight, but it is even more difficult to defend.” The Dark Lord of Death smiled lightly.

In a word, Pei Gu, who was in a dilemma, suddenly lit up.

Yes, it is easy to fight the country. As long as there are soldiers and generals, you can dominate the Demon Race in time, even if there is no tiger general like George Han.

After all, there is no George Han in the Pei family’s plan, but they are still planning.

On the other hand, Pei Gu had to think carefully about the difficulty of defending the country.

What the Lord of Death is referring to is actually very obvious, that is, the ten thousand-year foundation of the Pei family today.

Once the forces of the two sides are compared, blood will inevitably flow into the river. At that time, let alone hegemony, even maintaining the status quo is absolutely an extravagant hope.

One person, for an army of one million, this transaction seems to be not difficult to consider.

“Three days later, Pei will lead the 100,000 elites to attack the fallen city.” Pei Gu looked back at the Lord of Death, and then said coldly, “The 100,000 elites of the Pei family will be under your command.”

“But , Pei’s ugly words are in the front, this siege will be successful or not, after this you and I will not commit the river water, if there is another word, the Pei family will use actions to tell you what the Wannian family is.”

“Father.” The Seventh Princess was instantly anxious when she heard Pei Gu’s words.

As the daughter of the Pei family, she knows better than anyone what kind of terrifying strength the elites of the Pei family are. Not to mention how many men and horses this grotesque shadow will bring, she believes that there are enough people for these 100,000 people. The strength to lay down the city.

When George Han arrives...

“Qi’er, you don’t need to say more, this matter has been decided by the father, don’t cause more trouble.” Pei Gu knew his daughter’s thoughts.

But right now, he wants to focus on the bigger picture.

The Lord of Death laughed and stood up: "Patriarch Pei can rest assured, we have no enmity with the Pei family, nor do we wish to have enmity with the Pei family, I can guarantee that after we take down the fallen city together, not only will we not have any enmity with the Pei family. No matter what other people say, they will treat you and the Pei family as VIPs."

"Maybe, one day in the future, when we dominate the demon clan, we can still help you."

"Okay. , Since the matter has been settled, the Pei family has also given an explanation, so I won't bother you any more, three days later, we should go down to the city, see you soon." After the words were finished, he slightly folded his hands and led the four little black shadows to turn around. left.

After they left, Pei Gu let out a sigh of relief, finally solving the big trouble in front of him.

However, the seventh princess obviously would not leave, looked at Pei Gu, and said anxiously: "Father, I don't understand, why did you agree to that person to attack George Han, and I finally made a deal with him at George Han. Well, once the war starts..."

Pei Gu was not angry, he glanced at the seventh princess, and sighed: "Do you think the Pei family should not provoke George Han?"

"Even if my father doesn't make friends with George Han? , but the daughter believes that George Han should never be the enemy. This person is really not as simple as the father imagined." The seventh princess said in a hurry.

Pei Gu raised his voice dissatisfied: "He is not simple, but he is always just a person."

After the words fell, his tone slightly slowed down: "I have investigated the forces behind the Lord of Death very well. The demons seem to be calm for many years, but the actual undercurrents are surging. I never thought that they have actually formed an alliance and had great power. "

If you don't agree to them, they can probably fall into the city as an excuse to attack us aggressively. I'm not afraid of them, but I'm worried that two tigers will fight each other, and one will be injured. Right now, it is an important juncture for the development of my Pei family. I don't allow any mistakes." Pei Gu sighed: "If you want to blame, you can only blame George Han for his bad life. Whoever doesn't mess with it will mess with people like this." The Seventh Princess suddenly sneered: "I think it's not that George Han's life is bad, but our life is bad."

Hearing this, Pei Gu suddenly raised his head and looked at the seventh princess in shock and confusion...

Chapter 3867

He does not understand.

Although Xiao Qi is not a child that he values very much, he is his own daughter, and he is very clear about her temperament.

She shouldn't be the kind of person who says outrageous remarks, and she shouldn't be the one who makes random jokes about the future of the Pei family.

But, she said it now.

"What's the explanation for this?" Pei Gu asked softly, holding back the anger of the seventh princess in his heart for not attacking him.

"My daughter believes that some things should not only be seen on paper." The Seventh Princess replied: "If everything is based on paper strength, there will be no such thing as the so-called 'less wins more' since ancient times."

"What do you mean? Yes, George Han is far more ferocious than Death Lord's army of millions?" Pei Gu frowned coldly.

The seventh princess knew that her father was already displeased with her words, but at this moment she still gritted her teeth and insisted on her own opinion: "In terms of George Han, who the child has seen, it may not be as good now, but it will be possible in the future.

"Hmph, Qi'er, although my father has always known that you are smart, you need to know one thing. Being smart and smart are two different things. At least, some things must be based on knowledge. Then George Han may indeed be an expert. There are people outside, there are heavens in the sky, and there are more powerful ones to come."

"But even so, no one can say that one person can reach an army of one million."

"My father, does it mean that your daughter has shallow knowledge and exaggerates the enemy?"
Seven The princess was puzzled.

Pei Gu didn't speak, just sneered, but he had already explained everything.

One person, worth an army of one million, is fortunately just casually talking about it between father and daughter. If this is spread out, I am afraid that outsiders will laugh out loud.

"Then my father has never seen George Han, so why is he so sure that George Han is not as good as one million? Isn't this also a wild guess without knowledge?" The Seventh Princess asked.

Hearing this, Pei Gu exploded with anger on the spot, shouting angrily: "Let's go!"

In this Pei family, no one dared to speak to him Pei Gu in such a tone, let alone this is his own daughter.

The Seventh Princess also knew that she had lost her sense of proportion, and lowered her head quickly, but after a moment of silence, she still spoke: "My daughter is unfilial, and she contradicts her father. How the father punishes, the daughter is willing."

"However, the father should also understand, It was not her intention for her daughter to contradict her, but she was really worried for her father and the entire family."

At this time, Pei Gu was completely overwhelmed by his anger, how could he still hear it: "I know that you have worked so hard for my father, so this time it will be the same. That's all, but I don't want to hear from you again."

“I don’t want to mention this again, including George Han, do you understand?”

“But my father, George Han... or else , my daughter will take you to know him first, do you understand the situation?”

“Shut up, you have eaten more salt for your father than you have eaten rice in your life. What kind of person has you never met as a father? I said, I don’t want anyone to mention this.” After he finished speaking, Pei Gu turned around, got up and walked outside.

Seeing that her father was already like this, the Seventh Princess could only feel sad.

When Pei Gu came to the door, he suddenly stopped again, coughed slightly, and lowered his tone a lot: “You are my daughter after all, so the confinement room will be exempted.”

“You go back to your boudoir to reflect on it for seven days. Before you get there, don’t come out no matter what.” When the words fell, Pei Gu really stepped away.

The Seventh Princess’ heart was ashes. Although her father did not lock her up, she put her under house arrest for seven days. In fact, the time was just stuck after the attack on Jiluocheng. The purpose of her heart was already obvious.

“Huh, it seems that the rise of the Pei family is more of a false direction, or in other words, the day of the real rise of the Pei family, I am afraid it will also be the day of annihilation.” After the words were finished, the seventh princess raised her eyes and looked at the night sky outside the house.

That dark night was like the future of the Pei family for a moment...

At this time, in the Book of Eight Desolations, George Han was here...
