

Chapter 794

After taking a shower by the way, Yin Luo no longer cares about Yi Yan, anyway, he is better now. Her task was just to bring him home to relieve Zhang's mother, and he could do whatever else he wanted.

Yi Yan heard the sound and opened his eyes to see Yin Luo was about to walk out of the room. He hurriedly stopped her, and asked nervously, "Where are you going?"

I... Yin Luo wanted to go to the next room to fall asleep. Now that Yi Yan smelled of alcohol, she didn't want to sleep with him. Besides, he just drank the hangover soup, it should be much better, and now he should be able to walk on his own, take a bath or something, so she doesn't need to wait on him.

But if she told him the truth, he would definitely not allow himself to go next door. So Yin Luo smiled against his will and said, "I think you might be a little thirsty, so first go downstairs and pour you a glass of water."

Seeing Yin Luo smiling unkindly, Yi Yan always felt that she was hiding something from him, and he was not thirsty anymore. So, he refused, "No, I have just drunk a glass of water, and also drank the hangover soup that you boiled yourself, and now I am not thirsty. Just go to bed first, and I will take a bath."

That's good. Yin Luo walked over obediently and lay on the bed.

When he goes to take a bath, she can sneak away, and then come to a chop and then play, the nature is the same.

Why don't you take a bath? Yin Luo lay down for a while, seeing Yi Yan still not moving, he asked anxiously. She was tired from the tossing after work until now, and she was completely sleepy after lying down for a while. Therefore, she wanted to sleep quickly and stop tossing. Although sleeping here is the least toss, but the principle is the principle. She doesn't like wine, ginger, brown sugar, and vinegar. She never wanted to touch things she didn't like.

Yi Yan looked at Yin Luo and said rascally, "I'm drunk and can't walk safely, you can help me go."

Yin Luo turned and looked at Yi Yan angrily, but he looked serious, as if he really needed her help. He didn't see him drunk when he forced her to kiss her, he asked her to pour water, and he didn't see him drunk when he made the sober soup. And if he can't even walk the road, how can he take a bath by himself? Is it possible to drag her to help him wash after waiting?

Yes, it's no wonder he is so serious now. If it is not clear that he has been lying to her, I am afraid she has been deceived by him now. After all, he lied to her for so long, he should have been used to it. So he can tell lies without blushing and not beating, even if he doesn't hit the draft, he can say it.

But now in order for her plan to succeed, she still helps him.

Yin Luo got up and went to Yi Yan to help him up. Yin Luo hurriedly didn't use any strength on her body, so he didn't need her to help at all, and he was still pretending to be there. It doesn't matter, just help him to the bathroom.

But Yi Yan was not honest. He slowly leaned his head on Yin Luo and held her waist with one hand. For a while, he also took advantage of her. In order not to sleep with him tonight, Shinobu.

Although the bedroom is very close to the bathroom in the bedroom, Yin Luo seems to have walked thousands of miles along the way. Yi Yan still refused to take a good walk. He had to go east and west, and took a lot of detours.

Later, with great difficulty, he helped Yi Yan to the bathroom. Just as he was about to leave, his wrist was pulled by Yi Yan again.

Is there anything else? Yin Luo raised his head and asked him, would he really want her to bathe him?

For some reason, Yin Luo always felt a little awkward looking at Yi Yan who was drunk. He was sometimes very skinny after being drunk, and sometimes remained silent, not knowing what he was thinking. And the way he looks at her is always deep.

Just like now, he just looked at her seriously, as if something was on his mind. Yin Luo felt that what she knew was only the man's fur, but he was actually unfathomable. All you see is his surface, who knows what is in his heart. Such a man is the most terrible.

After a while, Yi Yan slowly said, "The one you love...is there only one person from beginning to end?"

His voice is a bit low and hoarse after drinking a lot of alcohol, but it is very nice. His voice is more like a low and mellow song, which will make people fascinated and addictive.

But Yin Luo knew that maybe everyone could be attracted by his voice and appreciate his voice to the fullest, but she couldn't. Because she is his prey, once she becomes addicted, but unable to extricate herself, then not only her, the entire Yin family will be swallowed.

Therefore, since she knew that he was deceiving her and might be plotting wrong with her, she must always tell her reason, only in this way can she survive in this conspiracy.

The corners of Yin Luo's lips curled up slightly, and he let out a sneer, looking at Yi Yan in disappointment, his thin lips opened slightly, "I didn't love from the beginning to the end. My marriage and love are passive, right?"

