

Chapter 3968

Everyone is curious, obviously this looks quite a luxurious feast, but it is just a dish, then, naturally this dish. What it is, it makes everyone curious.

But just as everyone was looking at it with their heads together, with Zhang Jiang opening the lid, everyone couldn't help but hurriedly retreated with a pale face.

Because under the cover turned out to be a bloody head!

"This..."

"This..."

Even if the three commanders are veterans on the battlefield, the number of kills is hard to estimate, and naturally there are as many dead people as they have seen, but on this dinner table, the plate is placed like this. With a human head, it is really surprising that the scalp is numb.

The same is true, as well as the lieutenants behind them.

Only Ma Nanfeng smiled softly: "Everyone, why are you so surprised? This dish is the main dish of this table, a dog head banquet." As soon as the words fell, someone stared at the head on the table and suddenly recognized it. What.

"This...isn't this Lieutenant General Liu, the left lieutenant general of the East Gate?"

"Yeah, how could his head..." A group of people spoke softly, very surprised.

The three commanders also looked at Ma Nanfeng strangely, not knowing which song he was singing.

Ma Nanfeng smiled: "You guys have sharp eyes, yes, this dog is Lieutenant General Liu."

"Hmph, this dog thief is trying to lead the rebels to surrender to the defenders outside the city, so Ma must not let these traitors go. So, kill it on the spot to get the dog's head." Ma Nanfeng said with a smile.

Commander Ximen finally understood what Ma Nanfeng meant, and smiled lightly: "Okay, well done, Commander Ma's move is quite beautiful. Although this banquet has no 10,000 dishes, it makes people feel better than the banquet of 10,000 dishes. Ah."

The commander of the North Gate also turned his surprise into joy: "That's right, these generals who betrayed should be punished so severely and the law of the military should be rectified." After finishing his words, he looked at the lieutenants behind him: "Show me all of them. It is clear, if any of you dare to do this, I will make his end worse than this Liu Gou."

"As soldiers, we must have the honor of soldiers, and we would rather die on the battlefield than be a surrendering rat. "

Yes!”

Seeing that the two commanders in the northwest were doing the same, at this time, the commander of the South Gate also recovered from the shock and forced a smile: “It’s good, it’s good, the generals of the South Gate, you can all hear it clearly.” You can do anything, don’t be a traitor. Otherwise, Lieutenant General Zhao Zuo will be your fate.” Of course, the commander of Nanmen said so, but everyone could hear the demeanor in his words.

Behind him, his lieutenants also laughed extremely heartily.

Ma Nanfeng and others are all smart people, so it is obvious that the commander of Nanmen is going through the motions. When the time is right, this guy will definitely be the first person to betray.

“It seems that you are unwilling.”

At this moment, a chuckle came.

When everyone looked back, they saw George Han slowly walking out from the back of the hall.

When they saw George Han, everyone, except Ma Nanfeng, was shocked.

“Alliance... alliance leader?” You, the leader of Nanmen and his lieutenants were the most flustered.

George Han smiled slightly, and Ma Nanfeng quickly got up and gave up his seat.

After sitting down, George Han glanced at the three commanders. The Nanmen Commander obviously buried his head very low, and did not dare to look at George Han at all.

“Although I came by surprise, the Nanmen Commander doesn’t have to be so panicked, right? Or, do you have a ghost in your heart?”

Hearing George Han’s words, the Nanmen Commander became even more nervous.

“This subordinate... this subordinate has absolutely no intention of defecting, please... also ask the leader to learn from it.” He said in a hurry.

George Han looked at each other and smiled: “Did I say you have the heart of defecting? Are you not recruiting yourself?” The commander of Nanmen was obviously flustered and blurted out in a hurry, but he didn’t think of George Han at all. There is no question at all.

“It seems that someone is going to add food for us.” George Han laughed softly.

“Also, how can one dog’s head be enough for so many of us? It’s okay to have another one.” The North Gate Commander sneered, and he was rather unhappy with the yin and yang tone of the South Gate Commander. George Han stood up and looked at the Nanmen commander who was already covered in cold sweat on his forehead, and suddenly said, "You stand up."

