

Chapter 477

After the ceremony, it was dinner.

Although the ceremony was relatively simple, it could be seen from the feast alone that the Lu family had really used their hearts.

If you can't make a grand statement, work on something else.

The food at the banquet was exquisite and beautiful, with a wide range of colours and flavors, not something you would normally see at first glance.

Upon asking, I found out that the old lady had specially asked for a national dinner chef.

The state dinner was naturally good, and the willingness to condescend to cook for this little ceremony was more than evident in the intentions.

After the wedding feast was over, the old lady made arrangements for the guests to disperse.

Jenny Jing and Biden Lu's wedding house, or Maple Bridge Villa.

It is nestled in a beautiful landscape, with a section of winding mountain road outside, effectively forming a natural protective ring with good security.

Most importantly, it's close to the office.

For them, weddings are a formality anyway, so the wedding room doesn't matter where it's convenient to stay.

They headed out together, and Summers was already waiting outside in his car, ready to take them home.

I didn't expect to run into someone I would have never expected to meet here just before I got to the door."Jenny, here we are again."

Jenny Jing let go of Biden Lu's hand and looked at Zhuge Liufeng standing in front of him, the joyful look on his original face instantly sinking. "Mr. G." "I heard you were getting married today, so I prepared a special little congratulatory gift, but it seems I'm late to the party."

Zhuce Liufeng said, taking out a gift box from the car.

Jenny glanced over, nothing too rippling on his face. "Thanks, thoughtful."

Her tone was cold and the atmosphere was a bit stilted for a moment.

Today was the big day, after all, and no one wanted to strain the atmosphere too much.

Biden Lu gave a wink to Vicky, who was busy stepping forward and making a gesture to take the thing over.

When Zhuge Liuyong saw him, he didn't say anything, but gave him his things and said to Jenny Jing, "I know you don't want to see me, but no matter what, you're also my big brother's child, so I should come over here for your wedding, in all reason."

Jenny pursed her lips, "I know."

"Yo, isn't this Mr. Zhuge?"

A laughing banter suddenly came from behind them, and when everyone turned back, they saw Master Lu walking out with the butler's help.

Zhuce Liufeng hooked his lips, "It's been a while since I've seen you, and Master Lu's body has become more and more robust."

Master Lu looked at him with a smiling face, "It's not thanks to the blessing of your Zhuge family that you gave me such a good granddaughter-in-law, of course I'm happy, when I'm happy my bones get better."

The words all contain the element of deceitful bragging, Jenny couldn't help but draw the corners of his mouth.

"Grandpa, it's windy outside, get in the car now!"

"There's no rush, Mr. Zhuge, since you're all here, why don't you come over to my house and sit with me? After all, we're old friends. How about a casual dinner to catch up?"

Zhuge Liufeng smiled, "Since the old man is so generous with his invitation, I'll take the liberty of doing so."

Master Lu nodded and looked at Jenny next to him.

The eyes immediately softened.

"Jenny, why don't you and Shen go home with us for dinner too?"

Jenny Jing turned to look at Biden Lu and saw him nod his head in agreement.

The group then made their way back to the old house in great numbers.

The group settled in the drawing-room, and their own maids served tea.

As the old man drank his tea, he looked at Zhuge Liufeng proudly.

"Alas! Mr. Zhuge is here today to send a wedding gift to Jenny, right? What did you get? Come on! Bring it to my old man."

Master Lu's derisive intentions were as obvious as they could be.

Jenny Jing was embarrassed for him, but off to the side, the rest of them were still as calm as if nothing had happened, even the derided Zhuge Liufeng.

"I've already given the stuff to Jenny, but I can't take it out right now if the old man wants to see it."

Zhuge Liufeng kicked the ball back smoothly.

Master Lu turned his head to look at Jenny.

"Jenny ah, what did he send? Bring it to grandpa, and if the stuff is bad, just throw it back to him, we're not missing out on his favor anyway."

Jenny was amused by the old man and looked at Biden Lu next to him.

Biden Lu gave a wink to Vicky, who immediately went out.

It wasn't long before he walked in carrying a gift box.

The gift box wasn't large, but about half an arm's height, so Vicky placed the box on the table and reverently retreated.

Master Lu snorted, "Jenny, go! Open it up."

Jenny had no choice but to get up and go over and open the box.

The red hi-box, when opened, contained only a beautifully crafted, shiny black box.

The box is wooden, but I don't know what kind of wood it is, it's such a strange colour, and it doesn't look like it was spray painted on, like it's a natural colour.

Not only that, but the wooden box hinted at an immersive aroma, kind of like sandalwood, but not.

