

Chapter 621

As I was thinking, I looked up and saw Tailor Feng walking in while humming a song.

He looked as if he was in a good mood, not at all the look of being in a bad mood after turning against his mother.

Evelin even got up and walked over.

"How's Auntie? Is it still angry?"

But unexpectedly, when Tailor Feng saw her, it was as if he suddenly thought of something happy, and immediately rushed over, picking her up and spinning her around in a big circle in place.

Conroe Yao was terrified by his move and screamed for a moment before he let it go.

She winced, and when she slowed down, she punched him in the shoulder with her anger.

"What are you doing? Scared the hell out of me!"

Tailor Feng laughed, "That's frightening? I thought you'd have a lot of guts."

Evelin glared at him, and only then did he even restrain his smile and put her down.

"Yoyo, there's something I'd like to discuss with you."

When Evelin saw him suddenly get serious, she was slightly stunned and subconsciously asked, "What is it?"

Tailor Feng thought about it and suddenly said, "You wait for me."

After saying that, he hurriedly ran outside.

Evelin was startled, somewhat confused as to what this man was trying to do.

It wasn't long before he came rushing back, a little out of breath from running so fast.

In his hands, he saw a stack of documents, and first placed them on the table, then pulled out his money clip from his pocket and took out all the bank cards in it.

Evelin looked at all this with astonishment, but before she knew it, she suddenly saw him take all his things and poofed towards her, kneeling down on one knee.

"Yah, what are you doing?"

Evelin was so shocked that she subconsciously reached out to pull him.

However, it was rejected by Tailor Feng.

He looked seriously at Evelin Kang and said, "Yao Yao, I don't know how to show my heart, all romance seems especially pompous and insincere at this time.

So I can only tell you in the rawest, most direct way possible that I love you, and that all those words I just said to my mum about marrying you were serious, not just rushed words to confuse her.

I hope you can trust me, even if I'm no longer the second youngest son of the Feng family and can no longer rely on them, I can still give you a beautiful future with my own hands."

Evelin stayed there all of a sudden.

She looked at Tailor Feng in a daze, her mind blank.

"You, this is..."

Tailor Feng held the pile of documents and bank card and said seriously, "Yao Yao, marry me!"

Only after Evelin stayed for a moment did this dawn on her, and she was in tears for a moment.

There was a countless amount of warmth coming together in my heart, and my eyes were a little sore again.

But in the face of the man's sincere eyes, and suddenly I felt that my previous cowardice was so ridiculous and foolish!

Tailor Feng had been paying close attention to the change in her expression, and although he looked as if he was very transported on the surface, God knew how worried he was at this point.

He was terrified that Evelin would reject him!

After all, before today, she hadn't even thought about actually being with herself!

However, it was Evelin who pursed her lips and snorted, "Is that how you want me to agree to marry you? Hugh!"

Tailor Feng's face changed.

As expected...

Is she still reluctant?

He forced a smile, "Yoyo, it's okay, if you're not thinking about it today, you can actually not answer me so quickly, I can give you time to think about it..."

However, the words weren't finished.

Just suddenly I heard her say again, "If it's a proposal, and you don't even have a flower or a ring, what's this pile of black and white paper and cold cards alone?"

Tailor Feng stayed there.

It took a few seconds for her to realize what she meant.

Instant joy!

He jumped up in happiness and grabbed her hand.

“Yoyo, so you’re promising me?”

Evelin had actually agreed in her heart.

This man, who had already done this for himself, what more could she ask for?

A man should be content, right?

As for the rest, just take it one step at a time!

He can’t have taken ninety steps already and refuse to take the remaining ten steps forward!

Evelin nodded somewhat shyly, and Tailor Feng was so happy that he picked her up at once and spun her around in place a few more times.

This time, Evelin was mentally prepared and wasn’t frightened.

Just looking at him as happy as a child, and being happy along with him, his eyes warmed up again.

How much does he like himself to be so happy when he says yes!

“Yoyo, I’m so happy! Do you know, I’ve been dreaming about this day!”

Tailor Feng carried her around in several circles before setting her down.

As if afraid she would run away, she held her tightly in her arms again for several minutes before releasing her.

“Yoyo, hurry up and pinch me to see if I’m dreaming.”

Evelin was amused by him, and indeed reached out, cupping the soft flesh of his waist.

