

Noble Husband At the Door Chapter 414

A worthless partnership!

This sentence straight pierced Harvey's heart.

He endangered Yvonne with these words, however he didn't expect that Yvonne would directly translucent the essence of the matter.

When he was no more the chairman of the firm, that would take him seriously?

Ever before since Kang Ling died out of the blue, the guys had taken the campaign to state that they would certainly continue to work with the firm. Harvey understood that there was definitely something taking place behind this. Probably, Yvonne, this scheming lady, had currently grasped all of this a long period of time back.

"Yvonne, I will make you be sorry for." After stating that, Harvey considered the other family members of the Sue family and proceeded, "I will certainly allow you know who can lead the Sue family members to success. If you trash follow her, eventually, you will certainly regret it."

After Harvey left, the conference of the Sue household was held as normal. Yvonne's strategy was very straightforward. Now Yvonne was the chairman, and they just had to follow orders.

At the same time, Samuel drove the Lamborghini brought back from the fixing plant and also gone to Rong City.

The roadway from Rong City to Cloud City was less than 100 kilometers away, but it established better than Cloud City, as well as it tended to end up being a first-tier city over the last few years.

There was a very renowned temple in Rong City. On the very first and also 15th day of the month, pilgrims would come to the holy place to pray for blessings. It was said that the abbot of the holy place was the reincarnation of a terrific deity.

In position like the holy place, it was very odd to see a Taoist priest dressed such as this. At this time, there was a young Taoist clergyman who went up from the course and also walked towards the back of the mountain. When passers-by cast him an odd look, he didn't care.

"What are you considering? Have not you seen a Taoist reciting Buddhism?"

"If you take a look at me once more, think it or not, I'll gouge your eyes out."

"Get out of my way. Do not obstruct the course."

The young Taoist clergyman cursed in the process. After strolling to the rear of the hill, he concerned a tile-roofed home after a series of twists and turns.

The people here were hardly ever seen, belonging to the forbidden land of explorers. On top of that, only the temple's abbot and a couple of others learnt about this area.

He took off his footwear and began to scrub his feet. He likewise put his fingers on his nose and also took a deep breath as if he was appreciating it.

When I saw the individual you spoke of, in fact, it had not been all that great either. The little daoist priest continued.

The door was pushed open as well as a white-haired old man startled out. He knocked on the young Taoist priest's head as well as stated, "Qingyun, inform me honestly, you really did not do anything silly, did you?"

The young Taoist priest called Qingyun covered his head as well as stated shateringly, "Master, I pay attention to your teachings. I really did not claim or do anything.

"Yes." The white-haired old man responded smoothly. He got a piece of jade from his pocket, which was crystal clear, as well as said, "This point is extremely important. You must remember to keep it well."

Seeing that the jade was not an ordinary thing, Qingyun hurriedly took it and claimed with a covetous face, "Master, it's excellent. It's useful, isn't it?"

It appeared that he wanted to show Qingyun one more lesson, yet Qingyun moved quickly. He took two steps back and claimed, "Master, do not fret.

" Bear in mind, this item of jade is exceptionally essential. Even if there is a hazard to your life, you can not give it to anybody else. This is a keepsake, an extremely important one," claimed the white-haired older.

" Do not worry, do not stress. I'm so wise that I will always remember it," Qingyun said with an audacious smile.

Checking out Qingyun's informal perspective, the white-haired old man sighed and also claimed, "Go down the hill and also go to Samuel. Do not come back."

After a pause, Qingyun quit chuckling as well as stated, "Master, why do I want to go to Samuel? Didn't you say that you desire him to die? As well as who will look after you when I leave?"
