

Chapter 3992

“Leader...”

Seeing George Han stand up, the leader of the North Gate standing next to him also stood up, seeing his Looking far ahead, he couldn't help but ask a little strangely.

He followed George Han's gaze, but strangely, he didn't seem to notice anything unusual.

George Han smiled slightly: “Brother, what do you think of this 200,000 army?”

“It's just a swarm of ants.” The North Gate commander said disdainfully, “That is, our troops are too far behind, if I double the number of troops, I must kill him and go out, making them jump around.”

George Han smiled bitterly and shook his head: “I want to hear the truth.”

Commander Beimen felt a little embarrassed, but when he saw George Han's sincere eyes, he touched it. Touching his head: “The army of more than 200,000 people, not to mention the number of people, has completely crushed us. It is only the ability of individual soldiers to fight. Although we have all been trained by the leaders of the alliance, compared to them, we are not How much stronger will it be.”

“They are all powerful.”

“They just met us and you, the leader of the alliance. Otherwise, their army would attack like a flood, and all cities would be submerged.”

George Han nodded. : “They are really fierce. This is even stronger than I expected. However, since the strong return to the strong, since we are against them, we should naturally think of ways to defeat the enemy.”

“So, it depends on you . See, what do you think is the best thing to do if we want to win this battle?”

“I mean, what if I had an army that could raid them from behind them right now?”

“The terrain outside the city on the north side is extremely flat. Even if we send people to raid the back, it will be detected by the enemy early because of the terrain

. The significance and effect are not great.” The North Gate commander replied softly.

George Han nodded: “Then what's the best way?”

“Although the terrain to the north is flat, it is rectangular in shape, which means that a raid from the rear may be easy to detect, but if you raid from the left and right, it will be successful It has become extremely high.”

“But...”

George Han smiled softly: “But what?”

“Alliance leader, although the left and right sides are relatively narrow, they are also relatively narrow. In fact, from a strategic point of view, raiding in such places in fact, the significance is not very big, because the narrowness is still too long.”

“Without the cover of the terrain, the too long impact line will make the raid without its true meaning. Naturally, the dagger will become a weapon of confrontation. It’s not a sharp blade of sneak attack.”

“One inch long and one inch strong.”

George Han nodded, looked at the North Gate commander

, and smiled: “What’s your name.”

“Subordinate Xu Tianshui.”

“Okay!” George Han is in a good mood. The analysis by the leader of the North Gate is almost correct, and he does have the style of a commander: “There is almost no problem in the analysis. In other words, what I can think of, you have also thought of it.”

“However, you I missed a little bit.”

“Also ask the leader to make it clear!”

“Theoretically speaking, the terrain on both sides of the northern city is indeed too wide, which is not conducive to raids, and like the rear, it is easy to turn the dagger into a short knife.

” However, it may not be the case in reality.”

“I mean, when I strike two daggers at the same time from left and right, which one is the dagger and the short knife, and how important is it?”

“The most important thing about daggers is a surprise attack. Then, if the enemy is already in fear, why can’t be a dagger?” The North Gate commander frowned, thought for a moment, and suddenly understood what George Han was thinking about. What does it mean.

George Han nodded: “Exactly.”

“If the enemy is attacked from both sides, although the enemy can rely on the terrain to find out in advance, but after all, what they are facing is the flanking attack from the left and the right. , it will be difficult to deal with it for a while, this plan can indeed minimize the impact of the terrain, but the problem is...” The North Gate commander looked at George Han in embarrassment: “The problem is that we are seriously understaffed now. , let alone organize two teams to attack from left and right, even one team is difficult to get together.”

“Who said that?” George Han smiled lightly and looked into the distance.

“Kill!”

Suddenly, the left and right flanks outside the North Gate City, accompanied by shouts of killing, two armies suddenly came out...

Chapter 3993

army has more than ten thousand people, and one army only has more than fifty people, but it is obvious that the latter acted quickly, agile.

Looking at it like this, one side is like the division of a giant elephant, and the other side is like the division of tigers and leopards.

“Leader, this...this...this is ours?” the North Gate commander said in surprise.

George Han smiled and didn’t speak, the North Gate commander looked again, and suddenly patted his head.

The leader of the 10,000-strong army, isn’t it the Dongmen commander Ma Nanfeng?

No wonder they never saw Ma Nanfeng again shortly after the siege began. It turns out that this guy has his own special mission.

“The two troops on the left and right attacked, like two daggers stabbing between the enemy’s waist and ribs. It’s a good strategy, Alliance Leader.”

The North Gate Commander, who had fallen into despair, finally showed excitement on his face.

“But...” The North Gate commander quickly became worried again.

“But what?” George Han looked back at him.

“However, although there are more than 10,000 troops on the left, there are only a few dozen people on the right. This dagger is like a dagger that has been rusted for many years. The strategic effect has been achieved, but the purpose of deterrence is not achieved at all. Arrive.” Beimen commander said.

George Han said softly: “You mean that the number of troops on the right is too small to pose a threat?”

“Yes, the enemy will probably not take more precautions on the right, so if they strengthen the defense on the left, in fact, the effect of the double edge has basically disappeared.”

George Han shook his head: “I don’t agree with what you said, but I understand it.”

“How about we make a bet?”

“How should the leader of the alliance bet?”

“I don’t agree with you. Although I agree with what you said, the enemy will inevitably defend a large area from raids on the left, but in fact, the right The dagger is shorter and more powerful, and naturally, it is even more crazy about tearing apart the body of the enemy.”

Hearing George Han's words, the North Gate Commander was obviously taken aback, and took a closer look at the forty or so troops on the right, although it was true. From their actions and appearance, they appear to be elite.

But considering the general situation of the battle, he nodded: "The leader of the alliance can make a force of only forty people to be a raiding force. This is very bold, and it also shows that you trust them very much. They must have been there before. Human ability.

"But on the battlefield, the difference in numbers is often more important. The gap between the more than 40 people and the large enemy troops is really too big. Therefore, the subordinates still insist that even if the enemy will focus most of their attention on the left side, the surprise caused by the left side troops will not be enough. Still bigger. "

George Han smiled: "Then let's see. " " When the words fell, with the charge of the left and right troops, the enemy's left and right wings were already approaching.

"Attack from both sides, the guards will follow me to meet the enemy." "

Mingyu Department also launched a defensive counterattack almost immediately, as predicted by the North Gate commander, for the attack on the left side, the Mingyu Department almost subconsciously focused most of its attention there

. Most of the time, it relies on subconscious reflections.

Because there are not so many opportunities for judgment, the turn of the two sides is on the verge of breaking out.

George Han smiled slightly and looked at the battlefield: "There are actually forty-four people on the right. "The North Gate Commander nodded.

"It took me three days to train them in hell mode regardless of the cost." George Han continued.

The North Gate commander nodded again, all of which he could think of.

After all, forty-four people dared to raid the flanks of the army of more than 200,000 people. Even a fool would know that this group of people must have superhuman skills and excellent courage.

After all, ordinary people are scared to pee just by watching this battle, let alone going to fight.

"The purpose of training them is actually that at this critical moment, they can play the role of a surprise soldier, or tear a gap in the enemy's body like a sharp knife."

"So, they have a special name, The sharp knife team."

George Han said this, and the whole person smiled confidently.

The North Gate commander wanted to say something, but the terrifying scene on the right made him completely speechless, he pointed at the scene in the field, and he was full of nonsense for a while:

“This...this...this... ..”

“Kill!” The

Sharp Knife detachment, as its name suggests, rushed into the enemy’s line and instantly tore open the gap in the entire army...