Tailor Feng immediately grimaced in pain and Evelin smiled, "How was it? Now you know it wasn't a dream, right?"

Tailor Feng laughed heedlessly.

"Got it, not a dream."

He reached up and cupped her face, suddenly lowering his head and placing a heavy k*ss on her lips.

"Yoyo, thank you for being willing to say yes to me."

Evelin listened to his so serious tone of voice, and was not excited at the moment, pursed her lips and said softly, "No need to thank me, I didn't promise you because I was moved by you, but I also like you, just like you like me, and since you are so courageous, I don't want to give up a relationship just like that, so let's all be brave and give it a try together, okay?"

Tailor Feng was so excited that he nodded his head heavily.

"Yes!"

Just then, Coldness also returned with the account book.

Lone Ying is a very snarky person at times, though.

But on the other hand, it's also a really tough guy who talks the talk and acts the part.

She said she'd let Tailor Feng and Evelin marry, then she wouldn't go back on her word, it was just the marriage that followed, and that was up to them.

Also, she asked Leng Mae to bring a message back to Tailor Feng.

That's what that quote says.

I can agree to the terms you proposed, but on top of the previous agreement, I'll add one more.

That is, for a year, and within a year, if Evelin really can't stand that and breaks up with him, as she says.

Chapter 622

Or break up for another reason, then he has to go back and obey her unconditionally.

This includes marriage, including future life and career.

Tailor Feng's face sank as he heard the words.

Evelin was still unaware of the bet between the two of them at this point, and was a bit confused after hearing Lengmian speak.

"Tailor Feng, what does this mean? After what year?"

Tailor Feng gave a wink to Leng Mei and told him to go out and wait.

Then, only then did they turn around and look at Evelin seriously.

Zheng said to her, "Yao Yao, next I have to tell you something very important, this matter is related to the future of my life, I can say that I have put the happiness of my life in your hands, you must promise me."

Evelin was startled.

Intimidated by the seriousness of his words.

She fidgeted, "Tailor Feng, you, you don't scare me, what's going on?"

Tailor Feng suddenly smiled when he saw her scared little face was white.

"Idiot, of course it's the matter of marrying you!"

Evelin stayed for a moment.

Next, Tailor Feng told her about the bet he had with his mother.

He felt that there was no need to hide this from her, and that the two of them were having a hard time being together now, and the biggest fear was that some unnecessary misunderstanding would arise from it.

Therefore, he preferred to nip these misunderstandings in the bud early on.

I'd rather take more lip service to explaining at this point than for the two to fight over it later and cause a separation.

The good news was that Evelin didn't get angry after hearing his narrative.

She just frowned, and then looked at him a little sadly.

"I'm sorry for putting you through this."

In fact, although Tailor Feng didn't say it, she understood what it meant to Tailor Feng to make this choice.

There are two brothers in the Feng family, Feng is such a big zaibatsu, but now he promises to net out because of himself.

In other words, if the two of them were really together, then everything in the Feng family would mean nothing to Tailor Feng in the future.

None of those things will be his anymore.

Evelin is not a fledgling girl, she has been in the entertainment industry for so many years, and has seen too many complicated human hearts and too many human emotions.

She knows that in this world, no matter how hot and intense the love is, it will eventually come to nothing.

Only profit is the truth that all people in this world, always seek, eternally.

But he's willing to give up everything that's at his fingertips for himself, to put down his pride of place.

Stay with her, be a silent, ordinary person.

Who else was she to be angry and accusatory?

Tailor Feng also didn't expect her to not only not be angry, but to apologize to herself instead.

A heart that had long since gone soft as a rock.

He held her hand and softly said: "Yaoyao, you don't have to feel sorry for me, I made this decision willingly, and this is just the most important commitment an ordinary man should make to the woman he loves, it's not something to boast about, if I have to say it, it should be me thanking you, thanking you for being willing to do this after I've done so many wrong things. Choose to accept me and remain with me, and rest assured that no matter what happens in the future, I will love you and protect you and never let you get hurt again."

Evelin listened to his heartfelt vows and was momentarily moved, immediately jumping into his arms.

Tailor Feng hugged her, smiling as he gently soothed her back.

They held each other tightly together, finally for the first time their minds and bodies mingled, as if no force in the world could ever separate them again.

And beside that, Lengmu had been standing there, watching the scene, and was not very moved.

