

Chapter 5221

Elaine stood at the roadside of the airport exit and kept calling Jacob, but she couldn't get through.

She cursed, "This damn Jacob, I don't know where he's gone, not answering my calls."

Claire asked her, "Mom, are you sure you talked to him about the time?"

Elaine said in exasperation, "Of course, I told him clearly,"

"He also promised me on the phone, who knows why he still hasn't shown up and didn't answer the phone, he's really unreliable."

Claire also hurriedly took out her cell phone and called Jacob,"

"But the phone was indeed unanswered as Elaine had said.

She said with a very nervous expression, "Dad, he can't be in some kind of accident, right"

"It's not bedtime now, how come the phone can't even be answered?"

Charlie hurriedly advised: "wife you do not think blindly, Dad's is quite good,"

“Can’t have any accident, not sure he is asleep maybe, we should go home first to see!”

“Yes!” Claire agreed and said: “Hurry home if Dad is not home,”

“We need to go out to look, really can not call the police!”

Elaine on the side said with great displeasure:

“Go home? How can we go home? Your father did not drive over to pick us up, how can we go back?”

Claire subconsciously said, “Let’s take a taxi.”

“Take a taxi? Elaine said with a very exaggerated expression,

“Your mother is a celebrity, in New York, in Bedford Hills Correctional Facility,”

“Your mother is the number one person, I’ve been on a private jet all the way back.”

Claire helplessly said: “Mom, what time is it, you still talk about these,”

“Let’s hurry home first to see what happened is the most important!”

Saying not waiting for Elaine's reply, and hurriedly reached out to stop a roadside cab.

Seeing Charlie and Claire pull open the car door and ready to go up,

Elaine said with a depressed face:

"Claire, at least call a luxury car or something, getting a broken Jetta, how shabby!"

Claire saw her mother acting like this, could not help but be a little angry, and said,

"If you want to take a luxury car, then you can wait here, I'll go back with Charlie first."

Saying that she pulled open the car door and sat in.

Once Elaine saw this, she lost her insistence just now and could only resentfully sit in the passenger side.

Once in the passenger side, she frowned and covered her nose, and said to the driver:

"Hey, why does it smell so much smoke in this cab?"

The driver said casually: "Smoke smell?"

"Yes!" Elaine's tone of voice is not good:

"It is all smoke, you can not smell? Is that a nose above your mouth?"

The driver bristled: "The smell of smoke is natural because I smoke, so what's the big deal."

Elaine said in exasperation, "How can you drive a cab and smoke in the car?"

"There is too little sense of service, right?"

The driver was also a bit angry, his eyes glared, and said,

"I didn't smoke when you came up, the cab company rules we are not allowed to smoke in front of passengers,"

"I did not violate the rules, did I?"

"You've been riding in my car for a few minutes at most,"

"Don't you allow me to smoke the rest of the time?"

Elaine said annoyed: "You know what, the cab is your service place,"

"You have to maintain the cleanliness of your service place,"

"And the air should be fresh, so you have a reason to make such a big smoke smell?"

The driver choked: "This service place is provided by the cab company, not by me,"

"I just drive, if you have any dissatisfaction, you go to the cab company to raise the opinion."

Saying that the driver discontentedly muttered: "It is just smoking a cigarette only,"

"What's the fuss, your old man does not smoke huh?"

Elaine glanced at him, and grunted: "He did smoke!"

The driver said, "That's it, what's the difference between smelling smoke at home and coming out?"

Elaine disdainfully said one word: "dead."

The driver subconsciously asked, "What's dead?"

Elaine deliberately said loudly: "You did not ask my man to smoke?"

"I answered you he smoked, and died from smoking."

The driver's expression was suddenly ugly, but still pale and argued,

"Look at you, speaking out of turn, there are many possibilities for people to die,"

"How do you know he died from smoking?"

"Lung cancer!"
