

Catch Me If You Love Me

Chapter 49

Liam Lu twisted his eyebrows and asked in a deep voice.

“Anna Yun, are you questioning me? I thought you always knew me.”

Anna Yun’s complexion became stiff, and the hand hanging on his side tightened sharply.

She thought that when she was about to become Mrs. Lu, she could at least wait for an explanation from Liam Lu. But obviously, she overestimated herself and underestimated Zoey Gu.

“Liam, you know I didn’t mean that.” In Anna Yun’s voice, there was a sudden cry.

The next second, she raised her hand and grabbed Liam Lu’s hand, and looked at him with tears broken.

“I was just scared by you. These days, you have been hurting because of Miss Gu’s affairs, and I have been worried day and night. Liam, we have been together for five years. You have long been mine. I don’t want you. Anything.”

“I know Miss Gu is your predecessor, but we are people who have to go for a lifetime, so you have to think about me. Liam...”

Anna Yun whispered while speaking.

Liam Lu lowered his head slightly and saw the dense pinholes on her half-white arm.

In the next second, the man’s stern expression quieted silently.

“Anna Yun.”

He shook her hand backhand, still did not explain, “I said, Mrs. Lu’s position has always been yours.”

Anna Yun was startled, as if she burst into laughter, then looked at him irritably, as if he was coaxed instantly.

“I don’t care about Mrs. Lu’s position, it’s you.”

As she spoke, she took his mobile phone from his pillow and even took the automatic key to the ward door in her hand.

“If you don’t want to keep me sad, you have to be obedient these days. Do nothing, don’t go anywhere. When will the injury be cured, and when will you leave the hospital and go home. Okay?”

Seeing this scene, Shiyue suffocated, and a heart was lifted instantly.

In the next second, Liam Lu pulled his lips and responded in a low voice.

“it is good.”

Zoey Gu was taken to a remote detention center in the suburbs.

Two police officers dragged her through the long corridor to the end of the room, opened the door and threw her in.

“Stay honestly!”

She was pushed forward by a huge force and staggered a few steps before she could stand firm.

The iron gate was locked behind her with a bang.

She stood there for a while, before turning around slowly.

When I turned around, I met several pairs of eyes at the same time!

She trembled all over.

It was only then that I could see that besides her, there were three or four women in the room, older and younger than her. All of them stared at her with a pair of cold eyes.

Everyone knows that this is not a good place, but the current situation is more than she thought...

Zoey Gu tensed her body subconsciously, pursed her lips and lowered her eyes, walked to a more remote distance from the group of women, and leaned slowly against the wall.

The next second, a shoe vacated and threw it in front of her.

Snapped!

A woman screamed fiercely and hit her head.

“What about you! Are there any rules?”

Zoey paused, raised his head slowly with his hands, and asked gently, “What is the rule?”
