

Chapter 468 Self-Deception

Maximilian decided to interrogate them. He also felt something wrong and had to interrogate them in person.

"OK. I'll be there later, and you should tell your men."

"I've already told them. I will send you the location, and you can go there directly."

Connor hung up the phone and quickly sent the location of the forestry station to Maximilian.

Maximilian looked at the approximate location and snapped with a smile, "All right. The construction site has been settled, and those who made trouble have been caught. I will go over and interrogate them to see if there is someone behind this."

"Master, I'll drive you there." Canaan smiled obsequiously.

"I'm going, too. I haven't seen the interrogation yet. Is it exciting like in the movies? I'm going to learn from it." Flora said.

Victoria glanced at Flora, and then at Maximilian.

Victoria certainly could not stand the bloody situation in the interrogation, but she would feel jealous if Flora went there with Maximilian. Victoria always worried that Flora and Maximilian would have an affair.

Just when Victoria was hesitating, the office door was pushed open. Iris in sexy clothes came in.

Iris froze slightly when she saw so many people in the office. Seeing Flora, Iris suddenly became embarrassed.

After that night, Iris's thoughts had changed, and she decided to seduce Maximilian and separate him from Victoria. For so many years, Iris was as blind as a bat and did not recognize Maximilian's strength, which made her regret it a lot.

"Hello, everyone. I...I'm here to apologize to Maximilian. I have made so many mistakes over the years. I hope you can forgive me. I will definitely make a clean break with my past errors." Iris whispered with her head down.

Maximilian and Victoria looked at Iris with confusion and did not understand what she was doing.

"Are you sick? Or you are crazy after being frightened that night?" Maximilian said doubtfully.

"I know I was wrong, and I'll never do that again. I'll treat you with absolute respect in the future, or you can sit down and I'll give you a massage." Iris said obsequiously.

Victoria rubbed her forehead and felt as if the whole world had suddenly changed. How could Iris suddenly change her personality?

"Iris, stop making trouble. Maximilian has something to do. You'd better go back to work. I'll accept your apology for Maximilian." Victoria tried to save Maximilian out of trouble.

Maximilian nodded, "I have things to do outside. If you can correct your mistakes immediately, you are a good girl. Go back and be a good girl."

Iris rolled her eyes and realized that Maximilian would go out to handle other affairs. She thought it a good opportunity to get closer to Maximilian.

Looking at Flora with her head tilted, Iris squinted and said, "You don't go out with Maximilian, do you?"

"Why can't I go out with him, I just want to do so. You are jealous, aren't you? If so, go to visit Luke." Flora said unceremoniously.

The name of Luke had become a scar in Iris's heart. At the moment, it was unveiled by Flora relentlessly, which made Iris gnash her teeth tightly.

"Humph. You are a coquette. Do you have a crush on Maximilian? I warn you. Maximilian is my family member. How dare you? Victoria, you should be careful of this girl, or I will help you watch Maximilian and go out with him."

After saying that, Iris looked at Flora complacently and thought it a perfect excuse. Flora became furious and gnashed her teeth tightly. She even wanted to bite her.

They looked at each other bitterly and neither of them wanted to lose the fight.

Canaan stood aside and looked at them, feeling as if he was watching a palace drama. He felt that his master was really a peerless great.

No woman would care about an ordinary man! And they would never compete with each other for an ordinary man. Maximilian was a man causing a fight between two women. It was proved that he was an excellent man indirectly.

Maximilian cursed in his mind and could not understand why he suddenly became an attractive man. He felt puzzled like falling into a dream.

"Victoria, how about you go with me." Maximilian said in a relatively low voice.

Going out with his wife, he could avoid girls with evil thoughts. At the same time, Maximilian was trying to prove his innocence.

"I won't go. Since Iris wants to go, let her follow you. Come back as soon as possible. Call me in time."

If Iris followed Maximilian, Victoria would certainly rest assured. At the very least, Iris would absolutely keep Flora far away from Maximilian.

