

Chapter 3988

Pei Gu is also an old fritter. Looking at Ye Shijun's appearance, he knows that he is by no means a momentary act of loyalty, so he also looks at took him.

Ye Shijun's dude was taken seriously by the two bosses, and his butt was raised higher than the sky at once: "Hey, what did I say? I'd better not say it, lest some slack people say that I'm being rude to the two of you. It's gone."

Zhu Yanshuo was angry, obviously this is true, but now it is his fault.

Turning his head aside, Zhu Yanshuo was extremely depressed.

Mingyu also knew that Zhu Yanshuo was indeed a bit wronged because of this, but she also knew that, as she said before, sometimes facing an opponent like George Han really needed some special people and methods.

"Everyone is on the same boat, we share weal and woe, Young Master Ye, the situation is urgent, so don't give up." Ming Yu said softly.

Ye Shijun's vanity

was greatly satisfied, and nodded: "Okay, since Elder Shenlong has spoken, it is for the sake of the overall situation, so I don't have the same knowledge as some people."

"Ye thinks that no matter what, we should Seize this opportunity immediately and attack the city."

When he finished speaking, he glanced at Zhu Yanshuo with a sneer, and said with a smile: "I know, some people will definitely not accept it. But don't forget, this should be in the city. There may not be people who are facing us. People. This city gate, maybe they are the ones who opened it."

Zhu Yanshuo snorted disdainfully: "Even if there is, it will only open the gate on one side. If the city gates on all four sides are open, then you should fall into the city. Could it be that it's all ours? If so, why do we have so many people here to attack the city? Go home and sleep, isn't that alright?"

Zhu Yanshuo often targets Ye Shijun, and Ye Shijun targets his original heart

It was unpleasant. Now, with such a big deal at stake, Ye Shijun's operation was as fierce as a tiger. From a closer look, he realized that he was a 250. Zhu Yanshuo, who is a smart man, was of course full of disdain for his brainless theory. .

Some people heard Zhu Yanshuo's mocking and wanted to laugh, but they didn't dare to laugh out loud, but no doubt, it made Ye Shijun extremely annoyed.

"You know shit." Ye Shijun roared angrily: "Zhu Yanshuo, don't think that you've read some broken books and you'll think you're great, but tell you that Zhumen is the most stinky."

"You, you are typically invincible. You have been frightened by that George Han so much that you don't even know your parents."

"Young Master Ye!" Zhu Yanshuo was suddenly annoyed by being so scolded.

“What, Zhu Yanshuo, am I right? Let me ask you, even if there is an ambush in Simen City, how many people can there be in each side?”

“On average, there are only tens of thousands of people in each city. That’s all, even if the east, south, and west sides are all wiped out, what about the north side? What I have here at this time is about 200,000 horses. Right?”

“As long as our army breaks any of its doors, let me ask you, what should we use to play with us when we fall into the city ?” As soon as the words fell, everyone was speechless, including Zhu Yanshuo.

Yes, when they saw the strangeness of the city gates opening, they were all guessing and even worried about what kind of trick George Han was doing, so they kept guessing and didn’t dare to move.

In fact, mang people have a way of looking at problems.

It’s like some children’s problems. Adults sometimes complicate the problem so much that they throw themselves into the problem and can’t extricate themselves.

However, children with pure hearts can simplify and complete the problem from their simple perspective, and everything will be solved easily.

“Young Master Ye’s remarks are quite reasonable.” Pei Gu nodded: “You only need to break one gate to attack the city. Therefore, if we can concentrate our forces to gain an advantage, we will win the game. It’s just like making a fool of yourself, and you’re really confusing you and me and others just now.”

Ming Yu also nodded slightly, Ye Shijun’s analysis made sense, and the most important thing is that this risky but extremely low-cost method is indeed George Han. style of doing things.

Moreover, it is also the most appropriate method to attack it together.

“Order the troops, immediately sound the drums and strike the hammer, with my order, I may launch the ultimate battle against the fallen city from all sides at the same time !

