

Chapter 431: The gospel is framing me

Sennheiser Building, top floor office.

Hearing the sound of the oak door pushing open, Qinna, who was talking with the head of the listening department, turned her head, and saw her sister with a deep face stepping in with high-heeled boots.

“Captain Nona.” Listening to the minister’s slightly chin hello, Nona nodded and stood calmly behind Qinna.

“That’s it, put aside the listening plan for more than three years for now, and change your decision-making preference from “future risk-based” to “stable now.” You make a statistical report on the number, realm, and magical factions of the entire clan. The focus is Prioritize their training.”

When Minister Listening left the room, Qinna stood up and looked at the white misty city below. The elven patriarch’s eyes seemed to be watching Van Mula’s future, and his pensive lips seemed to be considering the safety of the family.

“Nona, come here.”

Nona didn’t know, so she walked over, and Qinna slapped her * severely. The indifferent and quiet deputy captain trembled all over and screamed ‘Huh.’

“I know now that you like to slap your butt, just like a female cat...” Qin Na chuckled softly.

Nona slammed Jinna onto the chair and stared at her sister seriously and indifferently. It is a pity that her white porcelain-like face is faintly blushing, which makes her deterrence stay at the level of the little female cat's frying hair.

"What's the matter with the list?"

"Didn't we discuss it before? The gospel judgement was wrong." Qin Na said calmly: "An Nan and her foreigners are variables that the gospel cannot accurately predict. After An Nan's deliberate interference, the gospel is far away. Overestimating their potential and future..."

"I'm asking why you and I on the list will serve Ashoka Heath together!"

"For the same reason as "Family List", Ya Xiu's evil taste..."

"It's not the same." Nona said: "In the family list, we have all become necromantic creatures. At that time, our minds were distorted. It's no surprise. But in the happiness list, I and you are very sober!"

"It's also mentioned in the happiness list. As the happiest patriarch, I was forced by Ya Xiu." Qin Na paused, and suddenly gritted his teeth and said, "Damn Ya Xiu, he must have threatened me with his family. I have to indulge Fan Xian to him. I can't wait to take him back and put him in a small black room to torment him day and night... But his future is the source of chaos, the undead demon, and his strength must be far beyond the sanctuary. In order to protect the family, the gospel thinks me. It's reasonable to be able to endure the humiliation and greet each other."

"Really?" Nona said coldly: "But I feel that you in the image seem to have no reluctance."

"Axiu is Rust Crow's companion, and Rust Crow is a powerful psychic. In order to protect the family, I must conceal my killing intent, and even pretend to enjoy pleasure, otherwise how can I hide from this natural disaster demon lord!" Na talked and sighed: "I really paid too much for the reproduction of the family, but since I am the patriarch, I have to take responsibility."

"What about me!" Nona said, "Why am I here?"

“This shows that Asia is full of evil, and it is not enough to get me by despicable means. He actually wants to get involved with you...”

“But the question is why am I willing to look in the video!?”

Qin Na quietly looked at her blushing sister, and said: “Nona, you should reflect on it, you actually want to * your niece’s man...”

Nona smiled with anger: “Qinna, you still want to rely on me? Since you came back to be the patriarch, I have been your clone! I mean when I was in Beldette Manor, how could I be Ah Xiu had a good feeling, it turned out that your feelings spilled over to me!”

The patriarch of the six heraldic patriarchs will have several clan clones to ensure that the patriarch can inherit the authority of the family after the patriarch’s sudden death. When the white mist changed, Qinna was trapped in a dream, and Qinna’s avatar in Nona’s soul was activated, allowing her sister to act with her sister’s body temporarily.

The conditions of this insurance mechanism are harsh. After all, the clone magic spirit may usurp the will of the host, so both parties must be entrusted wholeheartedly. However, trust has never been a problem in the six-herald family.

But even so, the clone Shuling still has side effects on the host, such as emotional leaks. For example, the relationship between the subject and the avatar is like a wine glass tower. Normally, it has no effect, but if the emotion of the subject’s wine glass overflows, it will drip to the avatar wine glass below.

“Can’t it be your own heart?” Qin Na strongly argued: “Don’t blame me for everything!”

“I have been indifferent all my life, but why do I care about An Nan so much?” Nona said, “Don’t blame you who blame it?”

“Leave aside this,” Qin Na said, “The main point now is that there is a big problem with the gospel.”

When she heard her sister talk about business matters, Nona could only suppress the anger in her heart, nodded and said: "Update in advance, it is really a change that has not been seen in a thousand years. And I have seen the information of Ya Xiu and the others, which is very different from the content of the list. , If I guessed right..."

"The gospel, I can't compile it." Qin Na motioned to her sister to sit down opposite: "Our strategy of using the gospel must also be changed. Nona, you go to assist the listening department these days and spend our gospel points as much as possible. "

"No problem... Huh!"

"Gospel, I can't make it up."

An Nan said: "That's why it will smash everything directly with your meteorites."

"Can't make it up?" A Xiu and Liz were a little at a loss: "What do you mean?"

"It can't weave a real future." Igola said: "So just use our false futures instead."

"Since it comes to drama, use drama as a metaphor," An Nan said: "If the gospel is an author, then the weaving ceremony is his carefully compiled work. Before writing, it often takes 50 years to accumulate materials. , And then write it out in one go in 100 days."

"Is it available?" Ya Xiu guessed.

"How can an author who has been updated until the deadline for hundreds of years have been updated?" An Nan smiled and said, "Although I don't know the reason, it is definitely not a normal update. This time, the "Happy List" "It's definitely a product of haste."

“If you are the writer, you have just written 40%, but the editor suddenly wants you to submit the manuscript immediately, how would you solve it?”

“I will fix the editing.” Ash said, “The gospel is not an ordinary person. Does it have an editor?”

“Daddy, you are stupid, there are angels and gods on the gospel!” Liz reacted: “So in order to hand over the manuscript, the gospel was filled with scribbles and the remaining 60%?”

“Almost, but the gospel is not scribble.”

An Nan spread his hands, with a complicated expression: “The gospel has used you.”

“You are people from a foreign land, the gospel does not know your past, so you have infinite possibilities, and this is your capital for deceiving the gospel. But because of the “infinite possibilities”, you are the best in the gospel... how do you say, A perfunctory side story for readers?”

“Under normal circumstances, if the gospel wants to weave the “true future”, it needs to use all the information in the past to figure out the future, bit by bit. This is why the gospel is updated until the last second—one extra second of speculation. The accuracy is one point higher.”

“Therefore, even if the gospel is updated in advance, it is impossible. If it does not have enough time to speculate on the future of our evangelists, it is impossible to speculate. As a miracle that predicts the future, it may not be accurate enough, but it will never take the initiative to make mistakes.”

“But if you are from a foreign land, it is different—because of your “infinite possibilities”, the gospel can allow itself to predict you vaguely! Even if its prediction for you is distorted, it is just not accurate enough, and it is not a mistake!”

When Ah Xiu heard this, he understood completely.

“In other words,” Ash rubbed Liz’s dog head and said calmly: “The author of the gospel needs to be updated in advance, but it cannot write about your gospel people. After all, the gospel people are the mainline characters. I also understand that people will collapse.”

“However, we are not the same. We are a new character who enters in midway. No matter what plot we play is reasonable, so the gospel just writes our plot to fill in the update!”

“Wait,” Harvey said bluntly as he chewed, “Blind writing is not random writing, our character is very different from that in “Happiness List”!”

“Because the gospel is not based on our personality to deduce the future.” Igula swiped his fingers along the side of the wine glass, and said calmly: “Compared to the evangelists, our future may be more difficult to deduce... It is to draw the target first. Archery, first preset a template of “Happiness List”, and then fill us in, so there is a weird plot like I gave birth to a daughter and Harvey pinched a wife.”

“Actually I think Léa is pretty good too...” Ash muttered, but when he saw Liz staring over murderously, he immediately said solemnly: “The gospel is too irresponsible. Why go out to meet people!”

Harvey took a full sip of the broth and reminded: “Even if there is no “Happiness List”, if you go out now, Ya Xiu is also the source of disaster, the master of the disaster and the wanted criminal...”

“The Gospel is a good documentary writer, but not a good fantasy writer. All the content shown in “The Happiness List” can be regarded as a third-rate novel plot written by the Gospel drunk and brazen,” Igola said: “It’s all is fake.”

“Hey, are all fake?” Ya Xiu’s tone sounded a bit regretful. UU reading www.uukanshu.com

Liz recalled the picture of No. 1 on the happiness list, looked down at the hand mirror, and her voice was low and inaudible: “It may not be all fake...”

“Although it is false, the gospel must first see some signs before making the second creation.” An Nan stared at Ash: “For example, Igola and Anfil did almost become husband and wife. For example, Harvey did have creation. The power of the necromancer bride, so...”

“Axiu, why does the gospel think you are related to Qinna and Nona?”

“Yes, why!” Liz immediately raised her head to attack.

A drop of dust from the gospel fell on Ash’s head and it was a mountain.

Ah Xiu said firmly: “The gospel is framing me.”

An Nan: “Why did you lick Qinna’s face? This is definitely not your usual action. I haven’t seen you lick Liz. What is the basis for the gospel to derive such a plot?”

Ash gritted his teeth and said, “The gospel is setting me up!”

An Nan: “Why did you sleep with Qinna Nona? And you actually let Nona give you—”

Ah Xiu knelt down completely: “This is really the gospel that is setting me up!”

Conscience of Heaven and Earth, Asia Xiuzhen had never thought of Nuona. This was obviously the second reprocessing of the Gospel based on the synthetic video data sold to him by Falin!

Just when Asia was defeated like a mountain, Panji suddenly said: “Since everything in the “Happiness List” is traceable, then...”

“Why did Igola’s daughter Lya urge Ya Xiu to have a baby with Aunt An Nan?”

Everyone looked at the purple moth.

Now the pressure came to An Nan’s side.

Chapter 432: The Gospel is in the mix update

“Axiu is to blame!”

In the main house of Beldit, Earlene stomped angrily after reading the list: “If it weren’t for Ashley to disrupt the game, we would get two list rewards this time!”