Besides, Victoria did not like interrogation and felt it was better not to experience those horrible things.

Maximilian scratched his head helplessly. He had no choice but to take Flora and Iris out. Canaan ran out to drive and seemed to be addicted to be Maximilian's driver.

Maximilian sat at the front seat of the Mercedes-Benz, whereas Iris and Flora sat in the back. As soon as they got into the car, they glared at each other angrily, as if they were desperately trying to kill each other with their eyes.

After setting the navigation, Maximilian put the phone on the center panel and asked Canaan to drive according to the navigation.

Iris stared at Flora and said, "Who are you? Why do you follow Maximilian all day? What you are trying to do? Do you want to seduce Maximilian?"

"Even if I wanna seduce Maximilian, it's none of your business. He's not yours. Besides, Victoria let me stay at their house." Flora replied without fear as if to defend her territory.

Iris goggled her eyes because she could never imagine that Victoria would allow Flora to live in her home. It was so convenient for them to have an affair!

Maybe Victoria knew she could not dominate Maximilian, so Flora had come over to be an ally? Iris thought of many plots and pressed her lips hard, thinking about the possible ways to compete for favor.

Flora glanced at Iris and felt that she had won this round, which made her proud.

"Maximilian, do you think she's so cheeky? She had slept with Luke last time and asked him to make trouble for you. Now she realizes that Luke is not as good as you, and flatters you in turn."

"You! What are you talking about? Who slept with Luke? I didn't sleep with him!" Iris screamed like a cat with its tail stepped on.

"Ho ho, you are deluding yourself."

She thinks we don't know, doesn't she, Maximilian?" Flora asked coquettishly.

Chapter 469 Hit the Mark by a Fluke

On the way to the forestry station, someone appeared in greenbelt near the construction site.

He sneaked around and then quickly ran out of the area. He found a quiet place and took out a cellular phone to make calls.

"Sir, it's not good. Some local people in H City went here and arrested all of us. I...I was lucky and escaped. I heard them saying that they were going to take our people to the forestry station."

Lear was discussing the plan to deal with Maximilian. After hearing that, he frowned and looked extremely nervous.

"Waste! You are all waste! Why are you so useless?"

"Sir, we are useless indeed, but there are too many people on their side. Nearly ten of them beat one of us. How could we win?"

"Fuck you! I don't want to listen to your excuse. Figure out where they were taken. I want a specific location! "

After saying that, Lear threw the phone on the table.

Ghost II, Easton, and others looked at Lear, waiting for him to explain what was going on.

"My guys are making trouble at the construction site of the Griffiths. I don't know why the local rogues in H City came. They took all my men to a forestry station. I don't know which forestry station it is and will ask someone to figure it out." Lear explained to them with embarrassment.

"Your people have been caught? Probably Maximilian asked Connor to do so." Ghost II knew the situation better and had made a correct guess.

"Tell me what to do. I've planned to make trouble for Maximilian to stand out. Maybe it's screwed up. If they are sent by Maximilian, I am afraid they will interrogate them. At least my whereabouts will be exposed."

Lear said nervously. He rubbed his temples hard and felt pain in the brain.

Ghost II hesitated for a second and thought maybe it was an opportunity. He took out his phone and sent a few messages. He immediately got a reply from his men who were stalking Maximilian. Maximilian was on the way to the suburbs, which was the direction to the forestry station.

"Ah ha, Lear, you make it unintentionally, but it just gives us a good opportunity." Ghost II said with excitement.

"What do you mean? You are laughing at me?" Lear said unhappily.

"No, no, no. I don't laugh at you. It's a really good opportunity. The latest news is that Maximilian is on his way to the forestry station. I guess Maximilian went to interrogate your men."

"Then why it's a good chance? My men will definitely spit out, and my identity will be exposed." Lear said confusedly.

"It doesn't matter. What matters is that Maximilian went alone. It is said that he just takes some ordinary people. We only need to take our guys to surround the forestry station now, and then rush in."

