

Chapter 3950

“Be content.”

Bape sighed.

In the past, with their temperament, whoever beat them, if they couldn’t beat them, they had to find a way to retaliate.

But now, facing Mark, the three were really convinced.

In Ba Pei’s heart, even if Mark hung them up and beat them, he would not hold any resentment, but would be grateful to Dade.

Because Mark saved their lives and didn’t kill him.

What is this called?

It’s called saving grace.

In a word, for Mark, the three of them would no longer dare to have any bad thoughts.

During the conversation, outside the main hall, a disciple hurried in and reported: “Three palace masters, and another strong man has come to India.”

King Foluo waved his hand: “It is estimated that he is here for the wedding on the day of burning the sky. If you want to check it, let them check it.”

“They’re all little people, they can’t make waves.”

In the past few days, martial artists from various countries have been entering the martial arts, and King Foluo and the others are all used to it.

If you want to toss, let them toss, as long as they don’t violate their Indian laws.

As for assisting in the investigation, that is undoubtedly impossible.

For these warriors of various countries who came to investigate, the Foluo Palace has an attitude, not obstructing, not assisting, and not interfering.

In a word, it doesn’t matter.

“But she asked to see the three palace masters by name, saying that she wanted to ask about Chu Tianfan.” The disciple said again.

“Ask a fart, just say the three of us are busy, let them get out!” Haibu was angry and scolded directly.

The three of them were almost slaughtered by Mark, and now there are people who want them to be involved in Mark’s affairs. Isn’t this harming them?

boom!

As soon as Haibu said this, he saw purple energy coming from a thousand meters away.

Dao Dao sword light, like a thousand strands of thunder.

The Foluo Palace, which was just built, was immediately cut off in the middle!

Between the collapse of the hall, a holy figure, as if the gods came into the world, appeared in front of the three of King Foluo.

“Who do you want to let go?” The woman was condescending, and a radiant light appeared on her holy face.

“Moon... Moon God?”

The three of King Foluo were just stupid.

day!

Did they offend the gods in India recently?

There was always a killing god on the front foot just now, and another killing god on the back foot!

Mark is terrifying, but the one in front of him is no less difficult than Mark.

After all, no matter how strong Mark is, he is only number one on the list.

The one in front of him, but the real God Realm, is an existence that surpasses the heavenly list.

More than two years ago, he entered the Foluo Palace and almost killed them.

“Mis... misunderstanding, really... what a misunderstanding...”

“It’s our fault, I didn’t know that the Moon God was coming, and I’ve lost a long way to welcome it. Please forgive me.”

King Foluo and their hearts are bitter.

Some time ago, Mark just demolished their hall.

Not only did the three of them dare not say anything, but they also recognized Mark as their master.

Now, someone demolished their main hall again, they didn’t dare to say anything, and they even had to apologize obediently.

This year, the one with the big fist is Dad!

“I heard that Brian Chuis haunting India.”

“If you don’t want to die, tell me all the information about him.”

Luna is not like the warriors sent by other countries to investigate, those people can only smother their heads and grope below.

Luna doesn’t have to work so hard.

If you want to know what, come to Fu Luo Palace and ask these three old things.

Brian Chuhaunts, such a big thing, it is impossible for these three old people not to know.

If you know what not to say, call them and say it.

King Foluo and the others didn't even think about it, they smiled bitterly and said, "We don't know, it should be the same as the previous few times, it's just a rumor."

Bang!

King Folu still wants to get in the way.

But the Moon God slapped it and directly bleed King Foluo.

"Lunar God, you..."

Seeing that the Moon God directly moved his hand, Haibu and the others were immediately angry. Just as they were about to accuse him, the Moon God slapped him with a slap.

"us..."

Snapped!

"About Chu Tianfan..."

Snapped!

After the fight, King Foluo and the others just opened their mouths when they were slapped in the face by the Moon God, not giving them a chance to speak at all.