In the meantime, Jenny couldn't help but be a little curious about the contents of the box at the moment.

The streamers looked on and laughed.

Slender fingers opened the knot on the box and lifted it.

I saw a piece of fluorescent white jade lying inside, hollowed out in the middle, carved with a coiled dragon and phoenix, beautifully crafted and lifelike.

She was so dumbfounded that she couldn't help but reach out and touch it, but as soon as her fingertips touched the jade plate, she only felt a cold air soak in from her fingertips, instantly spreading throughout her limbs.

Jenny was so shocked that he took a step back.

Biden Lu's face turned pale, and he hurriedly stepped forward to help her, asking with concern, "What's wrong?"

Jenny shook his head, still in a trance.

For a moment, she finally came back to her senses and turned to look at Zhuge Liuyong, who was sitting beside her with an inscrutable smile.

The gaze of Zhuge Liufeng was like a torch, smiling at her.

The atmosphere in the house was a bit silent, and Master Lu was a bit puzzled as he saw that no one was talking.

"What's wrong? Jenny, what did he send? Why aren't you all talking?"

Jenny Jing pursed her lips, staggered slightly, and said to Master Lu, "Grandpa, this gift from Mr. Zhuge is too valuable for me to accept."

Master Lu was stunned, and Zhuge Liufeng frowned slightly.

"What's too valuable to take?"

He came up curiously, and when he saw the jade plate placed in the box, his eyes lit up as well.

"This, this, this, this..."

The old man quickly stepped forward, so excited that he couldn't repeat his words, "This is... this is..."

Zhuce Liufeng slightly hooked his lips, "Old Master, don't get too excited, be careful of getting excited and ruining your body."

The tone of the words was clearly derisive again.

However, at this time, Master Lu didn't even have the effort to fight with him, his eyes only stared straight at the jade plate in the box, unable to move his eyes.

Chapter 478

"It's really it, it's actually in your possession, something that's been lost for years, is it true?"

Master Lu clearly recognized the contents of the box, his face flushed with excitement, and his pale hand gently stroked it up, followed by a slight tremor.

The wind flowed without saying a word, only smiling at the side.

Jenny saw how excited he was and asked curiously, "Grandpa, do you know this thing?"

Master Lu nodded.

Following a slight change in colour.

"You're right, it's too valuable indeed to be taken lightly."

He straightened up and turned to look at Zhuge Liufeng, his vicissitudes restrained from the excitement of a moment ago and his gaze stern.

"Go ahead! What are you trying to do by bringing this here today?"

Zhugé Liufeng laughed and took a sip of tea from his cup before saying slowly, "This is a strange question from the old man, my niece is getting married, of course I'm coming over to give a gift, what else can I do?"

The old man snorted, "You think I'd believe such nonsense?"

After a pause, and then no good mood, "What kind of virtue is your Zhuge family, others are not clear, but I understand it very well, no profit, you gave such a valuable gift, do not want to take something back, unless the sun comes out from the west, it will never be possible."

Jenny Jing and Biden Lu were both a bit surprised, never expecting the old man to say such words.

Zhuge Liufeng suddenly scoffed and laughed.

"Old Master's words make no sense, the things are given to Jenny, it's also up to her to decide whether to accept them or not, I'm fine with Old Master's willingness to be a gentleman with a small heart, but there are some things that just aren't up to you to decide."

The old man choked on his words and his old face reddened.

Half a dozen times, before snickering.

"A gentleman?Heh.If you can be considered a gentleman, there are no villains in this world."

Zhuge Liufeng obviously didn't come to fight with the old man today, although the two of them had fought countless times before, but he knew exactly what his mission was today.

It was to hear the old man say that, and didn't explain, only gazing at Jenny.

"Jenny, do you know what this is?"

Jenny pursed her lips and shook her head.

"Have you heard the story of the WoW?"

She was slightly startled, and then her face changed.

Don't tell her, I'm sure anyone who's been to primary schools knows the story of Hershey.

Such a valuable piece of jade has been regarded as a treasure since the Warring States period, with thousands of hours in between, and finally disappeared in the Later Tang Dynasty, nowhere to be found.

Thinking of the historical records about this beautiful jade, Jenny Jing couldn't help but feel a surge of excitement, and then looking at the jade plate contained in the box, he suddenly thought of something and was viciously shaken.

"What do you mean..."

Zhuge Liufeng nodded with a smile and reached out to take out the jade plate in the wooden box.

"This piece of jade was carved from the jade jade jade of the same year, the jade jade jade of the He Shi Bi, which has gone through several dynasties since the Warring States period, and has never faded.