"Think about it. We have so many men, and when we rushed in, Maximilian could not defeat us.

Besides, if we catch someone around him as hostages, we can threaten him. At that time, we can do what we want to Maximilian."

Ghost II thought his plan was absolutely reliable, and the forestry station was a perfect place for open fights. The secret service team and Stefan's guys can be deployed in the first place.

In addition, he had these masters as the trump card. Maximilian could not fly out at that time and could only surrender.

Stefan patted the table excitedly, stood up, and said loudly, "It's absolutely a good plan. I support it with both hands. All my guys are at your disposal."

Ghost II looked at Lear, Easton, and others, and said mysteriously, "The masters of my school are coming soon."

I will ask them to join us in the forestry station. You don't have to worry."

"Cheers!" Lear proposed a toast. He had to fight against Maximilian with a firm hand to avenge an insult.

Easton and others hesitated and felt that Ghost II's plan was reliable, as he had brought so many masters. Then there was not much to worry about. If they really could not beat Maximilian, the masters would support them.

"Cheers."

"Actually Maximilian is nobody. I'll join you."

Masters declared their stands one after another and soon everyone agreed to take part in the action.

Ghost II began to assign tasks. After assigning all the personnel and tasks, he shouted, "Let's get the ball rolling!"

They left the room together and drove with their subordinates to the forestry station.

Maximilian had no idea that a big team against him had already started, and he was sitting in the passenger seat with a headache.

Flora and Iris in the back seat quarreled with each other all the way. They just reasoned things out and did not resort to force.

Maximilian tried to make peace several times but failed, so he could only close his eyes and pretended he could hear nothing.

Canaan smiled secretly and whispered to Maximilian, "Master, this is the so-called happy trouble."

"Damn happy trouble. I have only troubles without happiness. Why are they doing so? It's impossible."

Maximilian rubbed his eyebrows to reflect, wondering what mistake he had made, and why Iris changed her attitude toward him.

Maybe Iris had upgraded her methods. She felt that the previous routine failed, so she changed a routine, didn't she?'

Maximilian felt more puzzled, and finally he simply stopped thinking. If Iris had a purpose, he would simply take measures according to the actual situation.

Moments later, the car run into the forestry station, and Connor's men helped Maximilian pull open the door.

"Mr. Lee, I am Gael. I'm working for Mr. Connor. He told us to follow your orders."

When Maximilian got off the car, hundreds of people behind Gael bowed to Maximilian and shouted, "Hello, Mr. Lee!"

"Hello everyone! You have worked hard. Let's have a rest first." Maximilian said with his hand behind his back as if it were a review.

Canaan, Flora, and Iris were shocked by this scene. There was a sparkle of excitement in Iris' eyes and she became more determined to hook up with Maximilian.

Compared with the second-generation rich she knew, Iris felt they were all mediocre people and was much inferior to Maximilian.

"Mr. Lee, the strangers are all locked up inside. I've found out their leader. The man is called Darius. He's stubborn and reluctant to say the person behind him."

Gael introduced the situation while taking Maximilian and others to the nearest room.

Pushing open the door and entering the room, Gael said coldly, "Darius, Mr. Lee has come to interrogate you. You should cooperate with us. The saw for logging is ready outside. If you don't tell us honestly, you will be sawed and fed to the dogs!"

"Oh, come on. Just saw me!"

Chapter 470 Acting

Darius showed an indifferent expression. He did not care about Gael's threat at all. They were all working for gangdom. He had been frequently threatened before and heard the threat of killing the whole family many times.

Gael felt that he had lost his face in front of Maximilian, so he rushed to Darius directly and kicked his chest. Darius fell to the ground.

"Ah!"

With a scream of mourning, Darius looked at Gael with a cruel expression, "Oh, come on, and continue to kick me. If you are capable, just kill me. If you fail, you are a fucking coward."

"You're so arrogant! I have to kill you today!" Gael kicked Darius several times, making him roll on the ground.

