

Chapter 426

After Nightwhite left the building, he first went to the hospital.

It was only after learning that Biden Lu was indeed fine that he was truly relieved.

And now, inside the VIP ward.

Jenny opened her eyes, subconsciously lifted the bedding, and was about to get out of bed when the nurse stopped her.

"Miss, your fetal orientation is unstable and you need to rest more."

The nurse was about to help her lie down, but Jenny took hold of her hand and asked urgently, "Where is Biden Lu? Is he awake?"

The end of the tonic was about to come in the night white heard the words, the heart can not say the heart, the tip of the nose sore his eyes are also moist.

When she woke up, she was not the first to be concerned about herself.

Night White took a deep breath, and soon his appearance had returned to normal, he entered with a low smile and looked at Jenny, who still insisted on going out, and softly reassured.

"Big brother he's fine, he just had a major surgery, this will still be in a coma, don't worry sister-in-law, you need to get well first, so he will be relieved when he wakes up and sees that she is fine."

Jenny lowered her eyes subconsciously, her fingertips caressing her abdomen as her anxious heart gradually calmed down.

Now that she was no longer alone, all the more reason to get well, she wanted to tell him personally when he woke up that she was having his child.

Jenny's eyes were slightly curved, as if she had already thought of Biden Lu's surprised expression when she found out about this matter.

Night White saw that her mood had stabilized, so he gave the nurse a glance, indicating that she could go out first, and that she would be fine here.

After the nurse left, Night White let Jenny have some breakfast first, there were too many events that had happened recently and she had eaten little, she needed to replenish her nutrition not to mention the child.

Jenny tried to suppress her worries about Biden Lu, ate something and then wanted to go over to the ward over there to see for herself, Night White knew that he couldn't stop her, so he simply brought her over.

"I'd like to stay with him, so you guys can go out."

Jenny Jing sat quietly in front of the bed, looking at the pale face of him, his heart was even more painful, and his voice could not help but be a little hoarse as well.

"Well, we'll be right outside, so if you need anything, just let us know."

When Nightwhite and the others answered the call, they all retreated, not to be disturbed again.

Jenny held his hand, the movement was light, the fatigue from the past few days seemed to have all subsided the moment she held his hand, making her feel, safe.

She leaned down, next to his body, gently.

Lu Jing-Shen, you have to get better!

Be sure to get better, the baby and I are waiting for you.

Biden Lu woke up the next afternoon.

The evening's dim light shone in through the windows, illuminating the full room in a golden yellow.

When he opened his eyes, he saw a man sitting beside the bed, his thin back glowing warm in the golden light, his head slightly bowed as if he were peeling an apple.

She was too focused to even realize he was awake.

Eyes shifted to the side, only to find several peeled fruits already neatly arranged on the bedside table, and I wondered how long she had been sitting here peeling them.

Biden Lu's heart was warm and soft.

Jenny was born good looking and naturally looked good doing things.

A tenderness rose in his heart, lifting his hand that still had a syringe in it, his slender fingers gently holding Jenny's wrist, "Jenny."

Jenny was slightly startled.

With an almost rigid spine, he turned straight around and then saw the pale, but already awakened, Biden Lu.

Awake?

In the next second, not waiting for a reaction from the man in the hospital bed, the woman sitting in front of him pressed him into her own arms all at once: "Biden Lu."

Jenny's body was delicate, but now he was flat out hugging a big man like him.

She held him so strong.

Big – she would have loved to rub him into her bones, make him her blood, and only follow her for the rest of her life.

"...Jenny?"

"Biden Lu! Do you have any idea how scared I was, you were covered in blood...there was blood everywhere...I was really scared that you would leave me...do you have any idea how happy I was to see you alive...I....Our..."

"I know...ninging."

Biden Lu moved away from Jenny Jing's embrace and wiped the tears left on her face, either from excitement or joy, "I know all about it."

Jenny lowered her head and k*ssed Biden Lu.

She stood in front of Biden Lu, and looked into his dark eyes, solemnly, "Dear Mr. Lu, congratulations."

She said, bending down to face him.

She's so close.

Lu Jing thought deeply.

"I'm pregnant.You're going to be a dad."

A very soft voice, but it came to his ears like Tenrai.

You're going to be a dad.

-Being a father?

Biden Lu's mind went blank for a full three seconds, and three seconds later, he stopped the suddenly unprepared Jenny Jing close in his arms, his voice trembling with excitement.

"...Really?"

"Well."

"Our boy."

Biden Lu shifted his gaze to Jenny Jing's flattened belly.

"Our boy."She repeated.

There was a knock on the door outside the ward.

Biden Lu knew the visitor was Vicky just by hearing the voice.

Only then did the two of them gather themselves up, and Jenny Jing let Biden Lu untie herself, wiped the tears from her face, and turned around and opened the door of the hospital room straight away.

