

Chapter 782

He looked at Yin Luo with a gloomy look, and said domineeringly, "You are mine. Even if I'm not here, you can't remarry. You want to stay alive for me. Have you heard?"

So Yin Luo imagined that if he wasn't there...No, he would keep arguing with her, and she would make him angry, how could he not be there? Seeing Yi Yan's strong figure and the eight-pack abs hidden in her clothes, she probably won't have the chance to remain a widow in her life.

Yin Luo vomited, "You are so in good health, and you are immortal when you grow old. How can you let me stay alive?"

Count you acquaintance. Yi Yan grabbed Yin Luo's waist, he would guard this woman till, she belonged to him all her life.

Then why don't you eat it? Yin Luo frowned and asked him. She made it specifically for him, but after so long, he hadn't eaten a bite. She still wanted him to comment on her cooking. Woolen cloth.

Seeing Yin Luo eagerly wanting him to taste her dishes, Yi Yan raised his lips, then put a small piece of red meat into his mouth and chewed.

Yin Luo's cooking skills have indeed improved. The braised pork made this time is comparable to that of Zhang's. It is sweet but not greasy. Even where there is fatty meat, it will not taste greasy, especially the skin on it. Chewy and delicious.

How? How? Yin Luo asked worriedly as he watched Yi Yan chewing the meat with a serious face.

Yi Yan nodded and said, "It's okay."

Ah? What do you mean by okay? What do you mean? Yin Luo was a little disappointed listening to Yi Yan's evaluation. But looking at Yi Yan's expression, she owed it to him. She was so kind to cook for him to surprise him, but he had such a bad face.

It's okay, it's okay, it doesn't mean anything. Yi Yan deliberately angry with her, it seems that she cares about his evaluation. However, this woman can be called cute if it's not for her bad temper. Looking at her now, she is called Diaoman.

Then you will try this again. Yin Luo was obviously not reconciled. He personally took a chopsticks and stuffed it directly into Yi Yan's mouth, then looked at Yi Yan with expectant eyes and asked, "What about this? ?how about this?"

Even if Yi Yan's taste is different from her just now, and he doesn't like braised pork, he should be able to eat this vegetable. She has tasted this vegetable too, and she, a person who doesn't like vegetable, thinks it's okay, then this vegetable should be quite delicious for Yi Yan.

Yi Yan nodded thoughtfully. Yin Luo originally thought that Yi Yan could finally praise her cooking skills, but he didn't expect that he was still the face of a beating. "This... is also OK. "

Yin Luo rolled his eyes to Yi Yan, everything was okay. She saw him clearly on purpose, and he deliberately wanted to piss her off. If he did it on purpose, then she would be angry to show him.

Yin Luo pouted, slapped his chopsticks on the table, stood up from the chair, looked down at Yi Yan and said, "You obviously don't think it tastes good, my grandma won't serve you anymore. I will cook for you. And... and these meals, don't eat them, I will eat them myself and starve you to death."

After speaking, Yin Luo directly picked up a dish with one hand, and then left.

Yi Yan grabbed Yin Luo, let her sit down in peace, and then apologized to her, "Okay, I lied to you, can I make a mistake?"

Yin Luo didn't want to deal with Yi Yan, and only now admitted that she was honest when she said that her food was okay. But not for herself, she still has to justify the name of her dishes. They are obviously delicious. What is okay, so perfunctory. "Let me ask you first, how are the dishes I cook? This time, I have to seriously comment and take out. Let me listen to technical terms."

Yi Yan nodded repeatedly, but he couldn't make his wife angry anymore. If he provokes Yin Luo for a while and refuses to let him eat dinner or make another room division or something, then he will be in a big loss.

Luo Luo's dishes are a great improvement over the past. The braised pork has been carefully selected from the selection of ingredients to the cutting skills, and the selection and dosage of the stir-fried dishes and its various side dishes. They are very delicious. The other two dishes are also very delicious. The heat is moderate in size, which retains the nutrients of the vegetables without affecting the taste. It is fresh and smooth and perfect.

In order to please Yin Luo, Yi Yan really made a careful comment this time, and the dishes she cooked were indeed as he said, without any adulteration.

But Yin Luo thought that Yi Yan was deliberately flattering because of what had just caused her, so she looked at Yi Yan with a sinister smile and said, "Oh, since Yan Yan likes my dishes so much, then you eat them all. I can forgive you. But rest assured, I will help you share a little bit too."

Just what you eat every day, what can you share? Yi Yan is right. Yin Luo does not eat much every day. She is a very picky eater. She would rather be hungry when she meets dishes that don't taste right to her. Eat, of course, if she is not very hungry.

