Chapter 42: Same Last Name, Different Treatment

"Who is that beauty next to her? She's even prettier than Xia Qinghan!"
The looks and whispers of the people around them made Song Jiaren feel upset. The one thing she hated the most in the world was a beautiful woman.
When the two of them walked together, they received a lot of attention, but the gazes directed to Song Jiaren were very unfriendly. If she didn't think that Xia Xibei could help her lose the extra weight she had, she would have turned right around and left.
When they reached the entrance, the car sent to pick up Song Jiaren was already waiting.
The driver was a little surprised to see that Song Jiaren had brought a beautiful girl along with her. There were no beauties such as Xia Xibei around their young miss!
Xia Xibei didn't give the slightest bit of attention to the driver's gaze. After saying hello to him, she smiled and said, "Uncle, I forgot to buy a washtub. Can we go to Zhonghong Street?"
Zhonghong Street was a well-known area to shop at. It was near the commercial business district and had everything, including washtubs.
"What are we buying a washtub for?" Song Jiaren asked.
"For baths!" Xia Xibei replied, "Don't worry, I'll make sure you see results today."

The driver watched the two of them, hesitating but deciding not to say anything.
Soon enough, the car stopped outside Zhonghong Street, the block forbidding the presence of cars.
After they got out, Xia Xibei took Song Jiaren towards a specific store.
As they were walking, Xia Xibei suddenly stopped and looked ahead of them.
Song Jiaren saw that she had stopped and looked over in the same direction to see what had caught her eye. She saw three girls, one of whom looked very familiar.
"Hey, isn't that Xia Qinghan, our school's beauty queen?"
Although Song Jiaren wasn't pretty and didn't get along that well with other people, even she knew who Xia Qinghan was.
After all, the girl was the famous beauty queen of their school!
She was good-looking, had a great figure, an excellent family background, aced school, was athletic, and combining all of that with a gentle personality, she always had an overflow of suitors around her. She was a goddess to many guys.
She supposedly had an excellent boyfriend too!

She hadn't expected to run into Xia Qinghan here. "Do you know each other?" Song Jiaren asked casually. "No," Xia Xibei's eyes slightly cold, even as they burned with a silent fire. How could she not know her? 20% of the initial pain she had suffered had been at the hands of Yang Xuan, another 10% caused by those irresponsible parents, and the leftover 70% was all due to Xia Qinghan! Song Jiaren didn't notice the expression in Xia Xibei's eyes, murmuring to herself, "Yes, your last names are both Xia, but you probably wouldn't know her." Just because they had the same Xia surname didn't mean that they had any ties connecting them.

Of course,	This made Song Jiaren, who was often ignored and had just been cheated on by a scumbag, quite envious.

"Hey, what's going on over there?" Song Jiaren asked, walking ahead in an attempt to sate her curiosity, finally realizing what was happening. "Star scout?"	"Hey, what's going on over there?" Song Jiaren asked, walking ahead in an attempt to sate her curiosity finally realizing what was happening. "Star scout?"

She watched with surprise as the man took out a business card and gave it to Xia Qinghan.
Chapter 43: We're Recruiting Trainees
Zhong Hong Street was at the heart of all the commerce. There were numerous large-scale companies in the vicinity, many of which were entertainment companies.
Events were held often here, and people went in droves, star scouts searching for suitable youngsters in the area to join the entertainment industry.
Previously, a boy from a neighboring school had been scouted, becoming a celebrity. He wasn't very famous, but it was exciting enough for the students.
Song Jiaren was familiar with this gossip, and although she never had such unrealistic dreams herself, she was envious of those people, nonetheless.
And right now, the man standing before Xia Qinghan fit the bill of what the others had described a star scout to look like.
She took two steps closer to them, finally able to hear their conversation more clearly.
"Are you really a star scout?" the girl beside Xia Qinghan asked in shock and suspicion.

"Of course!" The man smiled confidently, continuing, "I am one of the top managers of SY Entertainment, Pan Yan. If you don't believe me, you could always follow me to my company and have a look around." As he spoke, he pointed in a specific direction.
"I believe you," Xia Qinghan finally said slowly, "I know someone from SY Entertainment."
The other two girls looked at her in envy and admiration. She was amazing, even having connections with people from an entertainment company!
Xia Qinghan wore a polite smile, but she enjoyed the looks that people were giving her, basking in their attention.
"Really?" Pan Yan voiced his surprise, "Who?"
"Bai Meixue."
"You know Bai Meixue?!"
Before Pan Yan could get in a word, the two girls shrieked in delight, exclaiming in union, "My goodness! You know her!"
Bai Meixue was an actress who would be turning 40 soon, but looked as if she was just over 30, all thanks to her meticulous skincare routine.

Aside from that, she had pretty substantial popularity. She had been the main female lead of various modern dramas a few years back but had taken on the big screen in the past few years, both with pretty good results.
She was a well-known celebrity to the people of the nation, and a goddess in the eyes of many.
In the meantime, she was head of all the female celebrities in SY Entertainment.
"She's an auntie of mine, she treats me well."
Xia Qinghan responded in a reserved manner, but she couldn't hide the delight and pride shining behind her eyes.
Pan Yan was taken aback as well, never having expected this little girl to know Bai Meixue.
"Why didn't you talk about this before?" Liu Zhijing grumbled on her left, "Even we didn't know that!"
"There's nothing to talk about," Xia Qinghan replied calmly with a smile, "I can't just go around telling people that we know each other, now can I? That would not be appropriate."
"Aiya, that's too low-key!" Liu Zhijing pouted. "If I knew a celebrity as big as her, I would be boasting about it left and right, to everyone I knew and everywhere I go!!"

"Right! Right!" On her other side, Tao Yueying joined in, "I'm so envious of you! You score well on all the exams, you have good looks, and you know such a famous celebrity You're good at whatever you do, and you have everything you could ask for. You're winning in life! I'm dying of envy!"
As she took in the undisguised envy on their faces, Xia Qinghan felt joyful and rejuvenated, but masked it all behind serene words, "Aiya, it's not something worth talking about. You shouldn't tell anyone else either. I prefer to keep a low profile."
"Aiya, we know that!" the two replied in girlish tones, clutching onto her hands.
Pan Yan kept a straight face as he watched the little girls boasting and flattering among themselves. It was okay for them to have a sense of pride and vanity, as long as they didn't go overboard.
"Miss, I think you would fit within the entertainment industry very well. We are recruiting trainees now, if you are interested?"
"Trainee?"
"Why would our Qinghan even need any training? She could debut right away with her current capabilities!" Liu Zhijing retorted.