Flora pretended to be afraid and immediately hid behind Maximilian, holding his arm tightly with both hands.

"Maximilian, his eyes look terrible."
Flora said softly.

Iris glanced at Flora and said with a sneer, "You are so affected. Do you think that if you pretend to be soft and weak, Maximilian will like you? It's impossible. I have to look after Maximilian for Victoria."

Iris's words were full of threats, and with Victoria's "support", Iris did not care about Flora at all. She just wondered how to seduce Maximilian.

It was all her fault to offend Maximilian before, so it was hard to flatter him now. She was extremely regretful!

Flora pouted and hated Iris so much secretly. She really wanted to kick Iris to the moon, so that she could not hinder the further development of her relationship with Maximilian.

Canaan lowered his head, looked at his nose, and kept silent like a clay bodhisattva. He did not dare to look or say anything.

Gael stopped when he was tired, wiping the sweat on his forehead, and said, "Mr. Lee, I can't pry this guy's mouth at all."

"It's OK. To deal with the fool, you can only threaten him with his life." Maximilian said tonelessly and stepped over to Darius.

Flora followed Maximilian and looked at the ferocious expressions of Darius at close range. She screamed and hugged Maximilian's waist directly with both hands.

"Ah, it's terrible. It's scary." Flora shouted in panic.

Maximilian grabbed Flora's hands speechlessly and pulled them away, "If you are afraid, go out and wait. There will be more terrible scenes later."

"I, I don't want to go out. If I go out, I will be afraid. Only when I am with you, will I feel safe." Flora said in pettish.

Canaan could not help but cover his face with both hands. When they watch Nuron punch boxers in the training match, he was almost scared to pee, while Flora still watched with relish. Nothing had happened at this moment, but she began to pretend to be so afraid. Maybe men could not read women's thoughts.

Iris went over angrily and grabbed Flora's arm, taking her away directly.

"Don't pretend. We are not blind. You are so affected. Just stay away and keep quiet."

Iris took Flora to the door and stared at Flora with her hands rested on her hips.

Flora pouted and tears appeared in her eyes, "Maximilian, she bullies me. You should stop her."

"Oh, you dare to stop me. You should stop yourself first." Iris said directly.

Hearing their conversation, Maximilian felt annoyed and said coldly, "If you say another word, I will send you away. Keep quietly against the wall!"

"It's you. Do you fucking understand?" Iris pushed Flora to the wall.

Flora was nervous. She thought it was the hardest thing to enter Maximilian's family, but when she was stopped by Iris just now, she felt it more difficult to deal with this girl.

Iris was deliberately and diametrically opposed to her! She must find a way to keep Maximilian away from this bitch! Flora pondered quickly on how to get rid of Iris.

Seeing they finally became quiet, Maximilian exhaled deeply and dropped his foot on Darius's hand.

Darius felt pain in his fingers and instinctively wanted to pull his hand out. He suddenly pulled his hand hard. However, he failed and almost dislocated his wrist.

Maximilian sneered and said, "If you tell us honestly, I can let you live. Otherwise, I will not only kill you, but also break every bone of you, and you will spend the rest of your life in bed, hoping someone can take good care of you until you die."

Darius shivered with fear and imagined the scene that he could only lie on the bed, unable to move. At that time, he did not know if he could be taken good care of. Also, maybe his enemy would go over to kill him.

However, the terrible scene only appeared in his mind for a second, and soon Darius said firmly, "Oh, don't try to scare me. I am not afraid. I've seen all kinds of cruel people and situations. I am not afraid at all."

" Really? I hope you won't be afraid later. "

Then Maximilian step on and crushed Darius's palm hard.

Crunch! Crunch!

A crisp fracture of bones could be heard, followed by Darius' screams.

The nerves of the fingertips are linked with the heart, so the pain of fingers was generally very acute. As Maximilian trampled his hand, the metacarpal bones of Darius' right finger were broken into slugs. It was so painful that Darius beat the ground severely with his left hand.

"Just fucking kill me, you coward. Don't torture me like this!"

