

Chapter 483 Sleep Together

Canaan waited for three seconds, and every second seemed to be as long as a year. But the slap didn't fall, so Canaan dared to open his eyes.

He tilted his head and saw that the palm was only a short distance away from him. Canaan could not help being afraid.

Seeing Reid's wrist caught by Maximilian, Canaan felt at ease. Canaan hurriedly retreated behind Maximilian and cried out with gratitude, "Master!"

"Don't shed tears. It's a disgrace to me." Maximilian said with a smile.

Canaan wiped his eyes in a hurry, not letting himself cry.

Reid glared at Maximilian and tried to pull his wrist back, but no matter how hard he tried, he couldn't break free. Maximilian's hand was like vise, holding his wrist tightly.

"Let go of my hand!" Reid roared angrily.

"Why should I listen to you? You are going to slap my apprentice. Now you have to give me an explanation." Maximilian said coldly.

Canaan introduced such a good villa to him at the cost price. Maximilian had accepted his great favor. Anyway, he would help Canaan at this moment.

"Shit! Are you out of you mind? How dare you want us to explain to you! I'm Canaan's uncle! What's wrong with asking friends to help discipline him? Who are you? Mind your own business." Hamid yelled like a vicious dog.

Maximilian picked his eyebrows and hit Hamid's face with his left hand as fast as lightning.

In an instant, Hamid was out of the door with this mighty slap, screaming.

Lying on the ground, Hamid felt that his eyes were full of stars, and his brain was buzzing.

“Give... give me a hand.” Hamid said with difficulty.

Reid and others were stunned. Maximilian’s lightning-fast backhand just now shocked them.

‘So fast, so powerful, it doesn’t look like what human beings can do.’ Reid thought.

Reid’s eyes moved away from Hamid and finally fell on Maximilian’s hand that was holding his wrist.

For a moment, Reid felt cold all over his body and wondered if he would end up like Hamid.

‘No! That would be too humiliating, I must start first!’ he mused.

He made the decision immediately, raised his right foot suddenly and tried to kick Maximilian’s belly, intending to hit Maximilian hard first.

Maximilian smiled calmly, shook his head slightly, “You are weak, really.”

When Maximilian spoke, his hand holding Reid’s wrist had been released. Then his elbow suddenly sank and hit Reid’s right knee.

With a crisp sound, Reid’s knee broke, and then his right leg was bent into a V-shape with his toes facing up, which looked very strange.

“Ouch! My leg, my knee is broken!” Reid let out a howl and stepped back with his left leg. In a hurry, his body lost balance and he leaned back. Then he fell on the ground and uttered a more tragic wail.

Hamid was shocked by Reid's cry, and his humming head suddenly woke up.

Covering half of his red and swollen cheek and looking at Reid, Hamid was so shocked. Reid, who was once regarded by Hamid as extremely powerful, was now wailing like a dying dog. Looking at his abnormal bent right leg, Hamid felt cold and sweaty.

'Is that a human fist can do? I'm afraid he is from the Legendary Super Saiyan!'

Reid's companions were also frightened by Maximilian's ability. The group of people completely lost the arrogance they had at the beginning. They dragged Reid from the ground and ran out like crazy. They didn't dare to say a word.

The most powerful one was Reid. He was not Maximilian's opponent, so others dared not face Maximilian directly.

"Don't go, wait for me, take me with you!" Hamid got up from the ground in a hurry and ran to keep up with them.

Canaan burst out laughing, feeling relieved, "You are so powerful. My uncle should be taught this way. If only someone in our family had the ability of you."

"Let's get down to business first, Wagner. Let's sign the house purchase contract." Maximilian said with a smile.

Wagner responded and said, "Ok. Mr. Lee, this way, please."

Wagner was scared by the scene just now. At this moment, Wagner realized Maximilian's power and why he was surrounded by beautiful women and the reason Canaan flattered him like that. Because he was capable enough!

Maximilian and others followed Wagner to the sales department. They signed and sealed the contract. Maximilian paid with his card, which was $2.27 million in all.

