

Chapter 423

However, no matter how much she called, the man lying on the floor closed his eyes.

Overwhelming despair hit my heart in an instant, like the entire world had turned black at that moment.

She shrieked miserably, "Biden Lu--"

Then all that happened was a fishy throat, a dull pain in my stomach, and I blacked out.

.....

When I woke up again, I found myself in a hospital bed.

As soon as she opened her eyes, she subconsciously felt to the side, but she felt nothing.

In a heartbeat, he jumped out of bed and ran towards the outside.

Before running to the door, a doctor stopped him, "Hey, what are you doing?"

Jenny grabbed him and screamed in disbelief, "Where's Biden Lu?Where is he?"

The doctor was relieved, "You mean the injured man who was brought in with you, don't you?"

Jenny nodded repeatedly, looking miserable, "Where is he?Tell me!"

"Oh, he's still in surgery, and hey, you..."

Before the words were finished, the woman in front of her had run off like a gust of wind.

Third floor, entrance to the operating room.

When Jenny arrived, the light above the operating room was still on, meaning that the people inside hadn't come out yet and the operation wasn't over.

The Jin family stood there, and behind them were several serious-looking bodyguards.

On the chair next to her sat Old Lady Ken and Night White.

Jenny's face was slightly white.

She stumbled over to the old lady, not daring to go to the old lady, but grabbed Nightwhite's arm and asked, "How is he? Is he all right?"

Nightwhite looked at her panic-stricken appearance, her eyebrows tightened, and only after a half-hearted sound did she struggle to make a sound, "The doctor said the situation is very dangerous, and there is less than ten percent chance of saving her life."

Jenny Jing only felt a bang in his head as if the sky had fallen down when he heard the words.

She stumbled backwards, the whole thing about to fall over, and was held in place by Nightwhite's quick-eyed grip.

"Sister-in-law!"

Old Mrs. Jin was also alarmed by the sound of her sister-in-law and turned to look over.

Jenny shook her head, instantly bursting into tears.

"It's my fault, it's my bad, why should I be gullible? It wouldn't have happened so easily, it wouldn't have been taken advantage of and you wouldn't have been hurt, I'm sorry."

Nightwhite's heart couldn't help but clench as he watched her in pain.

He said quietly, "Don't get excited yet, there's still a ten percent chance that it won't be saved."

Old Mrs. Jin was also busy consoling, "Yes, don't get too excited yet, lest Biden save your life but fall down."

Jenny was helped by them to sit down in a chair.

Night White asked, "Sister-in-law, you were there at the time, do you know who the murderer is?"

Jenny's fingers gripping the armrest tightened fiercely.

Her eyes were cold and steady for a moment, and she spoke quietly, "I know."

"Who?"

"Her name is Summer Springs, and she's the best friend I ever thought I'd have in my life, but I just didn't think... Heh!"

She laughed to herself, not sure if she was laughing at her own naivety and failure as a human being, or at the absurdity of things.

Night White's eyes, however, widened abruptly.

He grabbed her arm hard and said in a stern voice, "What did you say? What's her name?"

Jenny stared at him coldly, smiling sadly, "Xiaquan, she's the one who called me and lied to me, saying she was drunk and wanted me to pick her up, when in fact she had already made up her mind to stab him in the heart when we weren't paying attention, she's the one who killed him!"

Nightwhite shook hard, feeling incredulous.

He also sent someone to check the surveillance after it happened, but the surveillance was sabotaged and nothing was found.

Someone in the crowd described the person's face, saying only that she was a very pretty looking woman.

But none of them could tell exactly what she looked like, because it happened so quickly, so everyone just looked at her, and the person ran away.

Because of this, they had always thought that it would be some assassin, who had been ambushed for a long time to assassinate Biden Lu.

And yet, unexpectedly, this man was....

Nightwhite fell back hard against the back of the wheelchair, his face pale.

In the next second, he commanded one of the men who had been following him to snatch him out like the wind.

Jenny watched his back as he left in a hurry.

But I think he's probably on his way to catch a murderer.

She managed a smile, not thinking much of it, but her eyes were red as her mouth quirked in a smile.

Just then, a doctor suddenly came down from downstairs, saw her, and anxiously called out, "Oh my, how did you get here, I've been looking for you for most of the day, and your ultrasound hasn't been done yet! Hurry up and follow me."

Her words stunned Jenny for a moment.

Nightwhite, who was having his wheelchair pushed outside, paused in place and looked back at the doctor with some shock in his eyes.

Jenny was puzzled, "What kind of ultrasound is being done?"