And she doesn't eat much herself, not deliberately losing weight, but simply can't eat much. So she is considered tall and tall, but only just ninety catties.

Yin Luo put on a domineering look, looked straight at Yi Yan and asked, "I'll ask you if you want to eat?"

Okay, I'll eat it. In order to prevent Yin Luo from being angry, Yi Yan had to respond. The meal she cooked was still delicious, so she should be able to finish it. But why is he just now? Just to tease her, he put his belly in.

After a while, Yin Luo put down the chopsticks, and as expected, Yi Yan didn't guess wrong. She ate so little, as if she didn't eat it.

I've finished eating, so I went upstairs to take a shower. Yin Luo put down her chopsticks. She didn't eat much at first. Today, she didn't eat much to support Yiyan's bad thing, which was enough for him to feel uncomfortable for a while.

Yin Luo stood up, and just walked a few steps, he heard Yi Yan's naked threat, "I eat so much at night, you have to accompany me to do two exercises to digest, otherwise you will become a fat person. I have a husband with an imperfect body. You have to solve the sins you have committed."

Are you still threatening me? Besides, who wants you to be in good shape? Anyway, wait until you finish eating. Yin Luo ignored Yi Yan's threat, seeing that there is still half of the food left. When he finishes eating, she probably washes them all. I fell asleep. By the way, she suddenly thought that Zhang Ma was not there, so who would clean this bowl? Is it possible that she has to wait until he finishes eating before coming down to clean the dishes? If she doesn't want to, then hand over this important task to Yi Yan, "Um...Mother Zhang is not here, you wait until you finish eating and then brush the bowl."

After that, before Yi Yan could answer, Yin Luo hurried upstairs. She didn't want to hear Yi Yan's refusal. In other words, Yi Yan, the big president, should have never done anything in his life. This time it was just right for him to experience the experience and try something he hadn't done before. I don't know if he would go to wash the bowls, and wash the bowls that are good or not.

But she believes that a smart person like Yi Yan will have no problem doing anything. It should be fine to just wash the bowl.

After thinking about it, Yin Luo went back to the room with peace of mind. She had already found a change of clothes and was about to take a shower, but suddenly she saw the letter on her bedside table. She remembered that she asked Mom Zhang to put her bedside table here first. Now that she saw this letter, she was still curious. Just a letter, it shouldn't be long, then she will go to the bath after reading it.

Putting the pajamas on the bed temporarily, Yin Luo sat down and picked up the envelope. The envelope is of natural wood color, and it looks quite tall. However, holding the envelope tightly in his hand, although he doesn't know what's in the letter, Yin Luo always feels faintly uneasy in his heart.

She always felt that this letter was not a rubbish or advertising letter, but a bad letter. She could not open this letter because of her anxiety, but because of her curiosity, Yin Luo still opened the envelope nervously. . She believes that she is upright and honest and that nothing can hurt her. So don't be afraid at all, it's just a letter.

Quickly open the envelope and take out the paper inside. There are two sheets in total.

The first one was a paternity test, and then she saw Yi Yan's name, wondering why did Yi Yan's paternity test be sent to her? Looking down again, 99.9% confirmed that it was a father-son relationship, and that father was actually Lu Shuchen's father. Therefore, if this appraisal is true, then Yi Yan and Lu Shuchen are brothers, and Lu's father is Yi Yan's father.

Yin Luo couldn't believe it, why would things be like this? His father was actually Father Lu. She never thought that things would be like this, and she believed him from beginning to end, thinking that he really was what she saw, occasionally arrogant, and occasionally playing The child has a temper.

But why did these Yi Yan never tell her? Even a little bit? Could it be that he doesn't really like her at all, or why doesn't he believe her and tell her what he really wants? But what can she do to use it? All she has is Yin and her grandfather.

It turned out that she might have been wrong from the beginning, wrong.

Thinking of this, Yin Luo quickly took out the second piece of paper and looked at it. The second piece of paper was a letter.

It says Miss Yin, how do you think you can get Yi Yan's favor? He wants revenge, and you are just a victim of it! A mere 20% of the Yin family will make you willing to marry him. What he wants is the entire Yin family! If you think about it yourself, you can understand how powerful it is. I believe Miss Yin is a smart person.

Yin Luo didn't hold it for a moment, and the letter paper fell from her hand to the ground. Sure enough, as she thought.

At the beginning, their understanding might have been arranged by him alone. Otherwise, why did she find out that Lu Shuchen had derailed so accidentally, and meet him so accidentally, he could just help her.

At that time, he must have determined that she had no other way to go, and the conditions he offered could just save the company. Therefore, as long as he offered marriage as a condition, she would agree to him without hesitation. At that time, Lu Shuchen had already derailed. Who should marry? She is naturally willing to help the company.