Léa has no shadow now, and the rewards must be given to her parents Anfil and Igola; and Earlene herself is also on the list as the “happiest businessman”, so Berdette is really on the “Happiness List”. Li had a bumper harvest and was on the list twice in a row.

However, because of the appearance of Ya Xiu, the list is invalid and the reward is scrapped!

For Ealin, this is even more irritating than her being accepted as a harem by Ash in the list-she has lost two rewards! When not making a decision, Falyin is actually a very conscientious person. Other family heads must care more about the list information than rewards, but Falyin never forgets rewards.

After all, for her, everything she had was brought by Beldette, and she didn’t have the least things that belonged to her. This was also the reason why she ran away from home when she was young, eager for true love. Now that the Gospel actually recognizes her personal worth, she almost got the reward ‘exclusive to her’, but was gone because of Ash, so it’s strange that she didn’t get angry.

“No, I want to dominate Igula and let him turn Asia over!” Falrin sat on the table and sulked: “When the time comes, you will be in charge of Igola, and I will be in charge of Asia. You must squeeze the reward back!”

Anfil took a strange look at Falyin—the elder sister paid too much attention to Ya Xiu, and Ya Xiu was not a debtor, and theoretically would not enter the decision-making factors of her sister. Speaking of it, although my sister wants to pursue ordinary love, she still likes the drama of the domineering president. However, the most domineering president in the gospel is herself...

“Sister Falyin, the reason why our list is invalid and rewards scrapped is actually not related to Asia Xiu.”

“Huh?” Falin tilted her head: “How come it has nothing to do with him? If he hadn’t charmed me, how could I lose the term happiest businessman?”

Anfil said: “If you think about it, Ah Xiu is just an influencing factor, or he is just a reason. It’s like I can only give you advice, but the real decision-making is your sister Ehalin.”

Eharyn blinked: “You mean...”

“Ash Heath is just a fig leaf for the gospel.”

.....

“But even if the gospel writes that our people should destroy colleagues, why do I always mess into other people’s stories as the source of all evil?”

Ah Xiu asked puzzledly: “And ten times in a row-in its story line, I actually became an anti-gospel chaos. Anyone on the “Happiness List” will be changed by me, and then lead to The ranking is invalid... Why don’t I go back and sleep with my wife when I am so free?”

“Axiu, aren’t you a chaosist?” Harvey cut a small piece of lamb into his mouth, and asked curiously, “I haven’t seen you do anything good in order.”

Ya Xiu wanted to give a serious example to refute the necromancer, but he recalled a little bit of the good things he had done: escape from prison, smuggling, deceiving the gospel, wanted to escape...not to mention that he had just led a legion in the virtual world. war.

The title of Source of Disaster, think about it, is really correct!

“I adopted Liz, isn’t this a good thing for order!” A Xiu raised Liz, and Liz nodded again and again.

Harvey was in a daze for a while—wasn't Liz seeing Ya Xiu as her scapegoat when she saw that Ya Xiu was bullied? Did he remember it wrong, or did Ya Xiu and Liz start revising the history books?

"Axiu, you said the opposite." Igola took a sip of hot milk and said, "It is the gospel that requires you to be the source of all evil, so you can write stories about people around you."

"What do you mean?" A Xiu looked dazed, rubbing Lisy's white-haired dog's head to ease the tension in his heart: "Have I insulted the gospel? Why does it retaliate against me like this?"

"Speaking of it, I don't seem to explain why you are meteorites."

An Nan flicked her earrings and said: "The significance of a meteorite is that it can destroy all characters and cause the story to end immediately—for the updated gospel, the end is exactly what it needs."

"Actually, you can see from the list that the gospel actually has a lot of 'original content' – in addition to Léa and Harvey's wives, Daphne, Clios, Falin, and Qinna are all born gospels. People, so the deduction of the gospel to them cannot be messy."

"But," Annan paused: "The gospel only deduced a little bit for their future, and there is not enough time to continue the deduction, what should we do? At this time, we need meteorites to destroy them and directly end their plot."

"Axiu, Igola, Harvey, you are the meteorite."

"As long as you enter their lives indiscriminately and wantonly destroy their destiny, the gospel does not need to weave their future, and the list is therefore invalid. As for why you will do this in the future..."

"Because we have 'infinite possibilities.'" "Axiu said bitterly, "Gospel, this is toilet paper for us to wipe our buttocks!" "

If the gospel is really an author, Ashiu would want to rush to the door and point to it and curse: It is better for you to make a judgment than to produce this kind of literary rubbish! In order to catch up with the update, you actually suppressed this kind of garbage plot, are you worthy of the readers? RNM, refund!

The current situation is: In order to update the gospel in advance, a paragraph "Suddenly a meteorite smashed down and wiped out all the characters" was added in the middle of the plot, and it was submitted for publication.

As for why the meteorite smashed down, it is actually the grass snake gray line that has a thousand miles of veins: because this meteorite is from a foreign land, although he currently looks like an ordinary foreign worker meteorite, it does not rule out that he grows into a demon king. The probability of a meteorite, even if the probability is only 1%.

The gospel is easy to write like this, but has it considered the feeling of a meteorite! ?

"I can understand the meteorite," Harvey said while eating mashed potatoes, "but why does the gospel invalidate the ranking?"

"Because the ranking is really invalid." Igola said: "Not only the plot of Ashiu's chaotic entry was fabricated, even those on the list were fabricated-they were only related to Ashion, so the gospel made their In the future, it will be added to the list, so that Ya Xiu's interference will become more logical."

"So the Gospel must deny their rankings. If it were the real "Happiness List", they would not be on the list at all!"

An Nan shook his head: "Not necessarily. I think the ranking of 10th place should be valid, but it is only 10th. After all, you don't know Daphne and her brother...just to implement Ashiu's "destructive characteristics". , So the happiest wedding can only be funeral."

"As for the rankings that follow, they should all be placed in order to allow Ya Xiu to get out of the place. After all, most of the people in it know Ya Xiu, and it can't be a coincidence at all."

It's hard, it's hard, and Ya Xiu's blood vessels are hard to hear!

The gospel routine is deep, I want to go back to the blood moon!

With Ashiu's perfect reason to wipe his butt, even though a garbage chapter was updated in the gospel, it can shirk all the responsibility on Ash, and it can also veto these plots, when nothing happened!

Even without sacrificing the accuracy of the knitting ceremony!

In this way, the gospel was updated once, and the readers watched the hydrology once, and only the wounded world of Ash was born.

The living room was quiet for a while, and everyone was thinking about the changes brought about by the gospel, until Panji said, "Let's have dinner, the broth is almost cold."

Everyone then remembered that they were eating, but the rhythm was suddenly interrupted by the "Happiness List".

Ah Xiu turned his head and saw that Harvey had eaten a small portion of the food without knowing it—he had been a beast and horse on the construction site for a day without using the power of a machinist, and he was too hungry for a long time.

"Uncle Harvey, don't eat anymore, okay, I don't have enough to eat!"

"Panji butler, help me serve a bowl of soup, thank you."

"The lamb is very tender and fragrant, and your substitute, Ya Xiu, is really good at cooking."

"Yeah!" Liz choked on eating too fast and eagerly because she was fighting with Harvey for food. Ah Xiu couldn't help laughing, and helped her pat her back to feed the soup.

After drinking and eating, Ya Xiu suddenly felt that although the "Happiness List" was a little grassy, it seemed to have little effect on him. Just as Harvey said, even if his reputation is not infamous, at least it is still a stigma, and he doesn't owe the bonuses at all.

As long as I have enough waste, no one can use me!

What "Happiness List", it is important for him not to have enough food~www.mtlnovel.com~ until Igola suddenly broke the warmth: "Miss, you seem to be very happy."

Everyone looked at An Nan and found that the corners of the purple moth's mouth stained with black pepper juice were indeed slightly upturned. An Nan was startled and smiled: "Because I have been working all day and the dinner is so delicious, I can't help but feel a little happy."

"Really." The fraudster lowered his eyelids: "I thought the reason you were happy was that the list was invalid."

Ah?

The cloven-hoofed eyes such as Yaxiu, Harvey, and Liz were at a loss-why the list is invalid and An Nan will be happy?

However, An Nan sighed at this moment and said, "Actually, I'm not sure yet, and I didn't deliberately conceal it. Igola, you are really too suspicious."

"If you want me to give you 100% trust, then you have to be as stupid as Ah Xiu." Igola said lightly.

"Well, can you stop the persecution of me first." Ah Xiu said, "What are you talking about?"

"Since the gospel is rushing to end the knitting ceremony, this means that this 'list is invalid' situation will still occur, and even the next six lists may all be invalid." Igola said: "This way, the real effect There are only the first three lists."

"The winner of the wish of God Lord will only be selected from the first three lists."

Ya Xiu and Lisi were slightly startled, and immediately stared at An Nan!

They recalled the first three lists of the funeral agency in their minds.

No. 1 in “Art List”, An Nan Duolan.

No. 1 in the “Family List”, Archibald Harvey.

No. 1 in the “Trick List”, Igula Borkin, and... No. 10, Annan Dolan!

In the funeral office, only An Nan has two rankings!

Chapter 433: The final list

In An Nan’s plan, competing for the rankings is just a means, and their ultimate goal has always been the wish of the gods.

The great omniscient weaver personally fulfilled the wishes of the wishers.

Even outsiders like Asia, Ikola, and Harvey who don’t have much respect for the All-Knowing Weaver, dare not despise the weight of this wish.

Perhaps the gods must have their limits, but for mortals, these gods who control the kingdom are no different from omnipotence—just like the ant exhausts his own imagination, and only wishes to have a bigger and stronger body and gain sweeter and more delicious delicacy, based on the insights of Ash and others, they are not allowed to make a wish that exceeds the limit of the god’s ability.

They certainly know that the * master is just a higher form of the magician’s sublimation, and since there are multiple * masters, different * masters should also have different focuses, and it is impossible to truly know everything, just like a magician will have a major magical faction. .

However, even if a magician is only proficient in one school of magic, he can still use one magic to mirror all kinds of magic. As far as Yaxiu mastered, swordsmanship can kill negative states (cut me), teleport (run), and defense (sword barriers). In the future, even if swordsmanship can cut chemical bonds to guide nuclear energy, Yaxiu will not be surprised.

