

Chapter 681: break out of the cage

He is definitely not the first choice of the black-robed magician, and the ghost prophet knows this very well.

The “Ghost Manual” exposed his behavior too much, and normal people would not trust him. But the ghost prophet is also forced to help, “Let more people know about ghost prophets through inheritance” is an important part of his resurrection.

Therefore, if you want to * the gods, you cannot let these four black-robed magicians succeed in creating gods.

Moreover, after the magician creates a god, the * will directly recognize the master, and he will not be able to grab it if he wants to.

The ghost prophet secretly launched a miracle, squeezing out many thoughts to assist the thinking storm.

He suddenly remembered that before his body was alive, he didn't realize that the Nightmare Angel actually had an inheritance!

Not only him, but the previous 12 owners of the Dream Kingdom did not discover the inheritance of Jiangmeng.

But Gloomy Soul Prophet looked up and immediately understood: Nightmare inheritance is hidden in the weakest part of the Dream Kingdom, and it is also the last pillar of the Dream Kingdom. Unless the owner is crazy and wants to completely destroy the Dream Kingdom, it is absolutely impossible to find out. Nightmare Angel's handwriting.

But the question is, why is the Nightmare inheritance hidden until now, hidden from all the demigods, and must be obtained by mortal magicians?

More often, the inheritance of angels is often obtained by other demigods, and it is rare to have to leave inheritance in the lower virtual realm.

After all, you are about to die, do you care whether the successor is a mortal or a demigod?

However, when the Nightmare Angel fell, the Ghost Prophet had already climbed to the Ruby Mountain and did not know the truth of the Nightmare Angel's fall. But in any case, the death of the Nightmare Angel must have been a hasty panic, which will not leave him too much time for arrangement, but he still regards 'concealment' and 'only to mortals' as the most important core rules of inheritance, which can only prove one point: The Nightmare Angel doesn't really want to leave a legacy. Other demigods who get the Nightmare legacy will destroy his plan. Only mortals will be deceived by him!

They are all sorcerers, and the thinking mode of Jiangmeng Angel is simply transparent to the ghost prophet!

"If you want to survive, stop quickly." The ghost prophet sneered: "If I guessed correctly, the gods you are going to create should be the gods of nightmares, right?"

The black-robed magicians froze slightly.

"You've been fooled." The Ghost Prophet said, "Yes, it is indeed possible for you to create a Nightmare God, but the question is, is that your Nightmare God?"

"Will the Nightmare Angel take so many years to conceive of the Nightmare God so easy for you to get? You are only sanctuary magicians, and the devil wants to take the Nightmare God as easy as the palm of your hand."

“Not only that, but it can also directly invade your soul with the help of the Nightmare God, and complete the reincarnation in your soul. If you don’t want to be the container of the Nightmare Angel, stop and wait for us to break this golden hall. As long as you give up the God, no one will stop you from leaving!”

Although the Prophet of the Spectre said what he said was conclusive and true, he was basically a fool. However, he is very sure that the Nightmare Angel will never have any good intentions. These black-robed magicians must have doubts in their hearts. As long as they are prevented from continuing to create gods, then he will have a chance to fish in troubled waters!

Hearing the words of the ghost prophet, although the dream demon had no expression at all, he hooked his fingers and urged: “Quick.”

As its fingers twitched, the dark cloud chains on the necks of the four black-robed magicians also appeared.

Ghost Prophet is not good – a nightmare angel is so despicable and shameless, using curse miracles to control these magicians, just like him!

Sure enough, the black-robed magician couldn’t resist the dream demon’s order, and one of the slender black-robed magicians stepped forward and gently picked up the little fox on the crystal wall.

“Enter the virtual godhead with the concept of falling into a dream.” The dream demon’s voice seemed to become hurried: “When you fall into a dream, a nightmare comes!”

At this moment, not only the Ergan Sanctuary Warlock, but also the Gloomy Soul Prophet couldn’t help holding his breath.

At the moment when the gods were born, the ghost prophet himself had never seen it!

The sanctuary magicians were even more excited—the vast majority of mortals had never even seen a god, let alone witnessed such a historic moment!

Even Dream Demon's calm dead face hides a deep sigh:

"It's finally here."

Just as everyone's hearts were rolling with complex emotions such as anticipation, greed, and jealousy, they saw that the black-robed magician holding the little fox not only did not go to the godhead, but took a step back.

"It's finally here."

With a slight smile, Weisser performed a miracle on the sleeping little fox in his arms.

Truth Miracle Wrong Love!

If Yaxiu can rely on talent with any Senluo Dafa, then Weiser can steal so many Senluo Dafa by relying on this miracle of wrong love!

Affected by the miracle of wrong love, all Sen Luo Dafa will regard Weiser as a confidant who agrees with their own three views!

When she discovered that the sect of Senluo Wasteland was very similar to the 'incubation method' of the Soul Godhead Stream, and that Dafa and the concept seemed to be the same existence, Weisser guessed whether her miracle of wrong love was also valid for the concept.

This is the premise of all her plans, because it takes a long time to properly accept a concept. If they can't incorporate the concept into their souls now, their plans will not be able to sigh, and they can only honestly become the tools of the dream demon!

However-

I saw the little fox opened his eyes slightly, yawned lazily, and then drilled into Wesser's arms, hiding directly into her soul!

Seeing this scene, both the ghost prophet and the dream demon shook their pupils!

How can it be! ?

How is it possible to integrate concepts so quickly? !

Before they could react, Weisser whispered, "Viewer!"

Yaxiu immediately grabbed Wesser's hand and said to the sword girl witch, "You hold us both!"

When the four of them were holding hands, Yaxiu immediately launched the ghost story he had acquired – Miracle Harmony!

In an instant, the souls of the four became one, regardless of each other!

The dream demon was about to launch the same bed and different dreams to kill others to threaten Wesser, but it stopped immediately when it saw it.

It can't and dare not hurt Wesser – once the concept of dreaming is in Wesser's body, once Wesser dies, the concept of dreaming will dissipate!

Ash asked nervously, "What's next?"

"Fly out!" Weisser said firmly.

At this moment, the three of Yaxiu gave Weiser complete trust. The four of them spread out their three wings and soared into the air, leaving the golden hall and flying towards the Ghost Prophet and the Sanctuary Alliance!

Sonia and Diya each performed miracles on the dream bubble wrapping the golden palace, trying to burst the thirty layers of bubbles.

Although the ghost prophet didn't know what was going on, this situation was beneficial to himself, so he launched the miracle and the soul pressure wave to attack the dream bubble again!

Not only Ghost Prophet, but other Sanctuary Warlocks were also ordered to attack the Dream Bubble!

Igula, who knew the inside story, persuaded the leaders of the magicians such as Prison Worship, Turbid Curse, and Bad Omen within a few seconds, letting them understand that the more chaotic the situation, the greater the benefits. God, but the premise is that the black-robed magician escapes first!

Attacked by the inside and outside, the more than 30 layers of dream bubbles were instantly shattered. But the biggest credit is not the Ghost Prophet and the Sanctuary Alliance, but Sonia and Deya!

The Dream Bubble has a very high defense against external damage, but it is vulnerable inside!

The attacking miracle of the two of them easily burst most of the bubbles!

When the four of Yaxiu flew out of the golden hall, they were naturally greeted by all kinds of malicious miracles!

"You made a wise choice."

Ghost Prophet said it nicely, but with a big wave of his hand, he shook out several groups of grievances and turned them into locks to entangle them!

"Don't be afraid!" Weisser and Ash shouted at the same time, the four of them held hands tightly, like the miracle of a bird hitting the ghost prophet!

Just when they were about to become prisoners, a bubble enveloped them, easily blocking the offensive of the ghost prophet!

It's a dream demon!

It dumped the treasure chest and continuously consumed the source crystal to perform defensive miracles for the four of Yaxiu!

"Sure enough." Wesser's voice sounded in the hearts of the four of them: "The concept of dreaming is our best hostage. The dream demon is just a rigid execution program. As long as we share the concept of dreaming, it must always protect us!"

"So, feel free to fly!"

The four of them joined hands and spread their wings in anger. In the bright and dazzling dream paradise, under the gaze of the two thousand sanctuaries and the ghost prophets, they rushed forward to the sky!

Suddenly, a drum sound entangled around them, but the drum sound did not affect them, but the space around them! As the drum beats,

The space began to become sticky, and even tried to push Ash and the others back!

Miracle · Retire!

At this time, the Ghost Prophet caught up with them and shook out dozens of wronged souls. These wronged souls made a long snoring sound, and the other Sanctuary magicians who heard the snoring were suddenly locked up in a pink cage, and they also snored and were about to snort. Fall into sleep!

Miracle returns to sleep!

In addition, there are many miracles, many people stop directly in front of them, trying to keep them one by one or keep their concepts!

“Don’t rush to leave!” The evil omen of Ying Evil Dragon’s transformation caught them.

“Stop!” Turbid Curse led the Curse Elf Archery Team to shoot at them.

“The four of you might as well consider following our Supreme Master...” Bai Prison took the Blood Saint to hinder them.

However, no matter what miracles or obstacles they faced, the four of them ignored them and rushed to the edge of the kingdom of heaven. All attacks on them were blocked by the Dream Bubble cast by Nightmare, and all those who stood in front of them were directly bounced by the Dream Bubble!

“You can’t escape!” Fanxing Sanctuary chased after him and shouted: “The kingdom of heaven in the dream has been blocked by the miracle of the starry sky! Stop and give me the concept,

The promise of the Master of the Stars is still valid! ”

Yes, even with the full assistance of the Dream Demon, there is still a difficulty that lies in front of the four of them, a miracle of the starry sky!

The miracle of the starry sky has blocked the dream kingdom, and the vertical star lines are like bird cages that lock everyone inside. The four of them, Yaxiu, who were about to fly to the edge of the kingdom of heaven, naturally also saw the completely closed birdcage embedded in the wall of the kingdom of heaven!

Knowing this, ghost prophets, sanctuary magicians and even dream demons are not in a hurry. After all, in their opinion, everyone here can’t escape!

“What should I do?” Ash asked, “Do you still have any cards, Visser?”

“No!” Weisser shook his head: “My plan was made in a hurry. There are too many uncertain factors. It is already a lot of luck to get here. How can there be a trump card to deal with miracles?”

Sonia was nervous with anticipation: “Then can we only surrender to Master Fanxing?”

“Wait!” Deya shouted in telepathic communication: “You see the concept of dreaming!”

Everyone looked at their souls and found that the closer they were to the edge of the kingdom of heaven, the little fox became more and more excited, and stared closely at the outside of the kingdom of heaven in their dreams.

As if it can't wait!

Between the lights and flint, the voices of Visser and Ash simultaneously sounded: “Bet!”

“It's all here, how can you be willing if you don't try it!?” Yaxiu gritted his teeth and roared, “Rush out for me!”

Just when the four of them were about to hit the starry sky birdcage, the little fox cheered and painted the four of them a dreamy iridescence!

Snapped!

The four people covered by iridescence, UU Reading www.uukanshu.com installed a huge gap in the starry sky birdcage where the ghost prophet can do nothing, and the two thousand sanctuaries can only look and sigh!

The star line collapsed, the miracle broke!

At this time, the sanctuary magician, who was observing the situation outside the dream world, seemed to see a rainbow phantom bird rushing out of it. The sky light in the distant airspace fell on the phantom bird, coating its iridescence with wisps of crystal arc light, making people inside and outside lose their minds!

Some birds cannot be closed, and every feather on their body shimmers with the brilliance of freedom.

How can it be! ? ”

“The miracle of the starry sky is actually broken?”

“Wait, are they courting death!?”

Under the horrified gazes of countless people, Yaxiu and the others followed Weisse’s command and directly cancelled their own sanctuary! The dreamer wants to put miracles on them,

But they have left the dream kingdom, and it is beyond its reach!

As we all know, if there is no sanctuary protection in the remote airspace, the soul will encounter the forbidden instrument of harmony, until death!

And this is exactly the purpose of Weisser!

“It’s started,” Weisser’s voice sounded in the hearts of the three, with anticipation in the tension: “The real god-building ceremony!”

Yaxiu added: “It’s also our god-making ceremony!”

That’s right, Yaxiu’s plan is also to create gods, but not only is the goal not a nightmare god, but even the method is not a virtual godhead flow!

What they are going to use is the ritual method of the soul godhead flow!

What they are going to create is a deity that has never been seen before!

Chapter 682: The gods are coming!

Unlike Yaxiu and others who had a fluke mentality, from the beginning, Weisser never expected that Nightmare would really hand over the Nightmare inheritance to them.

She had long seen that the Dream Demon, or the Nightmare Angel had no sincerity at all.

Don't forget, she was born in the lawful and evil Jiehuo Sanctuary at a young age. Although the Jiehuo Sanctuary also has production and operation, she has never given up the ancestral skills of murdering people, setting fires, robbing families and robbing houses. Speaking of which, Jiehuo believers are actually a very contradictory religion. They are cruel and ruthless to outsiders, but they abide by the precepts and never * for pleasure. Most of the supplies they robbed are given priority to ordinary people who are not magicians. As for the believers of magicians, they often cultivate weak and weak factions, and they only need a few materials to survive. It can even be said that the magic in the Sanctuary of Tribulation of Fire The treatment of teachers is lower than that of ordinary people.

Precisely because they will not profit from robbery, the fire robbers believers have no doubts about their own righteousness. They believe that they "do small evils and become great good", not killing and looting for selfish desires.

Perhaps it is also because of this sense of moral sacrifice that bears sin, the belief of the fire robbers is extremely devout, so the fire robbery church can support a full five Dafa, and become one of the first-line sects in the Senluo wasteland.

But whether or not the Sanctuary of Fire Robbery considers itself righteous, there is no doubt about it: they are a professional team when it comes to looting.

What's more, the Sanctuary of Jiehuo is not simply looting, but also provides security protection for the caravan, and finds a way to let the caravan go to the Sanctuary of Jiehuo to do business.

Then pretend to be another sect to raid the caravan. And the caravan also has its own sect, and it can provoke battles between different sects by going back and forth, further establishing the dominant position of the Sanctuary of Fire...

When Weisser was a silversmith, because of his intelligence, he became a member of the staff of the crime and robbery, and planned conspiracies for the fire sanctuary. During that time, Weisser not only learned the intrigues and intrigues, but also understood how the Sanctuary of Calamity had dragged each sect into the abyss.

