

Chapter 57

"I did it! But why? Why have you come to destroy me again?"

Do you know how hard it was for me to take the position of Empress and how hard it was for me to survive to become Empress Dowager?

Why can't you just let me enjoy it a little longer when I can finally enjoy being above all people and never have to be despised again?"

Xieluser cried and roared, tears slipping down her face.

Xie Fanghua didn't say anything.

She looked at her once beloved sister for a moment, and then suddenly smiled.

"You say no one loves you? Who beat you for stealing my father's jade fan when you were little?"

When you were ten years old, you fell into a pond and almost drowned. Who risked his life to save you?"

At fifteen we were transported together to the upper capital..."

Her voice was suddenly choked, as if she was remembering some extremely bad past event.

Those clear and cold eyes were also tinged with a fishy red, with deep disappointment and hatred.

"All the way east for three thousand miles, how many times has someone tried to tarnish your innocence, who has stood in your way time and time again? Who's going to fight them with a knife? Who is it! Even if I break my innocence, I'll protect you?"

Sheliuther was startled.

She stared dumbly at Xie Fanghua, as if those long-lost past events flashed through her mind as her resounding words flashed scene by scene.

She was still a young girl when her family was suddenly destroyed, and before she had time to realize what had happened, she was taken to the capital with her sister.

Along the way, her sister teaches her to paste her face with plaster to hide her beauty from thieves.

But she was too much of a lover of beauty to agree, though.

Finally, one night, while everyone was asleep, she quietly washed the mud and dust off her face with water.

She looked at her own delicate face in the water, admiring it as she brushed her own hair.

But just then, the soldiers behind her spotted her, and as if they had found a strange treasure, they all jumped at her.

She was terrified and kept screaming as loud as she could.

In the end, it was my sister who came out and saved her.

She didn't know what her sister had said to the group of soldiers.

Then the group of soldiers stopped pestering her and took her sister to the back woods.

She goes back to sleep and wakes up the next day and her sister comes back with bruises on her face, rotten clothes, and blood on her hands, but she says that nothing happened last night.

She didn't think much of it at the time, but wondered why she hadn't seen the soldiers since then.

The young girl didn't know what had happened in the first place, but now she was in her thirties.

She already knew what had happened that night in those woods.

It just hadn't been willing to admit it, to face it, as if the facts that had caused her pain and remorse wouldn't exist if she avoided them.

Xellouser looked at her sister and suddenly smiled.

The laughter turned to tears.

Like the whimpering of a wild animal, with poignant pain and remorse.

A soldier trotted over, holding a wooden box in his hand.

"My Lord, the jade seal has been found."

Xie Fang Hua took it, took a look at it, and nodded.

She took the man and turned to walk out.

There was a sudden, miserable yell from behind him, "Sister!"

She stopped, but didn't look back.

The setting sun shone in from outside the palace, casting a golden glow over the young female general, her back as straight as a pine, like the way she had been taught to practice her spear when she was young.

"Sister, I was wrong! I was wrong! Please let me go! We're sisters! You can't kill me, I'm your sister!"

She lay on the ground and crawled all the way up, tears and snot mixed together, long gone from that Empress of the Eastern Li Kingdom.

The woman in uniform, however, still didn't look back, but her eyes, shrouded in the evening sun, were tinged with stars and red.

She tensed her face, her hand holding the jade seal trembling slightly.

Flashes of taking my sister over the wall and climbing trees to play in the mud as a child but she was too dirty to do so come to mind.

But along with that, there were countless clansmen who died innocently and tragically at her hands.

She closed her eyes and took a deep breath.

It was a long time before she said coldly, "The Empress Dowager of the Eastern Li Kingdom, Xie Liusher, has not cultivated virtue, is rebellious and rampant, and has preyed on the people. Order, give death!"

The sky boomed and thunderstorms sounded.

Xie Liusel stayed there, looking incredulously at the woman standing at the temple door.

The woman reaches into her arms, feels a bottle of poison, and places it on the floor.

