

Chapter 4028

However, he was seriously injured, but he couldn't even stand up.

Just lying on the ground, looking at his tall and burly father.

In his eyes, there were two lines of blood and tears that slowly flowed down.

And this time.

Bill Jones' eyes began to bloodshot.

All the qi and blood in the body, as if crazy, gathered in the dantian frantically.

Seeing that, Bill Jones' body, like a balloon, began to expand.

Seeing such a scene, Tang Xian was shocked: "Not good!"

"This lunatic, he's going to blow himself up!"

"Quick, stop him!"

Tang Xian was about to freak out.

He never dreamed that Bill Jones would dare to play this.

If a titled master uses blood as the lead, if he explodes himself, the degree of damage is comparable to that of a nuclear explosion.

This old thing, he is not afraid of blowing up his children.

But now is by no means the time to be shocked.

Even in order to protect the black-clothed Dharma protectors who went out, he must not let this old thing blow up successfully.

While those black-clothed Dharma guardians were fleeing in fear, Tang Xian was heartbroken and charged directly with his long sword in hand.

With lightning speed, he rushed in front of Bill Jones.

Bill Jones wanted to dodge, but the blood-burning consequences began to show.

The huge sense of weakness made him unable to even lift the knife.

So much so that Bill Jones couldn't escape Tang Xian who rushed over.

Stab it!

The long sword entered the body, and the Great Elder's sword directly pierced Bill Jones' dantian.

At the same time, more than a dozen swords were stabbed one after another, slashing all over Bill Jones' veins.

In an instant, Bill Jones was full of holes.

The power of qi and blood that originally gathered was not ready to be detonated, so Tang Xian forcibly interrupted it.

Bang!

After stabbing out several swords, Tang Xian kicked out again.

The huge force wrapped around Bill Jones' body and slid for 100 meters, and finally, stopped not far in front of Mike.

"Father..."

"Father..."

Mike burst into tears.

He crawled over, crawled over to his father, and covered Bill Jones' wound with his hand.

However, after covering this side, blood gushed out there.

Covering that side, the wound on this side gushed.

Seeing that his dignified and burly father in the past is now a thousand warehouses, Mike is undoubtedly heart-wrenching.

He had never thought that the father he respected the most, the stalwart man like a mountain who had protected his family for a generation, would one day fall down in front of him, covered in blood and dying.

"Yeah...sorry..."

"Still... still thinking, I can... send you a ride, but... I still failed..." Bill Jones felt guilty, and blood poured out of his mouth again.

"Father, you... stop talking, you're fine..." Mike wailed.

Bill tried his best to smile, and wiped the tears from the corners of his son's eyes: "M... Mike, no... don't cry..."

"I.. our Jones family, no.. can't embarrass the ancestors of Yunyang... even if.. if they die, they have to die standing up..."

"Help..Help to be a father..Get up.."

Bill Jones' words were broken.

Mike Jones was grief-stricken.

He used all his bizarre strength to support a tree next to him, and barely stood up.

Then, he helped his father up again.

“Old dog Tang!”

“come!”

“Come and kill us!”

“Come!!!”

Mike Jones is dying.

He supported his father and let out a low beast-like roar at Tang Xian and the others.

They don't want to escape anymore, and they know they can't escape.

Since there is no doubt of death, as his father said, the people of the Jones family must stand to die!

“Stubborn thing!”

“This will send you to the West!”

Tang Xian has run out of patience.

He waved his hand, and the black-clothed guardian behind him directly spread the sword with a sword in his hand.

“stop!”

Suddenly, a voice sounded from a distance.

Tang Xian and the others frowned. When they looked up, they saw several figures walking towards the moonlight.

They were unkempt, their hands and feet were chained, and they staggered when they walked.

But their eyes were still firm.

“Don't you just want to take our lives?”

“As long as the Jones family members are released, we will kill ourselves here immediately.”

Gaia's hoarse voice sounded quietly.