It can be said that the Sanctuary of Tribulation of Fire is an industrialized, systematic, and religious group of sorcerers.

Later, she became the Saintess of the Silver Lantern, betrayed into the Four Pillars Sect, and used this sorcerer talent more and more proficiently. If the Mercury Trojan hadn't lifted the table to assassinate her, she would even have the confidence to gradually overthrow the Four Pillars of the Four Pillars.

This is where Ash, Sonia, and Dea are far from comparable to her—Weiser is a trained, practiced, and even successful sorcerer!

From the time the dream demon drew them a blank check and bound them with a dream of the same bed, Weiser realized that they had half footed into hell.

However, although the operation of the dream demon is simple, it can still be practical after a thousand years – it only needs to kidnap one hostage, and the others must surrender!

Moreover, Weisser is very doubtful whether the dream demon really needs a hostage to display the same bed and different dreams! The sorcerer will never release the hole cards at one time, and even deliberately show weakness. When the victim thinks they have an opportunity to fight back, it will smirk and open the hole card to completely defeat the victim's psychological defense. Therefore, if they want to escape, the first step must be We have to let the dream demons cast the mouse, so that it not only dare not hurt them, but even protect them.

So Weiser turned his mind to the concept of falling into a dream.

The concept of entering a dream is an irreplaceable substitute in the ritual of the birth of a nightmare god. As long as the concept of entering a dream can be controlled, the dream demons who single-mindedly want to create a nightmare * will also become a power they can use.

Therefore, the four talents of Yaxiu worked so hard to create a virtual godhead, because only when the virtual godhead was completed, the dream demon would give them the concept of entering a dream.

Even if Visser's miracle of wrong love doesn't work for the concept, their kidnapping into the dream concept can threaten the dream demon.

But this is only the first step.

Although the Nightmare Angel was a sorcerer thousands of years ago, his calculations are still perfectly valid to this day: Jiangmeng inheritance is only activated when the dream kingdom is on the verge of collapse. If you escape from the golden palace sheltered by the Dream Demon, you will inevitably be discovered by outside magicians.

He cleverly used the influence of the bad situation to set up a dilemma for the inheritors thousands of years later: if they don't create gods, they will be killed by dream demons; if they escape, they will be besieged by peripheral magicians.

Whether it is for greater interests or to save one's life, the only way the inheritor can choose is to complete the nightmare gods and reorganize the dream kingdom, so that there is a chance of survival!

Of course, this silver lining never existed.

Weisser didn't know the dream demon's real plan, and she didn't think that the ghost prophet's threat was real, but she knew very well that the nightmare angel worked so hard to lay out this thousand-year-old trick, definitely not for the benefit of the younger generation!

If Ash and the four really complete the nightmare gods, perhaps death is their best ending.

Don't look at the fact that they use all kinds of coincidences to break out of the dream kingdom, but in fact they are still in danger.

It takes at least thirty seconds to return to reality from the remote airspace, but it only takes ten seconds for the magicians in the dream paradise to rush out, and the magicians outside the dream paradise will not sit back and watch them leave – a magician Just hit the four of Yaxiu with a miracle from a distance, and they can interrupt their return!

Even if they immediately lost the concept of falling into a dream, their experience in creating gods is a fortune even for gods.

It can be said that although Ash and the others rushed out of the bird cage in the dream kingdom, they entered a more dangerous cage.

However, from the time he knew that the dream demon had the concept of falling into a dream, Weisser already had a bold idea. Later, when performing the "Dream" ceremony, she obtained the detailed rituals of the still gods' from others, and her plan was completely formed.

The basis of this plan is the "concept aggregation phenomenon" that the dream demon once said: when the law of the virtual world matures, the concept will automatically aggregate various materials and transform into a god.

When I first listened to it, Weiser was actually a little strange: Could it be that concepts have their own will and will find various materials on their own?

But she soon realized that it was not the concept that went to the material, but the virtual environment would continue to evolve, and the material would be sent to the concept!

So, is there an example of this concept transforming into a * after eating the material?

Of course there are, such as the hidden rituals of the still gods that Weiser and the others know. But in addition, there is another ritual, which all the magicians below the legend have just learned recently!

Faint dream!

“Huguang Handbook”, “Time Handbook”, “Ghost Handbook” have all recorded that as long as you feed the wound of the wind, the language of flowers, the scattered flowers of the snow, and the crystal of the moon to the dreaming magic spirit, you can get the eclipse dreaming magic spirit !

This is exactly the same as the ritual of creating gods!

So, do they have a dreaming magic spirit?

No, I don't know how to make it, I am afraid that only when the heaven in the dream is complete, the concept of entering a dream will be like a dream magic.

However, they can grasp the concept of dreaming!

Therefore, Weisser came up with a whimsical idea: to create a phantom dream god!

Create a brand new * that has never been born before, and I don't know if it can be born!

However, the only ritual they can be sure of is that the concept of entering a dream needs to be fed with the wound of the wind, the language of flowers, the scattered flowers of the snow, and the crystal of the moon, but these materials have long been annihilated in the changes of the virtual environment.

However, all these materials can be replaced by spell spirits, but the replaced spell spirits are at the four-wing level. Do they have them?

Of course they didn't, but the Nightmare gave them a chance to steal the magic spirit from the Void Realm – a miracle dreamed of!

Dreaming is the most outrageous auxiliary miracle they have ever seen, actually allowing them to freely steal any four-winged magic spirit. But think about it carefully, this is a miracle that only a demigod can perform, and to kill a sanctuary magician – at least let them lie in bed for a year – in this way,

Seems to be acceptable.

So, Sonia, Diya, Weisser, and the others stole the four magic spirits, Fengcheng, Huazhu, Xueba, and Yuekong, and dispersed them in the souls of the three to avoid being seen by the dream demon.

Weisser believed that the Nightmare Angel knew about this ritual, but maybe his virtual environment was not mature at that time, and it was more likely that he didn't need the eclipse dream god, so he turned to study the beautiful dream * and the Xinjiang dream god.

The material problem has been solved, but there is still a difficulty in front of the magician: what kind of virtual curse is needed for the birth of the goddess of the colorless dream?

After all, the still gods must accept the curse of the static domain to be born, so the gods of eclipsed dreams naturally require specific rituals.

However, Weisser didn't need to say it at all. After Ash and others vaguely guessed Weisser's intentions, they all thought of the most important mechanism in the remote airspace:

Fenghuaxueyue Synchronization Ban Instrument!

After every modern artist climbs to the remote airspace, he will inevitably suffer from the equality mechanism!

The dangerous test that every three-winged magician must go through if he wants to master the sanctuary!

Everyone knows it, but everyone is used to the phenomenon of virtual realm!

But thousands of years ago, even in the time of the ghost prophets closest to them, the Forbidden Ritual of Harmony and Harmony had not yet been formed. And now the Forbidden Instrument of Harmony of Flowers, Snow and Moon has become the rule of thumb in the distant airspace. Can it be understood as: Even the virtual world is urging the birth of the God of Fading Dreams?

Looking at it this way, the phenomenon of concept aggregation has actually happened a long time ago, but the dream of heaven and the inheritance of Jiangmeng have been sealing the concept of entering the dream, so the eclipse dream * has not been born.

Now, Visser and the others will bring the concept of dreaming out of the dream kingdom, and spread out the sanctuary, accepting the baptism of the forbidden ritual with their souls!

However, there is actually a contradiction here: ordinary magicians will die after they endure the Harmony Prohibition. Let's not talk about the failure of creating a god. If they only have a ray of remnant soul left, they still have to wait for 30 seconds to return to reality. At this time, if other magicians have a miracle of soul control, they will not even have the ability to resist.

However, will they die if they endure the ban on synchronicity?

It's hard to say for Ash and Weisser, but Sonia and Deya probably won't.

Because the two of them controlled the sanctuary by themselves, and they have completely passed the test of the forbidden ritual of harmony and harmony!

And Yaxiu and Weisser both drank the "Lightless Sanctuary Elixir" and became a parallel importer of the Sanctuary, so they were powerless to resist the Harmony Prohibition. Sure enough, the old saying in the virtual world is true: all the lessons you have missed, sooner or later, you have to make up for it.

But the rumors they obtained in the ghost inheritance allowed Yaxiu and Weisse to continue to cheat in the make-up exams!

Miracle of Souls!

This miracle not only made them become one body, but also made the dream demons dare not start the same bed and different dreams; when accepting the ban on the co-ordination of the romantic, the sword princess witch could also help Ashweather to cheat and carry it over together!

Now, the ceremony begins!

call.

The inaudible sound of the wind ran through their souls, every inch of their souls was decomposed into nothingness, and the four quickly collapsed and annihilated. The wind shredded their souls with ease, opening up a new void in each of their souls.

However, under the leadership of the sword princess witch, their souls are scattered but not broken, and there is a faint trend of reorganization!

Fenghuaxueyue synchronic forbidden instrument Fengcheng.

At the same time, the little fox grabbed the wind formation magic spirit in Wesser's soul. Feng Chengshuling looked like a balloon that could float away at any time. The little fox grabbed it and rolled it twice, and found it difficult to keep it, so he pulled out a hair of his own, inserted it into the balloon as a thread, and then used his claws to tighten it. hold.

Then their scattered soul bodies began to combine into pieces, and then gathered together to piece together their appearance. It was as beautiful as the petals reconstructing their bodies, and the void inside their soul bodies was completely assembled, forming a new, independent , a space of the same size as their body.

Fenghuaxueyue Synchronization Forbidden Instrument · Huazhu.

The little fox jumped into Jian Ji's soul and pinned the flower-like magic spirit on his head, like a little girl who loves beauty.

Soon, the rough-formed space within their bodies began to self-destruct, splitting from a complete piece into pieces, one grain at a time. However, under the lead of the Sword Princess and the Witch, their broken souls have a tendency to reorganize!

Fenghuaxueyue synchronic ban instrument snow is broken.

The little fox came into the witch's soul this time, and gently passed through the snow magic spirit like a mass of snowflakes. The snowflakes spread out on the little fox and turned into a cloak wrapped around it.

In the end, their souls converged again and formed a new soul body in a spherical shape, like a small bubble. Originally at this step, the soul bubble would soon be annihilated, but due to the efforts of the sword princess and witch in the first three steps, their soul bubble became very strong, and even returned to their original appearance!

Fenghuaxueyue Synchronization Forbidden Instrument Moon Sky!

The little fox returned to Wesser's soul and found the last moon sky magic spirit. The Moon Sky Magic Spirit looks like a blank glass ball, and the little fox leads Feng Cheng,

Don't spend it, wrap it in snow, and get into the glass ball!

In an instant, the inside of the glass ball was swaying with iridescent waves, and even cracks burst out on the surface—a great existence can't wait to be born!

The four Yaxiu outside have also reached their limit. If they don't start the Sanctuary, the second round of the Harmonious Harmony Prohibition will completely destroy their souls!

The sanctuary unfolds!

At the same time, the glass ball was completely shattered, and a graceful and sacred figure jumped out of their souls, wantonly proclaiming his arrival in the world!

I saw that it looked like a five-year-old girl, with short peach pink hair pulling a pair of fox ears, wearing a snow-white light blue dress, legs wrapped in white silk, and holding a green staff wrapped in a gust of wind. , five fluffy tails are exposed under the skirt!

Although it looks very cute, except for the four of them, whether it is the ghost prophet or the sanctuary magician such as the prisoner, their souls tremble when they look directly at it, and the magic spirits in their bodies are even more trembling. Don't dare to make mistakes!

God, come!

Chapter 683: Lost color dream and 0 wish inheritance

“Am I dreaming...?”

“So beautiful...”

“What kind of deity is this? Why can they create it after experiencing the forbidden ritual of synchronicity?”

“Who the * are they!?”

Witnessing the scene of the birth of the gods, the sanctuaries were excited, eager, and dazed. Even Igula, who vaguely knew the inside story, fell silent without exception, surprised that they didn't know how to react compared to ordinary sanctuaries. , the ghost prophet is undoubtedly more shocked. Because he is very sure that this is a * that has never appeared before, that is to say, these four black-robed magicians actually created a brand-new unknown * through the flow of the soul and godhead, using rituals that do not know whether they will succeed or not!

Never seen this before?

Not really, at least Ghost Prophet knows a few examples.

The problem is that the protagonists in these examples all later became gods.

And their stories, without exception, have become myths!

These black-robed magicians are walking on the path of myth!

The dream demon in the golden hall was also dumbfounded at this time.

The Nightmare Angel left many plans before his death, and even considered the situation where the concept of dreaming was hijacked by someone, but he did not consider the situation where the concept of dreaming became other gods! Although the virtual godhead has been completed, the concept of dreaming cannot be retrieved.

Yaxiu and the others also stared blankly at the little fox spirit at this time.

They were not affected by the coercion of the gods, but they did not expect that their desperate gamble that they were not at all sure about was successful.

Holding the staff, the little fox spirit looked at them cowardly, with five tails swaying uneasily, and her tender voice was a little disturbed and a little doubtful: "You are all my masters?"

boom!

Suddenly, there was a loud noise in the heaven in the dream, and it was the prophet of the ghost that hit the starry sky birdcage. I saw him yelling at the magician outside: "Leave them! They have no magic power to drive the gods! Hey, you dead bastards, quickly unlock the miracle of the starry sky, or no one will be able to grab the gods!"

A word awakened the dreamer, and the sanctuaries came back to their senses. The magician is often unable to leapfrog to drive the magic spirit, even if the three-winged magician exhausts the whole body magic power,

I am afraid that it can only exert one percent of the power of the four-wing magic, not to mention that these four black-robed magicians are two levels higher to drive the gods?

The sanctuary magicians who were watching outside immediately became greedy, and quickly surrounded the four of Ashura, and even miraculously attacked them from a distance.

The Starry Sanctuary in the Kingdom of Heaven also contacted the Dharma Master very nervously, and he did not dare to presume to lift the miracle of the starry sky.

The ghost prophet turned back suddenly, and asked the dream demon in the golden hall: "Devil, shouldn't you give them source crystals?"

"No." Dream Demon replied subconsciously: "All source crystals are under my control."

"That's good." Gloomy Prophet breathed a sigh of relief: "As long as there is no source crystal, it is impossible for the Sanctuary to drive... the gods!?"

