

Super Rich Dad Chapter 461-463

Chapter 461

Seeing the visitor, the man in the blue suit burst into laughter, 'Haha, what a way to say it, look it's already here.'

As he spoke, the man had already walked up to him, reached out and handed him the file bag and whispered, 'Feng Gong, the results are out!'

The man in the blue suit nodded. He seemed to know exactly what the results would be in the next few years from the other man's face, which was full of smiles.

It was the very moment the file bag landed in the blue-suited man's hand that almost all the media present focused their attention on his hand.

A dozen cameras were even chattering away at his hand.

'Engineer Feng, quickly unwrap the, everyone wants to know now, what is the result inside this!' A sudden recognition shouted out.

'That's right, we've been waiting all day, isn't that what the result is all about? Just open it up and announce it to the public.'

'Hey, this is going to be a good show!'

The people in the room chattered. There was a lot of hot debate, with some saying that the results here were bound to show that there were problems with the quality of the City South project, and others saying that there were no problems.

And just as the debate was at its most heated, the man in the blue suit placed his hand directly on the file bag. It seemed ready to open her up.

But it was at this point that his hand suddenly stopped, and he seemed to have thought of something, a smile appearing at the corner of his mouth.

With a sudden reach, he handed the file bag to Ye Yunjie at the side and said with a smile, 'I think it's better for Miss Ye to take a look at the results herself, lest we say that I've done something tampering, don't you think so?'

Ye Yunjie hummed and took the item without ceremony, saying in a low voice, 'If you want to do tampering, you probably would have done it already, would you still allow it until now? You're afraid you're not scared, are you?'

The other party shrugged his shoulders and said with a smile, 'Think what you want, call in quickly, I didn't read it, I don't know the result either, I'm just as eager as everyone else to know what kind of result is inside.'

Ye Yunjie glanced at the other party and directly cut open the file bag and took out the documents directly from inside.

There were more than twenty of those documents. They were all test data for various items, and at the end of all the data was a summary test report.

Ye Yunjie couldn't wait and flipped straight to the end and looked at the last line.

However, she should have smiled with relief after reading it, but her smile was no longer waiting for her, instead, her face was full of shock and dismay!

Ye Yunjie pupils contracted, astonished face stared at the last few lines of text on that report sheet, the whole face of the person changed abruptly.

'No it can't be!' Ye Yunjie suddenly slapped the table and shouted, 'Absolutely impossible, this data you have falsified, something is wrong!'

This action of Ye Yunjie really stunned everyone present.

The crowd looked at Ye Yunjie with blank faces, while many media who reacted quickly rushed to point their cameras at Ye Yunjie and captured her shocked scene.

'Miss Ye, may I ask what's wrong? Is it that this report says that the City South project really has quality problems?'

Suddenly, someone at the scene spoke up and asked a direct question.

And the heart seemed to be a start. Immediately afterwards, there were people asking questions to Ye Yunjie one after another.

'Miss Ye, it can't really be like that, can it? Then what did you mean by your words just now? Do you not want to admit the test results? Or are you trying to backtrack? Can you tell me clearly?'

'Miss Ye, please show us the test results, we are also very curious about what is going on'

The scene was full of words, and there was a lot of chaos for a while.

Only at this moment Ye Yunjie's mind was long gone from this side.

She seemed to be insulated from all messages from the outside world, looking at the test results in front of her, and was simply dumbfounded.

On the contrary, the man in the blue suit beside her, after seeing Ye Yunjie's performance, snorted out a laugh.

'Miss Ye? What's wrong, why are you reacting so violently? Is it true that I have been overstated, no, no, no, this should not be blamed on me, it can only be blamed on your City South project is really problematic ah, haha. Really congratulations Oh no, look at my mouth, I really sympathize with you ah!'

At this moment, Ye Yunjie finally came back to her senses. She glared viciously at the other party and said in a low tone, 'You guys did the trick, right?'