What's more, in the long years, the * masters can be proficient in most of the magic factions even if they are grinding, and the miracles and miracles they master are not mere mortals can imagine. It took so many years for Rust Crow to resurrect a person, but in the Time Continent, the resurrection service of the gods is clearly marked and provided to the commanders of the souls.

The most outrageous request that a mortal can make is just to "let me become the lord of the gods", but the omniscience weaver is not the kind of artificial mental retardation of the gospel, and I am afraid that it will not turn you into the lord of the gods (the new breed he created) ', in addition to fulfilling your wish, enrich the recipes of the Gospel Kingdom.

But to the next level, wishing to be an angel, resurrecting others, ruling the gospel, and unlimited gospel points should not be a big problem. Therefore, even if all the desires cannot be satisfied, all the problems can be solved at least if the desire of the * is obtained.

In An Nan's original plan, the process of obtaining the Lord's wish was as follows: People from other lands strive for future rankings as much as possible, and those with the highest ranking and the highest weight should be able to obtain the Lord's wish first.

This is also the reason why An Nan did not let go and must sign a slave contract with them: if they did not have absolute control over them, if they got the wish of the god, An Nan would not be able to get it back from them!

And now, the respondent with the most ranking and the highest weight is actually An Nan himself!

No middleman makes the difference!

Ya Xiu let out a suffocating breath and glanced at Liz: "That's fine."

Liz's eyes flickered, she just lowered her head to eat the grilled lamb chops, and didn't say anything, but Ya Xiu knew it was not that simple—he didn't forget that Liz wanted to conspire with him to seize the Lord's wish on the first night.

Now, of course, Ah Xiu doesn't think that Liz is a lost girl picked up by the Four Pillars. Although he doesn't think Liz can really seize the wish of the * from them, but if there is less, there is less.

Moreover, his relationship with An Nan has also been advancing by leaps and bounds recently, so Ya Xiu knew very well that An Nan would never let go. As greedy and crazy spokespersons, Igola and Harvey have been around for a long time.

Even Ya Xiu himself could hardly resist this temptation. Wandering in an unfamiliar place, and the fate of drifting in turmoil, Ah Xiu, who has nothing, doesn't want to have a happy dream?

Don't test humanity, let alone test your own humanity, otherwise you are the abyss and you are the evil dragon.

They can still work together now and enjoy dinner happily, but once the end is near, how wonderful the cooperation is now and how cruel the betrayal in the future will be.

This blasphemy that started with deception will surely end with deception.

Therefore, even though Ya Xiu was a little disappointed when he heard that An Nan had won the quota, he was more relieved.

If the quota is in the hands of Ah Xiu and others, they may still have a chance to resist; but the place is in An Nan's hands, and Ah Xiu and the others have no hope of taking it away—they are still 100% slaves to An Nan.

Harvey ate the cream sauce on the plate with a bread paddle, and didn't seem to care that An Nan locked in the victory in advance; Igola's gaze hovered between Ash and Liz, lowering his eyelids in contemplation.

"If I can really get the Lord's wish, I will keep our initial promise and will definitely help fulfill your wish." An Nan said earnestly, "Harvey, I will help you obtain the inheritance of the necromantic angel, and also Provide you with sufficient resources."

“Igola, if you want money, I will give it to you, and if you want freedom, I will give it to you. On the day the contract ends, you can choose your own life.”

“Axiu, Liz,” An Nan looked at them, “Trust me, I will make you happy.”

Ah Xiu blinked—how did the line of Liz and I become weird? Is it taking care of Liz’s language skills?

“I don’t know if the 30-odd days are enough for you to see me clearly, but I can only use pale language to make this guarantee: I will never let you down.” The purple moth paused: “As long as I am Successfully won the wish of God Lord.”

Igola heard the subtext of the eldest lady: “Do you still have competitors?”

“Assuming that all future lists are voided, then I am indeed the first responder.” An Nan said: “But the problem is that the last list will never be voided.”

“Not only will it not be invalidated, the first place on this list has been determined before the weaving ceremony began.”

Liz came over to look for Ashura to act like a baby after she had eaten. Ash wiped her mouth with a handkerchief. UU Read www.uukanshu.com asked in confusion, “But that’s only the number one, and you have 1+. 10 Ah.”

“But what if I say that the Lord’s wish of the past ten weaving festivals has always been the first place?”

People out of town were slightly startled, and Igola immediately reacted: “This list has the highest influence weight?”

An Nan nodded: “In the past ten knitting festivals, there have been “Legend List”, “Strength List”, and even “Great Man List”, but no matter which list is the first place, I have never won the gods. Wish. At the same time, with so many weaving festivals, the first nine lists have been changing. Only the last list has never changed, and the wish of God will only be given to the first place on the final list.”

Ya Xiu asked, "So what list is that? Are we the illegitimate children of the All-Knowing Weaver? Will we have a chance to squeeze on it?...What are you doing?"

Liz bit Ya Xiu's finger lightly. When Ya Xiu looked over, she turned her head, and Ya Xiu thought she was naughty and ignored it.

"It's not an illegitimate child list, but we can't be on the list either." An Nan said: "The name is called the "Gospel List", and its requirement to be on the list is—"

"Only the purest, the most innocent, the kindest, and the most beautiful girls can be included in this list."

Everyone was startled, and Igola asked in disbelief, "Can't men do it?"

"There is no such precedent." An Nan said: "So you know why you can't be on the list, right?"

"Because we are not women?"

"No, if it's just gender, it's not insurmountable." An Nan said, "The main reason is that the Gospel has never seen a naive deceiver, a pure necromancer, and a good evil master."

Chapter 434: Assassinate the princess

The most important "Gospel List", the list requirements are actually pure and flawless girls!

Although Ah Xiu knew that everyone likes beautiful girls, even the gods are so superficial, it is too much!

"Miss, let me take a look at the list of the "Gospel List" in the past. I want to study the habit of the All-Knowing Weaver!"

“Can’t you spend your points to watch it yourself?” An Nan touched the amethyst earrings and said, “But even if you look back, you can’t see anything—because the first responders of the gospels in the past are veiled girls. The face is hidden.”

“Ah? All-knowing Weaver eats alone?” Ya Xiu looked down at Lisi, took out the twisted mask from his arms and put it on her face: “Is it like this?”

“Where did the big devil and the little witch come from?” An Nan said irritably, “Don’t even think about it. I never thought of using Liz to deceive the “Gospel List”. Let’s not mention that Liz did not meet the requirements at all, and I just Having said that, the first place on this list was determined before the knitting ceremony began.”

Although Yaxiu thinks Liz is the cutest little girl, she really doesn’t match “Innocence”, and is also a little bit away from “kindness”. If she grows up, she must be a good at playing with emotions, love and hate. The beautiful girl—Axiu has always felt that Liz has admitted her parents wrong, and she should recognize Aunt Bojin as her mother. That’s the professional counterpart.

Igola asked: “Who is the default number one on the gospel list?”

“The next Queen Yisu.”

An Nan glanced at the people and slowly said: “The first place in each “Gospel List” will become the Queen of Yisu in the next fifty years. The emperor who now lives in the capital Nabistine is the last one. No. 1 on the Gospel List.”

“Since the establishment of the Yisu Dynasty, this tradition has never been exceptional and has never changed.”

Igola frowned: “Every time?”

“Every time.”

“There has been no abnormal situation? Is it possible that someone else is on the list, but the Yisu royal family accepted the list as a member of the royal family before publishing the list—”

An Nan shook his head: “Believe me, when I first wanted to seize the wish of the Lord, the first option I considered was to become No. 1 in the “Gospel List”. And it was not just me. Who wouldn’t want the Lord’s wish? Guess Bell Which of the families such as Dayt, Mercury, and Kethrie has not moved the mind to seize the wish of the Lord?”

“However, the fact is that the Yisu royal family has been firmly holding the first place in the “Gospel List” for hundreds of years, and has never been left behind.” She shrugged: “Because of this list, I am so bold. Take you to blaspheme the gospel-the royal family of Isu has blasphemed the gospel for hundreds of years!”

“How is it possible that every royal family has the purest girl in the whole gospel? The only explanation is that the Yisu royal family has mastered the skills to deceive the gospel and stole the greatest reward of the weaving ceremony!”

“Even if the Gospel invalidates all other lists, it will not invalidate the “Gospel List”-because it does not require weaving at all, and the Yisu royal family has already prepared the answer for it!”

Axiu felt Liz arching in his arms uncomfortably. He rubbed his white-haired dog’s head and asked, “But why is there such a strange list in the “Gospel List” at the Knitting Ceremony? The purest girl Can it increase productivity or enrich everyone’s spiritual needs?”

If it’s down once or twice, it’s too weird to have this list at every knitting ceremony, especially when compared with other lists-“Art List”, to meet the needs of spiritual civilization; “Family List”, guide the family to hurry up Hold your new thighs tightly; “Trick List”, the big event that will happen in the next fifty years...

The purest girl, who has neither accomplishments (no matter good or evil), nor can she guide social life, is good to appreciate it occasionally, but how can she not become the only permanent list of the weaving festival, right?

Is it true that the omniscient weaver is choosing the concubine?

“The Gospel has never given a reply on this point.” An Nan said: “There are currently three mainstream ideas-the All-Knowing Weaver wants everyone to be innocent, pure, and kind, so this list is drawn to attract us to imitate; “The Gospel List” “It is the foundation of the other nine lists. Once changed, it will cause the collapse of the knitting ceremony. Therefore, the omniscience weaver has not changed this list; the omniscience weaver is female and loves women.”

The first reason is well-understood. It's hard to get better from the top. It's just that the social climate is obviously not a list that can guide it, let alone that there are only 10 places on the list.

If it can expand to 100 million places, Naia Xiu may be able to see a gospel kingdom full of beautiful girls.

The second one is also very normal, just like the Shishan code. Although you don't know why it works, don't touch it as long as it works.

“But why would you guess that All Know Weaver is a female?” Ya Xiu felt inexplicable: “Should I guess the man?”

Annan asked: “If you design a list for choosing women, would you raise the weight of ‘kindness and naivety’ to the highest?”