"The poison extracted from the Seven Stars Snake, you were bitten when you were a child, I helped you suck the poison out despite the danger, that time I spent three whole months in bed and almost lost my life, now... you can use it!"

Afterwards, ignore her again and stride away.

The show is over here.

It's just bizarre that there's no sound from the entire studio.

Jenny was embarrassed.

Was she a bad actress?

Not so much! She had just plainly incorporated all her understanding of the role.

Suddenly, while wondering, an applause snapped.

When I looked up, I saw that it was Lu Yanzhi.

He stood up from behind the monitor, looking incredulous and incredibly excited as he looked at Jenny.

"Yes!Great!"

It was only as he spoke that the rest of the group removed themselves from the drama and started clapping after coming over instead.

"Simply wonderful!! didn't expect to be so good at acting!"

"Yeah, I almost thought it was real just now."

"It's moving me!"

Jenny was finally relieved.

The reason why she had just offered to act in this scene, apart from avenging Evelin's whiplash, was because she had been very impressed with this scene when she had read the script in the first place.

Sigh for this sisterly love, the more fortitude and patience of the female general regret.

It's not really the world she wants, is it!

But the most bland parental love and sisterly harmony in the world, things that are readily available to ordinary people, will never be available to her.

I don't know why, but Jenny was suddenly a little lost despite the success of the act.

Lu Yanzhi stepped forward and smiled, "It was amazingly well acted, the whole thing was refreshing!"

Clara deliberately covered her face and managed to smile, "Director Lu is over-praised."

However, Lu Yanzhi didn't look at her much.

Didn't even notice that she was covering her face.

Instead, he stared at Jenny closely, even with a hint of a pleasing smile, and asked, "Jenny ah, do you really like this drama?"

Jenny was a little confused.

I don't know why he asked himself that.

She could only nod honestly, "Well, yes, I read this script when it first came out two years ago and I loved it then."

Lu Yanzhi rubbed his hands in excitement at the news like he had picked up some treasure.

"It's good to like it, it's good to like it."

Clara watched the scene, not knowing why, with a vague feeling of unease in her heart.

He didn't want Jenny to be in this movie, did he?

Chapter 58

Are you kidding me?

A whole 400 million dollar production for a newcomer with no experience?

I'm afraid Lu Yanzhi is crazy to do this!

Clara felt that this was simply impossible, although Jenny Jing's performance just now was indeed good, in her opinion, it was only because she had led well.

It was so that she didn't think much of it at all.

Instead, with a petulant tone, he said to Lu Yanzhi, "Director Lu, you're net praising your sister, you've forgotten about me."

It was as if Lu Yanzhi had just noticed her and was busy smiling, "Clara is doing well too, hey, what's wrong with your face?"

Seeing that he finally noticed his face, Kyo managed a smile.

"It's nothing, it's just the slap my sister just gave me, no, it's fine."

Jenny Jing looked at her and smiled, "I'm sorry ah, I just got too deep into the drama and didn't stop at once, but I actually did it to better arouse your emotions, sister, don't you think so?"

Return what Clara had just said to Evelin, word for word, intact.

Clara's face was a little stiff.

By this time, Lu Yanzhi had finally noticed in hindsight that something was wrong with the two of them.

This conversation is...very explosive!

But they were sisters, and even if they had any grudges, it was none of his business as an outsider.

So then they made up in the middle and smiled, "Jenny is acting for the first time, inexperienced, Clara you more burden, that audition is over, everyone go back first, Jenny, when are you free to bring her over to sign the contract?"

Jenny smiled, "Anytime."

"This afternoon, then, and I'll call you then."

"Good."

After the appointment was made, Jenny Jing left first with Evelin.

On the other hand, Clara couldn't suppress the suspicion in the end as she watched Lu Yanzhi's happy appearance.

Uneasy, he asked, "Director Lu, I see you just asked your sister about the play, you don't have any ideas, do you?"

