

Chapter 778

"Husband..." Yin Luo tried to yell again, no, it was just a simple word, but it was really hard to pronounce, and she always felt it was strange to say it in her mouth. Unlike other couples, who have a wife at one mouth and a husband at the other, they are numb to death. She looked at Yi Yan and asked, "Don't you think it's awkward for me to call this way?"

I think it's okay as long as you say it. Yi Yan praised, Yin Luo's voice is of the kind that is nice and crisp. Now she feels awkward, but she's not used to it. I'll call him a few more words in the future. , Naturally got used to it. Moreover, he also likes to listen to her.

That's good. Yin Luo thought about it carefully, and then nodded, "Since you said that what I said is nice, then I will call you Yanyan from now on, how about it?"

When Bo Chengcheng gave Yi Yan the nickname back then, he was chased and killed almost half a street. Later, whenever Bo Chengcheng called his name, he would be beaten severely. But that Bo Chengcheng still didn't repent, and firmly felt that Yi Yan's name was more cute.

Now...Looking at Yin Luo's expectant eyes, Yi Yan nodded and replied "Yes."

That's great. Yin Luo didn't expect Yi Yan to agree to her so easily. She was injured that time, and he had such a big reaction when Bo Chengcheng called him that. Since Yi Yan agreed, she practiced several times, "Yanyan, Yanyan, Yanyan..."

Hmm... Yi Yan nodded in cooperation.

Unexpectedly, Yi Yan should still respond to her. Did he take the wrong medicine today and be poisoned? Thinking that she was going to see him twice and forgetting both times, he still didn't care about it, so he was really a little guilty.

After a while, a small pot of shrimp was brought up by the waiter. Said it is a small pot of prawns, in fact, there are quite a lot of prawns in it, and there are other free side dishes, such as tea tree mushrooms, baby vegetables, etc., which can be said to be very affordable.

Yin Luo put on disposable gloves, used chopsticks to pick up a shrimp from the inner pot, then peeled it carefully and put it in a bowl of Yiyan, as if it was her apology, although the apology for just peeling a shrimp looks like It's pretty cheap, but she has only peeled shrimps for herself, her mother and grandfather in her life, and now she has one more Yiyan.

Seeing Yin Luo so obediently peeling a shrimp and putting it in his bowl, he was shocked. Is the sun coming out of the west today? He still reluctantly ate the shrimp, and asked "Luoluo, you today..."

I want to talk about how I am so good today, right? Yin Luo continued. She used to be quite cold towards him, so he might be a little surprised today. She asked first, "When I was arguing with that Miss Lin today, were you in the corner in front of the crowd eating melons?"

Yi Yan thought that only Xiaotian knew what he was peeking at the time, but he didn't expect Yin Luo to know it too. However, it wasn't because she always forgot to leave work, and by the way the things that had been promised to him were also forgotten, so that he was a little angry and just ignored her temporarily. Now that Luoluo knew it, he generously admitted “Yes, did you see me too? Did Xiaotian tell you?”

Of course, it is unlikely that Yi Yan believes in the latter, and the kid Qian Xiaotian dared not betray him.

I didn’t see it, and it’s not about Xiaotian’s business. At that time, she was entangled with the Miss Lin, and she was naturally distracted, so she didn’t pay much attention to the things next to her.

However, fortunately, she was smart, she explained, “Because you came to me from the first floor at the time, it was still working time at that time, and you would definitely not go downstairs. Even if you have something to do, you should. Let the assistant do it. Actually, I was not so sure just now. You may have other reasons. But you are so honest, I just asked you to admit it.”

It turns out that his woman is not very stupid. Yi Yan boasted, “Well, your IQ has risen after being with me. But what does this have to do with the shrimp you gave me?”

Yin Luo didn’t answer Yi Yan’s question, and continued to ask carefully, “The reason why you are eating melons for granted is because I accidentally annoyed you, right?”

If you are not careful, I think you did it deliberately. The president of Yida looked like a woman who was deeply grieving about her, very cute.

It is also true that Yi Yan’s high-cold appearance is usually an expressionless worker, living a life. But when I met Yin backward, everything was different. After they slept on a bed for the first time, she waved her hand to give him a check, thinking that he was a duck. This was the first time she angered him and made him more interested in her. The latter are countless.

This is not the point. Yin Luo said helplessly, and then she personally peeled two shrimps to Yi Yan carefully, and said seriously, “I admit that it is mine, so you see, these two shrimps that I peeled personally. It’s an apologize for you.”

Originally, Yi Yan thought it was very difficult for Yin Luo to peel shrimps for him. He didn’t expect the reason to be this way. Then he couldn’t easily forgive her. “Do you think I can forgive you by peeling these two shrimps for me?”