The man in the blue suit smiled and immediately made an innocent face as he said loudly, 'Aiya, did everyone hear that? We have social credibility, okay? To put it bluntly, we are the judges. How dare we do such a thing? How dare we do something like that? You think too highly of me, don't you, Miss Ye? Oh, you can't be like that, you can't just accuse us wrongly when something goes wrong with your City South project and you don't want to accept it, can you? We are really wronged!'

This blue-suited man's words were, to put it bluntly, meant for the dozens of media present, because he knew very well. Whether it was his own words or Ye Yunjie's, they would inevitably be recorded in the end and would eventually reach the ears of everyone in Chu Jiang.

And the more this happens, the more interesting it will be, so let's see what else Ye Yunjie has to say. It is estimated that by tomorrow, as long as all the media present will broadcast all the events of today, both the City South project and Ye Yunjie herself will become a street rat, everyone will shout.

In this way, his purpose had been achieved.

Immediately afterwards, the man in the blue suit spoke up again, 'Miss Ye, show us the results, no matter what the results are, you can't do this, can you? We agreed to make it public. Are you backtracking? Oh, you said we counted you, then you have to show me how I counted you, right?'

After saying the words. Before he could wait for Ye Yunjie to react, he came out from Ye Yunjie as soon as he could.

'Everyone, everyone be quiet for a moment. Listen to me read the results of this, and I'll let everyone take pictures later, see? This has our department's official seal withheld on it, it's binding!'

'Herewith. After our department has rechecked the test, we have tested 22 major indicators of the Chujiang City South project, 14 of which are qualified items and eight of which are failed indicators, two of which are seriously unqualified and are hereby determined to be'

The man in the blue suit read aloud all the words on top of the test report sheet, and after he finished reading it, the whole conference site was dead silent.

The reason is that at first everyone thought that for such an important project as the City South project, even if one of the items failed to pass the test, it would be just an isolated case.

But no one expected that more than a third of the major items would fail!

'Is this a f*cking tofu-dreg project?'

Suddenly a man shouted loudly, 'One third of the project quality is not up to standard, you are treating human life as a child's play, right? Thousands of people will be living and working here after the completion of the South City project, are you trying to kill people?'

The man's words just fell. Immediately after that, another person stood up and pointed at Ye Yunjie, shouting angrily, 'Humph. You black-hearted businessmen, you're all just people who eat people without spitting out their bones, do human blood buns smell good? Don't you guys have nightmares at night?'

There were people present. After the man in the blue suit finished reading out the quality test report, the room exploded in a flash.

It was almost instant. Ye Yunjie became the target of everyone present.

Everyone stood up from their chairs, some were full of surprise, some were filled with righteous indignation, and some pointed at Ye Yunjie, spewing out words that were hard to hear.

On the contrary, it was the man in the blue suit who had a smug look on his face at this moment.

To be honest, this result was almost exactly what he had expected.

The so-called promise he had made earlier was just a trap he was setting for Ye Yunjie step by step, and he seemed to know very well. Ye Yunjie would jump into it.

'Aiyaya, I really didn't expect it, the south of the city project is actually such a serious problem, Miss Ye, you can't just keep quiet, right? Shouldn't you speak up and say something? After all, you just made a promise in front of everyone present!' The man in the blue suit said with a smile.

Ye Yunjie's face was sometimes green and sometimes white, there was no doubt that this incident today had almost caught her off guard, even now. She still felt a little unbelievable.

Of course, the first thought that came to Ye Yunjie's mind was that the report issued by the other party was a fake.

After all, Ye Yunjie knew very well that her sister Ye Xiaorou was personally in charge of the Chengnan project, and although Ye Xiaorou was still young, she would not have made such a mistake, right?

You know, the record of making such a fatal mistake is simply like late at night. A candle placed in your hand, either you are blind. How else could you not notice it, not spot it?

It is absolutely inconceivable!

In that case, there is only one possibility, the report is a fake. It was a fake that the other party had deliberately created against themselves!

Ye Yunjie furiously and fiercely glared at the incomparably smug blue-suited man and suddenly got up and shouted, 'You think it's funny, don't you?'

