

Chapter 788

Yin Luo thought she should have forgiven him a long time ago, after all, she found out that she didn't like him at all. Since there is nothing, what he does has nothing to do with her, so there is no anger. It's just that Lu Shuchen's attitude is as if he apologized and she would forgive him.

Yin Luo sneered, with sarcasm on his face.

Lu Shuchen, remember that not all sorry can be exchanged for it's okay. And I have nothing to do with you, you have nothing to be sorry for me. Besides, you are now married, and Yun Xiaoyin also has a child. I hope you can be responsible to them, and in the end I wish you a hundred years of harmony."""

After saying that, Yin Luo resolutely left, because Lu Shuchen was there, Lu Shuchen only looked at Yin Luo's back with nostalgia, and did not directly chase him out.

Besides, what Yin Luo said that he had already married Yun Xiaoyin and had children. He was not qualified to give her happiness anymore.

Just watching her seem to be thinner than before, he will feel sad and guilty in his heart. He was the one who committed the crime at the beginning, but now he regrets it too much. Is he really going to lose everything forever?

Seeing Yin Luo left safely, Lu's father coldly swept Lu Shuchen and Yi Yan and entered the house. This is also the evil he planted. He is sorry to Yi Yan and also to Shu Chen.

Yin Luo did not go back to the company, but went home first. Just now her wrist was touched by Lu Shuchen and held by him. She felt sick when he thought that he said to her that he liked her, and that he might still be lingering with Yun Xiaoyin behind his back.

It's not hate, it's not unforgiveness, it's just nausea, disgust.

After taking a bath and changing his clothes, Yin Luo felt a lot more comfortable, and the air became fresher and no longer so depressing.

Yin Luo stretched out comfortably, took a shower and seemed to remove all the uncomfortableness, and then he was ready to go to the company.

Yi Group.

Sitting on an office chair, Yi Yan was serious about his work. Except for looking down at the files and then looking up at the computer, it was like a robot that only specified actions, and then there was almost no other actions. There is no expression and no emotion.

Because Yin Luo had dinner with her girlfriends at noon, Yi Yan lost the mood to eat, and ordered a takeaway casually. After eating in the office, he went to work again.

I don't know why, he just wants to torture himself now, and for the first time he feels that he is so incompetent. In other respects, he is always number one, and he is invincible when confronted with problems.

But here in Yin Luo, he lost, maybe he really didn't understand women's thoughts. He really wanted to make Yin Luo happy, but he didn't even know why she was angry with him.

After working for several hours, Yi Yan was a little tired. He supported his head with his wrists and took a break.

Just after a short break, there was a knock on the door. It should have been the result of what he had done for Xiaotian. Yi Yan immediately lost his sleepiness, and said hurriedly, "Come in."

Seeing Xiaotian coming in, Yi Yan asked in a cold voice, "How about what I asked you to check?"

Yi Yan didn't know why Yin Luo was angry, so he asked Xiaotian to find someone to follow Yin Luo, hoping to know what happened to her.

Xiaotian was stunned when he heard the report sent by his subordinates. The President's wife and Young Master Lu even hugged. For whatever reason, if this message were to let the president know. It's nonetheless that the president's wife is dead, and even they will be implicated.

Besides, I heard from my subordinates that the wife of the president is also reluctant and forced, so it's not about the wife of the president. For the sake of the president, not to be angry, but also for the president's wife and young master Lu family, and for those people who want to look at the president's face, so he thinks it's okay to tell a little white lie at this time.

Xiaotian didn't dare to look at Yi Yan's eyes, and only lowered his head to answer. Fortunately, he often lowered his head on weekdays, otherwise it would definitely arouse suspicion at this time, and a shrewd person like the president would be even more dangerous.

President, Mrs. President did indeed go to pick up her girlfriend. Her girlfriend had an accident on the road, a small car accident, and the wife of the President was released on bail. Then they ate together, and finally the wife of the President went to the company. There was nothing unusual.

After listening, Yi Yan nodded, expressionless, and didn't know whether he was happy or worried when he heard such a result. The president's mind is always elusive. As an assistant, it is very important to see through the master's mood.

But what his president does is a bit mysterious, and many of his behaviors are also incomprehensible. In spite of this, the CEO can lead the company to a better place. Although Xiaotian is a little stupid, he is shrewd in some things.

Although Yi Yan is difficult to figure out, Xiaotian knows that when the president's wife is there, the president is mostly happy.