Although she felt that he was acting when she watched him now, at least she once thought he was the one who could bring her happiness, at least she once felt that their marriage, although a coincidence, might be destined. At least she thought he really spoiled her, she

So after he has given her happiness, he will come and ask her for her most precious things, right? Then she would rather not be happy before.

Yin Luo said that she did not love from beginning to end, so Yi Yan wanted to ask her, what is the relationship between her and Lu Shuchen? And is she blaming him? Blame him for forcing her to marry on the condition of 20% of the shares?

Also, all that was originally arranged by him, maybe he really embarrassed her. He was too domineering and never asked her if she would like it or not. Could it be that he was wrong in the beginning?

He has never questioned himself. In business, he has won over half of the city at a lightning speed, and he has never felt that he was wrong. But here in Yin Luo, he was happy, angry, sad, and happy. He actually thought he might be wrong. Yin Luo, she always surprises him, making her life always unexpected.

He looked at her eyes, her big eyes were really beautiful, and the long and dense eyelashes were on the eyes, and they were as lovable as they were. However, she is more stubborn. At this time, her eyes were also full of unwillingness, and she seemed to have some...hate.

Was he afraid that she would run away and grab her too tightly? Maybe he should let go and give her some time to breathe freely.

Yi Yan slowly released his hand and let her go. "Sorry, it's late. Go to sleep first."

After listening to him, Yin Luo turned and left. Behind her back, there was some more water in her eyes, yes, it was just meaningless water.

The things that should be done still have to be done. After Yin Luo saw Yi Yan closing the door, he left the room and went to the next door. There is a guest room next door, all kinds of furniture are still very complete, so there is nothing to bring.

Yin Luo lay directly on the bed, which was not as comfortable as the master bedroom. She thought, what if Yi Yan came out and couldn't find her? Will he know to look in every room? Or he wouldn't think she's gone, go find her in the middle of the night. Or if he can't find her in the end, will he call the police?

Yin Luo shook her head, when did her mind become so big? If you can't find it, just make a call. It's just that she doesn't like being disturbed when she sleeps, and she usually uses the flying mode. Or else, send him a text message first.

Anyway, his mobile phone should not be by his side now, and it has been a long time since he knew it, and then she is probably already asleep, even if she is not asleep, she can pretend to be asleep, then he should not disturb her as a gentleman. After all, he still pretends to love her in front of her, isn't he?

After thinking it over, Yin Luo edited a piece of information I don't like the taste of wine. Today I slept alone in the guest room next door, so don't worry.

After checking that there was no problem, Yin Luo sent it to Yi Yan.

Then after he receives the text message, will he come over to find her in despair? Then he found out that she was asleep and couldn't disturb her. Would he be very angry?

Thinking of this, Yin Luo got up and found a piece of white paper from the guest room, then held it into a ball, closed the door and placed it behind the door. In this way, if Yi Yan had been here at night, the location of the paper would have been different. If you haven't been...it means that he has been really perfunctory to her all the time.

What if he really doesn't come? Anyway, she already knows his face, and everything else doesn't matter...

Yin Luo returned to the bed and lay down, opened his eyes to look at the paper ball, and fell asleep expectantly with his eyes closed. Yes, she may still be looking forward to him deep in her heart.

After Yi Yan took a shower and went out, he realized that Yin Luo was not in the room. The wound was just pasted with band-aids. He completely ignored his wounds when he took a bath, so the band-aids were all wet and needed to be replaced. In fact, he also brought a little intentional element, so that Yin Luo could bandage him again.

However, now Yin Luo is not there. Did she go downstairs?

Yi Yan sat on the bed and waited for Yin Luo. She should take something downstairs. Yi Yan picked up a newspaper and read it for a while. After waiting for a while, Yin Luo hadn't come, a little anxious, so Yi Yan went to look for her.

It's just that when I went downstairs, the downstairs was pitch black, and there should be no one. Yi Yan frowned a little worried. Where will she go at this late hour? He ran back upstairs to look for his mobile phone and wanted to call Yin Luo. When the phone is turned on, a message is displayed on it. No matter what the information was, he finally felt relieved when he saw the word "Luoluo", so that at least it could explain her whereabouts.

Then he turned on the screen lock to read the information, but after reading the information, he was lost again.

It seems that she is really tired of him, or maybe she has never been new to him. As she said herself, she never tried to love, everything was pressure he put on her, she just took it passively. In this way, anyone will resist, let alone fall.
