

Chapter 621: A New Mother

It was only now that his stone-cold face showed signs of relaxation, if ever so slightly.

Looking at his knitted brows, Jiang Yao knew that he would be on high mental alert for next week's selection process. Even as he slept, he was aware of everything happening around him. Not wanting to disturb his sleep, Jiang Yao dared not move at all.

By the time she woke up the next morning, Lu Xingzhi was gone. His belongings however were still here, which meant that he would be back by nightfall.

"Reminds me, the soldier you rescued yesterday has woken up," said Lu Yuqing. "Do you want to pay a visit?"

"How is he doing?" Jiang Yao asked.

"I don't know, I am not a doctor." Lu Yuqing shrugged and handed the water over to Jiang Yao. "Wash up and have some breakfast."

Jiang Yao quickly brushed her teeth and wiped her face clean with the towel. After grooming was done, she started on breakfast. It was still bread and milk, but that was already considered a luxury, only the people of Changkang Group got to enjoy it. It was biscuits and milk or even biscuits and water for the rest.

"Thank you, Sis! You are now my second mother!" Jiang Yao called out.

"I accept the gratitude but not the latter statement!" Lu Yuqing retorted.

Jiang Yao grinned. Why would God give such a sweet lady a life of challenges and obstacles?

She was still figuring out if Huang Chengjing was genuine in his intentions for Lu Yuqing when she noticed the towel in Lu Yuqing's hand and immediately her day took a turn for the worse.

Damn! She forgot to change the towel!

It was the one used by Lu Xingzhi yesterday!

Oh god! Did he not use it to wipe his...

“Nothing.” Jiang Yao shook her head and quickly swallowed her breakfast. “Sis, I’m going to Shengqi Hospital’s tent. Since I have nothing better to do now, I may be of assistance to the people there.”

Chapter 622: What Do You Know?

“Sure, I’ll be here waiting for Manager Sun.” Lu Yuqing’s gaze followed Jiang Yao as she ran out of the tent. She then looked at where Jiang Yao had her eyes set on, and saw the towel she used to wipe her face with.

Lu Yuqing broke out into laughter after a few seconds and remarked, “Oh my little brother, a clumsy man, and a lady doctor, don’t blame me for not doing anything if your wife decides to murder you tonight.”

She heard that most people in the medical profession were a little mysophobic. Then again, even an ordinary lady like her could not have stand what Jiang Yao just went through.

Lu Yuqing was thrilled to think that her arrogant brother was in for a scolding tonight. Finally!

Jiang Yao was afraid that Lu Yuqing would notice her loss of composure and ran out of the tent at full speed. She slowed down once she exited the tent.

The rain had stopped and the sun was out. It was a good day, a sign for good things to come for Rong County.

Jiang Yao was surprised to see Huang Chengjing when she arrived at Shengqi hospital’s tent.

“We at the Hairun Group wanted to contribute to the relief efforts here too.” Huang Chengjing explained in smiles. “I know we are not as early as the Changkang Group, but it is our contribution. I came personally to supervise the delivery of supplies.”

A brief pause later, he added, “Oh, I heard that your sister came too.”

“Oh, is that right?” He sounded surprised, but his expression was of indifference. He knew that Jiang Yao was pulling his leg, after all, she knew of his intentions for Lu Yuqing.

“Mrs. Lu! You know Mr. Huang of Hairun Group?” The doctor was surprised to find the two talking to each other as if they were old friends.

To ordinary people like him, Mr. Huang of Hairun Group was a person straight from the elites of the society. He thought he was extremely lucky to be able to interact with Huang Chengjing here.

What he did not know was that the female doctor who saved the heroic soldier, who was also Captain Lu’s wife, had good ties with Mr. Huang!

“You don’t know her...” Huang Chengjing was surprised. It seemed to him that the doctor did not know of Jiang Yao’s actual identity.

“What about it?” The doctor asked naively.

“I am from Nanjiang City.” Jiang Yao added, “It’s no surprise that we know each other.”