"As long as you honestly tell us, you won't suffer and will be treated cordially. We'll send you home safely." Maximilian said with a smile.

Looking at the smile on Maximilian's face, Darius felt he had seen the real devil's smile.

This smile was too scary. With the severe pain in his at the moment, Darius instantly collapsed and could no longer support it.

"You'll let me go if I tell you? And release my brothers?" Darius asked doubtfully.

"Sure. I'm very trustworthy and as good as my words."

"OK, then I will say. What do you want to know?" Darius finally gave in.

Gael scratched his head, thinking that Mr. Lee was powerful and cruel enough. He crushed the hand of Darius without hesitation. He was a malicious person.

Iris looked at Flora and saw that there was no panic on Flora's face. She whispered, "Why don't you pretend to be afraid? Humph!"

"There is nothing to be afraid of. He just screamed, and his expression was not as horrible as before. Stupid."

Chapter 471 Listen to you

"Who asked you to come here? What else did you do besides making trouble at the construction site? Tell me all the plans you know." Maximilian asked, staring straightly at Darius.

Darius smiled bitterly, "We were with Master Stevens, he died because of you, so Lear came out of the mountain and called us to find you to revenge for his death."

"He told me to make trouble to draw you out. I don't know other plans. The orders we have are to make trouble for you, and your construction site should not run normally."

Darius didn't know any important plan, which was under Maximilian's expectation, and people like him could only play the role of cannon fodder.

There was no possibility for him to be a participant in the core program.

"Who is Lear and where is he now?"

"Lear, Lear is a disciple of the Geomancer Sect. He is a student of Master Stevens. I have heard that he is just an ordinary figure in Geomancer Sect. But to us, he is a figure like an immortal with great skills."

"On the way here, he got a phone call and said an old friend in H City had asked him to meet him there, so he left me on the way. As for who his friend was and where he was, I couldn't know."

Darius was honest and said everything he knew, as it was wise to say what you knew when you surrendered to your enemy.

Gael came up to Maximilian and said, "Mr. Maximilian, let him tell us what he looks like. I'll have my man send the information out. We'll find him soon. Our eyes and ears are all over H City."

Not waiting for Maximilian's question, Darius said, "Lear dressed in a robe, and he was an extraordinary man, like a real fairy, about 6 feet in height, thin, with three filter whiskers."

Gael silently wrote down the description of Darius, and his mind has sketched out the general image of Lear.

"Mr. Maximilian, I'll send words to my people and let them spread it in the whole city."

Maximilian nodded, acquiesced to Gael's approach, which was at least a way out, although Maximilian thought it was a little far-fetched.

"Anything else? If there are no questions, just let us go, and we will never set foot in H City again for the rest of my life."

Darius was really scared by Maximilian and he just wanted to get out ASAP.

Maximilian smiled, unclasped his foot which was stamped Darius's right hand, and said dryly, "Well, you've been very cooperative, and I'm not going to break my word. Gael, take him and set his men free and get them out of H City."

"Yes, Mr. Maximilian."

Gael reverently answered Maximilian, and he pulled up Darius from the ground, grabbed him and went to set his team free.

Canaan thought Maximilian was too easy to talk to. Accorded to plots in the movie and TV series, it should be severely ravaged them by the end to know the plans of his team.

"Master, are you really going to let him go? Are there some ambushes waiting for Darius, and then kill them?"

"You have seen too many movies," Maximilian said, "I am an honest man. When I say let them go, I will let them go. There will be no ambush."

Maximilian rolled his eyes to Canaan.

Conner smiled awkwardly and didn't know what to say.

Iris pulled Flora up to Maximilian and said, like a schoolgirl who told on him, "She was enjoying what she saw just now, and wasn't afraid at all. Thus, she was seducing you when she said she was afraid and hugged you."

"I am not faking it. I'm just trying to be strong and don't interrupt Maximilian making decision of something big."

Flora said with a look of grievance.

