

Catch Me If You Love Me

Chapter 5

At the same time, the man in front of the car buttoned up his suit and stepped over.

boom!

Zoey Gu fell sharply in front of him.

Liam Lu raised his foot stepped on without any cushion.

“hiss...”

Suddenly there were gasps around, but there was only a scream without pain.

Liam Lu raised his eyebrows, quickly retracted his feet, and looked down at the woman lying in front of him.

She was skinny, wearing a thick long-sleeved dress, and the back of her hand was bruised. She seemed to be trembling because of the pain, but she bit her lip without saying a word.

It was precisely because of this that Liam Lu lowered his head and took another look at her.

She lowered her head, her entire facial line was submerged in the shadow cast by his tall figure. Very thin, but very similar to the silhouette of a woman in memory.

Liam Lu's eyes were cold, and he took a step forward.

Behind him suddenly came a soft voice from a woman, “Liam.”

Anna Yun bent over and got out of the car, handed the little girl in his arms to Liam Lu, and said with an uncomfortable tone.

“I have a fever and I feel terribly uncomfortable. I can't take care of Alina Yin for the time being. Let her follow you first, right?”

Liam Lu took Alina Yin with one hand, and touched Anna Yun's forehead with the other, his brows frowned.

“I asked Shiyue to make a good room for you and notify the doctor to go there.”

Anna Yun bends her lips, "Okay."

After speaking, she looked at Zoey Gu who was lying on the ground and said softly.

"I am really sorry, Liam accidentally stepped on you. I think your hand hurts badly. Later, the doctor will come over and I will ask him to look at you too? Don't worry, we will definitely compensate you."

Zoey Gu lowered her head, and bursts of heart-piercing pain came from her hands and mouth.

She lowered her head, looked at the straight figure stopped in front of her with tears, her voice was dumb, and she said tremblingly.

"No...no more."

She didn't dare expect him to recognize her.

She was afraid of looking up.

She was afraid of meeting Liam Lu's eyes, afraid of seeing the coldness and hatred that penetrated into her eyes, that would make her more uncomfortable than death.

In the next second, Liam Lu's temperatureless voice smashed from the top of her head.

"For those who are not important, it's not worth your effort to waste your energy. Just spend your money. You go to rest first. Once I'm over here, I'll come and see you right away."

After he finished speaking, he didn't even fall behind, holding the child in his arms and passing by her for a while, and strode away.

As soon as Liam Lu left, a large number of media followed.

Until there was no one around, Anna Yun looked down at the woman on the ground, and was about to speak, but saw that she suddenly stood up with her body supported, without a word, stumbled and rushed not far away.

"Hey! This young lady..." Seeing that the person disappeared at the corner, Anna Yun simply put down his hand, "Forget it!"

She took out her mobile phone and made a call. After waiting for a while, a tall man in a suit ran over.

"Miss Yun."

Anna Yun turned her head to look at the incoming person, and asked in a low voice.

“Today is the fifteenth, has the blood that Liam wanted, come?”

The visitor nodded and handed over what was in his hand.

“Just sent it. This time is different from the past. The blood donor is in Berven City. In the future, whenever we want, we will have it.”

“Berven City?”

Anna Yun seemed to be surprised, her delicate brows frowned slightly, but it was only for a moment, and she said indifferently.

“It’s okay. As long as the other party can supply blood on time to ensure that the outside world will not find Liam’s strangeness, it doesn’t matter who is.”

After she finished speaking, she took the special empty needle handed by the man, lifted the place closest to the wrist, and pierced it in without blinking.

The needle went in and out, there was no blood, but a clearly visible needle eye was left.
