

Chapter 741: crack storm

The deepest part of Sen Luo, the origin of doomsday, this crack in the earth, dubbed the name of the silent spiral, is the first and last time to send a desperate roar to the world.

However, in this chaotic and brutal storm of crystal gravel, the light of hope is being lit little by little. Those green pebbles that were submerged in silver light were quickly painted with dazzling silver, smashed to the ground, and dissipated with the light, leaving only a low, inaudible sigh of relief that seemed like an illusion.

Silver Lamp took the source crystal from Ash and put it into his lamp socket as fuel. When Yaxiu saw this scene, he was a little lost: it turns out that different gods use the source crystal in different ways... Awakening the gods is to inlay the source crystal on the staff...

But in the next second, Yaxiu forcibly pulled his thoughts back and stopped thinking about the details. He has been like this since he was a child. When he was called by the head teacher to the office to blame him for chatting in class, he would unconsciously observe the pattern of the floor tiles, the shape of the pen holder, what the head teacher was wearing today... Only by filling his mind with some meaningless thinking can he avoid it. Real torture.

But he is no longer a child and cannot have a favorite color.

Yaxiu looked at the silver lamp **** in front of him and quietly sorted out the current information. Youlan Weisser is a real existence. She is not only the madman who destroyed Sen Luo, but also the operator drawn from the search system by Yaxiu. Ash had always been hesitant before, but now Youlan Weisser's confession made him confirm that the search system in "Aurora's Manual of Artisans" was not something out of nothing, but a real person.

Therefore, the 'Confused Girl', 'Purple Resentment Shadow Concubine', and 'Blood-Hidden Empress' who once appeared in the card pool must also be real, and they may even have appeared by his side like Youlan Weise.

Of course it's more important.

The witch and the sword princess are both real people and people who can be touched.

Perhaps at this time, in Fanxing's Jianhua Academy, Jian Ji was sweating and practicing swordsmanship; perhaps at this time, the witch...

Ash's thoughts suddenly got stuck. He just remembered that the witch had never revealed her reality to himself. Of course, Ash never asked, because they had an appointment... an appointment?

Speaking of which, why was the witch reluctant to tell him about the situation in reality, and she had no intention of meeting in reality? Just like Jian Ji asking him to go under the stars line every day, Ji is in a normal state of love, and Yaxiu himself also wants to travel to the stars, there is no other purpose, it is purely for sightseeing and meeting friends, as for the heart has already decided What's the name of the future child just because it's more idle...

Looking at it this way, in this virtual world team rushing to reality, the witch seems very out of place. She neither revealed her position nor asked Yaxiu to see her, as if she was satisfied in a virtual long-distance relationship. emotional needs.

If she just didn't want to let Ashiya meet her, she didn't need to hide her reality. Unless Ash knows her reality, it will have an unimaginable impact on the relationship between the two...

These thoughts rippled through Yaxiu's mind, but after all, they failed to form a complete thought storm. The information he has is still insufficient, it is still too early to pursue the truth, and for Yaxiu, he only needs to know that the sword princess can really hug.

What's more, there is a storm that needs to be resolved before his eyes.

The silver lamp raised his head and shook the lamp holder in his hand, indicating that the source crystal has been charged. Yaxiu looked at the young silver lamp, but two different figures appeared in her heart.

One is a quiet girl who is taciturn, extremely worry-free, and actively assists the team.

One is a resolute, stubborn, stubborn, mad woman of the end of the world who is famous for Sen Luo.

Obviously two people who are completely unrelated, but at this time they overlap, making people feel unreal. Yaxiu still doesn't know when she likes her, or what she likes about her, let alone how she feels when she sees her being intimate with the sword princess witch, she hides it too well, if it weren't for Yaxiu Pretending to fall asleep in the dead city, and overhearing the true heart, he will also think that everything is just an illusion.

Yaxiu never knew her or even got close to her. Except when they met occasionally, he would stand with her under an umbrella. She was always wet, pitiful, and flamboyant, but sometimes she would come close to him tenderly. It's just that they will be separated soon. When Ashe was leaving with the others with an umbrella, she looked back and saw her appearance blurred again in the rainstorm.

Yaxiu didn't want to sympathize with her, and she didn't need sympathy either. If she succeeds, she is not worthy of praise and praise. If she fails, she does not need pity and sympathy. Her ideal is this chaotic cause. She is in the rainstorm, but she also longs to be a part of the rainstorm.

This is the case with Senluo people, whether she is, Tamashi, or those sects... They seem to have grabbed enough spiritual satisfaction from their beliefs, and they no longer need to be affirmed by the outside world.

Yaxiu has no right to 'sympathize' with them, just, just...

"If..." he murmured softly.

"What if?" asked the little silver lamp.

Ash let out a breath, smiled again, and reached out to her. The little silver lamp put his hand up, and the two walked through the storm hand in hand, and the silver light opened the way to the core.

The effect of the silver lamp **** is not simply 'purifying' and 'dispelling', but 'silvering'.

The reason why the silver light area is not affected by the dark green storm is because all the crystals involved will be silvered, completely losing all effects, and naturally unable to continue to store the souls of Senluo people, so they will directly annihilate the light.

That is to say, as long as the silver lamp is given enough time, her silver light is enough to purify all the green beasts in Senluo and release all the tormented souls. UU Reading www.uukanshu.com will heal all the scars on this land and brighten the world. of silver.

As Wesser said, in such a doomsday natural disaster, she died and became a god, and her divine effect would definitely restrain the natural disaster perfectly.

Among them, nature also includes the initiator of the solution.

When they approached the eye of the storm, the cage where the white dove and the blue bird had been imprisoned appeared in the silver light. Shined by the blazing silver light, the birdcage was quickly plated with soft white silver, Axiu pulled out his honey belly sword, and cut open the birdcage with a single stroke.

Hearing the sound, the juvenile white dove and the juvenile young bird opened their eyes, slowly looked at Yaxiu, and then looked down at the silver lamp.

Yaxiu slashed with a sword, and the two gods who embraced each other immediately separated. The doomsday storm that covered the sky and the sun began to disintegrate at this second, and the brilliance of the silver lamp was about to break the silent spiral from the bottom.

The young white dove was expressionless, he raised his cane and poked at Ash's head.

Poke Axiu's head again.

Chapter 742: Killing God

A cicada chirped, shaking the golden river, and Yaxiu, whose head was pierced, instantly returned to the state he was three seconds ago!

The past has changed three seconds!

Although Yuan Chan and Fang Chan are one, the life-saving agreement that Yaxiu made with Yuan Chan is still in effect!

After the juvenile white dove poked it, it degenerated by another year, and it looked almost not much bigger than the little silver lamp. But without any hesitation, he raised his cane again and aimed at Ash's head.

However, at this time, they had been in the silver light for too long, and the dazzling silver light smeared them one by one until the joints of their clothes were completely silvered!

Yaxiu didn't have any dodge action. First, facing the fierce power of the gods, there was no possibility for mortals to dodge. Second, he no longer needed to dodge.

The white dove's cane slid across his cheek, only scratching his cheek a little. On the contrary, Yaxiu slashed the cassock with a sword, and cut a huge scar from shoulder to waist on the white dove, and a lot of brilliance burst out from the scar!

This is the second and third effect of silvering.

The heavily silvered targets will have a lot of illusions in their consciousness, so that they cannot distinguish the real enemy's position, and often the attack will fail; at the same time, the resistance of their silvered parts will be greatly reduced, and the magician can easily do heavy damage. The enemy cursed by the silver lamp!

The white dove is one of the few gods with physical laws, and it is also the **** that Yaxiu can kill directly with swordsmanship!

The silver lamp seems to have only one effect of silvering, but it can achieve various purposes such as purification, hallucination, and deepening of damage. And I don't know if it's Yaxiu's illusion, these uses of the silver lamp **** are also very suitable for her fighting style when she was alive.

By now, killing the gods was inevitable. If the white pigeons and bluebirds are not resolved, the two of them will definitely embrace each other again to launch a dark green storm. Only when these gods who hate the Lord Zhan completely fall, can this apocalypse usher in an end.

As a mortal, kill the gods!

Up to now, everyone has gone crazy, including Tamashi, Quicksilver Trojan, Vichy, Youlan Visser, the three gods, and... Ash himself.

For the surviving, for the dead, for revenge, for following Wesser's will... There were so many reasons to choose from, that Ash couldn't even be excited about killing gods. He stared at the white dove, like a beast that grinds its teeth and **** blood, watching its prey.

This time, he was just trying to quench his thirst.

But at this moment, the white dove suddenly bowed slightly to him and said, "Thorn Qingji."

Yaxiu was stunned, and then replied, "Axiu."

The two looked at each other and set up their posture. The robe of the young white pigeon was rustling, and the power of Tsing Qingji was being exerted to the extreme. In an instant, Ash seemed to be able to hear the cheers of the millions of people below, but every time the cheers became louder, the fear in his heart grew. A fiery point, because the cheers are not for him, but for the upcoming assassin!

When the young white dove pierced, the whole world began to shrink, as if time and space were squeezing Ash towards the tip of the cane. This is the dignified and upright spirit of Shi Qingji, who was not caught off guard, only arrived on schedule!

Fang Yuan Cicada appeared on Ya Xiu's shoulder, but this time, it was the square Cicada Wing that shook!

Future Killing Three Seconds Cicada Change!

The magician and the gods passed by, and Axiu's collarbone was stabbed with a circular hole, and blood dripped out. He groaned in pain and fell to his knees. The young white dove threw away the cane, dozens of scars erupted on his body, and the whole person turned into a white light and collapsed, leaving only a pure white dove.

The white dove looked up at this broken world, and rushed towards the crack in the sky with a cry. But the aftertaste of the storm in the air was still there. Every time it flew a little higher, it would be hit by the pebbles, and soon it was smashed into pieces, leaving only a few feathers floating down.

Thorn Qingji, the gods, fell.

Yaxiu turned his head and found that the blue bird had unknowingly gone away. At this time, the storm is no longer obscuring the sky, and the eighteenth floor of the silent spiral has returned to light, but the blue sea before has now turned into a sea of blood, and the blue sky has become riddled with holes and black mud is pouring everywhere, even if the dark green storm It's over, and the end is a foregone conclusion.

However, Jade Bird hasn't given up yet. She has been deeply silvered at this time. Her whole body seems to be made of brilliance. The five phantom wings extending from her waist are so pure and noble. In this filthy and shattered world, she seems to be the only light. .

