

Catch Me If You Love Me

Chapter 58

Liam Lu didn't answer.

He sat quietly in the wheelchair, his gaze fell in Zoey Gu's direction, motionless. Put your hands on the edge of the wheelchair, and the veins on the back of your hands burst.

This kind of Liam Lu couldn't see how calm he was.

until...

The surrounded Zoey Gu suddenly straightened his upper body and coughed violently. Struggling to open his eyes, he fainted instantly.

The doctor heard a relieved voice.

"I have recovered my vital signs and fainted temporarily."

Liam Lu's hand placed on the edge of the wheelchair suddenly loosened, and his expression softened silently.

He closed his eyes, twitched the corner of his mouth, and said something full of mockery.

"Otherwise, how can she keep it in mind? Death also requires a huge price."

When Zoey Gu woke up, it was almost early in the morning.

The crystal chandelier above the head.

Soft beds.

If there is a scent of lavender essential oil in the room, it is her favorite smell.

She stared at everything in front of her stunned, and it took a while to realize that this was the apartment that Liam Lu had bought for her.

"Wake up." A low male voice sounded in his ear.

Liam Lu sat beside the bed.

It was still that cold face, with faint red blood in his eyes. There was a laptop on his bandaged leg, and there was a slight fatigue between his eyebrows.

Meeting those eyes that were as dark as a deep pool, Zoey narrowed his heart, and the hands in the quilt tightened suddenly.

The next second, she opened the quilt and sat in front of him, staring into his eyes, and opened her mouth gently.

“Liam Lu, you have worked so hard to do so much, just hope that I can put aside the death of my relatives and survive well.”

As she spoke, she suddenly laughed slightly mockingly.

“Do you want to tell me in this way that you still love me? After five years with another woman?”

Liam Lu’s eyebrows blinked.

Facing the gaze in her eyes that was almost alienated from scrutiny, his heart suddenly became a little angry.

“love you?”

Liam Lu squinted at her, and sneered mockingly.

“Zoey, are you too naive? Even if there is no past and misunderstanding, you are the woman I bought for six million...”

Zoey suffocated.

The next second, before Liam Lu could finish speaking, she suddenly came over without warning, stretched out her hand to hook his neck, and lowered her head to kiss him.

“...”

Liam Lu was startled.

She had already pressed her whole body tightly, raised her leg and sat on the man’s lap, awkwardly and stubbornly describing the shape of his lips.

At close range, he could feel her tense trembling, and smell the unique fragrance from her.

He did not respond, and she became more and more unwilling.

Maybe it was her daring action that pulled the wound on his leg. Liam Lu twisted his eyebrows and couldn’t help groaning.

The next second, his eyes tightened suddenly, and he grabbed the back of Zoey Gu's head and pressed it against him, and kissed it fiercely.

"Well..."

Zoey Gu's body collapsed, and he was forced to raise his head, inheriting the unusually overbearing passion from the man.

The crystal chandelier on the ceiling emits a dazzling light, silently reflecting the light of water in her eyes.

The man's breathing slowly became heavy.

When the hot lips moved to her ears, she couldn't help calling her name in a hoarse voice, "Zoey..."

Zoey Gu raised his hand to cling to him, still letting him do what he wanted. When the man touched her skin, he suddenly smiled and asked.

"Liam, is it the same? Turn off the lights and go to the floor?"
