

Chapter 751: Tamashi extra (on)

“I just want to fall here, I just don’t change, what do you think?”

“Where does the garbage come from, you dare to play tricks in front of me? When I fought with Lord Orewa, you didn’t know which cesspool you were swimming in!”

“Why am I wrong? It’s inexplicable! Do you dare to touch me?”

“Why should I listen to you?! Trash!”

In the Heavenly Kingdom of Thousand Wishes, in the residential area outside the pool, the two were arguing at the door of the house.

The residential area is unusually simple, just a row of uniformly planned gray and white concrete houses. There is a small ditch in front of the door as a sewer, but it is better than the tidy street on the outer wall, so it is not too ugly, and it complements this barren land.

Others came out to watch and saw that the middle-aged people in 713 and 714 were arguing with the young people, and they knew it by heart. This is not the first time the two of them have quarreled. Since the house was just built and moved in, the middle-aged people think that 713 is better, but the young people refuse to change. The conflict has already been planted at that time.

In addition, the middle-aged man is the old artificer of the Temple of War, so he naturally has the arrogance of the first sect, and the youth’s sect has long been destroyed by the Four Pillars of God. , the network is almost the same as no, middle-aged people know his details naturally more unscrupulous.

“But you made my side dirty!” the young man shouted.

“Then clean it up yourself, what’s the use of telling me!”

“Obviously it was you who poured it!”

“Who saw it? Did you see it? When did I splash it? Maybe someone else splashed it, maybe you offended someone and got revenge, it’s none of my business!”

Seeing the young man being scolded to the point where he couldn’t speak, the middle-aged man felt relieved for a while, and scolded: “I knew that the trash people from the trash sect would definitely only bite people, and they didn’t understand anything but—”

Suddenly, the surroundings became quiet, the bystanders seemed to hold their breath, and even the rustling sound quietly hid.

The middle-aged man noticed that he had been shrouded in a huge shadow at some point.

The two raised their heads and saw a man in a dark robe and a crow mask standing on the roof under the red sky. He wore a cloak of black feathers, a handaxe and dagger strapped to his waist, a hood covered, and a three-winged crow stood on his shoulders.

He stood there quietly, like a * of death standing in the world.

bang bang dong!

The middle-aged man’s heart was beating violently, and his forehead was sweating, but the young man was excited: “The crows have killed His Royal Highness!”

Raven fell silently, glanced at them, and looked at the middle-aged man: “Are you insulting his belief just now?”

“No, no.” The middle-aged man coughed, “I don’t drink enough water, and my throat is not good, so my voice will be a bit strange...”

Crowskill doesn’t seem to be interested in tangling this point: “What are you arguing about?”

Speaking of which, the youth's grievances seemed to explode. He pointed to the drain in front of his room and shouted, "This * has thrown all the feces and urine on my side!"

It's actually very simple: because there are no convenient toilet facilities, now everyone can only dump the dung buckets in the water channel in front of the door, and then wait for the early morning water to wash over and collect them into the biogas generation area. However, it is such a common thing that it also extends many problems: because the water flow will not flush the entire canal in the morning, so it is important to be careful, otherwise it will not be flushed clean and can only be dealt with by yourself.

Generally, it is poured slowly, trying to pour at the bottom as much as possible. The contradiction between 713 and 714 is that the middle-aged man dumped a few dung buckets into the canals at the entrance of the youth, but it was not clean and often splashed on the ground door.

If it's just one or two times, it's fine, but it's like this every day, who can't stand it. Therefore, the young man finally couldn't help arguing with the middle-aged man when he saw the filth appearing at the door today.

During the process of the young man's narration, the middle-aged man kept interrupting his defense, and the young man became angry again. Even after the crows were killed, they didn't stop him. After extracting the truth from their quarrel, he said to the middle-aged man, "You are not allowed to do this again in the future, and you are responsible for cleaning up the filth on the ground."

"It wasn't me who did it, I killed your Highness!" The middle-aged man argued forcefully, "There are so many households around..."

Under Crow Killing's calm gaze, the middle-aged man's voice was a little stagnant, but he noticed that many people were looking at him, so he stiffened his neck and said, "It's really not me! I can guarantee at best that I won't fall to him in the future. side!"

Crow Slaying raised a finger: "One."

The middle-aged man was a little cowardly, but still said, "I didn't beat anyone! I didn't insult my beliefs! I didn't steal! I didn't kill anyone! I didn't break the rules!"

“two.”

The middle-aged man swallowed: “I used to be Orewa—”

Snapped!

Crow killed him with one hand and threw him to the ground, the sound of a snap made everyone around him feel a lot of pain. Crow killed his hands and pressed his back on the shoulder blades, his fingers pierced like barbs, the severe pain made the middle-aged man instantly recall the man who was killed by Crow and dug his back a few days ago, pulled out the lungs, and used a blood eagle. The murderer who was suffocated to death and hung for three days in front of the residential area until the body rotted!

This is the black crow in Crow Killing!

It is the most inhumane, the most cruel and violent, who is addicted to torture, and uses justice to cover up his murderous atrocities, killing all the crows who are all lunatics!

“I wipe it, I wipe it, I take it, can I wipe it?”

“it is good.”

Crow Xie Jin directly grabbed the back of his head, slapped the filth on the ground, and wiped the filth with his face! The middle-aged man didn't dare to scream miserably, his face was smeared with his own excrement and urine, he couldn't help breathing, and he felt that his nose and lips were inhaling filth!

After finally enduring this round of torture, he was killed by the crow and thrown out. He struggled to get up, hearing the rustling of laughter in his ears, feeling anxious and angry, his feet crooked, and he accidentally fell into the ditch.

Originally, it wasn't time to pour the filth, but he poured it in advance to make the young man dirty, and he even brought a lot of water canals with him. This fall, the middle-aged man felt that his pants were sticky and covered with excrement and urine – this was his only clothes – he was angry and ashamed, recalling his position in the Temple of War, and for a while he couldn't help but feel sad. Cut off, sobbing in a low voice inside, not daring to climb out of the ditch.

Tamashi ignored the inner monologue of an old middle-aged man. He glanced at the young man and said calmly, "You should fight for your rights."

"But Your Highness, you stipulate that you can't hurt people, except in self-defense." The young man couldn't help complaining: "That * humiliated me like this, and I can't scold him, what can I do?"

But he quickly realized that his attitude was wrong, and quickly apologized: "Your Highness, I'm not saying it's bad, I just..."

"Well, this rule is really bad."

Contrary to the young man's expectations, the ferocious Crow Killer admitted it calmly: "That's the rule of urgency... I'll think about what to do when I go back."

At this time, the bell rang in the curtain palace in the distance, and Tamashi said, "It's dinner time, let's go eat."

There is no day and night change in the Heaven of Thousand Wishes, and it is always a three-colored sky, so the only way to confirm the time is by the sound of the clock. As the bell rang, the residents came out of their homes to the central square one after another. Many people also finished fieldwork and returned from the pit with their spoils.

Along the way, many people who met Tamashi would greet him respectfully, but Tamashi accepted it calmly and followed the crowd to the square.

The chef team has already prepared dinner and tableware, and everyone lined up to receive the meal. Although there is a lack of seasoning, everyone can receive a fragrant Lala meal.

There were three rounds of dining time, and this is the first round. After all, there are three thousand people living in the Heavenly Kingdom of Thousand Wishes, and the chef team can supply it so quickly. There is no guarantee that everyone can eat hot food without batches.

Although Tamashi thinks he can do better and faster, he can't be a chef, how can the ruthless Crow Killer be a chef?

He stood by and watched the central square quietly. Eating is the most likely time to cause conflict. Hunger and crowds are enough to cause all the unstable factors. Therefore, he will watch by the side every time he eats. For so many days, he has stopped thirteen Violent conflict and killing of a troublemaker, there are countless upsets every day

However, seeing so many people sitting on the square benches to eat, Tamashi couldn't help but feel a sense of pride in his heart – he really survived with these Senro people.

More than ten days have passed since Sen Luo died.

The Senluo people who were rescued to the Heavenly Kingdom of Thousand Wishes recovered one day after another. When they learned that the Wasteland of Senluo had perished and they were rescued to a strange heaven, their first reaction was not to survive, but—

Eliminate aliens!

Although Sen Luo perished, faith did not perish. Among these 3,000 people, the Temple of War, the Gemini Sect, the Four Pillars of God...all beliefs are available.

Although there is no Dafa, and there is nothing to eat or drink, how can the mere crisis frighten my well-honed beliefs? The rest can be ignored, but there must be only one belief here!

But in the end, they obediently sought common ground while reserving differences, and made it clear that at this stage they should cooperate sincerely and find a way to survive in the Kingdom of Thousand Wishes.

There are many reasons why they are willing to obey Tamashi's orders. For example, Tamashi currently belongs to half the master of the Heavenly Kingdom of Thousand Wishes. Although the dream-awakening spirit of the Wishing Pool will not be the master of Tamashi, she is willing to help Tamashi—Tamashi has a wish center in his hand, and Xiaomeng also sees the close comrade-in-arms relationship between Tamashi and Yaxiu. As long as it doesn't hurt the interests of the kingdom of heaven, the boring Xiaomeng doesn't mind serving Tamashi.

Another example is that even if three thousand of them are together, they can't beat Tamashi.

The resource distribution of Senluo Kingdom is a typical 'central structure'. The closer to the central silent spiral, the better the resources; the farther it is on the edge of the map, the land is desolate.

Therefore, the first to die were the 'core members' sitting in the central area, and all of them were the 'logistic members' who were responsible for reclaiming the marginal areas of the wasteland when they were rescued by Tamashi.

But it has to be said that this situation is better for Tamashi: because they want to open up wasteland, they are almost all very durable magicians such as earth, wood, water, bitter and weak, but at the same time they are strong Not high (the high-strength ones have been transferred back long ago), only four of the three thousand people are two-wing magicians.

Tamashi killed a few thorns resolutely and made these 3,000 people deeply aware of the murderous reputation of the crows, and the leadership naturally fell into his hands.

First of all, the problem of living and diet must be solved. The housing problem is easy to solve. Although it doesn't look good, it is too easy for a soil artist to build a house, and there is no more land than a thousand wish heaven. One person and one household is no problem, and it is mandatory—Tamahi also has it. Out of his mind, he tried to separate magicians from the same sect, so that residents in the same area belonged to different sects, preventing believers from grouping together.

But the problem of diet is difficult to solve, because there is really nothing on the ground of Qianyuan Heaven, and when they are rushed into Qianyuan Heaven, it is impossible for them to bring plant seeds with them. However, after being reminded by the awakened gods, they realized that there were no resources on the ground, but there were still some resources on the ground.

have what?

Lala fat.

After the soil master dug a five-meter-deep hole, he soon dug out the cute gopher Lala fat. Lala fat not only has delicious meat, but also provides moisture. Fur can also be used to make clothes. It is simply a good source of nutrition. Therefore, the mighty digging operation began, and now the blue sky area is dug almost everywhere. All are holes.

Although the two most important issues were resolved, a new one soon emerged: how to deal with excrement? Does everyone have to work? How to supervise? What if someone is lazy? How to solve the problem of someone hiding Lala fat? How to take a bath? How to arrange shifts...

One after another worrisome problems were placed in front of Tamashi. Although he also found several calm and smart subordinates to form a temporary committee to deal with the problem together, all of them had no experience – who would have the experience to arrange 3,000 people of different faiths. Believers in the wilderness survive!