Victoria looked at Maximilian's card. Her cheeks were bulging lightly. She wanted to talk to Maximilian after they back to home.

 Maximilian took up the signed contract and put it into Victoria's hand. He looked at Victoria with his dotting eyes.

"Honey, we have a big house now. We can let Flora sleep in the guest room, so we can sleep together." Maximilian was close to Victoria's ear and said softly.

Victoria blushed instantly and beat Maximilian gently, “Don’t talk nonsense, so many people are here.”

“It’s not illegal to whisper to my wife.” Maximilian complained playfully.

Victoria rolled her eye toward him, and gently pinched his cheek, “Behave well, and I will reward you when we go back.”

Looking at Victoria and Maximilian’s intimate interaction, Flora felt a burst of sadness.

Canaan said, “When you want to move in, let me know, master. I’ll arrange a motorcade to help you. It’s very convenient.”

“OK, I’ll tell you then. Let’s go back first.”

Maximilian took Victoria’s hand and walked out. Flora pursed her mouth and followed them silently.

After Canaan told Wagner a few words, he quickly kept up with the crowd.

Driving back to the city, Victoria took Maximilian by the arm. She said uneasily, "How can we tell my parents that we bought the house today. I'm afraid they can't accept it."

"Nothing is unacceptable. Let me tell them. After seeing the house, they must be pleasantly surprised, not frightened." Maximilian said happily.

Chapter 484 Revenge for you

In the advanced ward of the hospital, Hamid and others sat around the bed and watched Reid wake up slowly.

His broken knee had been operated on, but after the operation, he could only sit in a wheelchair.

“How’s my leg? How’s my knee?” Reid asked with anxious.

“Don’t worry, Reid. The operation has been carried out, but the medical level here is not up to standard. After you recover, you have to take a wheelchair.” Hamid said in a low voice.

“Damn it! I don’t want a wheelchair! How could that be?” Reid roared angrily, feeling that his world was dark.

Life in a wheelchair was not what he wanted.

'When I get into a wheelchair, how can I practice martial arts? How can I go out to bully people? How can I pick up girls?' he thought.

"I want to transfer now! I want to go to the best hospital for surgery!"

"Reid, don't get excited. The doctor said that after you recover, you can go to a better hospital for a second operation and replace the artificial joint." Hamid comforted him and winked at others to let them persuade him.

Others looked at Reid with pity, but they were not pleased in the heart. Because Reid was disabled, they would lose the strong opponent in seeking affection from their master in the future.

"Don't worry, Reid. We will take revenge for you. You can take good care of yourself in the hospital. Our master knows so many people that he will arrange a good doctor for you.”

“The technology of artificial knee joint is very mature now. If you change the artificial knee joint, your basic exercise ability can be recovered, and you don’t have to sit in a wheelchair in the future.”

Reid clenched his fists tightly, closed his eyes and said, “I can’t beat him. How can you do it?”

“If you say that, you look down on us. We are all passionate and willing to help you get revenge.”

“Call our master!” Reid roared angrily.

“OK, you are through now. Tell master yourself.”

The phone was handed over to Reid. He held the phone to his ear and said,

“Master, I made you lose face.”

Reid wiped his tears as he said this. Others were shocked. They didn't know that Reid cried as soon as he spoke.

“What's the matter? Tell me in detail, don't cry.”

“My knee was broken, and I will be in a wheelchair in the future. Master, please take revenge for me!”

“How can this happen! I'll fly back to H City in two days. I'm sure I'll take revenge for you. You should take good care of yourself first. My disciples won't be bullied in vain.”

Maddox's anger was about to break through the ceiling.

He had opened hundreds of chain martial arts centers overseas with his high-level Kung Fu. He went back to H city for two purposes. One was to return home with honor, and the other was to expand business, that is, to set up chain martial arts centers in his country.

After all, it was easier to make money in his motherland. And if he could get in touch with all kinds of people with status, everything would be easier.