Seeing that Jiang Yao refrained from revealing her position as Shengqi Hospital’s owner, Huang Chengjing chose not to break her party. Perhaps she came to do a little private tour.

Only a selected few from Shengqi Hospital, some of the higher-ups and a few people from human resources, had seen Jiang Yao and knew of her identity. With so many departments, doctors and medical staff, plus Jiang Yao’s low-profile character, it was normal for none of the staff who came to Rong County to recognize Jiang Yao.

While they were talking, a weak voice was heard from the inside of the tent.

“Come in, Jiang Yao.”

Chapter 623: Slightly Frightening

Huang Chengjing frowned. “Who is it?”

She entered the tent to see Chen Feibai in IV drips. “Master Chen, isn’t it a tad disrespectful to address your savior like that?”

As the sole young male heir of the Chen family, Chen Feibai had never been in such an awkward situation. It was just his luck that Jiang Yao, the wife of his biggest rival in the platoon, was the person who saved him.

It hurt his pride.

However, he could not forget the moment when Jiang Yao entered the treacherous flood water, all just to save him.

It was raining heavily. Drenched from the downpour with massive drops of rain interfering with visibility and hair sticking along her face in a mess, Jiang Yao’s tiny frame seemed to be one hit away from collapsing. Yet, it was the frail woman who saved him from the edge of despair.

He was stunned by Jiang Yao’s retort. After all, he called her in because he wanted to say thank you. Now that she was here, the words seemed to be stuck in his throat.

Fortunately, the awkwardness did not last for a long time as General Chen, on a red-eye flight here from Jindo City, entered the tent along with Chen Feitang.

Following General Chen was a doctor in his mid-forties. Without even acknowledging the rest of the doctors inside, General Chen had his doctor go ahead and check Chen Feibai’s vitals.

Once they were outside, someone complained, “That’s the elites for you. Having no respect for doctors like us?”

“Just think of it as a grandfather’s act of love for his grandson. That’s why he hired the best doctor he knew. You’ll feel better this way.” Jiang Yao smiled. Chen Feibai was the only male offspring of the Chen family and with General Chen valuing males over females, it was no wonder that Chen Feibai was taken care of so well.

It was not unusual for General Chen to bring along a doctor. After all, Chen Feibai was found a long time after he was swept away by the flood, and with the lackluster medical conditions in Rong County, his distrust of doctors here was understandable.

Jiang Yao explained in a light voice and was especially comforting to listen to. The medical staff, who were feeling insulted at first, were now more understanding of the situation and felt much better.

Chapter 624: Human Nature

The tent’s soundproofing was not too good. Even though Jiang Yao had lowered her voice, General Chen still caught the entire conversation going on outside.

He was not surprised at the doctors’ complaints but was quite astonished to hear Jiang Yao’s reply.

He smiled and said to Chen Feitang, “Lu Xingzhi’s wife is really a gem! No wonder the Liang family likes her so much!”

It was only an exclamation by General Chen at the moment. He did not plan to talk more about it to his granddaughter.

“My apologies, everyone. I was a little too anxious just now, please forgive any of my misdoings. I am not doubting your abilities, but my grandson here has old injuries that need monitoring. That’s why I brought along the doctor who is tasked to look after him.”

The old injuries were just an excuse but General Chen knew that he needed to say something nice even though he had no faith in these doctors’ ability.

Especially here in Rong County, the medical staff here were people who came to provide relief and medical support. They were the heroes of the disaster and as a general, he should not have dismissed their efforts.

The doctors and nurses knew that the general overheard their conversation after he apologized. Having listened to Jiang Yao’s reasoning, they already thought that their displeasure was a little unreasonable. Now that General Chen came to apologize personally, they got very nervous.

“No no no! Sir, it was our mistake. What you did is human nature. Please forgive us.” A doctor spoke up.

General Chen smiled and said nothing more. He knew how to calm people down and knew just how much to say to command respect.