Just doing it and learning at the same time, it has only achieved initial results until now, and it cannot even be said that it is on the right track. After all, Lala fat will still be eaten. They must continue to develop the Kingdom of Thousand Wishes, so that plants, animals, fields, and rivers can reappear here, so that they can live here.

As for how to develop it, Tamashi already has an idea. In comparison, it was the young man's question that caused him to think more as a leader.

What kind of system does he use to manage these 3,000 people?

To be honest, Tamashi had no idea that managers would encounter so many problems. For example, the conflict between the middle-aged and the youth just now will not occur in Senluo at all, because believers of the same sect will not have such "superficial" malice, and even if there is, they can be humble to each other.

As long as the beliefs are the same, management is not difficult. But as a price, the believers will unleash their malice on the infidels thousands of times. There is only one conflict in Senluo, and that is the conflict of beliefs; there is only one solution, and that is death.

Kill them with crows and rule them all with faith?

If Tamashi wanted to, he might not be able to convert all these people. In fact, the beliefs of many Senluo believers are not firm. They just need belief to survive. As for what they believe in, it doesn't matter what they believe, otherwise the Four Pillars Religion will not grow rapidly.

And in doing so, Tamashi is equivalent to re-establishing the Crow Killing Cult and making the Crow Killing Faith great again. These 3,000 people will also have justice in their hearts, and naturally they will not hate each other or commit crimes and conflicts, and jointly build a beautiful kingdom of a thousand wishes.

For Tamashi, who pursues the glory of killing crows, this option is simply political correctness and a dream.

But he was just moved, and quickly rejected the idea.

Because Tamashi has seen the limitations of belief, and also knows that belief does not have universality. A person like him is naturally a natural container of faith, and faith can make him reborn; for ordinary people, faith may not help much, but it can bind themselves and add icing on the cake; but for some people, faith is just for them. poison.

Such as Tanom, such as Ash, such as Igula, such as Harvey.

Faith cannot constrain Tanomo's behavior. Once interests are involved, Tanomo will immediately reveal his nature; Ash, Igula, and Harvey already have something more important than faith in their hearts, or in other words, they all have their own specialties. Their own 'belief', they have been able to strengthen their hearts just by seeking inward, and they do not need the blessing of external beliefs at all.

And now there is no Dafa, how much power can faith still have?

More importantly, Tamashi is unwilling to deprive others of their faith.

Tamashi has an inexplicable arrogance: if others are willing to follow the crow and kill them, he is infinitely welcome. But let him preach, or even reverse other people's beliefs, he can't do it.

With his strength, he could actually rebuild the sect in the wasteland long ago. But he didn't do this, he didn't sell his faith to any young child, and even after meeting Ash and others, he didn't explain the doctrine of killing all the crows in detail to them.

His missionary strength is not as good as Harvey's 'Please allow me to take a moment to introduce the great Necromancer Haagen-Dazs'.

In the words of Igula, "You are a saint, not a shepherd. A shepherd can shepherd the world and let everyone work together to build the Tower of Babel to reach the kingdom of heaven. The saint does not do this, the saint spreads his wax wings and flies into the sky until the wax wings melt. Fall down, and then he can tell everyone: I see, the kingdom of heaven is real."

In addition, he has just experienced the demise of the kingdom of faith. Even if Tamashi's belief is firm, he can't help but wonder if there is a major flaw in the belief system. He will not form his own sect in a short time.

Then, using the Blood Moon system? Or the Gospel system?

The core of the blood moon system is usually high-pressure management, but it provides an appropriate ultra-low limit of killing activities to let ordinary people release their desires. The two complement each other. Because of the killing activities, they can usually manage under high pressure and dare not resist; because of the high-pressure management, killing activities are necessary to maintain physical and mental health.

The Gospel system is very simple. It comprehensively manages everyone's every move, and uses complex calculations to ensure that everyone works with the lowest possible friction.

Tamashi is obviously unable to accept the blood moon system, nor is he capable of realizing the gospel system.

He lowered his head in thought, and suddenly gave a wry smile, thinking that if Tanomu was here, she would definitely be able to solve this problem.

Or Yaxiu is also fine, although I don't know if he can do anything, but being with him is like nothing in the world can stop them.

"The crows killed His Highness."

The three-winged crow chirped, and Tamashi looked up and saw Gavin and Keisha approaching.

These two are members of the committee. Without them to share the affairs, Tamashi would not be able to arrange 3,000 people. Tamashi was naturally very fond of them: "What's the matter?"

"That's it." The two of them looked a little uneasy, but not because of fear, but out of shyness that Tamashi couldn't understand, "We want to live together, I hope you can approve."

In order to avoid being linked with the sect, everyone can only live in a single family now, and they are not allowed to live together in a group.

Tamashi was a little strange: "Why do you two live together?"

Gavin stammered: "Because, because, I, I..."

"Because I like him and he likes me too!" Keisha gathered up the courage to hug Gavin's hand and said loudly.

"Oh." Tamashi is still very strange: "If you like it, why do you still live together? It won't hinder you if you don't live together, right?"

"It's in the way!" Gavin also said.

“Why did you get in the way?” Tamashi asked.

The two of them blushed gradually, and Kaisha was a little hesitant: “That’s right, we just want to hug...”

“Aren’t you holding each other now?” Tamashi pointed to the hands they held together, “What kind of holding do you want?”

“Yes, yes,” Gavin gestured. “It’s eye-to-eye, nose-to-nose, mouth-to-mouth, and the body is held together without clothes. You have to live together to do it.”

Tamashi imagined it, and for some reason, a strange longing appeared in his heart at this time. However, he has also seen the world. Although most sects prohibit this kind of behavior, there is no prohibition in the Four Pillars Religion. Naturally, he knows what they are talking about, “So you guys want to mate. Why?”

Both of them were stunned for a moment, and Keisha thought for a while: “Because you like it?”

“Do you mate because you like it?” Tamashi asked. “Although there is no incubator here, mating is a backward way of reproduction. Is it necessary to do this?”

“Because our liking is another kind of liking.”

Keisha blushed like an apple, but still said, “I don’t really understand...but I just want to get closer to him, get closer, touch his body, like...I want to merge with him. .”

“Oh...” Tamashi nodded thoughtfully, “So that’s how it is...”

“But your beliefs...”

“Faith is not a problem. UU Reading www.uukanshu.com” Gavin said, “Dafa is gone... We should start over.”

“Then I approve.” Tamashi paused and said unsurely, “Bless you all.”

“Thank you.” Keisha smiled sweetly and pulled Gavin back.

Looking at the back of their departure, Tamashi realized that the relationship between the two of them should have deepened rapidly when they worked together these days.

In the land of Senluo, love, friendship, family affection and even desire will be put on the cloak of faith, and all positive feedback of emotions will be turned into your devotion to believers. Therefore, except for the Four Pillars of God, other sects will hardly have violent mating and other sects. Emotional communication behavior.

It has only been ten days since they came to the Kingdom of Thousand Wishes, and they have not yet planted the first plant, but love is the first to sprout and break the ground. Even if Gavin and Keisha are of different beliefs, but love comes like a tornado, and beliefs are not vulnerable at all.

If it's Tanomo, he will definitely realize that Gavin and Keisha are the first but not the last couple, and it's time to draft the marriage system; The wedding to dispel everyone's confusion and worries.

But at this time, there was only a three-winged crow beside Tamashi, so he was still thinking about the conversation just now, tilted his head and muttered:

“It turns out that you want to touch your body, is it another kind of liking?”

Chapter 752: Tamashi extra (below)

In the hillside curtain palace, Xiaomeng watched Tamashi dance wildly against the air.

In fact, there were only a few pillars surrounding the Wishing Pond, which was far from being called a palace. But after seeing Tamashi and the others building a house, Xiaomeng suddenly felt that he needed a house too, so he fiddled around, summoned a lot of dream magic spirits, and placed a pink curtain around the wishing pool.

Of course, the dream magic spirit will only be willing to serve Xiao Meng. If anyone else tries to catch them, they snap away.

Tamashi is the only person who can enter the Veil Palace, where he usually eats and lodging. It is precisely because he lives here that he has an absolute deterrent to Senluo talents – in the eyes of everyone, Crow Kills are mortals who can drive gods at any time.

Actually it is.

This is also why Tamashi is called His Highness, because he does live in the palace now.

Snapped!

With the sound of fists and feet breaking the sound barrier, Tamashi's battle seemed to be fierce, but he was alone from beginning to end. However, Xiaomeng looked at it, but felt that Tamashi seemed to be fighting against another person. As time passed, the "invisible person" became more and more clear.

When Tamashi's right hand slammed hard, Xiaomeng seemed to be able to see the sword-holding hand of 'that person' being grabbed by Tamashi, and then Tamashi twisted it hard and pressed the blade of his right hand to the neck of 'that person', completely subdued the opponent.

This action lasted for ten seconds before Tamashi finished training. Xiaomeng immediately stood up and applauded: "Good fight! It's amazing! Hey, hey!"

Xiaomeng learned to punch Tamashi, and Tamashi laughed: "When you punch, don't move your feet, move your waist first, then turn your shoulders..."

"No, no, Xiaomeng is so tired, I need to rest!"

After practicing for a while, Xiaomeng knelt down and gasped, looking pitifully tired. Tamashi didn't know if it was true or not, so she squatted down and tapped Xiaomeng's forehead. Xiaomeng suddenly jumped up, grabbed the three-winged crow on Tamashi's shoulder, and held it in his arms and touched it.

The three-winged crow continued to struggle and chirped at Tamashi, but Tamashi could only spread her hands to express her helplessness.

Unlike others, Tamashi has no reverence for gods. Maybe it's because he arranged the fate of the silver lamp deity, maybe it's because Xiaomeng is very close to him, or maybe it's because of the huge intellectual legacy of Lord Zhan that he couldn't digest in his mind.

When Xiaomeng was fighting with the crow, Tamashi went to the wishing pool, lifted the hood, took off the black feather cloak, took off the armor, belt, steel boots, took off the vest, shirt, trousers, pants, panties, One by one, the bandages around the chest were undone, and the tight, trembling ones popped out impatiently.

She first untied the low ponytail, pulled her hair up to reveal the smooth back of her neck, held a hair loop in her mouth, tied her long hair in a high ponytail, then formed a circle around the high ponytail, and finally tied the outer part, so that the connection Come down and soak in the Trevi Fountain so you won't get your hair wet.

Yes, although magicians cannot soak in the wishing pool, mortals can. Without magic power, the wishing power in the wishing pool will not produce any reaction at all.

After Tamashi was pulled into the wishing pool by Xiaomeng and soaked once, she would go in for a while after training every day.

However, tonight is the last time.

She touched the milky white water of the wishing pool with her toes. The temperature and color of the water in the wishing pool were different every night. Tonight, it was freezing cold. She sat at the edge of the pool with confidence, her calf dipped into the water and stirred up a ripple, and then her buttocks moved gently, until the horizontal line runs over the chest, gently rippling with the collarbone.

The icy cold penetrated into the soul along the limbs and bones, and while awake, it also drove away the exhaustion. The icy coldness made Tamashi let out a lazy sigh. She flexed her hands inside and stretched out, her toes stretched and tensed, swaying slightly out of the water. She looked at the ripples of her toes, and suddenly felt very interesting.