“Summer Springs caught it?”

Jenny led him to the hospital bed, sat up and forked a piece of apple with a toothpick and handed it to Biden Lu.

“The man caught it. But she’s emotionally unstable right now and I’ve placed her elsewhere. When she’s in a better mood...”

Vicky was hesitant.

“Bring it here.”

Biden Lu didn’t give Vicky more of a chance to hesitate.

He stared at the wound on his chest, the tenderness in his eyes disappearing a little and being replaced by a shade.

Hesitantly, Vicky sent Xiaquan into the hospital room.

Jenny was slightly stunned.

Hazumi was no longer the Hazumi she remembered.

Xiaquan’s former beauty and nobility have vanished, and her cape has been spread out, like a vicious wolf that has been tied up, staring fiercely at Biden Lu who is sitting on the hospital bed with a calm look – her whole body is trembling.

“Xia...” Jenny was just about to speak.

“Mr. Lu...you have a great life.”

Xiaquan tilted her head, with a bit of sarcasm at the end of her words.

Jenny turned her head to look at Biden Lu.

Seeing that Biden Lu looked at ease, she shifted her gaze to Xia Quan again.

"Biden Lu! People like you, who wear suits and dresses all day long and talk about morality and righteousness, but you're doing things that kill people for money and don't care about human lives! You'll do anything for money and power!

Hahaha... I'm telling you, sooner or later, you'll pay for what you did before!"

The emotions that had been pent up for so long exploded in an instant, and around how self-effacing and graceful Hazumi had once been, she was now accused of seven years of resentment, screaming like a madman.

The formerly close and dear friend is nowhere to be found, and now the woman before her, wretched and pitiful, can no longer be found in Summer Springs.

Chapter 427

Jenny's heart was very unpleasant.

She looked at her, and the thrill of vengeance that should have been there, instead, was now not rising.

"And you... Jenny!"

Suddenly, she reached out and pointed at Jenny's nose, grimly saying, "Do you think I still care about you? You're just a pawn for me to get closer to Lu.

Silly woman! But don't think too highly of yourself, a woman like you would be nothing without the Lu family!

My father's gone, and I'm your prisoner again! You are forbidden to let any news of your disrepute spread, and you enjoy the adoration and admiration of millions from above, but... but what about me! I have nothing left!"

She suddenly covered her face and cried bitterly.

Jenny looked at her suddenly seizure and crying appearance, unable to believe that she was the sweet and lovely little girl who had accompanied her all those years.

The hatred between Xiaquan and the Lu family was something she didn't know before.

It was also after this incident, after Vicky's investigation, that he gradually understood some of it.

This time she came to the F country with Biden Lu, and her seeking help from Xia Quan was undoubtedly a sheep in the tiger's mouth.

Sometimes she didn't even dare to think that if her knife had been a little more accurate that night....

She really didn't dare think about it.

Jenny was silent for a while, her hand had been held by Biden Lu, and after half a moment, she sighed, "Xiaquan, if Biden Lu didn't want the things that happened back then to come out, why did he only imprison you, leaving such a big hidden danger by his side?

You are aware of his methods, he can certainly make you die quietly, so why leave a bitter and hateful Hazumi in the world to threaten him."

Hazumi didn't speak.

Vicky saw the situation, went forward to help her paralyzed on the ground, Xia Quan's did not struggle, by him to help himself up.

"Do you want to know exactly why your father died?" Jenny Jing looked at her, indifferent.

Hazumi didn't respond.

In fact, all that should be known, she also knew almost everything from the mouth of Night White.

Just don't want to believe it.

But Jenny had no intention of letting her go, her tone was soft and slow, but there was some direct power to the heart.

"Your father is to blame, and his death is nothing more than a payment for his own actions."

Hazumi was ruthless!

She looked up and looked at Jenny, her eyes somewhat fierce.

"I don't believe it, you're just like Nightwhite! You're all liars! I don't believe a word you're saying! My father didn't have to die in the first place, he-!"

"He took bribes and committed suicide in fear of his crimes."

The sudden sound of a steady male voice completely shattered her illusions.

Biden Lu has never learned how to show mercy to others in his life, he is used to pride, so he cannot tolerate any cunning.

Not to mention the Summer Springs in front of him.

His voice was cold in the extreme, yet the authority of his years in power made it compelling to believe that what he said was true.

Jenny Jing looked at Xiaquan, her beautiful brows knitted imperceptibly.

The girl in front of them was no longer innocent and cute, there was only hatred and use for them.

While she knew that it wasn't easy to lose her father, that didn't mean that the other side could use her in any way they wanted.

Hazumi was startled and half-stunned before dropping to sit down.

The voice was so soft that it seemed to float from a great distance.

“So... what Nightwhite said was true?”