The two of them had been on this journey, and as Tailor Feng's personal assistant, he could be considered to have watched the entire journey.

Although he was usually cold in nature, that didn't mean he was really a cold-hearted person.

Instead, he was really just a hot-blooded twenty-something guy.

It is the age when one is most likely to be touched by such feelings.

He smiled a rare smile at the sight of the two of them hugging each other with strong feelings.

“Er Shao, I’ve already got your account page for you, so tomorrow is a good day if you’re going to get a license.”

Taylor Feng let go of Evelin and lowered his head to ask her, “So we’ll go tomorrow?”

Although Evelin had promised to marry him, she was still shocked to suddenly hear that she would be getting a certificate tomorrow.

Taylor Feng smiled and lightly scratched her nose.

“Marrying you has been suffering for so long, one more minute is too slow, how can this be fast?”

The man’s dotting words made her heart as sweet as soaked honey.

Eventually, in the end, I nodded.

Taylor Feng only laughed happily at this.

The next day, they actually went to the civil office and got a marriage license.

This is something that none of them have told.

Because after all, Evelin’s identity was there, and she was still a top-tier flowing actress in the entertainment industry.

Though in the eyes of the lone warbler, an actor is a playwright, and a playwright equals lowly, none of them clean.

But Taylor Feng knew that Evelin really liked filming.

She enjoys the feeling of wandering into a different character and the sense of accomplishment of working to create a different character through herself.

So, he was willing to make her whole.

The matter of the hidden marriage was not only requested by Lone Ying, but also a decision made by Tailor Feng and Evelin after unanimous discussion.

But spare a thought for the two newlyweds, they couldn't help but feel excited.

Tell the news to a few close friends.

Tailor Feng and Biden Lu and Ji Yun Shu and a few others had a brotherhood.

It was filled with a few of the better people in their circle.

He sent a picture of their marriage certificate, and when people saw it, they jumped at it and asked him to buy them dinner.

Tailor Feng naturally agreed.

And Evelin, come to think of it, hadn't really had many friends she could trust after being in this circle for so long.

The only one that is, is Jenny.

Therefore, the news was also told to Jenny.

Jenny was also very happy for her when she found out.

Evelin didn't say anything about Lone Ying, but Jenny had heard of Lone Ying's reputation for being mean, so she even whispered a few reminders to her.

Evelin responded to each and every one of them, and the group made plans to meet at the winery in the evening before ending this conversation.

After getting their licenses in the morning, they ate lunch and then went to the mall in the afternoon.

Previously Evelin had joked that the proposal didn't even have a flower or ring.

Though she was just saying it casually, not really taking it to heart.

Chapter 623

But Tailor Feng took the words to heart, truly and truly.

So as soon as she was done eating, she had to drag her to the mall to pick out a ring.

In fact, according to his idea, he was supposed to order a pair of rings.

Firstly, it takes too much time to make the ring, and secondly, Evelin usually has to attend various events and shoot movies, so there are very few opportunities to wear the ring.

So in the end, they thought about it and decided that they shouldn't bother so much and just pick a pair they liked at the mall.

It's just a ritual anyway.

But I didn't expect to meet an uninvited guest first, before the ring was even purchased.

Or why is there a proverb in this world that says, "A wronged family has a narrow path"?

Song Jiajia, with a few little sisters from the rich circle, was shopping for jewellery when she suddenly collided head-on with Tailor Feng and Evelin.

The face changed at once.

At this time, Evelin and Tailor Feng hadn't seen her yet and were concentrating on standing in front of a counter, looking at the ring.

"Please take this one out for me."

Evelin picked out a heart-shaped diamond ring and was having it taken out to look at when she suddenly heard a sarcastic voice coming from the side.

"Yo, I thought who is this! So that was you."

In the meantime, both Evelin and Tailor Feng looked up and saw that it was her, and they both faintly knitted their brows.

Evelin didn't want to get entangled with people like her, gently pulling Tailor Feng down and whispering, "Let's go over there and take another look."

Tailor Feng also felt that there was no point in tangling with a woman.

It's dishonorable to win and even more dishonorable to lose.

Therefore, there was no intention of wanting to pay attention to her, so he nodded his head and took Evelin in tow and prepared to leave.

Unexpectedly, Sonja got even angrier when she saw this attitude of his.

After all, although Tailor Feng used to hate her, it hadn't been to the point where he didn't even want to speak to her like he did now.

