

Chapter 521: Ten Thousand Calamities Fire

The genius remembers the address of this site in one second: [Luoqiu Chinese] <https://>The fastest update! No ads!

The trio of Evil Man and Man Ying followed the red-robed priest into the interior of the palace. When they passed through a cross passage, Igula suddenly turned to look at the nameplate on the wall that was worn almost like a chopping block. Ash glanced at it and immediately understood what Igula meant.

Although the handwriting on the nameplate is almost invisible, and the first two words Yaxiu is sure that he does not know, it should be Senluo's local dialect, but the last three words are the world's unified magic language, still vaguely recognizable: . . .

Unless the Fire Tribulation Temple is a ghost gambler sect, there is no reason to have a chess and card room inside the palace. Not only that, Yaxiu discovered many problems when he was soaking in it – the bath was undoubtedly magnificent, the inlet of the fish and dragon, and the murals of Miracle Paradise with flying magic spirits, which were very in line with the style of the sect.

However, the bath towel that the temple gave them was an ordinary cotton cloth. Not to mention the gospel, this bath towel was only suitable for wiping the feet in Broken Lake Prison, not for wiping the buttocks. In the same way, the change of clothes given to them by the temple is also very simple. Originally, when Yaxiu saw the red-robed priest wearing such poor clothes, he wanted to show the spirit of hard work, but now it seems that the light industry here is not developing very well.

Fortunately, there are clothes in Igula's space card. Although they are all his own clothes, the three of them are not very different in size and can barely be worn.

In addition, there are many abnormalities. For example, the broken ceiling, walls, and ground are filled with gray and white mudstone. Although it does not affect normal use, it is obviously not beautiful. It's not that they don't have soil magicians, but soil magicians can only make repairs like this, or there is a shortage of soil magicians here, so soil magicians can only make a fool of themselves – this reason is obviously untenable, anyway, it is an important place within the sect, it is impossible to be stingy with the labor of the earth magician – or, the earth magician does not have the brick and mud formula for the building here, he has tried his best.

The beautiful and high-grade brick-mud formula belongs to the unique inheritance of the society. After all, these are not even miracles. They are luxury goods of 'can you live well without you'. The most practical stucco.

This is not the temple built by the Temple of Tribulation of Fire, but the spoils of their nests, and there is a gap between their technical level and the builders here.

However, when the red-robed priest opened the deepest room and signaled everyone to take off their shoes and put on their robes and go in, with the heat wave blowing towards them, Ash and others immediately realized the original purpose of this 'palace'.

The hot steam that seemed to burn their throats filled the entire hall. They stepped on the dry wooden floor, and saw the warm orange light. In the center of the hall was a square hearth surrounded by wooden boards. On the hearth was an oval. The volcanic stone, a white tiger that seems to be composed of white jade flames, is lying on the volcanic stone. The hazy flames can't outline its gender, but the five tails that look like phantom wings behind it are enough to explain its identity.

Five-tailed flame white tiger!

Ash and Igula both choked on the hot steam and their scalps numb, how could they not see the prototype of this room now – the steam room that will be equipped in the large bath!

No wonder there is a chess and card room on the road!

No wonder Ash said that he wanted to take a bath, and the temple could arrange a gorgeous big bath for him nearby!

It turned out to be a bathroom!

It is not difficult to understand why the bathing center is decorated in such a magnificent and golden luxury style. When people are resting, they either pursue the dim and quiet, or the bright noise, or both, the rest area is quiet and entertaining. District hustle and bustle... It makes sense to use the decoration style to help guests get into the state.

But why would a sect of the gods use the bathing center as a temple stronghold!

And why did the gods take the stovetop of the steam room as their own throne!

Yaxiu and others have realized that Sen Luo, a country that needs to call the First Gospel to save, may exceed their expectations in every aspect.

Under the penetration of the hot steam, the priests in thick red robes could still speak normally, only to see them respectfully bowing to the flame white tiger: "We ignite the wild roar of the fire of ten thousand calamities, and send the brilliance of wisdom to the sun, from now on No longer extinguished; we merge into the fiery red of the fire of all calamities, return the confusion of our souls to the earth, and will never be shaken again. We will be reunited in the ashes, but will eventually rekindle in the darkness."

"Praise the Great Law of the Fire of All Tribulations."

"Praise the Great Law of the Fire of All Tribulations." The three of them worshiped sincerely.

On the way here just now, the red-robed priest had already explained in the simplest language what is called the Great Law of the Gods—the Great Law of the Spirits, which is the second ending after the death of the magician.

Yes, in addition to falling into * and blending into the virtual world, there will be a second ending to the death of the magician in the land of Senluo, which is to transform into a * and become a false * who is infinitely close to the five-winged god.

Compared with the real gods, the false gods cannot maintain the human form, they are often in the form of beasts, and their power is much weaker. Cannot be destroyed by warlocks.

Magicians are a group of smart people who seek the truth and get rid of falsehood. It is naturally impossible for them to call these false gods gods, but calling them false gods is not very respectful, so they concocted the word 'Dafa', which means mastering powerful laws. The presence.

But there is one thing between the gods and Dafa: they are all magic spirits without self-awareness, only pure expansion instinct. The cobwebs of the omniscient kingdom of heaven are only auxiliary, and it is the instinct of the gods of the gospel to expand their own existence, which is why they spread the gospel system to all corners of the kingdom.

The same is true of Dafa, and their instinct is the ideal of the magician during his lifetime. In other words, only saints who have an extremely firm belief in ideals can become Dafa after death!

Therefore, the flame white tiger lying in the steam room is the predecessor of the Temple of Tribulation Fire. After his death, he still has his ideals and beliefs, and he transformed into Dafa to continue guarding the Temple of Tribulation Fire!

A magician like this saint who can conquer death with his ideals, regardless of his position, will be admired by Ashe and others. After all, every magician knows that they are standing on the shoulders of their predecessors, and they can only achieve their current achievements by drawing forward knowledge from the projections of countless past magicians. They will be grateful to any magician who strives hard. Just like the younger generation will be equally grateful to them.

"The Temple of Fire Tribulation originated from the greatest Fire Cat God. The ambition of every Dafa is to restore the glory of the Fire Cat God, harvest the fruits of the sun, and control the power of the virtual realm." The red-robed priest's tone was full of confidence: "The Sanctuary of Tribulation Fire will eventually overcome the calamity of ignorance, ignite the fire of knowledge, and retrieve the light of Sen Luo."

"Fire Cat God?" Harvey could still speak normally, as if he was not affected by the scorching steam.

The red-robed priest looked longingly: "It was the greatest era of the gods. The sects that knew how to guard fire and other sects of truth and goodness purify the earth, take charge of Senluo, and then all sentient beings do their best to realize the mission of guarding fire – so that ordinary people can also Use the power of the magic spirit. Because Zhishou Huo Dafa looks like a fire cat, it is also called the Fire Cat God Generation."

Let ordinary people use magic spirits! ?

Igula didn't care about the uncomfortable mucous membranes, and quickly asked: "Did they succeed?"

"Of course, when even a newborn baby can be cared for by magic spirits, Dafa Zhishou Huo successfully transformed into a * and ascended to the kingdom of God with countless followers. In addition to Dafa Knowing Fire, there is also Dafa Fangyuanchan who longs for immortality. The Dafa of Chasing Guang, who wants to conquer the dead and resurrect the dead... The three Dafa completed their missions before and after, and ascended together with their followers, leaving countless precious legacy for Sen Luo."

"It was a beautiful era." No matter how hot the air flow was, it couldn't burn the red-robed priest's deep voice: "But it's already a thousand years ago."

The three of Yaxiu looked at each other, and they gained more information and new doubts.

Assuming that the red-robed priest did not blow water, then Sen Luo did have a great era before, and the level of technology was even far beyond the gospel – ordinary people in the gospel could only enjoy the benefits of magic spirits indirectly. Not to mention that they can even complete two epic-level tasks, even if the conditions are very difficult, but the gospel cannot do both, and the two holy clans of the Blood Moon are only barely immortal, not immortal.

However, the land of Senluo is now being ravaged by the Four Pillars of God... The innocent and lovely girl was brutally murdered because of her family.

But what about followers and Dafa's ascension? Why did the Fire Cat God come to an end? Since Dafa is the second death ending for a magician, why are there only three Dafa in the Fire Cat God Generation?

Obviously now is not the time to continue the deep chat, the red-robed priest looked at Yan Baihu and said, "The Great Law of Ten Thousand Calamities Fire is the most powerful technique in our Temple of Tribulation Fire, as long as you can fully utilize the power of Ten Thousand Calamities Fire as long as the First Gospel, and the Four Pillars of God is no more than a little."

“The strongest?” Igula keenly sensed the key, coughed twice and said, “Do you have other Dafa in your temple?”

“Our Tribulation Fire Temple is one of the largest sects in Senluo. There are five major temples, and five great practices are worshipped. They are Wan Jie Huo Dafa, Kill Jie Huo Dafa, Go Jie Huo Dafa, Chen Jie Huo Dafa, and You Jie Huo Dafa.” Hongpao The priest straightened his back and said, “We are only one step away from the Senluo Throne!”

“But now you are being attacked by the Four Pillars of God.” Igula showed no mercy at all: “Have other temples been destroyed?”

“That’s right,” said this, the red-robed priest almost gritted his teeth: “There is a traitor in other temples, and she defected to the Four Pillars Sect together with Dafa, and became a hero of the Four Pillars Sect, and now she must also lead her. Killed by the Four Pillars of God!”

“Rebel with Dafa?” Igula was taken aback: “Isn’t Dafa from your temple?”

“It belongs to the temple. Even if ordinary people can obtain the power of Dafa, they cannot shake Dafa’s will. But that traitor is the best seed of robbery in recent years. She has been fully recognized by Dafa, so Dafa is willing to host her! The red-robed priest’s voice was trembling: “Not only that, I heard that she brought the Four Pillars Sect to invade other temples and used conspiracy and tricks to take away other fire robbery methods!”

Yaxiu blinked, always feeling that the plot seemed a little familiar.

“Wait,” Harvey said, “that is to say, that traitor can now wield the power of the Four Great Laws?”

“Don’t worry,” the red-robed priest said confidently, “Although I don’t know how she confuses Dafa, no matter who she is, she can only use one type of Dafa power at most. Even if she takes away four Dafa, she can’t send four God’s power.”

“But she can at least use the power of a Dafa...”

“It doesn’t matter, the Fire of Ten Thousand Tribulations is the oldest fire method, and its power far surpasses other great methods!” The red-robed priest was very confident: “It is precisely because of this that the Four Pillars of God will attack here at the end—they are afraid of the Fire of Ten Thousand Tribulations. The power of Dafa!”

