

Super Rich Dad Chapter 757-758

Chapter 757

Sally took a faint glance at the injuries on Jiang Hao's body and spoke after a sigh, 'Is there something you're hiding from me?'

Hearing this, Jiang Hao's heart was shocked and a few hints of panic inevitably flashed on his face.

Sally looked at Jiang Hao with a look of disappointment appearing in her eyes. However, she did not say anything.

Considering Jiang Hao's identity and the fact that Shen Tianyang controlled the overseas Shen family, it was only normal for him to conceal his identity.

After shaking her head with a smile, Sally looked at Jiang Hao and continued, 'It's okay, now that I've saved you. Then it proves that you are safe now.'

Old Black also glanced at Jiang Hao through the rearview mirror at this time, then laughed brightly, 'Don't pretend to be in front of us, you kid. We know exactly what you're capable of.'

After hearing this, Jiang Hao glanced at Sally with some surprise, but saw that Sally was also looking at herself with a smile on her face, as if it was true.

After a moment of silence, Jiang Hao laughed lightly and said somewhat self-deprecatingly, 'Well, it seems like you guys are really clear about who I am.'

Hearing this, a hint of excitement flashed in Sally's eyes.

'Chu Jiang? Jiang Hao?' It was just two words that were elastic, after seeing Jiang Hao nodding with a bitter smile.

Everything fell into place, and Sally couldn't help but have a faint look of delight floating in her eyes. Ning Kun's character was completed not to mention that she had also managed to save Jiang Hao.

Since this was the case, then this operation was not considered a sham, and at least she had something to say to the following.

But Old Black said with a heated smile as he drove, 'You're hiding a lot from us, if we didn't think you were suspicious, we wouldn't have come to save you today.'

Jiang Hao nodded with a bitter smile after hearing this, and after taking a closer look around himself, he found that Sally and Old Black were the only two people around.

A look of disappointment flashed unconsciously in his eyes, a person would have more or less a trace of expectation in his heart.

Especially since Jiang Hao had helped Lin Yan so much. The result was that Lin Yan didn't even come to pick him up when he was in trouble, which made Jiang Hao feel a little uncomfortable inside.

As if sensing the thoughts in Jiang Hao's mind, Sally smiled when she saw his face and said, 'Lin Yan also helped this time, but it's just that it's not appropriate for the Lin family to go head-to-head with the Shen family right now.'

Jiang Hao's face reddened slightly after hearing this and he quickly spoke, 'Didn't you say you wouldn't interfere in the affairs of the Northern Province, will stepping in this time bring you any trouble?'

Lin Yan laughed lightly twice and shook her head, 'It doesn't count this time, after all, it's not like you're representing any clan, but there will still be a little bit of trouble.'

Old Black sat in the front row and also frowned slightly. The Shen family was still somewhat powerful in the Northern Province.

They might not dare to confront Sally head-on, but they were bound to use some kind of private plotting and trickery.

But Old Black would take care of those things. She didn't have to worry about that.

Sally looked at Jiang Hao and fell silent. There were some things she should probably ask him.

And Jiang Hao looked at Sally's eyes looking at him, he couldn't help but feel a bit flustered in his heart, and after a long time of hesitation he sighed bitterly.

'If there's anything you want to ask, you can ask it. You always make me feel a bit frazzled inside when you look at me like that.'

Sally hesitated for a moment at those words, but still said in a deep voice, 'Did anything happen when you came here from Chu Jiang, did you meet any special people?'

'Since you were able to find out my identity. Then I think the matter of the Thirty Mile Shop must not be concealed from you, my identity was made for me by Qian Lao.'

Jiang Hao was also quite naked, and when faced with Sally's question, he simply gave a clear account of everything.

And after hearing Jiang Hao's words, Sally looked at him with an unconscious flash of colour in her eyes, after all, one person alone against a force as huge as Shen Tianyang.

It was like a plot in a movie, as if a lone hero.

Sally looked at Jiang Hao with complicated eyes and spoke, 'After all these things haven't you seen through that you alone can't fight Shen Tianyang.'

'Then can I still rely on you. I believe there should be no conflict between you and Shen Tianyang now, right?'

Old Black snorted upon hearing this and looked at Jiang Hao from the rear-view mirror, shaking his head and laughing, 'Are you testing our old boss?'

Jiang Hao's face flushed slightly. He did mean it, but judging from Sally's reaction. He hadn't said anything wrong.