After resting for a while, she picked up the towel next to her, washed her face slowly, then grabbed her ears and shaved the outside and inside, sliding along her chin and neck, roughly wiping the general area, focusing on the sweaty areas, such as the armpits, inner thigh, inner knee, inner arm, under breast.

She is very embarrassed at this time. After all, she takes a bath every day after sweating, afraid that it will pollute the wishing pool and make Shu Ling and Xiaomeng unhappy. But the magic spirit in the wishing pool had no problem, and Xiaomeng also said that the cleaning ability of the wishing pool could easily melt a magician, and it didn't matter at all to take a bath.

“Cuck!”

The three-winged crow finally escaped from Xiaomeng's clutches, flapping its wings and flying to Tamashi's shoulders. Xiao Mengzi didn't chase after him, but took off all his clothes in seconds, jumped into the wishing pool with a snap, and swayed his five tails to approach Tamashi.

“Press my head, help me press my head!” Xiao Meng raised his hands and shouted.

Tamashi pressed the button while washing Xiaomeng's hair once, and Xiaomeng fell in love with the feeling of being unable to stop. She also did not expect that one day she would be favored by a * because she often washed Tanom's hair.

Tamashi's fingers are as slender as green onions, and her strength has its own rules of priority. As soon as she got started, Xiaomeng had a cold war, and her tail hair exploded. When she pressed her head, Xiaomeng suddenly asked, “Are you just imagining fighting with your master?”

“Yes.” Tamashi naturally knew who Xiaomeng was talking about, “Do you have any news about him?”

“No, Xiaomeng can’t establish contact with the master, only the master can come to the Heavenly Kingdom of Thousand Wishes.” Xiaomeng was a little depressed: “Xiaomeng also misses the masters very much, but the center of the wish is in your hands, the master can’t Come to the kingdom of heaven.”

“I’ll pay him back soon.” Tamashi said calmly, “I promise.”

“Well, I believe in Tamashi!” Xiaomeng nodded earnestly, and added, “But at the end of your training, why did your mood become ‘puff puff puff’?”

Tamashi asked back, “Do you know how I feel?”

“I’m a * awakened from a dream, and I’m still the temporary consul of the Thousand Wishes Heavenly Kingdom!” Xiaomeng akimbo: “How could I not know your mental state? I know the mental state of everyone in the entire Thousand Wishes Heavenly Kingdom!”

Tamashi nodded thoughtfully, and asked back, “What’s the mood of ‘puff puff puff’?”

“Ah?” Xiaomeng tilted her head: “It’s just... poof? Oh, don’t ask such a difficult question, Xiaomeng can’t do it!”

“I don’t understand it myself.” Tamashi shrugged: “I heard people say that there is a kind of liking that makes you want to be close to each other. I recalled that when I used to train with Ash in the dead city, occasionally if it is too close, there will be a strange feeling, and I was wondering if it was another kind of liking, so I tested it just now, assuming that I subdued him at close range.”

“Is that so?”

“maybe not.”

“Maybe?” Xiaomeng blinked her eyes

“Because when I got close to him, my mood was to push him away.” Tamashi said, “But after pushing away, I wanted to get close to him again.”

“So I think I should like the third kind,” Tamashi threw his fist forward and shot a supersonic cloudburst at will, which made the Wishing Pool agitated, “I like it so much that I want to hit him. Well, that must be the case.”

Xiaomeng stared blankly at Tamashi, feeling that her master was in danger.

“Speaking of which, since you can perceive everyone’s mental state in Xiaomeng, can you do such a thing?” Tamashi suddenly asked: “It is to add and deduct points based on each person’s behavior. ”

Tamashi suddenly remembered that when he was in Heipao Town, one night everyone suddenly started to key politics. Because Ash casually criticized all systems of Blood Moon, Gospel, and Senro, Igula asked him, ‘You look down on all systems. , there must be a wonderful idea.’ Yaxiu proposed a very special plan: moral points.

He says it’s a fantasy setting that he’s seen from other books that have overflowed. To put it simply, many behaviors in this world are not illegal, or illegal but the harm is very small. Even if the law can be enforced every time, the normal punishment is not painful or itchy, and the heavy punishment is unreasonable.

For the social machine, murder and other vicious cases are harsh but can be picked out noises, and these small contradictions and evil deeds, like fishbone stalks in the throat, finally destroy the corrosion and wear of the social machine. Blood Moon, Gospel, and Sen Luo have their own solutions, but they all use external force to reduce corrosion. The mechanism of morality is to make people spontaneously reduce wear and tear.

“Like a game, if you do a good job, you will get more points, and if you do a bad job, you will lose points. You can also score points. As long as it is helpful to the society, this system encourages you to score points. Good people will be rewarded. This score should be visible to everyone. High scores get preferential treatment, and low scores don’t need punishment, because low scores are the best punishment.”

Tamashi has no other options now. She is unwilling to the blood moon system, the gospel system cannot do it even with the help of the awakening gods, and she is not interested in the belief system for the time being, so the only system she still knows is Yaxiu. The moral system that comes up while having a full meal and gossiping.

She is mentally prepared for failure, but a fool who does wrong is better than a fool who doesn’t.

Xiaomeng thought about it seriously, “I should be able to do it, but it takes a little time to think about it, but doing so will consume the Originium. I have the Originium left by the master, but it will not be consumed for you.”

Tamashi asked, "But what if I provide you with Originium?"

"That's ok." Xiaomeng said: "But I have to take a commission for the master, about 10%."

"it is good!"

Tamashi left the wishing pool. She took one last look at the pool of water, thinking that she will never have such a bathing experience from now on.

She got dressed, sat down cross-legged, stretched out her arms, and the three-winged crow immediately stood on her arm.

"Death." Tamashi looked at the crow and said seriously, "Please."

The three-winged crow chirped, turning into a streamer and entering Tamashi's soul. Tamashi found it in his soul, and soon found in it the door that would change his life—

The door of truth.

At this moment, Tamashi's heart was filled with unspeakable emotions, some grievances, some sadness, and some joy. It only took her a day to accept the judgment that she could not become a magician, and then she has worked hard to this day, successfully impressing everyone who thinks she is not good... She thought she had reconciled with her destiny, but she looked at this fan of truth that belonged to her. The door, she discovered, was not there at all.

The four-year-old girl who couldn't even recognize a word and who dared to cry at night after her sister fell asleep has never left.

But after she left Senluo and was freed from the shroud of Tianzhe scale powder, she completely returned to normal. It only took seven days to recognize two thousand common words, and on the tenth day, she summoned her first magic spirit.

Three Wings: Sue to death.

Since it is a three-winged magic spirit, Tamashi naturally can only go to the remote airspace and directly miss the Sea of Knowledge and the Continent of Time. Originally, this kind of "jumping over the bottom layer of the virtual realm" was already rare, but Tamashi also mastered the rarer knowledge-how to supplement his missing virtual wings.

The huge knowledge in her mind included the content of 'how to get back the power as soon as possible after the resurrection of Lord Zhan'. For the existence of Lord Zhan, although he cannot directly summon the gods, it is easy to summon the four-winged magic.

Of course, He can also summon a winged magic spirit first and slowly ascend from the sea of knowledge. But if it is a normal promotion speed, one year in the sea of knowledge, one year in the time continent, one year in the remote airspace... How precious is the time after resurrection, how could it be wasted on leveling? He naturally wanted to find a way to complete the empty wings in front of him.

In addition to this, Lord Zhan also arranged treasures in each virtual realm. Although there are not many, they all include source crystals and important magic spirits! As long as he can get the inheritance of Lord Zhan, Tamashi can not only support the little dream magic spirit, but also the magic spirit mastered by Lord Zhan has a magic spirit that can directly connect to the most mysterious trading platform in the world—

Game Reserve!

The clients in the hunting reserve are all demigods and even gods!

There, Tamashi can buy enough high-level resources to develop the Kingdom of Thousand Wishes, and even relieve the curse of the Kingdom of Thousand Wishes, so that the Kingdom of Thousand Wishes can truly become the Kingdom of Heaven!

Now Tamashi is about to become a sanctuary magician, which means that she can meet Yaxiu and others in the virtual realm and return the wish center to Yaxiu.

When she finds them, she will show Igula and Harvey that she has indeed protected Ash's heaven!

With such expectations, Tamashi's consciousness sank into the door of truth.

Consciousness is connected to the virtual world, and the soul descends into a bubble.

When Tamashi slowly opened her eyes, the feasting and feasting in her eyes, the familiar noise soaking through the cochlea, made her think she was dreaming for a while.

In the dark night, the pedestrian streets of the town are crowded with people, countless beauties rubbing shoulders, the snack bars on both sides are full of diners, and the drunk women lie directly on the roadside and sleep soundly.

She turned her head and saw the 'Fox Lantern Ice Room' not far away.

She recognizes it here.

This is the dream bubble of Heipao Town.

This is the dream of Senluo Sanctuary.

But all the Senluo Sanctuaries are dead, and now the only people who know the Sanctuary magicians in Heipao Town are Yaxiu and the others—

"That's not right..."

Suddenly, Tamashi heard Lord Zhan's faint whisper again, and a piece of secret knowledge flowed into his mind, and only then did he realize that the dream bubbles in the distant airspace were not the dreams of 'living people'.

After the death of the sanctuary magician, their dreams will also appear intermittently in the airspace, but the refresh time will be longer and longer, and it will not disappear completely until ten years later.

So, this black-robed town bubble is probably the dream of a dead Senluo Sanctuary.

She stood on the street for a long time, watching every face passing by, knowing that everyone here is dead. After a while, she sighed softly, and as soon as she took a step and stepped on the standing water on the street, she saw her appearance in the reflection of the water.

There was no cloak, no mask, no hood. She only saw a strong girl wearing a strapless tube top and semi-transparent sleeves, sports shorts with a transparent skirt over her knees, and short boots.

Why am I wearing this suit?

Tamashi searched in his mind for a while, and finally found the source—one night she and Yaxiu were driving down the street in Heipao Town. Yaxiu suddenly pointed to a passerby and said that the clothes were good-looking. She took a serious look and found that the other party's clothes matched well. It looks good, and it is completely different from other people. It should be carefully matched. This is extremely rare in Sen Luo – very few people waste time on clothes.

That suit is the one she is wearing now, a carefully matched costume design by a deceased Senra.

She doesn't know who that person is, but she and Ash both remember each other's works.

Tamashi looked down at himself, stretched his body a little, and found that it was easier to exert power than the actual set of equipment, that is, the defense power was reduced, and the props were also reduced – but in the future, there will be a sanctuary, and the defense power does not need that set of armor. , there is no need for props to have magic spirits – so there is no dissatisfaction.

It's just a little bit different from the real image, I'm not very used to it..

Just when Tamashi was about to explore this bubble, she suddenly heard a sensitive word from next to her: "...Ash didn't realize that it was a woman, right?"

Tamashi turned her head sharply and saw three women passing by her.

Among the three, standing in the middle was a Veela with light pink hair and a thin layer of charming hair on her forearm, a girl with black hair and red eyes on the left, and a mature woman in purple on the right.

“How do you know it’s a woman?” the red-eyed girl asked, “No face, no body, no feminine features!”

“She refuses to show her face or eat together, that’s the biggest proof!” Veela vowed to hold the diary and said.

“But doesn’t that mean there is a religious reason?” said Ms. Ziyi.

“But she insists that Yaxiu’s Manual of Magicians remember her. Listen, how scheming!” Veela was heartbroken: “I’m not even sure if Ash’s Manual of Magicians remembers me!”