“And even that traitor, it’s impossible to exert the power of Dafa perfectly. Ordinary seeds can only exert 30% of the power, and she can only exert 50% at most!”

“In the land of Senluo, no one has ever been able to trust God perfectly. You are invincible in the first gospel!”

Igula: “Since it is a Dafa that is close to the gods, can ordinary magicians drive this power?”

“No, God is the source of consumption of Dafa, and it has nothing to do with the strength of the magician himself, so Dafa will become weaker and weaker until it disappears, and many sects will disappear because of this.” The red-robed priest said: “But the Dafa of Ten Thousand Calamities Fire is exactly the same. In its heyday, you can use the First Gospel as you like, and it’s no problem to burn the Four Pillars to ashes!”

It’s over, I can’t find a reason to refuse at all.

Maybe it was too hot, Yaxiu and the others felt that they were covered in sweat, they looked at the fiery white tiger and felt their scalps numb.

“How to do the ritual of sending the gods?” Harvey suddenly asked, and when the red-robed priest looked over, he continued: “Can we try sending the gods too?”

The red-robed priest hesitated for a while, but when he saw that Yaxiu didn’t speak, he said, “No problem, the ritual of sending the gods is very simple, as long as you can touch the Great Law of Myriad Calamities, it will be a success.”

Harvey glanced at the others, and walked towards Yan Baihu without hesitation. However, after two or three steps, his whole body seemed to be scalded, with white air oozing from his pores, and another red-robed priest immediately hugged him and took him out.

With a thud outside, Harvey let out a heart-piercing howl, and neither Ash nor Igula reacted—before entering the room, they passed a pool of ice water, and Harvey was steaming again. The appearance of dizziness, so this howl is not caused by pain, but the refreshing heart of the two layers of ice and fire.

“His concept is too different from the Great Law of Myriad Calamities.” The red-robed priest said lightly, “Even we believers in the calamity must always abide by the prohibition in life, abide by the teachings, and must not ignite the fiery calamity in the heart, and have to go into silence. Only when the spiral becomes a seed can it be possible to approach Dafa and pray to the gods. Unless ordinary people are completely consistent with Dafa’s concepts, it is impossible for ordinary people to touch Dafa.”

Same idea?

Yaxiu’s heart moved, he pressed the deceiver’s shoulder, indicating that the latter should not hypnotize himself, and then walked towards Yanbaihu very confidently.

Igula watched Ash take two steps to the place where Harvey was scalded, holding his breath nervously – Harvey and himself can fail, but Ash can’t fail, once he fails, he will reveal that he is not the first The Gospel, or even if he is really the first Gospel, is useless. What the Fire Tribulation Temple needs is not the First Gospel at all, but a savior who can complete the ritual of sending God!

However, relying on God requires the same concept. How could several of them have the same concept as a saint with a firm belief? They don’t even know what Yanbaihu’s belief is!

Unless it is a universal plug, UU reading www.uukanshu.com who can send God!

The red-robed priests were also very nervous, breathing hot steam vigorously, as if their airways were made of steel pipes.

As everyone watched, Ash stepped over Harvey’s scorching line, and then—

Nothing happened.

One step, two steps, three steps...

He walked to Yan Baihu almost easily, and then reached out and touched the white flame on the head of this big flaming cat.

Chapter 522: 4 Pillars of God, your end has come!

“Everyone says we are the saddest middle age.”

“The Dharma of Eternal Fire has been extinguished, and the new Dafa has not yet been ignited, let alone the legendary Fire Cat God, we have not even erected the banner of Eternal Fire... I heard the splendor of the Temple of Eternal Fire since I was a child, but this I can only live in the dark all my life.”

“Many sects lost their beliefs, ideals, and everything at this stage. Many people have left, and I don’t blame them. When you can’t even see your ideals, how can you not get lost? Dafa is not only power, it is more Our goal, when people know where they want to go, the world will make way for you.”

“Will a new flame really be ignited in the future? Will someone really continue to pursue the glory of the Fire Cat God generation? Why don’t we join other sects and believe in other Dafa?”

“When others told me this, I didn’t answer, and I wouldn’t stop them from going to a better life. After all, who can say for sure what will happen in the future, maybe the eternal fire will be completely extinguished in our generation, No one remembers the greatness of the Fire Cat God.”

“When we were expelled by other sects, the eternal fire could not burn them; when we were sleeping and sleeping, the eternal fire could not protect us; when we were attacked and plundered, the eternal fire did not respond to fate’s ridicule.”

“But I won’t give up.”

“That’s right, we don’t have Dafa to rely on, we can’t get the protection of Dafa, and we can’t use the power of Dafa. However, ideals and beliefs are not bargaining chips.”

“We can’t control our birth, we can’t control our past, we can’t control our own death, and fate will never treat us kindly. The only thing we can control is our will.”

“Perhaps belief in ideals won’t give me any advantage, but I’ll be fearless because of them.”

“Some people say that faith is at the end, but I think that faith is at the foot.”

“Some people say that people before dawn are the saddest, but I don’t think it’s nice to watch the sky light up a little bit?”

“Some people say that I am the saddest middle age, but I think I will be the greatest starting point.”

When Yaxiu came to his senses, the White Flame Tiger had turned into a cape and wrapped around him. The majestic and mighty White Flame Tiger had now turned into a little tiger, lying sleepily on his shoulders.

The red-robed priests kneeled reverently on the wooden board, and Igula looked at him blankly, with surprise and nervousness in her eyes. He opened his mouth and said ‘you’, and his face was flushed by the scorching steam. Ash flicked a finger at him, and Igula was no longer bothered by the scorching steam, and his whole body felt cool.

‘I didn’t distort my mind by the fire of myriad calamities.’ Yaxiu signaled the fraudster to take it easy with his eyes, and looked at the priests in red: “Let’s go.”

The red-robed priests were very excited, and their voices were extremely humble: “Please come with me, the first gospel.”

“Call me Ash.”

“Yes, Your Highness Ash!”

Harvey, who was sitting beside the ice pool, watched Ash and the others come out. He glanced at Ash’s flame cloak, and before he spoke, he saw Ash waving at him.

“Hurry up and keep up, I will stand in the sky later, but I won’t wait for you.”

Harvey stared blankly at Ash's arrogant back, and then looked at Igula beside him.

"Once he was successful, he was incoherent." Igula shrugged and said with a smile, "It seems that he has drawn a good card."

That's right, Ash is really prosperous this time.

As long as he heard that the second ending of the magician's death was to become a Dafa, he was thinking about a question: where did the magician's manual for these magicians go?

Until just now, the red-robed priests said that the biggest obstacle to the ritual of sending gods is to be consistent with the concept of Dafa, and Ash immediately realized that this might be a good opportunity from heaven – the same concept, isn't this the threshold for reading the magician's manual? However, I don't know if it's because Ash has a flexible moral bottom line or something else, he can read any magician's manual without obstacles!

It's just that witches can also read most of the manuals for magicians, so Yaxiu hasn't read a few books in the whole time continent, but even witches can't read the manuals of wizards, and Yaxiu can read them with great interest!

So Yaxiu took a risk and found that this ritual of sending the gods is almost the same as reading the manual of magicians! If he can fully read the Master Yan Baihu's manual, he will naturally be able to achieve the perfect God!

He has completely mastered the divine power of the Five-Tailed Flame White Tiger!

Yaxiu never imagined that his wonderful reading talent would actually be the top talent in Sen Luo Kingdom!

The priests in red robes have said that there were 800 Great Laws in Senluo Land, and now even if a broken bone is broken, there will always be 100 Great Laws, right? In other words, there are 100 near-god combat powers that Yaxiu can freely prostitute at will!

Not to mention the Four Pillars of God, it is just around the corner to unify Senluo and return to the Gospel!

Next, it's my time!

Ash hurriedly changed his clothes. Surrounded by the red-robed priests, he walked out of the Sanctuary of Tribulation with his head upright, and saw a ruined city outside—not by the Four Pillars, the city itself was in ruins.

The sun was shining brightly outside, the fortifications built by the earth magicians had been completely pierced, and the fire robbers had to keep retreating. In contrast, the more numerous black-clothed magicians are destroying the abandoned city recklessly. Both sides rarely use weapons like guns, and more are direct spells!

As the calm announcement resounded throughout the audience, Ash raised his hand and pulled it towards the sky, and immediately countless people felt the sun was a little fiercer. When they looked up, they saw a huge fireball the size of a city falling towards the positions of the black-clothed magicians. The hot breath almost evaporated the moisture from everyone’s skin!

Myriad Tribulations on Fire!

There is no doubt that there are more and better ways to use the Great Fire of Myriad Tribulations, but it was too late for Asu to develop it, so she could only use its flame power roughly—big is good, big is beautiful!

“Praise the Dafa of Ten Thousand Calamities Fire!”

“The fire of calamity will never be extinguished!”

The fire robbers were so excited that they were not afraid of the fiery wave of fire, and they hungrily watched the miracle to punish the enemy!

In comparison, although the black-clothed magicians also looked up at the falling fireball from the sky, there was not much fear in their eyes, but rather indifference.

“The fire of all calamities in its heyday?”

As the curious female voice sounded, the Myriad Tribulations Fire Pendant suddenly shrank, shrunk, until it became the size of a chocolate and was swallowed by a rabbit.

It was a rabbit covered in orange flames, lying on the shoulders of a black-clothed female magician. Unlike the other Four Pillars, she didn't wear the standard black clothes, but a tailored black dress, with a black butterfly patterned head guard, and only her mouth was exposed.

She was holding a book in her hand. She didn't seem to have participated in the war just now, and kept hiding behind to read.

Suddenly it doesn't seem like a big deal, but considering the light industry situation here, she can dress so differently, which is enough to show her status.

As soon as he saw her, the red-robed priest behind Asau gritted his teeth and said, "Traitor!"

"His Royal Highness Yaxiu, she is the traitor of the fire robbery who betrayed the temple and took away other Dafa! We have deprived her of her surname, please be sure to kill her and get back our fire robbery!"

Could she have a flexible moral bottom line for being able to rely on so many Dafa at the same time? A strange thought flashed through Yaxiu's mind, she nodded lightly on her face, walked down the steps step by step, and walked over slowly.

In fact, he also wanted to spread his wings and fly over, but he had never practiced flying at all, and could only rely on walking to accumulate power. And along with his footsteps, the power of Myriad Tribulations Fire also penetrated his body step by step, until Yaxiu completely turned into a flame incarnation!

Power, power is coming!

This is the power of the gods, this is the power of the gods!

The traitor also stood in front of the black-clothed magician and looked at Ash with interest: "You are the first gospel prayed by the Temple of Tribulation of Fire? I heard that you are from other countries? Are other countries different from Senluo?"