Sally, on the other hand, hesitated for a moment before saying in a deep voice, 'You will soon know if there is any conflict, since I saved you from today. You have to remember that you owe me a favour.'

Jiang Hao has always done a good job of separating gratitude from grievance, and looking at Sally's serious look he nodded slightly and said in a deep voice, 'Don't worry, I will remember.'

Soon after, the old black Sally took Jiang Hao back to the Tianzhu Villa, then Sally took Jiang Hao to her office and closed the curtains until the house was in darkness.

Only then did Sally take out a remote control and pressed it, and instantly a picture of Shen Tianyang was projected on the wall of the office.

She sat on the chair and looked at Jiang Hao's face with some surprise, smiled lightly and said, 'Should I call you Jiang Hao now, or Shen Hao, or Shen Yan?'

Jiang Hao shrugged and spoke, 'You should still address me as Jiang Hao, I don't want to use the name Shen Hao as long as the Shen family's great revenge is not avenged.'

Sally couldn't help but mutter after skimming her lips, in her opinion, if Jiang Hao had always been such a solo fighter.

Not to mention revenge, it would be thankful if he could ensure that he didn't have any accidents.

The difference between Shen Tianyang and Jiang Hao was that there was a strict block on their hands, and their every move was under Shen Tianyang's jurisdiction.

Similarly, if Shen Tianyang wanted to know anything, these people were like his eyes and ears that could be prolonged indefinitely.

But Jiang Hao was only one person, and Chu Jiang had fled in disarray to the Northern Province, not to mention some eyes and ears.

To put it bluntly, he wouldn't even know if something slightly happened in the North Mansion, let alone if it was directed at Shen Tianyang.

Thinking of this Sally let out a soft sigh, she was now a little puzzled as to why the people above her had to keep Jiang Hao.

'I don't think I need to introduce Shen Tianyang's identity information to you, the thing I want to tell you from my side is that we also know what you are carrying.'

Jiang Hao sat on the sofa and quietly looked at Sally, who no longer looked like a little girl, but like a sophisticated businessman.

She was calm and collected, but also had a keen instinct to judge the interests of both sides as quickly as possible, and this was what took Jiang Hao's breath away.'

Chapter 758

'I know some things about the Shen clan, so don't worry about why I know them for a moment, I have news for you now.'

Speaking of this, Sally hesitated for a moment. If this news was told she risked carrying the suspicion of using Jiang Hao on her.

But it was only a moment before she figured out that Jiang Hao would have to know about this matter sooner or later anyway, so it would be better to tell him as early as possible rather than knowing about it later.

'In the tragic case of the extermination of the Shen clan's family back then, the Shen clan of the Northern Province also played a role in it. How about that, isn't that a surprise?'

Jiang Hao's eyes were rounded as he sniffed at Sally. He wasn't just surprised now, he was simply astonished.

'What did you just say, that the Northern Province Shen family was also involved in the extermination case against the Shen clan family back then?'

After saying this Jiang Hao looked at Sally rather incredulously and said, 'No wonder I was somewhat uncomfortable with the Shen family as soon as I came to the Northern Province, it turns out that they were enemies themselves.'

Sally sat in her chair and looked at Jiang Hao's expression and sighed lightly, 'There are times when people's intuition is very sharp, I don't know what to say, I can only be glad that I didn't hesitate when I used the Shen family last time.'

Jiang Hao remembered that incident and looked to Sally with a knowing smile, both of them understanding the meaning in the other's smile.

'What do you mean by telling me this news, do you want to join me together to deal with the Northern Province Shen family?'

Jiang Hao wasn't stupid either, friends were friends. But when it came to business, that was the enemy, and he wouldn't hesitate with Sally for a moment.

Sally shrugged her shoulders and looked at Jiang Hao with a faint appreciation in her eyes, it could be seen that Sally was also enjoying negotiating with Jiang Hao very much.

'The North House Shen family has done a lot of unspeakable things in the North House over the years, and I think you can see that I am not a businessman in the first place.'

Speaking here, Sally paused, her mind couldn't help but think of Ning Kun.

Neither of us was a businessman, but what we ended up doing seemed to have turned sour.

Thinking of this Sally shook her head and continued, 'I won't touch the Shen family in the North. But you're different, and I'll try to help you deal with them.'

