

Chapter 770

Yin's house.

Chen Meng sat on the sofa, anxiously waiting for Yin Hui's return. Obviously the time for the plane to arrive is this afternoon, and now it's night Yin Hui hasn't returned home, she will be unable to sit still.

Looking at Father Yin, who was sitting on the sofa and watching TV, Chen Meng lost his temper. "You are still watching TV. Now that your daughter hasn't come back for so long, don't you worry? What if something happens to her..."

Okay. She has been talking since her daughter did not come back in the afternoon. He was very worried at first, but now it is a bit annoying to hear her say this. "Huihui is also my daughter, of course I am worried about her. It's common for planes to be late. Don't worry, just wait a while. Otherwise, you can call her again."

It's not that she has never made a phone call. It's just that every time she makes a call, the sound of the phone is turned off. How can she be a mother not afraid?

Reluctantly, Chen Meng had to take out his cell phone and call his daughter again. But the phone is still the same as before, and all the sounds of the other party have been turned off.

Or, let's go out and find her. Waiting at home is no way. Chen Meng was waiting anxiously, so she wanted to go out to find her daughter, if she was lucky, she would run into it.

Father Yin was still calm, he clicked and took a sip of the cigarette, spit out a large cloud of smoke, and then shook the cigarette, and the ashes fell in the ashtray. He thought for a while, and said, "But where are you going to find her so old? Besides, she might not be here. Just wait. If she doesn't come back tomorrow, call the police."

Chen Meng nodded, he was right, this place is so big, it is not easy to find someone. So for the present plan, we can only wait any longer.

At about one o'clock in the morning, there was a knock on the door.

Chen Meng's anxious heart became excited. This must be her daughter. She quickly got up from the sofa and ran to the door to open it. Fortunately, it was her daughter who stood outside the door. Her daughter was fine, and she was fine.

Come, Huihui, come in quickly. Chen Meng hurriedly helped her daughter carry the luggage outside the door.

Yin Hui walked into the house, stretched out, and sat on the sofa. This bumpy road is really tiring.

When Father Yin saw that Yin Hui had gone home, he was naturally very excited, but what he cared about and why did his daughter come back so late?

Seeing his daughter look like this, Yin's father didn't call it a bit, "You should have arrived this afternoon, why are you back now? Do you still know that there is this home? Do you still have your mother and me in your eyes?"

As soon as I got home, my father was busy teaching her. Yin Hui was naturally unhappy. She frowned and said, "Dad, what do you mean? What are you doing? If there is no such home in my eyes, can I still come back?"

Yes. Chen Meng echoed. It is a good thing that his daughter is back safely now. Why should he blame her? Chen Meng persuades, "Just say a few words. The woman is back safely now, isn't it? The biggest good thing?"

Father Yin sighed. It was Chen Meng who spoiled Yin Hui every day. That's why she turned her into what she is today. See what it looks like? I made a mistake and went home late, and now he is still so confident, not relying on a mother to support him. Maybe she is still going back to this home now because he can give her money for fun and spoil her.

Father Yin pointed to Yin Hui, hating iron and steel, and said, "Look at what you look like now. Is your makeup what a girl of your age should paint? And what clothes are you wearing? Just don't wear it anymore."

Dad, are you still my dad? What are you talking about? Yin Hui glanced at it, then stomped fiercely, ran directly into the room, and slammed the door.

Chen Meng was also very upset when the father and daughter got into what they are now, and now it's time to comfort her daughter. After all, she had just returned from abroad and had not seen her for a long time. Chen Meng was afraid that her own daughter would be estranged from her.

So she had to catch up with Yin Hui and went to her room to persuade her. Just now, her father spoke a little harder.

Father Yin turned off the TV, looked at the direction of Yin Hui's room, and sighed. This Huihui can't say anything right now. Will he have it in the future? Chen Meng is used to her every day, and if she gets into trouble in the future, it may be difficult for her to clean up the mess.

Chen Meng saw that her daughter came back in the middle of the night, thinking that she should be hungry, so he personally went to the kitchen to cook a bowl of noodles for her, brought her to the room, and let her eat. If you eat in the hall, her dad will definitely talk about her again.

Mom, it's better for you to treat me the best. Look at what Dad did just now. When I just came back, I scolded me and didn't know what I did wrong. Yin Hui narrowed his mouth and took the noodles Chen Meng made for her. After eating, she had been tired for a day, and she was indeed very hungry. She ate it, and praised it as she ate, "Well, Mom, your cooking still hasn't regressed, it's so fragrant."