Okay, you can go out. She can report to me at any time if she has any situation. Yi Yan waved his hand and ordered.

Xiaotian then walked out, and then closed the door with a trembling hand, and his legs were a little soft.

He pretended to be very calm in the president's office, but he was actually very flustered. This panic may be the most daring panic he has ever had in his life.

Regardless of the fact that the president is just like a serious leader, he treats the president's wife even more intimately. But if he really gets angry, it's like an impermanence coming out of hell, asking for life, and saying only one word will make people feel the endless chill, which makes people feel terrified.

At the same time, I hope that the president's wife will not be involved with Lu Shuchen again after this time, otherwise he boldly deceived the president and couldn't deceive him for a while. He never wanted to try this frightening taste anymore, it was really exciting.

After Xiaotian went out for a while, Yi Yan received an anonymous email.

This anonymous email, Yi Yan, should have been treated as a junk file and ignored it. But seeing the words "Yin Luo" on the title, Yi Yan couldn't help but curious, and clicked to take a look.

The first picture is a photo of Yin Luo and Lu Shuchen having a conversation. The time is today, and the clothes and makeup are right.

The background seems to be the Lu family. It is strange. It is obvious that he let Xiaotian follow Luoluo. Why didn't Xiaotian tell him that Luoluo met Lu Shuchen? Or is this picture fake?

Refusing to turn down, the second picture shows Lu Shuchen holding Yin Luo's wrist. The two seem a little close in this picture. Yi Yan couldn't think of other things, so he quickly scrolled down other pictures.

In the other pictures, the two were even more intimate, and they were still hugging each other. Yin Luo also touched Lu Shuchen's face.

Yi Yan clenched his fist and slammed it against the wooden desk. No matter how good the quality was, it was also recessed a bit by Yi Yan.

The sound was naturally exceptionally loud. After confirming that the sound came from the office this time, Xiaotian carefully stood outside, waiting for the president's order.

It is strange that the president has always been calm and calm. He has been an assistant to the president for so many years. It is rare for the president to be angry. Even if the president is angry, it is only a little colder, and it is generally not obvious.

But this time, what is the reason for the president to give such a big breath? Could it be the president's wife? It was discovered that he lied to the president.

Thinking of this, Xiaotian was even more worried. He stood tremblingly at the door of the president, as if the people inside would say pull it down and ask Qiuhou to cut it.

These few seconds of torment are simply harder than waiting for winter in the spring, and the heart is already in the body, as if it wants to jump out.

Not afraid, not afraid. Xiaotian took a deep breath and cheered for himself.

But there is no way. The last person he doesn't want to provoke in his life is the president. He was really wrong in this matter, and he didn't complain about how the president punished him.

She only hopes that the president and his wife can live happily and stop being awkward. He sincerely hopes that the president and his wife can be well, so that the president will not have a bad face all day, and he can be considered as a contribution to the people in the company.

Let me invite you in? Yi Yan said angrily after seeing Xiaotian outside the door.

Xiaotian lowered his head and whispered "President."

When did you become so courageous? Yi Yan angrily brushed off the various files neatly arranged on the desk, looking down at Xiaotian like a supreme ruler.

Although the president is very angry now, not only the wife of the president is born, but also his. Even if the president is angry, he now has to explain that the president's wife is innocent, and it is Lu Shuchen who insists on pestering the president's wife.

President, Mrs. President is really not intentional, it is Lu Shuchen who is strong...

Yi Yan slapped a palm on the table and asked, "Am I your master, or is she your master?"

Xiaotian lowered his head and whispered, "Of course it's you, the president."

Go out and reflect on it at home. You won't be using it for work these months. Yi Yan was angry and said loudly.

Xiaotian nodded, then turned and left. It's better not to provoke the CEO, fortunately, it's just a few months of unemployment.

After Xiaotian went out, many staff members from the top who heard the sound surrounded Xiaotian. Everyone wanted to know what had happened. The president had never had such a temper.

Xiaotian sighed. Anyway, everyone has been working together for so long. After getting along with each other and having feelings, he kindly reminded them, "The president is angry now. You all must be very careful when doing things. Don't provoke the president again. Otherwise, if it's me, it's okay to say, the president just asked me to go home and reflect on it for a few months. If it's you, it's probably impossible to keep my job."

Xiaotian thinks that the president is good to him. Otherwise, he will be expelled if he doesn't block people in the industry because of his violent temper. How can he only be fined for a few months of reflection?
