

Catch Me If You Love Me

Chapter 52

Let Zoey Gu stay in it?

Shiyue was taken aback for a moment, and he raised his head to look at Liam Lu without knowing it. Obviously, when I learned that people were inside, there was a murderous expression, why now...

“Lu Shao, Miss Gu is a single girl after all, staying in such a place, I’m afraid she will...”

Liam Lu opened his eyelids and glanced at him in a cool manner.

“Don’t you want her to stay in it all the time?”

Shiyue was silent, wishing to find a seam to drill in on the spot.

In the next second, I heard Liam Lu’s unclear sneer.

“It’s been a long time, she should have a good time.”

Outskirts.

Just after dawn, there was a rush of footsteps in the corridor. Immediately afterwards, the iron gate opened with a loud bang.

“Zoey Gu, someone wants to see you, get dressed and come with me.”

As soon as the prison guard’s voice fell, the people inside immediately followed him and sat up.

Seeing Zoey Gu walking out silently putting on her shoes, the eldest woman immediately got up and took her hand, lowering her voice to remind her.

“Girl remember, don’t be stupid. No one in this world is worth sacrificing freedom. Your father and brother died to keep you alive, not to spoil you at will.”

She vomited quickly that day and told the women in the room about her five years. Unexpectedly, they all sighed after hearing this, and their attitude towards her changed drastically.

She didn’t even expect that it would be such a group of strangers who gave her warmth and care in the past five years.

Thinking of this, Zoey Gu couldn't help her nose sore, and nodded gently.

"I will, thank you."

She turned around and walked out the door, followed the prison guard through the corridor and into a temporary meeting room outside.

Opposite the long table inside sat a man with a handsome face, extraordinary appearance, and an elegant black suit.

Zoey Gu frowned, admitting that she didn't know this person, and lowered his voice and asked gently.

"You are looking for me?"

The man nodded when he heard the sound, but did not get up, squinted his eyes to look up and down, and raised his finger to the opposite position.

"Miss Gu, sit down and say."

When Zoey Gu walked to the bench with a bewildered face and sat down, the man handed a business card over and said solemnly.

"Rong Rui. A few years ago, Miss Gu's father saved me in a car accident. He came today to repay me."

Zoey Gu's hand holding the business card stiffened.

Looking up again, the man's vision was already a bit sharper and more scrutinized.

"I know what happened to the Gu family recently. Miss Gu, you have died so many times, and seeing your enemy at large, you will lose your freedom again in this world. Have you ever thought of regretting it?"

Zoey Gu bit her lip severely.

Her face, the blood color disappeared inch by inch, the hand holding the business card tightened, and the blue veins on the back of the hand were raised.

After a long while, only whispered.

"Do I still have a choice?"

Dad and brother died, she inexplicably dragged Liam Lu into a disaster star, and Anna Yun made it clear that she would be driven to ruin.

"Besides, I deliberately drove into someone, after all..."

The man pulled his lips lightly, and interrupted her Shen Shen.

“It doesn’t matter. You just need to tell me, do you want to end this life here, or you want to go out and live well? Others, that’s my business.”