She seemed to ask herself a question and then shook her head violently, “No, I don’t believe it!”

She had actually believed most of what Nightwhite had said, but she didn’t dare admit it.

She is afraid of the people she hates, but has never done anything to make her hate them, and all her premeditations are really a joke.

Harming her and Yubai could never be together again, never be able to reconcile with Jenny again.

She is dominated by so-called hatred and kept in the dark, like a marionette, but everything is just her own self-righteousness.

And she, and they, could never go back.

Perhaps from the moment she had first made up her mind to avenge her father’s death, she, and they, really couldn’t go back.

Jenny Jing didn’t say anything else as he watched her lose her mind.

After a glance with Biden Lu, they let Vicky bring the people down.

Vicky naturally did as he was told.

For the next few days, Xiaquan was housed in one of Biden Lu’s villas in F country.

Biden Lu had sent a few people to guard her, thinking she would resist, but she seemed to have resigned herself to her fate and didn’t bother to go out.

I lock myself in my room all day and don't eat much.

But after experiencing her injuring Biden Lu, Jenny Jing had a layer of separation in his heart towards her.

Thinking maybe it would be good to leave her alone for a while, I ignored it.

She had been living in the hospital during this time, which was convenient for taking care of the baby anytime she gave birth, while taking care of Biden Lu.

Today, Biden Lu had just gone to bed, and I don't know if she was pregnant or if she was too tired from taking care of Biden Lu, but she was also feeling groggy, so she wanted to go back and rest.

Unexpectedly, the phone rang as soon as I stepped out of the room.

A call alert turned out to be from Nina Hua.

The news that Lu Jing was seriously injured by the assassination, since the Jin family knew about it, there was no way that Kepler would not know about it.

Jenny and Nina Hua were best friends, and it was only natural that when Kepler knew the news, he couldn't not tell Nina Hua.

Thus, after Jenny got on the phone, she listened to Nina Hua anxiously asking her about the situation on the other side.

She couldn't help but smile, her heart was a little warm, and said, "It's out of danger, it's still stable, nothing serious, you don't have to worry."

Nina Hua snorted lightly.

"What am I worried about him doing? It's you I'm worried about, how are you?"

"Me?" Jenny paused for a moment, a smile pursing her lips as she said softly, "Yao Yao, I have to tell you some good news."

"What?"

"I'm pregnant."

The other side was quiet for several full seconds.

Immediately, a woman's excited scream was heard.

"Ahhhhh... so I get to be a godmother again?"

Jenny smiled, "Yeah, so remember to prepare a red envelope, I won't do it if it's less than."

In the past, Jenny had been thinking that An'an was still young and the two of them were so busy, so they could start without rushing to have a child.

But after experiencing the incident of Biden Lu's injury, she suddenly realized that sometimes there is no such thing as a good or bad time.

If you want it in the moment, that's the best time to do it.

Thus, as she lowered her head to stroke her belly, the sweet feeling of joy grew deeper.

"Yao Yao, I'll talk to you in detail after I finish this side of things and come back."

"Well, you'll be safe there, too."

"Well."

Jenny Jing was about to hang up the phone, but unexpectedly Nina Hua added, "Right, Kepler went back yesterday and should have arrived in F country today, if you have anything that is inconvenient for the old lady Jin family and the others, you can look for Kepler directly."

Chapter 428

Jenny was slightly startled.

Nina Hua said again, "Jenny, you are a mother now, don't try to be strong, he at least has the Jin family behind him, which is considered a local snake.

Even if for nothing else for my sake, he will help you, and you should never stop asking him for help because you had a problem with him in the past."

Jenny's heart flowed like warmth as he listened to her concerned words.

The fingers holding the phone tightened slightly, then, nodded heavily.

"Well, I know that, don't worry."

Nina Hua was relieved.

After hanging up the phone, Jenny remembered that in the morning, Biden Lu said he wanted to eat Chinese food from a restaurant.

The last few days in the hospital had been tiring for both of their tastes, she thought, and seeing that it was still early, she was going out to buy some.

Originally, Vicky was going to say that she should rest and go by herself, but Jenny was already too busy to pull away considering he had to deal with many things, so there was no need to trouble him with such a small matter.

Besides, the place wasn't far, just ten minutes away.

Vicky saw the situation, so he didn't insist.

The good news was that they had already informed Mo Nan, who was expected to arrive in the afternoon, so they would be able to take care of Jenny Jing personally and wouldn't have to worry about that anymore.

Jenny left the hospital and raised his hand to beckon a car.

Once in the car, I gave my address.

However, after sitting in the car for a few minutes, something suddenly felt wrong.

A pungent smell hit her and she was startled, trying to react, yet her consciousness was suddenly confused.

It didn't take long for it to go limp.

Other side.

Ken's headquarters.

Kepler arrived in the morning.