The doctor frowned, "Don't you know? You're pregnant, you've had a bit of an aura of miscarriage before, I was going to wait until you woke up before I gave you an ultrasound, but you're good, you woke up and ran away, now come with me!"

Jenny stared so hard, including Nightwhite.

The big surprise came along with the sadness, and she didn't even know whether to laugh or cry at this moment.

The hand slowly caressed his stomach, a place that actually had a little life in it.

Is it...his child?

Lu Jing-Shen, do you hear me?We're having kids again.

So, you must get through this and you must survive.

She couldn't help but burst into tears again.

Standing in place, he crouched down and covered his face with his hands, only to feel as if a piece of his heart had been plucked out by something that hurt so much that he couldn't breathe.

Night White's eyes were also somewhat scarlet.

He stared at her, half-heartedly, before feeling the ache that stirred in his heart calm down a bit.

In a deep voice, "Sister-in-law, you go with the doctor for the ultrasound first, leave the rest to me, there will be no problem."

He said he made a phone call out, and shortly after, a female doctor came over.

"This is my friend Shu Yue, an obstetrician and gynecologist, Shu Yue, she's carrying my brother's seed in her belly, you must help me take care of her."

Shu Yue wore a black orbital glasses, looked gentle, and nodded his head.

"Okay, I understand, don't worry."

Only then did Nightwhite nodded and turned to leave.

After he left, Shu Yue stepped forward and advised, "Mrs. Lu, the child is most important now, and you don't want to wait for Mr. Lu to wake up and hear any bad news, do you!"

Jenny was startled, looked up at her, and finally, nodded.

"Okay, I'll go with you."

In the ultrasound room.

Jenny lay on the cold bed, letting that cold instrument slide gently over her stomach.

The device next to the fetus showed a heartbeat, and the doctor said, "The fetus is a little unstable, and there are some signs of an early miscarriage, but it's fine, as long as you keep your emotions in check during this time and don't get too excited, you shouldn't have too many problems."

Chapter 424

Jenny was startled and listened with a complete lack of expression on his face.

It was just as the doctor was almost done examining her that she blurted out, "Doctor, you just said, how old is he?"

The doctor said, "Four and a half weeks."

Jenny thought, "Four and a half weeks, that's just over a month, so he won't be born for another eight months or so, right?"

The doctor suddenly laughed at her words, "Yeah, what? Can't wait so long to think of the baby?"

After a pause, he added, "But don't be in a hurry, it's going to have to be done slowly, and there's no use rushing you."

The tears at the corners of Jenny's eyes slipped down so silently, she barely tugged at the corners of her lips, "Okay, I know."

After finishing the ultrasound, the doctor handed her the results list and said, "I'll give you some birth control pills, remember to take them on time, and also remember to take regular pregnancy tests in the future, this can't be sloppy, Mr. Lu will definitely be lucky, he will wake up, you don't have to worry too much about him."

Seeing that she looked downcast, she sighed and advised, "Even if it's really something, at least you still have a child now, even if it's for the sake of the child, you have to be strong yourself, you know?"

Jenny lowered her head, barely quirking the corner of her lips, and nodded, "I see, thank you doctor."

Afterwards, this left.

She took that pregnancy test back to the third floor, and Biden Lu still hadn't come out.

At this time, Vicky came over as well.

Vicky had actually been in F country for the past two days, but was just dealing with other matters and didn't follow Biden Lu.

When he got the news that Biden Lu was injured, he was also shocked, his soul was scared out of his wits and immediately rushed over here.

At this point, seeing that the light above the operating room was still on, I had to ask, "How's the president?"

Since someone explained to him, "It's not out yet."

Summers frowned tightly in concern.

He turned around and saw Jenny, and although he was worried, he still went to her side to comfort her, "Madam, you don't have to worry too much, the president will definitely turn out all right."

Jenny nodded.

Vicky was sharp-eyed and immediately saw the pregnancy test in her hand.

It was a hard shock.

Is your wife pregnant?

Sometimes life is so dramatic, sooner or later you don't get pregnant, but when Biden Lu was injured, Jenny Jing also got pregnant.

He even consoled, "Madam, for the sake of the child you should also relax, if you are tired, go and rest for a while, here if the gentleman wakes up, I will immediately come to inform you."

Jenny shook his head.

"No, I want to wait for him here myself."

She used to be able to be strong no matter what was going on.

But now, looking at that red light on top of the operating room, she couldn't be strong enough to be a mess.

She was really scared, so scared, she couldn't imagine what she should do if Biden Lu really couldn't wake up?

She was the reason he was the way he was, and if it wasn't for her, none of this would have happened today.

If anything happens to him, how will she live and face the rest of her life?