She pointed to the sky and the ground, and with the clear and melodious singing, countless green birds were trying to mend the loopholes in the sky and fill up the cracks in the earth. Suddenly, she seemed to be saving the dying world.

Only Ashe knows how vicious she is doing.

"Blue bird who hopes to make everyone happy," Ash whispered softly, clenching his sword: "Please listen to my prayer."

Although the blue bird is the **** of the spiritual faction, ordinary swordsmanship and physical attacks are useless to it, but Yaxiu also has the miracle of spiritual swordsmanship.

Miracle · Special Favorite · “Angry Sword, Sad Sword, Love Sword, Music Sword”.

Originally, he had a special liking to use the ‘Love’ magic spirit to transform his emotions, but Yaxiu felt that he didn’t need to transform his emotions at this time, and the dark emotions surging in his heart couldn’t wait to vent.

As the hearts of the swords are connected, the outside of the mouth honey belly sword is plated with a layer of turbid black like a twisting black snake sword light. As soon as it was released, Ash knew the name of this new miracle:

Special liking · hate sword.

“Blue Bird, I hope,”

The sword edge pierced the chest from the back of the blue bird, and pinned her to the dilapidated stone tablet in front of her. The blue bird raised his head, as if he was screaming silently, but the black snake sword light quickly twisted, tightly binding the blue bird’s wings, and turned into a black steel chain to tightly bind her body, locking her to death like a slave. !

“You too can be happy.”

Yaxiu tightened the black steel chain and walked back. Every time he took a step, the chain became a little tighter, and the blue bird’s chirping was also long. When he walked in front of the little silver lamp, the blue bird was completely strangled by the sword of hatred, and the peripheral vision disappeared, leaving only a delicate blue bird.

But this kind of disaster land of collapse and destruction should only have the rise and fall of crows, and it is not an environment that can be endured by the yearning for a beautiful blue bird. It looked around for a week and tried to find a place to stay, but it was dark red and turbid in its eyes. It let out a whimper, and the blue feathers fell quickly, and when the wind blew it, they dispersed.

If you wish, the gods will fall.

It seems like a no-brainer, and it really is. Unlike these two gods who use a little less, the silver light has the support of Yaxiu's source crystal, and the silver light has not stopped. It is equivalent to the krypton gold players playing free players. What do they use to fight Yaxiu?

Yaxiu squatted in front of Xiao Yindeng, he raised his hand to touch her head, but stopped in the air and asked, "Can I touch it?"

Xiao Yindeng thought for a while, then stood on tiptoe and put his head on Ash's palm.

Yaxiu smiled and rubbed her little head, stood up and looked at the crack in the sky: "But it's not over yet, I want to—"

Boom!

With a violent heartbeat, Yaxiu seemed to have turned on a switch, and everything was changing.

Sound, light, color, air flow... the entire spiral of silence is disintegrating and reorganizing, everything he perceives now is completely different from the past, thousands of colors drown all his senses at the same time. Did God bring so many colors to the world?

Pfft, with an inaudible sound of falling water, Yaxiu felt like he fell into the deep sea. The cold sea water irritated the skin and penetrated into the nostrils. The sourness spread to the eyeballs and melted the eardrums.

Bubbles, he sinks like bubbles quickly.

The deep sea is not dark at all, it is bright everywhere, warm colors are flowing, and cool colors are still. But even in this gorgeous deep sea with myriad colors, there are also four colors that Yaxiu can recognize from a distance.

Deeper than destruction, darker than conspiracy, warmer than death, brighter than joy.

The Four Pillars.

Chapter 743: wedding

“Xiu’er? Xiu’er?”

Yaxiu, who was lying on the dining table, was pushed twice, he whimpered twice, rubbed his eyes and sat up, and saw two familiar young people sitting next to him. Although the one on the left is good-looking, but he doesn’t have space for repairs, he wears plain clothes, and looks like a dead house; the one on the right is well-dressed, but has dark circles under his eyes and clear scars on his neck.

“It’s only been a few years since graduation, Xiu’er, you drink a little Tsingtao beer and pour it right away?” Dead House couldn’t help crying and laughing: “You can’t drink it to the children’s table!”

“Xiu’er worked overtime last night, and continued to work during the day. She came over immediately after get off work. It’s normal to fall asleep due to sleepiness.” He said, “It’s really not good, Xiu’er, go to sleep for a while, and then wake you up after a toast. .”

As the consciousness gradually returned to the body, just like the eye wax and earwax that blocked the senses suddenly melted, the bright colors and loud sounds suddenly drowned out Asho’s perception.

He was in the wedding hall, surrounded by most of the guests he didn’t know.

He remembered that today was the wedding of his college classmates. After all, this was the first time he heard of his peers getting married. Even if he had just experienced the reincarnation of **** and worked overtime day and night, Yaxiu rushed over without hesitation. He is not very familiar with today's protagonist, and simply wants to witness his peers enter a new stage of life and meet his best friends.

In the end, it seemed that because I was too sleepy, I fell asleep after touching a little beer. Yaxiu patted his face. It was strange. He drank four pots of coffee and worked overtime last night. How could he still be sleepy? He won't drink coffee next time.

He looked at the two next to him, and felt a little emotional in his heart: "Long time no see."

The dead house is Suozi, the black eye is the fun, and Yaxiu himself is called Xiuer by them. They were roommates for four years in college. They each tried to make money every semester. Then they went out for a poor trip during the winter and summer vacations. They were chased by dogs and robbed by thieves. Although they didn't have much contact after graduation, once they met, those foolish memories came back. It all came to mind.

"Xiu'er entered a big factory to make a lot of money, and she doesn't look down on us poor friends. I can understand and understand." Suo Zai pretended to be serious: "Actually, I also thought about asking you out for dinner, but I was afraid that you would think it was. borrow money..."

"It's Xiu'er, you are too hard to make an appointment." Lezi sighed: "I've passed Shenhai several times, and I want to ask you out, but you say you're not available. Are you trying too hard? I just heard about your company two days ago. Someone died suddenly, what is it called..."

"I also remember that news." Suo Zai said, "It seems to be called Trojan Horse... How can it have such a strange name?"

"Oh, our company is usually called by a code name, so there will be a lot of strange names." Yaxiu didn't think much, and said this sentence almost subconsciously.

"Xiu'er, you can't make enough money." Lezi said seriously: "If you can't, then change jobs. I'm afraid that one day I will see the news of your sudden death on the news."

“Hmmm, the house is owned by the landlord, and the life is owned by the boss, but your life is yours.”
Suo Zai also said, “It’s really not good, Xiuer, you are naked, I will play games to support you for a few years!”

“no!”

Yaxiu shook his head heavily, “I’ve just been promoted to the director of the operation and maintenance department, and I’m also in charge of a large project team. Although I’ve been a little busy during this time, as long as I get through it, I’ll have everything. Like another one of our company. The master planner of the popular game, who is the same age as us, was awarded a villa in Abyss City not long ago...”

Lezi sighed: “you just know what you have in mind.”

Yaxiu didn’t like other people worrying about him, so he put the topic away from himself: “What about you guys? How are you doing recently?”

“My life has always been very regular, going to bed at 10 o’clock and getting up at 6 o’clock.” Suo Zai said, “Although it can also be said that I go to bed at 10 o’clock and get up at 18 o’clock. Then I eat takeaways, play games, and do my best every day to survive until the first day. two days.”

“I made a few movies.” Le Zi smiled, “but none of them were released.”

Yaxiu knew that Suo Zai had been playing games after graduation, as if he was a game anchor, but it was a bit unexpected for him to be an actor: “What role did you play? What movie? Let me see when it is released.”

“You better make up your sleep.” Le Zi rubbed the dark circles under his eyes, “I will play the role of an undercover agent, an aristocratic villain, and a teacher. As for the movie... I hope you are interested in the movie to watch it, not to waste 90 yuan for me. minute.”

“By the way, Xiuer, your company’s latest new game is amazing.” Suo Zai said, “It has been on the top bestseller list for several months, and I have thrown tens of thousands of dollars into it. When is the next version of the event? Out? What kind of magic faction is the new operator? Is there a limit to the re-enactment of the operator?"

Yaxiu said helplessly: "What we can say, we have already put satellites in pv, and what we can't say is confidential content."

"I won't say it again!"

"So, do you have a pornographic website?"

"Yes, what's wrong?"

"You go to the yellow net for entertainment, I don't want to answer your question."

When Suo Zai used the cross to anger Yaxiu, the wedding hall suddenly darkened, and the wedding finally began. Today's bride is their college monitor, and she comes into the arena with her father holding hands, and all the lights are on her.

I don't know if it was because he drank too much coffee, Ash even forgot the monitor's name, but he looked at the monitor who was wearing a wedding dress tonight, thinking that this might be the most beautiful moment in her life.

The wedding process was lackluster, the master of ceremonies was average, and Yaxiu and the others could only give polite applause. It is worth mentioning that, when the wedding vows were taken, the bridegroom's answer was full of air, but it was a little praising; while the bride's voice was full of emotions, and even faintly cried, and the excitement and joy were transmitted to everyone in the audience through the sound. a guest.

"Is the squad leader so emotional?" Suo Zai was quite puzzled.

Lezi: "Seriously, Suozai, go to the Internet Cafe. Although many people dislike the unnecessary trouble of weddings, there are still many people who attach great importance to the sense of ceremony of weddings, no matter how much they spend on it. What's more, this is the only chance for a girl to wear a wedding dress in her life, and most girls have fantasized about what they will look like in a wedding dress.”

Suo Zai replied subconsciously: “Actually...” But he still had some brains and knew what the occasion was, and swallowed the words pressed by his throat back into his lungs.

Yaxiu looked at the newcomer on the stage, and suddenly mixed and strange emotions poured out of her heart, both yearning and guilt. It’s nothing to long for. Although he can’t wear a wedding dress, the wedding is a major main task in the game of life. It is understandable that he, a strong young man in his twenties, yearns for a family.

But the feeling of guilt is very strange, what is he guilty of?

At the end of the ceremony, the waiter brought the dishes to the table and opened the table. But as soon as Ya Xiu ate a very unpalatable fish, the phone suddenly vibrated and a message came.

He glanced at it, “Ah, there was a problem with the project call, and the fourth boss told me to go back to work overtime, so I’ll go first.”

Lezi: “Four bosses?”

