

Chapter 777

It's okay. After all, Yin Luo is also the president of a company. Many times, even if she is a young woman, she needs to be as serious as Yi Yan so that people in the company should be afraid of her. I'm afraid of her all the time. So, this scare is nothing.

Seeing that Yin Luo didn't look like a person who was easily scared, Yi Yan was relieved. He asked, "Where do you want to eat?"

Are you please? Yin Luo asked with a smile.

Yi Yan nodded helplessly.

Then I'm going to the most luxurious restaurant to eat the most expensive things. Yin Luo's appetite was overwhelming.

Yi Yan was still helpless. He rubbed Yin Luo's head and said in a voice that hates iron and steel when his father talked to his daughter, "What is your brain made of? Is it paste? We are now a husband and wife, me and yours. Money is a shared property of husband and wife. My money is your money. Doesn't spending my money mean spending your money?"

That's right. Yin Luo suddenly forgot that they were already husband and wife, she was a married woman. Thinking about it now, fortunately, she married him by mistake. If she hadn't given up on Lu Shuchen, she would not know what she was. Anyway, it won't be good now.

Yi Yan looked at the woman who seemed to be gradually becoming stupid, and shook her head, saying that she became stupid just after she was pregnant for three years. Yi Yan asked again, "What do you want to eat?"

Then go to a nearby restaurant and have a little bit of it. We have also lost some time, and we can go back to the company after eating and playing for a while. Yin Luo said, she has some difficult choices, so such a difficult task is entrusted to Yi Inflammation.

Okay. Yi Yan replied, and drove in with a drink and went to a restaurant.

The restaurant is mainly a shrimp restaurant, which looks quite high-end. It's just that it should be late now, so there are not many people in the restaurant at all. Being in the restaurant is like a private room.

Do you want to go to the private room or in the lobby? Yi Yan looked at Yin Luo and asked.

Just in the hall. There are no people anyway, and the walls in the hall are all glass, so you can easily see the scenery outside the window. Although the scenery is not great, it still feels quite artistic.

Therefore, Yi Yan and Yin Luo randomly found a corner by the window and sat down. Yi Yan turned the menu and asked, "What do you want to eat?"

Yin Luo thought for a while, and then replied, "Then we two will eat a small pot of shrimp, we don't need other side dishes, and we can't finish it if we ask for it."

Thinking that Yin Luo just said he wanted to eat the most expensive, but now he was eating the cheapest, so he wanted to laugh. He asked her, "Will you save money for your husband? Didn't you just say that you want to eat the most expensive?"

Yin Luo gave Yi Yan a roll of eyes, "Didn't you just say it? Yours is mine, what I eat is mine, I don't want it! Hurry up, I'm starving to death."

Okay. Just as Yin Luo said, Yi Yan took a pen and drew a tick on the small pot, and then handed it to the waiter.

As soon as the waiter left, the little girl with heavy makeup came to them yesterday.

Hello, two, what a coincidence. I was the girl who wanted to send you off yesterday but refused cruelly. Yin Hui greeted them.

Hearing her mother said that her sister's bitch married a rich man, Yi Yan, she searched for Yi Yan on the Internet. She didn't expect that the man who came out was yesterday's, and the one next to him was her sister last night. It's a coincidence. . It was late yesterday, and all her thoughts were on Yi Yan, so naturally she didn't notice that she had met her good sister.

She was originally interested in the man of yesterday, but now she knows that he is the brother-in-law she wants to grab. Therefore, she naturally cannot let him go.

Yi Yanben couldn't remember her a bit, but when she heard that she didn't send her off yesterday, he remembered that it was the stalker girl. So the impression of her will naturally not be any better. In order to prevent her from stalking, Yi Yan said indifferently, "Are we familiar?"

We are not familiar, but sister Luoluo and I are familiar. Yin Hui pursed her lips and laughed. It is also a good idea to seduce her brother-in-law through her sister.

Yin Luo frowned upon hearing Yin Hui's words. She thought she was familiar with her last night, but didn't think much about it. Look now, they seem to know each other, she just called her sister Luoluo, is she her sister Yin Hui?

Now take a closer look, it really is. Yin Hui has been abroad for a long time, and the girl changed so quickly at her age, she couldn't recognize her. However, it's no wonder that even if she has some changes in appearance, she still wears such heavy make-up, it is normal not to recognize her. Besides, she doesn't care about her, so naturally she doesn't pay attention.

I remember, she is my father's daughter. Yin Luo explained to Yi Yan. She refused to call her a sister, and she never admitted that she had such a sister.

Yi Yan had investigated Yin Luo before, and naturally he knew that Yin Luo had a half-sister, and she must have been her.