“Isn’t that to spread the belief in Crow Killing...” The red-eyed girl was speechless: “Don’t say Yaxiu remembered it, I remembered it too. Tamashi Crow Killing is indeed a very interesting person, I don’t know her final Has the revenge succeeded, I hope Yaxiu can write it sooner.”

Ms. Ziyi also nodded: "If it wasn't for Yaxiu's writing, I would definitely not believe that there are ordinary people who can reach the sanctuary-level combat power... I really want to see what kind of person."

"Wait, Yaxiu will find out that she is a woman in a few chapters." Veela hummed: "Since she appeared, my radar has sensed that she must be a girl, and she will entangle Yaxiu in the future. build!"

Red-eyed girl: "What kind of radar are you..."

Veela: "Affair Radar!"

Ms. Ziyi: "But aren't you the one who was having an affair with Yaxiu..."

"I'm the first, of course it's different!"

Can there still be a chain of contempt! ?

At this time, the red-eyed girl suddenly turned her head: “Why are you following us?”

Veela and the lady in purple looked back, only to find that a beautiful and astringent black-haired girl with a single ponytail followed. The latter was obviously taken aback, took a step back and said, “I don’t mean anything, I, I just...”

“You see we are magicians and want to join us?” Ms. Ziyi guessed.

“Yeah!” Tamashi nodded sharply. They obviously knew a lot of information about Yaxiu, and they might be able to find Yaxiu in advance.

The red-eyed girl and the purple-clothed lady are obviously in trouble. They can’t just add people to their team—

“OK!”

Veela swooped over and hugged Tamashi, and rubbed her face against Tamashi's face, giggling, "Yeah~ Another beautiful girl has joined us!"

"What the * is your middle-aged uncle's tone of voice!" The red-eyed girl slapped Veela's * fiercely: "It's not your harem, what's the use of a beautiful girl!?"

"Isn't it good for the eyes?" Veela hugged Tamashi tightly, UU reading www.uukanshu.com "This is the first person who took the initiative to join us! It looks good! It's still astringent! It's so comfortable to hold! Promise her Promise her, okay?"

The red-eyed girl looked at Ms. Ziyi, and Ms. Ziyi said, "Although we can agree, we don't know if you can join us. Maybe you won't meet us tomorrow. We log in to the virtual world at 11 o'clock every night. If you can still meet us when you log in to the virtual world tomorrow, then you are officially joining us."

In other words, if they can meet for two consecutive nights, even if they don't want to, they can only let the other party join.

Tamashi nodded to show his understanding, and Veela cheered, "That's great!"

Seeing Veela so happy, Tamashi was a little dazed—this was the first time she was treated so welcome. Is it because of appearance, or because of the magician, or because of fate?

But no matter what, Sen Luo is gone, and everything she once fought for has vanished. Thousands of wishes for the kingdom of heaven and the virtual realm are her brand new starting points.

It's time to start over.

At this moment, she heard Veela ask, "By the way, what's your name?"

Chapter 753: Sword Princess's Game (1)

Kingdom of Stars, Jianhua University.

“Have a meeting!”

Adele pushed open the door with a snap, holding up the folder in her hand, like a hunter returning with trophies, “Sisters, come and challenge men!”

Ingurit, who was hanging upside down on the bed and doing sit-ups, spun around and jumped to the ground. Lois, who was reading “Water Knows the Answer”, closed the book. She looked at Adele and asked cautiously, “How accurate is this time? ?”

“This is the internal confidential information of the strategy team of the truth university. It is definitely the most accurate speculation at present. Others can’t buy it if they want to. But I can’t buy it either. I contacted the strategy team Aisha under the guise of Yinggu. I just got this information.” Adele opened the folder and took out a resume with a personal photo in it, “Come and screen it to find out the real answer!”

“What?” Ingurit was startled, “You’re using my name? Why?”

Ingurit and Aisha, a genius prophet at the University of Truth, were childhood playmates, but Ingurit never revealed this relationship, and did not contact Aisha on weekdays. Only roommates knew they were friends.

“Oh, that was a very complicated negotiation. Your sister Aisha didn’t treat me much because of you. In order to prove that we really needed this information, I had to make up a complicated story to convince her. , for example, I like you, you like her, she likes him, etc.” Adele shrugged, “Now Aisha believes that there are at least eight heart arrows in our dormitory.”

“To be honest, I think the dormitory love story I told her is worth getting this information. Don’t praise me, for the great diplomat Adele, it’s just a trivial matter. .”

“Well, I understand.” Lois said, “But if I remember correctly, Aisha is known as a prophet who can’t hide her secrets, which is evident from the fact that she gave you the information—and also That is to say, after the joint efforts of you and Aisha, the entire Truth University will ‘know’ that Ingurit and I have a forbidden love for our roommate?”

“But you have a fiancé,” Lois said, “Ingurit and I are still single, and after you have done this, I am afraid that the composition of my admirers and Ingurit will change a little bit—mainly gender. changes.”

Adele was stunned and blinked.

Immediately, she looked down at the folder, “Oh, don’t worry about those little things, hurry up and pick a man.”

The three scrutinized each piece of information and rejected one by one:

“Too old, impossible.”

Ten minutes later, the students in the next dormitory passed by the door of their dormitory and saw paper floating in it. Three female college students were lying on chairs looking up at the ceiling, and asked curiously, “What are you doing?”

Adele took off the resume on her face and said expressionlessly, “Look for a man.”

The classmate looked at the resume with the photo of the man on the floor and said in shock, “Can takeout be delivered now? How much?”

Before she could say ‘order one for me too’, Lois went over to close the door and looked back at the two of them: “Do you have a favorite?”

“No.” “No.” The roommates said in unison.

“But if this information is really given by the strategy team, then the correct answer must be in it. Now we all feel that there is no correct answer, there are only two possibilities—”

Lois raised two fingers: “Either we thought wrong.”

“Or Sonia’s boyfriend was imagined by her and doesn’t exist at all.”

Yes, the information Adele got from the strategy set of the University of Truth is called “Sonia Servey’s Boyfriend Candidate List”.

The question of who is Sonia’s boyfriend is almost as intensely concerned as why Sonia’s escalation is so fast.

Some magicians think that these two problems are actually the same problem. As long as you know who the boyfriend of the Claws and Claws is, you can solve the mystery of her upgrade; however, more members of the Claws and Claws Club (regardless of gender), Just simply want to replace it.

It is also fortunate that Sonia is not qualified to enter the entertainment industry because she does not want to climb the aristocratic system, so she cannot take the idol route, but can only take the road of a professional actress and singer, so the news that she has a boyfriend has nothing to do with her career. influences.

If Daedalus reported that she had a boyfriend... no, even if there was a scandal, it would be enough to shock half a star-studded man.

However, compared to the upgrade mystery that Sonia hid, her boyfriend is much easier to find. After all, there are only a limited number of men of the right age in Gales, and they can be found even by exhaustive methods, not to mention the fortune-tellers of the University of Truth?

But even the three of Lois thought that 'that man' was not on the list, so it could be seen that the raiding team had been lonely these days. Although Sonia usually doesn't mention a word, but many times just looking at the details of her movements is enough to analyze what the phantom in her mind looks like.

First of all, the gender of the other party is indeed male, and his height is only a little taller than Sonia. Sonia can kiss each other without tiptoeing, and there is a high probability that he is also a swordsman... These are the information that Lois can analyze, Aisha and other prophecies The magician will only find more feature points.

To be honest, UU reading www.uukanshu.com is screened with strict conditions, there are definitely candidates who meet the requirements in Galese. But there is only one condition, even Lois finds it incredible—Sonia is afraid of losing her.

Maybe some people think that the two sides in love are so worried about gains and losses, and their hearts are sprouting?

This is true for ordinary people, but Sonia is a sanctuary magician!

Even if you can't rob civilians, you are a sanctuary sorcerer, you should have absolute confidence that the other party can't leave you, and it is not surprising that you even have a desire for control. But Sonia was uneasy, like an ignorant girl counting petals, guessing how much the other party loved her.

This is definitely not Sonia's own personality flaw. Absolute violence brings absolute confidence, and the sense of security in the sanctuary is enough to dispel all childhood shadows.

In fact, whether it is Lois' half-hearted spiritual knowledge or a professional psychic, they all think that Sonia is an extremely controlling individual in emotional relationships. Once she has the opportunity, she will definitely seize the initiative, never Let the other party lead the relationship.

For example, Sonia can give up her high-ranking noble title and career development, just to maintain her position as a free swordsman. Of course, there are factors that she wants to protect her own secrets, but through the prophecy and the spiritual profile, the strategy team can easily judge that her “free body” is very important to her relationship.

She sacrificed not for herself, but for her lover.

Chapter 754: Sword Princess's Game (2)

Suddenly, it is very romantic that Sonia can give up her title and career for her lover, but from another point of view, if she can sacrifice so much, she must ask for thousands of times in return—unless she is brain-deficient, otherwise. No one would think that Sonia Servey was a wicked girl who was willing to pay without expecting anything in return.

However, she is still uneasy even though she has such a strong desire to control, which can only mean one thing: her power is not enough to control this relationship.

This inference is enough to narrow the candidates down to the limit, even to... zero.

In the entire country of stars, whether it is the power behind it or its own strength, there are only two slaps to count the candidates who can make the Juggernaut lose confidence. On this basis, there is no one who meets other screening conditions.

This is why Aisha gave this information so easily: even the strategy team now thinks that ‘Sonia’s boyfriend’ may just be a metaphysical philosophical concept.

But only the dormitory trio knew that Sonia’s boyfriend was real and definitely not something Sonia imagined.

The reason is that Sonia has not seen her boyfriend these days, and her temper has become more and more moody.

At first, they thought it was the influence of menstruation, but their four menstrual periods had already been synchronized, and there was no reason for Sonia to go ahead, let alone continue for more than a month. And this is not the first time that this situation has occurred. When Sonia cannot log in to the virtual realm, her mood will change drastically, which is very consistent with the symptoms of long-distance relationships.

Compared to the fact that her boyfriend was imaginary, Lois and the others were more willing to believe that Sonia's boyfriend was a change from a dragon.

But in the first few 'off-site periods', the village girls were at most a little depressed and haggard, and occasionally sang a few love songs, expressing their emotions more abundantly, which did not have much impact on the daily life of the dormitory.

However, this time is different. Sonia's emotions these days are like a roller coaster of emotions and anger, and it has reached a bad situation that her roommates can't bear. If I have to use a metaphor, it is like a tigress in rut being forcibly removed from a male tiger.

In fact, it's not hard to guess the truth: Sonia's love has made rapid progress, and then suddenly she can't meet, and it's still so long, no one can stand it.

That's why they wanted to find Sonia's boyfriend, not for gossip, but just hoping someone could appease the red-haired beast in the bedroom. Ingurit even begged Professor Trozan, only to have Trozan's office bombed the next day by their swordsmanship miracle.

"What should I do?" Adele said in distress, "She is about to come back from her practice!"

Snapped!

Ingurit applauded, "I have a way."

She looked around for a week: "My soul has recovered, and I will go to the meditation building to spend the night in the future."

“I’ll be fine tomorrow too.” Lois nodded, “I’ll go home and hide tonight, and go to the meditation building with you tomorrow.”

“You two bastards!” Adele gritted her teeth: “Is the magician amazing! You wait for me, me, I... or you can take me away, I can just find a room to sleep.”