Ye Yunjie turned to look at those people who were shouting madly at her, and said loudly with a cold face, 'Everyone, please be quiet, I have two words to say!'

Ye Yunjie's words had just fallen. A voice came from the crowd.

'What else do you have to say? Now that the results have come out, you'd better think about how to give a reasonable explanation and account to all of us, to the people of Chu Jiang!'

The person who spoke was the same person who had just been the first to rise up and call the City South project a tofu-dreg project, and Ye Yunjie had also noticed that this person always jumped the farthest, obviously. Either this person had a grudge against himself, or he had come with a stance. He didn't even want to hear himself out.

At this moment, Ye Yunjie had also gradually calmed down a bit from the shock and dismay she felt just now.

She looked at the man coldly. Suddenly, she said, 'Why can't I explain? Can you just bite the bullet and say that there is no possibility of falsifying this data?'

Ye Yunjie gave a cold snort. She continued, 'I think if all of you here still remember, just last year, this engineer's department had a black gold scandal, and it seems that on that occasion, their data was falsified, right? Why can't I be suspicious of a department with a history of falsifying results? Why can't I give myself an explanation?'

This incident that Ye Yunjie said just now, in fact, the numerous people present all had an impression of it.

It was because that incident was quite a sensation in Chu Jiang.

The person involved at that time was also this Feng engineer, and the other important participant on the other side of the incident was also none other than the Chujiang Xu family.

At that time, this incident seemed to have caused considerable pressure on the Xu family, and many people even advocated a thorough investigation of this Feng engineer.

However, the end of the matter was a surprise. Not only was the other party to the incident, the Xu family, unharmed, but the project involved was still going smoothly.

On the contrary, he became the head of the quality control business only seven weeks after the incident.

The incident ended up being settled, and the person concerned was not only not punished, but was also promoted and given a pay rise, a matter that too many people in Chujiang have not forgotten and even still remember.

So after Ye Yunjie revealed this matter, the agitated crowd in the room immediately quieted down a lot.

After all, Ye Yunjie's words were justified. A person with a previous record, who casually produced a so-called result, wanted to sentence a project as big as the City South project to death?

That is purely a dream.

Chapter 463

Ye Yunjie then added: 'And I have already commissioned a third-party testing agency, the results there are not yet available, so I hope everyone will rest easy, I, Ye Yunjie, hereby promise that if the third-party test results, if they are completely in line with this test results, then I have no complaints and will fully comply with my previous promise!'

Since Ye Yunjie had already put her words out there. That meant that she had already made up her mind to throw in the towel.

The crowd present, after hearing Ye Yunjie's words, gradually calmed down their emotions.

Ye Yunjie turned to look at the blue-suited man again and sneered, 'Are you happy, is it too early?'

The other party did not say anything when he heard that, but only looked at Ye Yunjie with a gloomy face and said indifferently, 'Fine. Then it's good to wait for the results.'

Finally Ye Yunjie glanced at Jiang Hao, who was sitting at the side, and she was stunned to find that on Jiang Hao's face, there was even a hint of unease.

More than two hours had quickly passed since the incident. Everyone in the room was both full of anticipation and a little impatient for the third-party test results.

Some people even whispered with their heads down.

It was true that whoever was waiting for this kind of test would feel a bit tormented and uneasy.

Especially Ye Yunjie, who was already in a precarious situation because of the test report issued by the man in the blue suit. If the third-party test results really turned out to be unexpected, it would be a big blow to him and to the City South project.

While thinking, Ye Yunjie gazed towards the seven weeks, she couldn't help but frown, because for the whole day today, Ye Yunjie hadn't seen Ye Xiaorou's figure.

Normally, if Ye Xiaorou had something going on, she would basically inform Ye Yunjie. Moreover, for such an important occasion today, Ye Xiaorou would have secretly squeezed into the crowd even though her identity was hidden.

However, after Ye Yunjie had looked around twice, she didn't see her sister, so she couldn't help but feel a little curious.

But at that moment, another group of people walked in at the launch site.