For example, he could teach the rich health preserving skills, use metaphysics to talk about life, and enlighten them. Maddox thought that with his ability, he could certainly succeed.

But now just at the beginning, one of the apprentices was disabled. It's a bad omen.

"Damn it! Anyone who dares to against me will die!" Maddox muttered bitterly and asked his disciples to book the ticket.

Canaan sent the Mr. and Mrs. Lee and Flora to their home, watched them enter the door, and then started the car to leave slowly.

‘Today, my uncle lost face. Will he complain at home and confuse right and wrong? Do I have to tell Dad?’

After thinking for half a minute, Canaan picked up his phone and dialed his father Miller.

“Dad, I just sold the villa on the top of the mountain in Emerald Garden to my friend at the cost price.”

Miller frowned, “Isn’t that what your uncle wants? How can you give it to your friend? What did the sales manager over there say?”

Canaan stopped to think for a moment and asked curiously, “Dad, how do you know that uncle wants that house?”

“Your uncle told me that he wanted to keep the villa for Maddox, an overseas martial arts master. Have you heard of him? He has been an action director in many Hollywood Kung Fu films.”

“Yes. Today, my uncle took people to make trouble. My friend hurt the man he took.” Canaan said weakly.

“What?” Miller rubbed his brows and felt a little headache. “You really worry me.”

“Dad, I don’t know he is going to give it to Maddox. Besides, Maddox is just a man who runs martial arts centers. He can’t compare with my friend at all.”

Canaan felt that Maximilian was the strongest on earth. Even the strong man in the International Underground Boxing Match was easily killed by him, let alone Maddox.

“Is your friend really that strong?”

Miller asked curiously.

“Yeah, he’s very strong, and he’s going to take part in the Underground Boxing Match tomorrow. I think the final champion is him.”

Miller’s expression changed quickly. He hesitated for a moment and said, “I mean, if Maddox and your friends have any conflicts, you’d better not get yourself involved. Do you understand?”

“Oh, I see. Dad, you can rest assured. I’m just worried about my uncle complaining to you.”

“Your uncle hasn’t called me yet. Things have already been like this. Let your friends live in the villa at ease. I’ll talk to your uncle. Just introduce him to another villa. What money can solve is not a big deal.”

Miller never valued money. After all, the Kadir family was never short of money, but he worried about his son's safety.

At the thought of Canaan's friends going to participate in the Underground Boxing Match, Miller felt worried.

"By the way, don't get involved in the Underground Boxing Match. You should always remember that you are the heirs of the Kadir family! If you have an accident, our family's career will fall into the hands of your cousins!"

"Ok, I'm sure nothing will happen to me. Dad, don't worry. I have to drive. Bye." Canaan couldn't stand his father's nagging and hung up.

Miller sighed and murmured, "He is really grown up. I can't control him anymore. I just said a few words, but he finds an excuse to hang up."

But he worried about his son all the time. He always thought that something would happen.

Miller calmed down and thought it over. He thought he should contact Hamid.

Chapter 485 A drag on the family

Miller called Hamid and said in a deep voice, "I heard that you and Canaan had a conflict for the villa at the top of the mountain?"

"Yes. Reid's knee was broken! He has already told Maddox and this matter can't be solved easily!"

Hamid was angry with Canaan. If it wasn't for him and Maximilian Lee, this would not have happened. But it has happened, and he couldn't change it. He blamed Canaan for it.

"In any case, you should ensure Canaan's safety. I don't care what Maddox do to Canaan's friends, but you must never hurt my son!"

"Sorry. I can't guarantee that. I can only ensure that your son won't be fatally injured or die. If Master Maddox really wants to punish your son, how can I stop him? I can't and dare not stop him!"

Miller frowned tightly. If Hamid was in front of him at the moment, Miller would definitely slap him to death.

"You are Canaan's uncle. Is that what you should say as an elder?"

"Your precious son didn't treat me as his uncle, and you know how powerful Master Maddox is. Now he is angry, and will come back in two days. You'd better let your son take the initiative to make amends to Reid!"