“Four bosses.” Yaxiu said helplessly: “There are four bosses in our company, and they are also my immediate bosses who report to me. They think there are problems that need to be corrected, so I can only honestly go back to work overtime.”

Suo Zai: “Can’t you let your subordinates work overtime?”

“How long have you been off work now? Who wants to call them to go back to work overtime? And if they don’t work well or work slowly, it’s me who will be scolded, so I might as well just go back.” Yaxiu Tan Tanshou: “That’s the way the middle layer is. The top needs to be angered, and the bottom also needs to be angered.”

“Let’s go, make an appointment next time when you are free.”

Lezi: "According to the intensity of your work, I think the next time we meet will be dinner."

Suo Zai: "I'll send you a few pornographic websites. Brothers can only do so much."

"roll roll roll."

Yaxiu went outside to take a taxi, closed his eyes for a while in the back seat, and opened it again to reach the company building.

From the outside, the company building looks like a huge transparent fish tank. Inside, the lights are bright and people are moving. It can be seen that the backward eight-hour work system is no longer suitable for the development of the new era. He walked through the security check, and after face verification, the machine sounded a cold female voice:

"Head of Haptics, welcome back."

Chapter 744: They are no longer paper peopl

Seeing that the elevator door was about to close, Ash rushed over to hold it down, but he regretted it when he got in the elevator.

In the elevator, there is also a disabled girl in a wheelchair. She had no limbs, was wearing a gothic dress, and sat in a special wheelchair like a doll, staring straight ahead with a blank face, and she didn't even look at Ash when she came in.

Eternal calamity is always present, Ash's nemesis in the company. She is the main person in charge of the Gospel Project Team, and she is also the director of the Media Communication Center. She should not be able to get along with Ashley. But when Ash was seconded to help the Gospel Project, the Gospel Project Team happened to encounter policy risks. Sudden death, Yong Jie Chang Zai was also transferred to the Blood Moon project team with fewer resources. Perhaps she thought it was the bad luck brought by Yaxiu, so she also hated Yaxiu.

Now of the ten rumors about Yaxiu, eleven were spread by her, and the extra one was used to spread rumors about Yaxiu's colleagues, and to pour dirty water on Yaxiu from the side. Of course, Yaxiu is not a good friend. He used to be the operation of the Blood Moon project team. A little operation will make Yong Jie always feel aggrieved and do nothing.

"Second floor, public sector."

A charming girl walked into the elevator, and she was so beautiful that Yaxiu felt amazing at first glance, but he had been alienated by capital into a bloodless and tearless working machine, and he had no feelings for beautiful women. At this time, Yong Jie Chang suddenly asked: "I heard that the Mercury Trojan of the Human Resources Department has died?"

"I'm not very familiar with her." The charming girl said: "She is the Senluo project team, and I am the Fanxing project team. You might as well ask the new director of the Senluo project."

Yong Jie often snorted coldly and stopped speaking.

Yaxiu looked at her with a bit of confusion. He became the head of the Sen Luo project or what just happened today. It hasn't been announced yet: "Who are you?"

"The person in charge of the Fanxing project team and the head of the brand department." The charming girl nodded slightly: "I feel that we will have the opportunity to cooperate soon."

"The third floor, the R&D department."

Before Yaxiu could ask her name, the soft girl pushed Yong Jie Chang out. It seemed that they had a really good relationship.

“Fourth floor, operations department.”

Yaxiu left the elevator and came to the office of the operation and maintenance department, which was naturally empty. Neither the supervisor nor the person in charge has a separate office, they all work together, and if they want to discuss privately, they go directly to the conference room.

His seat is full of figures, cheaters, necromancers, confused girls, purple resentment shadow concubine, blood hidden queen... Yaxiu is also full of feelings for the work “Artist’s Manual”, after all, this The unexpected fire of the work caused the company to give him a bonus for twenty months.

Yaxiu made a cup of coffee for himself first, then sat on the ergonomic chair and pressed back slowly, the back of the chair made a creaking sound. He squinted at the empty workstation next to him, and his heart suddenly became mixed.

The head of the Senluo project team changed hands. The main reason was naturally the sudden death of the former head of the Mercury Trojan, but Yaxiu was not the only candidate. His colleague, Youlan Weise, was also the favorite of the fourth boss.

But at the final selection juncture, Youlan Weisser suddenly resigned to start a business, so Yaxiu automatically became the person in charge of the Senluo project. This is also the reason why Yaxiu works so hard for the company: the six major project teams are all important departments that the four bosses personally pay attention to. The project team leader is even called the tactile supervisor. As long as the management is good, Yaxiu can make great strides. financial freedom.

Although you have to worry about your health, you won’t have the chance to fight if you are young. In all fairness, the company is still pretty good now, with enough overtime pay and three salary adjustment opportunities every year, and the fourth boss also said that as long as everyone makes good subordinates to create performance for the company, the company will never be above the director of thin touch. leadership!

The four bosses share the world with touch!

Therefore, Ashe should feel happy about this rare opportunity, but for some reason, looking at the empty work station, Ashe felt uncontrollable sadness, feeling so suppressed that he couldn’t breathe.

Suddenly, Ash saw a piece of paper pressed under Youlan Weisser's lamp, he took it out and saw that there was only one sentence in it:

"Death is just an illusion"

Axiu felt a little inexplicable, so he threw the piece of paper away, turned on the screen and started working. The reason why he was called back to work overtime by the fourth boss so late is because the new version of the event "Angel Hunting Ruby Mountain" is about to be updated.

"In the past, there were eight."

"The first one died, and the body lay in a pool of blood."

"Then, the second corpse died. The corpse lay on top of the first corpse. It didn't bleed, but a small white soul emerged from the wound under the corpse, and the white soul lifted the second corpse up."

"The third died, its soul was eaten by the fifth, but the body escaped."

"The fourth died, its body turned into mountains, but the soul fled."

"The fifth one who ate the third soul sat on the mountain and slept. The sixth wanted to sneak up on it, but it killed it. The corpse was turned into six parts, but the soul escaped."

"The corpse of the sixth was held up by the fifth."

"The seventh also died, the body became eight parts, but one part escaped."

"The eighth one is gone."

"Now, it's time to kill the fifth one."

Yaxiu silently sorted out the main content of this event, and made clear the next work goal of the Senluo project team: hunting the angel of Ruby Mountain. As long as the hunting is completed, this event will be declared a perfect end, and the four bosses will definitely reward them. Yaxiu can be a dog raised by the company for the rest of his life!

What's wrong with being a dog! No one can envy the dog who can be the fourth boss!

Ash yawned and started to work. When he was tired from work, he opened the "Artist's Handbook" and prepared to play a game or two of random dreams in the distant airspace to refresh himself.

Just then, the phone rang.

He glanced at the caller number: "Hello, brother?"

A warm voice came from the receiver: "The news of someone's sudden death in your company is on the news. Parents and your dear nephew asked me to ask if you are okay."

"Really or not, little brats also know how to care about people? It seems that the annual big red envelopes are not in vain." Yaxiu turned the chair and smiled: "It's fine, it's nothing. It doesn't matter to me if someone else dies suddenly, I eat it. Sleep well, soak wolfberry in a thermos every day, be safe."

"Then what are you doing now?"

"Me? I... just went to the wedding and was going home."

"Wedding? Whose wedding?"

"College classmate." Ash was on the phone, and clicked "Virtual Realm Exploration" – "Distant Space" – "Select Operator" in the game.

At this time, Yaxiu heard a loud noise coming from the opposite side, and then a helpless voice came from the receiver: "Mom asked me to ask, when will your wedding wait?"

"Why do I feel that you are not here to care about me, but to take the opportunity to urge marriage?" Yaxiu smiled: "But it is useless for you to urge you, and it is not if I want to get married in place. You think I am like a brother. You, you found true love in high school, a wandering outsider like me wants to meet love..."

"...It's not impossible."

The opposite side paused for a few seconds before a surprised voice sounded: "Ah? Do you have someone you like? Are you sure about the relationship? Can you bring it home this year for us to see?"

"Um."

Yaxiu looked at the operator list on the screen and murmured, "I already have someone I like."

"Who is the other party? What occupation? Age? It's not that I want to know, but my parents really want to see your vision."

"One is a swordsman, Legend of Four Wings, 18 years old this year, a second-year student at Jianhua University; the other is a Time Magician, Legend of Four Wings, 19 years old this year, and his occupation is a queen."

This time, the pause in the receiver became longer, until Yaxiu heard his nephew's noisy voice: "I know I know, those are two super nice female characters in the game! Haha, the second uncle likes the people in the game. The paper man!"

After a long time, a hesitant voice sounded in the receiver: "Small man, if you are under too much pressure, you can go home at any time, and your room is always reserved. Also, parents still have some network resources, although you may I don't like blind dates, but maybe?"

"No need." Ash said, "They are the people I like, I can't live up to them, I must go back to them."

The opposite was almost dumbfounded: “Don’t do this, I’m hands-free now, and my parents are scared to hear it.”

“By the way,” Yaxiu said, “Although it doesn’t make sense, tell my nephew, this year’s red envelopes, no, only the second uncle’s best at braised pork in rattan is waiting for him!”

Ash hung up the phone and looked at the two portraits of game characters that he was very familiar with on the screen.

Death Crazy Sword Princess.

Black and white witch.

“It’s really dangerous, it almost turned into the shape of the Four Pillars of God.” He murmured: “I thought it was a very violent contract or brainwashing, but I didn’t expect it to evoke my lowest memory, a little bit of confusion. My reality and dream, until I can’t distinguish the illusion and the reality at all. If I hadn’t seen these two vertical paintings, I’m afraid I would really allow myself to be alienated by memory and become tactile.”

Yaxiu is indeed a social animal of the mobile game company, and he has indeed come into contact with the game “Artist’s Manual”. But it is absolutely impossible for that company to have eternal calamity and mercury Trojans, and there is no such position as a tactile supervisor, let alone four bosses!

The Four Pillars of God mix the false with the true, UU reading www.uukanshu.com So not only did Ash not see it through, he even accepted it all happily. Yaxiu reckons that when he fully accepts the setting that he is the employee of the Fourth Boss, even if the Four Pillars bring him back to reality, he will become Yaxiu, the most loyal dog of the Four Pillars.

“The person I like is no longer a paper person.”

Screens, desks, offices, companies... everything melts like ice cream.

