

Chapter 4049

“You...you are a scumbag!”

“You lied to your master and destroyed your ancestors!”

“How dare you make us kneel?”

“The old master will never let you go!”

On the Chumen Mountain, Hong Yin rolled.

Ye Fan’s majestic voice echoed everywhere.

The Chu family at this time, after being forced to kneel, only felt humiliated and angry.

Outside the Chu family, the Chumen people who heard the movement were all gathered here.

Including the Tang family!

After the Tang family guessed Ye Fan’s identity, they sent a large number of strong men to chase Ye Fan.

As a result, a large number of strong people have already gathered outside the Chu family.

However, when these people learned that the person in front of them was the peerless ruthless man Chu Tianfan who swept across Chumen Mountain and suppressed Chu Zhengliang, the head of the Chu family.

No one dared to step forward!

He just hid outside the door and watched the Chu family suffer from a distance.

No idea.

Ye Fan is too strong.

Everyone doesn’t want to die.

I don’t even want to die for the Chu family.

Besides, this is the Chu family’s family business, and they are outsiders, just take a look.

Being surrounded by so many people, the Chu family naturally felt even more ashamed.

For a long time, the Chu family has been the first head of the Chumen family.

But now, being forced to kneel.

Since the Chu family established their clan, they have not suffered this humiliation.

Therefore, in order to save some face, people like Chu Shen had to keep scolding and threatening Ye Fan.

For these people who are still stubborn when they die, there is only one way for Ye Fan to respond, and that is big!

boom boom boom...

Ye Fan slapped wildly.

Whoever shouted the loudest was beaten last.

Later, like some people in Chu Shen, half of their faces were smashed, and the few remaining teeth were also broken.

Wherever you look, there is blood everywhere.

Soon, after a frantic beating, there was no sound in the Chu family manor.

The Chu family all bowed their heads honestly, not daring to say a word.

Ye Fan looked at them and walked in front of a few people based on the only memories left in his mind.

The first person Ye Fan went to was Chu Shen.

At this moment, Chu Shen was beaten long ago, and he was lying on the ground, looking at Ye Fan with a bloody face.

Ye Fan sat down beside him.

“Second grandpa, why bother?”

“I don’t really want to do it.”

“After all, there’s no one who can fight. If I do something to you ants, it seems like I’m bullying you.”

“But your words are too harsh.”

“When I see you talking, it reminds me of my childhood.”

“Remember, that year I ran into your room and ate a piece of cake.”

“I was discovered by you, and you let me be beaten to pieces.”

“She said I was a bastard and wouldn’t let you into your house, and said she’d rather feed the cake to the dog than to me.”

“In your eyes, I, Chu Tianfan, should be worse than a dog.”

“I just don’t know, second grandpa, did you ever think that one day, you will have today’s ending?”

Ye Fan was sitting there, talking about the past as if he were talking about the family.

Chu Shen listened there, letting Ye Fan be humiliated, but his face was flushed, and he couldn’t say a word.

“And you.”

“I remember, I should call you auntie.”

“At the beginning, my mother and I lived in Chu’s house, and you seem to live not far from our room.”

“I remember at that time, your family had a very large Tibetan mastiff.”

“You often let the dogs bite us for fun.”

“Once again, Angie gave me a pig’s trotter, and I ate it and went home.”

“You just let the dog go, he chases me and bites.”

“When my mother saw it, she ran over and just protected me.”

“And the dog was biting on my mother’s back, and the bite was bloody.”

“Up to now, there are still several scars on my mother’s back.”

“After so many years, I don’t know if the dog from my aunt’s house is still there?”

Ye Fan smiled faintly.

He didn’t remember much about his childhood.
