

Chapter 3876

Hearing this, the two obviously looked at each other.

George Han looked at Fumei: "So what?"

"If you remove my younger brother as the city master, then you can really drag me out and behead me now, I have nothing else to say. However, I need to remind you Yes, you will definitely regret this matter deeply."

"Even, one day this regret will make you, including the one who deserves to fall into the city, will never recover."

"Are you threatening me?" George Han said coldly.

Fu Mei smiled coldly: "What is the threat to talk about, I just need to remind you. You are my brother's immediate boss, how can I dare to threaten?"

Amelia Su comforted George Han gently and gave George Han one Going down the steps: "Why don't you listen to her?"

George Han did not agree immediately, but looked at all the executives present: "What is your opinion?"

"Hmph, as the city owner, you take care of yourself.

Family, what does this look like? I've said it before, so young is not worthy of being the city lord, because it's not reliable at all, I support the suggestion of the lord's wife, just remove it."

"Yes, the battlefield . I don't even have father and son, let alone siblings?

If the soldiers and soldiers know about this, can this unit still be brought in? Can this battle still be fought? Many people raised their hands in agreement.

However, there were also objections.

"Although Fulin's move is indeed disappointing, after all, it is not that he took the initiative to be close to the enemy, but his relatives came to the door. Although he was at fault, the blame is not entirely on him."

"Yes, although Fulin has not been in power for a long time, his achievements are obvious to all, and the merits and demerits are equal. I hope you will think twice."

George Han glanced at Amelia Su and nodded: "There are no fathers and sons in the battlefield , let alone sister. Brother. This is a very good statement. However, Fu Lin has indeed achieved some achievements in power. Well, I will give you a chance to talk about it. If you can convince me and you, then I will not have this matter. If it doesn't happen, I can't help how to deal with it."

"You can say it now, Fumei."

Fumei glared at the people around her, and then looked at George Han. Although she was dissatisfied, she sighed. He sighed: "I'm here to help my brother, or in other words, I'm here to help you."

“You mean, you want to rely on us?”

“Isn’t that right? Your husband is Ye Shijun, and you are the crown prince. Concubine.”

“Leader, you must carefully consider this matter, don’t listen to it at will.” As soon as the words fell, everyone questioned again and again.

Even George Han and Amelia Su were frowning at this time, and looked at Fumei in disbelief.

Fu Mei smiled bitterly, but she was not angry at these doubts.

Because these things were all within her expectations.

Outsiders only know their own identity and status, but they don’t understand the bitterness and sadness of being in it.

In Ye Shijun’s place, her status has changed a long time ago. From the outside, she looks like a wife, but in fact she is just a dog under Ye Shijun’s feet, allowing him to have fun and satisfy his perverted psychological needs.

He is just torturing himself, he will not stop, but will only keep changing new ways.

She wanted to leave for a long time, but she had been suffering from the fact that no new forces could accept her until she heard the news that Fu Lin had become the new city lord of the city.

She knows that this city is still facing a huge crisis. If she chooses here, if she fails, her future may even be more miserable than today’s dogs.

But once she succeeds, not only will she be able to truly regain her human status from a dog, but she will also be a person with good treatment and status.

Moreover, only when there is a crisis in the city is the only time for her to join. Once she misses it, it will be difficult for her to achieve what she wants.

Therefore, when Ye Shijun and the others were preparing for the counterattack these days, Fu Mei was also preparing for her future.

“I’m here to bring you information, and the information I know will be more accurate and detailed than any information you can find with any spies.”

“Now, you are interested in continuing to listen. gone?”

Information?

When they heard the word, everyone present was stunned, even George Han and Amelia Su were dumbfounded.

Although George Han should fall into the city for such a campaign, it is indeed to disintegrate the other party and catch some fish at the same time, but who knows, this fishing will actually catch such a big fish?

Chapter 3877

“When you are fishing, the rod is almost the largest in the entire sea.” Amelia Su whispered.

In her words, it was obvious that she couldn't hide the joy and excitement in her heart.

She is like this, and George Han is basically the same.

Suppressing his inner excitement, George Han remained suspicious on his face: “You mean, you want to betray Ye Shijun and join us? This...is it a little...”

“I know you won't believe me easily. “Fu Mei had already expected that with her grudge against George Han, how could George Han believe her? So, she was already prepared.

She glanced back at the first person on the right behind her, who nodded quickly, then took out a yellow animal skin from her arms and handed it to Fu Mei.

After taking the animal skin, Fu Mei raised her hand and threw it at George Han, saying, “This is the plan of the siege of Ye Shijun and others. I asked someone to copy it.”

George Han didn't even move, just glared at Feifei. The animal skin that came, the animal skin that came quickly stopped obediently in front of George Han in an instant.

Above the animal skin is indeed a analytic map of the city that should fall. Almost every gate of the city is marked clearly and clearly, and even George Han has estimated how many troops will be deployed.

To be honest, the estimates are indeed wrong, but overall they are inseparable.

“It looks like it should be a real battle map.” Amelia Su said.

George Han nodded and looked at Fumei: “It looks like the truth, but Mingyu is a smart person, she knows that if she wants to fool me, she must take the truth.”

“You mean, I am Is it a counter plan? Take a real thing to surrender, and then counter the judgment at a critical moment.” Fu Mei was slightly angry.

George Han was noncommittal and didn't care about Fumei's emotions at all: “You're right. Besides, there seems to be something wrong with this city defense map, right?”

“What's the problem?” Fumei asked in confusion.

George Han smiled slightly: “The above battle map is to besiege me from all sides and I should fall. According to the above deployment, it means that each side of the city must have at least 100,000 people, that is to say, in this battle, the opposite side must have at least nearly 400,000 people. Total troops.”

Having said this, George Han smiled frivolously: “Do you have that many troops?”

“400,000 troops?”

“Damn, does the enemy have that many troops?”

"There are only ten thousand horses, but Ye Shijun's group of defeated generals have such great power?"

"Yeah, how could they have so many people? I think this Fumei should be holding a seemingly real, but in fact But fake things are here to fool us. As for the purpose, it is very simple. First, let us think it is true, and then use exaggerated military force to psychologically intimidate us. Ah."

"That's right, Alliance Leader, let's not believe her."

George Han didn't come to a conclusion, looked at Fumei, and smiled deliberately: "Look, it's not that I don't believe you, but..."

"Hmph, I thought George Han was extremely smart, but it turned out to be just a piece of shit, and I couldn't even tell the truth from the fake. Well, since you say it's fake, it's useless to say more, you just treat me as nothing. I didn't say that, if you want to kill you, you have to kill you." When the words fell, Fu Mei turned her head away, and no one wanted to answer.

Amelia Su and George Han didn't say much, they both stared at Fu Mei very tacitly.

In fact, in terms of military strength, the couple didn't quite believe it. Based on George Han's estimate, Fang's troops were at most 200,000, but this time not only suddenly increased, but also doubled.

This is really incomprehensible, but also very shocking.

Because if it is true, then the crisis that should fall into the city is probably far greater and terrifying than they imagined.

They were watching Fumei's expression to see if he was lying.

But it seems that from the current point of view, Fumei is not like it. Thinking of this, George Han pretended to smile lightly, looked at Fumei, and said, "Then if what you said is true, can you explain why the other party has so many troops

?"

It's not a simple small number, you should explain it?"

Fu Mei looked back and snorted: "The most terrible thing is not the number of 400,000, do you know what is more terrible?"

"I would like to ask the details!"