"First, my name is Yaxiu." Yaxiu said calmly: "Second, it's too late for you to surrender now."

Following Ash's announcement, another larger fireball fell from the sky, as if the sun had descended into the world!

"Why are you in such a hurry, I still want to chat with you more." The traitor smiled slightly, and new flame animals emerged from her shoulders, elbows, and thighs, namely blue flame squirrels, red flame lizards, and green flame snakes. , and the Orange Flame Rabbit just now, she actually carries four Dafa with her!

However, Yaxiu breathed a sigh of relief—no matter how strong Dafa was, she could only rely on one god, and the Dafa she possessed was clearly not a match for Yanbaihu.

Now it's stable!

Ash's era began with the violent beating of the Four Pillars!

Thinking of how badly he had been implicated by the Four Pillars of God, Ash couldn't help but burst into tears: Four Pillars of God, your end has come!

However, the traitor spit out four nouns briskly:

“strength.”

The red flame lizard turned into a five-winged cherub holding a spear and wearing a red armor. It holds the spear high, and blesses the traitor with power and divine power!

“wisdom.”

The blue flame squirrel turned into a five-winged little angel wearing a blue hat and holding a notebook. It opens the book and blesses the traitor with wisdom and divine power!

The green flame snake turned into a five-winged cherub wearing a green hat and holding a flute. It plays music and blesses the traitors with the divine power of life!

“Joy.”

The orange flame rabbit has become a graceful, pink and lovely five-winged angel. It kisses the cheek of the traitor, but the traitor is blessed with the power of joy!

In the blink of an eye, the traitor’s body lit up with halos, and the powerful divine might directly disintegrated Yaxiu’s Myriad Calamities!

Ash rubbed his eyes.

Wait, your plot seems familiar too!

I remember, the next plot is that you are arrested!

If you believe in the Four Pillars God, how can you not be trapped!

“Stubborn!” Yaxiu was not afraid, and with a roar, it turned into a flaming meteor and charged—

Boom!

With the thunderous collision~www.mtlnovel.com~ the huge heat wave spread like a storm, the earth shook violently, and the aftermath of the battle almost shook everyone!

I saw a crack like a spider web cracking in the square in front of the Temple of Tribulation of Fire, and Yaxiu was abruptly smashed into a ‘big’ hole, and his body has returned to normal. His white tiger with flames of ‘Myriad Tribulations’, which had not been warmed just after he got it, has now turned into a tiger cub, being carried by the back of the neck by the traitor.

The traitor put the flame white tiger on her head, while she sat on Yaxiu, crossed her legs in black stockings, and opened the notebook in her hand to write and draw: “A...xiu...”

“Okay, Yaxiu, you’ve been caught by me now.” The corner of her mouth turned up slightly: “Aren’t you in a hurry now? Let’s continue chatting, I want to know more about you.”

Chapter 523: Prison Experiencer

“Has visiting the prisons of each country become our regular tourism project? If the reality is a game, we can definitely unlock the achievement of “Prison Experiencer”. ”

While groping for the cushion on the wall, Ash couldn't help laughing at himself in a low voice. . .

“More than that, you can also unlock achievements such as “Defeat in one second”, “First place in the beating”, “If you lose a little bit, I will win”. ‘ Igula replied boredly, lying on the cushion.

“That's right, I'm actually just a little bit closer to turning the tables,” Yaxiu said while biting her nails, “Unfortunately, my time in mastering the Fire of Myriad Tribulations was too short, and she was able to gather the power of the four Dafa to sneak attack on my freshman. A foreigner who has not come here... If it wasn't for the wrong information given by the group of fire thieves, if it wasn't for my lack of training time, and if it wasn't for her appearance that was not good at fighting, the victory would definitely belong to me!”

Igula glanced at him: "I don't mean to say "you only lose a little so you win", but "you lose a little and you win" – obviously he was crushed to the point where he couldn't handle it, You can still find so many reasons for yourself, what else can I do? Only you win. "

Yaxiu folded his arms in front of his chest and nodded repeatedly: "I fully understand, it turns out that in your heart I have already won, I am so moved!"

Igula's expression was distorted with anger, and Harvey next to him burst out laughing, and Yoyo said: "However, this time, it's really not Yaxiu's turn to be responsible, even the First Gospel can't reverse this situation... Omniscient Weaver, shouldn't it be? You would have expected this a long time ago, so you sent this inferior product, Yaxiu, to make do with it, right?"

"It's possible, after all, the first gospel is the agent of the omniscient weaver. This was originally a wonderful opportunity for the omniscient weaver to infiltrate this kingdom, but the omniscient weaver would rather put Ashe in..." The fraudster pondered: "Either It's because the omniscient weaver doesn't look down on this kingdom at all, or even sending the first gospel will not help, so simply stop the loss and use Yaxiu to fool the temple of robbery."

"Wait when we leave you and find someone to hurt me when I'm not around? Now, let's find a way to escape from this cell." Ash complained, "Why do you two relax as if you were home?"

Harvey said, "To be honest, I'm a little surprised that you're so nervous."

"And why do you think we have a chance to escape?" Igula said, "The Four Pillars Sect's base camp is outside. Even if we can break through this cell, how far can we escape?"

Yaxiu: "You didn't say that just now. When you were in the Temple of Tribulation Fire, you wanted to run away. How could you be caught by the Four Pillars of God and lie down? How much did the Four Pillars of God give you?"

"Because I don't know anything about the Temple of Fire Tribulation," Igula said leisurely: "But the Four Pillars Sect, if you count the leader of this cult, we have already come into contact with the Four Pillars Sect for the third time. old friend?"

"Also," the fraudster sat up and patted the padded wall: "We can't break through this cell at all, this is supposed to be—"

Igula shook her head: “Although I have worked part-time as a psychiatrist, I have never worked as a psychiatrist.”

This is a closed space of about 25 square meters. The floor, walls, and ceiling are covered with azure blue cushions. Even the toilet is made of slime-like soft material, and warm light seeps from the seams of the cushion. , covering the entire space, no shadow can be seen.

Although the Evil Guan Man Ying trio has never been to such a place, these environmental factors are too complete—

This is the treatment room for the mentally ill!

After Ash was beaten, Igula immediately pulled Harvey to surrender. Interestingly, after seeing the Dafa of Ten Thousand Calamity Fire being taken away, the red-robed priests all lost their fighting spirit and gave up their resistance. Temple, and then send someone to take over this area and take away all the magicians.

The war in this world seems to have an unspoken rule – Dafa is equal to everything, if Dafa exists, everything is allowed, and if Dafa is destroyed, everything is empty.

And their means of transportation is also very wonderful: a maglev train pulled by a pack beast. That's right, the maglev trains are pulled by the bull-like beasts, floating on the ground, and they don't even need tracks. Such a post-modern combination design, let alone Igula, even Ash and Harvey had to accept an aesthetic check.

To be honest, the speed of the "Bull and Horse Train" is not slow, and there is no discomfort in sitting up, and the stability is even far better than that of the Gospel floating car. This process was originally their best chance to escape, but Ash kept being held by the woman for questioning, and Harvey was held down by Igula for several changes, and he arrived at the residence of the Four Pillars of God after a few hours.

The residence of the Four Pillars Sect is similar to that of the Temple of Tribulation of Fire. They are all cities built on ruins. It wasn't until Ash and the others were locked in this cell that they realized the prototype of this ruin – it turned out to be a mental hospital!

It is worth mentioning that there is a mental hospital in the Blood Moon Kingdom. After all, this disease has both congenital and acquired conditions. The congenital one will be reopened naturally, but the day after tomorrow, there is no way to do it. After all, it is a dual physical and psychological disease that is difficult for medical practitioners to intervene.

Even if the Blood Moon people have developed the habit of going to a psychiatrist, the occupation with the highest proportion of mental patients is a psychiatrist—a person who always saves people from the quagmire will also become a quagmire under their feet.

Although not all babies in the blood moon are eligible to survive, the babies who can survive can fully enjoy the benefits of the blood moon, such as social support, medical care and pensions, and unemployment relief.

Yes, as long as you don't touch consumerism, sugar, gambling, mud coffee, tea, coffee, then you can eat and die in the blood moon even if you don't work, and the blood moon will provide food and lodging to support you until you Become the experimental material of the blood saints. In addition to watching a series of advertisements for a few minutes, playing games must become someone else's game experience. Ordinary people can basically live a very nourishing life and freely enjoy modern technology.

It's just that in the blood moon, a country full of anxiety, discrimination, mania, and temptation, it is impossible for people not to fall, because they have no place for themselves.

Thinking about it this way, the mentally ill are the only group that can resist depravity. After all, they have finally found their own place.

The Temple of Tribulation Fire is orthodox in the bathing center, and the Four Pillars Sect is stationed in the mental hospital. Although it is difficult to accept, it is quite reasonable to think about it.

But now there is a second problem: Ash and the others can't destroy this ward!

They didn't limit their magic power, and UU reading www.uukanshu.com did not ban their magic spirits, but the three sanctuary magicians couldn't do any harm to this ward!

The cushions here can absorb 100% kinetic energy and all spell damage! Yaxiu's mouth and belly sword, Harvey's death aura corroded, Igula even took out a silencer gun from the space card and tried it, but he couldn't leave a trace on the cushion.

No wonder the Four Pillars of God kept them here with such peace of mind that they couldn't even destroy the toilet!

Ash and the others even wondered if this was a custom-made ward where the legendary magician was held, but Igula recalled it and said that he seemed to see a blue cushion hidden in the black-clothed magician's clothes.

In other words, the Four Pillars Sect should remove the cushions of the other wards of this mental hospital and make soft armor for the believers!

Yes, something like this that can resist all damage should be used as armor, why is it so extravagant that it is used as material for mental wards!

Chapter 524: 1 opinion

“The backward and the advanced coexist. A great civilization can only be recalled from paper. Religious belief controls everything, and civilization is built on ruins...”

Igula said calmly: “This country is probably in the post-apocalyptic era.”

“This country should also have God’s protection, right?” Harvey was a little strange: “Will the God just watch the end come?”

“Yes...” Ash said with great certainty: “If there were not so many accidents, the Gospel Kingdom would definitely have lost the Gospel system and entered the countdown to the end... For God, the end will only last one or two hundred years.’ interval’, civilization will recover sooner or later, just like when you grow flowers until they wither and bloom again, you naturally don’t care too much.”

“Those who have seen angels have confidence in the macro narrative, as if you have lived for hundreds of years.” Igula mocked Ash and continued, “Because of this, we may not need to escape the Four Pillars of God.”

“Why?” Ash was taken aback: “Do you think people in the post-apocalyptic world will be particularly kind?”