At the head of these people were the members of Lei's team that Ye Yunjie had sent to supervise the third party testing agency.

And beside the Lei team members were three people from the third party testing agency.

The man from that third party testing agency had a serious face and was carrying a silver and white coded box in his hand.

As soon as this group of people entered the door, almost all eyes were drawn to them.

Some people even had a look of excitement on their faces as they muttered something in a low voice.

The man walked straight up to Ye Yunjie and the man in the blue suit, nodded slightly in greeting, and then said: 'Miss Ye, Engineer Feng, here are the test results of our agency for the sampling from the project in the south of the city, please rest assured that our agency is a Class A testing agency, and every result issued by our agency is legally valid and responsible, and is fair and objective. If you disagree with the test results later, you can ask another testing institute to conduct another test. If they disagree with the test results, they can ask another testing agency to carry out the test, and if the results of my agency prove to be faulty, then my agency is willing to be responsible to the end.'

After this man finished his speech, he looked at Ye Yunjie and the man in the blue suit with a serious face and said, 'Then may I ask, can we announce the test results now?'

Ye Yunjie took a slight deep breath, nodded and said, 'Of course, please announce the results, so that some people can shut up!'

Hearing Ye Yunjie's words, the blue-suited man on the side snorted with laughter as he looked at Ye Yunjie and teased, 'Miss Ye, are you sure? Or I think it's better to forget about it, in case the result of this audit is the same as the result we issued. Then you really won't have any room for regret!'

'Regret?' Ye Yunjie sneered, 'I don't know what regret is, I would like to ask, it's not that you are afraid, is it? If you are afraid. Then it's better to admit in public that you faked the test report, and save everyone the trouble.'

The other party snorted and muttered in a low voice, 'Arrogant and arrogant!'

He then said to the third-party testing agency, 'All right, hurry up and release the results. So that everyone can die!'

Upon hearing this, the man from the third-party testing agency nodded, entered a string of passwords, opened the password box and pulled out a pile of test reports from it.

The man looked at the many media present. Bowing slightly, he said, 'Everyone, previously my agency was commissioned by Miss Ye Yunjie to take samples from the various project sites of the City South project and did all categories of testing, and now I am going to announce the results as follows

This third-party testing agency, firstly, said a whole bunch of data that no one could understand, for more than half an hour. Only then did he finally get to the final point.

And during that time, the entire conference site was silent, everyone was waiting for that result to be announced.

The man suddenly looked back at Ye Yunjie, a hint of helplessness showing in his gaze.

He also saw that at this moment, Ye Yunjie's expression seemed to be unusually nervous as well.

Ye Yunjie was indeed incredibly nervous, clutching a cold sweat in her hands.

It was clear that a single word from this man would determine the life and death of the City South project.

'I announce that, after our agency took samples from the City South project, we have tested 14 of the 22 major indicators of the Chu Jiang City South project, and the indexes of these items are up to standard. But eight of them did not meet the engineering design commitment standards, two of the indicators for serious failure, this result is my agency's authoritative testing, if in doubt. Please other agencies involved in testing approved

After this man's words, the whole scene once again fell into a dead silence.

Everyone froze and looked towards Ye Yunjie, as if to see how Ye Yunjie would react.

The person from the third party testing agency. After reading out the results, he bowed slightly to everyone and then said to Ye Yunjie, 'Miss Ye, the testing work that you entrusted to my agency has been completed. We have completed it, and I am deeply sorry for this result, but that is how it turned out. If you have doubts, you can apply for other institutions to review the results, and you can also contact my institution through the legal department

After saying that the man turned around and left.

But this time, Ye Yunjie was really frozen in place, her face as white as paper.

'How can this be?' Ye Yunjie gritted her teeth fiercely, with a face of disbelief.

'Huh, impossible? How is it impossible?' The blue-suited man smiled and immediately shot up, pointing at Ye Yunjie and arrogantly chiding, 'Ye Yunjie, do you have anything to say now? There is something wrong with your City South project, do you still want to argue?
