

Catch Me If You Love Me

Chapter 44

But everything is too late.

When the car ran into the woman without hesitation, Zoey Gu closed his eyes subconsciously, and a smile of relief appeared at the corner of his mouth.

Finally, she can personally send the enemy on the road.

Bang!

A huge impact sounded in my ears.

Zoey Gu's car slammed into something with great strength, and then slammed back. She rushed high and fell back into the driver's seat.

She trembled and opened her eyes abruptly, and found that a black off-road vehicle rushed in front of the car at some unknown time and stood in front of her.

Seeing the tall figure leaning against the car, Zoey Gu trembled all over.

It's Liam Lu!

It was his car, and when she was about to hit Lydia Lin, it abruptly stood in front of her!

The lights of the bridgehead were dim, shining dimly on him, making his face look more and more gloomy. He was wearing a hospital gown, and Liam Lu's body seemed a little unsteady.

"Zoey Gu!"

Liam Lu bit her name fiercely, endured the pain in his leg and ran to her car a few steps, only to drag her out.

"Intentionally hitting people, do you know what you are doing?!"

Zoey Gu stubbornly held the steering wheel, only to feel that a steady stream of coldness was pouring out.

"This is my own business, you don't need to worry about it! Drive your car away, get out of it!"

She tried her best to attract the femme fatale Lydia Lin, and she wouldn't just give up like that.

Liam Lu closed his eyes vigorously. It seemed that it took a lot of effort to calm himself down. He reached out from the window and clasped her shoulders firmly.

"I spent 30 million to get your life back. I don't allow you to lose it casually because of anyone! Zoey, you are obedient, the person you are going to hit..."

A huge force pushed Liam Lu out.

Unexpectedly, he staggered back a few steps, and there was a heart-piercing pain in his leg. Before standing still, the door of the car was suddenly opened.

Zoey Gu jumped out of the car and threw his hand towards Liam Lu.

Snapped!

Liam Lu's face shifted, and he immediately tasted blood between his lips.

Zoey Gu was trembling all over, staring at him with red eyes.

"Liam Lu, please stay away from me!"

"I used to kneel on the ground and beg you, sitting in a cold house and waiting for you to tell you the truth, and pin your only hope for my father and brother to live. You didn't give me hope, and now I don't need it!"

Zoey Gu roared hoarse, his eyes filled with hatred and disappointment.

Liam Lu was stunned, an obscure light flashed in his eyes, and his tall body shook silently.

Seeing that he was almost unsteady, Zoey Gu's heart tightened, and he subconsciously wanted to move forward. Seeing that he could stand still, he cut his face severely, and said coldly.

"Step aside!"

After speaking, she stepped past him and rushed forward.

Today, no matter what, even if she loses herself, she must send Lydia Lin to the west!

In the next second, Liam Lu buckled his waist and pulled it back into his arms. The more she struggled, the more the man was imprisoned and hardly gave her a chance to break free.

Zoey Gu's face turned pale.

“Liam Lu, don’t let me hate you!”

He stared down at her face, gritted his teeth and said.

“You must let that woman die, right? Well, I’ll give you a chance!”