Hamid sneered and continued, "You'd better let my nephew take that bastard surnamed Lee with him. If he makes amends, hands over the villa and presents the two beauties around him, I can ask Master Maddox to forgive them. Otherwise, he will bear the consequences.”

“You!” Miller was angry and wanted to throw away the phone.

A father knew his son best. He knew Canaan could not accept Hamid’s offer.

“That’s how I am. If you don’t feel happy, you can remove me from the Kadir family. Anyway, you all think I’m losing your face.” Hamid said coldly.

Miller understood that there was no hope for reconciliation, and there would be no progress if he went on.

“OK, you act recklessly outside to your heart’s content. If something happens to Canaan, I will never forgive you!”

Hearing the busy tone of hanging up from his mobile phone, Hamid sneered scornfully.

“Reid, for your sake, I’ve fallen out with my family. You'd better help me say something nice in front of our master in the future."

Reid on the bed tilted his head and looked at Hamid, "If you really want to help me, you should get Maximilian Lee's information for me. When master comes, he must first know everything about him."

"Don't worry. I'll ask someone to do it. I'll find out everything related to him."

Reid nodded slightly and motioned Hamid to investigate Maximilian.

Hamid left the ward and made phone call one after another to launch all forces to investigate the information about Maximilian.

Soon all kinds of information came together. Hamid looked at the information with disdains.

“He is a son-in-law and now lives with his wife’s parents. How can he be so arrogant? Canaan is really out of his mind to take such a person as his teacher. Canaan should have a good look at these materials.”

Hamid muttered a lot and continued to look. The disdain on his face disappeared, and gradually became dignified.

His legs trembled when he saw the photos of the shooting scene in the forestry station from the information sent by his friends.

“Is it true or not? The son-in-law, who is called ‘loser’, can control such a big scene? It’s impossible.”

Hamid couldn’t believe it. After thinking for a moment, he called his friend and asked if he had made a mistake.

The other side was quite sure that it was the scene of the gunfight Maximilian made. Hamid had an idea of running away after hearing this.

If he hadn't known that Maddox would be here in two days, Hamid would have left Reid completely. Because what Maximilian had done was too frightening.

"Who on earth is he? Shall I tell Reid these things?"

Hamid hesitated for a moment, and finally deleted all the information about the forestry station case.

In Hamid's opinion, everything happened in the villa was caused by him. If Reid saw Maximilian's information, he would be angry. It was better to let them know that Maximilian was only a useless son-in-law.

After deleting the information about the forestry station, Hamid breathed a sigh of relief. He felt he could finally relax.

Maximilian and Victoria went home hand in hand, together with Flora.

Laura and Marcus were sitting on the sofa chatting about housing prices. Now the soaring house prices gave Laura some chagrin, because she dreamed for a bigger house for a long time.

Once there was an opportunity to change a big house, but Laura didn't cherish it. Now she could only look at the house price with a sigh.

Seeing Maximilian coming back, Laura's mood became worse.

'Other people's son-in-law are so capable, and give mother-in-law a new house or something. But my son-in-law, Maximilian, do nothing but eat and drink in my house.'

'He used to do some housework. Recently, he has been so arrogant that he stopped doing housework, wandering around all day. What he is doing?' she thought.

"Dad, mom, we're back." Maximilian took the initiative to greet the Griffiths.

Marcus nodded to him. Laura said with a gloomy face, "What are you doing? You've given up your housework recently. You behaved very badly."

 "Mom, Maximilian is helping me deal with the company affairs these days. Don't you want him to be more promising? If you let him do the housework all day, how can he be more promising?" Victoria spoke for Maximilian.

Flora thought of Harley's order, turned her eyes and said with a smile, “Maximilian has to help Victoria. I have nothing to do all day. Let me do the housework. I can’t just eat and drink at your house.”

If she could do the housework, she would have the opportunity to find the key. It was just that she didn’t know what the key looked like. It was really distressing.

‘If I can find the key, I can’t give it to Harley immediately. Then I will be controlled by him continually. I have to find a way to save my family!’