Stand up obediently...

Chapter 3969

He was trembling slightly, and his heart was trembling.

George Han smiled coldly, raised his hand, and the man closed his eyes in fright, but the next second, he didn't move his head as he imagined, he just felt that his shoulder was patted.

He opened his eyes and saw George Han was looking at him.

"Everyone has their own aspirations. It's up to you to choose your own path. As the commander of the South Gate, it means that I have great expectations for you. However, you have disappointed me greatly."

"Originally, according to military law, I will kill a traitor like you, but, as I said before, I still have high hopes for you, so..."

"Let's go with your people, Ma Nanfeng will open up for you. Chengmen, the brotherhood between you and me ends here." When the words were over, George Han turned his head to the side, not wanting to look at him again.

The commander of Nanmen obviously did n't come back to his senses. He betrayed first, and he was discovered at this time. As a result, not only did he not lose his life, but... instead, George Han wanted to let him go.

He really wondered if his ears had heard it wrong.

But thinking about it again, George Han's statement that he failed to meet high expectations made him feel guilty.

He really had high hopes for himself, otherwise, how could he be unwilling to kill himself.

According to the original plan, he really wanted to take people out of the city to join the enemy now, but the deep self-blame in his heart made him unable to take that leg no matter what.

"Ma Nanfeng, go open the east gate and give them ten minutes to leave the city." George Han instructed.

Ma Nanfeng took the order and immediately walked out.

"Wait a minute." For some reason, he blurted out suddenly, and Ma Nanfeng suddenly stopped and looked back at him.

He ignored Ma Nanfeng, just looked at George Han's back, and immediately knelt down, "Alliance leader, Luo Baicheng should be damned. The alliance leader regards Luo Baicheng as a brother, but Luo Baicheng betrayed you with his revenge. Right now, I am really ashamed.

"Of course, there is no need for suspects. The subordinates know that they have no qualifications and face to stay here, so the subordinates will take people away."

"However, the leader of the alliance can rest assured that after this matter, Luo Baicheng can swear that after I leave, I will never. Join the enemy."

George Han responded in response, "If you don't join the enemy, what will your group do?"

"The subordinates and others will have to bear the consequences if they make the wrong choice, so no matter what the outcome is, we will accept it." Luo Baicheng said.

When the words fell, the lieutenants behind him also nodded their heads in disappointment.

"If you don't join them, you will only be a dead end when you leave the city." George Han said, "With just a few people like you, you will be trampled into powder in an instant."

Of course Luo Baicheng and the others knew this result, but The question is, what other options do they have right now.

"Let's stay." George Han said.

"Stay?"

Not to mention how surprised Luo Baicheng and the others were, the two leaders of the Northwest were already extremely puzzled.

"I know some brothers are surprised. However, when it comes to arresting people and taking stolen goods, the commander of Nanmen has not actually committed betrayal. They are all our brothers. How can I watch them go to death?" George Han With a sigh.

Luo Baicheng bowed slightly: "But if the leader accepts us, this matter will inevitably lead to dissatisfaction from others."

"Then you all need to commit crimes and stop others' mouths." George Han said sternly.

"Focus on merits?" Luo Baicheng frowned.

"Why, not interested?" Han

George Han asked.

Luo Baicheng and the lieutenant looked at each other, and after a while, everyone knelt down together: "We will cherish the opportunity, and go through fire and water for this!"

Hearing what everyone said, George Han looked at the two Northwest commanders and their lieutenants: "Is it possible for me to deal with it this way?" The two generals looked at each other and said, "It's not possible, but the current situation is only known to me and others. We will definitely keep this matter a secret and cooperate with the leader."

"The subordinates also obey the leader . Arrangement."

George Han nodded: "Okay, before the war, the most important thing for my brothers and me is to work together. Since everyone has perverted, then this matter will be turned over from now on."

"Where are the generals, listen to my orders .

"I'm waiting for the order of the leader of the alliance!" "

Okay." George Han smiled lightly: "Pass my order and move to the South Gate. At the same time, the South Gate will open immediately." "

What?!"