Jiang Hao looked at Sally for a long time in silence, if Sally didn't offer him help he would have to deal with the Northern House Shen family too, it was something he carried on his back and couldn't escape.

And if Sally offered him help, he could deal with the Shen family better, so Jiang Hao hesitated for a while and did not open his mouth to ask Sally why she wanted to deal with Shen Wennian and the others.

The two men sat in the office staring at each other in silence for a long time, and then suddenly both sides laughed lightly.

Jiang Hao lowered his head and laughed before he couldn't help but say, 'Originally, I thought I might not have any friends left. In the future, I can only achieve my purpose through my own efforts still.'

Sally opened a bottle of red wine and nodded slightly at the vintage before picking up a glass and pouring Jiang Hao a glass and saying, 'Although it is said that you should not drink when you are injured. But I'm afraid your status as a third level martial artist wouldn't care about this small injury, right?'

Hearing Sally's mouthful of wine reveal his greatest ability, Jiang Hao couldn't help but look at Sally with a horrified expression!

'You, how did you know that I'm already a level three martial artist, I've never told anyone about this matter. It shouldn't have been recorded.'

At Jiang Hao's frightened look, Sally instead looked at him with some confusion and said, 'You wouldn't be unaware of that, would you? The outflow of true qi is the sign of a third level martial artist, you only need to look at your performance at the Xue family to judge this.'

Jiang Hao came to his senses when he thought of this. Then he fell into silence.

When he had killed all the way out from the Thirty Mile Shop, the Shang Dian in his body seemed to have been stimulated, hardening him to the threshold of a third level martial artist.

Although Jiang Hao was able to exert his true qi, he had never been able to control it well, as if there was always a hurdle there.

Thinking of this, he looked at Sally with some hesitation and said, 'There might be some problems with my status as a third level martial artist, although I can do it, I can't control it very well.'

Sally looked at Jiang Hao in surprise. Her face looked like she wanted to laugh but didn't dare to, she couldn't hold it in before she snorted out a laugh!

'You can't be that silly. A third level martial artist's True Qi outflow needs more practice, do you think you can just control it casually once you reach it?'

The most important thing for every martial artist, apart from gongfu resources. It was the diligent practice.

After all, when most martial artists reached around level two, their bodies had basically reached their peak.

Don't look at Sally's breezy words about a level three martial artist when she confronted Jiang Hao. In fact, the first time she saw Jiang Hao's true qi outburst, her heart had already been boiling inside!

What kind of existence is a level three martial artist? To put it simply, their bodies and other aspects were already far beyond those of ordinary people, and things like tearing down walls with their bare hands were just child's play to them!

It was for this reason that Jiang Hao had never dared to use his power as a third level martial artist, and had always suppressed himself to the first level.

On the one hand, it was to hide better, and on the other hand, he was worried that he might not be able to control it properly, as his power was too shocking after all.

If a slight carelessness caused any trouble, then not only would Shen Tianyang come looking for him, but I was afraid that many people would also flock to the North Mansion.

Jiang Hao fell slightly silent as he listened to Sally explain a bit about the information on Level 3 martial artists.

At the beginning, although he was learning these things with Shen Haoting, Shen Haoting hadn't taught her systematically after all, until after the battle in the Slanted Sun Valley.

Jiang Hao had been directly upgraded by one level under the augmentation of Shang Dian, and together with the chase in that rainy night, he was forced to stimulate his potential to possess the strength of a third level martial artist.

But his strength had gone up, but he was instead unsure of where to take his next step.

And Sally was even more dumbfounded when she learnt that Jiang Hao had done absolutely no training whatsoever!

This was the same rash young man who knew nothing and had stiffly stomped on the nominal Northern House of Shen two or three times!

Shaking her head with a bitter smile, Sally opened the drawer of her office work while taking out a book of information and putting it in front of Jiang Hao.

While laughing bitterly, she said, 'This is some news about third level martial artists, don't look at me, I can't practice this stuff, otherwise I wouldn't have given it to you.'

Jiang Hao looked at the information on the table and thought about excusing himself, but in the end, he couldn't resist the temptation and put it away inside his clothes with a wipe of his hand.

Sally laughed twice at Jiang Hao's sly look before arranging for Old Black to take Jiang Hao down to shower and change his clothes.

Only after Jiang Hao had left the office did Sally curb the smile on her face and a look of pain flashed across her eyes.

In her position, she was unable to think about many things, so she had developed a double personality over time.