“Jiang Yao!” He waved at Jiang Yao and instantly his expression softened. “You saved Feibai? The Chen family is now indebted to you, I don’t even know how to express my gratitude! He is our only child, and if anything happens to him, I don’t…”

The general sighed. Chen Feibai’s incident gave the entire Chen family quite a fright.

Yet, when he spoke he did not take into account Chen Feitang standing right behind. Hearing from her grandfather saying that Chen Feibai was the only child, her expression paled but immediately returned to normal, as if she heard nothing.

“I just happened to be at the right place at the right time, General Chen. Chen Feibai was very lucky to have survived. You should be proud of him, he is a hero here!” Of course, Jiang Yao noticed Chen Feitang’s grimace.

She was not surprised to find Chen Feitang here as she was a participant in the selection process.

Chapter 625: Well Deserved

With the Chen family’s influence, it was not out of the ordinary to put both their son and daughter into the selection process.

General Chen understood this, that was why he smiled when Jiang Yao mentioned Chen Feibai as a hero.

As for Jiang Yao, she knew the difference between a dead or a living hero. The former, although gallant and noble, meant nothing for the Chen family. The latter, however, meant that Chen Feibai’s career was all but set.

Even though General Chen and Old General Liang were best buddies, they had completely different temperament and character. Old General Liang was a genuinely kind and friendly person. With both Grandmother Liang and him as the elders, the vibe in the Liang family was one of harmony and kinship.

While General Chen’s kindness depended on the person he was interacting with. He was more of a strategist who knew how to manipulate relationships to get what he wanted. He was also prideful, in this way Chen Feibai was very similar to his grandfather.

Under normal circumstances, General Chen did not like interacting with ordinary people, and would usually leave them alone. He possessed an intense competitive edge, so did Chen Feibai. One big reason why he was liked by his grandfather was that they shared too many similar personalities.

The difference between grandfather and grandson would be Chen Feibai’s inexperience. He was not as gracious and was too straightforward at times, revealing things that General Chen would have kept to himself.

That being said, Jiang Yao could feel the authenticity of General Chen’s friendliness toward her.

Perhaps she was Lu Xingzhi's wife, or maybe Old General Liang and his family treated her very well just like their own kin, that was why General Chen saw her like family too.

Jiang Yao and General Chen were busy chatting. She knew what he wanted to hear and steered the conversation along that path. It was a cordial interaction, fooling outsiders to think that they were indeed family, a grandfather talking to his granddaughter.

She needed to say something to interrupt their conversation, otherwise, General Chen might just forget the existence of both his grandchildren, one in the tent, one outside standing.

"Jiang Yao, where did you rescue Chen Feibai? How did you do it?" Chen Feitang asked, interrupting their exchange.

General Chen wanted to know too. He thought the coincidence a little hard to believe. The rescue helicopter spent the entire night searching to no avail. And then Jiang Yao came in with the good news.

"Between the borders of Rong County and Jade River County. I saw him in a river of the West River distributaries." Jiang Yao smiled.

If she chose not to explain, Chen Feibai would mention the happenings to his family anyway. There was no need for her to conceal the facts. "I brought along professional equipment like an inflatable kayak and some high-strength ropes. It was risky but fortunately, he came back safe. To be honest, I was surprised at first to find out that it was Chen Feibai. But then again, he is your grandson and deserves to be so."

Chapter 626: Questions

It was not flattery, but a different way to express her shock at seeing Chen Feibai's fighting spirit.

It was the truth, although slightly well-articulated.

General Chen laughed. "I brought up that kid myself, it is no surprise that he resembles me!"

Chen Feitang did not expect her question to give Jiang Yao a chance to charm General Chen. Her dislike for Jiang Yao immediately deepened. After all, to Chen Feitang, the young lady possessed no real capabilities other than a blabby mouth.

It was probably her sweet-talking ability that landed her the role of the training instructor for the Jin City platoon!

"Why did you have those things? Aren't you attending school in Nanjiang City? How did you know where exactly was Chen Feibai?" Chen Feitang could not help but fired a barrage of questions at Jiang Yao.

She was obviously looking for trouble, even General Chen looked at her with a frown.