“It’s just a joke.” Lois said, “The problem has to be solved. If Sonya goes on like this, God knows what will happen. If we don’t relieve the depression in her heart, let alone at night, we have to go to class during the day. suffer.”

Ingurit looked at Lois for a while, then slowly sat down and said, “Is it a joke...”

“How do you want to soothe her inner emotions? Sleeping in the same bed for a private conversation with girls?” Adele raised her hand and said, “I can’t, it’s not because of fear, it’s just that I can’t sleep in the same bed with someone other than my fiancé. ...”

“Who saw Sonia staring at the wooden knife in the middle of the night last night, and then got into my bed with fear?” Lois said.

“You said it was your quilt, not mine.” Adele spread her hands: “Your quilt is up to you.”

“I didn’t expect any good advice from you. Fortunately, I was prepared.” Lois pulled out a box from under the desk. “To deal with beasts, you have to use traps.”

The other two looked intently, “Wine?”

“What could make a beast put down its vigilance better than wine?” Lois said seriously: “When she comes back, we will—” despair.

When the footsteps of the steel-soled boots sounded on the steps, it was like a silent miracle spreading, and the entire dormitory building quickly quieted down.

The dormitory that had closed the door breathed a sigh of relief, while the students in the dormitory who had not closed the door hurriedly returned to their seats, covering their mouths and holding their breath, not daring to move without saying a word.

The sound of footsteps stepping on the ground is like stepping on the hearts of everyone. The timid one lay down on the table without moving, and the timid one only dared to aim at the corridor from the corner of his eye.

She saw a smear of blood red wafting in the corridor. When she passed by the unclosed bedroom, the cloudy wind caused by the fluctuation of magic power blew in the central hall of the bedroom, making people shiver and chills down their spines.

After the familiar thirty-six steps, the terrifying monster stayed in front of the dormitory door as always and twisted open the door. When she returned to her lair, the entire dormitory was relieved, and the stagnant air became clear again.

“Sonia, you’re back.” Lois greeted.

“Well, I’m back.”

The long hair is scattered at the back, the pretty face has no makeup powder, the eyes are lonely like the deep sea, and the corners of the mouth are calm and expressionless. The red-haired girl closed the bedroom door, put the sword bag next to the wardrobe, pulled out the chair and sat down.

“What is this?” she said, pointing to a gold dusted copper box on the desk.

“I don’t know who gave the gift maze,” Ingurit said. “The person who brought it said that the gift giver’s business card is in the maze box, but you have to solve this expensive and fun maze to know the other party’s information.”

The red-haired girl nodded lightly, then raised her fist.

Snapped!

In the face of the full blow of the Sanctuary Warlock, the copper labyrinth box was immediately smashed into pieces, so powerful that the fragments were even inserted into the desk below. She picked up the business card hidden inside and whispered, “Chemours Odris... I remember.”

After saying that, his fingers rubbed the business card to shreds.

The roommates silently mourned for the nobleman they didn’t know but had a lot of intentions – don’t you know to check the other party’s mood before giving gifts? Being angry, we can’t save you.

“By the way,” Lois pulled out the box of cocktails, “there is no class tomorrow morning, let’s play a drinking game! It’s not fun to drink in the secret garden, it’s best to drink in the dormitory.”

“Yeah!”

“I agree.”

Adele and Ingurit immediately echoed.

The red-haired girl turned her head slowly, and UU reading www.uukanshu.com asked, “What kind of drinking game?”

“Just... come and play the ‘I’ve never done it’ game?” Lois suggested: “Everyone says one thing they’ve never done, if someone does that, they’ll drink, if everyone doesn’t I did it, and the person who said it drank by himself, how about it?”

It is indeed a very simple but dramatic drinking game. Adele almost forgot her original goal, nodding and shouting to play. Ingurit naturally had no objection, and the red-haired girl thought about it and nodded.

“Then I’ll come first!”

After the four of them picked up a bottle of wine, Lois thought about it and decided not to drink it too clearly. When the atmosphere got up, she would drink wine for Sonia. At first, you should focus on relaxation. It is best to let Sonia Ya is in a better mood.

Then start with Sonia’s favorite romantic movie!

“I’ve never...” Lois said, “I robbed a man from another woman.”

Chapter 756: Sword Princess's Game (4)

"Do you really want to ask privacy questions?"

Sonia held back her laughter: "If this continues, everyone's dark history will explode."

"Yes!" Adele said firmly: "It's not fun if you don't!"

Originally, they just wanted to get Sonia drunk in exchange for a peaceful night in the dormitory. Unexpectedly, there was an unexpected surprise. Sonia was willing to honestly reveal the information of 'that person' in the drinking game. How could they miss this opportunity? .

“Well, I’ve never...” Sonia thought for a while, “Spit into my roommate’s meal.”

She raised the bottle to Adele and gestured for her to drink it first.

Adele had no choice but to take a sip.

“Adele!” Lois said in shock, “How dare you—”

“But Luo Yi, your temper was really bad in those days.” Adele said helplessly: “But you are not the only one in menstruation. I was in a bad mood in those days, and there was a little dysmenorrhea... Seeing you pose It’s normal for me to do some mischief with a stinky face and an angry and proud face!”

Lois was startled, “I thought you were caught by Sonia... How dare you spit on my food! You are so disgusting!”

“Is this disgusting?” Adele was not willing to be scolded, and she was three-point drunk, so she immediately fought back: “I have never used my roommate’s toothbrush to clean the windowsill!”

The atmosphere in the bedroom froze, and Ingurit turned to look at Sonia, only to see Sonia drank the wine.

Noticing the surprised eyes of the swordsman girl, the village girl explained: “I put my toothbrush in a fixed position every day, and I change it when something goes wrong. Well, but I really shouldn’t drink this wine, after all, I used her toothbrush to brush it. toilet.”

“But Lois doesn’t know if she’s guilty of being a thief or has a shadow in her heart. During that whole month, she lost her toothbrush when she used it up, and I was the only one who cleaned the toilet in vain.”

However, Adele’s disclosure also made Lois furious. She has been smooth sailing since she was a child, and only a few people such as Sonia can make her deflated, but Adele is never in it, “I never shouted. Others are called masters!”

Adele blushed almost dripping with water, “You actually overheard me taking a bath!”

“I didn’t eavesdrop on purpose, I just became a water magician, and I can clearly distinguish the noise in the sound of water.” Lois mocked: “But I didn’t expect you to actually watch movies and dramas in your head. , Just watching is not enough, I also want to play in reality. Slaves, prisoners, investigators, teachers, students, shadow girls and even married wives... Now when you go to take a shower every day, I will put down my work and concentrate on it. Listen to the audio program you and your fiancé put on. Ha, I don’t know what surprises you have?”

Adele’s shoulders trembled when she heard it, she bit her lip, and tears seemed to fall. Seeing her like this, Lois was a little sober, wondering if she was going too far

But at this time, Adele squeezed a few notes out of her mouth: “I’ve never... secretly under the quilt when the dormitory was full... and when I was in class, secretly under the desk... By the way, and Once outside—”

“A-Die-Er!”

Lois screamed and rushed to fight with Adele.

Sonia and Ingurit immediately gave up their positions to let them fight, not because they were ruthless, but because the situation was a bit evenly matched: the water magician was the magician with the lowest lethality. , the physical strength is too weak. On the other hand, Adele went to volunteer every weekend with enough food and sleep. She was not in good health. As long as Lois didn’t use the magic spirit, Adele would have a certain advantage.

What’s more important is that their mutual exposure of black history in this way is not a page that can be turned over by “apologizing to each other”, and must be read in blood.

It just so happened that Sonia and Ingurit both recognized this kind of fist-to-meat communication. Instead of stopping them, it would be better for them to have a good fight to vent their grievances, and they would naturally recover when they were tired.

Sonia walked to the balcony next to the railing, and Ingurit came out, so she stretched out her claws and asked, "What are you doing today?"

"You see it?"

"I thought about getting Lois drunk to make her go crazy in first grade, but she doesn't like drinking, it can be said that she doesn't drink a drop." Sonia pouted into the room: "Look at how bad their wine is."

"Then you did it on purpose?" Ingurit asked, leaning back against the railing.

"I just want to divert the topic away from me." Sonia shrugged, "I didn't expect the effect to be so good, and it pierced through their plastic sisterhood at once."

"They're just drunk, and they'll be back to normal when they wake up." Ingurit said, "It's not like you."

"What's the meaning?"

"Haven't you noticed how big your problem is this month?" Ingurit sighed: "It's okay to have a bad temper, insomnia and staying up late, but you are often in a daze, and sometimes burst into tears. The usual swordsmanship training It is also maintained at a minimum level. Do you know what those people in the forum said about you? They said that you really have the mentality of a village girl and will not continue to work hard. Relying on your own sanctuary realm, you start to run rampant and act recklessly..."

"I didn't, I just..."

"Of course I don't believe the * on the forum, but I also see your state." Ingurit said: "Adele said it well, your symptoms can be summed up in three words – long-distance relationship. Worrying about gains and losses, my mind is numb, I can't ask for anything, my mind is completely attached to the person I like, and there is no extra capacity to think about how to improve swordsmanship."

“It’s not that I can’t understand, but I’m still very disappointed. You clearly know that it’s pointless to indulge in the quagmire of emotions, but you are still willing to indulge in your own negative emotions, and you won’t use cultivation to replace self-pity.”

“I said before that love only affects the speed of my sword swing, and my attitude has not changed. Is love really important to you that you don’t hesitate to give up so much of yourself?”

After Ingurit said so much in one breath, he sighed: “This is not the proud and stubborn sword girl I know.”

Sonia stared blankly at Ingurit, feeling sour and self-blame, as well as grievances she couldn’t express.

“I’m in trouble,” she said pitifully.

All of Sonia’s negative emotions can be traced back to one decree: “Starry Homeland Security Emergency 51”.

This was an urgent decree issued by the Kingdom of Stars on the second day after the eruption of the empty door magic spirit.

To put it simply, it stipulates two things: all magicians are not allowed to use empty door magic to create unknown virtual realm passages, and offenders will be criminally responsible and sentenced to prison for more than three years; increase monitoring and cleaning of ‘intruders’ Strength, all intruders who smuggled into the country of stars will immediately trigger the monitoring of the stars, and they will be hunted down by the magician troops.

Magicians are not allowed to create empty doors, and outsiders are not allowed to enter the stars.

This is where Sonia breaks down: she thought that with the new concept of empty doors, viewers would soon come to Fanxing to join her. But the introduction on the 51st completely obliterated this possibility, unless she would like the audience to come to Fanxing to continue to play his best role as a fugitive, and choose to watch the rat wrestling in the sewer in the future.

The worst thing is this. The village girl just thought there was hope, but she immediately turned into despair, and the situation was even worse than before: Although she used to be hostile to outsiders, most of the cases were handled as 'imprisonment'. "Detention", if the viewer is found there is still room for manoeuvre.

But No. 51 clearly pointed out that all outsiders should be damned, and the magician troops do not need to hold back and do their best to wipe out all the bugs that harm the stars. That is to say, once the viewer is exposed, all that remains is the route of being the enemy of the whole world... the route he is accustomed to.

If they meet in the stars, it will inevitably lead to huge trouble.

So Sonia apparently had to take another route: she left Fanxing through an empty door.

This does not sound easy, after all, it means that Sonia has to give up her career, give up her position, and give up all the contacts in Fanxing.