“Hmm...” Ya Xiu said in deep thought, “It's hard to say, for me, I value many qualities of women very much.”

An Nan asked, “What about the most important thing?”

“It's not very interesting to say, but it should be a figure.”

“I'm sorry to say you don't answer so fast!” An Nan glanced at herself quickly, snorted and said, “Superficial!”

“If it were me, I would value her strength more.” Harvey said.

“Yeah, I understand.” Ya Xiu nodded and said, “After all, she is also your battle item at the same time. Strength is indeed the most important thing.”

“I’m not talking about corpses.” Harvey glanced at him: “I think there is nothing better than the best woman who can kill the target I need with the fastest and clearest method, and then bring his corpse back to me...”

“I’m sorry, what we are discussing here is the sexual function of the character, not the function.” Ah Xiu looked at Igola: “What about you?”

Igola glanced back coldly: “I value the same factors as the “Gospel List”.”

“Because pure and innocent women are particularly cheating?”

“Because this kind of woman doesn’t exist at all.” Igola said: “Children have known to play with life since they were young, desires and wickedness gradually rise in their youth, and they see the entanglement of good and evil in society in their youth...unless they have lived in independence since they were young. Place, otherwise how could there be a pure and innocent girl? I want to see what kind of monsters and monsters will come out for me in the future list.”

“According to “The Trickster’s Guide”, the more the deceiver speaks of the object he dislikes, the more he loves it in his heart.” Ah Xiu smiled and said, “I didn’t expect that Igola, you actually like the pure and innocent type... Ah, I understood!”

Igola raised his eyebrows: “Fool, what do you know?”

“Anfil really fits this description!” It suddenly dawned on Ash: “No wonder the gospel thinks that you and Anfil will marry in the future! That’s the way it turns out, she is exactly what you like!”

“Dad, what is “The Trickster’s Guide”? Liz asked: “Can I become a fraudster after learning it?”

“No, but after you learn it, you will know how to deal with the deceiver.” Ah Xiu looked at the young steward: “What about that pan halberd? What do you value most?”

Panji was startled slightly, and smiled: "Is the topic crooked?"

"That's right." An Nan said: "No matter what the "Gospel List" is set up by the All-Knowing Weaver Ultimate, we all only need to know that it has become our biggest difficulty."

"My original plan was to allow one of you to accumulate a high enough weight by competing for the rankings of the previous lists, completely overshadowing the first place in the "Gospel List", and get the wish of God with the first overall pick. "

"Therefore, I am not very happy, even if I am the highest pick now." An Nan said with a smashed hand: "With only two rankings, I can't replace the "first gospel" position. "

"On the contrary, I sincerely hope that other lists will not be invalid, but the probability is not high. Since the All-Knowing Weaver intends to speed up the weaving ceremony, it is impossible to speed up just one list."

Ah Xiu hesitated and asked, "Have you ever thought about it, even if the knitting ceremony does not accelerate..."

"Even if we get nine first places, the God Lord's desire will still be given to the first gospel? Of course I have thought about this possibility, and I think the probability is very high." An Nan said calmly, "But so what?"

so what?

If you don't do it if you feel hopeless, then An Nan will not lead them in a blasphemous gospel plan. This is a conspiracy to plot the gods. From the beginning, she had already realized that she had nowhere to go.

Ah Xiu didn't see a trace of regret in An Nan's eyes. She is like a moth in the dark, fighting the fire is her destiny, but Ah Xiu still doesn't know what she desires to burn.

“Since all previous emperors of Yisu have obtained the wish of the gods.” Igula asked: “Then what wishes did they make?”

“I don’t know.” An Nan shook his head: “This is the second of the three major mysteries of the gospel: why the previous queens are on the list, and what wishes the previous queens have made.”

Ah Xiu asked, “What is the third mystery?”

An Nan glanced at him: “Who is the man of the previous queens... But we are lucky, one of the answers is sitting in front of us.”

Ah Xiu feels very wronged—if other rankings in the “Happiness List” are joking about Ah Xiu, then the 10th wedding and the 1st empress are absolutely nonsense!

He hasn’t even seen the queen, why does the gospel believe that he will dominate the queen in the future?

What’s more hateful is that the queen did not show her face in the happiness list. He wanted to see what the gospel had sent him to his new wife.

“Liss,” Liss chatted boredly: “Do you think the queen will be beautiful?”

Liz blinked: “I think...maybe the same as Liz when she grows up?”

At this time, Harvey burped and said slowly: “That means, An Nan, you have no chance to seize the wish of the Lord?”

“It’s us.” An Nan emphasized the address, and then said: “Theoretically, there is no chance, but the gospel has invalidated other lists, and at the same time it has put the sharp edge to solve all problems in my hands.”

Igula stunned, and immediately realized what he stood up, staring at An Nan and said: “That kind of unsubstantiated guess cannot be the main factor in decision-making!”

“But we only have this opportunity.” An Nan looked at him: “I finally got to this point. Even the weak flame, I must let it burn.”

Ah Xiu looked at the two of them who suddenly quarreled, a little unclear.

Optimist, pessimist, me?

Asia Xiu: “Can you switch to normal language before you quarrel? We don’t understand you meowing like this!”

The fraudster stared at the purple moth for a long time before sitting down slowly. His face is as calm as a lake, but his heart is turbulent—even if he gains the knowledge of the ruling faction, even if he has experienced the spiritual sea of tens of thousands of people in Beldette, he still cannot reverse An Nan’s slave through the spiritual faction. contract!

The gospel speeds up the weaving ceremony, not only interrupting An Nan’s rhythm, but also disrupting Igola’s arrangement!

He wanted to use the power of the psychic faction to forcibly terminate the contract before the final list came out. The debt contract between Falyin and him is the homework and final exam left by the fraudsters—as long as Falyin’s debt can be released, Igola will be sure to get them out of An Nan’s control!

But everything came too soon.

Their quiet days are too short.

The purple moth looked at the cult leader: “Axiu, although the gospel has used you to invalidate the list, it also gives you an unprecedented special authority.”

“You are a “fateless person” recognized by the gospel, and any impact you cause is a ‘a reasonable little deviation in the range of fate’. Putting it into the list means that no matter who you affect, she can still be on the list, but the ranking will be invalid.”

“This is not the original intent of the gospel, but a new rule set up temporarily to speed up the weaving. But since it is a new rule, it will continue to abide by it, otherwise it will cause conflicts between the previous and the next list.”

Ah Xiu also reacted: Since the gospel used Ash to wipe the bottom of the “Happiness List”, UU reading www.uukanshu.com must admit that Ash is a piece of toilet paper that can erase the future.

This is what An Nan meant by “a person with a mess of fate”—Axiu unknowingly added a murder license limited to the gospel area: he can kill (invalidate) the future of any gospel person!

Asia Xiu faintly grasped a trace of inspiration: “Do you miss me...”

An Nan said: “If you kill the echoers who have not yet made the list, then the gospel will not change the list too much, because “You can destroy the future” is a new rule that has been announced. It will only operate according to this logic. The ranking of the killed is invalidated.”

“Ash, you are a knife given to us by the gospel.”

“As long as you can kill the first place in the “Gospel List” first, the knitting ceremony will invalidate her ranking, and I will justify becoming the highest pick!”

After a brief silence, Harvey suddenly smiled: “So, we are finally going to kill someone? Who is the target?”

Panji was worried, Igula frowned, Liz buried her head deeply in Ah Xiu’s arms.

“The future Queen Yisu.” An Nan said: “The princess who lives in the imperial capital Nabistine.”

“Axiu must kill her to complete the final blasphemy of the gospel.”

“So now there are two news. The good news is that you only have the last job, but the bad news is that this job may be your last.” An Nan took out a handkerchief and wiped his mouth and said, “Destination , Imperial Capital Nabistine, the content of the mission—”

“Assassinate the princess.”

Chapter 435: Witch's anomaly

Void, time continent.

“Witch!”

Along with Ya Xiu’s voice, there was also a warm yellow “sword body barrier.” The dazed Diya came back to her senses, and escaped from the damage area in time before the Dragon Slasher’s tail broke the sword barrier.

As if perceiving that Diya was their biggest flaw, the little ichthyosaurs rushed over to try to besiege Diya, but Ya Xiu had already used his “heart pen” to draw a net around him. As soon as the little ichthyosaur broke in with those ‘handwriting in the air’ that looked like ink marks, the body was quickly cut into pieces by the ink. This tragic situation made other companions dare not continue to rush into the dense ink marks area.

The “Heart Pen” miracle that Sonia gave to Ya Xiu is indeed very practical. Originally, the “Heart Sword” paired with the “Sword Mark” to create a trap area at a distance has a big problem—the magician must continue to consume mana to maintain the sword mark. Existence, if Ya Xiu cuts off his mana supply, those sword marks will immediately dissipate.

This not only consumes a lot of mana, but also requires Ah Xiu to be distracted and pay attention to the sword mark area when performing other attacks.

It was fun to use at first, but I quickly got bored because of its troublesomeness. If Shu Ling was the harem of the magician, then the sword mark Shu Ling belonged to the kind of Gui Ji who was very jumpy, and Ya Xiu didn't want to spoil her.

The "Heart Pen" miraculously changed the damage method of the "Sword Mark" Shu Ling: Normally, the sword mark is to be fixed in the air to cause continuous damage to the moving target. However, the "Heart Pen" does not pursue continuous killing, but rather Regarding the sword marks as a one-time consumption of ink, it can be glued away by the moving target, but the ink will consume itself and cause cutting damage to the target in just a few seconds.

Because it is a one-time consumption of ink, the mana consumption of the "Heart Pen" is much lower, and Ya Xiu can easily draw a lot of ink traps. The overall damage has not been reduced, but he is much easier. Not only that, but Ya Xiu can also draw 'invalid ink' that only consumes a little mana to confuse and intimidate knowledge creatures!

As a high-quality miracle purchased by Sonia for 15 gold coins, it even comes with a method of how to turn off the damage of teammates-after all, on Sonia's side, team fighting is the normal state of warlock battles-Axiu only needs to give it in advance When teammates add ink marks, teammates can freely traverse the ink marks area without destroying the distribution of ink marks!