“I think people in the post-apocalyptic period will be particularly greedy.” The fraudster smiled: “Wow, the social environment here is much better than the gospel – greed is rampant, rules are no longer, there is no supervision, only interests! Although it is desolate here a little bit, but it’s better for hunting than a big city, right?”

“Moreover, we still have the bait they crave—advanced knowledge from other countries!”

Ash patted the invincible cushion, and it was hard to hold back the sarcasm in his words: “Are we advanced?”

“There is no doubt that the great civilization that once existed here may be the age of the Fire Cat God, which is much more advanced than the Blood Moon Gospel. But it is precisely because of this that such a huge civilizational era has arisen,” Igula said: “The people here are like the one-wing magician who got the four-wing magic spirit. They can’t learn or decipher any technology tree from it at all, so they can only borrow the power of the four-wing magic spirit in the crudest way – such as letting the pack beast. Pull the maglev train and use the cushions of the mental ward as armor.”

“And the resources they couldn’t find from the ruins, their technical level simply stayed at the early stage of civilization – they couldn’t even produce the torture tools of the shacklers!”

Ash and Harvey were stunned for a moment, and then they remembered that it was the first time they were caught but their magic power was not limited – this is an unimaginable treatment in Blood Moon and Gospel.

Thinking about it carefully, limiting magic power is actually a test of civilization, because magic power is invisible, and the instruments that bind magic power can only be made by the creators themselves, which means a perfect training system for magicians and developed creations industry.

In the post-apocalyptic era, it is naturally difficult for most forces to meet these two conditions. Those ‘creation products’ that are accustomed to in a stable society may be rare and scarce here.

“No wonder that person keeps asking me about the life details of the gospel...” Ash murmured.

“Even if we don’t know the specific technical information, as long as we can tell the evolution of the technology, it will be of great help to the people here.” Igula said: “They are like magicians who have obtained the inheritance of the four wings, and They are only one wing and two wings now, as long as we paint them a landscape of three wings and let them not go the wrong way, they will be able to inherit the great legacy sooner.”

“So, we have room for cooperation with them, or in other words, we have room for cooperation with the woman who defeated Ash – she knows our value.”

“Since there is no limit to our magic power, then we might as well wait until the incident to resist, and before that, we can try to find opportunities for cooperation. After all, this is a new world, and the best way to integrate here is to join one of the forces, like We join the funeral as well.”

“The more important thing is,” Igula paused: “I and Harvey are both three-winged magicians, but we haven’t built a sanctuary yet. If we can buy enough time, we will be more confident to protect you from leaving— ”

“Ah, I’m actually already a sanctuary magician.” Ash said, “But like you, I haven’t built a sanctuary yet.”

It took several minutes for Igula and Harvey to accept that Ash could climb into the remote airspace without any ‘cheating’. But looking at their expressions, Ash always felt that they would push their heads into the toilet to drink water while they were sleeping.

Ash quickly changed the subject: “So, do we really want to cooperate with the Four Pillars?”

“Why not?” Igula tilted her head slightly: “Compared to the Temple of Tribulation of Fire, are we more familiar with the Four Pillars Sect?”

Ash knew that Igula was right.

Since there are people in the Four Pillars who want to cooperate with them, it is the best choice for them to take this opportunity to understand the world. Even if you don't want to cooperate, you can delay the time and the snake until the three of them build a sanctuary to become a tactical weapon, and then they can directly kill the Four Pillars of God.

Harvey doesn't care about the Four Pillars at all, even if he cooperates with the monsters in the abyss, he doesn't feel much resistance; and Igula takes the Four Pillars as his second choice. After all, it is predicted in the weaving ceremony that he will become the leader of the Four Pillars, the 'Rusty Crow'. , Igula naturally wants to gain some management experience here, and may even want to usurp the Four Pillars of God against the customer.

Ash has long seen that Igula's material desires are not high. What he pursues is the pleasure of challenging difficult frauds, especially the madness of walking between life and death, which can best stimulate the pituitary gland of the fraudster. A social environment like the post-apocalyptic era is a big playground for him.

The same is true for Harvey. What he longs for is a curtain call. In stable societies such as the Blood Moon Gospel, he can only get such an opportunity by committing crimes, but here, maybe he can finish his magician's manual in the next second.

In this mental ward, there is no wrong person except himself.

But the other two probably thought so too.

But Ash didn't want to be involved in the Four Pillars of God.

Whether Hiss or Eternal Calamity is always present, it has brought too much trouble to Ash, and he even formed a concept that getting close to the Four Pillars of God would make him unfortunate.

If possible, he still wants to get away from these guys as soon as possible, even if he picks up cardboard boxes and sleeps under the bridge.

But compared with Igulana's full consideration, the reason for this 'timidity and cowardice' is really impossible to say. And Yaxiu also had to consider the thoughts of the two of them. They had always accommodated him before, and now it was his turn to accommodate them.

Ash took a deep breath, calmed down his uneasy mood, sat down next to the cushion, and turned the Gospel thumbwheel.

No response.

Sure enough, it is impossible to call out the Gospels without the radiation range of the Gospel spirits.

This thumbwheel is useless... Although I thought so, Ash didn't take it off, so I thought it was a souvenir from the Gospel.

So what was the souvenir he took away from the Blood Moon? Igula and Harvey?

While thinking wildly, Ash called out "Aurora's Manual of Magicians". Without the blessing of the Gospels, the picture quality of the game interface has returned to the level of door lock shooting. Unless Yaxiu can find better audio-visual equipment here, he will not be able to enjoy the high-definition pictures of Jianji.

After taking the source crystal of the sign-in reward, Yaxiu looked at "Operator Search".

Since you can only wait, let's draw cards!

"For a clean and blue world' limited search (thanks and feedback activities after 10 weeks of launch

"Limited operators 'Youlan Weisser', 'Purple Resentment Shadow Concubine', and 'Blood-Hidden Empress' have an increased chance of getting ↑↑"

"Limited costumes 'Christmas Gift, Sword Princess', 'Moonstar Swimsuit, Sword Princess', 'Rain Queen, Witch', and 'Christmas Gift and Witch' have the probability of getting ↑↑"

"Ends at 00:00 on July 10"

Ten weeks?

Yaxiu did some calculations and found that he had really traveled for ten weeks. However, this event is also very busy: your gratitude feedback is not to send source crystals to send characters, but to send another limited event! ?

Who is giving thanks and who is giving back!

The operator 'Double Heart Girl' and the costume 'Hana Married Sword Princess' that appeared in the last search event did not appear. Instead, there were three new operators and the costumes of the sword princess and the witch. Thanks to Aurora, this time I finally did not show up. The attire of the spectator of the end appears.

But this Christmas present... Ash twitched the corners of his mouth, there's no Christmas here, isn't this a dress that doesn't fit the worldview at all!

Wait, is there a flower marriage in this world? Oh that's fine.

As before, there was no preview of the costumes, so Ash was very curious, was the operator giving Christmas gifts, or dressed up as Christmas gifts?

The Moon Star Swimsuit and Rain Queen also look good. As long as there is no spectator's dress in the card pool, Yaxiu won't lose any money!

What's more noticeable is... Yaxiu looked at the limited operator 'Youlan Wesser' and felt a little strange. The other operators were all called by code names, so why did she appear directly by her name?

Is it a main story character?

Ash and Harvey took the chocolate plate that Igula threw over, tore open the package and bit off a piece to replenish the heat. Eating and eating, Harvey suddenly said, "Alice said she doesn't like staying in the Four Pillars Religion."

Your Alice is still in the coffin, UU reading www.uukanshu.com The coffin is still in the space card, the space card is in your bag, how did you communicate with Alice through the three-layer thick barrier...

Igula took a light bite, tore off a piece with a snap, and said as she ate, "No matter which country you are in, dead people don't have the right to vote."

"However," he paused, "we don't have to cooperate with the Four Pillars of God."

"As long as there is a chance to leave this room, then we will find a way to escape the Four Pillars of God, and then cooperate with other forces with better reputation. It is also a good choice... What do you think?"

Noticing that Igula and Harvey were both looking at him, Ash blinked, rolled the sweetness of the chocolate into his stomach with his tongue, and nodded heavily: "I want to leave as soon as possible."

"Agreed." Igula said briskly, "That's it."

Chapter 525: Happy for 3

After Igula looked disgusted with winning three games in a row, Yaxiu opened the “Material Purchase” and bought a “Box of Origin Crystal” worth 328 points!

Get 66 Origin Crystals!

Trigger the first recharge reward and get another 66 Origin Crystals!

In addition to the 32 Origin Crystals accumulated by sign-in these days, the total is 164 Origin Crystals! A total of 54 draws can be drawn!

It would be great if he drew this limited pool in the Gospel. Ashe could pray for the blessing of the Gospel to “strengthen his will”. He believed that with his strong will, he could at least draw the costumes of the Sword Princess and the Witch! If it is the “Flower Marriage” series, his mind can even distort the probability of the search system!

Now I can only accumulate luck by winning by Igula guessing, and pray for the mercy of the search system.

But 54 times, it's impossible not to ship, right? There will be no one who can't draw what they want five times and ten times in a row, right?

"Are you sure to spend 162 source crystals for 54 searches?"

"Sure!"

First of all, there are 30 white lights polluting the card pool, energy potions, experience potions, primary battle cards and career potions!

There are 18 purple lights, which are 8 bottles of Delightful Potion, 7 bottles of Pure Aura Special Drink, 1 Advanced Trial Card, 1 new item "Aurora Car Navigation System", and 2 bottles of new potion "Lightless Sanctuary". Medicine"!

And, 6 golden lights!

"Silver Coins of the Dead Crazy Sword Princess"!

“Black and White Witch’s Mirror Fragment”!

“Aurora’s Dream Treasure House”!

“Youlan Wesser”!

“Queen of the Rain, Witch”!

“Moonstar Swimsuit · Sword Princess”!

Yaxiu was stunned, she couldn’t help rubbing her eyes, and took a closer look at the reward she had drawn. . .

After a while, Igula closed her eyes next to the soft wall and opened her eyes. She saw Ash crawling in front of her and said angrily, “You want to guess the boxing again?—”

The cheater's words came to an abrupt end, because Ashe rushed over and hugged him very hard. When he came back to his senses, he saw Ashe also went over to hang on his shoulders with Harvey. However, the necromancer did not suffer at all, reaching out and pulling the cult leader's face to both sides.

After some play, Ash shrank to the corner of the room and turned his back to them, waving his hands and saying, "It's alright, it's alright, ignore me!"

You can't help but laugh in your voice, you know... Igula and Harvey didn't know that something good happened to Ash. But they are all in this mental ward, and there is no external communication channel, and they are even caught by the Four Pillars of God. Where did Yaxiu meet the good things?

The realm faction has broken through? Summoned a new magic spirit?