Lu Yanzhi looked at her.

To be honest, if it wasn't for Jenny Jing's appearance, Clara would indeed be the only suitable candidate for Xie Fanghua's role in the entertainment industry right now.

But it seems that she's pretty good as Xie Liuse.

She is better suited to play the role of Xie Liuxer, who is weak on the outside and calculating on the inside, than Xie Fanghua's indifferent and calm.

But now that the matter has not been settled, Lu Yanzhi does not dare to say anything more, lest the chicken and egg end up not getting any.

So then laughed, "No, don't be ridiculous, you have time to go home and study the script more, don't always set your eyes on one character, but also to look into the hearts of other characters, it will help you later."

Clara also thought he meant that studying more about other characters could help her portray her character in a more three-dimensional way when she played Xie Fanghua.

So it wasn't a big deal, and I nodded my head.

As soon as this side was over, after everyone left, Lu Yanzhi went to Lu's group with his computer.

The biggest investor in the play is Serenity International.

In other words, it's a land jung deep.

When Lu Yanzhi came to Biden Lu with his computer, he happened to be eating lunch.

Too busy with work, usually when there were no outsiders present, Biden Lu usually asked Vicky to order take-out and solve the problem himself in the office.

That's why, when Lu Yanzhi arrived, he just happened to see Biden Lu sitting on the sofa in his office, eating takeaway there.

He even walked over and smiled, "Fourth Uncle, where's dinner?"

Biden Lu raised his eyebrows at him and continued to eat.

"Something?"

"There's no rush.

and wait until you've finished eating."

He said, holding his computer and sitting down on the single couch across from Biden Lu.

Biden Lu's taste is picky, after coming to Visterdem, except for what Aunt Liu cooks, has always only eaten the meals of Green Water Villa.

It was so that every day at noon, Vicky would send someone early to get it.

The people there will send it in a thermos, and it will be just right, both in colour and taste.

Lu Yanzhi looked at the colorful, fragrant food in front of him and couldn't help but swallow his saliva.

My stomach rumbled twice.

God forbid, he's been busy early in the morning, tried several plays in a row in the morning, and now it's 12:30 p.m., and he hasn't even eaten yet!

But in front of this master, he was still not brazen enough.

Biden Lu took another look at him and saw his eyes staring at the food on the table, the saliva was about to flow out of the corner of his mouth.

There was some amusement in my heart, but my face didn't show it in the slightest, I just raised my hand and pressed the inside line.

"Summers, have another serving dish sent in."

Lu Yangyi was stunned, realizing something and waving his hand.

"No, no, Uncle Four, I've, I've eaten!"

"Oh, Soompi, put the cutlery back then! No need."

Lu Yanzhi: .....

He swore he was really just being polite.

I didn't expect Uncle Yu to be so serious!

Lu Yanzhi had no tears to cry.

It wasn't until a minute later, when Vicky came through the door with a brand new set of cutlery, that he came to his senses.

Turning to look at Biden Lu, the other party's eyes flashed with a quick, narrow smile.

Lu Yanzhi took the cutlery, somewhat embarrassed, "Fourth Uncle, then I'm not welcome."

Biden Lu had actually eaten almost everything, at any rate, he was a distant nephew, although he was almost twenty years older than himself, but how could he not let someone stay hungry and wait for him, right?

So I put down my chopsticks, wiped my mouth with a paper towel and said, "Finish eating and clean up after yourself, I'm going on my lunch break."

He said, heading inside to the lounge.

Lu Yanzhi saw the situation and got up in a hurry.

"Wait, wait."

Biden Lu turned back.

Lu Yanzhi hurriedly gulped down the food in his mouth, unable to even care about his food, and walked over holding his computer.

"Uncle Four, I have something for you."

In the meantime, Biden Lu, "What is it?"

"I want to change actors!"

Next, Lu Yanzhi placed the computer on the table, clicked on the scene recorded this morning, and then pointed the screen at Biden Lu.