After a lot of tossing and turning, my ancestor was fortunate enough to find it, but by then it was no longer as glorious as it was a thousand years ago, and it was much damaged, so originally my ancestor wanted to restore it to its original state and still use it as a jade seal, but unfortunately, after numerous artisans failed to complete it, he finally had no choice but to carve it into a jade plate."

He handed the jade plate in his hand to Jenny and said in a deep voice, "This was your father's most cherished

Love, he was born with fever and often needs to touch this to sleep, now I give it to you, if you don't take it, go ahead and smash it, anyway, your father is gone now and doesn't need this, no matter how good a beautiful jade is, when it loses its effect, it's just a stubborn stone."

Jenny Jing only felt the cold jade plate fall in his hand.

She was slightly startled, and then looked up at Zhuge Liufeng, but she saw his face was serious and his gaze was cold, looking at the jade plate in her hand, and there was a complex light stirring in his eyes.

Master Lu didn't expect Zhuge Liuyong to do this either.

But don't take what's delivered to your door.

Moreover, it was still such a valuable treasure.

Before, I refused to accept it because I was wary of his premeditation, but now that he's said so, what's there to fear?

Master Lu coughed awkwardly, walked over to Jenny Jing and whispered, "In that case, let's reluctantly accept it! It wasn't anyone else's in the end anyway, your father's, so keep it as a souvenir."

Jenny Jing's small face darkened and he turned his eyes to glance at the old man.

The old man's face is not quite natural, and he wants to be, but he's old enough to do this kind of out of earshot, which is a bit uncomfortable.

Eventually, she gave a dry laugh.

"Grandpa, since you like it, why don't I give it to you, your old man loves to collect such antique playthings, even if it's good to use it for ornamental purposes."

The old man's face changed.

She looked askance at her and shook her head repeatedly.

"No, no, no, I can't have this."

"Why?"

"No why, I can't have it anyway."

Master Lu shook his head like a rattle drum, and Jenny was made to laugh and cry by him.

Turning his head, he handed the jade back to Zhuge Liufeng.

"Mr. Zhuge, since Grandpa won't take it, you'd better take it back with you."

Zhuge Liufeng frowned.

"Jenny, you have to think carefully, let alone the fact that it's your father's relic, just its value..."

"I've thought about it a lot." Jenny Jing's tone was light, a calm smile on his face.

"Just because I know its value, I can't take it all the more, Mr. Zhuge, if I were you, I would donate it to the country, it's a lost relic of the country, it carries thousands of years of culture of this country, it shouldn't belong to an individual, if you really have the heart, return it back, then I'll do you the favor."

Zhuge Liuyong was startled, not expecting her to say these words anyway.

For a moment, he burst out laughing.

"You're making me sweat...but I'm embarrassed."

Jenny Jing pursed her lips and didn't say anything else.

The group sat for a while longer, and ever since Jenny had rejected Zhuge Liufeng, he had been somewhat silent.

It had been sitting there in silence and silence, not knowing what to think.

Then it was time for dinner, and even more so, they didn't even eat dinner, so they rushed off.

Jenny Jing and Biden Lu ate dinner together before returning home.

Villa Maple Bridge is located in a villa area halfway up a hill with a great view and even cleaner air.

They had eaten a little too much, and halfway through the car ride, they got out and let Summers drive himself back, and they walked back at a walk, right as a snack.

The elevation on the hillside was already somewhat high, and from a distance you could see a million lights decorating the city.

Chapter 479

Jenny looked at the lights in the distance, his thoughts somewhat distracted.

Biden Lu noticed that something was wrong with her and asked, "What's wrong? What's on your mind?"

Jenny came back to his senses and shook his head with a smile.

"It's nothing, it's just that I suddenly remembered that Zhuge Liufeng has approached me several times, all because he wanted me to acknowledge my status as a descendant of the Zhuge family, but I have repeatedly refused.

Even today when he moved out that piece of jade and his father's relics like that, I refused to accept it, it's just that I don't want to get involved with the Zhuge family, isn't it a bit too desperate of me to do so?"

Biden Lu looked at her with some surprise.

Jenny smiled, "Is it surprising that I would think that?"

Biden Lu didn't hide anything and nodded honestly.

"You were disgusted with them before, so... it was quite a surprise."

Jenny sighed lightly.

She reached up and gently caressed her belly, her lips curving up in a soft curve.

"I'm actually surprised, when the idea first popped into my head, I thought I wasn't possessed by the Virgin Mary, why would I think that?"

As a father, he killed my own mother, as a husband, he failed to protect his wife, and as a man, he failed to do what a man should do.

I did blame him before, much less admit that my own father would be such a person.

