

Catch Me If You Love Me

Chapter 39

Immediately afterwards, a sip of water came out from Zoey Gu's mouth in an instant.

Liam Lu shook his whole body. Almost at the same time, he clearly felt the petite body he was holding, slowly recovering his heartbeat and body temperature.

“Zoey?”

Liam Lu's eyes flashed with a gleam of light, and he stiffly pushed the person in his arms away, lowering his head to look at her face.

But the next second, Zoey Gu's tense nerves relaxed, and Liam Lu's eyes fainted, a burst of pain and darkness hit at the same time, and he fell straight down.

“Liam...”

Zoey Gu struggled to open his eyes against the dazzling light above his head.

There was the sound of rolling waves in my ears.

She struggled to sit up, only to find herself lying in the room of a yacht.

The memories of falling into the water rushed into her mind.

Someone called her name loudly, and rescued her by diving.

In the vague scene, that person seems to be...

Thinking of the impossible, Zoey Gu shook his head vigorously, it couldn't be him! He used to wish her to die, how could he come to rescue her specifically?

Or maybe she was caught by the person who saved her in the first place? After all, she is a woman worth thirty million.

There was a sudden sound of rapid footsteps outside.

Then there was an anxious voice, “How is it? Has Liam Lu's fever subsided?”

Zoey Gu was startled.

Liam? Liam Lu?

“Not yet. The doctor said that Lu Shao’s leg injury was serious, he lost too much blood, and because of the infection, he had a high fever, which was very bad.”

The speaker’s voice was very angry.

“First, to chase her after she was injured in a car accident, and then rushed to Wuming Island because of news of her. Not only did she lose 30 million yuan, but she also injured a leg. When she jumped into the sea to save the woman, she caused another infection.

“Assistant Shi, is it worth it for a woman?”

“Shut up! Don’t forget that Miss Gu is still in the cabin. If she hears it, be careful that Liam breaks your neck. Go!”

Zoey Gu heard those words without missing a word.

She stood still on the spot, stunned as she listened to the sound of footsteps disappearing from her door, her face pale, and a sharp sting flashed across her heart.

It turned out that everything was Liam Lu.

In order to save her, 30 million was lost and injured.

Obviously everything is over, knowing that there will be no more results, Zoey Gu still bit her lip, slowly reddened her eyes, raised her hand and wiped her face severely.

What she said is not worth it. She was not worth it before, and now it is not worth it.

Zoey Gu didn’t know how long she stood behind the door.

It wasn’t until there was no sound outside for a long time that she moved her somewhat numb feet, gently opened the door and walked out.

The cabin and deck were brightly lit.

Shiyue and a few of his men were standing on the deck smoking a cigarette, lowering their heads to say something from time to time.

The cabin is not big.

Zoey Gu didn’t take much effort to find Liam Lu’s room.

With the door open, Liam Lu was lying on the bed lifelessly. I don’t know if it’s the pain or something else, even in a coma, the man just frowned, his face tense.

Zoey Gu originally just wanted to take a look and leave.

But after seeing Liam Lu like this, she pursed her lips and struggled for a long time, after all she walked in.
