

Chapter 559

When Janet heard what Mason said, she was stunned. How can I ever forget about Hedd Cardiff? He had uttered such offensive words to me during the Autumn Car Racing Championship! Although I later heard from Sean that the Cardiff Family ended up in a terrible situation, I didn't ask too much about what he meant back then. Now, I find out that Mason took his anger out against the entire Cardiff Family! Moreover, he wiped out all their resources in Sandfort City! That's equivalent to telling the Cardiff Family not to touch me! Based on what he just said... Will the Shields Family end up in the same situation? She smiled. The corners of her lips were lifted in an incredibly wicked smile. "Is that all you know how to do? Don't you have more interesting methods?"

She wasn't trying to make fun of him. She simply felt that even though the Shields Family was bad, it wasn't to the point where they couldn't be forgiven!

When Mason heard what she said, it immediately aroused a competitive feeling in his heart. He lifted his eyebrows slightly. "Then, how do you think I should punish them?"

"Hmm..." She smiled at the mischievous idea that flashed through her head and said, "Let's make Lynette write repentance letters for an entire month! As for how to deal with Ronald and Fass... I'll leave it up to you!" Since Lynette refuses to apologize, then I'll make her write repentance letters for an entire month to reflect on her mistakes! This will serve as a small punishment in her life!

He fell silent for several seconds after hearing those words. When all is said and done, she is still too soft-hearted. Still, she has already said as much. It's not like I can't do that.

"Okay!" He nodded, his black eyes staring into her delicate and beautiful eyes.

When she heard the footsteps in the corridor getting closer, she moved away and prepared to leave. Then, she turned back abruptly and unhurriedly said, "By the way, military training starts tomorrow. I'm going to stay in school!"

She thought that the man would be rather disappointed. After all, the military training would last for half a month. She was half-certain he would miss her since they couldn't even meet up during that time. However, he curled his lips indifferently after hearing that and faintly answered, "I know!"

She felt a little disappointed by the man's reaction. So, he won't miss me at all... Forget it; I won't miss him either. She laughed self-deprecatingly and said emotionlessly, "Okay. I'm going back to class now!"

Mason did not seem to think too much about it. His lips curved upward, his eyes were wicked, and his voice was rather indifferent too. "Okay!"

After that, Janet absent-mindedly took out her phone to play. Her fingers tapped on her phone lightly and pulled up the message Lee had sent to her.

Lee: 'Janet, the person who placed the order brought forward the time by five days. He asked us to head to Yobril on the 5th!'

She did not reply to him. 5th? Today is the 2nd, which means we'll be leaving in three days! Looks like the medical condition is quite serious. Bringing it forward as they please? Why didn't they ask me beforehand? How arrogant!

Those thoughts ran through her head, and she was about to reject their request. However, Lee sent another message saying: 'The other party also increased the reward by 500 million!'

When Janet saw the words Lee sent to her, her lips curved upward in response. She stuffed her phone back into her pocket and put her hands in her pockets, suddenly feeling her mood changing for the better! 100 million a day! It's worth it!

On the other side, Mason's lips couldn't help curving upward as he watched Janet's joyful back. Taking out his phone, he dialed a number. A familiar steady voice sounded from the other side of the phone. "What's the matter, Young Master Mason?"

Mason raised his eyebrows and slowly instructed, "Sean, from tomorrow onward, send all the documents that I need to look through to Woodsbury University." From tomorrow onward, I'm going to be an 'official' lecturer at Woodsbury University!