Feeling the mighty law fluctuations coming from outside, the ghost prophet turned his head blankly, and saw the little fox spirit holding his staff high in both hands, as if he was about to exercise divine power!

"How can it be!?"

Ghost Prophet's idea is actually right. The combined magic power of all of them is not enough for the gods to activate one ten thousandth of the power.

But who would have thought that Yaxiu, a three-winged magician, could buy source crystals from "Aurora's Manual of Magicians" at any time?

It was precisely because Ash revealed that he possessed Origin Crystal in front of Wesser and others that Wesser dared to make this plan. If there is no source crystal to replace mana, even if they create gods, it is meaningless!

However, unlike the shocked outsiders, Ash and the four fell into silence at this time.

In their eyes, whether it is the kingdom of heaven in the dream, or the sanctuary magician surrounded by the outside, the entire remote airspace is like pressing the pause button, stood still.

After the little fox spirit cast the spell, the world began to fade.

Except for them and the little fox spirit, everything around was only gray intertwined with black and white, and the distant airspace became blurred and swaying, it was like...

“Pleasant Dreams.”

Weisser murmured: “This * is not a fading dream, but the effect of its spellcasting will make the dream eclipse its color.”

“Just like the dream bubble is our magician’s dream, the entire remote airspace... is a dream of others.

Realizing the truth of this virtual realm, everyone fell into silence, unable to react for a while.

Yaxiu suddenly asked: “Do you still remember that all the magicians who reach the Ruby Mountain through the eclipse dream will reach the top of the mountain to meet the angel?”

“Yeah.” Diya nodded heavily: “The magicians will also be asked by the angels to leave the magician’s manual for the first half of their lives.”

“Everyone thinks that the dream of eclipse is to let the magician teleport to the top of Ruby Mountain.” Ash said: “But now it seems that everyone is wrong.

“The dream of discoloration is actually to let the magician come out of the angel’s dream.”

Sonia said: “The remote airspace is a dream, and the dream bubble is another dream. The design of a dream within a dream reminds me of the plot of “Doctor Turin” that I watched two years ago.”

Yaxiu took a deep breath and said lightly, “Okay, everyone, pack up your moods, and take a last look at the distant airspace.”

They looked at this boundless airspace, at the dream bubble in the distance, at the ghost prophets, sanctuary magicians, dream demons that were already blurred in the dream heaven behind them...

Adventure, exploration, crisis, adventure...

Yaxiu and Sonia were undoubtedly the most deeply touched. In the sea of knowledge, they left in obscurity; in the time continent, although they provoked the six kingdoms title war in advance, they were only insignificant pawns.

No one knows them, no one pays attention to them.

However, this time, whether they like it or not, they are bound to shake the six countries and become famous, and even demigods and gods will cast their eyes on them!

Their grand performance will become an enduring topic among the magicians, and even become a new epic myth!

Mortals yearn for them, magicians learn from them, and gods watch them!

And now, they are about to take the stage to a higher level!

“Then.” Yaxiu looked at the distant airspace like a cloud of ink and fainted: “Wake up.”

Ruby Mountain.

After several hours of climbing, the competition for the inheritance of the Thousand Wishes has also reached its final stage.

The Mercury Trojan was crawling in the bloody wishing light, watching the other three legendary magicians in front of her, with deep resentment in her eyes.

How many geniuses are there in the world? Only then did the Quicksilver Trojan realize that she was not the first from the beginning to the end, but the other legendary magicians expected that the God Lord would definitely intervene, and even realized that the will of the Thousand Wishes Phantom Lord would be respected, so they did not compete with her.

Now that the will of the phantom master has been expelled, and the * master will no longer interfere, all talents have shown their true abilities to participate in the competition. Even if the Mercury Trojan has been desperate, don't others not desperately?

Now the Mercury Trojan is only the last ten steps away from the wish, but the legend at the forefront is only five steps away. If it goes on like this, she will definitely lose!

Ten steps, is the natural moat of victory and defeat!

Her face was struggling, but it immediately turned into a cold determination!

She took a long breath and ignored the obstruction of the bloody wishing light. She climbed up with all four limbs, and quickly passed all competitors!

“are you crazy?”

“court death?”

“Wait, why is it okay!?”

Even if the blood flies wish the light to cover the soul, the mercury Trojan can still continue to crawl forward. But as a price, adults over 25 years old and children under 1 year old in the Four Pillars Sect died quickly at a speed of 10,000 per second. They died silently and painfully, like straws overwhelmed by the wind!

But it’s all worth it!

She passed the legendary magician at the forefront, and she was only four steps away from her wish!

Three steps!

Two steps!

step!

The inheritance of a thousand wishes is mine! A snap.

When the Mercury Trojan stretched out its hand excitedly, it only touched one leg.

A black-robed magician suddenly appeared in front of her, blocking her path to wishing.

And because she touched her leg, the black-robed magician kicked back subconsciously.

Although the strength was very light, the mercury Trojan, whose soul was already weakened, did not even have the strength to resist, and was kicked and rolled down the top of the mountain.

Only at this moment did the Mercury Trojan clearly see that there was not one black-robed magician on the top of the mountain, but four. There is also a small fox spirit with five tails sitting on their shoulders. They surrounded Wish, and no matter which way she took to climb up, they would block her.

She watched as one of the black-robed magicians bent down, relaxed, leisurely, as easy as the palm of her hand, and within reach, grabbing her dream wish.

The Mercury Trojan slowly closed her eyes, and didn't even activate the tactile ability Trojan tower, letting the bloodfly wish the light to devour her soul and disappear on the ruby mountain.

Chapter 684: Confused Heart Inheritance

Void, Time Continent, Eternal City.

The urban layout of the Eternal City is extremely peculiar. If you can look at the whole picture outside the city, you will find that any side view of the Eternal City is a triangle: the outermost city wall is the shortest. High, the Tower of Time in the core area is the tallest building in the city.

Moreover, the buildings do not exist independently. All the high-rise buildings have bridges connecting the four directions. The entire Eternal City is a three-dimensional labyrinth.

The most troublesome thing for the magician is that the bridges, walls, and even the city roads on the ground will change – the Eternal City is different every hour!

This is why in the past month, not only has no one been able to seize the inheritance of time, but even a complete strategy has not been able to sort out the structure of the Eternal City, making its exploration scale much larger than imagined.

Not to mention that encountering other magicians in the Eternal City is simply commonplace, fighting, forming teams, forming alliances, betrayal... The plot of blood and ugliness is staged in this city every moment.

The reason why the Eternal City can operate and drive is based on the continuous supply of energy from the Liujin River. The tributaries of the Liujin River are like blood vessels all over the city, and the overflowing water of the Liujin River turns into a golden mist that spreads to every corner of the city. Every adventurer who enters the city will breathe the mist.

These mists settle in the soul and press on the mind of the magician, making the kind people suspicious, making the suspicious people fierce, making the fierce people greedy, and making the greedy people crazy.

However, due to the huge attraction of inheritance, the magicians are willing to enter the Eternal City even if they know that the Eternal City is a * grindstone.

What's even better is that the eternal city does not prohibit magic spirits, and the two-wing magician happens to be the beginning of the magic spirit system, but there is no sanctuary defense,

It can be said to be in the strength level of attacking high defense and low defense. The Eternal City just needs to provide a suitable stage, and they will naturally respond to the gaze of the King of Time with a dance of death.

Graceful, brutal, ruthless, indifferent.

The apparition of the King of Time has been standing on the tower, admiring the insane and ugly drama staged by the sorcerer.

The "Handbook of Time" does not mention whether the King of Time is proficient in prophecy and spiritual factions, but these scalp-numbing inheritance designs are enough to prove the demigod's insight and contempt for human nature.

At this moment, he cast his sight to the air platform not far away.

"Attention, it's coming!"

A huge alchemy golem stood on the platform. Facing the attack of the three female magicians, it suddenly stopped attacking and slammed its arms into the groove on the ground!

Below the groove is a pipe, which is connected to the tributary of the Liujin River on the ground – it is absorbing the water of the Liujin River to charge!

Brilliant! Countless golden runes suddenly appeared on the platform, and at the same time, An Nan, Siflin, and Freya found that there was an extra connection on their bodies, and they were connected to the same phantoms as them!

They breathed a sigh of relief—the last time they challenged the Alchemy Golem, they were defeated because they couldn't see their own phantoms. If they didn't escape in time, they would even be killed by the Alchemy Golem. After exploration and research, they found that if they thought about the alchemy golem, they had to obtain the key inheritance "Future Eye" before they could crack this miracle!

Freya saw that a huge golden sword pierced through her moving phantom!

Severin saw that her phantom suddenly stopped and was completely strangled by the stationary gear!

An Nan saw that her phantom was fine, but the surrounding space suddenly collapsed!

This is the miracle, the fateful death!

After confirming their future, An Nan immediately ran to the edge of the platform, while Severin and Freya ran to the diagonal edge of An Nan. The Veela and the little bat were separated by two positions, the Veela stood blankly, while the little bat kept moving.

Three seconds later, the fate of death came. An Nan took her as the center and a large area fell into space collapse. The magician without the sanctuary fell into it and died, but the veela and the little bat standing at the farthest just avoided the space collapse. area of influence.

A golden sword pierced Freya, but because Freya did not move, the golden sword did not cause any damage;

Countless stationary gears appeared around Severin, but because she was moving around, the gears did not harm her.

If it is the real fate of death, there is naturally no corresponding solution. But this is just an alchemy golem. It is no longer easy to perform such miracles, and what the King of Time will leave behind is inheritance after all, and will not really set a mortal level.

Destined death is the most difficult mechanism, and the three people behind the triple earth fire can easily survive. With a roar of broken gears, the alchemy golem fell apart, and the air road leading to the tower was also unsealed.

The female sorcerers gasped and stared blankly at the fallen alchemy golem.

After a while, Siflin sat down on the ground and sighed: "We beat you!"

The veela jumped up and hugged the purple moth next to her with an excited hoot, and the purple moth happily held the veela and circled around. But soon Freya broke away from An Nan's embrace, folded her arms and snorted coldly, and turned her face away from An Nan.

An Nan and Severin looked at each other, shrugged and smiled wryly.

"Are there any rewards?"

"No, just opened the way to the tower."

"The inheritance of time is too stingy, there is nothing to defeat the elite enemy"

While the purple moth and the little bat were discussing, Veela had already walked to the air passage and said calmly, "Let's go, it's time to go to the next level."

"Aren't you going to take a break?" Sifline asked.

"What's there to rest?" Freya pouted and said sourly: "I don't have a man to play with."

Sifline glanced at An Nan, An Nan sighed, and went over to pull Veeva's hand, but without pulling, she put it on her arm: "Are you still mad at me?"

"How can there be." Freya immediately replied angrily: "I had nothing to do with you at that time, and I had nothing to do with him, how could I have the right to be angry with you?"

Seeing Veela making a fuss like a little girl, An Nan was dumbfounded. A few days ago, Yaxiu finally updated the story of Nabistin in his diary. More directly, he updated to the night when he was almost eaten by An Nan.

Then Veela started not dealing with An Nan. Although they still explored the Eternal City normally every night, they would not be as close to her as before. If An Nan talked to her, she would ignore it.

Isn't it said that the blood moon people are very mature? Aren't veelas all human beings? An Nan thought that the Blood Moon Veela should be the type of Igula, but Freya taught her a good lesson—she has to accompany the little girl Liz in reality, and she has to coax the little girl Freya in the virtual realm !

"Actually, it's not as written in the diary." An Nan said, "You misunderstood!"

"Axiu wrote it like this, it must be true! You must have used a slave contract to control Yaxiu and forcibly kiss him!"

"You listen to my explanation."

"Okay, you explain!"

"Actually, we not only kissed, but also did more things later, but Yaxiu didn't write it out."

Veela stared blankly at her.

An Nan slapped Veela's butt, and the slap felt so good that Veela covered her * and turned around, looking at her aggrievedly.

The purple moth strode past her and headed towards the tower, and said leisurely, "Don't you mean to continue exploring? Follow up."

When dealing with a little girl like Freya who hasn't graduated from the kindergarten class, you can't just get used to her. The more you follow her, the more arrogant she becomes. Occasionally, you have to overpower her in order to take the initiative.

Siflin patted her * and followed, Freya followed behind An Nan and asked nervously, "You must be lying to me, right? Right, An Nan, you liar!"

"It's possible~"

"Which step have you made? How does it feel? Is he, he, amazing?"

"Who knows~"

During the conversation, the three entered the interior of the tower, but found themselves entering a magnificent study—if the desk was not too obvious, it could even be called a library.

"Is this level going to be done in the study room?" Siflin analyzed: "That's not a battle level. Time Heritage doesn't want us to destroy every grass and tree in the Eternal City."

"This is not a test level."

Behind the desk, a golden phantom appeared on the throne. It has five silver phantom wings and a spliced golden phantom wing. It has no pupils, but the female sorcerers feel that they are being watched.

"This is your end." It said: "Your adventure in the inheritance of time must come to an end here."

Freya immediately nervously put on a fighting stance: "Are you going to kill us!?"

“Fool!”

Severin tugged at Veela’s face: “The King of Time means that we have the ultimate inheritance – we can inherit all the inheritance of the King of Time!”

“What?” Veela blinked. “It’s over?”

The King of Time waved his hand gently, and the three red leather chairs walked up to the female magician, “Please sit down, heirs.”

The three of them looked at each other, but they understood that if the King of Time really had malicious intentions, they couldn’t resist at all, so they sat down obediently, their round buttocks pressed into the cushions.

“The original name of this place is Neisser, and it is the office of the city master of the Eternal City.” The King of Time raised his head and looked at the splendid sky: “It is said that it is the origin of the world where ancient elves worship, although no one knows what this word stands for. , but using this word to name the mayor’s office,

It is to spur the lord of the Eternal City to keep walking on the road of seeking knowledge and exploring the truth. ”

“After I became the city lord, I renamed this place between Windmills. Do you know why?”

An Nan and Severin didn’t speak, but Freya thought about it, “Windmill? I remember there was a huge windmill building next to the main garden city one by one.

“There was supposed to be the city of our elves!”

The King of Time suddenly erupted in aura, and strong fluctuations blew the hair of the three of them, and the entire Eternal City was shaking slightly!