Just your sweet mouth. Chen Meng looked at her daughter who became more beautiful and more able to dress up, and was happy. It's all because her father was too harsh on her, so that the father and daughter would make trouble when they saw each other. But she also cared about her daughter's other things, such as where she went this afternoon, she should have been back on time, and she worried about it for so long.

Huihui, come, tell mom where did you go this afternoon? Do you know that your dad and I have been waiting for a long time?

Facing Chen Meng, Yin Hui was willing to tell the truth. If she had just told her dad, he would have to scold her to find the south, east, west, northwest. But her mother is different, her mother scolded her reluctantly, and she agreed with her to find a boyfriend.

I have just returned to China and haven't been here for a long time. So when I got off the plane, I wanted to go around. I was about to come back, but now I met a handsome guy on the road. You don't know how handsome that handsome guy is. Wow, it's so easy. I came back late just to chase that handsome guy. I'm sorry, Mom, I worried you.

Yin Hui smiled unconsciously when she remembered the handsome guy she met on the street tonight.

When Chen Meng saw her daughter like this, she knew that the man must be extraordinary, otherwise how could she be in her daughter's eyes? She still believed in Huihui's vision.

What happened in the end? How? Did you catch it? Take mom to see it someday. Chen Meng asked. Now her daughter is not young anymore.

Just like her, if she hadn't seduce Yin Hui's father, then their mother and daughter would not be as prosperous and wealthy as they are now. Therefore, women will make good use of everything that should be used when they are certain. In fact, no matter how poor a woman is, she has nothing. She only needs to have a man, and this man happens to own the world, then this world is not owned by this woman.

No. Yin Hui replied disappointedly. This is indeed a pity for her, and she really likes that handsome guy very much. Unfortunately, he even has a wife. And she could see clearly, his eyes were tender when he looked at his wife, and he was afraid that he was sincere to her, so it was not easy to take it apart.

It's okay. There are so many good men in this world. My family Huihui is so beautiful, virtuous, and sensible. Few men don't love it. Chen Meng saw Yin Hui's loss, and she seemed to be pretty. Those who care about the man comforted.

Of course I know. Yin Hui is a girl who has experienced a lot of feelings. She will do it very simply if she let go. Because she knows that few men can be trusted. A man likes a woman, most of it starts with her face. If a woman is ugly and fat, how many men like her? So if you want a man to like it, you must first change yourself, make yourself better, and let that man give you shoes that are not worthy.

While eating the noodles, Yin Hui suddenly remembered her good half-sister, and asked, "Mom, how is that little bitch? I heard a few days ago that she was going to marry Lu Shuchen in order to hold the company. ."

Speaking of Yin Luo, Chen Meng was really envious and jealous. Why didn't his daughter be as lucky as that little bitch? Now that the daughter has returned to China, she must give herself a long face and break a round.

Chen Meng chatted with Yin Hui, "Yin Luo, who later found out that Lu Shuchen had cheated, he retired with Lu Shuchen regardless of my and your dad's persuasion. I don't know where she was so lucky, but I met Yi again. total."

She is married? Mr. Yi? Yin Hui frowned and asked. She has been abroad for a long time, so she hasn't paid much attention to domestic affairs for the time being. But Mr. Yi also looked like a big man from his mother's tone.

Chen Meng introduced to her daughter, "This man is also a genius. I don't know what to do. It only took half a year for his company to occupy more than half of the city. Not only does he have a lot of money, but he is also a handsome man. People don't know what makes him satisfied, so they marry that little bitch like this."

It's really a vixen. Yin Hui was not in the mood to eat either. She hated Yin Luo at first. It was all because of Yin Luo that Grandpa didn't like her, and the Yin Group was now dominated by Yin Luo. Now that she is back, she has to take back everything that should be taken back. As long as it belongs to Yin Luo, she wants to get it, just want to see her look like she has nothing and lost her soul.

Mom, how are you and me? Yin Hui stood up, raised the corner of her short skirt, and asked in a circle.

Chen Meng looked at her daughter with satisfaction. Yin Hui is now an adult, and she is getting more and more beautiful, and she will be more and more able to dress up, and she will definitely be able to fascinate a bunch of men.

She smiled and nodded. "Okay, okay, of course my daughter is the most beautiful."

Seeing that her mother agreed with her, Yin Hui was even happier. She sat down and asked, "Then what do you think of me replacing that little bitch?"