Instead of going back to Ken's house, he went straight to the office.

At this point, the conference room.

It is already 12:00 noon, but the top management of the consortium has not yet finished work, the board of directors today is rarely gathered together, even the old lady, who usually rarely appears, is also there, sitting in the chairman's seat, with a cold expression on her face.

In the middle of the table, there was a mobile phone on speakerphone, and a man's roar came out clearly from it.

"Even if I were stupid and dumb, I wouldn't be stupid enough to take a billion dollars to fall into someone else's trap! Who do you think I am, Jin Yuan? Rubbish? Unjust?"

"That fu*king money was taken and lost by Zhou Wenzhong himself, if you want to find it, go to Zhou Wenzhong!"

"If he doesn't spit out the money, then send him to jail! Oh, yeah, he's got three mistresses. You can't find the money, can you?"

"Go find it at that little lover's place, he takes at least tens of millions to give to them every year, and even if one can't make it up, three can always make it up!"

Jin Yuan's angry voice made all the top directors in the conference room look at each other, while Jin Hong, who was sitting at the bottom left, had already turned pale.

Jin Yuan is a side branch of the Jin family. Because his parents died young, he was raised by the old lady and is considered to be a member of the direct line next to the side.

But his usual style is not very good, dude is not very reliable, so Jin Hong wants to plant the billion dollar deficit on him.

Unexpectedly, Kepler came up with this method and confronted him to his face.

Thinking of this, Jin Hong's face became increasingly ugly.

"Heh!" Kepler sneered, the only voice in the entire office except Jin Yuan's.

Other than that, it was so quiet that you could hear a pin drop on the floor.

"So

Say, is this money really taken by the aunt?"

"Aunt Shit! What kind of auntie would trap his own nephew like that? He thinks I'm a descendant of the Jin family and can do whatever he wants, right?"

This is our fu*king money, this is not his money! He used it to gamble with women and then threw it all over me! He thinks he's the King of Heaven, doesn't he?"

Kepler coldly hooked his lips and didn't answer.

"Brother, I was wrong, what happened in the past was all impulsive, I know you have forgiven me, otherwise you wouldn't have arranged such a good position for me in the country.

Just relax! I will do well over here, and when I make my mark, I will impress you."

Kepler nodded deeply, that look, that look, but it really resembled a loving older brother.

"Okay, that's it then, I've got work to do over here, hang on."

"Well, it's good that you believe in me, brother, so you're busy, bye."

Kepler hung up the phone.

Turning his head, he looked across at Jin Hong with cold eyes.

The old lady's face was completely cold at this point, and with a strong pressure she said in a deep voice, "Ah Hong, what's going on?"

Jin Hong's face was white, and her voice trembled slightly, "I, I don't know."

No matter how much Zhou Wenzhong was her husband, it was actually impossible for her not to know about this.

Only it must not be admitted in front of so many people on the board.

Otherwise, even if the old lady wanted to keep her, she wouldn't be able to.

However...

"You would not know the good things your husband does!"

The old lady suddenly became angry and slapped the table, so angry that the muscles in her entire face shook.

Kepler faintly raised his eyebrows.

The directors at the conference table all came forward to offer their condolences, but that condolence contained somewhat of a gloating element.

The Jin family has prospered and eventful for so many years, but now that this has happened, how can they be unhappy that their aunt has framed their nephew and the family is fighting for their lives?

Make a scene! The bigger the trouble, the better, preferably until the Jin family is scattered, so they have a chance to sit on the big one.

"That husband of yours, Zhou Wenzhong, you think I don't know how many little acts he's done behind my back over the years? But because he is Yun Yun's own father, the merits and demerits are compared, so I don't bother, it's also all about your face, normally I would just turn a blind eye and ignore the small favors, but now it's good!"

"One billion! He took it when he said he would. Good! Even if we don't pursue the 1 billion, you shouldn't have put the wrong idea into Jin Yuan's head!"

Jin Yuan is the son and grandson of our Jin family, and will be Kepler's right hand man in the future! Do you know how much of a stain you've brought on him by doing this? How are you going to let him run the consortium from now on? How do you convince people?"

Jin Hong's face was getting whiter and whiter, indeed, she really hadn't thought about it that much before.

She grew up without a father and was raised by her brother and mother, so she always did things on her own.

She married Zhou Wenzhong because she liked him, and even though her mother disagreed with her, she let her do it in the end.

When Zhou Wenzhong initially said that he wanted Jin Hong to take the blame, she didn't agree, but then couldn't stand his pleading.

Thinking that although Jin Yuan was a member of the Jin family, he had never been very close to his aunt.

After all, he is the son and grandson of the Jin family, and he may have a share in the group after being raised under the old lady's name.

Even if the east window is broken, the worst that can be done is to be criticized by the old lady for a few nonsenses, it will be over but did not expect these.