Even if the King of Time was emotional, Freya dared to reply: "But now not only does no one know that it is your city, no one even knows about the Eternal City – if the inheritance of Time did not appear, everyone would not know it. It turns out that the ancient elves lived in the Time Continent!"

An Nan stared at Sifflin, who nodded solemnly and went to Freya's house as soon as she got off the assembly line to teach the veela a good meal, and let the idiot know that it's not okay to spit at any time. mouth.

If they still have a chance to go offline...

However, the King of Time was not angry when he heard these words, but instead restrained his momentum and lowered his head dejectedly: "Yes, we are already... history."

Seeing the appearance of the King of Time, Freya also felt a little embarrassed, and shrank her head: "Yes, I'm sorry, but although you have exterminated your family, the inheritance of Time and the emergence of the Eternal City will definitely attract many modern elves to follow you. The road, although you are destroyed, but it is not completely destroyed, it will definitely be resurrected!"

"Freya!" Sifflin pinched Veela's fleshy thighs angrily: "Can you please stop talking!"

"Can the great Eternal City only serve as embers..." The King of Time laughed to himself, "When I was a child, we elves and magicians broke out a war in the area of the windmill, known as the Battle of Windmills in history. , our elves' high sorcerers were killed and wounded at the battle of the windmills,

The Eternal City also turned from prosperity to decline. "

"I renamed this place between the windmills, just to spur myself, I must keep in mind the failure of the windmill battle, revive the glory of the elves, and clear the shame of the windmills!"

"But the result." The King of Time raised his head and looked at the three of them: "You all saw it."

After speaking, the King of Time fell into a long silence, and the female sorcerers did not dare to speak. Even the dullest Freya realizes that the next decision the King of Time makes may become a crossroads in their lives.

After an unknown amount of time, the King of Time continued: "I originally wanted to choose an orthodox elf as the heir, and engrave the ideological imprint of 'recover the glory of the elf' in his mind, so that he would inherit the Eternal City at the same time. To bear the millennium mission of our elves."

"But you..."

The King of Time glanced at the three of them: "Not only are they not elves, but they are even rude."

Freya sat up straight, as if the King of Time was not talking about her.

"So, I have a new idea."

The King of Time said: "As you said, we are already the embers of history, and at most we are just a resurrection... hum haha, a resurrection!"

"Dead ashes, what about the resurgence!"

"Instead of letting the Eternal City linger like a slum, and letting the glory of the elves be humiliated by the * of the blood moon and stars, it is better to go to destruction like this! Even the elves are perished, what is the point of the Eternal City?"

"I can't make the Eternal City prosper, but at least I can make it perish!"

"I want to let those who occupy the elf city know." The King of Time turned his head, as if staring into the distance through the wall: "If I don't give it to the elves, you can't take it!"

“So, I regret it.” It turned to look at the sorceresses: “The Eternal City, I will not let you inherit. However, no one will inherit, because the Eternal City will soon hold an event The grand funeral makes the earth cry for it, and the lord of God is angry!”

“I want you to keep in mind that the eternal city may not be eternal,” said the King of Time proudly, “but the glory of the elves will never be wiped out!”

What else can Freya and the others say? Can only nod again and again.

“Of course, you won’t come here in vain.” The King of Time looked at them: “I will give you the rewards you deserve.”

“Wait!” Freya suddenly said: “What about the blank concept? I only want that, I want to make a wish!”

“You don’t need to make a wish.” The King of Time said: “After I determined that you are the victors, the blank concept has read your wishes and completed the prototype of the new law.”

“How can this be!” Veela was dumbfounded: “But, but everyone promised to give me the concept of blank! In case it reads other people, in case it reads me I’m thinking of other things-”

“I actually don’t understand the operation of the blank concept.” The King of Time said calmly: “And according to the proportion, the blank concept of the inheritance of time only accounts for two-tenths of the total share. Even if you get it, it will not affect the final result. .”

Veela immediately gave up, and buried herself in Severin’s arms glumly. Sifline rubbed her hair and asked, “Then what reward are you going to give us?”

“The little brat of the blood moon, disgusting stench” The King of Time was not so polite to Siflin, and said coldly: “Our elves are especially good at using the golden river water, which involves many high-level miracles of the water art faction. In the unparalleled inheritance of the Eternal City, there is a water art inheritance, which is just right for people like you.”

Saying that, it beckoned gently, and a watery glass book flew out from the bookshelf behind and fell into Siflin's hands.

Severin's face sank, but she still replied, "Thank you."

"As for you." The King of Time looked at An Nan: "You have a rare elf blood, and you also have a certain talent for soul and time. Although your major is a special weapon that I don't know, this book compiled by the elves of the past dynasties. The inheritance of gold is enough to guide you to the Ruby Mountain."

It jumped out a golden tome from the desk and sent it to An Nan. An Nan held the book, feeling heavy, and nodded heavily: "I dare not live up to the expectations of the King of Time."

"And you rude fellow..."

The King of Time looked at Freya: "Your soul time talent is not very good. It seems that you have not become a magician for a year. I didn't expect that a person like you can come here..."

"However, your elf bloodline concentration is the highest among so many adventurers."

"Ah?" An Nan, Sifline and Freya were all stunned.

"Are you presbyopia?" Freya asked directly: "I'm a Veela!"

The King of Time did not speak, but the light and shadow on its body slowly blurred, and finally transformed into a handsome figure: a pair of long pointed ears, a long black hair that looked like a snake, a pair of golden vertical pupils, and...arms On a circle of light purple fluff!

But soon, it returned to a golden phantom, but its meaning has been accurately conveyed: Sharp-eared snake hair, vertical pupil, Mei Mao, UU reading www. uukanshu.com are all features of ancient elves!

“Although you have no time talent, your spiritual talent is not bad.” The King of Time said: “It just so happens that I am a demigod who majors in the spiritual faction.”

“Wait!” Even An Nan couldn’t help it: “Aren’t you a demigod of time?”

“Everyone thinks so, but I realized early on that the time demigod has a fatal flaw – one is too dependent on the golden river.” The King of Time said: “Without the golden river, the power of the miracle of time drops by less than one-fifth. In order to solve this problem, I finally switched to the spiritual faction.

“In a place where there is no golden river, the miracle of time can only consume the golden river water produced by the caster himself, because the production is scarce, so the power of the miracle becomes weaker. But what if I can use the golden river water generated by the enemy?”

“So, I need to confuse the enemy, make his body think that time is flying and produce a lot of golden water, let the golden water he produces amplify my miracle. If I don’t have a golden river, then let anyone be mine Flowing Gold River!”

“After I stepped into the realm of the gods, I even confuse all things in the world, and let the flowing gold river water produced by them be used by me, and I can mobilize the flowing gold torrent no matter where I am!”

“If you control the thoughts of all beings, you can control the time of all beings! If you confuse all things in the world, you can confuse the long river of gold!”

“When you can confuse yourself so that the spiritual body no longer produces golden river water, you are not far away from immortality.”

The King of Time opened the drawer of his desk and pulled out a book wrapped in pink mist. It caressed the book cover nostalgically, handed it out gently, turned into a cloud of mist and sent it to Freya.

“This is the inheritance of confusion that I personally compiled before my death.”

Chapter 685: see you when you wake up

The virtual world, the distant airspace, the bubble of the gospel dream.

“After they created the gods, they just happened to grab the Qianyuan inheritance and inherit the Qianyuan Kingdom?”

In the cafe, Ghost Prophet sat on a high chair, watching the barista slowly grind a cup of coffee with a rich aroma and a purple mist.

Beside him, stood a group of people of different shapes, some young and beautiful, some sunny and handsome, some cold and shadowy, but at this time, they all stared respectfully at the ghost prophet’s shoes.

“Guest, this is your hazelnut coffee.”

Ghost Prophet picked up the coffee cup and took a sip. Not only did the coffee not have a sour taste, it even had the aftertaste of hazelnuts and oranges. But compared to these, he pays more attention to the changes in his soul.

He could tell that after drinking this cup of coffee, a touch of dull silver was smeared in his soul. Because the change is too small, mortals can’t tell the difference at all, that is, the ghost prophets who remain in the demigod realm of the soul faction can perceive this small difference.

Most of the magicians regard the dream bubble as an adventure level, and they explore the affixes wholeheartedly. Even if someone is interested in the dream in the bubble, it is only a taste. Very few people can dig out the real value of the dream bubble.

Only the ghost prophet who has two lives—if he counts resurrection or even three times—can realize what he has missed through various secrets.

Although people's innate talents are given by nature, their "talents" can be influenced by the acquired environment. This influence is not the inducement of entertainment works, the words and deeds of the parents, the pressure of survival, etc., but a very simple one-eat it!

In the era of ghost prophets, magic spirits are not intimate little padded jackets that can be fed by eating gold and silver coins. On the contrary, every magic spirit is a very picky eater of black-hearted bone dragons. The magician is almost unable to survive independently of the organization and must rely on the platform. The power can feed different magic spirits.

Ghost Prophet chose to kill people and set fire to their homes, on the one hand to eliminate Tianjiao, on the other hand because he did not want to join any organization,

But he has to feed the magic spirit, so he can only kill kill kill kill.

This feeding is also very particular. Ordinary ingredients can only be fed, and advanced ingredients can feed the self-evolution of the magic spirit, which has the same effect as the essence of the time continent. Although modern magicians only need to feed gold and silver coins to the magic spirits, they also lose the inheritance of the feeding of magic spirits.

But even if the magician does not eat, the ingredients will not disappear, so naturally, the magician will start to eat the food of the magic, and even gradually regard the food of the magic as a traditional food.

Most of the magicians don't think that eating the ingredients of the magic spirit has any effect. This is because the influence process takes several years or more than ten years before it can penetrate into the soul through the body, and it is impossible to observe the changes intuitively.

What is sorcery? is intellectual life.

If you eat a lot of magic ingredients for a long time, you will find that you are particularly sensitive in specific magic techniques, and you can often draw inferences from one thing.

This can be said to be the improvement of the magician's ability, but the ghost prophet believes that this is because the magician eats too many related ingredients, causing his soul to become fragrant', so that knowledge who likes his taste will actively pursue him.

However, the ingredients of the magic spirits in each region will be affected by the magician. In short, if there are more swordsmen in the area, then the region is more likely to produce the ingredients for swordsmanship (in fact, these ingredients are originally used to feed the magic spirits). Therefore, each region has different magic ingredients, which in turn affects the magician ability of the region...

The special thing about Dream Bubble is that it allows the magician to easily eat the ingredients of the magic spirit in all regions, and because the soul directly tastes it, there is no body to be the middleman to make the difference, and the absorption efficiency is almost a hundred times thousand times. If the magician insists on eating every fantasy bubble, it will only take a few years to light up the talents of all the magic factions – of course, only talents, not yet to the level of talent.

Like the matte silver that this cup of hazel mushroom coffee smeared on the soul of the ghost prophet, it opened up his gun skills.

However, the ghost prophet is not trying to light up his talents at this time, but to detect the level of spells in various regions through ingredients.

“The quality of the ingredients of the magic spirits in various regions is much better than that at the time when I was there... It is only natural, after all, after so many years, the development of magic techniques is like sawing wood, although sometimes forward and sometimes backward, but in general it is still deeper develop.”

“The explosive growth of silver magicians in all countries also proves that the threshold for magicians is getting lower and lower.”

“But the population ratio of Sanctuary, Gold, and Silver is very strange. According to the population ratio of my time, the total number of Sanctuary magicians should have already exceeded 10,000. Except for Diyuan and Senluo, the Sanctuary and Gold of other countries are all normal. Does not match the population base of silversmiths. Is it because of lack of war?”

“Six Kingdoms...”

After thinking about the information collected and having extra thoughts, the ghost prophet couldn't help but think of the four black-robed magicians who created a new * in front of him.

After the black-robed magician drove the gods and suddenly disappeared in plain sight, another war broke out in the dream kingdom.

Although the concept of dreaming is gone, the nightmare inheritance is still an extremely valuable asset – not to mention that the dream demon also has a virtual * form with a resonance rate of over 50%!

However, when the Golden Palace was about to fall, the dream demon detonated the virtual godhead and created an illegal wind!

Although all the magicians had time to withdraw from the dream kingdom, the unlawful wind could destroy all laws and objects, and directly blew the dream kingdom that was on the verge of destruction into pieces.

Heaven in Dreams, Nightmare Legacy, Ghost Legacy... Everything is gone.

This is very in line with the character of Jiangmeng Angel: since he didn't get it, then everyone should not ask for it!

But in the long run, this is actually beneficial to the virtual world.

Because the concept of entering a dream has disappeared, and the kingdom of heaven in a dream has also been assimilated with the virtual realm, so as long as a hundred years and a thousand years of evolution, when a new concept of entering a dream is born, a new kingdom of the dream or other images will be formed.

As long as the kingdom of heaven in the dream is not stolen into the kingdom of heaven, then the virtual realm will surely regenerate it.”

Thousands of years later, the magician will be accustomed to the existence of the dream heaven in the distant airspace – just like the ghost prophet never thought that the dream heaven would be broken.

The period in the middle of the dream when the kingdom of heaven was destroyed and hidden was a historical anomaly, but this period was so long that everyone almost regarded it as the norm.

In this inheritance battle, the black-robed magician is undoubtedly the only winner. Ghost Prophet thought that they created new gods and walked on the road of origin to reach Ruby Mountain, and they were all harvested. I didn't expect that this was only a trivial first half-the-thousand-wish inheritance they grabbed in the second half, which is even more important than the gods. Much more!

Even if he was a ghost prophet of a demigod, he was piercingly jealous of the opportunities of this group of people. Even if he was to start his life all over again, he had never experienced this kind of windy and rainy adventure combo!

This is simply a virtual reality feeding the rice directly into their mouths!

Are those black-robed magicians really being human for the first time! ? How can you be so impersonal!

After calming down the jealous mood, the thoughts are also exhausted. Ghost Prophet exhaled a turbid breath and turned to look at the Sanctuary magicians behind.

He drew a strange symbol in the air and said, "Have you seen this symbol?"

The crowd shook their heads.

"Okay, you draw this symbol on your clothing, and continue to expose it for the next ten days, so that as many people as possible can see this symbol, until someone contacts you, you will go back to the virtual realm and notify me."

Now the primary goal of the ghost prophet is to get a body. This is very easy for him, these sanctuaries in front of him can become his containers, but once the spiritual body is unified, if he wants to change his body again, he has to pay a great price – at least he can't afford it now.