But most importantly, how is she going to place her mother?

Take your mother away? But my mother didn't even want to come, let alone go to a foreign country. Now the money given by Sonia alone is enough for her mother to spend her old age in her hometown, but she still can't stop working on her own fields. How can someone so nostalgic leave their hometown in old age?

Don't take your mother away? She left her mother in the country of stars, and she left the stars and lived with the viewers, and she will not be able to return in the foreseeable future, unable to invite her mother for weddings, unable to notify her mother when giving birth, and unable to find her mother when she misses her...

It was her only relative.

Sonia originally thought that she could solve all problems quickly and resolutely, and she had always been proud of it in the past, but in fact, she did not need to decide those things that were truly precious to her. When the most important thing in her heart is placed on the scales, she hesitates like those sleazy villagers she knows, unable to take it up and put it down.

The expectations for the future and the responsibilities for the past were woven into a twine that made her breathless. Sometimes she made up her mind to pursue happiness, but she burst into tears of guilt; sometimes she wanted to delay time to wait for future changes, but she was unwilling and she was so controlling that she suffocated and angered.

That's why she's been so moody this month – she's just out of breath.

"Trouble?" Ingurit thought for a while: "Is there anything we can help?"

"If there is, I will not be polite." Sonia exhaled: "Thank you."

However, Ingurit's sincere dialogue made the swordsman feel ashamed, but also made her have strange thoughts.

In fact, the central idea of Ingurit is very simple: I know you are annoying, so why don't you use your sword to cut all troubles? What, can't split? Then you go to practice swordsmanship, practice until you can split!

Sonia knows very well that her enemy is not the mother or the spectator, but the 51 – she doesn't even need to rebel against the 51, just need the decree 51 to open up to the spectator, and she can keep the spectator forever.

Can this be done with enough power?

How much power is required to do this?

But in any case, as Ingurit said, learning is not wrong, and cultivation is definitely right. If one day fate comes, UU reading www.uukanshu.com A well-prepared sword girl is better than a love-minded village girl who has done nothing.

Snapped!

Sonia patted her cheek sharply, took out a hair tie from her pocket and tied her long hair into a ponytail.

After being a bitter heroine for a month, it is time to return to the Juggernaut route!

Ingurit looked at this scene and hummed: "I didn't expect drinking to be really useful."

"Hee hee," Sonia smiled and hugged Ingurit, "No way, who told me to love Ingurit the most?"

"I thought there would be some twists and turns, and I'm even ready to persuade you tonight while digging your ears." Ingurit said, "I've never made a lap pillow for anyone else."

"Oh." Sonia nodded, facing the expectant eyes of the swordsman girl, she turned and walked into the room, "Then I have to go back to drink."

Adele and Lois were also tired at this time, sitting in their respective seats gasping for breath, glaring at each other from time to time. But apart from a little messy hair and clothes, there was no sign of them fighting.

Sonia opened four bottles of cocktails, handed them to them and raised the bottles: "Drink wins."

They were surprised to see such an active and polite village girl, and felt that the familiar sword girl had returned, and the terrifying sword demon had disappeared. They were relieved and raised their wine bottles to clink glasses.

"Drink wins!"

At this moment, everyone's miracle bracelet suddenly vibrated and chirped.

Sonia looked down and found that it was an urgent message:

“The Star Police Department reminds you: There are three suspected sanctuary intruders in the ‘Narrow Abyss’ in the 37th district of Galos, please stay away from the area around the ‘Narrow Abyss’ as soon as possible! Please stay away from the area around the ‘Narrow Abyss’ as soon as possible! Gryphon weather The division is about to take over the scene, please stay away from the area around the ‘Narrow Abyss’ as soon as possible!”

Chapter 757: The Coronation of Ruby Mountain

A killing, or, a coronation.

Looking down, there are silver apprentices floating in the foggy sea, golden travelers walking in the rainstorm continent, and rainbow explorers mixed in the phantom cracks... They are humble people, they can only raise their heads and look up to the great cause, their The eyes are like twinkling stars, paving the way for the glory of this enthronement.

Looking up, there are arrogant gods hidden in the shadows. They are disdainful, they are jealous, they are full of malice, and their killing intent is awe-inspiring, but they can only watch. Above the shadows are five great beings standing in the clouds. They lowered their eyes and turned into violent storms, catering to the cruelty of this killing.

The place where everyone’s eyes are focused is the top of Ruby Mountain. The very familiar figure Yin Gula was standing on the other side of the mountain. Because his back was facing the angle of view, Yin Gula could not see his expression or who was in front of him. He could only vaguely see the outline of a light and shadow.

Up to now, Yin Gula is no longer surprised that Ya Xiu is surfing in the tide of the times, but he is not bored either, and there is only strong expectation in his heart. Because he faintly realized that this picture is not the end of disaster, but the beginning of greatness.

When Yaxiu raised his blade and slashed towards the light and shadow, the entire virtual realm seemed to be pulled by him. He is like waving a paintbrush, painting the world in his own color.

From the magician to the gods, everyone could only watch his atrocities, watching him paint light and shadow into new colors. Then, like a drop of thick ink falling into the painting, the new color quickly blurs out, dipping down the colored airspace, the golden continent, and the silver sea, and invading the shadows and clouds upwards.

Time is about to speed up.

And the most eye-catching thing is that above the clouds, in that high sky where even great beings must look up, at the top of that empty unknown, new colors are brewing and condensing.

All the magicians are witnessing this historic scene with their own eyes. The era that lasted for 1668 ends at this moment, and the whole world will undergo drastic changes.

Times have begun to change, and new and old positions are about to usher in an alternation.

This is the killing that the magicians must remember, and this is the coronation held by the virtual world.

Yin Gula seemed to be able to hear the sound of the wheels of history rolling forward, and it was as if she could hear the wind of the times blowing the windmill.

From then on, the unbearable void period of the Heavenly Throne came to an end, and someone would stand on the top.

At this time, Yingula saw Ash take out a holy grail soaked in wine from the last light and shadow, then he turned his head towards himself, raised the holy grail slightly, and immediately raised his head, the holy grail was tilted, and he was about to The Holy Grail is consumed in one gulp, and the final ritual of coronation and slaughter is completed

What will happen next?

knock knock!

The knock on the door woke Yin Gula, he raised his head, and found that he had fallen asleep sitting on the toilet, and his head was on the side of Ash's waist; in front of him, Harvey was closing his eyes by the sink. repose.

Ash held the fraudster's head with one hand, and put the other hand behind Harvey to cushion the back of his head, preventing them from falling in a drowsy state.

knock knock!

A female voice sounded outside, "Are the guests inside okay? Need help? Hello?"

Ingula asked, "How long has it been?"

"45 minutes." Ash replied.

"Then it should be fine," Yingula stood up: "Let's go."

The three of them opened the sliding door of the bathroom and went out. The female flight attendant watched the three men come out of the bathroom together. She was instantly stunned and stammered, "Guest, three guests, what are you doing in there?"

"As you think." Ash replied.

The female flight attendant's face gradually turned red, and her eyes kept scanning between the three of them, "But, but you are not following the rules, and the bathroom is so small that it is easy to bump, please don't..."

"I know, but I can't do anything because I'm addicted to smoking, so I have to gather in the bathroom to smoke." Ash spread his hands, "I'm very sorry for causing trouble to you."

"Ah, are you smoking?"

“Yeah, what else could it be?”

The female flight attendant didn't know if she was disappointed or relieved, “The carriage is non-smoking, and it's still two hours' drive from Gallosh South Station, please be patient until you get off, and don't smoke in the bathroom, it will trigger the smoke alarm.”

“Understood, we also know the mistake, so no smoke leaked out.” Ash folded his hands together, “Thank you for your understanding.”

“Then please go back to your car, and I'll clean up the bathroom a little.” The female flight attendant said, “Because there will be children using the bathroom, make sure there is no strange smell or filth in it.”

Yaxiu was full of confidence, “Don't worry, we didn't leak at all, and some washed away, we are very clean.”

“Let's go.”

After they left, the female flight attendant walked into the bathroom and breathed hard. She focused on checking the trash can and found nothing abnormal, but this is because there are no abnormal cigarette butts and ash.

Then she took a serious look and sketched the picture in the bathroom just now through the traces of her palms: there was a person sitting on the toilet, a person next to the sink, and a third person standing between the two... Wow!

The three of Yaxiu randomly chose a corner of the carriage with fewer people and sat down. Yin Gu, who was leaning against the window, opened the curtains and watched the movement behind the locomotive under the starlight. in that forest.”

“Well, interesting.” Harvey said, “It seems like the first time we managed to escape, so I'm not used to it.”

“Indeed.” Yaxiu said, “It’s been 24 hours since I came to the Kingdom of Stars, and I still have the right to go to the bathroom freely. I’m not even restricted from personal freedom. It feels contrary to my professionalism.”

“If you want, I can install a dog leash with an electric shock function for you. If you want to add a tail, it’s not impossible. You’re welcome.” Yin Gula said coldly: “What occupation will need it?” We must be arrested first.” We are still in the state of being wanted for this kind of literacy, so take it seriously! ”

This time through is different from the past.

When they first arrived in the kingdom of the gospel, they were immediately taken away by An Nan who was in ambush. com had no resistance at all; when they first arrived in Senluo Kingdom, they appeared at the base camp of the Sanctuary of Fire Tribulation.

But this time Yaxiu and the others were not ambushed after they traveled to Fanxing, nor did they appear in the sphere of influence of others, but came to the deserted countryside. This treatment is really not very good, it can only be regarded as 0 points, but the problem is that Yaxiu and the others used to travel through the level of ‘hell’ and ‘become a fat man and then enter hell’, and now fate just beats them a little less. One meal is enough to make Ash and the others grateful.

But the thanksgiving session only lasted for 30 minutes, and the army of magicians riding griffins appeared in front of them. At that time, Yaxiu was cooking, and his frying pan and even his stove were directly overturned by the miracle of thunder magic, but he was not annoyed by this, but heaved a sigh of relief.

This taste is right!

How could the escape plot not be triggered after crossing over!

It’s like hearing one boot fell off upstairs, and now the other boot has fallen too, and I can finally feel at ease!

Chapter 758: Who do you want to meet at Galese?

When Yaxiu and the others took the initiative to face the Griffin troop, they still thought that they should be a little more lenient when they were newcomers.

But Ash soon discovered that they were the one who was at a disadvantage.

The Griffin troop was flying so fast that Yaxiu and the others couldn't catch up if they didn't have to move miracles, but the Griffin troop was good at creating the right time and place. These meteorologists didn't attack the three of Yaxiu at all, constantly dodging to create thunderstorms, tornadoes, etc. The extreme weather hindered the steps of the three invasive alien species as much as possible.

The meteorologist has been hiding at the farthest safe distance to cast spells. The three of Yaxiu immediately flew far away if they wanted to fight back. The three of them immediately chased after them if they wanted to escape. There is no opportunity to hide. They were hunted down for a whole day and night, but there were more and more Griffin meteorologists, and they even had to change shifts. They almost treated the three of Yaxiu as if they were killing fish and dragons.

It was not until the seventh attempt to hide that Yin Gula suddenly realized whether they were being monitored by Miracles, so they would be found no matter where they were hiding.

After many tests, they were so sure that the surveillance came from the sky, so after they added a sky-specific camouflage to themselves, the Griffin Meteorologist was immediately unable to determine their exact location.

