

Catch Me If You Love Me

Chapter 73

Zoey Gu hugged Alina Yin tightly, sniffing the bloody smell that permeated her body, and her heart throbbed.

Today is the little girl's birthday...

Before returning to the garden, she still held her hand and listened to her talking to her in a milky voice.

"Pretty Auntie, Alina Yin likes you more than Aunt Yun."

"Can you try to make Dad like you too? In this way, I can call you mom every day."

Blame her.

She shouldn't be afraid of walking so eagerly when she meets Liam Lu.

She should have seen the little girl enter the living room with her own eyes and left before making sure that she would not run out.

It was her fault, she didn't take good care of her...

"Zoey Gu."

The car was moving fast, and Liam Lu in front of him spoke coldly, "You better pray, my daughter will be fine."

Zoey Gu's heart trembled fiercely, his eyes flushed suddenly, and when he looked up, he met a pair of Shuye's bloodthirsty eyes in the rearview mirror.

She opened her mouth, but her throat seemed to be stuffed with cotton, and she couldn't make a sound.

The next second, the car stopped steadily and the hospital arrived.

Liam Lu slammed into the car door and got out of the car, quickly took Alina Yin from Zoey Gu's hand, turned and ran to the doctors and nurses who had been waiting on the side of the road, and rushed to the emergency room for the first time.

Bang!

The door of the emergency room was closed, the red light was on, and the long corridor suddenly became quiet, and for a while, cold wind blew up.

Liam Lu stood silently by the door, with a broad back and a compelling posture. He exuded a dangerous breath that was cold and deadly at any time.

Zoey Gu stood behind the man covered in blood, looked at him fixedly for a long while, and spoke lowly.

“Sorry, I don’t know how things will be like this. I can explain what happened tonight...”

Before finishing speaking, the door at the end of the corridor was pushed open, and a group of people walked in quickly.

The headed Anna Yun rushed to Liam Lu in a few steps and reached out to catch him.

“Liam, what’s the matter? What happened to Alina Yin?”

As Anna Yun spoke, he turned aside and saw Zoey Gu next to him.

“Zoey Gu?” A surprised expression flashed across Anna Yun’s face, “Why are you here?”

Zoey Gu subconsciously tightened her fists, and just opened his mouth to explain, the nanny behind Anna Yun “plopped” to the ground.

“Sir, it’s my fault. I didn’t take good care of the little lady! Her work and rest are always regular. I took a shower and took care of her to go to bed before going downstairs. I don’t know how she got out.”

The babysitter said with tears broken, and looked up at Zoey Gu with resentment.

“Miss Gu, the security guard at the return garden said that he watched you take the little lady home with his own eyes. It was because of your negligence that something happened to her. What have you done for such a small child?! “

Zoey Gu looked at the babysitter in shock, “I didn’t!”

In the next second, a severe slap came through the air and hit her face forcefully.

Snapped!

Zoey Gu’s face turned to one side, a fiery pain.

Anna Yun’s chest was up and down, her eyes were red, and she gritted his teeth and looked at Zoey Gu, his exit was a severe question.

“Zoey Gu, what is your heart?”