In order to control these sanctuaries to understand the situation, he consumed a few more source crystals... His existence time has entered the countdown.

Therefore, he had to choose a suitable country to hide in.

Blood Moon, Gospel, Stars, Earth Abyss, Paradise, Senluo.

Although the environment of each country is different, all countries are not in the mind of the ghost prophet. What he needs is an extremely chaotic environment. Historical times like the Six Nations World War are his best moments, but now the Six Nations are shielding each other...

But he doesn't need to struggle, because the main body has already made a lot of preparations in order to plan the resurrection before his death, and the first thing he has to do is to accept these inheritances.

And his first hole card was a secret deal with one of the four pillars of gods. This mark is his trading signal.

That's right, the trading orders of the Ontology and Pillar God will be settled after resurrection after a few dry years! This is the reason why Ghost Prophet is not afraid of Pillar God's repentance, and the interest relationship is stronger than any promise!

Ghost Prophet drank the Hazel Mushroom coffee and walked out of the cafe, squinting his eyes slightly against the blazing sunlight in the bubble.

He suddenly realized that he had forgotten something, consumed his soul to create a few thoughts, and the ghost prophet quickly remembered a blank concept!

Because he is the one who monopolizes the inheritance of ghost souls, the blank concept is naturally for him and engraved by his wish. Although it is only a three-tenths of the blank concept, it also has a certain impact on the final new law.

The ultimate wish of the ghost prophet is obviously to be resurrected, but he knows that the road is far away, so he also has a phased goal. UU reading www.uukanshu.com If the blank concept really listens to his phased goals, then the new laws it forms will speed up his resurrection.

And, it turned into a wave that swept the world.

“Ugh...”

Sonia let out a soft snort, feeling her arms against the cold floor tiles, but her head resting on the pillow, and slowly opened her eyes,

Get ready for a big yawn—

Well!

She closed her mouth immediately and held back her yawn.

Ash’s sleeping face suddenly came into her field of vision. The two were so close together that Sonia felt that as long as she yawned a little harder, the tips of their noses would touch.

She rested her head on Ash’s arm, looking like she was lying in his arms. Although they have had many intimate contacts before, this classic scene of seeing you when you wake up from a dream still makes the Sacred Heart Deer smashed.

The village girl’s eyes rolled around, and she didn’t recall why this was the case for a while, but what she was going to do was obvious – continue to pretend to be asleep!

Pretending to be asleep wasn’t enough, she adjusted her posture, squeezed in a little more comfortably, and closed her eyes. But soon she felt a tickling in her heart, the corners of her mouth couldn’t stop snickering, she opened her eyes slightly to see—

Ok?

I don't know if it's an illusion, Sonia feels like she sees something...

She stared at Yaxiu for a while, and after a few seconds, she saw Yaxiu's eyelashes move.

Chapter 686: Awakened Gods and Wishing Pools

"We actually slept here for a day and a night..."

As the witch sat up and yawned a long, earth-shattering yawn, and then she came over to wake everyone up, and Ash and Sonia had to wake up obediently, but when they woke up, they saw Wesser lying next to them, the latter There was an inexplicable quirky smile on the corners of their mouths, which made both of them panic.

Yaxiu had no choice but to start the topic immediately: "Is this the Heavenly Kingdom of Thousand Wishes? Why is this... so..."

"Desolate." Weisser gave a precise definition.

If it can be named after 'country', the Kingdom of Heaven is naturally huge and vast. The four of them stood in a high-slope palace, and they couldn't see the end of the horizon.

But all you can see is a cracked and desolate land. It would be fine if it was just like that, but they could see several disasters lingering in the distance, making the earth howl and changing the color of the sky!

The sky is divided into three colors, and the intersection happens to be their palace. Under the red sky, there are blood-colored corpse sea maggots, which produce a huge amount of blood flies every second;

under the blue sky, there is a transparent and clear blue lake, but everything around the lake is black, white and gray; under the yellow sky ,

Every ten seconds, a huge mushroom cloud erupts, producing a blazing light that melts everything, followed by a shock wave that flattens everything!

However, these disasters are enveloped by a layer of soft white light, which only harms the surrounding area and cannot affect the rest of the heaven.

But in any case, this is too far from the dream kingdom they imagined, and they even wonder if they are still dreaming.

After Ash and the others found the wish, they were sent to the Heaven of Thousand Wishes, and then everyone immediately fell into a deep sleep.

They are so tired.

It stands to reason that they should not sleep, after all, entering the virtual realm is equivalent to replacing sleep. But don't forget, not only did they go through two consecutive days of high-intensity godhead work, but they were also forced to use miracles to replenish their spirits, and they had to plan their escape under the eyes of the dream demon... They were subjected to severe tests both physically and psychologically. .

Immediately after arriving at Ruby Mountain, they actually happened to grab the inheritance of the Thousand Wishes, inheriting the kingdom of heaven that even the demigods dream of!

In the face of the ups and downs of life, they have an excellent psychological quality without going crazy on the spot. After entering the Kingdom of Thousand Wishes and confirming their safety, it should be the result of their stress response mechanism that they fell asleep immediately.

However, the greatest possibility should be the influence of the warm white light pool next to them.

The four of them turned their heads and looked at the only building in the kingdom of heaven that could make them feel that their blood was worth it.

Wishing Pool!

There is no water in the wishing pool, but the extremely rich wish light is piled up, like milk is squeezed in it, making people want to soak in it. The pool is not empty, many magic spirits play and play in it, and there are a few wishing hearts.

The five-tailed fox spirit was immersed in the wishing pool at this time. I don't know whether it was voluntary or voluntary. The other magic spirits took the initiative to form a lifebuoy, so that it could sit on it and float around.

Noticing the eyes of the masters, the little fox spirit jumped gently to the edge of the pool, then jumped up and hugged everyone, and shouted excitedly:

“Masters, you are finally awake!”

In the end, the little fox spirit was held by Diya in her arms—in fact, everyone wanted to hold it, but Diya couldn't let it go—the four gathered to summarize the gains and losses this time.

“I feel that I have gained too much, and I don't know where to start for a while...” Yaxiu was the first to experience such sweet troubles. He looked at the little fox spirit and asked, “First of all, what is your name?”

Until now, they didn't know what gods they created.

The eclipse dream is just a phenomenon, not the name of a god, but through the eclipse dream, they also vaguely guessed the true identity of the little fox spirit.

Sure enough, the little fox spirit tilted his head, as if they asked a very strange question: “The name of the dream awakening is the dream awakening!”

It is based on the concept of dreaming, and the effect is to get them out of the dream state of an angel, so it is obviously a deity that can wake people from their dreams.

However, when they heard Xiaohu Ling's answer, everyone couldn't help but feel a little disappointed.

There is no doubt that the little fox spirit is the nemesis of all dream miracles, such as the miracles such as 'Dream of the Soul', the same bed with different dreams, and 'Dream'.

But for Ash and the others, they rarely encountered enemies who specialized in the dream faction. If they are proficient in the dream faction, maybe they can use the little fox spirit to study some miracles, but both the ghost inheritance and the nightmare inheritance hide the dream faction, they can't even get started!

However, the little fox spirit is not worthless. On the contrary, its true value is so great that it can even subvert the entire world of magicians!

"Little Dream," Diya rubbed the little fox spirit's ears, feeling like she was willing to hold hands: "If the sanctuary magician is in the distant airspace, you can cast a spell on their real body, and you can also make them escape from the distant place. A dream in the airspace?"

Little Huling bit her thumb and said unsurely, "It should be possible, right? But as long as he is dreaming, waking up from a dream can wake him up!"

The four of them looked at each other, with panic in Sonia's eyes, thought in Dia's eyes, Wesser's expression was calm, and only Ashe remembered something with a smile on his face.

"but."

The little fox spirit looked at them with a puzzled face: "Master, why are you separated now... Only when you are together can you recognize you when you wake up!"

"It's soul union, not union!" Ash corrected.

“Is it different?” Little Fox Spirit was confused.

“Does it have to be all four of us together?” Sonia asked, “Can’t we be alone?”

The little fox spirit shook his head again and again: “Waking up from a dream is very principled and will never serve a stranger – not even a strange owner!”

“That is to say, we don’t need the Awakening Spirit for the time being.” Weisser said: “If we want to use the Awakening Spirit on other people in reality, we have to bring the Awakening out ourselves, but we must reunite our souls. Only then can we get the approval of the awakened gods, but the problem of combining souls can only be solved in the virtual realm, which is a dead end, at least for now.”

Weisser spreads his hands: “If it is a single person to complete the ritual process, there will be no such problem, but in that environment, the materials of the magic spirit must be distributed among several of us, and Yaxiu is responsible for soul merging, sword princess and witch, you guys I have to be responsible for getting through the synchronic ban, and I am responsible for carrying the concept of entering a dream... We can only create a dream-awakening * together.”

“But maybe because of this reason, we don’t seem to be affected by the awakened gods.” Weisser looked at the little fox spirit: “I heard that mortals who are in charge of gods are often tampered with their will or even their personalities. The four of us jointly control the gods. , it should also thin out the influence of waking up.”

Diya added: “It may also be because Xiaomeng was just born and was too young to grow up to the extent that it would affect us.”

The witch has too much say in this topic. The gospel gods in her body are ancient gods that have existed for at least thousands of years, and all the hosts who have been in charge of the gospel have formed highly similar personalities. This is also the reason why she likes the little fox spirit so much. Apart from being cute, the little fox spirit is so well-behaved and quiet, not as scary and vicious as the old goddess of the gospel!

“Wait.” Sonia suddenly noticed a question: “When we return to reality, where will Xiaomeng stay?”

“I can stay here!” Xiaohu Ling was eager to try: “There is not a single * here, I can help you manage the wishing pool!”

“Manage the wishing pool?” Everyone was startled.

The little fox spirit nodded heavily, broke away from Diya’s embrace, lay on the edge of the pool and put down the little feet covered with white silk, attracting a group of magic spirits to come and surround it.

“If I can manage the Wishing Pool, I will wake up and feel that I can grow up quickly!” Xiaohu Ling thought about it again, lowered her head and said a little embarrassedly:

“However, in the management of the Wishing Pool, it seems that Dream Awakening will only be a little bit, and the output can only increase by 20%. 25%! And there may be new special materials! Dream Awakening will work hard!”

The little fox spirit and the wishing pool can influence each other, and Yaxiu and the others have already guessed it. After all, the awakened gods belong to the dream faction, and the dream faction is the second-level technique of the reorganization of the soul faction and the spiritual faction, and the wishing pool is the mind. The secret world of the world formed by the faction and the fate faction... With the intersection of the spiritual faction, it is not surprising that the little fox spirit likes to play in the wishing pool.

But they didn’t expect that the little fox spirit would take the initiative to manage the wishing pool, and said that he could increase the production of the wishing pool by 25%!

They could hear the desire in the little fox spirit’s words, and obviously managing the wishing pool is also of great benefit to it!

They know that demigods and gods attach great importance to the secret realms of the world, such as the kingdom of heaven in dreams, such as the six colors that have disappeared in the time continent; they also know that demigods and gods attach great importance to gods, such as the nightmare gods that the angels in Xinjiang have longed for countless years. , such as the special social environment of Senluo Wasteland that allows the gods to soar...

But they didn't expect that there is such a relationship between the gods and the secret realm of the world!

In a trance, they seemed to be able to see the curtain woven together by the demigods and the gods, and they were quietly lifting a corner at this time.

Chapter 687: Heaven Management System

There is also an appointment ceremony for the little fox spirit to take charge of the wishing pool: in the center of the heaven, give the little fox spirit permission.

If it wasn't for the little fox spirit's reminder, they wouldn't even know that the wish they got was actually the center of the kingdom of heaven with the highest management authority.

No matter who inputs magic power to the Heavenly Kingdom Center, they can open the management system of the Thousand Wishes Heavenly Kingdom:

"Thousand Wishes Heaven" "Airspace: 6.6"/ "Time Domain: 1.2"/ "Void Domain: 1.1 Small" "Consul: None" "Secret Domain List: Wishing Pool" "Wishing Pool (Dream Awakening Spirit): Production 4.1 Wishes/ month, 26.5 magic spirits/month, 0.003 gods/month.

After the awakening of the gods, the effect is: 5 wishes/month, 31.8 magic spirits/month, 0.003 gods/month, and new materials/magic spirits may be produced. "Curse List: Tokai Blood Flies/Apocalypse Particle Dead Lake" "Heaven's All-World Miracle List: Thousands of Wishes Last Long" "Wish Long: Wish Miracles, mark the time anchor for everything in the affected area, when any evil occurs Influence, Qianyuan Long will suppress the expulsion of malignant influences and restore the state of the time anchor mark in the area; when any good influence occurs, Qianyuan Long will record and observe, and organize a log every 15 days to remind the Archon whether Update the time anchor (you can modify the reminder time interval). Currently, maintaining a thousand wishes for a long time requires 4 wishes and 25 spells per month." "Please set up an archon as soon as possible. The archon can be a demigod/god." "You are currently in In the agent state, you cannot obtain the long-term management authority of Qianwan." "You are currently in the agent status and cannot obtain the management authority of the curse." "You are currently..." Suddenly, it seems that this heavenly center seems to be quite comprehensive, but in fact the information That's all there is to it, and many terms are not explained in further detail. Most of this stuff was written by the Thousand Wishes Phantom Master himself, of course he could understand it, and Yaxiu and the others had to guess.

The first is “Airspace: 6.6”. Yaxiu and the others guessed that this is describing the space information of the kingdom of heaven, but they don’t know whether it is the size of the space or the floor area, and they don’t know what the basic unit is. 6.6 units.

“Time Domain: 1.2” and “Void Domain: 1.1” are much simpler, because the little fox spirit is very sensitive to laws, it feels that the time here is 1.2 times that of the outside world, and the resonance rate with the virtual world is 1.1 times. That is to say, 12 days have passed here, 10 days have passed outside, and the recovery speed of mana here is 1.2 times that of the virtual realm, and the power of the magic will also be increased.

And the consul is undoubtedly the most important position in the kingdom of heaven, but unfortunately none of them can hold the power of a consul that only a demigod or a * can assume!

As for why they are agents with limited authority, the high probability is that they use mortal mana to open the center of the kingdom of heaven, not demigod mana. Even the consuls demanded demigods, how could mortals be the true masters of the kingdom of heaven.