"Ms. Chen, you do have a lot of questions? Sounded like you were interrogating me?" Jiang Yao smirked. She disliked Chen Feitang, especially since she learned of her fondness for Lu Xingzhi!

The enmity intensified after the incident, where Chen Feitang told Jiang Yao stories of Lu Xingzhi's life at school. Now, she did not even want to look at her at all.

As a daughter of the Chen family, Chen Feitang did command a certain position in high society. However, as Lu Xingzhi's wife, she was not going to let herself be bullied.

So what if Chen Feitang's grandfather was right here with them? After all, she was at fault and Jiang Yao had nothing to be afraid of.

Plus, the Chen family was now indebted to her after she saved Chen Feibai. Of course, she was not looking for any compensation but she was the savior for the Chen family and that was the truth. Chen Feitang was being very disrespectful!

"I brought those items with me because I heard about the incident on the radio. I left Nanjiang City just so I could go look for the soldier. I wouldn't have known it was Chen Feibai beforehand." Jiang Yao shrugged. "All I wanted was to do something useful. Utilizing my understanding of the geographical features of Rong County and the various distributaries of rivers here, I went looking alone in my car. It is our fortune if I find him, otherwise, I've tried my best."

Jiang Yao smiled. "By the time I left Nanjiang City, it was a little over noon. I spent the entire afternoon and night searching. Only by the next morning, I saw Chen Feibai lying on a rock in the middle of the river at the borders of Rong County and Jade River county. Perhaps God didn't want to take away the life of a hero so soon, that's why I found him. Frankly, I was surprised when I found out it was Chen Feibai."

Chapter 627: Moe Left

Jiang Yao knew how to speak and was not out to take credit. That being said, she would not downplay the danger during her rescue of Chen Feibai.

After all, it was the Chen family. If it were the Liang family instead, Jiang Yao would only say that both Chen Feibai and her were lucky. That was all. Unlike now, where she revealed half of her story, inducing her listeners to imagine the danger faced.

"Wonderful!" General Chen heard the humility in Jiang Yao's reply and knew she purposely skipped over some details. As a seasoned veteran, however, he knew what happened just by listening between the lines.

"I've always heard the Liangs praising you, and how much Xingzhi appreciates you. It seems like he got himself an amazing wife!" General Chen remarked. "You are a brave and kind soul!"

Driving alone in the storm at night and entering the rapid currents to rescue Chen Feibai, those alone were sufficient to show just how brave Jiang Yao was, General Chen. Chen Feitang, as a soldier herself, might not even exhibit the same traits.

"You're exaggerating, General Chen." Jiang Yao noticed Manager Sun waving at her from the distance and quickly came up with an excuse to leave the conversation.

She knew just how upset Chen Feitang was at her for having an enjoyable conversation with General Chen.

"What's going on?" Seeing Manager Sun's nervous expression, Jiang Yao thought something was up.

“Well, uh, Ms. Jiang...” Manager Sun scratched his head. “You brought along your pet when you came to Rong County, right? Is it still with you?”

“Why?” Manager Sun was referring to Moe. After she arrived last night, Moe vanished and did not show up anymore.

Knowing that he was not a regular pet, Jiang Yao was not too worried since he was always missing at school.

She did not expect Manager Sun to come to her with this matter.

“Well, uh, Ms. Jiang, I think I lost your pet!” He was at the brink of tears. “On my way back to Nanjiang City last night, I noticed a white cat in my car. Not sure when it came, but I recognized it as your pet. What was its name, Moe? Anyway, I wanted to bring it back here so I brought him home. However, he disappeared this morning and I could not find him anywhere I looked.”

Moreover, this was his boss’s cat! He was not sure what he could do to make up for his mistake.

Seeing Manager Sun’s worried state, Jiang Yao chuckled. “It’s fine. That cat knows where home is. He might have gone home.”

Perhaps Moe was bored of Rong County, that was why he chose to leave for Nanjiang City as soon as he could.

Chapter 628: Bad Attitude

Jiang Yao thought it was a missed opportunity to introduce Moe to Lu Xingzhi. After all, he was not aware of the existence of Jiang Yao’s pet.