Igula glanced at Harvey. Harvey checked the cat grass and Snow White candies in his pocket, and shook his head – none of his cigarettes and candies were lost, and Ash was definitely not high.

You don't care if you encounter good things, but you don't want to say it, you can't hold back your laughter, and you even insist on sharing your happiness with us. Is your happiness shared by three people?

The cheater and the necromancer looked at each other and saw helplessness and doubt in each other's pupils, but the corners of their own mouths raised unconsciously.

After some catharsis, Yaxiu finally calmed down his excitement.

Pulled out!

I really got the dresses of Sword Princess and Witch!

I can finally give them a present! And everyone has it!

It's not a loss to draw these two costumes!

Yaxiu took a deep breath, held down his excited little heart, and checked the other newly drawn items first.

The first is the new white light props.

“Career Pharmacy”: When an operator is running a business and life, it will be easier for operators to burst into inspiration, show their talents, and enjoy life for seven days.

First of all, this new white light-level item is different from physical potion and experience potion. Career potion is not suitable for training activities, which means that this item has no effect on the strength of the operator, and may even have a negative impact – management Career and cultivation often run counter to each other. When operators focus on career, they will inevitably slack off the progress of magic. Like work and play, when you spend most of your day working, it’s easy to be unable to play big games.

In the past, Yaxiu, who was dedicated to exploiting the combat power of the operators, would definitely throw the business potions in the warehouse to become moldy. After all, neither the sword girl nor the witch is someone who loves to practice. The sword girl has the dream of the shadow girl and the song girl, and the witch directly asks her sisters to help her practice. If they take these medicines, their hearts will definitely be wilder.

Yaxiu reckons that the career potion should be used by the operators of “I want to become the king of magicians”, so that these super quizzers can squeeze their potential outside of training activities.

But now, Ash doesn't think so anymore.

Maybe it's because of listening to Jian Ji showing off her achievements all day long, Ya Xiu couldn't help but be interested in her life. , Now it seems to be the final of the Meteor Tribulation, and he really wants to sit in the audience and admire the dazzling and heroic appearance of Jian Ji. Win or lose, Ash would definitely stand up and applaud her.

Although the witch rarely mentions her real life, every time she encounters danger and her hair turns dirty, it is not him and Jian Ji who saves her from fear, but the witch's family. Jian Ji only needs to ask her 'is there someone waiting for you to go back', and the witch will immediately be full of courage, and her hair color will become distinct.

No matter in the virtual world or in life, they are all fighting hard.

Moreover, Jian Ji's golden blessing “Shining Star” and the witch's golden blessing “Rebellion” are all related to career and life, and using career potions for them can increase their combat power.

But even if there is no golden blessing, Yaxiu hopes that he can hear the sword princess and the witch show off their career and life more in the virtual world, hope that the sword princess can become a shining star as she wishes, and that the witch can act like a spoiled child with the person she loves every day.

The bond between them seems to allow Ash not only to share their magic experience, but also to share their happiness.

As long as she saw the smiles on their faces, Ash's heart seemed to warm up.

There are 8 bottles of business potions, and Yaxiu used "Alchemist's Refining Bottles" to refine all of them. After failing once, he got 3 bottles of "Advanced Business Potions".

"Advanced Career Pharmacy": Operators will get the best results in the best state when they manage their careers and lives, and they can vaguely get the favor of fate, which lasts for seven days.

Then there are the new purple light props.

“Advanced Trial Card”: Let operators get a difficult trial, gain a lot of experience, slightly increase the fetters of operators, and make operators more obedient to your orders. Each operator can only use it once a week.

“Aurora Car Navigation System”: The navigation system equipped for the Aurora self-driving car will plan the best route according to the exploration goal set by the owner, and automatically kill all the targets on the road that can be killed in seconds.

“Lightless Sanctuary Elixir”: Complete the Sanctuary construction immediately, or speed up the Sanctuary Synchronization progress. Note that the magician who completes the construction of the sanctuary will automatically resist the forbidden instrument, which greatly weakens the spatial perception that the magician obtains from the forbidden instrument, so use it with caution.

There is nothing to say about the advanced trial card, but this “make the operator more obedient to your orders” makes Asia feel strange. Could it be that he beat the operator to make her obey?

This navigation system is naturally excellent. Even if Yaxiu has a virtual map, it will not compromise its practicability. After all, the location of Liujinhe in the Time Continent is not fixed. Yaxiu pressed the map several times to advance but was blocked by Liujinhe. In addition, this navigation system is extremely immoral, and it will automatically kill ordinary virtual creatures such as the projection of the magician and the dragon, which can be described as a must for murder and arson.

But the problem is, Ash is no longer in the Time Continent.

There is obviously no place for a sports car in the distant airspace. It's like a 25-year-old who worked and bought a game console that his thirteen-year-old parents didn't allow him to buy. The thing is excellent, but it is no longer used. .

The only purple light item worth paying attention to is the "Lightless Sanctuary Potion".

Immediately complete the construction of the sanctuary, there is no doubt that it can immediately qualitatively change the combat power of Yaxiu and others, and the next time you explore the virtual realm, you don't need to go through the test of the forbidden instrument. However, the problem is also here – the forbidden instrument is both a trial and a reward. All magicians use the forbidden instrument to quickly improve their space faction realm.

Completing the sanctuary construction ahead of time is equivalent to giving up this novice gift package.

If it is for future consideration, it seems that this potion should not be taken, but Ash and the others are different-because of the fetters, Ash can get the spell experience of other operators, that is to say, he takes Wuguang Sheng The domain medicine is also fine, Jian Ji and the witch will naturally pull up his space faction realm.

However, Ash felt that he didn't need this potion to build a sanctuary.

It's not that he floated away, but that he rolled in the rain with dozens of sanctuaries during the period when he became 'Ayin'. In addition, the omnipotence and omnipotence of 'Ayin' is also rapidly improving his space faction realm, and Yaxiu faintly feels that he is only a little bit closer to the sanctuary.

In this case, can these two bottles of potions be left to the Sword Princess and Witch? If it's a big deal, feed them space orbs to make up for it...

Axiu put this matter down for the time being and looked at the exciting golden light props.

"Silver Coins of Death Mad Sword Princess" and "Black and White Witch's Mirror Fragment"! Yaxiu is one step closer to Man Bao Man Dive!

After using these two props, the information of the sword princess and the witch has undergone new changes——

"Dead Mad Sword Princess"

“Human · Female · 18 years old”

“Bound level: 4 (75% experience sharing

“Bound Resonance · Insufficient greed: When you walk with you, there is a chance to get better loot.”

“Resonance of Fetters, Unswerving: When walking with you, Sword Princess is more likely to obtain experience orbs.”

“Black and White Witch”

“Human · Female · 19 years old”

“Bound level: 4 (75% experience sharing

“Bound Resonance · Playing with people’s hearts: Even if there is no related psychic spirit, you and the witch have supernatural abilities that affect people’s hearts.”

“Bound Resonance, Promise the Future: Even if there is no related destiny magic spirit, you and the witch have the supernatural ability to influence destiny through agreement.”

Absolutely, at the beginning, the bond resonance was all the exclusive adjectives for villains such as ‘insufficient greed’ and ‘playing people’s hearts’. Now the second resonance is all good words such as ‘unswerving’ and ‘promise the future’. Is everything a loss of morality, or a distortion of human nature?

However, ‘Unswerving’ has a good effect, and it can explode more experience orbs. For them, who are seriously hindered by the faction realm, it is simply a help in the snow. And Yaxiu also knows the origin of this resonance, probably referring to Sword Princess’s pursuit of glory, status, and career.

On the contrary, ‘Agreeing on the Future’ is confusing. Although it seems quite bluffing, how does it affect fate? Could it be that any agreement he made, the whole world would find a way for him to fulfill it?

Compared to this, Axiu discovered that the witch's bond level had also reached level 4 without realizing it, which made him a little confused—hey, didn't Sword Princess keep talking ill of me to the witch? Why did the witch's favorability for me increase so quickly? Even at the same level as Jian Ji.

Could it be that I'm blaming Jianji at fault? Or is the witch's eyes sharp?

Then there was a new item that made Ashe feel quite strange—

“Aurora's Dream Treasure”: When you enter the Dream Bubble, you can select three collections from the treasury. When you break the number of fantasy bubbles, you can draw a collection from the treasure trove. The collection only works in the fantasy bubble, it will not be carried over to the next expedition, and it will not affect the reality.

The following is an introduction to some of the collections:

“Colorful Collection·Hand of Brilliance: Restores 2% of maximum mana per effective attack.”

“Golden Collection · Omniscient Veil: Within your field of vision, you can strengthen or weaken all spells you know (whether friend or foe), up to 50% stronger/100% weaker (the upper limit depends on your level of understanding). Proportional), it can only take effect on one spell at a time.”

“Silver Collection·Blood Saint’s Guard: Every time you kill a unit (including but not limited to warlock projections, virtual creatures, and residents in fantasy bubbles), you can get 1 layer of damage deepening blessing, which lasts for 30 seconds, with a maximum of 10 layers.”

Dream Bubble is a unique scene mechanism in the remote airspace, which means that this is a virtual prop to assist in exploring the remote airspace~www.mtlnovel.com~ As early as when climbing the remote airspace, Yaxiu realized The difference between the remote airspace and the first two layers of the virtual realm – in the sea of knowledge and the land of time, the magicians are still in a state of ignorance, so ‘Ten Thousand Miles of Sea’ and ‘Ten Thousand Miles of Road’ are both excellent training for them , almost every magician can transform into an independent seeker. It is a shame for a magician to hold his thighs like Yaxiu.

When they reached the remote airspace, the ‘lutu’ was no longer able to make the magicians feel the slightest pressure, so the virtual realm generously opened a space channel for them, changing the situation of ‘fighting for five minutes for two hours on the road’. And according to the law of conservation of pressure, the sanctuary magician who does not need to bother to move will naturally face a more intense battle.

However, it was the first time that Ash had seen such a naked power-enhancing item. Even if it was just a virtual battle power, it was very rare, and the golden items were well deserved.

Not to mention that the effects of these collections are extremely amazing, such as the hand of billions of glory, which can recover 2% of the mana for each attack... How much more than 50 slashes of Sword Princess' blood flower water moon? If Jian Ji can be equipped with this collection, she will have almost unlimited magic power!

It's just that the names of these collections are familiar, they are billions of brilliance, they are omniscient, and they are blood saints... It feels like the wizard's manual saw that Yaxiu was so weak and stole it from the treasure house of the gods overnight.

Then came the third new operator, "Youlan Wesser"!