There may also be a thousand wish illusion master’s consideration here. After all, he is not even a demigod as a magician. If his vision is not enough, he will bite the lighter and do the whole job if he has nothing to do. Don’t mess with the arrangement of the kingdom of heaven.

However, as long as they master the heart of the wish, it will be a matter of time before they inherit the complete Thousand Wishes Heavenly Kingdom, so they are not in a hurry.

In addition, the assets of Wishing Heaven are only the Wishing Pond, and the three cursed negative assets of Dead Sea Blood Flies/Doomsday Particles/Dead Lake. However, almost all of the resources produced by the Wishing Pond are used to maintain Miracle Thousands May it be a long time before the three major curses can be barely contained.

It would be too euphemistic to say that this place is impoverished. If I have to say it, it should be that I have been locked up by selling houses and speculating funds.

But what surprised Yaxiu and the others the most was that there was not a single * in the kingdom of heaven.

You must know that even the nightmare angel can almost create a god, the phantom master of a thousand wishes with heaven, how can he be poorer than the nightmare angel?

After they gave the consul's authority to the little fox spirit, the little fox spirit slammed into the wishing pool, scaring the four of Yaxiu into thinking that the phantom master of Thousand Wishes had deceived the corpse.

However, the little fox spirit was nervously covering its small head, saying that it would be better to eat a wish when its head hurts. As it said that, it observed Yaxiu and the others secretly.

However, the little fox spirit is not greedy. After eating the wish, it appears to be more energetic, explaining that he has obtained the record log of the wishing heaven. Because they couldn't see the log directly, Yaxiu and the others could only know what happened in the Heavenly Kingdom through the narration of the little fox spirit.

Initially, after the fall of the phantom Lord of Thousand Wishes, the Heavenly Kingdom of Thousand Wishes was jointly managed by 4 gods. There were 2 secret worlds to support the Kingdom of Heaven. The earth was full of precious resources, but there were also 9 curses that shrouded the Kingdom of Thousand Wishes.

When all the source crystals in Heavenly Kingdom's reserves were consumed, the gods could no longer suppress the spread of the curse, and first of all, all precious resources suffered. These resources are also the food of the gods, and the power of the gods who have lost the food has declined greatly, making it even more difficult to resist the curse.

Adhering to the will of the phantom Lord of Thousand Wishes, the gods are still devoted to guarding the kingdom of heaven, and they have fallen one after another in the war with the curse, but their deaths are not meaningless. The demise of each * can at least completely annihilate one of the curses.

Later, the other secret realm of the world could no longer be kept, and it was completely destroyed and corroded by the curse, but the demise of the secret realm of the world would also greatly weaken the power of the curse—because these curses were originally aimed at the secret realm of the world.

When all the dust settled, the stable state was formed when Yaxiu and the others received the Kingdom of Thousand Wishes: the miracle that relied on the wishing pool to maintain the long-lasting Thousand Wishes can just stop the three major curses from spreading, but the earth is also before In the war of shattered, all the gods perished, and as for the source crystal left by Qianyuan Illusionary Master during his lifetime, there is not a single one left.

“That’s it.”

After becoming a consul, the little fox spirit seems to be able to feel the suffering that the kingdom of heaven has suffered for so many years. It looks at the barren land in the distance, and the fox ears move and ask affectionately: “Have the masters heard the mourning of the earth? Do the masters feel the pain of the earth?”

It hurts, it hurts too much... As soon as they thought that they could have received four gods and a secret world, the four of them all felt their hearts hurt.

So they looked at the wishing pool to see if there was any magic spirit they could use.

Although most of the magic spirits are used to maintain a thousand wishes for a long time, over time, there are still a lot of magic spirits in the wishing pool. ‘Will’, ‘willing’, ‘willing’, ‘voluntary’ and other spiritual factions magic spirits.

The ‘willing’ magic can generate willingness, which is suitable for assisting in thinking about the content that you yearn for, such as thinking about how to spend the big prize, how many children you have with your favorite, how to pretend to play games tonight, etc. Willingness can make you The idea is more specific and detailed, in short, to make daydreams more beautiful.

If the other party is hesitant during the negotiation, the Willing Magic Spirit can speed up the submission of the other party; if he wants to implant certain thoughts in others, the Willing Magic Spirit can disguise the false thoughts as his own.

To be honest, although these magic spirits are useful, they are not particularly powerful. For example, Ashe knows that there are many magic spirits in Igula’s hands that can achieve similar effects to them.

But what is special about them is that they also involve the law of destiny!

Like a thousand wishes for a long time, it is only by using these magic spirits to build miracles of fate that they can resist the fate of the curse. Obviously, just like the Nightmare Angel hides his dream faction, the phantom master of Thousand Wishes also hides his own wish faction, and it has not been spread on a large scale. Use it as a psychic spirit.

Although the four of Yaxiu are proficient in the spiritual faction, they are not all majors, so these magic spirits are of little significance to them – except for Yaxiu.

He tentatively exchanged the four-wing magic spirit inside for points, and was pleasantly surprised to find that the exchange ratio reached an astonishing 1:50!

It stands to reason that now that he is a four-wing magician, the exchange ratio of the four-wing magic spirit should be 1:1. Maybe it's because Ash didn't condense even a drop of the four-wing magic power. "Aurora's Manual of Magicians" thinks that he is still just a three-winged rubbish, so it still gives him the recharge discount of the three-wing magician.

Yes, offers.

After experiencing a series of adventures in the kingdom of dreams, Yaxiu realized that he had misunderstood the mobile game system. There is no doubt that Yuanjing is a high-level resource that even demigods covet, and he actually recharges by selling a few magic spirits, and he keeps buying energy sources. Isn't this a discount or what?

So Yaxiu recharged all the Four Wings Spirits in the Wishing Pool, and the accumulated points finally exceeded 600 points!

At this time, Sonia suddenly realized something and called out a four-wing magic spirit.

"Huh?" Yaxiu was startled: "This is not..."

“Four Wings Heart Sword Art Spirit.” Sonia said: “When I was collecting the art spirits I dreamed of, I deliberately stole one. Since this is no longer a virtual realm...

With a single tap, she released the soul link with the Heart Sword Art Spirit.

Heart Sword Art Spirit seemed a little dazed, yawned and fell to the ground to sleep.

“Sure enough!” Sonia Ruby’s eyes lit up: “Even if the magic spirit is removed, the magic spirit will not disappear! We can exchange magic spirits here!”

Sonia has long wanted to exchange magic spirits with the viewers and others. Her original plan was to collect enough unremembered woods, and then commission an alchemist to build a box that can exchange materials in the virtual world. It’s a pity that no one sells the Unforgettable Wood on the market, and the unforgettable wood she has collected is not enough, so this plan has been shelved.

In fact, Felix also has a container made of unforgettable wood. At first, Sonia knew that she could store supplies in the virtual world, UU reading www. uukanshu.com is still known from Felix. But Sonia knew that she couldn’t afford the price that made Felix’s heart move, so she didn’t ask at all; later Felix was thinking of backtesting, and she would not take the initiative to hand over her own information.

Unexpectedly, this need is easily solved in the Kingdom of Thousand Wishes!

Diya also took out the four-winged sword mark magic spirit, opened her eyes and handed it to Yaxiu, with an expression of ‘Come and praise me.

Yaxiu opened his mouth, but felt it would be too natural to say thank you, so he silently accepted the sword mark magic spirit, but he shook his head at Sonia: “Jianji, take it back – your swordsmanship faction is higher than mine, Heart Sword Art is more helpful to you. Don’t you want Heart Sword Art?”

“Unparalleled Secret Sword and Five Spirits, which swordsman doesn’t want it?” The village girl replied, “Of course I want the spirit of the sword, so why don’t you release your spirit of the sword quickly?”

“Ah?” Yaxiu was stunned: “But my mind and sword skills are only two wings...”

Looking at the sword girl with curved eyebrows, Yaxiu's voice gradually became smaller and smaller, and finally he had no choice but to release the sword art spirit that had accompanied him for several months.

Signal it to fly to Jian Ji.

Sonia caught the two-winged heart sword, the corners of her mouth were slightly upturned, and she incorporated it into her soul.

Yaxiu carefully picked up the Four-Winged Heart Sword, and after completing the soul link, the Four-Winged Heart Sword immediately penetrated into his soul to show off its might-except the Four-Winged Sword Mark, the other magic spirits were at least one level lower than it, but only Even the sword mark technique spirit restrained its breath, obediently admitting the absolute status of the heart sword technique spirit.

Chapter 688: rainbow blessing

After completing a wave of spell exchange, the harvest inventory also came to the most exciting moment.

"Although we fell asleep as soon as we entered the kingdom of heaven, but..." Ash opened the "Ollora's Manual of Magicians", "The virtual world does not contain our blessings."

"Death Sword Girl", "Human Girl · 18", "Bonus Level: 4 (75% experience sharing, "Silver Blessing · Carnival/Tyranny: Each time you defeat an enemy, increase the critical strike rate and critical strike damage. Different operator training routes can trigger different characteristics." "Golden Blessing · Shining Star/Moon Star: Each battle increases insight, willpower and charm. Depending on the operator training route, different characteristics can be triggered." "Rainbow Blessing · Tranquility/Noisy: Every time you win a victory, the magic skills of the sword flash are strengthened." "Additional blessing feature · Tranquility: Jian Ji hopes to keep the little happiness, live a quiet life, and become a little girl who is loved by others. .This route triggers the 'Quiet' special effect, which strengthens the trigger chance of the sword flash. The calmer the daily life, the higher the level of reinforcement, up to a 10% trigger chance (it can reverse all attacks that are not higher than your own limit)." "Additional Cursed Feature · Hustle: Jian Ji can't stand a peaceful life, and yearns for an adventurous life with turbulent winds and waves, and becomes a partner entrusted to the back. This route triggers the "hustle" special effect, which strengthens the upper limit of the power of the sword's flash. The more adventurous life Thrilling, the higher the upper limit of enhancement, the highest ability to defy the will of God (can dodge miracles)." "Curse of Knowledge: Vortex Secret Poison, Expulsion Secret Poison, Golden Fish Secret Poison, Bronze Dragon Secret Poison, Concept Secret Poison, Colorful Tail The secret poison, the secret poison of the eclipsed dream." When Ya Xiu read the new blessing of Jian Ji, he raised his head and saw that the latter had moved to the side and was looking at him with wide eyes.

"what?"

"Wait for you to tell me what the effect of my blessing is." Sonia said as a matter of course: "Anyway, you know more about my blessing than I do.

Yaxiu blinked, hesitant in his heart, and asked, "Do you know the sword flashes?"

"Hey? How do you know that I just mastered the sword flash?" The sword saint stretched his claws and claws a little surprised: "This is a high-end skill that only a sword saint can master—it does not rely on any magic spirit, but only strengthens with the sword and magic power. , you can crack any magic miracle, and even bounce back the miracle power to strengthen your own swordsmanship."

"I also successfully used a sword flash not long ago, and it is still a long way from mastering it. Unlike Professor Trozan, who can easily dodge some of the two-wing miracles... Your swordsmanship faction is also approaching the sanctuary, right? I will teach you."

So that's it... Ash looked at Sword Princess's rainbow blessing again. There is no doubt that the Quiet Route is much stronger than the Loud Route. After all, the former can achieve 100% countermeasures, while the latter can counteract miracles, but there is a probability problem.

More importantly, to avoid miracles means being attacked by enemies above demigods. They were all attacked by demigod enemies, what's the point of being able to dodge one or two miracles?

Looking at it this way, the strengthening of different routes is also important. In the quiet route, there is a high probability that Jian Ji will not encounter any trouble, and if there is a problem, it can be solved with a flash of the sword; in the noisy route, once Jian Ji encounters trouble, it will be a big trouble. Shem can give her the leeway to give her middle finger, so that her optimism can be conveyed to future generations through the Wizard's Manual.

Whether in terms of cost performance or selfishness, Yaxiu hopes that Jian Ji will take the quiet route. After all, Jian Ji is now a legendary magician, and she has reached the pinnacle of her life. A few months ago, she did not even dare to think about the Sanctuary. What she will do next is not to continue to climb the limit, but to hold on to it. Take advantage and enjoy life.

It is rude to say that even if Jian Ji will be a rice worm who eats and waits to die from now on, she is still a legendary rice worm standing at the pinnacle of her life.

But Yaxiu couldn't help but think, does Jian Ji really like a peaceful and extravagant life?

If it was Jian Ji a few months ago, there would definitely be no doubt about the answer, just like Yaxiu a few months ago would not have any hesitation.

But now they have climbed to Ruby Mountain, inherited the kingdom of wishing heaven, and added all kinds of adventures. Even Yaxiu, who regards retirement as the ultimate goal of his life, can't help but wonder if he should fight again, just like when you see the fund rising. After so much, I will want to increase the position.

Getting an inch and not being greedy is the normal state of human beings, and it is also a common inferiority of magicians.

While thinking hard, Ash found that Jian Ji was looking at him in confusion.

For some reason, he suddenly blurted out: "Jianji, I'm sorry."

"Huh?" Everyone – including the little fox spirit who was still listening to the wailing of the earth – immediately looked at Ash.

Yaxiu was also surprised by his own reaction, but since this was the case, he no longer concealed: "Actually, I have never told you the real blessing..."

He told Jian Ji the contents of the blessings of silver, gold and rainbow truthfully, and said: "For my own consideration, I only told you one of the routes before. Looking back now, my behavior is really not right."

Weisser said: "But viewer, you don't want to harm Jianji, just help her make better choices one by one"

"It's not right."

At this point, Diya was very surprised that she did not stand on Yaxiu's side, and said seriously: "The viewer must have no bad intentions, but the choice should be decided by Jianji, not just give her a route and hide what she should know. Important information."

Diya had been in a state of ignorance concealment for more than ten years, imprisoned in a tower and ignorant. If she hadn't accidentally heard the secret of being sanctified in armor, and had the idea of running away, she would have been Your Majesty Diyin by now.

Therefore, she is extremely sensitive to concealment, and she abhors things like 'arranging other people's lives'. Even if Yaxiu takes the initiative to confess and has a good attitude, she still hates Yaxiu a little bit, at least for a few days.

On the contrary, the village girl involved was also lost in thought. She thought about it and asked, "The tyranny route is similar to the carnival route. You only told me the carnival route because..."