"Stop!" Maximilian decided to put a stop to the tit-for-tat between the two. There was nothing he could do but to watch them fight if he let them go on like this.

"In the future, if you want to quarrel, you'd better quarrel when I am not around. I don't want to hear any more noise from you while I am here. If anyone makes a noise, I will send her away."

"Well, I listen to Maximilian." Flora said with a look of 'I am very docile'.

Iris glared at Flora, and hated her so much that the only thing she wanted to do was to directly tear off Flora's disguise, and let Maximilian see clearly Flora's intention.

Flora proudly looked at Iris, and made a grimace toward her.

"Fuck you! I'll rip your mouth off!" Iris's was on fire upon seeing her grimace.

Flora quickly hid behind and pulled the coat of Maximilian and said, "Maximilian, please protect me. She is crazy. She doesn't obey your rules."

Maximilian stretched his hand to stop Iris and said coldly, "Enough."

"What? Why are you so protective of the bitch? I'll go back and tell Victoria, and I'll see how you explain this to Victoria!"

Iris just threatened Maximilian with Victoria's reaction after hearing it.

Maximilian rubbed his brow, and decided not to bring these women out anymore because those two was making him feeling annoyed to death.

"I'll explain to Victoria, and you don't have to make a big deal out of it. I've been very lenient with you about the past."

Iris was frozen, lowering down her head slowly.

Maximilian talked about the past as if he suddenly put a hand around Iris' neck, left her unable to refute.

Looked over Maximilian's shoulder at Iris's dejected look, Flora couldn't help but give Maximilian a thumb-up in her heart.

"Master, hum, Should we go?" said Canaan, hoping to ease the awkward situation.

Maximilian shook his head and said, "Don't worry. Let's wait for Darius to leave."

Canaan looked at Maximilian with doubts, thinking that the words of Maximilian were strange.

Since there was no ambush, why should they stay to see Darius left?

Were there some big secrets if they left?

During his thinking, Darius walked out with his men, Gael with his men at the door, commanding them to leave in order.

Darius turned around and said a few words to Gael, and then took his men to the outskirts of the forestry station.

"Master, why are we overlooking these people to leave?" Canaan asked, looking at Maximilian as Darius and his men marched out, "What reward can we unlock if we see them leave?"

"We'll see. I just have a feeling, which makes me feel not good, and I am waiting to verify it."

Maximilian hugged his arms, silently watched the departure of Darius and his men.

Chapter 472 Shooting

Ghost II and Lear sat in the command vehicle of the Special Service Team, amazed by the advanced command system inside the vehicle.

"Ghost II, you've really got rich. The whole Dragon Sect is like a regular army. You've got a command car. It's really unbelievable." Lear said with surprise, as an old farmer who came to the city from the countryside recently, and everything seemed new to him.

"Is this a thermal imaging? Is this an infrared observation system? All of those are high-tech, and it's just so amazing."

Ghost II sneered, and thought Lear was out of date.

"The future depends on a strong team, and individual courage has been increasingly weakened. After all, hot weapons have been developed to the extreme. As long as there is enough firepower, even the legendary gods have to surrender."

"I understand what you're saying, but martial arts can still help you build a strong body. It's good for us to live longer. Is your team ready? It's almost time to start the assault. Let's get my men out first."

Lear was concerned about his men. Although most of them were slags, at least they were his subordinates, and he relied on them to make money in the future.

Ghost II picked up the receiver and whispered, "This is Operation Commander Ghost II. Secret Service Team, report in."

"Team one in position."

"Team two in position."

"Team three in position..."

"Team one observation post reports in. What's the situation at the forestry station? Is it ready for a raid?" Ghost II asked in detail.

"It is ready for a surprise attack, but from what I observed, it appears that the prisoners have been released. Commander-in-chief, please receive the video signal and watch the scene."

A nearby operator pressed a button and live image from the observation post appears on the screen.

Darius was talking with Gael, who waved his hand, and then Darius and his men walked out of the station. The whole process looked like Darius and Gael had reached an agreement.