But as I've had children of my own, some of my thoughts have slowly changed.

I don't seem to want to get into who was right and who was wrong about what happened back then, and I feel a little tired and a little unnecessary.

People are dead, and the rest of us won't know no matter how much they care about them, so why bother? just make it harder and more painful for the living."

The night breeze gently blew through her hair, lifting a few strands of hair from her temples, and her clear little face looked a little dazed and weak in the night in a rare way.

Biden Lu looked at his heart, diffusing the hidden pain to come.

He reached out and took her hand in his and brought her into his arms.

Jenny had to stop and look up at him.

Lu Jing gazed at her with heartache written in his eyes.

"If I'd known this would make you think so much, I should have protected you from them forever."

Jenny lost his smile, "What kind of words are these?"

The man is serious, "Although you talk tough and resolute, but I can tell, you still have wavering in your heart, right? You've also thought about going back to the Zhuge family, haven't you?"

Jenny pursed her lips and was silent.

For a moment, nod lightly.

"Biden Lu, do you know what it's like to be alone?"

Biden Lu's heart ached, like it was being gripped by a giant hand.

He nodded, "I know."

"Like a floating duckweed, with no place to return to and no way to find the direction from which I came, I used to think that Jing Tsung-de was my father and my mother was my mother, although I hated Jing Tsung-de, but my heart was simple.

Then I realized that none of them were, my mum was nice to me though, and I loved her, but sometimes people are just so weird.

You just can't help but wonder what your biological parents were like. How are their personalities? What do they look like? Experienced what?

What other family members do you have? What do they do? How are they doing? Know you exist?"

"It's childish to think like that.

No? But I don't know why, all of a sudden I'm thinking that. It's like so much is in a fog and if I don't approach it, I'll never be able to see it clearly.

In the future my child will be born and when he asks me, what is my grandfather? Who is my grandmother? What should I say?"

Biden Lu held her hand tightly and fastened her into his embrace.

Jenny reached out and hugged his narrow waist, his tone somewhat sad.

"I'm a little sad, Land King."

"I know."

His voice was low, slightly hoarse with magnetism, and he clasped her waist, pressing her into his arms.

"Don't feel bad, you still have me, and grandparents, and Ann, and now another baby, and the rest of it doesn't matter."

Jenny's arms tightened hard around him and didn't speak.

The night breeze passed between them, carrying a mournful whisper.

After a long time, Jenny finally let go of his hand.

Letting go of him, he looked up and chuckled softly, "Okay, I'm fine! Let's go home."

Lu Jing looked at her with deep, dark eyes.

"Good."

He took her hand in his and they continued to walk home.

It wasn't far from the villa anymore, but a few hundred meters away, and the doctor had said that although Jenny was pregnant, she had to pay attention to proper exercise, so every day Biden Lu would walk with her for a while.

After returning home, Jenny felt a little tired, so he fell asleep quickly.

That night, she had that dream again.

Still on that boat, in that sea, she was being pushed into the water and kept going down and down....

Biden Lu suddenly appeared, holding her waist from below and pushing her upwards.

Then a huge wave hit, and she watched as he was swept away by it and plunged into the deepest depths of the ocean....

Jenny suddenly woke up.

It was quiet all around, and the house was dark, except for a dim floor lamp left in the corner.

She closed her eyes and breathed out a soft sigh of relief.

Turning to the wall, I saw that it was late at night and the wall clock pointed to midnight.

She didn't know how long she'd been asleep, just listening to the whisper of the wind outside, beside her, the man wasn't really asleep, his whole body tilted over the bed, his eyes downcast, the dim light casting a shadow on his handsome face, growing deeper and more three-dimensional.

Jenny raised his hand to wake him up, yet before his fingers touched his body, his eyes suddenly swept over his knitted brow.

He was self extremely hard and handsome, yet the knitted brow still made her tip her heart.

The man's eyelashes were long and thick, casting a faint shadow below his eyelids.

In addition to that, there was a light layer of black and blue, like I hadn't slept well.

Jenny carefully recalled that he had been all sorts of busy for some time now, only shortly after sending his grandfather away, and, busy with wedding preparations, it was indeed exhausting.

The hand that tried to wake him up suddenly couldn't clap anymore, and Jenny gently got up, wanting to go pour a glass of water.

However, spare her the attention, the man who had always been a shallow sleeper opened his eyes right away when she moved.

He was clearly asleep, but when he woke up his eyes were clear and he had no sleep at all.

His long-practiced alertness allows him to stay awake at all times, even if he's asleep, and he can regain consciousness within a second of waking up.

"Awake?"