"I don't want you to be in a bad mood." Ash said, "I also don't want to explore with a companion who is in a bad mood."

"But the Moon Star Route is obviously stronger than the Shining Star," Sonia asked. "Why did you only tell me the Shining Star Route? And for you, the Moon Star Route is not more..."

"Because I think that is better for you." Ash said calmly: "You said that you want to be dazzling, to be admired by everyone, and to be liked by everyone... Compared to being a moon star revolving around others, Obviously being a shining star can realize the value of your life more."

“For my own good,” Sonia narrowed her eyes slightly: “So you help me make a decision?”

“I’m sorry.” Ash reviewed it very sincerely.

“But why don’t you help me make a decision this time, and tell me what happened in the past?” Sonia asked, “As long as you don’t tell me, I will never know.”

Yaxiu was silent for a long time, then said slowly, “I don’t know either.”

“If I have to say it, maybe it’s because I subconsciously think that I have an obligation to protect you.”

“It’s not just you, the witch and Weisser are also among them. I can conjure a boat in the sea of knowledge, drive a sports car in the time continent, summon the treasure house of dreams in the distant airspace, and I can gather you together... I am too important. Now, even if you are stronger than me, I still feel that I am your guardian. I organize you, lead you, and protect you.”

“To help you choose the blessing route is what I think is a kind of protection.”

Weisser stared at Ash, she vaguely realized that the next content was probably something she didn’t want to hear, but she still asked: “Then you confess now, that is to say, you have given up this idea of protection?”

“Yes.” Ash said: “In the dream of heaven, we couldn’t communicate normally, we were separated to perform different tasks, and we were threatened with death from close proximity... Of course, I played an important role in this adventure, UU reading www.uukanshu.com But your achievements are no less than mine. Therefore, I fully understand that no matter in terms of strength, will or determination, you are not inferior to me, even far beyond me. Even, you are already protecting me .

“Although it seems arrogant to say this, it seems that this is the only way to accurately express my feelings.” Ash said, “You have won my respect.”

The flow of air has changed.

Weisse looked down at the ground, and she could feel that the atmosphere of the team had changed a little. Although the overall combat power of the team will not be improved much because of this, everyone's mood has changed.

The previous relationship between the Sword Princess and the Witch and Yaxiu was basically half love and half friendship, with trust mixed with dependence. But now, a feeling that is different from love and friendship, but more able to connect everyone and completely twist the team into a rope, is quietly nurturing, and will quickly sprout and grow into a towering tree.

That was the feeling that Weisser had always longed for.

It was a commotion she would never get in reality.

"Write it down first this time." Sonia clasped her hands on her chest: "If I find out what you are hiding from me next time... hum."

"That's right." Di Ya suddenly thought of something: "Is that Jian Ji taking the Yaoxing route now?"

Ash and Sonia's expressions suddenly became strange.

Chapter 689: eclipse dream secret poison

Yaxiu didn't ask Jian Ji which route he was going to choose – he knew that Jian Ji had a hard time deciding.

Tranquility is the ideal of the past, and the hustle and bustle stems from a restless mood. The two routes represent the two desires that Jian Ji cannot coexist. Just like thinking about which one of the two top domestic universities to go to when I was a child, Jian Ji really needs some time to deal with this sweet trouble.

However, God's will is like a knife, and people's hearts are unpredictable. Even if Jian Ji makes a decision, it depends on whether she agrees with reality or not. Maybe Jian Ji is determined here, but fate has to play a joke on her over there. She wants to take risks and her family needs her to take care of her. She wants to be stable but is accidentally pushed to the cusp...

In contrast, the rainbow blessing of the witch is relatively stable:

“Black and White Witch” “Human·Female·19 Years Old” “Fetter Level: 4 (75% experience sharing “Silver Blessing·Witch’s Taboo: Concealment gives you power, concealment is your weapon. In reality, I know what you are really inside. The fewer people there are, the stronger you are in the virtual realm. Currently, the black and white witch’s concealment degree is 80% (little known), and she gains an 80% mana recovery speed bonus.” Your strength and desire are your weapons. The more you want to betray those who love you, and the more you want to betray those who love you, the stronger you are in the virtual world. At present, the rebellious degree of black and white witches is 96% (filial piety deteriorates), Gain 96% extra mana.” “Rainbow Blessing: Witch’s Anxiety: Anxiety gives you power, and dissatisfaction is your weapon. The more dissatisfied you are with yourself, the stronger you will be in the virtual world. The current witch’s dissatisfaction is 99 % (rapid transformation), get 99% of the maximum mana capacity.” “The maximum mana capacity: The magician can increase the effect of a single casting by consuming more mana, and currently it can consume up to 99% of the additional mana.

Gain 99% enhancement. “Curse of Knowledge: Bronze Dragon Poison, Golden Fish Poison, Colorful Tail Poison, Faint Dream Poison.” The witch’s rainbow blessing not only came in handy right away, it was also very suitable for her. Her Silver Blessing increases mana recovery speed, Gold Blessing increases additional mana, and Rainbow Blessing provides the ultimate mana capacity, which can fully utilize her blue bar advantage.

but...

“Are you very dissatisfied with yourself now?” Ash looked at the witch with some anxiety, and asked seriously, “What is it about? Can we help you?”

Sonia and Weisser immediately looked at the witch’s beautiful face and slender and fair figure. You must know that the virtual world corresponds almost exactly to the real self. After all, the soul is your true perception of yourself. Therefore, what you are in the virtual world must be what you are in reality.

Regardless of appearance, maybe the witch is really dissatisfied with herself, but in terms of figure, the witch's figure is definitely the best figure that both Sonia and Weiser want.

Although she is a physical practitioner, the witch's limbs have not become thick and maintained in a healthy state. You must know that Sonia has recently found that her thighs are getting more and more fleshy because of too much sword practice.

In other aspects of her figure, the witch is also a little more overweight and a little weaker, which is simply a perfect hanger. Sonia has always been dissatisfied with her breasts. In the past, she had to give up some good-looking clothes because it was too big. After practicing swordsmanship, her shoulders were sore because it was too heavy, but Ingurit had no such problem; Se Tian has a weak soul and a weak body. Even if she cultivates the weak and weak faction, she can only maintain her health. However, Wei Ounai inherits all the advantages of her figure. She is usually entangled in order to facilitate her actions. Naturally, she prefers the healthy physique of the witch.

I don't know if men like it or not, but the witch is definitely an angel figure that is loved by women. How can you still be dissatisfied? Still 99% dissatisfied! ?

Noticing the look of "Are you showing off" in the eyes of the sword girl Weisser, Diya also said something miserable.

What she was dissatisfied with was the attitude of her white-haired young girl in reality!

It's not that the witch can't solve this problem. Like anti-moon and anti-year spells, she can recover from a white-haired girl to an adult posture at the age of 18.

But the problem is, before she solves the gods of the gospel, she doesn't dare to go back!

In case she returns to her original state, then Yaxiu suddenly returns to the gospel and sees Queen Yisu who is exactly the same as the witch in the palace. Naturally, he can immediately understand the cause and effect, and then Deya will also be hacked by the gods of the gospel because of his failure to keep secrets.

Therefore, Deya must maintain the appearance of Liz, even if Ash comes back, she has to put it on first, until the * of the gospel can be revealed.

For this reason, it is only natural for Diya to be 99% dissatisfied with the attitude of the young girl with white hair. The remaining 1% may be because she has always wanted to play a prank on Yaxiu. Just imagine, when Yaxiu returned to the gospel. , One night, Liz insisted on pestering him to sleep together, and then when he woke up the next day, he found a big beauty in his arms... This must be very fun!

Although Yaxiu was a little worried, since Deya wanted to ignore this topic lightly, he would not continue to delve into it. The so-called respect means acknowledging that the other person has the ability to be independent, and to lend a helping hand when the other person needs help.

“Youlan Weisser”, “Human Female · 24 years old”, “Fetterment Level: 4 (75% experience sharing, “Silver Blessing · Youlan Weisser’s protective color: Weak scholars will always get more pity, when you love Youlan Weisser” Lanwesser has had a good impression of her, so it is difficult for you to have malice towards her.” “Golden Blessing: Youlan Weisser’s Armed Color: Smart scholars will always find suitable prey, and the target locked by Youlan Weisser is very It is easy to become foolish and wise. When the situation on your side is obviously better than that of Youlan Weisser, the target will find out from the details that Youlan Weiser still has traces of his backhand cards, so he will give up in fear; Weisser, the target will use various reasons to convince myself that my advantage is in me, give up escaping and take the initiative to die. But the IQ will soon return to normal.” “Rainbow Blessing: Orchid Wesser’s experience: lonely scholars always avoid crowds, Youlan Weiser can notice the movement of all people within 10 meters, and when other people have the idea of chasing Youlan Weiser, she will feel it. This effect is invalid for those who Youlan Weiser wants to see.” “The Curse of Knowledge : Vortex Secret Poison, Illusory Mirror Dragon Secret Poison, Shade Dream Secret Poison.” After hearing Yaxiu’s introduction of his rainbow blessings, Weisser was silent for a moment, then suddenly asked, “You know all my blessings?”

“Yeah.” As soon as Ash finished speaking, he realized why Weisser’s expression was so strange.

Protective and armed colors!

Unlike other people’s blessings, Wesser’s silver blessing protective color is a passive aura, as long as you have a good impression of her, it will be affected immediately,

Yaxiu and the three of them are no exception.

Even if there is no conflict between them now, but after knowing the existence of protective sex, the next time everyone has a conflict and compromises, Ash will inevitably have this idea: Was he influenced by protective * to compromise with Wesser?

The power of protective color is that others are affected without being aware of it, but its weakness is that once it is known, it will make people feel fearful.

Not to mention the big killers like armed color, all of which are offensive blessings that make people unknowingly attacked.

Weisser knew this. For the enemy, her talent is not necessarily stronger than that of the Sword Maiden Witch, but as a teammate, her talent is simply unfavorable.

The Mercury Trojan was vaguely aware of this, so it would transfer people from other areas to assassinate her instead of giving orders to her subordinates directly.

She is a traitor blessed by the Void, a traitor who survives by swallowing trust.

However, Axiu pondered for a moment, and told the sword princess witch the effect of Wesser's protective color and armed color. Just when Wesser's heart fell,

Yaxiu talked about the effect of his blessing:

“Silver Blessing·Observer’s Appearance: Your appearance is deceptive. Unless you do something unusual, others will subconsciously ignore your existence. This blessing is strengthened in the virtual world, and unless you have an intimate bond, others cannot see it. Clear your appearance.” “Golden Blessing · Listener’s Death: Your existence is deceptive. Unless you take the initiative to seek death, the hostility of others to you will drop by a level. In the virtual realm, this blessing is strengthened, unless if you have an intimate bond, it will be difficult for other people to kill you.” “Rainbow Blessing: The Voice of the Bard: Your language is deceptive. Unless your words are too outrageous, others will tend to believe your words. In The blessing of the virtual world has been strengthened, unless you have an intimate bond, other people will believe your words for at least a second.” This time, Ash was very satisfied with his rainbow blessing!

Although it does not increase the lethality like the sword princess, the spellcasting effect unlike the witch, and the reconnaissance ability unlike Weisse, but compared to the “Observer’s Appearance” used for lurking and the “Listener’s Mourning” to reduce hostility, “Speech of the Bard” is an active skill after all!

Not only in daily life, but the words of the minstrel can also gain miraculous effects in battle. For example, Ash shouted “I’m your father” in battle.

No matter who will believe him for a second!

Unless they meet a dutiful son who kills even his father without mercy, anyone will hesitate for a second! In a legendary battle, this second was enough for Yaxiu to turn defeat into victory!

The sword princess and the witch have said that this kind of skill should not be obtained by Yaxiu.

“Wouldn’t it be easy for the viewer to deceive people in the future!?” Di Ya, who only allowed herself to deceive others and not allowed others to deceive herself, was very nervous.

“Deception is still secondary. The more powerful aspect of this blessing is that it can be slowly brainwashed.” Sonia said faintly: “If he has been sending us some strange values, we might be transformed by him unknowingly. Achieving what you want – one”

“Stop, stop!” Ash shouted: “This is obviously a false praise for my honesty and kindness. How can you preconceived that I will use this blessing to do bad things? I won’t lie!”

“That means you might feed us strange values?”

“Isn’t it normal for some values to collide in small talk? As the saying goes, the more the truth is debated, the more clear it is. You can usually chat more about current affairs, such as whether a game should be exclusively on a single platform or on all platforms...”

“Are you really talking about games?”

Seeing them being noisy and pompous as always, Visser suddenly had a sour nose and couldn't help laughing.

She understands Yaxiu's subtext one by one, your blessing is to attack teammates, but mine is not bad! If there is a trust gap because of the blessing effect, then I am the most distrusted major suspect.

Just like the sword princess witch would not doubt Yaxiu, she also won everyone's trust, perhaps because of daily accumulation, perhaps because of the common life and death of heaven in the dream.

Finally, the most curious part of everyone is finally here!

"Blood Dream Secret Poison", "Secret Poison Infected Number: 10", "Secret Poison Enhancement Level: 10%" "Secret Poison's current effect: ① You can convert the colorful mana into the main color mana, and the conversion ratio is 60:40; ② When you use the main color mana to drive the spell spirits lower than the four wings, it can exert the same effect as the four wings; ③ When you hold this secret poison, all your colorless mana will be converted into the main color mana, Using the main color mana to drive the four-winged magic spirit can reduce the mana consumption by 10%, and the same color magic spirit can be greatly enhanced. (The enhancement level reaches 11%, the gain will be reduced)."

Chapter 690: return

In general, the Phantom Dream Poison is similar to the Colorful Tail Poison, and the most important effect is the conversion of mana. Now Yaxiu and the others have not condensed any colorless mana, but as long as they are willing, they can convert silver mana, gold mana, and colorful mana into the main color mana at any time.

So what they don't understand now is what is the main color mana? What's the difference with colorless magic?

"Colorless mana is not really colorless."

Like this occasion, it is naturally the host session of the good student Sonia: "There is no real colorless phantom in this world, but the legendary phantom that the legendary magician condensed at the beginning was too pale, so it was called colorless. ."

"In fact, the legendary phantom wings are not only colorless, but also colorful. The legendary phantom wings of any legendary magician are different. The professor sister told me that when you arrive at the Ruby Mountain, the magician is no longer a condensed general. Mana, but will condense different colors of mana because of different spells."