Even though she could not tell him about Moe’s hidden talents, at least he knew that there was someone protecting her.

Too bad Moe had returned to Nanjiang City yesterday.

Jiang Yao was immediately reminded of the towel fiasco this morning and ignored him. Instead, she took a sidestep and approached Huang Chengjing. “Mr. Huang, how are things over at Hairun Group? You seem quite free to be here.”

Jiang Yao raised her eyebrows and thought to herself just how fast his progression was. He was still addressing Lu Yuqing by her full name the last time they met. Now, they were already on first-name terms?

Lu Xingzhi did not look too happy at all. Not expecting himself to be snubbed by Jiang Yao, he was, quite frankly, dumbfounded. What did he do wrong this time?

His expression darkened after seeing both Jiang Yao and Huang Chengjing in a chummy conversation. Huang Chengjing! He did not like that man at all!

That was probably the reason why Jiang Yao ignored him. She was exhausted and not in the best of mood.

“Not at all.” Jiang Yao saw Lu Xingzhi’s puzzled expression and asked, “Are you done with your stuff?”

“I was assigned here,” replied Lu Xingzhi.

Even though Jiang Yao responded and seemed to be concerned about him, Lu Xingzhi thought something was off with Jiang Yao. Not able to get to the bottom of things, he was very anxious.

Huang Chengjing understood that there was no chance for any further interaction with Lu Yuqing now that Lu Xingzhi was here as well. After exchanging some pleasantries with Jiang Yao, he left.

“Keep him away, I don’t like him.” From his observation, Lu Xingzhi was very sure that Huang Chengjing was vying for Lu Yuqing from the way he looked at her.

It was exactly how Lu Xingzhi looked at Jiang Yao before he married her.

On the outside, he seemed to not regard his older sister well, but he would always have her back.

In his opinion, Huang Chengjing could never be with his sister. After all, he was married and had a child. To Lu Xingzhi, his sister ranked right after Jiang Yao in terms of the women in his life.

He would not oppose it if Lu Yuqing decided to marry again. But, the person had to be scrutinized by Lu Xingzhi beforehand.

He always thought he was better at picking people, just like how he chose a perfect wife, while his sister got together with a jerk of an ex-husband.

Chapter 629: Upset

“I thought that Mr. Huang is a fine man.” Manager Sun seemed to not read the situation well. Knowing that Huang Chengjing was a great person, he could not help but jump to his defense. “Some of our relief supplies were obtained thanks to the help of Mr. Huang. The Hairun Group bought almost all the eggs of Nanjiang City when they came here.

Manager Sun did not know what he did wrong after getting the death stare from Lu Xingzhi. He shivered and quickly changed the topic of conversation. “Ms. Jiang, accounts of Shengqi Hospital dispatching their medical staff and Changkang Group sending in relief supplies to help the flood victims here at Rong County were published by my friend on the newspaper. I got to attend the interview together with the director of Shengqi Hospital. This will definitely improve the group’s reputation!”

“Great job!” praised Jiang Yao. “Please thank the journalist friend of yours on my behalf.”

“Nothing to worry about, after all, this is a win-win situation for us. He also receives financial bonuses for publishing news on the papers.” Manager Sun smiled and added. “The government just announced the results for the bid, we got it! I have to return after today’s distribution of relief supplies is done. I don’t think I will be here tomorrow as I need to complete all necessary paperwork and procedures.”

“Thank you so much.” For the past few days, Manager Sun commuted between Nanjiang City and Rong County multiple times. Each trip exposed him to danger as the road conditions were extremely bad. Jiang Yao thought he did an amazing job and intended to give him another bonus when she went back.

“It is my job! My daughter is recovering rapidly and I am so happy just thinking about it. I am willing to do anything for you, Ms. Jiang!” Manager Sun’s face lit up “She is getting better now. When I visited yesterday, we actually talked for a little while.”