Chapter 526: Orchid Wesser

"Orchid Wesser"

"Human · Female · 24 years old"

"Bound level: 0 (30% experience sharing

"Occupation: Shadow of the Veil"

“Occupational Feature: When you cannot be seen in the target’s field of vision, any of your magic spells can achieve the ultimate effect.”

“Inherent talent · life (high): additional 200% truth experience and destiny experience, low chance to get 1000

Chapter 527: Another world line of self

The genius remembers the address of this site in one second: [Luoqiu Chinese] <https://>The fastest update! No ads!

When night falls, the dark night sky has neither stars nor moon, just like the eternal darkness descending on the earth, as if it can devour all colored things.

Around the hospital camp, there are four statues – a heroic general, an elegant middle-aged scholar, a kind old man and a pure girl. . . The statues seem to form a light and dark enchantment, the outside is dark and the inside is a bright and lively camp building.

In the office on the top floor of the hospital, she watched the believers on the ground start tonight’s carnival banquet, * death battle, reproduction and mating, storytelling and ancient times, games and entertainment... Not only the believers of the Four Pillars, but those who were captured, advocating abstinence The fire robber, also quickly integrated into it, without the slightest resistance.

No one finds it strange, because other Four Pillars God believers were followers of other Dafa tens of days, months, and years ago, but once they lose Dafa, they will be instantly attracted to the Four Pillars God and abandon their unreachable ideals. , calmly accept the reality of being drunk and dreaming of death.

Not to mention these ascetic fire robbers, who are the easiest to fall. They thought that it was their own willpower to resist desire and robbery fire, but they did not know that this was the influence of robbery fire itself. The more they got from robbery fire, the more they were infected, and they would gradually become hard-working, selfless and just, and weak in desire. .

However, the phrase 'infecting the robbery fire' will obviously cause disgust, and replacing it with 'resisting the robbery fire to maintain the will' can get the support of the believers. Among the many sects in the land of Senluo, the Temple of Jie Huo is different from other sects. It does not require believers to wholeheartedly believe in Jie Huo, but requires believers to be vigilant, resist, and examine Jie Huo. Instead, it has become the most cohesive sect. The most powerful competitor in the battle of gods.

However, she looked at Xiaoyan White Tiger on her shoulder, and other Dafa practitioners in the office who were sleeping in.

If you lose Dafa, you will lose everything.

In this long night, man can only rely on two things to protect himself, an ideal, and a desire—or a thing in fact.

The Temple of Tribulation Fire has become a historical term. Even if the magician who inherits the will of robbery becomes the next Dafa, it will not be robbery, but a new flame.

On the land of Senluo, most people are fallen leaves, and sorcerers are no exception. Sometimes they are blown up by the wind of calamity, and sometimes they are blown up by the wind of justice. Wherever they blow, they cannot control their own destiny at all. . If the wind stops, they can only fall into the soil of desire and gradually decay.

She didn't look at the excitement below, sat back at the desk, and continued to identify the four cards above.

After a while, she was sure that the four were real cards. It is worthy of the profound Tribulation Fire Temple, the value of these cards is even more important than Ten Thousand Tribulation Fire Dafa, because they are!

These shopping cards, which do not require identification and are valid until 9999, can be called the strategic materials of the land of Senluo. Whoever has these shopping cards can easily obtain the resources of the Age of God!

“Where did you get the shopping card at this time?”

Hearing the questioning from the side, she was slightly shocked and quickly put away the shopping card, but when she turned her head and saw the uninvited guest, she was relieved: “It was you.”

“You should have said, ‘It was me,’ right?”

A quiet girl suddenly appeared on the sofa next to her. She closed the book in her hand, glanced at the blue flame squirrel lying on the sofa, and said, “First meeting, Youlan Weisser.”

“Meeting for the first time, I am in another world.” Squirrel laughed: “You seem to be much older than me.”

The other Dafa looked at the squirrel talking to himself in confusion, and then at the female magician who was sitting in the chair silently.

“Why? I look exactly like you.”

“Voice, tone, eyes.” Squirrel said, “This may be what makes the truth faction annoying.”

The quiet girl nodded: “It makes sense. However, you don’t seem surprised by my appearance?”

“Calculate carefully, you should be the 24th ‘me’ I’ve ever seen.” Squirrel said: “Magic Mirror Dragon seems to pay attention to me if there is something wrong.”

The squirrel is not surprised by the appearance of the quiet girl, because this is not the first time. As early as the first day she became a magician, she met herself in another world line in the room, and later learned that it was all a prank by the Magic Mirror Dragon.

Whenever Magic Mirror Dragon pays attention to her, it will bring you Orchid Wesser from different world lines for her. Although most of them can get along well, at least they can trade knowledge, but there are also a small number of them who fight as soon as they come up.

Although information from different world lines is difficult to use for reference, the knowledge of 'them' cannot be faked. Perhaps because of their own reasons, their efficiency in exchanging knowledge of spells is outrageous. Every time she meets a new self, she can almost master a new spell faction.

Although the squirrel was eager to take out the new knowledge of spells from the quiet girl, she keenly heard a question: "Why do you think I shouldn't have a shopping card at this time?"

The quiet girl pointed to the flame white tiger: "Did you just come back from the Jiehuo Bathing Beach camp, and successfully took the Wanjehuo Dafa? These shopping cards are from the Jiehuo Temple, right?"

"That's right, what's wrong?"

"Then my world line is quite similar to yours." The quiet girl smiled and said, "I also went to the Jie Huo Bathing Camp before, but I didn't win the man who was in charge of the Wan Jie Huo Dafa, and naturally I didn't have these gains."

"You can't beat it?" Squirrel was a little surprised: "Although he can perfectly control the gods, he is very weak, and he even has a moral bottom line in his heart. If he comes up and annihilates other believers and then fights guerrillas with us, it will still be a problem. It's a little troublesome, I didn't expect that he would try to scare us off first, and then sure enough he fell in love with my armament."

"Ahaha," the quiet girl said casually, "it may be a different person. The person I met is not as kind as your world line. Not only did I fail to destroy the Temple of Tribulation Fire, the Temple of Tribulation Fire was that person's Under the leadership, they even strengthened to counterattack us."

"But that's why I escaped."

Squirrel narrowed his eyes: "What do you mean?"

"When I took away the position of the sense of touch, I realized that the sense of touch had long wanted to get rid of me. It was just that the Temple of Jie Huo was aggressive at that time, and she had to rely on me to continue to resist the Jie Huo."

“Since the fire of robbery has been extinguished now, UU Reading www.uukanshu.com” The quiet girl looked at the squirrel and smiled: “Do you think there is a reason for your sense of touch to keep you alive?”

boom!

As soon as the quiet girl’s voice fell, a gunshot rang through the long night!

With her back to the window and sitting on a chair, the sexy, charming and mysterious female sorceress was shot in the head by a gun!

The sound of gunshots did not affect the carnival in the camp at all, and the believers were even more frenzied.

“do you died?”

In the corner of the hospital building, Sally observed the situation in the top office with the help of an aerial mirror made of water vapor.

She knows how much Haptics attaches importance to this purge—not only was she sent as a four-pillar guard, but in pursuit of speed, Haptics actually consumed the last space gate quota, allowing her to teleport from the Crow Killing Zone to the Fire Tribulation Zone in an instant. .

Because of this, even if the goal has been fragmented, Sally has not let up in the slightest. According to the sense of touch, the target should only be a two-winged magician, and there is a small chance of a sanctuary magician, but whether the sanctuary or not, the target can't resist her one shot – that is the sniper rifle and the holy destroyer. bomb.

On the land of Senluo now, the number of gunsmiths is pitifully small, because the guns in the age of the gray fox have an identity verification function, and after the cataclysm, all the factory production lines are directly disintegrated, and each faction can only produce very accurate at most. Poor bird guns, might as well use bows and arrows.

But on the other hand, the gunsmiths who are currently active in the land of Senluo are all terrifying to the extreme, because they all obtained the gray fox guns by chance, and it is possible to embark on this path of magic.

Sally used to be a magician of the 'Mist Extinguishing' sect. She followed the Great Way of Extinguishing the Fog. The coming-of-age ceremony was to touch the gray fox gun weapon treasured in the sect, so she had a very low probability of passing the identity authentication of the gray fox—she is nearly ten. The only one in years.

As she rose to prominence, the Mist Extinguishing Sect also expanded its sphere of influence, and it was not until the Mist Extinguishing Dafa was completely dissipated that she and the Extinguishing Sniper Gun turned to follow the touch.

The power of the annihilation sniper rifle is unquestionable. Even without the blessing of any magic spirit, the powerful kinetic energy is enough to penetrate all buildings within 1,000 meters. In addition, Sally used the Sacred Bomb, which was matched with the Sniper Sniper. The moment she encountered the Sanctuary, it would release the spatial turbulence to tear the Sanctuary apart, and she only had three left.

Even though she is only a two-winged gunnery master, she has already killed three sanctuary masters with this equipment.

In Senluo, the most dangerous magician is not the sanctuary, not even the legend, but the legacy magician – the magician who inherits the legacy of the gods!

Through the 'Light and Sound Prism', Sally saw that the other two assassins had entered the office. They are not believers in the fire robbery area, but the chief priests of the light rotation area and the ice breaking area. They are all sanctuary magicians. In order to eliminate a traitor who may not even be a sanctuary, Tactile Touch dispatched a full three sanctuary combat forces.

"The great Mercury Trojan," Sally murmured, "the good follow you, the evil adore you..."

Meanwhile, in the hospital's top office, two priests quietly approached the headless corpse.

Their bodies are covered with sanctuary, holding their own weapons in both hands, and they are ready to target the corpse.

They can't help but be nervous, even in the Four Pillars Sect, the target is the powerhouse in the first echelon. The vast majority of believers who can rely on God's Dafa will not surrender, but will fight to the death with the Four Pillars of God, and would rather drown with their ideals. And the goal can not only send God Dafa, but also many Dafa Gods, and even obtain the blessings of the Four Pillars of God with this – even the sense of touch does not have this kind of treatment.

No matter how weak her body is, but she can rely on the great law of God, and her own combat power is catching up with the legendary magician. How can the two chief priests relax?

Not only the corpse, but they were also watching the movements of the Dafa practitioners nervously. However, the Dafa practitioners didn't seem to care about the death of the host. Xiaoyan White Tiger jumped to the desk and paced. Rabbits, lizards, and snakes looked at them quietly, as if saying, "You're welcome, please consider this place your home."

The priests breathed a sigh of relief, because the target was good at driving Dafa, and they were also worried that Dafa would protect the master and take revenge. . Dafa is different from the magic spirit. The magic spirit can be easily crushed, but the Dafa will not dissipate until the source is exhausted. However, no matter how powerful Dafa is, it needs to go through the ritual of sending the gods to exert its power. As long as the target dies, the Dafa will be If you want revenge, you can only milk them at most.