She got sad all of a sudden, took a few quick steps, and stopped the two of them at once.

"Stop!"

Tailor Feng's face darkened at once.

"Get out of the way!"

Although Sonja was scared, she thought of how much she had loved him for so long, but she didn't expect him to kick her away in the end, and then she held back that fear in her heart and stalked up her head.

"I won't let you! Tailor Feng, do you know what kind of woman she is? Is a woman who will betray you for money really worth being with?"

Tailor Feng's eyes were suddenly icy cold.

I was about to get angry, but my fingers were gently squeezed by Evelin.

Showing him that he didn't have to say much.

It was only then that he suppressed the fire in his heart and didn't speak again.

Evelin looked at Song Jiajia and smiled slightly, "Miss Song, you have repeatedly provoked me in front of me and stirred up our relationship, I am curious, let's not talk about what kind of woman I am and whether I am worthy of being with him, does all this have anything to do with you? And in what capacity have you come here to issue such a question?"

Sonja trailed off.

Why did I never expect Evelin to ask that.

She was indeed bottomless.

After all, even though she had been with Tailor Feng before, that was just her wishful thinking.

Tailor Feng could never really acknowledge her position out there.

Therefore, at this time, even if she was angry, she didn't have the status to question anything.

Thinking this, her eyes rolled and she suddenly sneered, "At least, then, the last time you took my money

It's true, isn't it?"

She said and turned to look at Tailor Feng.

There was still a slight fluke in the mind that Tailor Feng wasn't actually fully aware of what had happened before.

That's why he was so unconcerned the last time she'd spoken to him.

"Tailor Feng, you don't know, do you? I gave her a hundred million dollars before, and she herself promised to take the money and leave you.

I know that we've broken up and I'm not in a position to get involved in your affairs anymore, but I really don't want you to get cheated on, so that's why I came up with this.

If she didn't take that money then, then I have nothing to say to you now that you're together, but she did!

Someone who can promise to leave you for another woman based on 100 million, do you really feel comfortable with her? She could sell you the first time, aren't you afraid she'll sell you a second time?"

Song Jia Jia's words fell silent.

This is a high-end jewellery mall, and there weren't many customers who could afford to stroll here, plus it's not the weekend, so there are even fewer people.

But spare a thought for the shop clerk who was still watching.

Everyone was embarrassed at the news.

Naturally, they recognized Evelin and Song Jiajia, both of whom were very famous actresses in the entertainment industry.

When I saw Tailor Feng bring Evelin over to buy a ring earlier, I was secretly happy that I had discovered a new pair of lovers.

Although because of Tailor Feng's identity, they didn't dare to gossip about this, but everyone had seen Evelin's play and had a good feeling for her, and their hearts originally wished her well.

But now it sounds like things aren't as Jane as they seem?

These three guys, doesn't it sound like a love triangle?

When everyone looked at Evelin again, they couldn't help but bring a hint of contempt.

After all, a man who would betray the man he loved for money would be looked down upon anywhere he was placed.

Naturally, Sonja took in everyone's expressions, her eyes showing a hint of pride.

Conroy, I'll make you proud!

I'll pour then, and when you're notorious, will you still be in such a good mood as you are now!

Her wishful thinking, however, fell flat in the next second.

Taylor Feng raised his hand, and the cold, obscure person who had been following behind him would immediately understand.

Out of the bag came a check for a hundred million dollars.

"That hundred million from Song, is it this check?"

Sonja froze.

Even picked it up and looked at it.

Then the face changed dramatically.

She recognized the check, and it had her autograph on it.

It was indeed the one she had given to Evelin.

But shouldn't this check be in Evelin's hands? Why is Taylor Feng here?

Could it be...that she had already told him about it?

She looked up incredulously, at the two men across the room.

Just saw Tailor Feng hold Evelin's hand and said coldly, "I'm so sorry, my wife thought it was funny that there was actually a woman willing to spend so much money to get her to leave me, so I just made a joke and accepted it, but turned around and already handed this check to me.

So Miss Song's fears are not really valid. Although your concern for me has caused me problems, these days I have to thank you because of you I realize how much I really love my wife.

After all, without comparison, sometimes it's really hard to recognize one's own heart, but here, I also hope that Miss Song won't do such provocative things in the future, you're tired of doing it, and we're tired of acting with you, don't you think so?"