While Manager Sun and Jiang Yao were engaged in a discussion, Lu Xingzhi waited patiently at the side. He immediately dragged Jiang Yao into the tent and had her sit down on the bed when Manager Sun finally left.

“What are you doing?” If not for the mass of people along the way, Jiang Yao would have escaped Lu Xingzhi’s grasp.

“Yaoyao, are you upset? Why?” Lu Xingzhi asked solemnly.

“Am I?” She rubbed her face and thought, ‘Was it that obvious?’

“Yes!” Lu Xingzhi answered firmly. Nothing escaped Lu Xingzhi, not even Jiang Yao’s minute change in her emotions.

“Don’t deny it, I know you are upset!” Lu Xingzhi interrupted Jiang Yao’s rebuttal attempt. “Tell me, why? Is it because I hit you yesterday?”

This was the only issue Lu Xingzhi could think of after racking his brain. “Darling, you need to be reasonable here. Yesterday’s matter is in the past now and I thought we were all good when we went to sleep. I am sorry for hitting you yesterday, it was my fault and I apologized.”

“That’s not it!” Jiang Yao finally said after seeing Lu Xingzhi’s insistence. “I wiped my face this morning with the towel you used last night!”

This was why she was upset the entire morning?

Chapter 630: Tramp

Lu Xingzhi wanted to say more but seeing the masses of people moving around the tent, he lifted Jiang Yao up and carried her outside on his shoulders.

“Lu Xingzhi, go gentle on your wife!” Lu Yuqing was so close to hitting her low-EQ brother.

Lu Xingzhi could not care less. He ran all the way, with Jiang Yao on his shoulders, to the little isolated corner they were at yesterday.

Not far away at Changkang Group's relief site, Zhu Qianlan was seen together with Chen Feitang. They did not know each other though as Zhu Qianlan wanted to know how to get to Hairun Group's site. She saw Chen Feitang, a female soldier, standing around and asked her for directions.

She did not expect to see the girl, who was in intimate interaction with Huang Chengjing at the trade fair previously, to be carried away on another man's shoulder.

"Tsk, I don't know what's wrong with Huang Chengjing, falling for such a tramp." Zhu Qianlan snickered and asked, "Oi, do you know that man over there? What is his relationship with that girl?"

Chen Feitang was extremely irritated at Zhu Qianlan's attitude. If not for her remarks on Jiang Yao, Chen Feitang would have left her then and there.

She was the daughter of the Chen family, nobody else disrespected her like that!

Zhu Qianlan hailed from the south and the Zhu family had no business in the north nor connections in the military. That was why she did not recognize Chen Feitang's ranking.

As for female soldiers, she thought, they were ranked even lower than their male counterparts.

An extremely arrogant person, Zhu Qianlan had little respect for the people she thought were beneath her.

"You know Jiang Yao?" Chen Feitang asked.

"They are husband and wife." Even though Chen Feitang did not want to admit it, it was the truth. They were a legally-married couple. "You said she was a tramp, what did you mean by that? You know her too?"

"A married couple? That woman is married?" Zhu Qianlan focused her attention on the fact that Jiang Yao was actually married!

"I cannot believe it! She was trying to seduce Huang Chengjing! What a whore!" Zhu Qianlan clenched her fists in fury. "How dare she come right onto the man I fancy!"

"Please do not speak about things you have no evidence on! She is a military spouse. You will be charged in military court if you are found guilty of defamation." Chen Feitang reminded her coldly but she believed everything Zhu Qianlan said deep down in her heart.

That was what she thought too. How could a young girl like Jiang Yao be so mature?

As a soldier, Lu Xingzhi spent most of his time in the platoon. How could a nineteen-year-old girl like Jiang Yao stand the loneliness that came with her husband's career?

That was it! She was cheating behind his back!

"Evidence? I saw it myself, I am the witness! Let me tell you, do not for once think of protecting your comrade's wife and scare me with the military court! I am the daughter of the Zhu family!" Zhu Qianlan had only one thought, that was to reveal to Huang Chengjing the fact that Jiang Yao was married. She did not want him to be fooled.