The new tactic they have recently developed is that Ya Xiu arranges the ink mark area first, and then the sword girl and the witch seduce the intellectual creatures over, and then they stay in the ink mark area to safely hunt the intellectual creatures. Anyway, after the knowledge creatures charge once or twice I dare not step into the ink mark area.

Thanks to the new posture of "Heart Pen" miracle, the status of Sword Mark Shuling in the harem of Shuling was immediately elevated from Guiji to the level of noble concubine, and the degree of favor was chasing the heart sword and substitute.

When the Tyrannosaurus was finally slashed by the Blood Moon Broken Lake, Sonia shoved her sword back in the rain of blood, her suffocation was reduced to nothing, her brows and eyes suddenly bent into crescents and looked back, but she saw Ya Xiu say nothing. Yan walked past her and entered the gem mine to search for resources.

Sonia glanced at his back, did not know what she muttered, and pulled Dia to the other side: "Witch, it's dangerous to lose consciousness in battle."

"Sorry," Deya said immediately, "I won't do it again in the future."

"I'm not accusing you. It's normal for people to make mistakes. When you look at the viewer, they make mistakes every day. You don't have to take it seriously."

"What did the viewer make wrong?"

"Breathe." Sonia snorted, and her face was written in disagreement with the captain: "Witch, you haven't seen the viewer when the viewer is handsome and gentle? I have to explain here, neither do I."

"And do you think that the viewer has become more and more annoying lately? I tell you, he has always been so annoying, do you know that he did very excessive things to me when he was in the sea of knowledge, I think about it now I get trembling with anger..."

Nothing is easier to increase feelings than to say bad things about others behind their backs, especially when that person is everyone's boss. Dia listened with relish to Sonia's complaints, and the dull hair on her head was up and down.

After searching the resources, Ya Xiu brought a bunch of gem materials that their magical spirits could eat, and signaled them not to get in the car and upgrade the Alchemy Throne again. With a burst of rose gold blooming, the golden blood on the top of the seat reached 11 drops, and the surrounding counter-current golden rain flowed into the seat like a torrent!

"Alchemy Throne Level 11: Increase the absorption speed of golden mana by 130%.

Level 6 special effect: For every 60 minutes of stay in the virtual world, an additional layer of [Golden Years] will be accumulated, and each layer of [Golden Years] will increase the absorption speed of golden mana by 10%.

Level 11 special effects: As the speed of the sports car increases, the absorption speed of the golden magic power is additionally increased, up to 100% (at a peak speed of 400kmh). For each layer of [Golden Years], the maximum speed required for this effect is reduced by 50%.

The next level of gem essence, crystal essence, mercury essence, wood essence, ore essence, gold essence: 1175. ”

After smashing all the resources these days, he finally raised the alchemy throne to level 11 and clicked on the second special effect. The first special effect need not be mentioned. The longer you stay in the virtual world, the faster the absorption speed; while the second effect can increase the absorption speed by 100%, but it requires driving to extreme speed.

But they can't do it under normal circumstances. The road conditions of the time mainland are comparable to virgin forests. There is no need to hit any rocky wall at all. In case a small uphill suddenly flies up, and then the sports car hits some trees, then Wait for the rotating charge tornado.

However, in line with the decreasing demand of [Golden Years], after 2 hours, Asia Xiu only needs to drive 100kmh to get an extra 100% absorption speed, which is the speed that can barely run out in the mainland of time; 4 hours later, it can even be 25kmh. Satisfied, even if they are sitting in the car slowly, they can get a $130+40+100=270\%$ mana absorption speed bonus!

Ya Xiu told them about the upgrade of the Alchemy Throne, and said: “We will not search for resource points tonight, so let's drive to some special places.”

Today they have been in the Void Realm for more than an hour, and they will get 2 layers of [Golden Years] in a while. Even if there is no other gains tonight, the mana gains of the mainland drag racing alone are twice as much as the ordinary magicians. , Ya Xiu's suggestion was reasonable and Jian Ji and the witch naturally agreed immediately.

But when the sports car crossed the rain screen, Dia suddenly reacted with hindsight under the reminder of the sisters: “Is it because of my problem that I won't fight tonight?”

“Heh!” Sonia suddenly laughed loudly, took the initiative to put her arms around Dia, and stared at the viewer in the rear mirror: “Why is he so kind?”

The corners of Ya Xiu’s mouth twitched, and he had to follow Sonia’s words and said indifferently, “We have already emptied several resource points today. It is not efficient for us to search again. It is better to find those special buildings. There may be unexpected gains.”

Ah Xiu was right. They searched five resource points in an hour, and two of them were empty. Not only are there no resources, but even knowledge creatures are carrying buckets and running away—but now it is the blood tomb round. In the blood tomb map that Ya Xiu has mastered, there are obviously big resource points where knowledge creatures are stationed there!

This can only prove one thing: The Blood Tomb has sent the Heroic Soul Legion to reclaim resources!

The evidence is that Asia Xiu and the others have been wandering for more than an hour, and there is no Heroic Soul Legion chasing them, indicating that the Blood Tomb forces have turned their strategy to conservative, and even reclaiming all resources on the wall and clearing the land, and the Heroic Spirit Legion back to defend and defend the main city!

The reason is not difficult to guess. Whether the Spider Tower has captured the main city of the Oasis or not, it is a certain fact that the Spider Tower has set off the six kingdoms in advance, and all forces will naturally cancel the farming development and enter a state of first-level combat readiness!

Ya Xiu even suspected that the Blood Tomb knew that he was the fuse of the Oasis War. If he dared to approach the main city of the Blood Tomb, he might not jump out of the thousands of armed legions and kill him to the dregs.

Therefore, Asia Xiu no longer plans to continue to upgrade the “Alchemy Throne”, and further upgrades require too many resources, but the resources in the future will only become less and less. In the current situation, the income of looking for other special buildings is indeed not lower than that of searching for resource points.

But Dia is not so foolish: “Even if we don’t search for resource points, we can still hunt those large knowledge creatures, experience orbs and magic spirits are also a stable income. Not to mention that even if we go to find special buildings, we can also search for resource points all the way. In the past, there was no need to give up fighting!”

“Sure enough, it’s because I made many mistakes tonight, so you guys take care of me like this.” Dia looked down at her knees, “Sorry, it’s all my problem tonight...”

Ah Xiu couldn’t help saying, “Actually—”

“In fact, the viewer thinks the witch is a burden! That’s why you simply give up fighting so that she will not drag you down and even kill you!” Sonia hugged the witch and stared at Asia viciously. This is how a kind of person is only profitable and does not understand people’s hearts! They don’t trust their companions at all!”

This! Piece! sword! Ji! —

Ya Xiu took a deep breath and said coldly, “You said this, I didn’t say that.”

“I’m sorry!” Deya rubbed her eyes vigorously and said loudly: “I was affected by reality, so I didn’t focus on fighting just now... But I have adjusted my mood. If I make mistakes again, I will let the white queen. Or the Red Dead just replace me, it won’t affect our exploration. Viewers, please follow the original route to search for resource points!”

“You don’t have to apologize.” Sonia said softly: “Anyone will encounter uncomfortable times, and a night’s rest will not delay us from becoming a sanctuary. Is there anything we can help?”

Deya patted her face vigorously, all of which were flushed.

“Because of being uncomfortable, unhappy, and confused, others must accommodate themselves. That is a child acting like a baby.” The witch said seriously, “I am no longer a child, and I don’t have a favorite color.”

She paused, clenched her fists and said seriously: “Moreover, I also have someone who can act like a baby. Don’t worry about me. My situation can only be solved by going back to him and hugs and kisses!”

Sonia's expression suddenly froze, she could only smile reluctantly: "Ah, oh, um...that's good."

"So viewers, follow the resource point search route!" Diya said, "I'm fine!"

"When you first made a request, UU reading www.uukanshu.com, I wanted to switch back to the original route." Ya Xiu said lightly, "But halfway through, I found Liujin River blocked the road. Driving along the edge of the Liujin River, the original route has been invalidated."

This situation is not uncommon. The distribution of the Jinhe River is random every day, and it may lie on your way. Of course this is good for ordinary warlocks. Most two-wing warlocks can meet Liujinhe once a day. As long as they have room to rush in to pick up Shulings, there will be no air force today; but for Asia, who has a map, For others, Liu Jinhe will greatly reduce their efficiency.

"Then choose a resource point on the road—"

"We have arrived at the special building." Ya Xiu looked at the "come soon" golden area on the map of the virtual world, "but the map of the blood tomb does not mark what building this is."

In other words, most of the special buildings are not marked, which is one of the reasons why Ya Xiu did not explore special buildings before, and the benefits are too unknown. It is very reasonable to think about it carefully. After all, the Heroic Commander will not enter the virtual world building at all, and they don't have any need to mark it, not to mention the Heroic Commander may not know all the virtual world buildings.

"Then I will go in and take a look, and I will come out and tell you the rules as soon as possible!" Deya said immediately: "If it is a mechanism such as the "Chalet of Amnesia", you don't have to risk entering!"

In fact, since the virtual world map shows "coming soon", it means that there is definitely no danger inside. But Ah Xiu knew that this was the witch who wanted to make up for the mistake he had just made, and he also wanted to be alone with Jian Ji for a while, so he nodded and said, "Please, witch."

Chapter 436: Jian Ji broke the defense

Diya stretched out her hands full of vigor and gave Ya Xiu a high-five, hugged Jian Ji again, and then pulled out of the sports car and rushed into the rain.

“Finally only me and you are left.”

Ya Xiu turned his head and looked to the rear, and said dissatisfied: “Sword Ji, why are you trying to sow discord in front of the witch? If you have to be a bad guy, if the witch really hates me, then it will be troublesome...what’s wrong with you? ?”

After talking for a long time, Ya Xiu found that Jian Ji was looking down at the upstream golden rain outside, her mouth sulking, she was not tender and considerate when facing the witch just now, and she even gave him a stingy look, which was just a mark. The warning “There is a bad cat inside, this cat is very sensitive”.

“The witch was cured with great difficulty, why is it your turn to have something?” Ah Xiu said, “I am not a psychotherapist... I feel that if there is that guy in the team, it seems to save a lot of things...”