Ash slowly opened his eyes and saw a fiery lump of silver squatting beside him. He sat up and looked around for a week, the sky was chaotic and collapsed, the earth and sea of blood overturned, the doomsday was still in progress, everything was sliding to the end as always, the air was filled with the color of magic, and the whole world seemed to be celebrating.

Silver Nugget asked: "You just fell down suddenly, but woke up after three seconds. What happened?"

Axiu looked at her, only to realize that the silver ball in front of her was a silver lamp, and said with a wry smile:

"Had a good nightmare, and..."

He rubbed his eyes, but the world in front of him was still so colorful.

"I'm still a little sleepy."

Chapter 745: Inherit the operator's legacy

He fled, he chased, he couldn't fly.

Thinking of the Four Pillars God, Yaxiu's mind played the lingering BGM of the domineering president for some reason. Unfortunately, the domineering president is the Four Pillar God, and Yaxiu is just that poor, doomed and doomed little pity.

– But the domineering president just wants to get love from the other party, while the Four Pillars of God wants to exploit the residual value of Yaxiu!

Yaxiu originally thought that he became the touch of the Four Pillars God. At most, it was equivalent to the Four Pillars God getting his body. I didn't expect that the Four Pillars God still wanted to get his heart, so he had to unlock more of his hidden content, so that he became a person from the inside out. The touch of the Four Pillars of God!

When Wesser committed suicide, Yaxiu didn't think about the sense of touch. After all, he and Wesser were the only two candidates for sense of touch. Now that Wesser is gone, the Four Pillars of God will naturally appoint him. But he didn't worry too much, mainly because of three points:

One, besides him, there is also the mercury Trojan horse, and the transfer of the tactile position may not be so fast. As long as there is a time difference, Yaxiu must have slipped away before the forced promotion. However, judging from the situation in the hallucination, the Mercury Trojan may be walking in front of Wesser, but I don't know whether she was slaughtered by the black crows or devoured by the cataclysm;

Second, now that Senluo is about to perish, and the people of Senluo don't know how many people have died, what's the use of turning Yaxiu into a sense of touch? Do you want him to help collect the bodies of the Senluo people? He's not Harvey. No matter what the purpose of the Four Pillars of God is, the value of the Senluo Kingdom to the Four Pillars of God should have dropped sharply.

Third, there are actually quite a lot of bugs in the wasteland, but Sanctuary magicians don't need to be afraid at all. Occasionally, when stepping on a bug, Yaxiu would deliberately shout 'the tyrant burst into juice', 'the traitor's feces spurted out', 'sent the loving father at the stake', 'the prince turned into a painting' and other blasphemous things. Word.

In the blood moon kingdom, his behavior will be prosecuted for 'insulting the reputation of others', even if he insults the evil god. It is worth mentioning that the black crow is very rewarding for his behavior. Every time Yaxiu steps on a bug, the black crow will stop and clapp his hands.

Therefore, for a probationary employee whose utilization value has dropped significantly, who often insults the leader, and is not even the only candidate, Yaxiu certainly doesn't think that he is still worthy of his energy. Who knew that the Four Pillars of God really turned him into the most important sense of touch, this heavy sense of trust, Ya Xiuzhen would cry to death.

Most of Visser didn't forget about touch, but the situation at the end of the day was so rotten, it was better to be touch than to be a green beast; and Ash's legendary experience of escaping from the control of the Four Pillars over and over again was enough for Visser to give him enough trust. .

However, without external help, it was equivalent to the tide receding, and Yaxiu, who was swimming naked, was suddenly surrounded by the Four Pillars.

Although Ash got rid of the hallucination by “refusing to admit that my wife is a paper man”, he still did not escape the gaze of the Four Pillars. At this time, his senses seemed to be loaded with some plug-in, and the world he perceived was completely different from the past. It’s different, there are colorful and green, evil spirits everywhere, and even the silver lamp has turned into a mass of color.

Maybe in the next second, maybe in a while, he will be pulled into the hallucination again, until he can’t distinguish the hallucination reality.

It’s not that there is no solution for Ashe, the easiest way is to escape from Senra’s country. Now that the flame of Zhishou Huo has been extinguished, he can use the wish center to return directly to the Heavenly Kingdom of Thousand Wishes.

However, this solution is not guaranteed to be effective. If Yaxiu returns to the Kingdom of Thousand Wishes, but the situation does not improve, and even introduces the high-end and advanced Four Pillars into the Kingdom of Thousand Wishes, wouldn’t he become the leading party?

But no matter what.

Yaxiu held on to his temples, breathing quickly and shallowly, the voices of Suozi, Lezi, and old brother echoed in his throat and mind. There is no doubt that his previous company did not have four bosses, and there was no perpetual disaster among his colleagues, but...

But the others, all seem real.

According to his situation, if he wants to meet his former roommate, the only occasion is a wedding. Every time the old man calls, he will be concerned about his marriage and love status, and he will indeed chat with his parents and convey the latest instructions of the second old man...

Their voices, tones, and reactions were exactly the same as those in Ash’s memory. In a trance, Yaxiu was not sure whether the wedding was an illusion created by the Four Pillars God, or the reality he had forgotten...

If he has a way to get out of the hallucination, can he go home...even if it's just the home in the hallucination...even if it's just to see the family member in the hallucination...

As soon as this idea arises, it is like the weeds on a midsummer night. It can't be cut and burned completely. When the wind blows, the weeds will reach the sky.

Yaxiu bit his thumb tightly, but he still couldn't stop his thoughts from spreading: he just quit the hallucination by looking for loopholes on purpose. On the other hand, as long as he wants, he can stay in the hallucination for the rest of his life, and return to normal silence. life, when a successful social animal...

Is it possible that everything you've experienced this year is... an illusion?

Suddenly, Ash loosened his teeth and watched as his right hand was removed by the silver block. He looked down, only to realize that he had bitten his thumb to bleed.

The silver block seemed to say something, but he couldn't hear it. The whole world became radiant and chaotic, making people dizzy, as if they were urging him to get out of this hallucination.

But Ash came back to his senses at this time. He exhaled a turbid breath and said to the silver block: "I'm fine, I just haven't woken up yet, give me some time."

The illusion of the Four Pillars of God directly hits the softest part of the human heart. Not only does it pull you in all the time, but even if you escape by chance, you can't help but want to return to the illusion. The reality is too much regret, too huge, so huge that people run away cowardly, but most people have to face it if they have no choice but to face it, but even so, they still dug a lot of holes for temporary escape, the blood moon The pit is 'timely pleasure', the pit of the gospel is 'follow the gospel', and the pit of Sen Luo is 'faith is supreme'.

The power of illusion is that it gives you a safe house that you can hide in forever. As long as you want to grab the sand between your fingers that has passed, you will automatically open the door of the safe house.

If Axiu had just crossed over and the Four Pillars of God would use this service to test him, then Axiu could only say, "The Four Pillars of God, you guys are really accurate."

But now, in addition to the sand between his fingers that he can't hold, he also has the softness around his fingers that he can't let go.

However, what should he do to escape the gaze of the Four Pillars?

...is the Four Pillars really watching?

Ash recalled his experience of two encounters with the Four Pillars, and both had a process of 'falling into the deep sea'. It may be connected to the virtual world, or it may be connected to the kingdom of heaven, but in any case, if you want him to become a touch, you must first let him 'fall into the deep sea'.

If the Four Pillars of God were watching the live broadcast of Yaxiu and Weise every day, and when either of them died, he would quickly pull the other one into the deep sea to complete this year's KPI, Yaxiu would not believe it. But Yaxiu and Weisser will not take the initiative to call the Four Pillars of God, so there is only one possibility: Senluo has a detection mechanism. Once the death of Yaxiu or Weisser is detected, the other person will be pulled into the deep sea and come with the Four Pillars of God. A five-party talks.

At this time, Ashe's sensory changes were caused by this mechanism, which kept pulling him into the deep sea.

Even if Ash was able to escape the hallucination for a short time, he was now absolutely unable to fight against the Four Pillars. In the whole process, the only point he can deal with is the unknown detection mechanism. Although I don't know if this mechanism is a miracle or a miracle, Yaxiu couldn't dispel the curse after using 'Cut Me' and 'Le Sword' many times, which means that he couldn't brute force the detection mechanism.

He can only let the mechanism deceive and make it give up on himself.

How can I get the mechanism to give up reporting itself to the Four Pillars?

The correct way is almost can't wait to jump out of Ash's mind: as long as the second candidate Weisser still exists, then this mechanism will not take effect.

Let the stand-in become Orchid Wesser? still...?

While thinking about it, Ash suddenly remembered that he had picked up a note from Youlan Weisser in the hallucination, which read "Death is just an illusion."

Thinking about it carefully, this detail is actually very strange. Wesser didn't say such a thing to him, and Ash couldn't find the relevant explanation in his mind. It was inserted into Yaxiu's hallucination almost out of nothing, just like the person in charge of the Fanxing project team and the new game event "Hunting Angel", it was the idea of the Four Pillars of God.

But Ashe can be sure that there are only "hunting angels" who are the subjective wishes of the Four Pillars. They seem to want Ashe to perform this task, and they don't hesitate to use bonuses, futures and other big cakes to deepen the illusion of Ashe. impression of the task. On the other hand, the person in charge of Fanxing and Wesser's note are probably just their unintentional actions...

Or is it...

Yaxiu suddenly remembered the first time they met with the Quicksilver Trojan. The Quicksilver Trojan mentioned a saying: the sense of touch and the Four Pillars of God coexist.

There is no reason for the Four Pillars to suddenly put Fanxing in charge and Weisser's note. UU Reading www.uukanshu.com This has nothing to do with the mission, so these strange information can only be obtained after Yaxiu came into contact with the "truth" of the Four Pillars. Reality' Reinterpretation!

Although he has never seen the person in charge of Fanxing, he may have heard of it from Jian Ji. And Wesser's note should be the high-dimensional reality that Ashe observed from the perspective of the Four Pillars of God.

Death is just an illusion.

For mortals, although becoming a green beast is more terrifying than death, and becoming a Dafa is more noble than death, it is all death. However, for the existence of the Four Pillars of God, are the green beasts and Dafa really dead?

Ash knew from the Time Continent that the Lord of God had a way to collect soul fragments in **** to help people bring people back to life. The Lord of God can escape even absolute death, not to mention the second-class deaths of green beasts and Dafa?

More importantly, Weisser's situation in the hallucination was just resignation!

Even the Four Pillars of God didn't think she was completely dead!