"They must have fucking betrayed me!" Lear said in a disappointed mood.

Ghost II smiled, "Oh, it's normal. Betraying is the most effective way to survive, and you do not need to keep these spies. You should kill them."

Lear had some kinks. After all, there were not so many people under his command. If these guys died, he would be alone with no power.

"What? You are reluctant to part with them? You are such a big master, and those little minions are stupid to betray you." Ghost II satirized Lear.

Lear gnashed his teeth, "Who cannot bear to part with them? Fuck, I'll kill those motherfuckers!"

Ghost II grinned, picked up his receiver and said, "This is Ghost II in command. All stuff is under my command. The Secret Service Team is going to attack. The Newman family should stay for five minutes. A second wave is going to attack. Shot everyone on site."

"Roger. Secret Service is standing by for attack in 10 seconds."

Five Secret Service teams were ready, and in 10 seconds, they would head into the forestry station.

Boom! Boom! Boom!

All kinds of gunfire instantly broke out, Darius and his men, who were the first to come out, were too late to react or escape, and had become the ghost under the violent gunfire.

Looking at Darius and others who were shot, with blood spray shooting out, and trembling, Canaan directly sat on the ground.

"Ma...master, y...you said there was no ambush, why, why so many gunners come out suddenly? They are so atrocious." Canaan said with a pale face. And his whole body trembled nonstop.

Iris's face turned white, and she was terrified by the sound of gunfire. Then, she instinctively wanted to hide behind Maximilian.

"Don't make trouble if you don't want to die." said Flora, grabbing Iris tightly. "At this point, if you hold Maximilian, he can't save us."

"What? What do you mean, you can arrest him if you're afraid, why not me?" Iris said disapprovingly.

"You're an idiot." With that, her right hand struck Iris' carotid artery hard, knocking her unconscious.

Maximilian looked at Flora, surprised by her agility.

But Maximilian was relieved to know that Uncle Dixon was so good that she must have learned some real Kung Fu from him to guard against bad guys.

Flora put Iris into Canaan's arms, "Come On, let me give you a big beauty to hold. You must keep an eye on her."

"What? I'm-I'm scared." Canaan flustered a batch, the words not answering the question asked.

"I know you're scared, so I give you a beautiful woman to hold, to help you relieve your pressure."

Canaan closed his mouth, and was ready to cry at any time, but he cannot help but embrace the arms of Iris.

Gael ducked and rushed in with a pistol in his hand.

"Mr. Maximilian, we are besieged here. We came out with no weapons at hand. We can't stand the fire. I'll protect you to leave."

"We have nowhere to go under this situation. Give me your gun."

Gael hesitated, but handed the gun to Maximilian, pulled out two magazines and handed them over as well.

"I don't know where the bandits came. The fire was too fierce, and those guys were all dead. I have told my men to hide in the basement of the station, but they will surely be found later. It is impossible to break through."

Gael muttered, his words already filled with despair, as if he were going to die as a hero the next moment.

Maximilian checked his gun, looked out the window, and got a clear view of the fast-moving attack force.

"Stay here and don't move. I'll go out and get them." Maximilian said dryly.

"Brother Maximilian, be careful."
Flora pulled Maximilian's arm and looked at him affectionately with her talking eyes.

Maximilian smiled, patted Flora on her arm, and then slammed out the door.

As soon as he left the room, there were several shots toward Maximilian, but he rolled and hid behind a stone pillar quickly.

Watched the situation from left to right, Maximilian closed his eyes, listening to the shots from the front, and he already pictured the position of the enemy and the distribution of weapons.

Maximilian took a deep breath, leaped out of the pillar, and moved quickly in the sideways, pulling the trigger.

Boom! Boom! Boom!

He emptied his magazine of twelve bullets, and twelve members of the Secret Service team fell across the field.

The leader of the Secret Service team watched his men falling one by one, and his heart turned cold in a moment, shouting at the top of his voice, "Team one under attack, call for backup! Call for backup!"