Seeing that Jian Ji was still ignoring herself, Ya Xiu wrote a few lines in front of Jian Ji with a “heart pen”:

“Do you like the deep sea or the starry sky?”

“Do you want to eat rattan or bamboo shoots for dinner?”

“Would you like garter stockings or silk stockings?”

“Do you like gold coins or silver coins?”

“That must be like gold coins!” Sonia said angrily, “I’m not a fool!”

Ah Xiu blinked and continued with his question: “Why are you slandering me like that in front of the witch? I haven’t offended you recently, right?”

“Although we usually communicate normally, in order for the witch to let go of our wariness, it is best for us to be hostile.” Sonia said, “Since I am responsible for helping the witch, you must be hostile to the witch on the opposite side, so that the witch can Deepen the relationship with me quickly.”

“And, who said you haven’t offended me lately?”

Ah Xiu looked innocent: “Where did I offend you? I didn’t say a few words at all!”

Sonia looked at him bitterly.

It was true that Ya Xiu didn’t say anything to offend her, it was the witch who offended her.

As soon as I heard the witch returning, I could find someone to hug and kiss each other like a spoiled child, and the club director broke the defense in an instant!

She broke the defense! She is in a hurry! Her mentality collapsed! She found out that she was the clown!

Originally Sonia’s plan went well. She came to be a good person and let the viewer be a bad person, so that the witch would get close to her and the viewers from afar. Not only could she become the core of the team, but more importantly, she would not give the viewers. A chance to deepen the relationship with the witch.

Not only now, but if there are new teammates in the future, Sonia will still follow this set of operations. In short, she must encourage everyone to isolate the viewers, otherwise how can she eat alone?

But the witch’s remarks were simply that the armor-breaking wind and anger intensified the poison, which made Sonia upset. And Ya Xiu actually had an innocent and dazed expression, Sonia now really felt that he was offending herself by breathing.

Jian Ji took a deep breath, forcibly cleared the boredom in her mind, pointed to the lines of ink next to her and asked: “When the witch comes back, what should I do with this pile of things?”

Ah Xiu blinked. He recalled the “heart pen” and found that there was really no way to cancel it. The reason why the disposable ink does not need to consume his mana is because it has been independent, but Ya Xiu naturally lost control of it.

“You can cut them off with your sword.”

Sonia stared at Ya Xiu and drew out the long sword, so she thought she was going to be chopped.

But sitting in the car is not easy to swing the sword, and the ink is outside the door, she will be injured by the ink when she pushes the door out. So after a short period of thought, the village girl jumped directly out of the car into the air, cut out the “Xie Guang Zhan” to clear all the ink, and then gracefully fell into the rain curtain outside—

#`O') Are you stupid!”

Ya Xiu rushed out and hugged Jian Ji back into the car, and saw that her legs had begun to show signs of aging, and she was annoyed: “Didn’t I just say that I was driving along the Liujin River? You jumped like this. If you go out, you will jump directly into the Liujinhe area! You are not a faction without time. Can’t you smell the time flavor of Liujinhe’s strong tea?”

“Yeah.” Jian Ji let out a soft nasal voice, as if she knew she was wrong.

Hearing that Jian Ji in his arms was so behaved, Ya Xiu also slowed down: “But I was wrong this time too. I just wanted to get around this section of the Golden River as soon as possible, and didn’t pay attention to getting too close.”

“Ok.”

“Have your legs recovered? Can you go by yourself?”

“It seems to be a bit close.” The head of the Claw Extension Club tilted his head: “I think my waist seems to have been corroded by Liujinhe a little bit. It’s a bit weak. If you don’t hold it tightly, I might fall...”

“How did your soul become so weak?” Ah Xiu felt a little strange: “Is it the curse of disorderly shopping books?”

“Perhaps, I purchased a physique decline, and physique is closely related to the soul, and it is normal.” Jian Ji writhed restlessly: “What about you? Does the decreased luck of your purchase have an impact on life?”

Ah Xiu was startled slightly, and suddenly remembered that the curse he bought was “Shit without paper”, and then he returned to reality and was used as a paper to wipe his * by the gospel... He felt like he was mocked by the ‘drama poet’. UU reading www.uukahnsu.com

“I think it’s too gentle to use the word influence...”

“I’m back!”

Diya emerged from the rain curtain and saw the viewer silently looking at Jian Ji who was sitting in the back seat, and asked curiously: “Did something happen when I was away?”

“No.” Sonia said, “Witch, have you discovered the special building inside?”

“It’s proved.” Diya nodded: “It should be the question and answer of fate that you told me, but the form seems to be different.”

Fate Q&A! ?

Ah Xiu and Sonia were suddenly shocked. When they followed Dia in, they found that this was indeed completely different from the question and answer on the fate of the Sea of Knowledge—

I saw a round table with three chairs, three sheets of paper, and... three pairs of headphones.

The three looked at each other. They sat down face to face and put on their headphones. First they heard the rules here: "The Fate Quiz listening test officially starts. Answer the questions according to the content of the dialogue. If the answer fails, the answer will end immediately. If the answer is correct, you can continue to answer. The number of correctness is greater than or equal to 1, and the respondent is qualified to ask questions."

Sonia looked at each other, and then heard the conversation in the headset—

"Witch, what do you think is the meaning of our lives?"

"revenge."

"No, I mean, since we were born into this world, there must be certain missions that only we can accomplish. What do you think is our true mission?"

"Even if you burn the entire world, you must have revenge."

"Question: Who do you want revenge on?"

"①The world②The viewer③The * Lord④All of the above are right."

Chapter 437: Hug me again

The hearing test of Fate Quiz!

In fact, it is not much different from the question and answer of the fate of the sea of knowledge, except that the topic is replaced by a dialogue content. Compared with the simple topic, this is a lot of information: Sonia can hear that the interlocutor is herself and the witch, and it is at least ten years later, because her voice has become mellow, not weak, and muddy. It's not dark...just like the voice that Dedaros would use when playing a middle-aged beautiful woman. Just listening to the voice, Sonia seemed to be able to see herself like a thorny rose.

The same goes for the witch, her voice is not at all immature at this time—even when she uttered the word ‘revenge’, there was no innocence that she should have.

In fact, ‘revenge’ itself is a word full of fairy tales, just like ‘love’, where would anyone like you for four to five years or hate you for four to five years like a movie?

Life is enough to dilute everything, and all strong emotions will be flat.

However, when the witch uttered the word ‘revenge’, she was as calm as discussing dinner tonight, indicating that revenge is not her impulse, but a task that must be completed. It is an obstacle that must be overcome to survive. Interest-related life goals.

The point is, when the witch said this, she seemed to be included—do they have any common goals for revenge?

Sonia looked at Dia, but found that Dia was also at a loss. The three of them took off their headphones, and after looking at each other, Ya Xiu coughed, pretending to ask deeply, “Should we discuss it together? Or should you solve it yourself?”

If there are only Ya Xiu and Jian Ji, then Ya Xiu will certainly not politely ask Jian Ji what gossip you heard just now, but since Jian Ji’s current team atmosphere is “watcher VS Jian Ji and the witch”, Na Ya Xiu can only follow her script.

As long as the team’s internal consumption can be reduced, Asia Xiu doesn’t matter if he becomes a villain. Although President Asia feels that Jian Ji’s purpose is not pure, this mode of superiors and subordinates is indeed more conducive to team management.

In the company, Ya Xiu had seen the kind of ‘combined subordinate’ team before, but that would lead to insufficient deterrence of the boss, and the situation of subordinates fishing, laziness, working in the toilet, resistance, etc. increased rapidly.

In all fairness, the previous attitude of Ah Xiu to discuss everything with everyone was wrong, and even the source of the chaos that caused internal friction—because it can be discussed, so it can compete, and then it will separate the pro-favorites.

That time, the witch didn't trust them, wasn't it because Jian Ji had discussed and communicated with him too much before and made the witch aware of the possibility that she would be abandoned?

It's not impossible to negotiate, but Asia has the decisive power of speech, deterrence, and convincing power to ensure that his will can be implemented most effectively at all times.

The best state is naturally that the operators trust and support him. If this perfect team state is not achieved, then Ya Xiu must at least ensure that the operators do not dare to violate him even if they do not trust him!

Obviously, no matter which state, Ya Xiu has a long way to go. Sometimes Ya Xiu would also wonder if it would be better if he didn't recruit new operators. After all, when he left the sea of knowledge, he and Jian Ji were already a perfect team, and the two of them had a big enough advantage. .

Other magicians can't even have a 'companion who grows together and trusts each other', and not only does Ya Xiu have, he also has a boat and a car. What else is he not satisfied with?

Is it really necessary for him to pull out the new witch operator?

But soon Ah Xiu made his own answer: it is necessary.

Heroic Soul Legion, Liuji River, Resource Point Search... The witch does not improve the team at all. As an auxiliary output, her importance to the team is immeasurable. There are many resource points that can be defeated by the two of Asia Xiu Jianji. , It also takes a long time and has a high probability of injury. The existence of the witch makes the team's efficiency at least two or three times higher.

The most important thing is that the team's spoils are overflowing, and it is purely a subordinate strategy for Jian Ji to exchange money. For every magician, the benefits of resources are marginal utility. At first, Jian Ji did use these spoils to exchange resources for her own use. For example, her miracle "Sword Sharpening for Ten Years" no longer needs to be saved. , But the effect of this promotion will diminish rapidly, because the magic spirit that Jian Ji can use is limited, and she only needs to master a few miracles.

Just like playing a game, Sonia has already bought herself a set of top-notch peripherals that will light up, bought the most expensive skin, and ordered the most delicious takeaway. She wants to continue to improve her strength, but she can only implement it. On the realm of factions.

At this time, one more training object is of great significance. It can even be said that the more operators, the higher the conversion efficiency of resources and team strength.

As for why strength is needed...

There are many pictures in Ya Xiu's mind, Liss, Ikola, Ann, Qinna, Harvey, ordinary luxury manor, daily life of sleeping until he wakes up naturally, as well as his meeting with the witch of the sword, but the location is not there. Void...