When the distance to the target was reduced to within three steps, the two shot at the same time, and the fist wind and the moonlight directly blasted the target and the chair into powder!

In the blood foam that exploded, the two saw four cards falling down without any damage. They fixed their eyes on the contents of the card, and subconsciously looked at each other.

Longmenzhen shopping card from the age of gray fox gods!

Just use these shopping cards to find Grey Fox's shop and get Grey Fox's Legacy!

But they soon realized another problem—sniper Sally must have seen it too. Their devotion to the Four Pillars of God overwhelmed their short-lived greed. They immediately abandoned their weak greed and stood in a pool of blood to carefully examine other items on the desk.

“Speaking of which, what's her name?” The priest of Xuanguang suddenly realized the question: “Obviously she is the priest of the Fire Tribulation Area, but I have never heard her name...”

Icebreaker Priest: “She doesn't have a name.”

“no name?”

“She used to be the Holy Maiden of Fire Tribulation in the past. After she emerged from the silent spiral, she mastered a miracle and hid her name to avoid most of the investigation miracles. Not only that, she would not even take any code name for herself, nor would she Will respond to what anyone calls her, and is downright anonymous.”

“How do you know so well?”

“My previous sect was hostile to the Temple of Tribulation of Fire. When she appeared as a saint, I tried to assassinate her several times, but every time she escaped for various reasons. She never stayed in the battle. Any survivors can always ambush our team, and the sect's vital power is gradually wiped out by her. In the end, the Temple of Tribulation Fire took the initiative to attack us, Dafa disappeared, and the sect perished.” The priest of the icebreaker said: “At this time, the Four Pillars of God took me in, I am full of resentment to make suggestions for the sense of touch, just hoping that one day I can destroy the Temple of Tribulation Fire, but...”

The priest of Xuanguang understood his complicated feelings: the Temple of Tribulation of Fire was indeed destroyed, but it had nothing to do with him. The enemy who once caused him countless troubles turned into his colleague, and his strength was far superior to him, and even the grace of the Four Pillars of God was superior to him.

This may be the reason why the touch sent him... The priest of Xuanguang continued to ask: “Then you must have a name for her, right? Do you usually use ‘that person’, ‘that woman’, and ‘she’ instead?”

The Icebreaker priest nodded: “Almost, because she used to follow the Dafa of Chen Jie Huo, we used ‘the saint of Chen Jie Huo’ to refer to her. Later, she joined the Four Pillars Sect, and the Temple of Jie Huo deprived her of her surname, so we used The Lady of the Silver Lantern came to call her.”

“The Silver Lamp Saint?”

“The saint child in the Temple of Tribulation Fire is called the golden lamp, and the saint is called the silver lamp. However, there are several saints and saints in the fire robbery, and this name is not her exclusive title,” the priest of the icebreaker paused and smiled. Said: “But now the saints and saints of the fire have been slaughtered by her. She is already the only saint of the silver lamp – and she is about to reunite with the companions who have been betrayed by her in the virtual realm.”

call out.

The two priests suddenly felt a chill behind them, and a chill penetrated their bodies. They bowed their heads and saw that the blue flame hand broke open their chests, the blood congealed into blood ice, and the icy flame spread to their limbs along with the blood vessels, and even their eyeballs began to frost!

Now it is too late to expand the sanctuary, the sanctuary cannot protect the body!

But how is it possible, they clearly tore the target into pieces with their own hands, unless it is the legendary miracle of the time faction 'returning time in a local area', or the legend of the weak and weak faction 'rebirth from a drop of blood', otherwise it is impossible to turn into a pool of blood Resurrected in the presence of foam—

Blood foam?

They were in a trance for a moment, and found that the floor and the desk were as clean as new, and there was no blood or flesh. But how is this possible, what happened to her headshot? What about the blood that she was torn apart just now?

They blinked and found that the blood stains they thought were actually the patterns of wood grain, shadow, and floor tiles. Why do they have such an illusion?

"I don't like the title of Saintess very much, if you have to call me," her voice was a little distorted: "You can call me Yin Lan."

"Forget it, you'd better forget about this, I don't want any information about me in your manual."

The two priests turned their heads with difficulty, and saw that they stretched out their hands to be a figure composed of a group of blue flames.

.....

Dust robbery fire Dafa!

Sally's heart sank, and with the help of the 'Light and Sound Prism', she saw with her own eyes a blue flame suddenly appeared on the ground, instantly piercing the backs of the two priests, making it too late for them to even start the sanctuary!

This group of blue flames is undoubtedly from Chen Jie Huo Dafa. When is the goal to send God to Chen Jie Huo Dafa? Moreover, Chen Jie Huo Dafa can't make a person survive a headshot, right?

Wait a minute, Sally suddenly remembered that she seemed to have seen the Dafa of Chen Jie Huo!

That blue flame squirrel!

But the blue flame squirrel was clearly in other parts of the office, and did not focus on the target. What the * is going on—

Sally froze suddenly.

She carefully observed the 'refractive prism' and determined that there were only white tigers, rabbits, lizards, and snakes in the office. The squirrel that was there just now is nowhere to be seen.

It is impossible for a person to be headshot and still alive, the soul will quickly sink into hell...

Ordinary magicians can't be reborn from a drop of blood, but for Dafa, as long as the source is not exhausted, it can be restored immediately...

At this time, Sally felt that the sniper rifle sank slightly.

She looked down and saw a squirrel pressing down on her gun tube.

In a trance, she saw the squirrel turn into a strange girl with glasses.

Although she has never seen it before, and it looks completely different from the profile, Sally knows that this is her assassination target, the Unknown...or use the name she just chose for herself, Silver Lamp!

Yin Deng put her right hand away from her gun, and her left hand squeezed her throat, her eyes were as calm as a lake.

Sally fully understood the mystery of this magic: "You turned Dafa... into a clone!?"

"Don't panic." Yin Deng said lightly: "Compared with the tranquility of the virtual world, the reality is just a moment of pain. When you return to eternity, you will find that everything is an illusion."

Sally tried her best to resist, but Yin Lan's hand locked her throat like a vise, and she squeezed out a few words from her throat: "Mercury Trojan..."

"Actually, I'm also considering whether or not to leave the Four Pillars of God. Thanks to the sense of touch for helping me make up my mind."

boom!

Suddenly, there was a loud bang in the night sky, the silver lamp turned to his head, and he saw many stones being blasted from the outer wall of the hospital in the distance.

"The sound of gunfire."

Harvey stood up immediately and took out the coffin from the space card to wake Alice up.

“Infighting? Invasion?” Igula frowned slightly: “Unless it is to rescue us, this incident will only delay our escape time – as long as the leader finds time to ask about the technical system of our Blood Moon Gospel, our three sanctuaries will It’s easy for the magician to find an opportunity to escape. If the leader has no time to take care of us because of this riot, or forgets us, or even dies, we will be locked here forever.”

Yaxiu murmured, “I’ve been locked up here...”

“Scared?”

“I’m thinking, if we’re going to live here for a few years, how will we separate our territories.” Ash asked, “Is it thirds or quarters?”

“There are only three of us, why do you want to...” Halfway through speaking, Igula saw Alice looking at herself, and immediately shut up.

“If I want to live for a long time, I hope to have a research area.” Harvey said seriously: “And usually the maintenance and renovation of Alice also needs space.”

“Even if I give you space, where did you get the materials?”

Harvey was a little dazed: “Aren’t we all materials?”

Igula didn’t know for a while whether to refute ‘it’s not us but you’ or refute ‘why take materials from living people’. Whenever Igula thinks she has figured out Harvey’s bottom line, she finds that Harvey has quietly made new breakthroughs, always young, and always full of tears.

“In that case, then I need a bathtub.” Ash raised his hand: “It’s too uncomfortable not to take a bath.”

Igula couldn’t help it: “Even if I give you space, where did you get the bathtub?”

Ash pointed to the coffin.

Harvey thought for a while: "It's not impossible, as long as it's done afterwards, Alice won't mind."

Igula suddenly felt a little out of place: "Are you serious!?"

"If we are locked up here for several days, will you wash, Igula?"

"Of course...wash!" Igu pulled the corners of his mouth and joined the topic resignedly: "Since this is the case, I propose to pull the curtain to protect personal privacy!"

"No." Ash, Harvey, and Alice objected together.

"Why? You can negotiate such outrageous ideas, yet you reject all of my normal proposals?"

"Because there's no room, it's a bathtub and a research area." Yaxiu spread his hands: "We will definitely sleep together, maybe we have to cover the quilt together, do you still want to pull the curtain?"

"Think about it carefully, we are all people who can fly, we don't have to be cramped on the small ground." Ash stood up and patted the padded wall: "For example, we can stick furniture to this wall, and then—"

boom!

With a dull thud, the upholstered walls shattered. Yaxiu stepped back half a step and raised his hand to block the smoke. He saw a figure appear in the hole in the wall, and he immediately pulled out his honey belly sword and stood with everyone.

Igula and Harvey were also close to enemies. Alice hugged Harvey from behind, and the shackles of the ghost king in Harvey's hands glowed green, apparently ready to merge into one; Igula also hid behind Ash, His lips parted slightly, and a spiritual scream was already gathering momentum in his throat.

It's natural for them to be so nervous, because the comers are so weird. .

He wears a ferocious and sharp black crow mask, a cloak that looks like a braided hair, a necklace made of fingernails around his neck, a black and red coat that smells of blood, and a handaxe, dagger, and darts are tied to the chain belt. , ropes and tools, black steel boots full of spikes.

This look can't pass the trial in a gospel movie, even in the blood moon, it is a very radical postmodern style, and it belongs to the champion who can lock the first place in the blood moon trial in advance.

"Is the first gospel here?" A deep voice came from the black raven mask.

Ash asked, "Do you have anything to do with him?"

"I heard from the Fire Tribulation believers that the Temple of Fire Tribulation summoned the First Gospel, which can send any Dafa to the gods, but was accidentally defeated by the evil Four Pillars. The Four Pillars fear and yearn for the powerful power of the First Gospel. So I captured the First Gospel, and I will use his power to conquer Senluo." Black Crow said: "First, I want to see what the First Gospel really has, and it's best to compete with me."

Yaxiu glanced at the big hole behind him: "I don't think there is any first gospel in this world..."

"Secondly, I want to save the First Gospel from leaving, and will do everything in the sect to protect the First Gospel from the Four Pillars of God." Black Crow: "Are you the First Gospel?"

"I can be." Ash said with certainty.

"Let's go." The black crow simply jumped down neatly, and Yaxiu and the others also jumped down one after another. Although the third floor was a little high, they could land safely after spreading their virtual wings for a while.