Ash suddenly became excited, called out "Aurora's Manual for Magicians", and opened "Operator Management", but the next second he felt a chill in his heart: Youlan Weisser's operator's portrait has turned gray and died. Shen.

For Ash, Aurora's Manual of Magicians is more authoritative than the Four Pillars. But just when he was about to close the interface, he found that there was a jumping diamond mark in the portrait of Youlan Weisser.

He clicked the mark, and a new message popped up on the interface:

"Your operator has entered a state of death, do you inherit his legacy?"

“...Really, Gwen Chikara...”

At the bottom of the silent spiral, the rocks collapsed and the sea of blood overturned, as if the world had begun to fall. But in this dim chaos, there is still a safe place sheltered by silver lamps, it is like a floating boat in the frantic sea, weak but tenacious against the tide of fate.

Ash's palm moved with green light, regenerating Harvey's limbs bit by bit. Chapter 748: Zhan is dreaming of me

Ash thought that throwing these two bombshells would definitely cause a violent storm, but not only Tamashi, but also Igula and Harvey were plain, with a ‘so solemnly speaking, that’s what happened. what’.

Igula just asked if the wish center could be teleported at any time, and there were no more questions. Yaxiu couldn't help asking, “Aren't you surprised that I inherited the Thousand Wishes Kingdom?”

Tamashi: “A Thousand Wishes Heaven, it should be very powerful.”

Harvey: “Oh.”

Igula: “Inheriting the Thousand Wishes Heaven has four black-clothed magicians. All three black-clothed magicians except you are women, right?”

“How did you know?” Ash was startled.

"I heard you accidentally talking in your sleep these few days." Igula said casually, "I also heard that you want to pursue your dreams with them, live together, and multiply together..."

"Impossible, absolutely impossible, Igula, you can't lie to me." Ash waved his hand: "I have no dreams."

Tamashi suddenly remembered something, "Is she one of the three black-clothed magicians?"

Although Tamashi asked in a clueless manner, Yaxiu knew that it was the sword girl they were discussing in Heipao Town, so she nodded, "Yes."

Tamashi nodded slightly, bowing his head, wondering what he was thinking.

"What's the plan?" Igula asked, "What do you want to do?"

Igula, Harvey, and Tamashi naturally didn't care that Yaxiu had the Kingdom of Thousand Wishes. Tamashi didn't know the weight of the Kingdom of Thousand Wishes at all. Harvey didn't care, and Igula knew this for a long time. matter. The Thousand Wishes Heaven is so precious, the fraudster thought that Asia Xiu would keep it hidden, but he didn't expect that Asia Xiu would take the initiative to expose it in order to save everyone... Although it was unexpected, it was not surprising at all.

"Since we will not be dragged by the world-annihilation technique, then we can fly directly into the crack, and then open the empty door, so that the fallen Senluo people can directly travel to a foreign country." Ash said: "Even if we are in a foreign country, we will encounter More danger is better than dying here."

His plan is almost naive: Isn't the end of the day just to open the water storage tank and let the Senluo people flow into the sewer (virtual realm) like water flow? It just happens that the empty door magic can be used to open the passage to a foreign country, then arrange the empty door in the crack, catch the surviving Senluo people, and let them travel to another world.

But thinking about it carefully, this is indeed the most likely plan at present. And even if they didn't save the Senluo people, Yaxiu and the others would have tried to go to other countries. Qianyuan Heaven was just a helpless alternative, because Yaxiu also said that they had to find a way to leave after they arrived in Qianyuan Tianguo. After all, Qianyuan Tianguo It's a wasteland, and unless Harvey can summon a bunch of undead to help plough the fields, it's a bit difficult for them to survive.

"Since there is a way to retreat at any time..." Igula looked at the other two, "I have no problem."

"I'm almost resting." Harvey stood up and moved his hands and feet.

Tamashi looked at Ash, the corners of his mouth raised slightly, and his eyes seemed to glow.

"You are still my judge." He said, "I will follow you to hell."

"But Yaxiu, this is the first time for you to take the initiative to do something for a stranger." Igula 'kindly suppressed' said: "You don't think you can do whatever you want when you become stronger, save all tragedies, and solve all problems, right?"

"Of course not." Ash said, "It's just that the end is at hand, and we have a theoretical solution. We can't convince ourselves if we don't try, and..."

"This apocalypse has something to do with me in every sense." Yaxiu looked back at the little silver lamp, "Although I'm not arrogant enough to think it's my responsibility to destroy the world, but if nothing If you do, then there will be nothing but regrets left in this memory."

"I want to try my best to save this world that was destroyed by her."

Igula looked at the little silver lamp holding the doll, watercolor pen and book, and asked, "Who is she?"

Everyone has noticed the little silver lamp long ago, but they have been waiting for Yaxiu to explain.

"She is the silver lamp." Ash said seriously: "It is both a madman and a god."

Everyone nodded slightly. They all knew that there must be a bizarre story here, but now the time is pressing, the story about Yaxiu and Yin Deng will be reserved for later.

Harvey put Alice the ghoulish into the coffin, and then put it into the space ring. This is Chikara's homemade space ring, and before entering the silent spiral, he finally fulfills Igula's order.

Ash carried Tamashi on his back as always, but for some reason, Tamashi was very heavy this time, and his whole body was pressed against Ash's back, and he yawned lazily.

"you are tired?"

"Maybe I'm too tired." Tamashi murmured softly, "I can't sleep for three days and three nights in a row, it's strange..."

"It's also possible that your back has a hypnotic effect." Igula said, "Next time you like a girl, just rush over and walk on your back. The other party won't dare to resist."

"Are you talking about hypnosis or kidnapping?"

The four of them flew to the crack in the sky together, followed by the small silver lamp.

Their sight could go through the eighteenth floor of the silent spiral to the ground, and they also saw people falling into the abyss. As long as they create an empty door early, they can save an extra life.

But this is the hardest part.

Ash and the others quickly determined an excellent location for the empty door, and the Senra people would pass through this range with a 30% probability. But when they drove the empty door magic, they found that fate gave them a slap, and asked them to stretch out the other side of their faces.

The first empty door, the turbulent flow of the virtual world.

The second empty door, the turbulent flow of the virtual world.

The third empty door is not a turbulent flow, but it is also impossible to enter. It is an underground rock formation.

The fourth empty door, the sea water gushing out, is a deep sea, and the water pressure is enough to crush people into a fat mash.

The fifth empty door, the turbulent flow of the virtual world.

Yaxiu and the others originally planned to stay in the Silence Spiral for a month, slowly wait for the empty door magic to cool down, and refresh the empty door channel continuously. Now, in order to quickly find a reliable channel, they have to fish for the water, the empty door magic spirits are broken one after another, but there is not a single channel that can be used!

Although the shipping rate of 50% is thousands of times stronger than the surface, but they are looking for a way out for themselves and the Senluo people, if they can't go to the normal country, what's the point?

Soon, they only had one three-winged air door magician left. In the refresh just now, the best result was only to locate at a height of 300 meters. Although it can satisfy Yaxiu and the others, for ordinary Senluo people, this height is no different from death!

The three-winged air door magic can be used twice in a row, and it will self-destruct once it is used for the third time.

The four of them looked at each other, and Yaxiu took a deep breath and used the empty door magic.

The first result was not a turbulent virtual world! But then the magma pouring out from the empty door instantly quenched all their hopes.

Finished.

It has ended.

To be on the safe side, this three-winged empty door magician must stay, so that when Asu and the others reach the Kingdom of Thousand Wishes, they can also use the empty door magic to travel to other countries. Therefore, this empty door magic can only be used once again. If the correct channel cannot be opened next time, it will be exhausted.

Roughly estimated, there are still about one tenth of the Senra people who have not fallen, and are still on the way to slide over. However, let alone save them, they couldn't even save one of them.

Even if they catch the Senluo people, the Senluo people will burst like bubbles and dissipate like water.

"Just do your best." Igula said, "Our luck with the Senluo people is not very good."

Ash sighed. He turned to look at Tamashi on his back, only to find that the latter had fallen asleep. When Tamashi fell asleep, he didn't look like a warrior servant who hunted down countless crows, his sleeping face was as tranquil as a small animal.

That's fine, at least he doesn't have to face the moment when his last hope is also dashed.

At this time, someone happened to fall into their area. If the empty door is successful this time, then the other party can be saved. On the contrary, the other party and all the Senluo people behind him can only fall into the only torrent of fate.

Empty door magic!

Yaxiu used his whole body magic to drive the empty door magic spirit. After investigation, he showed helpless depression on his face – behind the empty door was the turbulent flow of the virtual realm.

There is no miracle that the game will be turned around in a single throw. In this world, miracles are created by the magician himself, not given by fate. He should have understood it long ago.

Just as the faller was about to reach the bottom, and Ash was about to withdraw from the empty door, a crisp snap of his fingers resounded through the silent spiral.

The wind stopped.

The faller froze in the air.

The gravel dust solidifies and does not move.

The time of the whole world has fallen into an almost infinite slowdown.

It is the effect of "Refuge".

The three of Ash turned their heads and looked at Tamashi who snapped his fingers.

Tamashi lay on Ash's back, pondered for a long time before slowly saying, "I seem to be... No, people like me seem to be the preparatory containers used by Lord Zhan for resurrection."

"Even if the world is destroyed, we will not be affected, and then Lord Zhan will be resurrected from among us."

"Before Lord Zhan's resurrection, Sen Luo's management authority will be handed over to us." Tamashi tapped Ashu's face, making him change into a red-haired sword girl for a second—it was the effect of the "kaleidoscopic mirror".

"Master Zhan is dreaming of me."

Chapter 749: 0 door of wish

Ever since he knew about Sen Luo's annihilation mechanism, Yaxiu had always had a faint sense of disobedience in his heart.

Just accidentally slapped him in the face like a slap. The three gods of the gods, the ghost prophet Vichy, the doomsday storm, the silver lantern soaring, and the four pillars of gods watched in turn. In just a few hours, Ashe experienced that ordinary people can die seven times. Eight times of disasters, it is simply to increase the amount without increasing the price, all the happiness is satisfied once, how can he have time to do some deep thinking?

It was not until now that Tamashi said, "Master Zhan is dreaming of me", that Yaxiu suddenly became enlightened, as if he had floated up from the deep sea, and was no longer blocked by the turbid seawater.