Chapter 3989

At this time, George Han was sitting on the seat of the city lord, gently wiping the jade sword in his hand. Seeing the anxious expression on the spy’s face, George Han smiled: “Is the enemy ready to attack us? I can already hear the sound of drums outside the city.”

It looks like it’s ready to launch a general attack on us. The city gates on all sides are open for some reason, we... we...” The spy really shouldn’t say anything.

But anyone from George Han’s side should actually understand how difficult their current situation is.

“No hurry, no hurry.” George Han smiled.

“City lord, it is extremely difficult for the enemy to attack the city with all our forces. It is extremely difficult for these troops to defend the city. Now, the city gates are still wide open on all sides, which is more equivalent to letting the enemy in.

” In the realm of people, the offensive is naturally unstoppable. In our city, people are panicking now, whether it is soldiers or civilians.”

George Han nodded: “These are all I expected, it’s fine.”

“No...” The spy was dumb . I said, I am very depressed, is this still okay?

“Go down, just wait quietly.” George Han got up, walked slightly to the spies, and said, “Don’t worry, you are all my George Han brothers, your lives are very important, I I won’t let you sacrifice so easily, I have my own plans.” The spy wanted to say something, but seeing George Han’s sincere eyes at this time, he didn’t know why, and his trust rose wildly.

Nodding: “The words of the leader make the subordinates feel much more at ease. Please rest assured that the leader, the subordinates will talk to the brothers, don’t worry.”

George Han smiled and signaled that the spies could go back.

As soon as he left, George Han also raised the jade sword in his hand, shook his head gently, and walked out of the City Lord’s Mansion.

“Ming Yu, Ming Yu, you can’t stand it anymore.” No matter the Xuanyuan world or the Bafang world, the individual soldiers are strong, and the natural tactics are relatively simple. However, in their eyes, the ant-like earth world, this For thousands of years, the ability of individual soldiers is low, and team battles often require more sophisticated and complex tactics.

George Han looks at the past and the present, the ancients and ancestors all have their dazzling history in tactics, and they can learn from them.

The four gates were wide open, referring to Zhuge Kongming’s plan for an empty city.

Afterwards, after special improvement by George Han, it turned into this.

When the four doors opened, the other party must

Of course, the more they think about it, the more successful George Han’s strategy will be, because the real core of this strategy is to steal the dragon and turn the phoenix, or in other words, to shift the focus.

They were originally secretive from all sides, leaving George Han to guess where they belonged. This is because they took the initiative and George Han was passive.

But George Han's operation of opening the four doors seems to be bizarre and nonsense, but it is actually a draw from the bottom of the pot. If you want me to guess, I simply don't guess, and all the doors are opened, so you can guess.

Once so, George Han turned passive into active, completing the tactical jump and the reversal of the situation.

Moreover, there is another most important point, which is actually the real core of this strategy.

"Sometimes, people's eyes and hearts can deceive people, and even deceive themselves." George Han smiled softly.

At this time, he had come to the position in the city, and when he looked back, he saw the soldiers from all sides, rapidly gathering towards the place where George Han stood in the center.

"The commander of the east gate leads the soldiers of the east gate, and has seen the leader of the alliance."

"The commander of the west gate leads the soldiers of the west gate, and has seen the leader of the alliance!"

"The commander of the south gate leads the soldiers of the south gate, and has seen the leader of the alliance!"

"The commander of the north gate leads the soldiers of the north gate, see Over the leader!" The four leaders reported after taking the lead.

George Han nodded, looked up at the tens of thousands of troops behind the four, and said with satisfaction: "Everyone is here?"

"Reporting to the leader, all the four divisions have followed your instructions, except for some necessary guards. The city wall, the rest, all are here." Ma Nanfeng said.

George Han glanced at the crowd: "Very good, soldiers are more valuable than speed. The enemy is about to launch a general attack, let's..." Han

George Han smiled: "Let them go and have no return!"

Slowly raised his hand: "All listen to my orders!"