Of course I don’t think so. Yin Luo laughed like a salty pig. She was more confident, “I think you forgave me a long time ago, or you wouldn’t stand up at that time. I just I also feel that I peeled the shrimp for you a bit too much. I didn’t expect you to think that if I peeled the shrimp for you, you can’t forgive me. Forget it, let me eat the shrimp. You don’t have to forgive me.”

After that, Yin Luo made a move to snatch the shrimp she had just peeled from Yi Yan’s bowl. As she expected, Yi Yan was protecting the bowl and was reluctant to give her the shrimp. However, this time Yi Yan didn’t follow the routine and threatened, “I have eaten the shrimp, and neither will you forgive me.”

Don’t do that. Yin Luo didn’t expect Yi Yan to be so cruel, so sad.

It’s okay. Yi Yan said, then put a shrimp peeled by Yin Luo into his mouth, chewing and saying, “The husband and wife are quarreling at the end of the bed. If there is anything I need to forgive, let’s talk about it tonight.”

I haven't noticed this shop before. I didn't expect that the shrimp in a small shrimp shop is actually quite delicious, with all the colors, fragrances, and flavors. Just looking at it, it makes people salivate. Of course Yin Luopei's prawns add some more points to this pot of prawns. If you want to eat shrimp in the future, you can consider coming here.

Yin Luo wanted to cry when he heard something arguing at the end of the bed. Why is the president of other people's family with perfect abstinence, and her family, although perfect, wants to turn her into a beast and squeeze her dry all the time.

I don't want to care about you. Yin Luo was a little shy thinking about things that shouldn't be thought of now. Obviously she was the one who made the mistake, but she still said frankly, who made the CEO be bullied?

Yin Luo took out a few more shrimps from the pot and peeled them. The ones that were just peeled are now Yiyang. She hasn't tasted the shrimps yet. They look delicious. I really want to put them in her mouth quickly. taste.

But when she just finished peeling a shrimp and was about to put it in her mouth to taste, Yi Yan even took advantage of her carelessness and grabbed the shrimp that had just been peeled from her hand with a chopstick. Such a virtuous approach is just like a habitual offender often does this thing.

Yin Luo was about to get angry, but smiled wittily, "If you eat my shrimp again, you can't be angry anymore. If you get angry in the future, I won't recognize your account."

A shrimp exchange, worth it.

Seeing that Yin Luo said so affirmatively, even if Yi Yan said anything, Yin Luo still didn't recognize it. Yi Yan had to bargain a little bit more. "Then peel me two more shrimps, and I will forgive you completely."

In the past, he didn't care much about anything. He didn't expect that one day he could bargain with someone for a few shrimps.

Okay. Of course Yin Luo agreed happily, but the peeling process was extremely painful. It was obvious that the peeled shrimp was just on his lips, but he couldn't taste it.

Finally, I was busy peeling Yi Yan. When she was about to peel one for herself, Yi Yan suddenly took out a peeled shrimp and put it in Yin Luo's bowl and said, "Hey, this is what I just peeled. , You just peeled the shrimp seriously and didn't even see it. You sell two and I get one free. Isn't it a good deal?"

Yin Luo nodded vigorously, happily eating the shrimp that Yi Yan had peeled by himself. It is not easy for the president of Yida to peel a shrimp by himself. Sure enough, looking at the good-looking shrimp meat, it doesn't disappoint its beauty. It's very good. They peeled each other shrimp during this meal, and they had a very enjoyable meal.

After eating the prawns, Yi Yan and Yin Luo went shopping on the street. Because there was still an hour before work, Yi Yan didn't want Yin Luo to enter the company too early. She would definitely have to work as soon as she was in the company. , Do not pay attention to rest at all. Therefore, even if it is still a bit hot now, Yi Yan is still pulling Yin Luo down the street.

It's a bit hot, let's go back to the company. Yin Luo said, looking at the looming sun in the sky.

Yi Yan naturally did not want her to return to the company “No, you have to go shopping with me.”

Yin Luo was about to overturn her view of the big president. He, a big man, said he wanted her to go shopping with her? Magic. But since he said he wanted her to accompany her, he didn't want to refuse, but he can think of a way not to be hot. “Well, let's go to the supermarket. The supermarket has air conditioning and it's cool.”

Anyway, Yi Yan's purpose is just not to let her return to the company, she can go anywhere “Well, let's go.”

They went to a small and medium supermarket nearby.

Yi Yan took Yin Luo and walked. Yin Luo watched Yi Yan walk aimlessly, and asked, “Yan Yan, what are you going to buy?”

I... Of course, Yi Yan didn't know what he wanted to buy. He came here entirely for Yin Luo. “I don't know yet, just look around, and then buy something.”

Oh. Yin Luo replied, but watching the president still walk so casually. Yin Luo thought, he shouldn't need anything. For the president who is the most superior, someone should prepare everything, or there should be special customization, so there should be no shortage of everything.

So they went around in the supermarket again.
