

Chapter 769

Yi Yan took Yin Luo's hand and walked slowly on the street. Her hands are smaller than his, but she feels very comfortable.

The breeze slowly blew across the street, the leaves on the blowing trees shook and made a "sand" sound, and the blowing leaves walked away to see another world. The wind also slowly blew the corners of their clothes, messing up the broken hair in front of Yin Luo's forehead.

They had just finished eating and it was very hot, and now a cool breeze is blowing just right, which feels really good.

Yi Yan looked at Yin Luo's side face, with a tall nose and a pale face, so beautiful. If such a scene could happen dozens of times, he would be very willing. If he could spend the rest of his life with her like this, it would be a very happy thing.

Just after walking for a while, a girl came to ask for directions. She looked smaller than Yin Luo, wearing a black sleeveless top that was as short as her belly button, wearing only a ripped shorts underneath, and only a white tulle coat on the outside. The face is pale because of too much foundation, but the lipstick on the lips is very red.

I can see that she tried her best to express herself, but it was a good-looking match. She wore a one-meter-sixth, because the legs looked like one-meter-and-five meters. The heavy makeup made her look like a dummy.

Yin Luo looked at this person as if he had seen him somewhere, but maybe it was too long for him to remember. Maybe it's someone who doesn't matter if you want to come, or just looks familiar, otherwise how could you not remember?

This little brother, how can I get to the city center? The girl only stayed in front of Yi Yan. She should be attracted by Yi Yan's appearance, so she didn't choose Yin Luo to ask for the way, but went to Yi Yan. Bar.

Get out of the way. Although it is possible that the girl simply asked for directions, Yi Yan also clearly felt her good intentions, otherwise she would be closer to Yin Luo, so why only ask him? Therefore, he ignored her at all.

Seeing Yi Yan ignored her, she didn't realize she was a little bit disappointed. Is it because she didn't paint her makeup today? Although the girl around this handsome guy looks pretty, even without makeup, it's not as good as her now after putting on makeup.

She doesn't believe that her ability to strike up a conversation has regressed. When studying abroad in country b, she seduce someone casually on the street. Even if he has a girlfriend by his side, she can kiss her in the street. Now, this handsome guy is just a little colder. She would like the colder instead.

She smiled, and simply took Yi Yan's arm directly. Maybe he would like the kind of directness? So she made her self-confident voice and asked, "Brother, I just came back from studying abroad, and it's night again, so I can't find the way. Can you help me? Huh? Me. Girl, very scared to return."

I said, get out. From the first time he saw this girl, Yi Yan had no good impressions of her. The makeup, the clothes she wears, and the things she does are not what she should do at her age. I really don't know who her parents are. They have the money to send their children to study abroad, but they don't have the money to pay attention to their children's quality education.

The girl was a little stunned when she heard that the man was still so indifferent. After quickly letting go of his hand, there was a strong chill on the man's body, which made people completely inaccessible. It seemed that as soon as he got close, he would die without a place to bury him.

But the more cold and unbelievable man she is, the more she likes it, not to mention that he is handsome. The only drawback is that he should have no money, otherwise, why would he go to such a place with his girlfriend on a date?

But she didn't expect it to be such a result. She would at least pay attention to her in the future, but she didn't expect it to be such a result. Why? Why is he not attracted to himself? Is she and his girlfriend good-looking, or is not as popular as his girlfriend wears. Or maybe he likes... the girl looks at Yin Luo's breasts and then at his own. Does he like big breasts?

At this point, she really can't compare with his girlfriend, after all, she hasn't fully developed yet. After a few more years, she believes that it will definitely be possible.

Looking at the atmosphere in embarrassment, Yin Luo kindly told the girl how to do so, so she has no reason to rely on Yi Yan. "Little girl, you just need to take out your phone, open the data, and finally open the mobile Baidu map to search the city center, trust you. You should be able to find your way if you are so smart."

Unexpectedly, after listening to Yin Luo's words, she became even more restless. She tried to stare wide in front of her, and Chu Chu said pitifully, "Handsome man, what if I get lost as a girl? It's very unsafe in the middle of the night. You just give it away. How about sending me?"

Thinking that he was a person with no money, and she happened to be rich, she tempted, "I know you may be busy, but I don't want to. But if you are willing to send me, I can give you the car as your reward. My car is over there. Can you see?"