There was no one around, there seemed to be no patrols here, and no one came to check when the black crow made such a big move. There was a bonfire burning in the camp not far away, and the air was full of laughter and laughter. Axiu Guang glanced at it from a distance and had the urge to join in.

The ravens took no notice, moving with their shadows between the houses, along the edge of the camp. Approaching the center of the camp, Ash and the others saw how restless these believers were – dancing, lingering, fighting, self-mutilating, everyone was making a lot of noise, crying and laughing, and the bonfire was like a vortex, sweeping everyone into it .

No wonder there is no patrol, no one came to check, no one here is free!

“Hey!”

After being pulled by Igula, Yaxiu realized that he had unknowingly approached the center a little, and suddenly broke out in a cold sweat. Black Crow glanced at him and reminded: “If you are not believers, don’t approach the worship service of believers.”

worship?

Yaxiu looked at those people who were recklessly looping for fun, no matter what she thought, it had nothing to do with the word “li”.

Suddenly, he narrowed his eyes and stared at the campfire seriously.

Igula almost wanted to slap him, and quickly pulled him away: “How dare you look around?!”

“Uh-huh.”

Yaxiu retracted his eyes. He had just seen a quiet person standing by the bonfire, so quiet that he was out of tune with the surroundings. Although a little concerned, now is obviously not the time to satisfy curiosity.

Soon, the black crow took them to the edge of the camp, walked into an abandoned house and said, “We have to wait here until dawn before leaving. If the Four Pillars Sect come after them, we will stay here until dawn.”

“Why?” Igula was very strange: “Are there guards outside? But with our strength, ordinary guards are also-”

“No. No camp will be guarded at night.” Black Crow shook his head: “There is no one in the darkness outside.”

“Then why don’t we just leave?”

“Because,” Black Crow sat down by the door and said word by word:

“In the darkness outside, there is no one.”

...

Beside the bonfire, the carnival gradually came to an end. Yin Deng stood among the collapsed crowd, with a peaceful posture like a demon lotus in troubled times. A squirrel protruded out of her small round hat, and was immediately pushed back by Yanbaihu.

“In this way, your world line will be completely different from mine.”

The quiet girl next to her looked at the bonfire just like her and said, “I never left the Four Pillars Sect until the end, and I never started that backup plan.”

“I also hope that I am as successful as you.” Yin Deng sighed: “Maybe I should let go of the Temple of Tribulation Fire and even try to make them grow stronger again. It’s a pity...”

“Isn’t it good?” The quiet girl smiled and said, “Since you have already heard from me what the future will lead to if the main plan goes well, then you can go and see the scenery of the backup plan in person, and you will be able to unlock the two an ending?”

“It makes sense.” Yin Deng couldn’t help but glance at her: “Your thinking is really similar to mine, and it’s different from the ‘I’ in other world lines brought by Magic Mirror Dragon. I thought Magic Mirror Dragon It’s just based on my different choices, just fabricated and deduced a ‘other world line’, although there are differences, but only the difference of labeling. However, you make me feel very real, like... I really am in another world line spent many years on it.”

“You think I’m real, but you see your own shadow in me.” The quiet girl smiled and said, “According to this logic, do you think the people around you are fake?”

“So, do you really want to use this thing?” The quiet girl looked around for a week: “80% here are magicians, and the elites of the Four Pillars Sect in the Fire Tribulation Area are all here, so the Mercury Trojan will definitely hate you. ”

“Anyway, I won’t stay in the Four Pillars Sect, she will chase after her if she has the feeling.”

With that said, Yin Deng took out a crystal skull key from his arms. She input mana into the key, pushed it forward, as if it was really inserted into a keyhole, and then turned it clockwise, she heard a crisp ‘click’ in the space, and then a line-like light path spread out in the air, and finally formed a light curtain.

This is the biggest harvest of Silver Lantern over the years – the legacy from the generation of the gods of the gray fox!

In that glorious era, one of the auxiliary cultivation tools used by the magicians!

The surrounding map and a red circle that can be moved and reduced appear in the light curtain. The silver light will expand the red circle to cover the entire hospital camp. Select Confirm.

got windy.

The wind caressed the back of the believer's neck, taking away the energy of his whole body, leaving only a dry body and a weak soul. UU reading www.uukanshu.com A new vortex appeared. It was quiet, gentle and cruel. One by one cultivators closed their eyes in exhaustion. Energy, gathered around the silver lamp.

The whirlpool is getting bigger and bigger, not only the bonfires, but also the houses and kitchens, spreading to the edge of the camp, until the largest camp in the fire robbery area has become the captive of the whirlpool.

"This scale of death, even in my history, is enough to rank in the top ten." The quiet girl sighed: "It is rare to blow out so many people at one time."

"Compared with the eternity of the virtual realm, the moment of reality is just an illusion." Yin Lan said: "Death is not falling into a long sleep, but waking up from a dream."

Chapter 530: twist green

Latest URL: "What's in the darkness outside?"

With the help of the light sneaking in from the window, Ash and the others could see that this should be a waste warehouse. Although it is a waste product, the gold content is not low – the peculiar parts of the dawn powder, the black sheet metal, the snowy white engine that does not hide the vulgarity even if it is dusty... There is no doubt that this warehouse contains the fragmented sweetness of the old times. Souls, they are the crystallization of wisdom, the details of civilization, the greatness of the small.

But now they can only be piled up in this cold and cold earth room made casually with earth techniques, serving as seats for Yaxiu and others, quietly waiting for the corrosion of the years.

Facing Igula's question, the black crow did not answer immediately, but instead asked: "In your country, can people walk into the dark night at will?"

"It's not just our country. The nights in most countries are just ordinary light changes. The darkness itself is not worth fearing."

“How do you know what’s going on in other countries?”

“Because I’ve read a lot of manuals for magicians.” Igula said very confidently: “Although I don’t see much, but if darkness prevails, the probability of mentioning this in the manuals for magicians should be very high, but I never I’ve never seen a magician’s manual mention this.”

Yaxiu was a little puzzled. Igula’s words suddenly sounded reasonable, but in fact it didn’t make sense at all. He himself had read many manuals for magicians, but he had never seen any of the “Blood Moon” books. Blood Prohibition Act, Gospel List of Gospels. For the inhabitants of each country, the things they are accustomed to are not worth recording in the manual of magicians at all, just like no one will show off sunshine, peace, air and food and clothing, they have never lost it, and naturally they will not cherish it.

However, he glanced at Igula and leaned forward towards the black crow, and immediately understood that the cheater was in a working state – he remembered that Igula said that knowledge is the cheater’s best protection, and self-confidence is the cheater’s best dagger.

Because people follow authority subconsciously, most people do not have the ability to think independently at all. Although there are more smart people among magicians, it is human nature to be lazy.), if you become dependent in your heart, you will become a child in kindergarten waiting for someone to pick you up.

Yaxiu and Harvey are the best examples. Most of the plans are now made by Igula. If Igula wants to frame them, the difficulty is not much more difficult than making a plate of Lala fat.

However, Harvey did not follow Igula. He was like a dead leaf that fell to the ground, blown up by the wind of Ash and Igula. When he fell to the ground again, it was his end; as for Ash, he just simply Just leave your brain and back to the fraudster.

This black crow seems to be a close tactician, with a high probability of being a weak and weak magician. Although there is no big data analysis, it is generally believed that the difficulty of reading the manual for physical practitioners is higher than that of academic teachers—

Taishu refers to body-related techniques such as swordsmanship, fists and claws, and pain and weakness. Taishu practitioners have a lot of wisdom, but because they need to hone their skills for a long time, they usually read less, and the three views are often more direct and black and white. Flaws are not tolerated, for example, swordsmen often take revenge overnight;

Academics refer to techniques that require reading a large amount of academic materials. Academic teachers have a high reading volume, the three views will be more complicated, and the moral bottom line will be more flexible. Therefore, the reading range is theoretically larger than that of physical practitioners.

Of course, this is just a general impression. In this world, there are witches who can read manuals with different personalities, and other magicians may also have a way to temporarily change their sexuality.

“Artist’s Manual?” The black crow was slightly startled, and nodded thoughtfully: “Yes, you can acquire knowledge of other kingdoms in the virtual realm...”

He was actually stunned, it seems that this is indeed a weak and weak magician who has not read much.

Black Crow paused and said, “There may really be nothing in the darkness of your country, but in the dark night of this land, there is a color that turns people into monsters – strangling green.”

The three were slightly startled: “Turn people into monsters?”

Black Crow nodded: “Ordinary people will basically turn into all kinds of strange green monsters, which are extremely aggressive. When exposed to sunlight, they will gain the ability to regenerate at a super speed, but it is not difficult for the magician to solve. The real trouble is those magicians The monsters turned into – twisted green virtual world creatures, fish dragons, fox lamp dragons, violent dragons and so on.”

“Void creatures are not difficult to deal with, right?” Yaxiu yawned and said, “It’s not in the Void, you can form a team in reality.”

“Won’t the creatures in the virtual realm form a team?” Black Crow asked calmly.

Igula's pupils shrank suddenly: "You mean—"

"The green streaks will gather together to attack the human camp, and some small sects will even be destroyed." Black Crow said: "However, once there is a sign of gathering green streaks, it will attract the encirclement and suppression of the nearby large sects, otherwise these twisted green creatures will be destroyed. It may even form a civilization. The gathered green creatures are called 'green disasters', and now there are many green disasters on the land of Senluo roaming the fields beyond the reach of the sect."

"Can't you use your mind and control factions to control the green streak creatures?" Ash felt strange: "Isn't this ready-made research material? Maybe it can heal them."

"I heard that someone tried it," said the black crow briskly. "The result is that the magician himself has become a green-leaf creature. There is a saying that the green-leaf creature has been contaminated, and the magician has established any relationship with them. connection, will lead to the spread of pollution."

"So, never go into the night without light, strangulation will turn anyone into a monster."

That ten steps and one light will turn the whole country into a city that never sleeps... Just when Ash was about to say that, UU reading www.uukanshu.com Igula said firmly: "Just can't dispel the darkness of the night? From the night Are other forces protecting this camp?"

"Yes," said the black crow, "ideal, belief, future, hope... It has many names, but it protects the world in the same form – Dafa."

"Dafa can protect the world from darkness, and those who follow Dafa can also find shelter. Therefore, losing Dafa is not only a loss of hope, but also a loss of life and everything."

Yaxiu suddenly remembered those devotees who lost their will to fight when they saw the Dafa of Ten Thousand Calamities being taken away in the afternoon.

“But the Four Pillars are not Dafa, right? They are not the same words as reason and hope.” Harvey rubbed his eyes and leaned against Alice, finding a loophole: “Why can the Four Pillars also protect the camp ?”

Without waiting for the black crow to answer, Igula came up with the answer: “Desire?”