The weirdest thing about the Destruction Mechanism is that although the mechanism is very clear, the guiding process is not there. For two hundred years, Lord Senluo Zhan was injured for two hundred years, and only then did a silver lamp appear to execute the mechanism of destroying the world. If there is no silver lamp, then this mechanism does not exist.

And Yin Deng learned the truth only by inheriting the will of the gray fox magician, that is to say, even the step of 'understanding the mechanism', Master Zhan did not announce it. It was the magicians who even guessed that the Senluo people could Choose **** yourself.

Then in this process, who is the most anxious?

It's Lord Sen Luozhan!

The mechanism of destroying the world, the focus is not on destroying the world, but on the Savior!

He was injured that he could not save himself, and he needed to get rid of the burden of the Senluo Kingdom. He also left a world-annihilation mechanism for this, but only did not arrange the guidance process! It's like you've bought a really fun two-player co-op game, you've got your couch, TV, snacks ready, but you don't have a single friend until you waited two hundred years for a little girl to sneak in.

So either Lord Sen Luozhan did not prepare a guiding mechanism, or the guiding mechanism arranged by him was destroyed.

Thinking about it carefully, Lord Zhan is indeed likely to hand over the guidance process to the three gods. After all, the latter are gods who have ascended from the land of Senluo. They are responsible for guiding the destruction of the world, so there should be a lot less obstacles. It's just that Lord Zhan didn't expect the three gods to turn against their bones, so the guidance mechanism was directly cancelled by the three gods, so Sen Luo was caught in a wasteland and chaos for two hundred years.

According to normal development, Lord Senluo Zhan was really killed by the three gods.

It is not only unprecedented, but I am afraid it is also unprecedented.

But even if there is a guidance mechanism, there is still an insurmountable problem: the threshold for opening the silent spiral is too high.

There are a full seventeen Dafa, that is, only a completely deranged magician like Weiser can collect them all. There are many factors such as the right time, place, people and other factors. First of all, there are close to thirty Dafa in the wasteland. This is the right time. She borrowed the power of the Four Pillars of God to complete the accumulation of resources in the early stage. , which are people and people.

Without any one factor, it was impossible for Wesser to open the eighteenth floor of the silent spiral, and even without Yaxiu's support, she would have been eaten by Fang Yuanchan during the divine fire trial.

The difficulty is so great and the requirements are so high, even if the master of Zhan has arranged a guidance mechanism, normal development may not be able to enable this foreshadowing.

But there is no way. If the mechanism of destroying the world is simple, and ordinary Senluo practitioners can trigger it casually, then Master Zhan is like shooting himself in the foot with a stone. At least Yaxiu doesn't think that Lord Zhan will keep staring at Senluo Kingdom. If he studies something and becomes obsessed with it for a year or two, and finds that Senluo Kingdom has been formatted after coming out, then he is not going to be laughed at by other God Lords. millennium.

If he is the master of Zhan, he will never rely on the mechanism of destroying the world. The real life-saving means must be the ultimate miracle that can be launched without any guidance mechanism, even if the loss is heavy.

So, what's the worst case scenario?

Master Zhan died violently, and the negative energy drowned Sen Luo, turning the world into a green purgatory. Weisser said that the eighteenth floor of the Silence Spiral is the closest place to Lord Zhan. Then, Lord Zhan's death grievance may break through the Silence Spiral all the way from the bottom. While twisting and greening all living beings, it will also cause a catastrophe.

The worst result is death.

The corresponding means, naturally, is resurrection.

"I seem to have a lot of things in my mind." Tamashi held his forehead with a haggard expression: "But the only thing that can be used now is the management method of Sen Luo's dream. I can control all my fantasies as I want, including..."

The emotions in Crow Killed's voice are very complicated: "Some of my special physiques."

"Isn't your imaginary aversion body born?" Igula asked, "You were cursed by Lord Zhan?"

"It can also be said to be born, after all, from the moment I was born, it has been with me growing up." Tamashi lay on Ash's back and said, "But this is not a curse, but because I have been dying The Crow Eating Dragon watched, once I entered the Void Realm, it would immediately attract the attack of the Death Wish Crow Eating Dragon, no matter where I was in the Void Realm. Well, he didn't name it. For convenience, this physique is called the Death Wish Physique. Bar."

“Lord Zhan, seems to be the only Deathwish magician who grew up under the pursuit of the Deathwish Crow Eating Dragon. He designed the ‘Heavenly Scale Powder’ mechanism for Senluo Kingdom, and all Deathwish physiques in Senluo Kingdom The prisoner, under the suppression of the celestial scale powder, cannot recognize any words, and cannot connect to the virtual realm, cutting off all the possibility of being chased and killed by the death-wish crow-eaten dragon.”

“But the celestial scale powder has a second function. All the mortals who can react with the celestial scale powder will gradually become the perfect container for the resurrection of Lord Zhan. The collapsed Senluo dream will become an eggshell, allowing The Death Wish container hatches and reborn again.”

Finally, all doubts were resolved.

Ash and the others will not be drawn by the world destroyer because they are not from Senluo; Tamashi is not drawn because their death-wish constitution is the resurrection vessel left by Zhanzhu.

Ash and the others didn't know how to evaluate it for a while.

There is no doubt that the original intention of Lord Zhan was indeed good. When he was young, he was fed up with being chased and killed by the Crow Eating Dragon of Death Wish, and he also knew how high the mortality rate of people with a Death Wish constitution like them was, so he simply suppressed it. All compatriots, save their mortal crisis. Although he lost the possibility of becoming a magician, he could at least save a small life.

Yaxiu and the others are magicians themselves, how could they not know the pain of being chased and killed by virtual creatures? You must know that they have never heard of the name Death Wish Crow Eating Dragon. No matter how optimistically, it is at least a legendary creature living in Ruby Mountain, but it is more likely to be a demigod who has stepped into the realm of the gods.

Put yourself in the situation and think about it, you just entered the virtual realm, you only have one magic spirit in your body, and you are hunted down by this existence before you even condense the silver magic power... I don't know how terrifying the original master Zhan was to be able to die in this kind of 100% certainty. grow up in the situation.

For the death wish physique in other countries, I am afraid that I will die as soon as I enter the virtual realm, but this record will only be counted on the head of the dragon, and no one will know that there are high-ranking creatures hunting low-level magicians.

Except for Lord Senluozhan, no one knows how to protect and how to protect mortals who wish to die.

For so many years, the mortals who have been protected by the Lord Zhan have no idea. He is now seriously injured and on the verge of death, is it too much to want to use a death-wish physique to resurrect?

Not too much.

If it happened to other people, Ash would definitely not think it was too much.

“So, as long as I pull you to the Heaven of Thousand Wishes, you can escape the fate of becoming a resurrection vessel?”

“I don’t know.” Tamashi said softly, “I don’t know if I can escape Tianzhu by escaping from Senluo, and I don’t know if I should escape.”

“Lord Zhan is the protector of our Senluo people. He has established the rules of the dream world to protect Senluo’s stable development for more than a thousand years. Even if he is selfish, his actions have indeed benefited countless Senluo people... Senluo The most basic rules of Luo Mengjing are ‘invulnerability to all diseases’, ‘incessant soil strength’, and ‘good weather’... Even if he binds himself to Sen Luo, uses Sen Luo to resist damage and escape death, I can’t blame him His fault, because he gave us all this.”

Igula immediately said, “This is obviously—”

Tamashi raised his hand to interrupt the fraudster: “I know you can definitely give me many excellent reasons to make me feel at ease, but I know right and wrong in my heart. If Lord Zhan can be resurrected, it will definitely create greater value than me. , at least this land can be reborn in His hands.”

“Are your values so narrow that they can only accommodate two extremes of right and wrong!?” Igula laughed angrily: “You just want to die, right?”

“We Senluo people are so simple.” Tamashi was not angry at all and nodded: “It’s so simple that it can only accommodate one kind of belief, and it’s so simple that we have killed each other for hundreds of years in the wasteland. Swaying with the wind Although we can live happily, we can feel at ease from the end.”

Igula was at a loss for words, and Ya Xiu took a long breath and asked, “Do you really think so?”

“Um.”

“It’s not that I don’t know that the value of people is different, let alone God and people; I also know that you Senluo people are not afraid of sacrifice, even if you live like fireworks. Even from the overall situation of the world, Zhan is reborn, has extraordinary significance to the Six Nations.” Ash said, “But what if I don’t agree?”

Tamashi was slightly startled, “You don’t agree?”

“Have you forgotten, I am the judge who controls you. You said just now that you would follow me to hell, but now you want to go back on it?”

“...Do you want to convince me of this?”

“More than that, do you remember that we are villains across several countries? Harvey, we can pull up an army of undead casually; Igula, we can easily and secretly control a country. We are emotionally absolute It is unacceptable that Lord Zhan is resurrected in your body, once he is successfully resurrected, the three of us will be his enemies.”

Ash said, “Tamahi, you don’t want Lord Zhan to be bullied by us, do you?”

Harvey objected: “Actually, it’s still a little difficult for me to pull up the undead army...”

“Shut up.” Igula said, “I said hundreds of times that a psychic is not a hypnotist, but he still didn’t listen.”

Tamashi was a little bit dumbfounded:

“how could you do this.”

“Actually, I can directly activate the wish center right now and take you away directly.”

Ash said: “But I want you to know that you are no longer the black crow who is chasing and killing mercury Trojan horses in the wasteland. You can care about your beliefs, your homeland, and those strangers you don’t know, but you also Remember, there are still a few people in this world who care about you.”

“So, don’t let us down.” He said, “And, maybe there are other death-wish physiques? Even if we leave, Lord Zhan may be resurrected.”

Tamashi: “But doesn’t it still require someone to be the container? And since the management authority has been handed over to me, it means that I am the first-ranked container.”

“What if there is still the second and third places, and the other party is also very willing to serve as a container for Zhan? You can’t deny this possibility?”

“Aren’t you unreasonable...”

“Yeah, but so what?” Ash blinked, “Is it weird that I don’t make sense?”

“Black Crow, he can be unreasonable, but you have to.”

Igula also said, “I’m still alive, so you can’t die, unless you want to go against your own principles.”

Tamashi was stunned for a moment, and immediately understood the subtext of the deceiver: he didn't sacrifice Igula's life to kill the Quicksilver Trojan, so he shouldn't sacrifice himself to resurrect Lord Zhan now. That's the way the Crows Killed Out – punishing evil, saving lives, but nothing should come at the expense of life.