And it's not just him, Sword Ji, Witch and others need strength, so he has no reason not to be aggressive. When he saves enough points, he will continue to draw cards. The team must continue to grow, even if it increases his management costs. Also do not hesitate.

'When will I become the captain full of authority...' Ah Xiu is full of longing for power-he almost became the man in charge of operations!

Faced with Ah Xiu's proposal, Sonia immediately disgusted and said: "Although I am not happy to share the future with you, I am not uncomfortable in order to improve the accuracy of answering questions. Moreover, I listen. What happened was the conversation between me and the witch, and I felt it was necessary to make it public."

"I have no opinion either." Dia said curiously: "Is it the future dialogue between me and you?"

Sonia nodded, stated the content and title of the dialogue, and asked: "Witch, do you have any revenge? Is it related to your anxiety tonight?"

Diya immediately shook her head: "No! And I have no object of revenge, even if it is the grandmother who asked me to perform the armoring ceremony, I have no idea of revenge!"

Although she was trapped in the tower since she was a child, Deya had no intention of resenting her grandmother. Although she had lost her freedom, she also had a carefree childhood. Especially after leaving the tower and Ashiu and others to see the outside world, she knew better that her grandmother did not owe herself to herself, let alone hurt her.

In the final analysis, everything she encountered was just the established fate of the Yisu clan, and her grandmother was only part of the tragedy of generations.

So what she wanted to do was not revenge, but resistance.

Since it is impossible to extract valid information from the content of the dialogue, the answer can only be analyzed.

“The world seems too broad, and the Lord...” Sonia showed a strange expression: “Can we avenge the Lord?”

For most magicians, the God Lord is not so much a specific ‘God’ as it is a symbol, a group of rules, and even the world itself. No one has ever seen a divine lord, and no one can avoid the influence of the divine lord. How to get revenge? Revenge to the sun? Revenge against the storm? Revenge to the sea?

Therefore, the two options of “God Lord” and “World” are almost equivalent, so...

When the witch and Jian Ji looked at them, Ya Xiu was still very calm: “Although I also think that my answer is the most reasonable, the problem is that I am the only one you know about these three options.”

Sonia was startled slightly, and immediately reacted: “Yes, the question and answer of fate is not a test of knowledge for us to ‘answer out’ at all, but a gamble of luck that allows us to ‘guess out’. If it is such an obvious answer, That must be a confusing option!”

Dia nodded as she heard it. Although she had never experienced the question and answer of the fate of the Sea of Knowledge, she also felt that it made sense: “And I can’t imagine why I should avenge the viewer... If it’s Sword Ji, you will avenge me. Understandable.”

Sonia flushed and snorted: "I wish I would part ways with him sooner."

Dia blinked—I haven't said anything yet.

She hesitated for a while, and said, "In fact, the content of the dialogue I heard was also very strange. I don't know if it is related to Jian Ji's topic."

Then Deya's hair color began to change, and she turned into a sweet white-haired girl: "Next, it's my white queen—"

Then she became a black-haired, cold-blooded beauty: "Certain the content of the conversation with my black butler."

The black butler laughed madly: "Hahahaha laughed at me, don't you want to catch me? Come on, catch me, UU Reading www.uukanshu.com and let's be caught by the Fire Robber Temple together! They It will definitely burn you and me to ashes! Hahahaha!"

The White Queen said calmly: "We will not be caught, the master will definitely come to save us. Witch, let's cooperate temporarily."

The black butler sneered and sneered: "Really? In that case, where is the demon now? You originally wanted to act together? But why are you alone in the siege with me now? Na Na na, why not follow me Same, you are finally abandoned, right? Abandoned~~ right!?"

The White Queen said firmly: "The master will not abandon me."

The black butler is yin and yang strange: "Ah, what a loyal love, can you open your mouth and let me spit in it-everyone is just a tool of the devil, including you! Why! Why are you still willing to be used by him, Don't you know that you have never been loved?"

The White Queen said infatuated: "Why does the master use me if he doesn't use others? He still loves me for sure, and he is so gentle to me at all times."

The black butler was hysterical: "Yes, he is very gentle, but there is no love in his eyes-I am going crazy! What did I do wrong to meet you two demons so unfortunately! A madman! One! Fool!"

The White Queen: "Do you want to cooperate? They are already coming over. If we don't cooperate, we can't escape."

The black butler suddenly calmed down: "I can cooperate, but you have to agree to a condition."

"What conditions?"

"Just like in the past, hug me again."

"Question: What was the relationship between the two of the dialogue?"

Chapter 438: Silly woman

After talking about her topic, Dia returned to her original state and said before everyone asked: "I have no impression of the other speaker at all."

"Not at all?" Sonia asked curiously: "From the analysis of the content of the conversation, you used to be very close, but for some reason you are split. She and her master are trying to catch you, but somehow there was an error in the plan. It causes you to be trapped... you even want to hug her."

"This is what makes me very confused." Dia tilted her head, her face was full of question marks: "I don't have such a close female friend at all."

If it was a male voice, then there was no need to ask, it could only be her favorite, Asia.

But the voice is as clear as a wind chime, a charming female voice that always strikes people's heartstrings. Dia doesn't even know such a person in reality!

The closest person to this voice is Aunt Bojin, but he is also a man!

The most likely candidate is An Nan, but An Nan's voice is not so sweet, and the relationship between Liz and An Nan is not very close, and the intimacy is not even as good as Aunt Bokin, whether it is Liz or Deya. Will not long for An Nan's hug!

But among the people she actually knows, there are no other women except An Nan!

The only eligible Ashiu is a male. Based on the knowledge of reading hundreds of fairy tales, Deya can only conceive a plot like this: Ash is dominated by Igola and turned into a female. In this way, it is all said and done. pass. The 'master' and the 'demon' refer to Igola, and the 'she' in the dialogue is Yaxiu...or Yaxiu. Of course, Nadia will be very indignant at Yaxiu's situation.

But such an assumption is really too outrageous, that is, fairy tales can only be compiled in this way, so Dia couldn't help but look at Sonia-since she is not the sister she knows in reality, it can only be a girlfriend she knows in the virtual world.

Sonia shook her head immediately: "I won't call anyone a master, and that kind of madness for love is not my character."

Diya didn't think it was Jian Ji either. After all, in the amnesia hut, Jian Ji had made it clear that the person she valued most was only herself, no matter whether she was a relative or a lover, she could not override her personal will.

What's more, the 'she' in the dialogue is stupid, sounding like a cute and innocent sweet lady, and she is a completely different type from the elegant but awe-inspiring Jian Ji.

"And I feel that the 'witch' in the conversation is also far from your sisters." Sonia said: "Does your sisters have this...circus-type character?"

Di Ya shook her head again and again, and she actually felt that the "witch" in the conversation was not like herself at all, she was crazy and dark and gloomy. If their sisters are colorful with distinctive personalities, then the witch in the dialogue is simply turbid and dirty black and gray.

It's just that the voice line is very obvious, plus "she" also mentioned the code name "witch", and more importantly-if neither of the content of the dialogue is Dia, then what does this question have to do with her?

Ya Xiu said: "Is there a connection between your two questions? For example, the target of revenge in the title of Sword Fairy may be the 'devil' and the 'master' in the title of Witch?"

Sonia felt very reasonable and asked: "The viewer, do you have someone who loves you so hard that you will even call you'master'?"

"No!" Ya Xiu immediately shook his head: "In reality, I never provoke women. I'm surrounded by men. Where can anyone love me so desperately?"

Sonia: "Where is the one calling you'Master'?"

"Actually, I have a guess." Ah Xiu completely ignored Sonia's question: "You said, "World" is a person's name? Or a nickname?"

Sonia hesitated for a moment: "If this is the answer, it would be too difficult to get it right..."

"It may be that the level of the virtual realm increases, which will also cause the difficulty of answering. The fate question and answer on the third layer of the virtual realm may not be a question for our children." Ya Xiu said casually: "But then it will make sense-named The demon of "World" has a female follower, and the witch will meet "World" and his followers in the future, and will forge enmity because of this."

Although it sounds far-fetched, there are no better assumptions. The main reason was that the witch insisted that there was no woman in reality that matched the content of the conversation, and the only possibility was that she did not know another speaker now.

Deya suddenly thought that the reputation of Ash and others in the gospel had been in the ranks of stinks for thousands of years. After the knitting ceremony, they would definitely not be able to stay. Maybe they would leave the gospel and go to other countries. Anyway, it was not the first time for them to go abroad. The sisters did not have the slightest nostalgia for the gospel, and they would definitely stay with Ash when their bodies returned to their original state, and would naturally follow Ash and leave with him.

So, the 'she' and the 'master' here are actually new characters that Lisdiya met in another country?

"Then how do I choose my topic?" Dia asked.

"Actually, the first three answers to your question are almost the same. I suggest ④Select all." Ya Xiu said: "According to our last fate question and answer experience, the first question can be selected all, but Jian Ji's front The three options are very different. She can't avenge the world, me and the * at the same time, right?"

Sonia and Deya nodded one after another, put on their headphones and wrote their answers on the paper. Soon they heard the answer from the virtual world—

"Congratulations, you got a correct answer. Do you want to continue to answer the question?"

"You got the wrong answer, fate's answer is over."

Deya happily said, "I got it right!"

Sonia said angrily: "I just said how could it be an outrageous option like 'world'. This question clearly means that you have to choose the Lord of God!"

Asia Xiu: "Why don't you say that—"

"Definitely!" Sonia stared at Ya Xiu fiercely, her mouth puffed up: "It's all because of your outrageous ideas...huh!"

Ah Xiu felt that Jian Ji had kicked from under the table, and he was a little temperamental. He had his own position as the captain, and he couldn't let the operators act so recklessly—hey? Why did Jian Ji take off her shoes?

And the kicking force is also very small, not much heavier than the cat stepping on milk. He looked down and saw that the little feet in black stockings curled up their toes and stroked his calves, so Ya Xiu could only restrain his anger and use his eyes to signal Jian Ji not to be so arrogant, but the head of the Claws Club was not so arrogant. He raised his chin, but he got worse.