Vicky looked at her silent appearance and knew that she couldn't be persuaded any further, so that's why she didn't say anything.

It took a long time before Jenny suddenly spoke out, "Vicky, I'm fine, you can go."

Vicky was stunned and immediately squared up, "I'm not leaving, how can I leave, I want to stay here and protect you!"

Jenny shook her head, "I don't need protection, go away and go help Nightwhite."

Hearing her say that, Sumeru was startled, obviously a little surprised.

Jenny continued, "I want to know why that murderer did this, all those years she and I were so close, was it all a lie to me? Is it all a game?"

Vicky was fiercely shocked and whispered, "You mean... you know the murderer?"

Jenny nodded.

She sat there for half a moment before she said, "Go help him, find that person, and when you find her, make sure you let me meet her, I want to ask her about it face to face."

Summers looked at her, still a little hesitant.

Jenny Jing added, "You can't alleviate my guilt by staying here with me, so if you really want to help me and catch the murderer earlier, I'll be grateful to you."

Vicky was slightly shocked and chanted for a moment before nodding his head.

"I understand, ma'am, and don't worry, even if you don't give an account, we'll do our best to find the killer for the sake of Boss."

Jenny nodded .

It was only then that Vicky turned to leave.

Jenny didn't say anything else, and at that moment, the lights above the operating room went out.

All of them looked shaken and ran over in a hurry.

"How is he, Doctor?"

The doctor in the white lab coat removed the mask from his face, received a towel from the nurse next to him and wiped off his sweat, saying, "Congratulations, he made it through, he's fine now, once the inside is cleared, he can be moved to the ward."

His words undoubtedly relieved everyone's fears instantly.

Everyone seemed to be heavily relieved.

Jenny's originally strong body could no longer hold on and softened.

"Jenny!"

"Sister-in-law!"

The people beside her were busy helping her, and Jenny waved her hand, "I'm fine, just help me over to sit for a while."

Everyone also knew that she was pregnant now, and had been waiting here with a strong body by breath, but now that she knew that Biden Lu was safe, she naturally needed to rest.

He even ordered someone to prepare the room and helped her to rest first.

And now, the other side.

On the Ring Road.

The woman in a black leotard stood on the rooftop, looking down at the rolling lights at her feet and coldly hooking her lips.

Twenty minutes ago, she tried to leave, only to find that all the traffic barriers throughout the city had been made and everyone was searching for her whereabouts.

And, her name is now on the wanted list as a wanted criminal.

As soon as she shows up now, she'll be caught right away.

Here, her lips quirked in silent mockery at the thought.

It was worthy of being someone Biden Lu was close friends with, the style was really the same, they were all equally ruthless.

She couldn't help but remember that late night many years ago when she tried her best to leave China and those same people stopped her.

They blocked all the traffic jams throughout Kyoto, intercepted the flight she was on, and kidnapped her back.

That night, she experienced the most incredible and painful thing in the world.

She watched as her father jumped from a tall building as high as she was standing here at the moment.

She struggled and shrieked as hard as she could, trying to grab her father's clothes, but she couldn't move.

Those people, like the devil, grabbed her body hard.

Watching a living man jump from that height and they did nothing about it!

Chapter 425

Just because their father's company was involved in an embezzlement case, they were afraid that they would be implicated.

Heh. That's what a great family is, that's what a great family is!

They live a life of supreme glory, but in their bones, they are more filthy and selfish than anyone else.

Hazumi closed her eyes and tilted her head slightly, the night breeze brushing her cheeks, as if she could still feel how the intense pain had flowed out of her chest that night.

The bone-crushing pain was like being carved into the marrow of the bones and could never be erased.

Just then, there was the sound of urgent footsteps behind him.

Her eyelashes flickered, then swished open her eyes, which had been clear.

The man's angry voice rang out, "Hazumi!"

Hazumi quirked her lips and turned her head, and sure enough, she saw Nightwhite's angry face.

Before there was any time to react, the fierce wind was already approaching.

In the next second, the man moved to her in an instant, grabbed her by the collar, and pressed her against the concrete railing with a thud.

Her brow furrowed and she grunted in pain, her entire upper body falling almost beyond the railing.

A head full of blue silk just that wind blowing in the night sky, the cold hard cement branded on her waist like it was going to cut her raw.

Yet he just raised his lips and smiled, flirtatiously, and said, "What? No more pretend cripples and no more wheelchairs? If anyone else saw this step, they'd only be scared to drop their jaws!"

Nightwhite was simply furious as he watched her smile that clouded her face.

Grabbing her by the collar, she gritted her teeth and said, "What have you done?"

Hazumi opened her eyes wide and looked innocent, "What did I do?"