The girl pointed her finger at her car. It was a silver-white sports car with a beautiful appearance and could definitely carry a rich man when driving. Although the car is not very expensive, it is worth tens of millions. For someone like him who would come to eat in this kind of place, it should be a big temptation.

The girl looked at Yi Yan expectantly, hoping that he could be excited. Although it might not be cost-effective to trade a sports car for a handsome guy, it is definitely worth it for this man.

The girl waited for the man's reply, but the man just led Yin Luo around her and walked forward.

The girl looked at their backs from behind, clenched her fists, and the hatred in her heart rose. What is good about his girlfriend? What qualifications do you have to steal a man from her?

In the past, those handsome guys followed her ass, and they shamelessly stepped forward when she hooked her finger slightly, letting her call whatever she wanted. Even if there is a handsome guy who is more difficult to hook up, she will naturally get it with a little thought and money.

But today, she did this for him, what is he not satisfied with. Also, he is good enough. So good that even if he still ignores her, she is still willing to do whatever it takes to get him regardless of her face.

Handsome guy, wait, wait. The girl caught up with Yi Yan and Yin Luo again, staring at Yi Yan and said, "Handsome guy, otherwise you can tell me your phone number first and add a WeChat account. My family has a big company. There is always something I can help you. Don't get me wrong, I just want to make friends with you... and this sister, no other ideas."

It can be seen that the girl is now very persistently chasing Yi Yan. Yin Luo decided to help Yi Yan with a good heart. This one by my side."

The girl clenched her fists and pinched her nails deeply into the flesh. Maybe it's not the relationship between boyfriend and girlfriend, are they already married? It doesn't matter, it's just marriage, it can also be cheated and divorced. The man she likes, no matter how you use it, you have to get it. As for when you get it, you can continue to use it if you like it, and kick it away if you don't like it.

She looked at Yi Yan again, and just brought her by the way, but she didn't expect her to take it seriously. She was really shameless. "Handsome man, do you like to make friends? I just want to be friends with you. We can chat if there is nothing wrong. I can give you a gift or something."

The girl looked at Yi Yan with a longing look, looking a bit aggrieved. But Yi Yan didn't move at all. He only looked at Yin Luo and asked, "Did you just... tell me the truth? You only love me?"

Thinking that Yi Yan was acting, in order to drive away the girl who was pestering him, Yin Luo looked at him shyly and nodded affectionately. Acting skills? She has good acting skills.

Unexpectedly, Yi Yan stepped forward and kissed her lips directly, leaving no room for her to react.

She just said that she only loves him. He knew that she might just say this to get rid of the annoying girl, and he knew she was just acting. But he wanted to take it as real, and he also hoped it would become real.

Yin Luo finally broke away from Yi Yan. She wanted to give him a slap, who would let him kiss her inadvertently. It's just that if they get awkward again at this time, then the girl must feel that there is a chance, and she will be even more unscrupulous, and will never let go, and can't give her a chance.

What are you doing, there are outsiders there. Yin Luo reproached and gently pushed the man's chest with his hand. It seems to blame, but it seems to be acting like a baby.

The girl saw this scene, her eyes were a little moist, he knew what she was thinking, and he was still performing this with his girlfriend in front of her. It was obvious that he embarrassed her and prevented her from stepping off the stage.

The girl looked at Yin Luo with hatred. It was her. If it weren't for her, maybe he would take a look at her.

Don't regret it. The girl was anxious and said this word by word, then turned around and left without looking back. Don't one day he has something to ask her, otherwise... Anyway, she believes that one day, she will let his girlfriend kneel on the ground and watch her kiss him. That scene must be beautiful.

After the girl left, Yin Luo finally let out a sigh of relief, and finally no one pestered them anymore, his ears became much cleaner, and even the air became much fresher.

Yi Yan suddenly stopped asking and looked at her seriously, "Is what you just said is true?"

Ah? What? Yin Luo asked knowingly, she probably knew what he wanted to ask. But she didn't know how to answer after he asked. Love? She may not have reached this level with him. Knowing that he is a stingy man, and can't bear to lie to him, so...

Fortunately, he didn't plan to know the answer in the end, "It's nothing. It's late, let's go home."

Yeah. Yin Luo promised in a low voice, silently following Yi Yan, as careful as a child who made a mistake. But obviously, she seems to have done nothing wrong.

The reason why Yi Yan stopped asking her was because he already knew the answer roughly, so why bother letting someone he likes to say the answer he doesn't like in person? Therefore, he does not force her, nor does he force himself.