It's just that they were both born to the same dad, so how far apart they are? Yin Luo is very beautiful, but her sister... might be better if she removes heavy makeup. Especially the two are quite different in character.

If Sister Luoluo doesn't care, can I have dinner with you? It's so late and I haven't eaten either. Yin Hui asked Yin Luo. She knew that it would be better to start with Yin Luo. Yi Yan, her brother-in-law looks so so. Gao Leng, maybe she just refused without asking him.

What a coincidence, we can meet you for dinner so late because of something. It seems that your meal time is really amazing. Yin Luo didn't want to eat with her, but didn't want to refuse directly. After all, he is a dad, so I don't want to be so stiff.

That's not true. I really have something to do today, so I really caught up with you, so this is called fate. Yin Hui really didn't eat. Since she knew Yi Yan, her brother-in-law met yesterday. After that handsome man, she wanted to get this man quickly.

So after inquiring about the location of his company, she kept waiting at the door of his company, wanting to meet him by chance.

But after she waited at the door of the company, she saw Yin Luo enter the company, and no one came out for a long time. Just when she wanted to give up, the two of them suddenly came out. It was just that she wanted to meet him by chance, but for every opportunity to become acquainted with him, she still followed.

In order to pretend to be a bit like, she deliberately waited for a while after they entered the restaurant.

Seeing that Yin Luo and Yi Yan were not talking, Yin Hui took the initiative to sit next to Yin Luo. Yi Yan and Yin Luo sat opposite. Of course Yin Hui wanted to sit with Yi Yan, but if he did that now, he would definitely be disgusted by him. Moreover, she is not familiar with him now, and he looks so cold, and he looks like he can kill people. Therefore, she is still a little afraid of him, so she should let him go for the time being.

I thought that I could have the first meal with Yi Yan, although there was Yin Luo. But I didn't expect Yi Yan still coldly said to Yin Luo, "Except you don't like others to be around when I eat, you can figure it out before the dishes are served."

Now Yin Luo was embarrassed to speak. Anyway, it was Yi Yan's problem. Yin Luo pretended to look at Yin Hui helplessly, and said, "You see, too. My man doesn't like being around, so...you understand?"

Yin Hui's mouth curled down when she was smiling, and then she laughed again. She didn't feel embarrassed and said, "It's okay, once you are born again and again, and again, sister Luoluo, you and brother-in-law Yi are the same at the beginning? I'm the same as you now, and I'll just be familiar with it. We are all a family, and we can't see and see when we lower our heads, so we'll be familiar in the future."

Yin Luo looked at Yi Yan for help, but he didn't say a word, wouldn't he be angry again because of Yin Hui's affairs. To dare to provoke the chief executive is really looking for death.

I said, my man doesn't want to see you. You can either go by yourself, or I can call 110, or call Dad, Grandpa. You choose yourself. Yin Luo said directly, regardless of whose face. Yin Hui is the kind of person who likes to pester others without saying something cruel, she would definitely not leave.

Sister, we are all a family, do you have to do this? Yin Hui was also a little angry, completely disregarding her face.

Did you treat me as a family member? You know in your heart. They are born to be at odds, so there is no need to smile at each other forcefully. Yin Luo took out his phone, pressed 110 on it, and asked, "Go, or should I call?"

You... Yin Hui was angrily speechless. Yin Luo has always done what she said, so she can definitely do this kind of thing. She didn't care about this matter, so it didn't do her any good. If she insisted on staying, it would leave a bad image for Yi Yan, so she should go first.

Okay. Yin Hui said, anyway, she would not give up Yi Yan, he was the person she had met who was the most suitable for her. He is handsome and rich, and that bitch is really lucky to marry him.

She believes that one day she will impress Yi Yan and let him know that she likes her more than that bitch and is more suitable for him, "I'm leaving. It seems that we will have to see my brother-in-law next time to get acquainted with me. Don't bother today. You have eaten. By the way, I will tell Dad about this."

Seeing Yin Hui walking out of the restaurant angrily, Yin Luo was still a little excited. In the end, Yin Hui even warned that she would sue her father. It's really funny. She has never been afraid of her father. Whatever she says, she can't hurt her anyway. It's a lot of chattering in her ears. Don't care at all. The only relative she cares about right now is grandpa... just add Yi Yan.

After Yin Hui left, Yi Yan suddenly looked up at Yin Luo and said, "I will call it that in the future."

Ah? What's that called? Yin Luo looked dumbfounded. What did she call just now?

You just called your husband. Yi Yan reminded her, it seems that this woman is still a bit forgetful.