You are numb!

King Fro and they all cried.

I thought you were here to investigate?

Are you just looking for an excuse to hit someone?

Don't give a chance to say anything, you investigate your motherFer!

Chapter 3951

For these old guys, Luna really didn't like it much.

If it weren't for the influence, it is estimated that when Mark was forced to commit suicide, the Moon God would have slaughtered the three old ones.

After all, all three of them had a share in killing Mark that year.

This time, this time, it is regarded as charging them some interest.

Of course, Luna just took the opportunity to vent, she couldn't really kill the three of King Foluo.

There are some things that Mark can do, because he is alone and alone, and does not need to consider diplomatic influence and international consequences.

But the Moon God is different. She is the guardian deity of a country's martial arts, and her words and deeds truly represent the official state of the country.

Beating them up, the three old guys should protest at the most. After all, the gap in strength is too big, and they have to eat if they don't want to eat this dumb guy.

But if the three of them were killed, it would be a big deal.

At the time of World War II, Japan knew that it would lose, but still shouted the slogan of 100 million jade pieces, to fight against the allied forces of the various countries and fight to the last drop of blood.

If the Moon God destroys the Foluo Palace all at once, it is estimated that India will also go crazy, and fight with Japan to die.

Therefore, bullying people is also about art.

The reason why the nuclear bomb didn't blow up the Winter Capital at the beginning was because the Winter Capital had too much sacred status in the hearts of the local people.

Just like these three people now, they are also the belief and symbol of Indian martial arts.

Unless absolutely necessary, Luna would not kill them.

However, just don't kill it.

Luna can still bear the consequences of being crippled and crippled.

"Don't... stop hitting..."

"Please..."

"Say, I... can't we say that?"

King Fro and they all cried.

I don't know what happened recently, I've been beaten up.

I was beaten by Mark some time ago, and the injury is still not healed, so I will be hanged by Luna again.

The wounds that have been raised for more than ten days will be all returned.

King Foluo and the others knew that they couldn't hide from the Moon God, so they decided to explain it.

Luna finally pulled her hand away. She was expressionless as she looked down at the three titles covered in blood that he had beaten under her feet.

In fact, Luna had already seen that these three old things were hiding something.

After all, the Moon God is a reincarnated god, and she has never experienced any great storms during several reincarnations.

From the moment she arrived at the Foluo Palace, Luna had noticed that there must have been a big battle here.

Moreover, it is a shocking battle!

The degree of damage is absolutely beyond what ordinary titles can do?

After all, even the holy mountain in India, Mount Foluo, has cracked.

Such a level of war, it stands to reason, has already spread throughout the world of martial arts.

But the strange thing is that Luna didn't hear any news before.

Moreover, the three of King Foluo had a vain breath, and at first glance they looked like they were just recovering from serious injuries.

This kind of weirdness made Luna quickly realize that these three old things must be deliberately hiding something.

But what is it?

"That, Fen Tian is dead."

"Killed by his fellow disciples."

"This guy deceives his master and destroys his ancestors, and mutilates..."

Bang!

As soon as King Foluo opened his mouth to say a few words, the Moon God slapped him again, knocking his mouth off by King Foluo.

This was not the message she wanted to hear.

She looked at Heb again.

Haibu twitched the corners of his mouth: "Then...that, I...my brother Crazy Sword Duolun, he's not dead, he...exited..."

Bang!

Another slap.

This time Haibu was not spared either.

Hundreds of pounds of body rolled along the ground like a dog, and was pulled away by Luna.

It wasn't what she wanted to hear either.

Finally, the pressure came to Bappe.

Bape was about to cry.

He didn't know whether to say it or not.

Said that Mark might kill him, not to mention, the woman in front of him is not easy to mess with.

Bang!

Another loud slap.

Bape straight interface spit blood and flew into the pond in the distance.

day!

Is there any reason?

I haven't said it yet, so you're going to hit me?