"And you're playing dumb! Say! Why did you kill Biden Lu?"

His words caused the smile on Hazumi's face to slowly cool down bit by bit.

Then, with a slightly different face, and not caring, he said, "I'd love to, what? Did it interfere with the feelings of your Jin and Lu families?"

After saying that, as if thinking of something, turned around and smiled at him flirtatiously, "Night White, we haven't seen each other for a year, shouldn't we be polite to each other? At any rate, we used to share a bed..."

Before she could finish her sentence, she was shaking and a fist had smashed into the concrete railing next to her.

The man's hands became bloodied and gritted his teeth as he said, "Xiaquan! Do you know that Jenny is pregnant, it's fine for you to hate our family, but are you doing this to your good friend and sister who has always trusted you?"

Hazumi's eyelashes flickered for a moment, and she smiled coolly.

"Night White, how old are you?"

Night White was slightly stunned, then she said coldly, "You're already twenty years old, it's been eight years since you joined the dragon group, you wouldn't still be fooling yourself that she and I are really some good sisters, would you!"

To tell you the truth, I befriended her back then just because of her relationship with that guy Biden Lu, I wanted to use her to get close to Biden Lu and kill him, but one, I wasn't strong enough at that time, and two, who would have thought that she would suddenly lose her memory and never contact Biden Lu again.

Fortunately, after all these years, she got him back, and that's why I used her to kill him, do you think it was God's will?"

Night White's lips trembled, and for a moment, he gritted his teeth and said, "You mean, you've been preoccupied all these years? Just for revenge?"

Xiaquan pulled her lips together and smiled, "Not really, for one thing, it is indeed for the

To take revenge, and secondly, someone paid a high price for Biden Lu's life, I'm just taking someone's money and averting disaster for them."

After saying that, he suddenly remembered something, "Oh, right, you still don't know Biden Lu's other identity, right? Well, let me tell you, he's actually the leader of the Dragon Gang, code name X. How about that? Does that sound familiar?"

X?

Nightwhite shook hard and stared at her incredulously.

He's more than familiar with this code name!

It's almost too familiar, okay?

About seven years ago, the codename X did so many mind-boggling things that one pair of hands would be unable to count!

And now she was telling him that the man was him....

Night White looked at the woman in front of him, she smiled amorous, so beautiful, but right now looking at him, it was just like a snake and scorpion.

At that moment, however, Xiaquan's gaze was steep, and taking advantage of his distraction, he pushed his hand away with a flip of his wrist, and his entire body slid out like a loach.

That body, that movement, as if it had been practiced a thousand times, in a moment, it had retreated a few steps away.

Nightwhite only felt an empty hand and looked up at her, only to see the woman with a starry smile on her face, but there was no smile at all in those eyes, they were icy cold.

He moved his lips, and finally, huskily, he said, "So, all these years, I've been secretly helping you, and in your eyes, you just see me as a fool? Injustice?"

Hazumi sneered, "Isn't it? If it wasn't for you Jin and Lu families, my father wouldn't have died! He made a scapegoat for both of your families. What about you?"

You have imprisoned me for the sake of your own fame and interests and have forbidden me to tell the truth.

I had a hard time escaping, and you think that with the little charity you gave me, you can move me to forget all this hatred?"

Nightwhite looked at her frantic face and moved her lips, suddenly powerless for no reason.

"Heh!"

He chuckled to himself and became very sarcastic in his gaze when he looked at her again.

"Do you really think that your father took the blame for what happened back then for our two families? And not his own ill-intentioned and great mistake himself?"

Xiaquan shook fiercely.

His face changed slightly and he said urgently, "No way!"

"Why not? Back then, he used the name of the Lu family to take bribes and corruption, has he committed less mistakes? If you don't die, you'll be imprisoned for life for making such a big mess.

He didn't have the balls to choose to jump off a building, and it's the landlord's fault instead? In order to wipe his ass and close the loopholes, and you know how much Biden Lu has paid!"

Hazumi paled dramatically and shook her head.

"I don't believe it, I don't believe it!"

Nightwhite scoffed.

"Believe it or not, it's true, and if you must think that way, there's nothing I can do about it. It's just a pity that for seven years, I've been treating you as the same simple little girl you were at the beginning, I was the one who was blind, but today it's fortunate that Biden Lu is fine, if he was half bad, I would have wanted you dead!"

Afterwards, ignoring her again, she turned and strode away.

Summer Springs stood on the rooftop, the violent night lifting her long hair, her face already in tears.

As she watched the slender figure disappear at the end of the corridor, she finally managed to crouch down and sob.

"I'm sorry, I'm sorry Sebastian..."