But, is sacrificing others the same as sacrificing yourself? Tamashi felt that his thoughts were a little confused. Facing the remarks of the deceiver, the newborn new crow killed his faith and was severely tested.

However, his swaying heart finally got a reassuring answer now.

“Being with you, I feel like I will learn badly sooner or later.”

Tamashi sighed, the corners of his mouth slanted upward, and his eyebrows showed a smile: “If you kidnap me like this, maybe you will go to hell.”

“However, going to **** with you will definitely be fun.” He smiled and said, “I will introduce my sister to you again then.”

“Then I'll have expectations for now.” Yaxiu asked, “Don't you want to be a container for Lord Zhan?”

“No.” Tamashi said earnestly, “I've killed all Tamashi Crows, but I'd rather go on a rampage with you. I care about you.”

The expressions of the three of them were slightly unnatural. As expected of all the crows from the good camp, he could say such words so calmly.

You must know that Ash recalled that he rushed over to hug them just now, and wanted to dig a hole and bury himself in it.

“Okay.” Ash quickly changed the subject and took out the wish center: “Then we will—”

“Axiu. UU reading www.uukanshu.com” Tamashi suddenly asked, “Are you still willing to save the Senluo people? As long as you can do it?”

Ash looked at him strangely and nodded, “Of course.”

“Then do you believe me?”

“Can you stop talking nonsense?”

Tamashi jumped down, took the wish center from Ash’s hand, and walked in the air. Yaxiu looked at it for a while – you didn’t need me to carry it for a long time!

“I’m actually not sure, but maybe...” Tamashi walked to the front of the empty door, and saw that he was holding the wish center tightly, and then stuffed it directly into the empty door.

The other three quietly watched this scene, until the empty door suddenly appeared white streamer, and it expanded rapidly, almost filling the entire crack!

Facing the surprised eyes of the three of them, Tamashi explained: “I have the management authority of Sen Luo’s Dreamland, not only can I invoke the existing rules, such as “Refuge” and “Kaleidoscopic Mirror”, but also create new rules— Although it will further accelerate the collapse of the world. ”

“When I heard Ash, you said that the wish center can be directly sent to the Heavenly Kingdom of Thousand Wishes, I was thinking, can I temporarily create a rule to integrate the wish center with the empty door magic.”

“It looks like it should be a success now.”

Tamashi glanced at the huge gate of light below and said to Ash:

“The Senluo people have been abandoned by the Lord Zhan, are you willing to accept them as your subjects?”

Chapter 750: See the Stars (End of Volume 3)

A thousand wishes for the kingdom of heaven.

In the wishing pool, Xiaomeng was lying on the swimming ring, floating in the water.

Looking at the sky divided into three colors, she opened her mouth and yawned, her five tails dangling:
“When will the masters come back...”

In fact, she is not as boring as she looks. As the dream-awakening **** of the dream faction, the knowledge about dreams in the whole world may flow through her domain. Except for a few gods who are related to the dream faction, she can share this income. She almost accounts for it. The big head of the development of the dream faction is increasing in value all the time.

The best thing is that although the dream faction is not as wide-ranging as the gluttony faction, and the magician rarely sleeps, most ordinary people still dream. When they are dreaming, they are promoting the development of the dream faction. Even if it is small and slow, it is better than the large number and the long duration. Therefore, even if no one cultivates the dream faction, the dream faction will continue to gather knowledge. Go forward.

The gods are closely related to the development of the magic faction. If the magic is not developed in place, the gods cannot be born; when the magic becomes popular, the power of the gods also increases. However, even demigods seldom know about this, let alone all sentient beings.

Xiao Meng was so looking forward to the return of her masters, but she was actually a little greedy. Although she wasn't so hungry that it would affect her performance, her mood would also become unhappy if she hadn't eaten her dream for so long.

Even the dream of a beast or a dream of a plant is fine!

But in the Heavenly Kingdom of Thousand Wishes, there are only magic spirits, and magic spirits can't dream, so do gods.

Just when Xiaomeng was upset, she suddenly noticed a huge door of light not far away. Immediately afterwards, the familiar aura that appeared inside made her fly directly, hugging her like a swallow in her arms—

“The master is back!”

Facing the slightly questioning eyes of Igula and Tamashi, Yaxiu calmly fed Xiao Meng two Origin Crystals and asked, “Have you finished the homework I gave you before?”

“It’s done!” Xiaomeng waved her hand and stuffed the source crystal into her staff: “It’s too easy for me!”

“Then you cast it once on each of these two guys.” Ash pointed to Igula and Harvey.

Xiaomeng nodded, although she would not leave with any master unless the four masters took her away together, but if she was only asked to cast spells in heaven, she would obey any master’s orders.

I saw her hey, and she tapped the deceiver and the necromancer on the heads with the staff.

“...” Igula pondered: “Is this using the gods to kill us with a mighty stick? What effect does it have?”

“You will find out later,” Ash said.

At this moment, the door of light flickered, and a woman flew out from inside and rolled around on the ground before stopping. Yaxiu immediately gave her a musical sword, went over to check a little, and said, “She also fainted.”

She was not the first visitor, she came in with Ash and the others, and there was a young man in the uniform of the Gemini sect. It’s just that they are all the same, even if they come to the safe Qianyuan Heaven, they are still unconscious, and their bodies are not serious, just a few bruises.

“The air concentration is normal and suitable for human survival.” Harvey squatted down and smashed the mud: “It’s not much different from reality.”

“They have been washed away by the torrent of fate for too long, and their bodies are on the verge of collapse, so they don’t have to fall to the ground at all. Just reaching the eighteenth floor will wash away their soul and body, and it will take a period of rest to recover.” Xi hesitated: “They can’t even be a labor force for the time being, so they can only trouble you...”

“No trouble!” Even before Yaxiu spoke, Xiaomeng stared hungrily at the two sleeping on the ground: “The sleepers are amazing! Everyone should sleep together!”

“We should be able to provide some seeds for the food issue, but you still have to rely on your own soil and wood techniques to be self-sufficient. If it doesn’t work, you can relocate when the portal to the Gospel Kingdom is cleared.” Ash said: “It’s a bit troublesome to manage, I can ask Awakening Spirit to help, but she is not suitable for administration.”

“There are ten people who are rescued, and their sect is naturally divided.” Tamashi said: “If you are afraid of trouble, I will take care of them, I promise.”

Yaxiu nodded, motioning Xiaomeng to take care of the person who passed by next, and then the four of them turned back and walked towards the door of light. Xiaomeng hurriedly came over and pulled Yaxiu’s sleeve, and asked pitifully, “Master, are you leaving again?”

“I’ll be back soon.” Ash said, “Maybe I can bring you a little sister.”

Xiao Meng blinked her eyes, and her sense of crisis immediately soared—there is only one facility in the Wishing Pool in the Heaven of Thousand Wishes! If there are new sisters, who will take care of the wishing pool! ?

No, no, no, I have to squeeze the magic spirits of the Wishing Pool and make them work overtime, so that the master can see my credit!

Returning to Senluo Kingdom, the wind of dooms blowing made Yaxiu and others feel a little uncomfortable: If the Kingdom of Thousand Wishes is the ruins after the collapse, then Senluo is the building during the collapse. The former is desolate, and the latter are dangerous.

“How is it?” Ash asked.

“Administrative rights are back,” Tamashi said.

Yaxiu’s heart moved, the container ran away, but the management rights were not transferred, which means...

“I’m probably the only container for Master Zhan.” Tamashi shrugged: “But even so, I still have to leave.”

He looked down at the door of light below and said calmly, “At least, I’ll find a way to keep the remaining Senluo people alive.”

Igula asked, “Have the rules of the Light Gate been set?”

“Once the empty door is over, the wish center and the empty door magic will automatically bounce to the opposite side of the empty door, that is, in the Heavenly Kingdom of Thousand Wishes.” Tamashi said: “We can go directly to the Kingdom of Thousand Wishes and wait, we don’t need to stay here. Dangerous place.”

Harvey said: “Then there is only one problem we need to solve.”

Everyone turned their heads and looked at the small silver lamp floating in the air, holding a doll and a watercolor pen, reading a book.

“Silver lamp.” Ash flew in front of her, “Can you really not enter the door of light?”

The little silver lamp closed the book and fell straight down to the top of the door of light, with little short legs unable to step on it. She looked up at Ash and shook her head.

“If she really came from a silver lamp, it would be normal for her to be inseparable from Sen Luo, because she is not a real god.”

Tamashi rubbed his temples, as if to take out knowledge from it: “The route of magician → Dafa → gods requires the deep participation of dream rules at every step. Therefore, ascending gods are deeply bound to Senluo’s dream, only in the In the dream, only the ascended gods have the power of gods.”

“They are like plants grafted on each other. Ascended gods can’t escape from the dream at all. You can’t take her away.”

Hearing these words, Yaxiu’s heart moved. He faintly felt as if he had forgotten something, but he couldn’t remember it.

“Axiu, give up.”

If there is anyone here who understands the peculiar relationship between Ash and Yin Deng the most, I am afraid it is Igo.

The deceiver said: “She lives for her ideals, and she also dies for her ideals. In that case, let her be buried with this world.”

Yaxiu stared blankly at Xiao Yindeng, whose expression was calm, as if he didn’t care about anything. Maybe this is fate. Although Ash still fantasizes about digging out some treasures from the silver light, Wesser has always handled things neatly, even funerals. She cut off all thoughts and told him that there was no need Chase.

“Can we just leave her out of this world...” Ash murmured.

Tamashi had a hesitant look on his face, and was immediately captured by Igula: “What opinion does our God Lord experience officer have?”

“The world is collapsing too fast.” Tamashi looked up: “There are still many people on the road, but before that, I am afraid the sky will collapse and destroy everything.”

Igula said, “There’s nothing we can do. We can’t save everyone.”

“Yes, but now there is a way to delay the speed of the collapse of the world.” Tamashi said: “Master Zhan mentioned in his memory that Sen Luo’s original rules were formulated with the help of gods, because gods represent the body of rules, compared to It only takes very little effort to create something out of thin air and imprint it with a god.”

“So, we can use the silver lamp **** to formulate new rules to delay the collapse of the world.” Crow Killed said: “Moreover, if the silver lamp can really purify the green beast, maybe it can... regenerate the kingdom of Senluo.”

Ash asked, “So, what’s the price?”