"For example, the legendary phantom wings of fire magicians may be phantom wings composed of flame-colored magic power. When driving the fire magic magic power, the flame-colored magic power not only consumes less, but can also explode several times or even ten times. Power, but as a price, the consumption of other magic spirits driven by flame mana will greatly increase,

And no reinforcement effect. "

"However, legendary magicians basically do not condense solid-color virtual wings." Sonia spread her hands: "I don't know the exact proportion, but it should be a composite color mixed with multiple magic factions, and increase it as much as possible to his usual The vast majority of spells that will be used."

"As for this main color mana..."

Sonia closed her eyes and suddenly drew out her long sword and swung it far away from the ground!

The vicious wave like a winch ploughs through the ground and carves a deep hole in the earth!

The little fox spirit whimpered and looked at everyone eagerly, as if asking, 'Why are you hoeing the earth so well?

"Greatly enhance the effect of swordsmanship and reduce the power consumption." Sonia said: "This main color magic power is the pure color magic power of our major in magic, like me, it will condense the color of the sword."

Weisser pondered: "In this case, this secret poison will be harmful to us. If we cultivate normally, we should condense composite color virtual wings, but now we can only take the path of pure color."

Di Ya, who had been holding back for a long time, finally couldn't help but said, "Do you know how long it will take to dye the Legendary Void Wing?"

"what?"

"There is another reason why the Legendary Void Wing is called colorless, that is, it has no color for a long time. It needs to be adjusted slowly by the magician, and the magic will be used to penetrate into and dye." Compared with the hearsay Sonia, Deya, who had known the details from the Gospels a long time ago, naturally knew more details.

"This process usually takes three to five years. Before that, the colorless mana that drove the four-winged magic spirit not only did not increase, but also increased the mana consumption.

"And solid color mana is more precious than compound colors."

Diya said seriously: "Whether it is fighting or production, solid colors represent a higher upper limit of spellcasting. Compared with the continuous spellcasting brought by compound colors, it is obvious that the upper limit of spellcasting is more meaningful to the magician."

There is one more thing that Diya didn't say, that is, it is much more difficult for a legendary magician to obtain a solid color virtual wing than a composite color. If the compound color takes three to five years to dye, then the pure color will take at least ten years to color, and the impurities that have condensed in before are slowly sifted out.

However, the information of the witch is enough to let Ashe and the others understand that the pure color magic power is better. Because most magicians have no need for spellcasting battery life, even if you really encounter a protracted battle, you can still run if you feel exhausted. Can you still run away if you have a sanctuary?

Increasing the upper limit of spellcasting means more possibilities. The tail that could not be broken before can now be broken, the injury that could not be saved before can now be saved, and the attack that could not be blocked before can now be blocked for one second, leaving a chance to raise the ****

...

Everyone tested it, Yaxiu and Jianji are naturally the steel color of swordsmanship, Diya is the golden color of time, and Wesser is the green color of truth.

After taking stock of their gains, they looked at the little fox spirit.

Yaxiu thought for a while and asked, "Xiao Meng, what do you think the Thousand Wishes Heavenly Kingdom can provide us?"

"Ah?" Xiaohu Ling's eyes widened blankly: "Can... provide you with a place to sleep? It's so big here, you can sleep wherever you want!"

In other words, apart from the resources of the Wishing Pool, they basically cannot get much help from the Thousand Wishes Heaven... Yaxiu looked into the distance and asked curiously: "Where is the outside of Heaven? The fifth floor of the virtual realm? The sixth layer?"

However, the little fox spirit shook his head: "There is no outside in the kingdom of heaven."

Sonia said, "But the kingdom of heaven is so big, there are always walls, right? Isn't the outside outside the walls?"

"There is no wall." Little Fox Ling paused: "If the masters keep walking forward, they will walk back to the wishing pool."

Everyone has entered the space faction, and naturally understands the meaning of the little fox spirit that the space here is similar to a sphere connected, and Yaxiu asked: "What about the sky and the earth? If you keep flying up, keep digging down..."

The little fox spirit jumped on tiptoe: "Fly to a certain height, no matter how you fly, it will not become higher; if you dig down, you can dig very deep, and there are many resources under the earth, but the more Dig further down!"

“Then can you send us out of heaven?”

The little fox spirit suddenly burst into tears, and with a whimper, she hugged Yaxiu’s thigh like an octopus and didn’t let it go: “Master, don’t give up on the dream! The master is in trouble!”

In fact, Yaxiu and the others were just curious about what was outside the heaven. Obviously, the little fox spirit could not satisfy their wish.

But Xiaohuling’s words also reminded them of a very important and even terrifying thing: “Xiaomeng, you, what do you want to eat?”

“Of course you have to eat dreams when you wake up from a dream.” Xiaohu Ling sniffed and gestured, “It just floats around, with cyan wings and a red body, and it will shake out a lot of light spots...”

The little fox spirit described it for a long time before Weisser remembered: “Your food is a dreaming magic spirit?”

The dreaming magic spirit recorded in the “Ghost Manual” is a butterfly with blue wings and a red body!

“Yeah, yeah.” Little Huling couldn’t help biting her fingers, and her mouth was drooling: “Crispy, sweet and smooth, delicious, the more wings, the better.”

The four of Yaxiu looked at each other in dismay. To be honest, they didn’t have many surprises. After all, the Awakening Spirit is the nemesis of all dream magic spirits, so its food is the basis of dream magic spirits – once you enter the dream magic spirits – it makes sense.

But where did they find the dreaming magic spirit for the little fox spirit!

They had just used the concept of entering a dream, and the kingdom of heaven in the dream is now gone. They couldn’t think of any way to get it, except for picking up the magic spirit from places like Miracle Paradise by luck.

“However, the masters were delicious just now.” Xiaohu Ling said again.

“What?” Ash quickly checked his soul: “What did you eat just now?”

“Dream,” said the little fox spirit, “you slept all day, although not a lot, but it’s quite fragrant!”

Everyone suddenly realized that in addition to dreaming magic, little fox spirits can also survive by eating human dreams!

Although they didn’t know how to find someone to feed the little fox spirit, it was still much easier than the elusive dreaming spirit, and the little fox spirit wasn’t hungry now, so it wasn’t an imminent problem, so they all breathed a sigh of relief. .

But the ultimate question is how did they leave?

“The door to truth can be opened here.” Weisser said quickly: “And it is connected to the real body, not the Ruby Mountain.”

“So we can go directly back to reality, and enter the virtual realm again to reach the Ruby Mountain.” Ash said, “Then how do we get back to the kingdom of heaven... Yes, may the heart be pivoted!”

They picked up the heart of the wish and were sent in, so the next time they want to come in, can’t they repeat the old trick?

However, the little fox spirit poured a pot of cold water on them at this time: “Masters, if you want to locate and teleport from the inside of the kingdom of heaven, you must consume a wish.”

Yaxiu was taken aback, “How many wishes do we have?”

“132.” The little fox spirit said, breaking his fingers: “Deducting the monthly consumption of miracles, you can save 1 more per month.”

Gan!

Unless they stay in the kingdom of heaven and don't leave, not to mention every day, once a week is enough to come to the kingdom of heaven!

Although they have nothing to do when they come to the kingdom of heaven, being able to come in and run through the door at any time is completely different from the limit on the number of times! It's like unlimited traffic and a limit of 10 megabytes when surfing the Internet, and unlimited cards and limited cards in the gym. When playing games, Fenglingyueying is still the same!

Just as everyone was evaluating the value of the kingdom of heaven again, Wesser suddenly asked, "Can it be teleported in in reality?"

"Yes." Xiaohu Ling thought for a while and said, "As long as you touch the center of your wish."

Before waiting for the sword princess to speak, Yaxiu said one step ahead: "Am I teleporting in to eat Xiaomeng?"

The little fox spirit was terrified, with an expression like "Wake up is so cute, why do you want to wake up from a dream".

The Sword Princess Witch also shut up immediately.

Yes, even the little fox spirits are not eaten here, let alone Yaxiu. Unless he also cultivates the bitter and weak faction to the realm of eating dirt, he will not be able to live in the Kingdom of Thousand Wishes.

Of course, Ash can also be teleported into the Heaven of Thousand Wishes and then go to other places, but the question comes back – how does he go to other countries?

Not to mention going to other kingdoms, after he physically entered the kingdom of heaven, he didn't even know how to get out!

“It’s up to you to take care of it.” Wesser handed over the heart of the wish to Ash, Sonia and Deia agreed, and Ash did not delay. Although there are many shortcomings, Qianyuan Tianguo is indeed the best way to save one’s life. If one’s life is in danger, it may not be a choice to retreat directly into the kingdom of heaven and wait for the sword princess to feed.

When he took the heart of the wish, Ash suddenly stared at Wesser. Weisser blinked, “What’s wrong?”

Ash said, “Blank concept.”

Weisser was startled, shook his head and said, “I didn’t feel the blank concept.”

Only at this time did the Sword Princess and Witch react—yes, what about the most important blank concept? They originally wanted to get the blank concept so that Ashe could travel across the country!

“But you are the one who picked up the wish. If there is a blank concept, then the owner of it should also be you.” Ash said, “Perhaps it has heard your wish, Visser. Do you have any wishes?”

“I...

Weisser opened his mouth slightly, and immediately showed an apologetic smile: “I have too many wishes.”

However, the concept of blank is a lottery-like idea, and now there are too many harvests, even if you miss the concept of blank, you will not feel bad.

Therefore, everyone didn’t worry too much. After discussing that they would rest tomorrow and start exploring Ruby Mountain the day after tomorrow, Yaxiu clicked on the “Virtual Realm Exploration” module and selected “End Exploration”.

Thirty seconds later, their consciousness connected back to the body and began to return to reality.

But it's not the same as returning to reality from the virtual world. This time, it seems that they encountered some resistance. They feel like they are diving in the deep sea, and the speed is a little slow...

In the darkness of Yuanyuan, Yaxiu and the others seemed to feel that there was a gray road in front of them. This road had dozens of branches and intersections. They strongly realized that as long as they walked up, they would be completely lost!

Miracle Lost.

At the same time, a blood-colored smoke floated from behind. The smoke condensed into the appearance of dog teeth, which looked hideous and disgusting. Just realizing its existence felt like a piece of meat was bitten off!

Miracle Tooth.

In the end, the Lord of God did not willingly admit defeat and let a few mortal magicians of them inherit the Kingdom of Thousand Wishes, but ambush on their way back to reality!

These miracles won't kill them, but they will definitely control them!

However, the four of them couldn't do anything! Not to mention resistance, it is extremely difficult for them to even think at this time!

Mixed between fantasy and reality, this is the most dangerous time for a magician!

They can only watch the miracle come, and pay the price for their incompetence.

"Hey?"

"Isn't he dying...?"

“interesting.”

“How dare you?”

The rustling voice of Gu Su reached the ears of the four of them, and then they saw that the gray road and the * smoke were suddenly covered with dark green grass! These grasses are slack, but they absorb the energy of the two miracles strongly. As they grow rapidly, the miracles also shrink rapidly!

As a result, the gray road collapsed, and the blood smoke was dissolved!

Miracle · Dead grass!

Seeing that he was about to escape, but some people seemed to be angry, let the blood smoke swell in a circle, turned into huge dog teeth and bit the four of Yaxiu fiercely!

Like being bitten by a dog, the heart-piercing pain spreads all over the body!

Yaxiu sat up abruptly, gasping for breath, as if he had just had a nightmare.

But the unconscious right hand let him know that what happened in the darkness of Yuanyuan was not fake!

Two shameless gods attacked them!

But for some reason, there was a * who fought righteously to help them once!

Unexpectedly, in the world of sorcerers, where the material is flowing and the world is hot and cold, there is actually such a warm God Lord!

But Yaxiu and the others didn't end well either, their souls were severely damaged, and I don't know how long it would take to raise them.

Suddenly, a hot towel gently wiped the cold sweat from his forehead. Ash raised his head, only to find Black Crow sitting beside his bed.

Before he could ask a question, the distorted voice of the black crow sounded first: "You have been in a coma for three days and two nights."

Yaxiu couldn't help feeling that he had passed away. Although it was only three days and two nights, it felt like a big story of thirty chapters had passed.

"Thank you for always taking care of me."

"How do you know I've been taking care of you? Maybe I just came here."

"But I don't always change my pants, do I?"

"It Can't Be One"

"No." Ash smiled: "I guess it should be Igula to ask you. Harvey can keep me alive and dead, and take care of me. Igula dares to hand me over to him, and he dares to treat me as a corpse. ...If there was no one else, Igula would have come to look at me, but since you are here, of course he can trust me to hand me over to you. In fact, he believes in you very much."

"It's no use telling me nice things about him," said Black Crow.

Ash shrugged: "Help me call Igula over."

"I'll inform him when you wake up, but he's outside now, and he won't come back after a while." Hei Crow said, "Is the person you trust most really a fraudster?"

"No, this time it's because I want to show him something." Ash said mysteriously: "I now have the ability he dreams of!"

Black Crow asked curiously, "What ability?"

"The ability that others are willing to believe!" Ash said excitedly: "Isn't it amazing? I can't wait to see Igula's jealous expression!"

When seeing the effect of "Speech of the Bard", UU read www.uukanshu.com Ash's first reaction was Igola!

If Igula has this kind of blessing, it will be a lore! But it fell into my hands, this wave, this wave is called top stationery matching scumbag!

"Very powerful." Black Crow said, "But it doesn't mean much to you."

"What?" Ash asked curiously, "Is it because I don't tell lies?"

"Because you already have this ability."

Black Crow suddenly turned to look at the door: "He's back, so fast."

However, after waiting for ten seconds, the door was pushed open. I saw the deceiver enter the room lightly, with a meticulous appearance. He glanced at Yaxiu and said calmly to the black crow: "You don't need to call me back, if you have something, just call Harvey to deal with the body, understand?"

"Igola."

Ash said weakly, "I'm going to die."

Igula was startled. He closed his eyes for a moment and then slowly opened them. The words he said were like ice skating blades: "If you want to lie to the deceiver, I will make you die beautifully."

Yaxiu turned to look at the black crow, confused: "Why do I feel that my ability seems useless..."

Black Crow looked at him silently for a while before slowly saying:

"Are you lying just now?"