"I swear, I really didn't think one out was the other, it's just that this actor is so good! Not only does he have the strength, but also the face value is first class! And most importantly, it's exactly like the Xie Fang Hua I had in mind!

All the pieces are in place for such an actor, all that's missing is a chance. If we can sign her to Anning International and cast her as the female lead in this drama, I guarantee that she will be a hit! It will definitely be the most valuable money tree under your hand in the future!"

Biden Lu didn't say anything, his eyes unmoving as he stared at the screen.

On the screen, the cold temperament of the woman in a basilisk armor, the clean and crisp movements, the decisive and resolute eyes, it was as if she was alive from the screen, shocking and straight to the heart!

Until a video was watched and the image was finally frozen on the back of the woman walking out of the temple door.

Under the sunset, she was so lonely and strong, like a standing green pine, carrying her former ideals and lost loved ones to her own empire!

After the video finished playing, Lu Yanzhi looked at Biden Lu expectantly, "How was it?"

Chapter 59

Biden Lu leaned back against the back of the chair and looked at him with a seeming smile.

"I think I remember saying that I'm only responsible for the investment, and I'm not involved in the specific casting or filming."

Lu Yanzhi laughed awkwardly.

"I know that, now this, this isn't a unique situation!"

He gulped, a bit underwhelmed in the end.

Biden Lu smiled languidly.

"Oh?What's the special case?"

"Here's the thing, what I'm thinking is that since Jenny Jing is so suited to play Xie Fanghua, she should play the role, and if Clara wants to, she can play Xie Liuser, but then, uh... the investment that she joined in the first place might have to be withdrawn, so....."

He smiled apologetically, the meaning self-explanatory.

Biden Lu raised his eyebrows.

"Want me to make additional investments?"

Lu Yanzhi nodded.

"OK!"

Biden Lu pulled open the drawer of his desk and took a check and brushed a few strokes on it.

Then, a hand shot in front of Lu Yanzhi.

"I'll privately invest another fifty million!The condition is that Jenny is not allowed to act in this movie!"

Lu Yanzhi stared.

He looked at the check on the table and then at Biden Lu, unable to believe it.

"No, for, why?"

God knows, he was already making plans on how he should persuade Jenny to participate in this movie.

In terms of today's performance, he was sure that Jenny was definitely a good seedling.

There are two types of actors, the innate type and the acquired type.

The acquired ones naturally improve their acting skills through hard work, while the innate ones are born fit for the screen and stage from birth.

He's been doing this for decades and would never be wrong, Jenny Jing is a really talented actor and with a little polishing from him, this movie will shine!

He couldn't understand why Biden Lu would refuse!

Biden Lu sat there, looking at him and sneering.

"It's up to you to make anyone but her the hostess!I don't want to talk to you about the rest, so get out!"

One of Lu Yanzhi's faces was constantly changing, which could be described as wonderful.

I wanted to be angry, but I didn't dare, I wanted to be theoretical, but Biden Lu made it clear that he wouldn't listen to him.

Finally, all one could do was get up angrily and walk out.

Halfway there, I remembered something and turned back to take the check and the computer with me.

Biden Lu looked at his back as he angrily left and smirked.

Are you kidding me? Letting his woman go to a movie?

What if I get hurt somewhere in the sun and wind?

And to top it off, there's a bed scene and a k*ss scene in there?

Chuckle!What a fantasy!

On the other hand, Jenny hadn't known that he was just going to be vetoed by someone.

After lunch, when he received a message from Lu Yanzhi, he took Evelin to his company.

When she signed the contract and left, Lu Yangyi looked at her with a guilty face and said a lot of irrelevant things.

Jenny looked confused.

But she didn't think much of it, Evelin had to arrange for an assistant now that she had a job.

Before the company inside a mess of personnel arrangements, in the afternoon, she went back to the company will be the personnel side of the clear, arranged for a seemingly intelligent and competent assistant to her, which is assured.

We're getting somewhere with Snap Shea's case.