“She herself.” Tamashi said: “Unlike the fusion of the empty door magic and the wish center, supporting the world consumes too much energy, and Senluo’s dream is categorically unsupportable. Therefore, only by exhausting her spiritual heritage can a new one be formulated. Dream rules.”

Tamashi said the pros and cons and stopped talking, without any urging intentions.

Ash was silent for a while, then squatted down and looked at the little silver lamp.

Although he knew there would be no response, Ash still asked subconsciously, “Are you willing?”

Xiao Yindeng looked away from the book, glanced at him, then reached out and touched Yaxiu’s face.

“Don’t cry, don’t cry,” she said.

.....

After finishing the final affairs, the four of them flew into the spiral of silence, preparing to return to the Heavenly Kingdom of Thousand Wishes.

“Are you going to tell Liz about the Kingdom of Thousand Wishes?” Igula asked, “The Omniscient Weaver is standing behind her.”

Yaxiu hadn’t thought about it yet: “Let’s take one step at a time.”

“Why don’t you just use the Senluo people to develop your kingdom?” The cheater smiled and said, “Have you thought about your title of God Lord?”

“Axiu’s country?” Harvey also came to the spirit: “Can the body disposal department be directly handed over to me?”

“When you become a demigod angel, I will be the **** of the kingdom.” Ash said casually: “We haven’t even solved the food in the kingdom of Qianyuan, but you are thinking about how to manage the kingdom, the thinking of the magician. Only in insatiable greed can the power of divergence make such a leap...”

Boom!

Suddenly, a flame exploded in a silent spiral!

The magicians almost instinctively expanded the sanctuary to protect themselves, but they immediately discovered that the flames did not want to hurt themselves, but wanted to spread in the fracture layer of the silent spiral!

The scorching light of the raging flames seemed to penetrate their skin, illuminating their internal organs, marrow, blood vessels, and soul!

This strange flame... Ash finally remembered what he had forgotten!

At this moment, a figure is rushing towards the gate of light, as if wanting to enter the Kingdom of Thousand Wishes before them!

Ghost Prophet Vichy!

When Tamashi said that the ascended gods could not be taken away, Ash faintly realized that Vichy might still be in Senrao. This guy, Vichy, is insatiably greedy and vicious, and the dung trucks have to taste salty when they pass by. After finally getting a precious god, how could he be willing to give up? It must be that he would rather stay and find a way to steal Zhishouhuo!

And now Vichy suddenly jumped out, with an obvious purpose: to use Zhishou Huo to prevent Yaxiu and others from traveling through space, and then he entered the Kingdom of Thousand Wishes, monopolizing the Kingdom of Heaven and awakening the gods!

Ash knew that he had been exposed, and Vichy was the witness when he created the Awakening God.

If you don't know how to keep the fire, then grab back a heaven and a god!

However, Vichy probably didn't hear Ash and Tamashi's chat.

If he heard it, he would not have dared to confront Ash and the others in Senluo.

Because the current Senluo is already an amusement park where Tamashi is reckless!

“Refuge”!

Time slowed down infinitely, and Vichy’s figure completely stagnated. Under the protection of the “Refuge”, the three of Ashes spread their virtual wings and quickly approached the Ghost Prophet. Tamashi, on the other hand, looked at the surrounding flames and picked out a fantasy affix suitable for this situation: “non-combustible”!

Nothing is flammable!

But just as Ash and the others approached Vichy, with a loud noise from Vichy, their “refuge” effect was suddenly lifted – Vichy actually had a miracle of defense against Senra’s fantasy creations!

Then use more to bully less!

Visions appeared in Igula’s eyes, and countless godslayers Ashe slashed at Vichy.

Miracle and visualization overlap!

Harvey didn’t have time to start the icy fire, so he had to use the real flame. His long nails scratched five blood marks on his arms, and the blood swept away with the nails, turning into five flame arrows and shooting out!

The blood fire spirit and the fire arrow spirit left behind by Chikara!

Yaxiu clenched his belly sword tightly and activated “A Special Love”. Immediately, a black sword light appeared on the sword, as if he was tied with a heavy chain and slashed at Vichy!

Miracle Hate Sword!

Vichy’s back made more than ten sounds in an instant, blocking all the attacks impressively. Only Yaxiu’s sword slashed directly behind her. She had no choice but to turn around and block the sword light with her sleeves!

“what!?”

Ash was shocked: “Fire Cat... No, you are Vichy!”

The person who appeared in front of Yaxiu now was not the gloomy young man from before, but an elf girl who resembled a fire cat god. It's just that it is different from Huomao's lively vitality. Her eyes are showing deep resentment every minute and every second, and she said coldly: “It's all because you broke me!”

Vichy actually abandoned her original body and reborn with the help of the fire cat god?

Yaxiu thought about it for a moment, and immediately figured out the cause and effect – Vichy's original body was probably also from Senluo. If it is Senluo, she will be drawn by the world-annihilation technique. If Vichy doesn't escape, then she will definitely not be able to hold on in the world-annihilation technique. In addition, she can't take away the fire gods, and she seems to be just right. Knowing how to use magic spirits/spirits to be reincarnated, that's why I use gods to be reincarnated!

But none of these details matter!

“Vichy, you must die today!” Ash stalked Vichy and roared in a low voice.

Vichy pursed her lips, she didn't seem to like shouting. She saw that her last flame of knowledge was easily dispelled by Tamashi, and there was a look of determination in her eyes.

At this time, they were very close to the door of light, but Tamashi's finger lightly, he just made the door of light expand, and now he can naturally shrink the door of light!

I saw that the door of light was rapidly shrinking, and the lower part of Ash and Vichy was no longer the door of light, but the bottom layer of the silent spiral!

At this moment, Vichy suddenly created an empty door under herself, and performed her last miracle on Ash: Daydream!

Even without the assistance of precognitive dreams, daydreams can allow the target to continue with their current actions for a period of time! During this process, the target will wake up if it is attacked, but the control priority is the demigod first!

So Vichy easily got rid of Ashe, with a cruel smile on his face, watching this guy who ruined her good things crashed straight into the unknown empty door!

Even if I'm just a demigod remnant, I'm not a mere mortal magician who can deceive me!

When Tamashi saw this scene, he immediately expanded the door of light again, so that the door of light covered just in front of Ash – so that Ash would crash into the Kingdom of Thousand Wishes instead of entering the unknown door of light.

It's just that the light door and the empty door are exactly at the same level. When the light door expands, it directly hits the empty door. Before this, there has never been a situation where two empty gates overlapped. Even if the magician wanted to do this, the empty gates themselves would be offset by one or two points, and there would never be an overlap.

That is to say, someone like Tamashi has the authority to manage the world, and can even use fantasy to arbitrarily modify the effect of magic spirits, so that this strange scene can be constructed.

I saw the door of light and the empty door collided, and the subtle space energy began to intertwine, and then a huge wave was set off. Tamashi subconsciously retracted the door of light, but the empty door had already shattered, and the turbulent spherical space that exploded swallowed both Yaxiu and Vichy!

Igula, Harvey, and Tamashi stared blankly at this scene, unable to react for a while.

But the next second, the necromancer flew directly into the turbulent space without hesitation!

Upon seeing this, Tamashi wanted to go down, but was stopped by Igula: "Heaven! You have to protect his Thousand Wishes Heaven!"

“Why not you!” Tamashi growled, “I’m not even a magician!”

“Because I’m faster than you.”

Tamashi was startled, stretched out his hand and waved, and the phantom of the deceiver vanished in front of him.

He froze in the middle of the silent spiral, his shoulders trembling, and he didn’t know what he was thinking.

After a while, he took out a new crow mask from his pocket and put it on again.

.....

...

“Vichy!”

Ash woke up from his daydream, and immediately clenched his sword and prepared to fight to the death.

But only Igula and Harvey appeared in front of him.

“I’m lucky, the turbulent flow in space just happens to lead to a normal place.” Igula observed the front and rear passages: “This is probably an underground passage. From the perspective of airflow, it should not be far from the ground.”

Yaxiu asked blankly, “Where’s Vichy?”

“Gone.” Igula said, “Probably slipped away while you were still dreaming.”

Ash looked at the two of them, and with a long sigh, retracted the sword.

“You guys are really pestering me,” he said, “Can’t you be calm like Tamashi...”

Igula said, “You just need to kneel down and kowtow with gratitude. You don’t need to say so much nonsense.”

“Let’s go.” Harvey said, “Go out and see the situation first.”

The three of them moved in the direction of the wind along the passage. The passage was narrow and slender, but it didn’t look like a mine.

Although they came to an unknown country, the magicians were not very worried. After all, there are empty door magic spirits, and it is possible to cross the country. In addition, their strength is above the sanctuary. Unless they encounter legendary magicians, they can also run wild in unfamiliar countries.

“Could it be the Gospel?” Ash speculated, “If it is, then everything will be solved.”

“Blood moon is fine too.” Igula said, “I’m actually looking forward to meeting the ‘old friends’.”

“Is it possible that we are dead and this is hell?” Harvey put forward a very creative guess.

“Impossible, absolutely impossible.”

After a brief discussion, they quickly reached the entrance of the cave. Ash was a little surprised: “Is it daytime outside?”

The light at the entrance of the cave was bright, but their body senses told them that it was night. There are two possibilities here, one is an artificial light source, and the other is that the time difference between this country and the country of Senluo is a bit big...

But when they walked out of the cave, they found that there was a third possibility.

The night sky is full of stars, UU reading www.uukanshu.com Chenju is lined up, the Milky Way hangs upside down, as bright as day.

This is the most splendid starry sky they have ever seen.

In the crumbling Senlori, a silver light pierced through the heavens and the earth, becoming the last pillar of this heaven and earth, supporting the collapsed kingdom.

In the silver light, a little girl was lying on the ground with a doll in her hands. She spread out the surgeon's manual and took out a watercolor pen to write and draw on it. Every time she finished a page, a new page appeared, as if the wizard's manual was still going on.

Behind her, a phantom dragon, which seems to be composed of countless broken mirrors, is quietly watching her creation.

Around her, there are hundreds of source crystals. She doesn't need to use her own energy until these source crystals are exhausted. As the light pulls, the green crystal rubble is flowing towards the silver lamp, but once it is illuminated by the silver light, it will turn into fly ash and liberate, leaving only a silent echo.

As time passed, Sen Luo gradually calmed down, all colors faded, and the world fell into an endless silence. In the dark night, a young voice was whispering:

“I’m Youlan Weisser...”

In the boundless darkness, only a silver lamp lasts forever.