While the two were fighting secretly, Dia also began to listen to the second question. UU reading www.uukanshu.com

“Silly woman, estrus loyal dog, full of nutrition to the chest buttocks, just thinking of the female beast crawling into that man’s bed...”

“I’m not stupid...”

“I scolded you so many sentences, you just want to refute this one? And you just proved how stupid you are—why did you save me?! I must have been infected by you too, and even run away behind your back!”

“Because... the master... needs you... needs your personality talent...”

“I hear another ‘Master’ from your mouth, and I will throw you out.”

“When I see you in danger...when I react...I’ll be in front of you. Witch, come with me and see the master...I will protect you...The master told me that he will not hurt You, that’s why I’m here... I’m sorry... I’ve always wanted to say sorry to you since that day... I’m sorry...”

“You are not allowed to apologize, no! Yes! The wrong person is him, you are just being used by him, and it has nothing to do with you!”

“No, I know all the consequences, but for the benefit of the master, that’s why... If I can start again, I will still do that...”

“What’s so good about him? You spent all the night on him, but he never looked at the moon!”

“We still have a lot of time...Sooner or later we will definitely be together...”

“I served you idiot... well, they should not be able to find it for the time being here, I will treat you.”

“Witch...”

“Ok?”

“Your hair is loose, let me braid it for you.”

“Question: What the * did the ‘silly woman’ come here for?”

“① Kidnap the witch violently; ② Persuade the witch; ③ Launch a trap to trap the witch; ④ Visit the witch”

Chapter 440: The future Ah Xiu is hiding

Ah Xiu’s listening experience is completely different from the other two operators. If Sonia and Deya’s listening experience is ‘whatever you say’, then he is simply too clear.

“O(*≧▽≦)ツ I’m coming~~~ Let’s take it easy, tonight will definitely be a night to remember...”

“Hey, wait! Don’t talk!”

“Someone is listening, the prophecy is an angel? Or is it a god? No, this feeling is more pure, as if it is the power of the person on Ruby Mountain... I think of it, it is a question and answer of fate!”

“But it’s not right, how can the question and answer of Destiny see me now?”

“Don’t move, don’t move, we are being listened to, be serious...hiss!”

“Huh? Don’t talk, write in my palm... Yes, I have held secret avatars for a while before. These conceptual avatars are the best anchors. No wonder Ruby Mountain can connect me to the past and secret avatars. With its own ‘concealment’ effect, Ruby Mountain has never noticed that I have noticed the prying!”

“The answer is ③. I can’t say anything, or the Fate Questions and Answers will delete this recording.”

Perhaps it was out of intuition, or perhaps it felt that it would affect his own image, and Ya Xiu concealed the first and fifth paragraphs. But other self-narrative content alone is enough to make Jian Ji and the witch an eye-opener.

“” Don’t talk”? Sonia opened her eyes wide: “From the analysis of options, are you with at least three people?” ”

Diya suddenly asked: “Have you ever revealed your secret incarnation in reality?”

“No, at least not now.”

“But in this passage, someone reminds you of the secret incarnation by writing in your palm. In other words, is that person me or Jian Ji?”

Ya Xiu quickly explained: “It may also be a new operator in the future!”

“Isn’t that still the same? It’s all from the team.” Sonia blinked: “So the ①②③ option refers to us? This question asks, who is the closest person to you among the team members? ?”

“...Do not rule out this possibility.” Ya Xiu said, “But it is also possible that I will tell the secret incarnation in the future—”

“Are you crazy? The secret avatar is a concept avatar, which is about the survival of the related magical faction. If you say it is harmful and unhelpful!” Sonia said immediately: “This secret can only be known by a few of us, and no new operator can come. Say!”

“Yes.” Ya Xiu just wanted to end this topic quickly: “What we should pay attention to now is that the future I can actually perceive the fate question and answer—”

“Visitor, what will you do with the three team members?” Diya asked curiously.

“Playing games or chatting.” Ya Xiu’s face didn’t flush and his heart beats: “Otherwise, what else could it be?”

The village girl looked at the cult leader suspiciously: “Are you hiding something?”

“It’s obviously the future I’m concealing something!” Ya Xiu forced the topic to come back: “He knows that he has become the listening material for the question and answer of fate, so he didn’t even take the opportunity to send me some information!”

He must be hiding something!

But Sonia glanced at the witch, knowing that this is definitely not the time to ask, and said: “Didn’t he tell me? Once he tells me other information, the Fate Questions and Answers will definitely not use this recording.”

“But you in the future are surprised at being listened to.” Sonia thoughtfully: “Are you strong enough to block all prophetic investigations? But the strength of me and the witch will rise with you. Why will I be in the future? And the witch doesn’t have this kind of strength?”

“Could it be that the time is different?” Ah Xiu said, “The future you heard may be only a few years later, and I heard it may be more than ten years later.”

“And when you realize that you are being listened to, the first reaction is to be eavesdropped by angels or * masters.” Sonia murmured: “Have you grown to the level of angel * masters in more than ten years? And you still Speaking of Ruby Mountain... at least you are already a legendary magician!”

“What is Ruby Mountain?” Ash asked curiously.

“The fourth floor of the virtual realm is called Ruby Mountain. It is also known as the legendary mountain. It is a half-step paradise and close to the forbidden area of God.” Sonia said: “You are very familiar with the power of Ruby Mountain in the future, and you even think that you are being destined. Q&A recording...You have become so strong.”

“We are very strong.” Ya Xiu emphasized: “We will climb the virtual world together and enjoy the magnificent scenery of the peak together.”

The village girl also quickly cleared up the subtle inferiority complex in her heart, and nodded and said, “I must be too strong in the future, so the question and answer of fate can’t hear me. I can only choose when I am weaker!”

“Wait.” Diya suddenly noticed something: “Future viewers said that the secret incarnation has its own concealment effect, so it can counter-detect the spy of the virtual world, that is to say...”

“Yes!” Ya Xiu nodded excitedly: “If the Fate Questions and Answers keep picking up the distant future, then I will definitely help cheat in the future!”

“Congratulations, you got a correct answer. Do you want to continue to answer the question?”

“The listening materials for the second question begin—”

“...Huh? It’s already started?”

“I didn’t think of it until the last time. There was indeed such a question and answer for fate, but it was too long, and my situation was a bit chaotic at that time... so I didn’t think of it in time.”

“Voidland will not allow you to take advantage all the time. Now the Fate Questions and Answers should have noticed something wrong...The answer to this question is ①.”

“You at different times are not yourself. So I won’t reveal any future to you, lest you murder your present.”

“The secret avatar is very useful.”

“Question: the viewer... (noise)?”

“①garter ②glasses③battle suit④??? (noise

Yaxiu briefly described the situation of the second question, and Sonia looked at him suspiciously: “You can only hear noises for both the question and the fourth option? If you don’t want to say it, we won’t mind it, you We don’t care so much about your privacy.”

Di Ya nodded repeatedly, and asked in confusion, “But why do the three options of garter stockings, glasses, and battle clothes appear together? What question will ask this?”

Ya Xiu shook his head and started directly to the third question, but soon put down the headset and said to the operators: “The third question is all noise. The only word I can hear clearly is ‘question’, even the questions and options. It’s all chaotic. I picked one at random and it was wrong.”

Seeing that his expression didn’t seem to be fake, Jian Ji and the witch also believed him-if Asia Xiuzhen could use this loophole to keep getting the correct answer, they would be frightened instead.

Many magicians are not afraid of offending the * master, but they are all in awe of Xujing. For example, the * master is like the boss of a company. Although he is in charge of his own jobs, even if you stealthily embezzle the company’s assets, the * master will not care much; the virtual world is the bank. Do you dare to seize the loopholes in the bank and destroy it?

The fate question and answer is over, and the next question is naturally.

Originally, Ya Xiu and the others had prepared questions for a long time—just like the first question and answer of Destiny, they wanted to ask for information about Colorful Tail.

Although their Golden Wings have not yet unfolded, with the absorption speed of the “Alchemy Throne” and the increase in training brought by the sports car, I am afraid that it will not take more than one month to complete the process of other magicians for one year.

However, the expansion of the Golden Wings is only a basic requirement for the promotion of the Three Wings. Countless magicians have been stuck in the faction realm for several decades, but they cannot break through the sanctuary realm. Although the Sword Fairy and Witches are all geniuses, they want to upgrade their major faction to the sanctuary level within a few months or even a year, unless they can eat the experience orb as a crab bean.

Ya Xiu estimated that only by killing the Fish Slayer Clan of the Time Continent would it be possible to feed Sword Fairy into a sanctuary level. UU reading www.uukanshu.com

Therefore, it is absolutely not a loss to find the colorful tail. Coupled with the successful experience of the golden fish, they certainly want to experience the joy of smuggling again.

However, in Ya Xiu’s second listening material, the ‘future him’ has already clearly hinted how to use this fate question and answer.

“The ‘future you’ emphasizes the importance of secret avatars.” Sonia said, “and our current utilization of secret avatars is close to zero. Concept avatars themselves are secret poisons. I dare not ask about the information. I can’t find anything here... If you want to know how to use the Secret Avatar, you can only use this opportunity.”

Ya Xiu nodded: “Now we have two opportunities to ask questions. We can ask about the usage of the Secret Incarnation once, and once for the information on the colorful tail.”

After a brief discussion, it was decided that Diya who answered correctly once asked about Qi Caiwei, and Ya Xiu who answered twice correctly asked about the secret incarnation—Qi Caitail must belong to the knowledge of the secret poison level. No matter who asked the question, the Void Realm would definitely answer vaguely; However, the usage of the secret incarnation is not a secret poison. The more questions that Ya Xiu answers, the more effective information will definitely be obtained.

Of course, they still have to pay attention to the questioning skills, otherwise the virtual world answers "The best use of the secret incarnation is for the commander of the heroic soul", then they will be dumbfounded.

Ah Xiu asked: "With our current resources, how can we effectively develop secret avatars?"

Xujing answered in detail: "①Use the 'aquatic thread' to restrain the spiritist spirit, and then use the 'anger sword' and 'xie light slash' to aim at the spiritist spirit, the threatened secret incarnation will share the first power; ②strike Kill a Spider Tower commander, turn on the Spider Tower arms, and the secret avatar will share the second power."