After her reminder, Snapshot finally found out through her account that the woman had recently wired several large sums of money.

The person who wired her the money was none other than Xie Snap's mother, Biden Lu's aunt, Su Yue.

That's doggone it!

It's reminiscent of the play where the evil mother-in-law takes money to force her son's Cinderella girlfriend away.

But it stands to reason that even if his mother wanted to force his girlfriend away or turn them against each other...

If we don't see each other, there's no need to joke about our son's future!

Jenny Jing felt confused, and upon asking, he realized that Xie Snap's mother originally disapproved of him entering the entertainment industry.

As far as she was concerned, even if she had been in the entertainment industry twice as long, the upper limit would have been a hotter star.

Compared to the 10,000-strong Lu Clan, that was simply as useless as an ant that could be squeezed to death at any time, at the mercy of others.

His mother wants him to follow his cousin into business, but Xie Xie has no interest in business at all.

It was only out of desperation that Snap's mother made the move.

Jenny felt speechless after hearing that.

What's all this about?

Snap Xie was acting calm instead.

It was just a very tactful way of saying on the phone that it might not be convenient to expose his mother, in other words, there was no way to spread the full truth to the public, so it would have to be worked out another way.

Jenny also understood and agreed in one breath.

When I asked about the woman again, I realized that the other woman already had a new lover, and at the time she probably thought that it would be good to get some money out of the breakup anyway, so she agreed to his mother's request.

Jenny quickly contacted the girl.

By some means, we obtained the edited audio and video from her, and forced her to publicly admit on Twitter that she lied.

Jenny still gave her leeway.

Instead of saying that she was paid to falsely accuse her, she was told to make up lies to say those things because she was unhappy with the breakup.

After all, a girl who is unhappy for love is much easier to forgive than an image of a girl who sets up her ex for money like this.

The aftermath is still needed, of course.

Although the video of the apology has been made public, Snap's image has been tarnished.

However, he has a big production on his hands right now that is about to air, Jenny has heard of that drama before, the crew is good, and Xie Snap's performance in it is also remarkable, so it should be able to salvage a lot of reputation for him.

She wrote several more public softwares herself and sent them out using the big V she kept privately.

As it turned out, the response was good, and gradually there were already a number of voices calling out for She Snap.

The original iron fans who were pressed to death by public opinion also began to fight back, control comments anti-black report a one-stop service, do simply not too 6.

It takes time for the storm to fully pass.

After all of this, Jenny was relieved to know that there wouldn't be any more problems to follow.

Now it's time to really think about her!

In the evening, it was still early when Jenny came home.

Dinner isn't ready yet, it's still not even six o'clock, and Biden Lu won't be back for about another half hour.

Jenny walked into the kitchen to see Aunt Liu and a few kitchen servants busy.

When everyone saw her come in, they were all a bit constrained and looked at her curiously one by one.

Jenny said, "Don't mind me, I'll just look around."

Auntie Liu smiled and stepped forward, "Madam, the kitchen is heavy with grease, you'd better go out and sit down! If you're hungry, why don't I give you a bowl of soup to tide you over? The gentleman should be back soon."

Jenny smiled, "What are some of the dishes tonight?"

Although Aunt Liu didn't know why she was asking this, she still answered truthfully.

"There's mushroom stew with bamboo shoots, vinegar skimmed fish, spicy and sour diced lotus root, lily lotus soup, three fresh shrimp dumplings..."

Just hearing the names makes you want to drool.

After listening to the recipe, Jenny pointed to the two dishes on it.

"Have you made these two dishes?"

Aunt Liu was stunned and replied, "Not yet."

"Okay, I'll take care of those two dishes then!"

Jenny said she would do it, changed her clothes and put on her apron and went down to the kitchen.

A group of maids felt surprised though, and then they were relieved to hear that she was making it for Biden Lu to eat.

Mrs. and Mr. are very affectionate, they are handsome and pretty, and at this rate, they will soon have a young master in the villa