Then Ash and the others successfully infiltrated the surrounding towns. After comparing the maps, they realized that they had been chased by the griffin meteorologist for hundreds of kilometers. Griffin meteorologists naturally won't let it go. Since they can't determine the specific location, let's conduct a carpet search!

In order to get rid of this group of pursuers, Ash and the others got on a luxury locomotive, turned around and headed for Galese.

The Griffin Meteorologist never expected that the three migrant workers had been found to have no temporary residence permits, but not only did they not flee in a hurry, but instead dared to go to the star-filled capital Galese, which can be said to be very self-motivated migrant workers.

Although it is said to be 'getting on a locomotive', identity verification is required to take any means of transportation, and even Lala Fei needs a quarantine certificate. Yaxiu and the others couldn't even disguise themselves, so they could only rely on the omnipotent Yin Gula to confuse the flight attendants. They got into the locomotive and hid in the bathroom. They didn't dare to come out until the locomotive left the search area of the Griffin meteorologist. .

The dignified sanctuary magician, the first illegal thing he did in the country of stars was to evade fares and take the train.

"I'm serious, okay, I haven't slept for a moment." Yaxiu said, "But I don't know which two children fell asleep? Oh, it's so tiring to take care of two children..."

"I'm closing my eyes and resting," Harvey said immediately. "If I want to sleep, I'll sleep in the coffin, so I won't pass out standing up. But you're right, taking care of two kids is really tiring."

Yin Gula was about to laugh angrily: "You two guys still think you're not a child? If I hadn't taken care of your two giant babies, would I have slept in the bathroom?"

At this moment, the door of the carriage was suddenly pushed open, and a handsome young man with blond hair hurriedly walked in and passed through the carriage, like a gust of wind blowing by.

Ash and the others only had time to see each other's back, and then Harvey suddenly said, "It's a woman."

"Well, indeed." Yin Gula also affirmed, "and she is in good shape."

"Have you two been so hungry and thirsty for so long that when you see a good-looking handsome guy, you think it's a woman?" Yaxiu helped her forehead, "Would you like to go to the bathroom to solve your physical problems? Just don't go with the two of you."

"Didn't you sense it?" Yin Gula asked.

"Sensing what?"

“The smell of black crows!”

“You mean the smell of blood or what?”

Harvey explained: “It’s that kind of smell that’s obviously a woman but has to act like a man.”

Ash said, “First, are you talking about smell or some kind of metaphysical intuition? Second, can you be sure that Tamashi is a woman?”

The deceiver and the necromancer looked at each other, Yin Gula was a little uncertain: “It’s impossible for a man to grow like that...?”

“Before I met you, I never thought that a man could look so rambunctious.” Ash said, “This speculation is not true.”

Harvey raised his hand: “I have an argument. The black crow has a wider pelvis and a very large hip. Can you prove that it is a woman?”

“It’s still not true.” Yaxiu spread his hands: “The example of Yin Gula is enough to smash your argument.”

“Right...”

“You two * are deliberately hurting me, aren’t you?” Yin Gula’s shoulders were shaking with anger, and she said coldly, “Are you not carrying the black crow all the time, Yaxiu, don’t you feel it at all?”

“She usually wears armor, and her whole body is rigid.” Yaxiu was helpless: “How do I feel? And I didn’t think about it at that time.”

Yin Gula asked maliciously, “Then you want the black crow to be male or female?”

“Is that even a question?” Ash replied, “I hope you are women!”

Snapped!

Yaxiu stretched out his hand to block the flanking attacks from the left and right, and said, “Okay, okay, aren’t you very sleepy? Sleep a little while you still have time, and I’ll stay awake all the time. We’ll have to think about it when we get to Galese. Find a place to live.”

Yaxiu naturally knew why Yingula and Harvey were so sleepy. One of them was reborn from the eyeball, and the other body was like a tattered doll with cotton leaking out. Although they recovered with great difficulty, they consumed too much life energy. Not only need to eat a lot, but also need enough sleep to adjust the body, like oiling new gears to help break in.

They are exhausted.

Not to mention that they had just experienced the annihilation event of the silent spiral, and after they crossed into the country of stars, they were hunted down by the griffin meteorologist for a day and a night.

“Well,” Yin Gula covered her eyes with her arms, “I’m really tired... But a cheater won’t be drowsy in such an unsafe place. The danger is more refreshing than any stimulation.”

Ash: “You mean the bathroom can give you a great sense of security?”

Harvey propped his chin up and said, “Maybe he wants a lap pillow.”

“how about you?”

“Of course I want it too, but it’s not convenient for Alice to come out, so I don’t want to sleep either.”

Yin Gula ignored the nonsense of the two of them: “I found out that you can use an accent similar to that of a female flight attendant, Yaxiu. Is this really your first time to the country of stars?”

Although the phonetic and text can achieve world unity through the information contained in the virtual world, the virtual world phonetic text can only be regarded as the ‘official language’, and each country is an island independent of each other, and will naturally develop regional characteristics. dialect. Like the Blood Moon language, it is more convoluted, and it sounds like singing; the Gospel language can’t distinguish the sounds of F and H, and it sounds cute; the Senluo language likes to add a suffix to a long sound, which is a bit whine.

So when Yaxiu was talking to the female flight attendant just now, neither Yingula nor Harvey spoke up. As soon as they spoke, the female flight attendant would find out that they were not locals. But it was natural for Yaxiu to switch accents. The female flight attendant didn’t notice anything wrong, and she didn’t even think of the invasive alien species that the Griffon Meteorologist was chasing.

“It’s really my first time here.” Yaxiu said, “I just used to chat with a star-studded person, that’s why I mastered the sound of the door.”

Yin Gula nodded and asked again:

“Then you want to go to Galese so much, just to see that person?”

Chapter 759: Looking for Jianji Squad

Facing Igula’s question, Ash did not answer immediately.

Yaxiu rested her head on the backrest of the seat, looking at the LCD light curtain on the back of the chair in front, which was showing a boring urban romance drama, Igula lost interest just after a glance –

the beautiful blonde girl one and the vicious redhead girl two The series of emotional disputes surrounding the male protagonist have no appreciation value.

Although Igula likes to learn about the national conditions of different countries by watching entertainment works, he also has aesthetic ability. Only works that can reflect social phenomena are eligible to be played at eight times speed in his eyes. Like this kind of love idol drama that deliberately weakens the relationship of social production, emphasizes fairy tale-like love disputes, focuses on the appearance of the protagonists, and caters to ignorant girls, he really has no interest in it.

This kind of movie is only watched by Yaxiu – but Igula is not surprised. After all, Yaxiu was chased by blood mad hunters after breaking out of prison. Is both ignorant and girly.

“I’m not sure.” After a long time, Yaxiu spoke slowly, with a low voice: “I have to look at the situation before making a decision.”

“Interesting, it turns out that you also have the function of ‘observe first and then decide’. I thought your spinal center only had the command of ‘charge’.” Igula snorted: “If you can be like now every time you go to death Hesitating like this, maybe we won’t be in this situation.”

Ash: “But in that case, we might still be watching the Blood Moon Trial while eating Lala Fat in Broken Lake Prison.”

“Ash is right,” Harvey agreed. “Although not having a brain is an unbearable disadvantage for most people, Ash is obviously a very rare case.”

Ash squinted at the necromancer, “I’ll just pretend you’re complimenting me.”

“Then, what are you hesitating about?” Igula asked: “Galosa is the capital of the starry kingdom. Whether it is guard power or high-end combat power, it is the star of the stars. There are a few resident legends alone. According to normal Said, we should go to the edge of the stars to avoid pursuit, and then find a way to leave through the empty door magic, instead of running where the danger is.”

“As the saying goes, it’s dark under the lights, and the most dangerous place is also the safest place. Maybe Galosh is more suitable for us to hide...”

“Before you can look me in the eyes and lie, you’d better be honest.” Igula said coldly.

“Okay,” Ash sighed, “Actually, I’ve always wanted to come to the Kingdom of the Stars—just like I wanted to go back to the Kingdom of the Gospel—but the situation in the Kingdom of the Stars was completely beyond my expectations. Do you remember Law 51?”

“Of course,” Harvey said, “those gryphon meteorologists will read Law No. 51 before they start. I thought it was a death ceremony unique to the Starry Kingdom. But it’s really interesting to read the other party’s crimes before killing people. It seems that The corpses here can bring me a lot of surprises.”

“Are you serious?” Igula glared at Harvey: “We are on a hunt now, and the entire starry kingdom is our enemy. Maybe it will be desperate in the next second. You still want to dig a grave?”

The necromancer’s eyes glowed when he heard it, and he clapped and said, “As expected of you, what you said made me more and more excited.”

The fraudster propped his forehead, “It seems that I can’t control this corpse lover who is just in time for fun – what about you, Ashe, what happened to Law No. 51?”

“You said it just now.” Ash said, “The entire kingdom of stars is against us.”

“Because of the Gospel and Sen Luo, I thought that the most xenophobic degree of foreigners in the native country was throwing them into prison. A performance artist like me who is as comfortable as returning home is not afraid of this kind of treatment. How could I know that Fanxing would be like this? If you are hostile to outsiders, you will kill one if you see the enemy. Moreover, Decree No. 51 also stipulates that it is a felony for the citizens of Fanxing to cover up or conspire with outsiders. Do you know what this means?”

Igula: “This means that if you want to meet the other party without polluting the other party’s files, you can only choose a criminal route you like from three aspects: kidnapping, kidnapping, and abduction.”

Yaxiu was stunned for a while, then patted the fraudster on the shoulder, “The best choice I’ve ever made in my life was to force you to be my accomplice in jailbreak—yes, that’s okay!”

“I’m glad to be able to help you.” Igola put Ashu’s hand away: “I really deserve to be appreciated by you.”

“But this is also the last forced choice,” Ash said. “If I think the environment does not allow it, then without affecting her life, I will use criminal means to meet.”

“What if the circumstances allow it?”

“Take her away,” Yaxiu said, “Or I’ll stay.”

Igola and Harvey were slightly startled. They turned to look at the cult leader and confirmed that the guy was serious.

“I thought you just wanted to go back to the Gospel Kingdom and eat Liz for a lifetime.” Harvey said.

Yaxiu clicked his tongue: “How do you make me look like a scum father who * his daughter’s blood?”

“Isn’t it?” Igola asked.

“Of course not, I just want to go back and spend time with Liz, but she’s so old that it’s impossible for her to continue sleeping with me, so it makes sense for her to make room for me in the palace?” Ash said: “I didn’t want to raise my daughter, I just wanted to continue raising Queen Yisu.”

Harvey looked at Ash and said seriously: “Shamelessness is a disadvantage for most people, but you are also a very rare exception.”

Igola said, “To you, the woman you want to see is more important than Liz?”

“It can’t be compared like this. If I can take her away, I would definitely prefer to settle in Gospel. Secondly, if I stay, I will also find a way to establish a permanent empty gate that is connected with Gospel, and often go back to visit Liz.” Ash said. : “Liz is my family, and I can give Liz all my love. But I must be with her, because she is the companion who will accompany me to the end of my life.”

“Reasonable,” Harvey raised his hand, “if you die before me—the odds are pretty high given the current situation—then not only will I accompany you to the end of your life, but the journey after your death will also I’ll do it all by myself.”

“So what?” Facing the interruption of the necromancer, Ash looked helpless, “Do you want to be my partner too?”

