Catch Me If You Love Me

Chapter 75

Anna Yun still wanted to say something, and as soon as she raised his head, he met Liam Lu's stern black eyes.

"So you think that people like you and I are worthy of Zoey Gu's revenge?"

Upon hearing this, Anna Yun was startled, and subconsciously opened her mouth, but couldn't type a word.

When the blood was drawn out from Zoey Gu's body a little bit, she obviously felt a little dizzy in front of her eyes and her body was floating.

After being imprisoned by Lydia Lin for five years to the present, she has been suffering from chronic malnutrition and weak health. It is inevitable that such a large amount of blood draw will not survive.

Even the little nurse who was responsible for drawing her blood couldn't bear to see her pale face.

"Miss, the amount of blood drawn has reached the maximum, you are so thin and your hand is still injured, or…"

Zoey Gu held her eyelids and shook his head, gritted his teeth secretly.

"I'm okay. Now is the most dangerous time for that child. No matter how much she needs, you can use it."

The little nurse gave her a deep look and said nothing. I don't know how long it took before I spoke to her.

"Okay, Miss Gu, the blood has been sent to the emergency room."

The little nurse finished speaking, glanced at her arm, put a medical tray in front of her, and leaned over to talk to her in a low voice.

"Take care of the wound yourself for the time being, and lie here to rest. Otherwise, when the child wakes up, you will fall."

The stranger's sudden concern made Zoey Gu's heart hot, and she said gratefully.

"thank you."

But at this time, how can she sleep?

As soon as the nurse left her forefoot, she simply treated the wound, sat up with her body supported, and walked back slowly.

At the door of the emergency room, Liam Lu still maintained his previous posture, standing with a terrifying aura.

Anna Yun next to him held him, quietly leaning on his arm, sniffing and sobbing and asking.

"It's been so long, why can't Alina Yin come out?"

Zoey Gu's chest was choked, and there was a dull pain in her arm. The next second, a feeling of dizziness suddenly hit, causing her to shake uncontrollably.

She struggled to get to the bench and sat down, leaned her head against the wall, and slowly closed her eyes.

She has to wait for Alina Yin to wake up.

But this night is too long and too cold…

In a daze, Zoey Gu felt the figure shaking in front of him, and someone was gently pushing her shoulder.

"Miss, wake up, miss!"

Zoey Gu slowly opened his eyes and saw the nurse in front of him, a Zoey Gu sat up, and suddenly looked to the emergency room on the side.

"Where is Alina Yin? How is the child rescued inside?!"

"The child came to the rescue and is out of danger. You are asleep here. She was sent to the ward on the top floor a few hours ago."

As soon as the nurse's words fell, Zoey Gu jumped up, got up and ran to the elevator entrance not far away.

On the top floor, he ran out of the elevator all the way, Zoey Gu rushed to Alina Yin's ward.

Nearly, I happened to hear Anna Yun's surprise voice coming from the ward.

"Great! Alina Yin, are you awake?"

Zoey Gu paused, stopped abruptly, and walked forward slowly.

The door is open.

She stood outside the door, looked in through the crack of the door, and happened to see Alina Yin who was in a coma slowly opening her eyes.

With the light, the little girl seemed to see her, struggling to slowly raise her hand and stretch it in the direction of Zoey Gu.

Zoey Gu's tears flowed down instantly.

Just about to take a step, Anna Yun, who had been standing on the bedside, suddenly possessed and leaned over, grasping Alina Yin's raised hand.

"Guy Alina Yin, Aunt Yun is here, don't be afraid!"