‘Can Maximilian save my family?’

While Flora was busy thinking, Laura patted the sofa hard and said, “Maximilian, look at Flora. As a guest, she knows she has to help with the housework. How about you? Just because you have always been a drag on the family, we can’t even change a big house now!"

Chapter 486 Laura was Shocked

"Of course, we can change the house. Why can't we change the house?" Maximilian said with a smile.

Laura's cheeks twitched. She pointed at Maximilian's nose angrily, shouting, "What? Change house? Do you have the money to change the house for us? Do you know how high the housing price is now?"

"The price for a house with good school nearby is more than $20,000 per square. And housing price of high-end community will be $30,000 to $40,000 per square. Have you thought about the problem of Sissi's future schooling? You are a waste! We can't count on you."

Maximilian smiled and said, "Mom, I have considered the house problem. I will definitely give Sissi the best school resources. A multi-million house is a must. Today Victoria and I have gone to see the house."

"You? A multi-million house? Are you kidding me, right? Victoria is stupid and deceived by you. Can you mouth spit out gold? A multi-million-dollar house? You buy a million-dollar house for Victoria first!"

When Laura finished speaking, she couldn't help but poke Marcus vigorously, "Marcus! Why don't you give Maximilian a good lesson? You see what he is like now!"

"What has he become? Maximilian wants to buy a good house. Give him some time and let him work hard." Marcus looked at Maximilian and said indifferently, "Tell me, how many years do you need to achieve your goal? Is twenty years enough?"

"No need for twenty years. Dad, Mom, I've already bought the house. I'll take you to see it tomorrow, okay?" Maximilian said with a smile.

Marcus and Laura looked at each other in amazement. They both felt that Maximilian had something wrong with his brain today, and he even dared to say about buying a house.

Nowadays, to buy a house, a couple had to spend all their parents' money as well as their money. But Maximilian was a loser who had nothing, how could he say that he had already bought a house?

"Humph! What kind of house can you buy? Did you buy a small apartment of 30 square feet to fool us?" Laura said coldly and didn't believe Maximilian's words at all.

"Mom, Maximilian has really bought a house and it is the most upscale neighborhood in H City. You definitely can't guess where it is." Victoria helped Maximilian and said.

Laura looked at Victoria suspiciously, went to Victoria, touched Victoria's forehead, and muttered, "You don't have a fever. How can you say such nonsense?"

"Auntie, Maximilian and Victoria did not say nonsense. Today Maximilian really bought an elite house. It's a beautiful villa." Flora said with a somewhat exaggerated expression.

"Beautiful? Villa?" Laura rubbed her forehead. She didn't know what to say anymore. The three in front of her acted as if Maximilian had really bought a house.

Marcus sternly said, "What is going on? You guys tell me the details."

Marcus was also getting more and more confused when he heard this. He was half convinced that Maximilian bought a house. But what his daughter and Flora said was completely mismatched of Maximilian. Maximilian was a waste son-in-law. How could he buy a luxury house?

Laura sat beside Marcus and said inquiringly, "Sit down, what is going on? Tell me everything."

Victoria pulled Maximilian to sit down and said softly, "Maximilian, come and tell mom carefully what happened."

Maximilian smiled and said slowly, "Mom, I have a disciple named Canaan. He is the Young Master of the Kadir Family. It just so happens that the Emerald Garden is developed by the Kadir Family. And when I was ready to buy the house, Canaan said he could sell me the house of the Emerald Garden at the cost price."

"The Emerald Garden? That's the most upscale neighborhood in H City! You buy the house at cost price. No wonder. Why don't you tell us? This is a good opportunity. Your father and I could pay for another house together!"

Laura was completely shocked. The family should use this good opportunity to buy a large house of 200 square meters. Even if they did not live there, they could make a fortune by reselling it.

"Victoria, did you pay for it? How much money do you have? Why are you so stupid? You should have told me. I'll get the money from home! How much is the discount? If he can give a 70% discount, then we can make a lot of money!" Laura was the very embodiment of the petty.