“After you die, you will be born in the hands of a necromancer, so he is not only your life partner, but also your rebirth mother.” Igula sneered: “You should call him Mama Harvey.”

“Then Aunt Borgin, Mama Harvey, my plan now is to go to Gales first to see if it is possible to clear our identities, or to see if it is possible for her to come with me.” Ash said: “ When the situation is confirmed, I will decide how to meet her.”

“The only problem is that we need to take a lot of risks. After all, we have to hide and investigate in the starry capital. Once exposed, we may face the siege of the legendary sanctuary, and this matter has nothing to do with you. , it’s purely my personal business.” Ash looked at them, “If you don’t want to risk this kind of thing, I can understand.”

“Harvey, are you interested?” Igula propped her cheek with her left hand: “Risk your life to wander in Gala, just to see what kind of person makes Ashe fascinated and obsessed?”

“Isn’t this nonsense?” Harvey said, “Not only me, but the coffin in my space ring is shaking. Even Alice is very curious.”

Seeing them join his ‘Looking for the Sword Princess Squad’ without any hesitation, Yaxiu was moved but also a little worried: “If you really want to meet, I hope you will pay attention to your words and deeds and be a little more normal.”

“She is a legal citizen with no criminal record. Don’t expose yourself as a dangerous person and a pervert as soon as you speak. If she hates you, it will be very troublesome... I don’t want to be caught in the conflict between friends and partners.”

“For example, didn’t you say you used to mess with An Nan and Qin Na?” Harvey asked

“And don’t you talk about the complicated relationship between you and Yin Deng that hurt each other and got tangled?” Igula asked.

Yaxiu blinked and nodded, “Yes!”

Chapter 760: Photographer and Hospice

It’s funny, although Jian Ji always wanted Yaxiu to come to Fanxing, although Yaxiu always wanted to come to Fanxing to see Jianji, but what to do after the meeting, the two did not discuss at all. Just like in a fairy tale, the prince and the princess only need to be together to be the end, as for the firewood, rice, oil and salt in the back, there is no need to think about it at all.

The main reason is that they all think that crossing the country is very far away. Before inheriting the Kingdom of Thousand Wishes, they didn’t even have any specific ideas for crossing the country. Just like you didn’t even buy a lottery ticket, you naturally don’t bother to imagine how to spend your money after winning the first prize. .

Who would have thought that after they inherited the Kingdom of Thousand Wishes, the concept of the empty door and the spirit of the empty door would explode, and Yaxiu and the others came to the kingdom of stars by chance?

If this time-travel appeared a few years later, Yaxiu would not have any doubts at all: at that time, they must have long been legendary peak magicians, and they would be able to run amok by force alone, and the kingdom of stars would be defeated if they refused to accept it.

If this time-travel appeared a few months ago, Ash would not have any extra thoughts. If he is not strong enough, he can only go with the flow, obediently being put in prison and awaiting trial. How can he resist?

But the time-travel happened during the embarrassing period when Yaxiu first entered the legend. If you say he is strong, both the magician army and the top magician can beat him; say he is weak, but only the magician army and the top magician can beat him. get him.

Of course, if Yaxiu wanted to resist, even if he couldn't destroy the world, he would still have no problem eroding thousands of miles and piercing the kingdom of stars. But the problem is that he came to see Jian Ji-Axiu had thought about the many possibilities for him to appear in Jian Ji's life, but none of them appeared as a wanted order.

More importantly, see Jian Ji, and then what?

Take Jian Ji away? But Jian Ji's contacts, career, and relatives are all in the stars. She has more and more friends, and she gradually becomes dazzling. Except for Yaxiu, everything she likes is in the stars. She is really willing to do it for Yaxiu. Give up the life of the past twenty years and start over?

stay? To be honest, it's not that Yaxiu couldn't accept this result. When he found out that this was the Kingdom of Stars, he was thinking about how to obtain the citizenship of the Kingdom of Stars with legendary combat power. Even if he fails to stay in the end, he can travel the stars with Jian Ji upright, and spend the honeymoon by the way...

He had never thought about how difficult it would be – even if the Starry Kingdom was hostile to the invaders, wouldn't it be possible to push a legend out?

What, the kingdom of stars doesn't trust me? In this way, Fanxingren and I become husband and wife, this will definitely show my sincerity!

But Yaxiu didn't expect that the Kingdom of Fans did not leave a green channel for high-end talents who smuggled in – as long as they were intruders, they would have to die!

That's why Yaxiu even hesitated to meet Jian Ji: in this case, unless Jian Ji was determined to run away with him, any contact with Jian Ji would put her at unnecessary risk.

But no matter what, Ash would definitely meet Jian Ji.

Even if it's just to keep the promise, even if it's just to feel each other's body temperature, even if it's just to confirm each other's existence, he is willing to risk all risks to sneak into Galese.

When you see Jian Ji, what are your first words?

"So, is this our final journey?"

Hearing Harvey's question, Yingula thought for a while and replied, "Although you said it as if we were dying... but you are right, this should be our last journey."

"Whether Ash stays here or goes back to the Gospel, he will definitely not continue to take risks, and I am the same as you... In fact, as early as the Gospel, if we hadn't approached the vines that emerged from Ash's body, we would have been there. Gospel kingdom live a quiet life."

"Quiet life..." Harvey said softly, "It doesn't sound like us."

"What do you want to do after you settle down?" Ash looked at Yingula: "Gospel is already the kingdom of your Liz's niece, so why don't you want to start a criminal group? Of course, if you want to be Liz's gangster. Gloves, I'm still very welcome. By the way, didn't you forget that Anfil is still waiting for you to give her a home?"

"Let's talk about it later." The fraudster said: "However, I really have no interest in going back to my old business. As for what I want to do..."

“I want to be a photographer.”

The cult leader and the necromancer were startled when they heard the words, and immediately scratched their heads together.

Yaxiu guessed: “Are you a spiritual photographer who wants to take pictures of the dirty secrets in people’s minds, and then threaten the other party to give money?”

“I think the ugliness of people should be directly photographed, and then the photos can be used as materials for casting spells to curse photographers for hypnosis, brainwashing, curses, etc.” Harvey gave his thoughts.

“It’s just an ordinary photographer.” Yin Gula was speechless: “A photographer who shoots starry sky, mountains, clouds, ruins, and all natural scenery. Yaxiu, you know, I don’t really like human society, just I wandered here just to make money, and now that I have the conditions, I don’t need to breathe the disgusting, smelly air with hundreds of millions of people.”

Ash asked, “Do you feel sick of being in the same room with us?”

“How is that possible.” Yingula shrugged: “We are all covered in the smell of Alice’s corpse, and I can’t tell the difference between the three of us.”

“No thanks,” Harvey said. “Necronomicon is always unexpectedly useful, right?”

“Sounds great, but when you’re a photographer...” Ash bit his nails and said, “I wouldn’t be surprised when it was revealed that the organization behind the scenes that manipulated the world was called the ‘Photographers Union’.”

“What about you, Harvey?” Ingula asked, “It’s still the body disposal department, right?”

“Of course, that’s the research location I’ve always dreamed of,” Harvey said. “But I’m going to expand the business a little bit, moving the work node forward from ‘after death’ to ‘before death’.”

Yaxiu looked at Yin Gula, and then Yaxiu asked cautiously, "Do you mean you want to be a killer, a war madman, or a simple serial murderer?"

"It's hospice care," Harvey said. "I've always been very interested in human beings entering death, and hospice care can not only watch the living go through the veil of death, but if I can make them feel at ease with the arrival of death, Better corpse material for sure... Chikara showed me a wonderful path."

"He is a qualified hospice and a qualified necromancer. I will realize his potential."

Ya Xiu was slightly startled, then turned to look at Yin Gula and asked, "Are you because of Gwen?"

Yin Gula looked at the starry sky outside the window and said softly, "Maybe it is."

Gwen and Chikara's departure was too fast and hastily, and then Ash and the others encountered events such as the Gate of Thousand Wishes, the Vichy attack, and the crossing of the stars, and there was no time to stop; There are too many Luo people, and it is easy to be numb; and the three of them are psychopaths who are hiding everything, and it is shameful for them to express their emotions.

But not saying it, doesn't mean they forgot. There were only three people when they entered Senluo, and there were only three people when they left Senluo, but some invisible and unknown things have been quietly engraved in the depths of their souls, becoming their armor and their weakness.

"What about you, Yaxiu?" Yin Gula asked, "Apart from eating, sleeping and playing games, what other plans do you have?"

"Let me make one point first, as a magician, I won't sleep." Ash said, "Unless you're talking about sleeping as a physical activity for two or more people."

"If I can stay or take her away, there are only two things I want to do: find a way to get back to the Thousand Wishes Kingdom, I'm not afraid that Tamashi will destroy the Thousand Wishes Kingdom, I'm just afraid that she will starve to death in it; then That is, I have to go back to Sen Luo."

"Sen Luo has been destroyed." Harvey said, "It's dangerous to go back."

Ash: "I know, but I have to get something back."

Yin Gula was stunned and sighed softly, "Is it Silver Lamp?"

"If the legend is not enough, then step into the realm of God; if one year is not enough, then three or five years." Ash said seriously: "I will not leave the silver lamp in the dark."

Yin Gula was silent for a moment and asked, "Do you like her, or do you like everything she gave for you?"

Yaxiu spread her hands and smiled, "Do I value the two of you, or do I value everything you've done for me?"

"Up to now, everyone is a bad debt and can't figure it out. She saved me from death, and I have to pull her back from the darkness."

"Some people say it's going to be rotten, but the goal is bigger than anyone else." Yin Gula shook his head: "Don't mention that far-what are you going to do after entering Galeworld?"

"Find a local to integrate into the city first." Ash pondered: "It is best to find a local with moral taint, hypnotize or threaten, then live in his house and eat his meals, and use him to inquire about intelligence. Deliver the message."

Yin Gula said, "It would be much easier if there were gangsters..."

Just as they were discussing, a gust of wind suddenly penetrated the door between the carriages and quickly overflowed the entire carriage.

Miracle of the mind · The inner shield of the mind.

Swordsmanship Miracle – Kill Me in progress.

Flame Miracle · Internal Combustion Desolation.

They judged at a glance that this was a miracle of wind magic, and that the sanctuary could not completely stop the air flow, so they showed defensive miracles to block it. A small number of other passengers in the carriage fell asleep one after another, and the three of Yaxiu looked at each other and pretended to be lethargic.

At this moment, a handsome blond man suddenly ran into the carriage, the one who was commented on by Harvey and Ingula just now. He looked around for a week, and when he saw the three of them sitting together, his eyes lit up. First, a gust of wind blew open the door of the next compartment, and then turned into a stream of air and got into the seat, squeezing between Ash and Yingula – his figure Slim like a shadow, with the help of the airflow, he was naturally hidden among the three.

At this time, several masked people broke into the carriage. They held guns and cold weapons in their hands, and wore weird masks with six lights on their heads. They walked silently. They first glanced around to observe the passengers, and then glanced at the door in front of them that had been pushed open.

Seeing that they were about to rush through the door of the carriage to chase the next train, the six lanterns at the front suddenly stopped and said, “There are no traces of footsteps – he is in this train!”

winter!

Ash could feel the pounding heartbeat coming from the side.

“Second Young Master, the chase and escape game is over, you lose.”

The Six Lanterns looked at the sleeping passengers in the carriage and said coldly:

“Come out, Felix Vosloda, here is the end of your life.”