Victoria laughed bitterly, "Mom, listen to Maximilian first. I didn't pay a penny, and Maximilian paid for it all."

"Oh! My little girl! How much money can Maximilian have? Isn't that a wasted opportunity? You are pissing me off." Laura cried and felt that life would be hopeless.

"Mom, we went to see the best hilltop villa in the Emerald Garden. It is two thousand six hundred square feet area and finely decorated and furnished. The house's location is excellent. I bought that villa and paid for it. The house purchase contract has also been signed, and we can move in at any time."

Laura and Marcus froze when they heard this.

It was a two thousand and six hundred square detached villa, located in the top of the mountain. What concept was this? How much would this cost?

"Maximilian, you are not kidding, right? I heard about that villa before. They said the Fengshui master arranged the Fengshui layout, and it was said to be the best in location! Many rich people in H City want to buy that villa, but they couldn't buy it."

Marcus also heard some rumors about the hilltop villa. At this moment, he thought he was hallucinating. How could Maximilian buy that villa?

"I really bought it. The purchase contract and the key are here. Let's go over and have a look tomorrow." Maximilian took out the purchase contract and keys and put them in front of Marcus and Laura.

Laura grabbed the purchase contract first. Seeing that it was indeed the purchase contract of the Emerald Garden, and the house area was two thousand six hundred square feet, Laura wiped her tears with excitement, "This, this is all true, right? You wouldn't have made a fake contract to fool us, right?"

"It's all true, mom, why don't you believe in Maximilian? Canaan really sold it to Maximilian at the cost price and only received more than two million dollars." Victoria explained.

"More than two million dollars? It is so cheap!" Laura looked at Maximilian, and said suspiciously, "But where did Maximilian get the two million dollars?"

"I helped Wilfred to sign a contract, and Wilfred gave me a commission over five million dollars. Originally, I wanted to buy a small house. Unexpectedly, Canaan helped me a lot, so I decided to buy the villa immediately."

Chapter 487 Money for Three Years

Because she was going to see the hilltop villa the next day, Laura did not sleep well all night. Early in the morning, Laura got up from bed. After making breakfast, she started to call everyone to get up.

After the family had breakfast, Laura yelled that she wanted to see the hilltop villa.

Flora thought and covered her stomach and said, "I have my period, I am not feeling well, so I won't go with you guys. I'll rest at home, and then clean up the house later."

"That's fine. Flora, you just stay at home and rest. You don't need to do housework, just lie down if you feel uncomfortable." Laura directly let Flora stay at home, and then took everyone and went out.

When Maximilian, Victoria, and others were out of the house, Flora went to the window and quietly looked at them. After seeing Maximilian and others get into the car and drive away from the community, Flora immediately turned around and went straight to Maximilian and Victoria's room.

In the past two days, Flora had observed many places. But all she could see was the surface. And she couldn't see the cabinets, drawers, etc.

After entering the room, Flora carefully searched through the cabinets. But most of them were Victoria's things, and Maximilian's things were clothes. There was nothing like a secret key.

"It's so annoying, and there are no clues at all. How can I find it? I can't just find something and say it's a key, right?"

Flora muttered in annoyance, then suddenly her eyes lit up, and said with some surprise, "They don't know what the secret key is anyway. I'll just find something like a key to fool them. I don't really want to work for them anyway."

Flora, who had made up her mind, began to think about what she could use to impersonate the secret key. It was a secret key handed down from the Dragon Sect, so it had to be a little bit ancient and fit the image of the Dragon Sect.

"Just find a piece of dragon jade, right? I am the most resourceful girl. But I'm afraid Maximilian doesn't have this thing at home, so I have to buy one and keep it at home." Flora thought for a moment and made the decision. She took out the phone to call Canaan and asked him pick her up.

It didn't take long for Canaan to arrive. Flora came downstairs happily, opened the door, and sat in the back of the Mercedes.

"Just you? Where are Master Maximilian and Miss Victoria?"

"I'm your Miss Lee. They all went to see the villa. Don't talk nonsense. Hurry up and drive me to the antique city, and I want to buy an aged dragon jade. But let me say it first, I don't have any money."

Canaan was speechless and looked at Flora helplessly through the rearview mirror, "Miss Flora, I see my master and Miss Victoria have a very good relationship. I am afraid you don't have chance at all. How about being realistic?"

"What do you mean? What do you mean I have no hope?" Flora opened her eyes wide. She thought Canaan was either stupid or bad. In a short, he was not good.

"I think you shouldn't do too much. If you destroy the relationship between Master Maximilian and Victoria, I am afraid that you will lose my Master Maximilian forever. Anyway, I don't have much experience in love. I just say my personal opinion. If I'm not right, forget it."

"Hmph, of course what you say is wrong. My chance is big. And besides, I am not thinking of being his lawful wife." Flora was a little sad. Flora understood that even if she didn't want the lawful position, she would not have a place in Maximilian's heart.

Canaan stopped talking and drove silently, and quickly arrived at the antique city.

When they got off the car, Canaan scratched his head and said, "If you want to buy reliable things, you have to find a reliable expert. There are many unreliable people and things in the antique industry. But I don't know anyone here."

"I don't care. I want an old dragon jade, and a better one. You can't fool me with something crude."

A middle-aged man who looked quite elegant passed by. When he heard Flora's words, the middle-aged man smiled and stopped, "You are looking for the dragon jade?"

"Yes, do you know something? What I want is the real thing." Flora said bluntly.

The elegant middle-aged man was pleased and carefully looked at Canaan and Flora. Seeing they were well-dressed, so he guessed they were the children of a large and rich family and wanted to buy good things for their elders.

They were real tyro. So if as long as his acting skills were good, he would rip off a large sum of money from them. Nowadays, there were more fakes than real goods in the antique business, so many big bosses were deceived, and most antique dealers made money by cheating.

"Ha ha, by coincidence, I happen to have a good Ming Dynasty Dragon Jade in my hand. The prince of the Ming Dynasty owned it. It is definitely a fine workmanship. If you are interested, you can come and see it with me."

"It's okay to take a look, but is your stuff reliable?" Flora asked.

"It is absolutely reliable. Let me introduce myself to you. My name is Brodie, the vice president of the H City Ancient Jade Collection Association, and the director of the Chuzhou High Antique Jade Association. I am a first-class expert in ancient jade in H City."

Brodie's elegant image and his self-labeled identity introduction let Flora feel more reliable.

"Canaan, what do you think?" Flora asked.

"I think, it is better to see things first." Canaan didn't know the ancient jade. At least, they should look at stuff first. There were a lot of antiques in his family, and he followed his family and played those antiques. Canaan thought if the jade was really a fake, he could identify it.

Brodie grinned and waved his hand to make a gesture of invitation, "Our meeting is destined. No matter you buy it or not, you could go to my shop and have a cup of water."

Flora and Canaan had already let down their defenses and followed Brodie to the store.

After entering Brodie's store, Brodie started to talk a lot about his collection. From the types of Hotan jade grades to the carving style characteristics of various periods of jade, and so on.

Canaan and Flora were confused by Brodie's words, and in the end, they only nodded their heads and said yes.

When Brodie saw it was the time, he showed a smug in his eyes. He took out a piece of dragon jade and placed it in front of them, "Have a look, this is a fine dragon jade carved of the finest mutton white jade. The carving craftsmanship is exquisite and the dragon shape is lifelike. It is definitely a fine jade carving for the royal family."

Flora picked up the white and warm dragon jade. She looked at it carefully for half a day, "It looks almost the same, how much is it?"

"One price, five million dollars."

Brodie stretched out five fingers.

There was an old saying in antique business 'It doesn't matter if he doesn't make money for three years. Once the deal is done, the money is enough for three years.' So Brodie was ready to rib a lot of money from them. After all, there were not many chances of encountering stupid but rich children.
